WELCOME TO BNX MORLEY.
We are thrilled you are here. Whether you are exhibiting, attending or simply coming to see what it is all about, you have made a powerful decision to connect. We understand how much time and effort that takes.

BNX was created because we believed something was missing. Too many expos deliver a good day, but very little afterwards. Conversations happen, connections are made and then momentum fades. Opportunities are lost.

We set out to change that. Today is about starting conversations. It is about building relationships and increasing visibility. But just as importantly, it is about what happens next. The follow-up, the support, the accountability. That is where real growth happens and that is what BNX is built around.

Take your time today. Be curious. Speak to people you would not usually approach. Ask questions. Share what you do. One conversation can change everything. Just one...

We are incredibly proud to bring BNX to Morley and to be building a community of businesses that genuinely want to grow and support each other.

This is not just an expo. It is the start of something special.

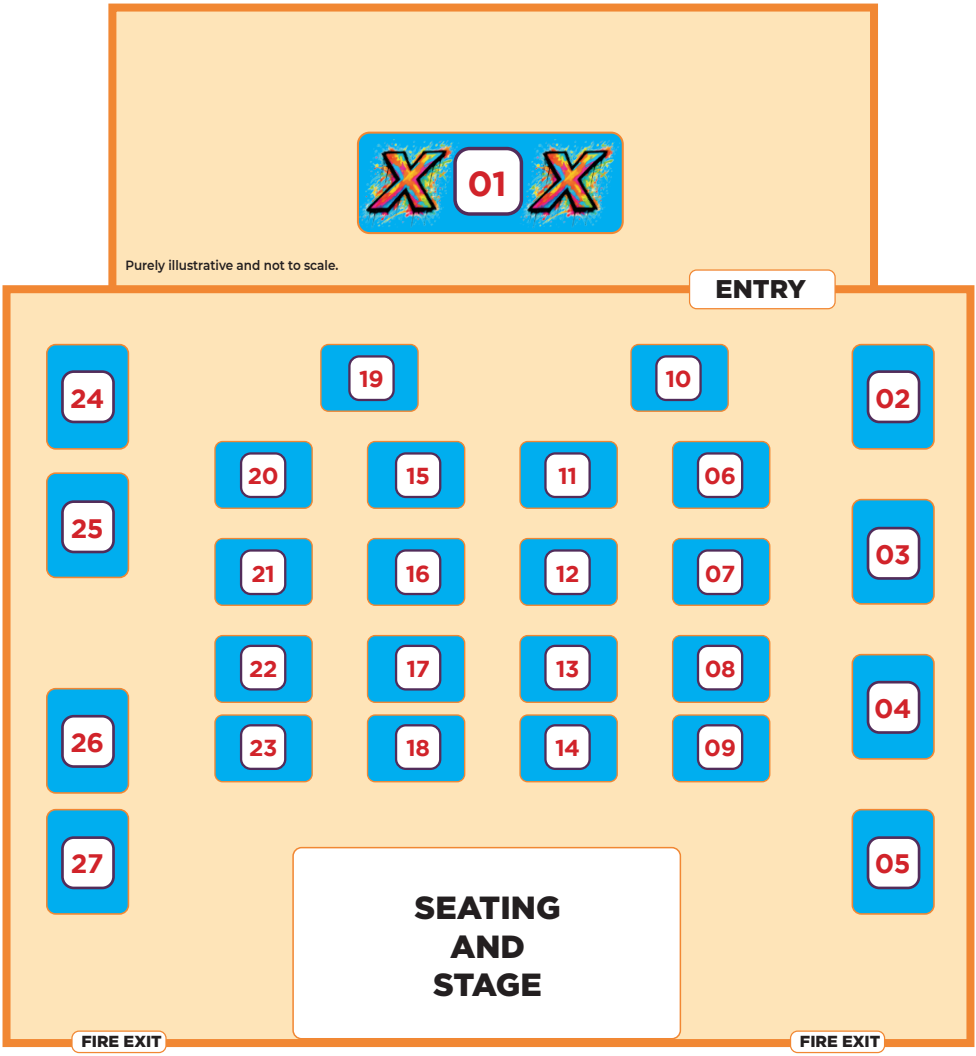

Let us see where it takes you.
Caroline and Sara

GO BIG... or go home

Morley is a fiercely independent West Yorkshire market town. Tell a local they are from nearby Leeds, and you will receive some serious northern side-eye. The crown jewel is Morley Town Hall, an ancient Roman-style structure so grand you would think it was delivered to Yorkshire by mistake. Morley's historic wealth came from "shoddy" – the 19th-century process of recycling old rags into new clothes. Morley basically invented eco-fashion. Speaking of recycling, why did the scarecrow win an award in Morley? Because he was outstanding in his field, and his outfit was 100% shoddy! Today, you can hunt for bargains in the bustling indoor market or grab a pint in a traditional pub where the local wit is as sharp as the Yorkshire wind. It is a wonderfully quirky town with a massive personality. Take some time to find out more about the famous annual festival, and some traditional Morley recipes.

This Expo guide and exhibitor listing was designed by Smooth Designs. Come and visit Jonathan at Stand 24 to see how he can help you with all your design, advertising, marketing, expo and printing needs.

Today's Keynote Speaker

Tracey Baum, Communications Strategist and Trainer

Why People Don't Buy From You

Tracey Baum is The CommYOUnication Guru, her mission is to stop brilliant business owners losing money because of poor communication. With a sharp eye for human behaviour, body language and the words people choose, she shows audiences why people don't buy, trust or remember them, even when they're excellent at what they do.

So, why people don't buy from you ...even when you're brilliant?
You know you're good at what you do. Your clients love working with you. So why are people still walking away, choosing someone els?

With humour, straight talking and practical examples, Tracey Baum reveals the communication mistakes that quietly cost businesses customers every day. From unclear messaging and mixed signals to making assumptions and missing what your buyer really needs, you'll discover how small changes in the way you communicate can make a big difference to your results.

Expect some laughs, a few uncomfortable truths and simple ideas you can use straight away to help more people say yes.

See Tracey speak at 11.00am
