END OF TENANCY DEEP CLEAN RESTORES ABERDEEN FLAT READY FOR MARKET

THE CLIENT

Tidy Green Clean was instructed by a letting agent in Aberdeen to carry out an end of tenancy deep clean at a residential flat before it could be remarketed to prospective tenants. The property had been left in an extremely poor condition following the previous tenant's departure, and the letting agent needed a reliable cleaning partner who could restore the flat quickly and professionally.

THE TEAM TRANSFORMED THE FLAT INTO A FRESH, PRESENTABLE SPACE.

THEIR CHALLENGE

Upon arrival, the cleaning team found the property required significant attention throughout, with the kitchen and bathroom presenting the biggest issues. Rubbish had been left behind, surfaces were heavily soiled, and grease, grime, and built-up dirt had accumulated across key areas of the flat.

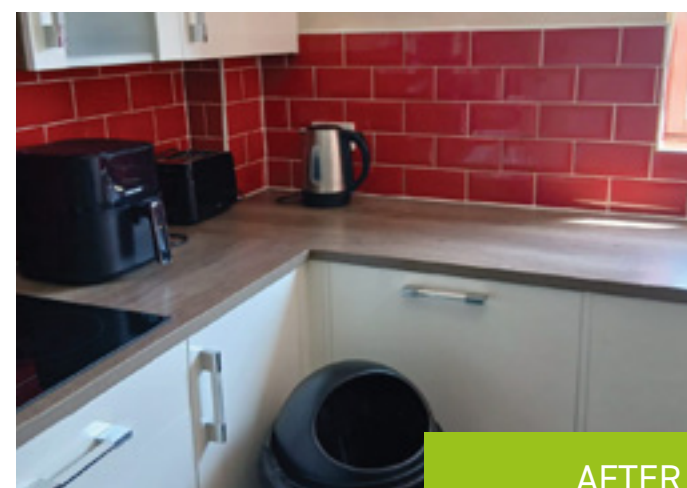

The condition of the property meant it was not suitable for viewings or new tenants, and the letting agent needed the work completed efficiently to avoid delays in putting the flat back on the market. High cleanliness standards were essential to help protect the property's presentation and maintain the expectations of future tenants.

OUR SOLUTION

The Tidy Green Clean team carried out a full end of tenancy deep clean across the property, focusing particular attention on the heavily affected kitchen and bathroom areas.

The work included:

- Removal and disposal of all remaining rubbish
- Deep cleaning and sanitising of kitchen surfaces, cupboards, appliances, and flooring
- Intensive bathroom cleaning to remove grime, limescale, and bacteria build-up
- Dusting, vacuuming, and mopping throughout the flat
- Cleaning internal glass, fixtures, fittings, and high-touch surfaces
- Deodorising the property to leave it fresh and ready for viewings

"Properties can sometimes be left in a very difficult condition at the end of a tenancy, so it was important for us to act quickly and deliver the high standards the letting agent required. The team did a fantastic job transforming the flat into a fresh, presentable space ready for new tenants and viewings."

Kay Potts, Regional Manager

Using professional cleaning products and equipment, the team worked methodically to restore the property to a high standard within the required timeframe.

THE OUTCOME

Following the clean, the flat was transformed into a fresh, hygienic, and presentable property ready to return to the rental market. The kitchen and bathroom were fully restored, with all rubbish removed and surfaces sanitised to a professional standard.

The letting agent was able to move forward with marketing the property without delay, confident that the flat was ready for prospective tenants to view. The successful turnaround demonstrated TGC's ability to handle challenging end of tenancy cleaning projects efficiently while delivering reliable results for letting agents and property professionals.
