Chapter One

Cosmotada For The Soulstice

Welcome to the Soulstice

There are moments in the year when time feels thinner.

When the noise softens.

When the light pauses... and invites us inward.

The Soulstice is one of those moments.

It is not simply a turning of seasons, but a remembering. A return. A gentle gathering of heart, voice, and intention. Across cultures and centuries, humanity has marked this passage with song, reflection, and gratitude. We gather not to hurry the light, but to honor it... both around us and within us.

Cosmotada for the Soulstice is an offering of that remembrance.

A cosmotada is a gathering of spirit, a meeting place where song becomes prayer and reflection becomes invitation. These twelve songs were written as companions for the Twelve Days of Favor, a journey that begins in stillness and unfolds toward joy. Each day presents a gift. Not something to earn or chase, but something already given... waiting to be received.

This is a songbook, yes.

But it is also a reflection book.

A devotional.

A seasonal companion.

You may sing these songs aloud or read them quietly. You may share them in community or return to them alone. There is no right way to walk this journey, only your way.

Let these songs meet you where you are.

Let the words soften the edges of the season.

Let joy arrive gently.

Welcome to the Soulstice.

The Light is emanating!.
