

Reading Champs

American Legion Post and Squadron 477 of St. Nazianz visited Cleveland Elementary School to help observe Read Across America earlier this month. Legion members Bernie Booth, Rebecca Pribyl and Nancy Rivera and Sons of the American Legion member Al Bruckschen are shown with some of the students who heard books being read and got America 250 flags. The books read focused on the 250th anniversary of the founding of the nation, which will be celebrated this year.

Legion groups support reading efforts

American Legion Post and Squadron 477—St. Nazianz participated in Read Across America at Cleveland Elementary School on March 2–5.

Legionnaires Bernie Booth, Rebecca Pribyl and Nancy Rivera and Sons of the American Legion member Al Bruckschen read books focusing on America's 250th birthday.

Each student also received an America 250 flag from the group that also donated to the library many of the books that were read.
