Leanne Terrace, MBA

Executive Advisor l AI Integration Specialist I Author

Leanne Terrace, MBA, is an executive advisor, AI integration strategist, and author of Built to Think, a practical guide to building teams that solve problems without waiting for senior approval.

Her career spans more than 30 years across Fortune 500 companies, founder-led enterprises, nonprofits, and international operations in Canada, the United States, and Africa. Early work at Xerox Canada grounded her approach in quality improvement and collaborative problem-solving.

She later held executive and advisory roles, led through extreme uncertainty in West Africa, and founded Terrace Leadership Group and Premierehire.

Based in Vancouver, Terrace advises CEOs and leadership teams on decision-making, organizational culture, distributed leadership, and disciplined AI adoption.
