ABOUT JEN

Jennifer Strickland is a TEDx speaker, host of the In God's Eyes podcast, and founder of U R More, a ministry that teaches people their value, identity, and purpose in Christ. She is the author of I Am a Woman, Girl Perfect, Beautiful Lies, More Beautiful Than You Know, and 21 Myths (Even Good) Girls Believe About Sex. She is also the creator of Let's Write, a program that helps authors write, edit, and publish their books so they can impact lives.

In addition to holding a master's degree in Writing and Literature, Jen is a former model who once appeared in Vogue and Cosmopolitan and walked the runway for Giorgio Armani. Her unique perspective helps her understand the battles women face about their beauty and value.

Honest, real, and unafraid to tackle controversial topics, Jennifer uses her life story, knowledge of Scripture, and love for young women to expose the lies of the media and teach them to see themselves in God's eyes. She speaks about self-image, body image, gender and sexuality, turning her listeners back to God for their worth.

Jennifer Strickland

SPEAKER | AUTHOR | PODCAST HOST

Sought-after speaker, author, and podcast host Jennifer Strickland is making an urgent call to Christian women to take a stand against the culture's gender-bending lies. With womanhood under relentless attack, now is the time for believers to speak up for what is right.

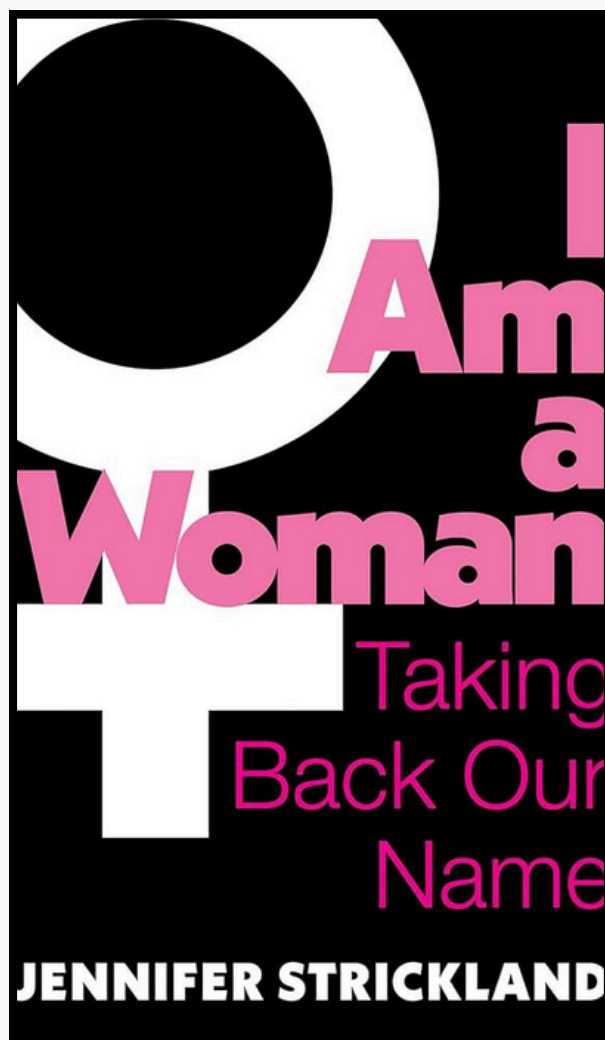

In a society where men are infiltrating women's sports and schools are promoting lies about gender fluidity, Christians cannot remain silent. Our culture needs a response grounded in Scripture to counter transgenderism, radical feminism, sexual violence, and the lies undermining young women and robbing them of their God-given dignity. We cannot shirk our responsibility to the next generation. It falls upon God's daughters to restore the true, biblical meaning of womanhood.

Now is the time to proclaim the truth of God's Word about sex and gender. Strickland is calling women to wield their influence to expose the lies of gender ideology and point teens back to God's design for male and female. It's time for women to use their voices as God designed us to do.

ENDORSEMENT

“In a world where it's controversial to state both biblical and objective truth, I Am a Woman is a beacon of direction for the return of common sense and morality.”

—Riley Gaines, 12-time NCAA All-American Swimmer, Five-Time SEC Champion, and Ambassador for the Independent Women's Forum

I AM A WOMAN SPEAKING POINTS

- Biblical perspectives on gender ideology and the teachings in schools.
- Brainwashing tactics used by the transgender movement from a Christian viewpoint.
- The encroachment of men into women's spaces and the biblical response.
- The role and respect of women within traditional Christianity and combating patriarchal misinterpretations.
- Critique of the affirmation-only model of care for trans-risk youth from a biblical perspective.
- The impact of gender-affirming care on young people and its biblical implications.
- Promoting healthy identity for women and girls.

MAIN POINTS

The book addresses changes in cultural definitions of gender and challenges the notion that "woman" is undefinable through a biblical lens. It helps readers:

- Address the news of the day on gender identity, feminism, body image, childhood indoctrination, pride month, etc.
- Define male, female, man, woman, and familial roles based on biblical teachings.
- Understand why gender is inseparable from the Bible and cannot be erased.
- Embrace the actions of womanhood that bring purpose and wonder.
- Uplift men and boys as God created them.
- Stand firm regarding gender's importance in developing healthy identity in youth.
- Walk in the way of wisdom by speaking life into relationships.
- Counteract brainwashing tactics used by gender theorists with biblical truth and love.
