Give the conversation a beginning.

A managed outreach service, from targeted company research to an open opportunity.

A considered approach

We research the companies, shape the campaign around your market and offer, prepare the email sequence for approval, then manage the email nurturing and monitor responses.

Your company database

You receive the underlying prospect database, with company details and relevant decision-maker information where available.

A focused campaign

- 100 unique companies per campaign unit.
- One country and one niche or business type.
- More than one useful contact may be approached within a company. It still counts as one prospect.

Your approval comes first

The planned email sequence is shown to you before launch. Campaigns can be created in the language you request.

We keep the follow-up moving.

Your team keeps the commercial relationship and the decisions that come with it.

What we manage

- Targeted research and prospect database
- Campaign strategy and email sequence
- Client approval before launch
- Managed email nurturing
- Reply monitoring and opportunity handover
- Booking-link integration where suitable
- Monthly activity, reply and opportunity reporting
- Reasonable campaign adjustments within normal scope

When someone replies

No response: the approved sequence may continue.

Any reply: automation to that person stops.

Not interested or unsubscribe: outreach stops.

Positive interest: the opportunity is handed to your team.

Where your team takes over

Your team responds to interested prospects and handles the ongoing sales conversation, negotiation, discounts and closing. Positive interest is an open opportunity, not a guaranteed customer, contract or revenue.

An introduction is the beginning of a relationship.

Prepared before the first email.

Discovery, targeting, configuration, testing and approval happen before the live trial begins.

Four clear steps

- Define the country, niche, offer and decision-makers.
- Review and approve the proposed email sequence.
- Launch from a suitable business-domain mailbox.
- Monitor responses and hand over positive interest or booked meetings.

30-day free live trial

The trial begins when the actual campaign goes live. Preparation does not use up your 30 live-service days.

A suitable sending address

Professional outreach should use a business-domain email account, rather than a generic Gmail, Yahoo or Hotmail mailbox. A dedicated outreach mailbox may be configured.

Your domain

If no domain exists, you purchase and own it.

Website support

If needed, a standard business website can be prepared before the trial. You buy and own the domain. For continuing managed clients, the standard website can remain included with minor standard updates. Major redesign, e-commerce and specialist development may be quoted separately.

Know what will be sent, before it is sent.

A clear scope. A clear next step.

€119/month per 100-company campaign. Excl. VAT where applicable.

After the trial

If you continue after the trial, choose a 6-month or 12-month agreement. Long-term cancellation requires one month's prior notice. Post-trial activation or setup is quoted according to the actual requirements and complexity.

Website ownership

If you do not continue after the trial, €200 retains the Tmprary-built standard website/layout. Otherwise, the created layout may be removed. Your domain remains yours.

Separate work

Advanced custom websites and e-commerce are outside standard scope unless separately agreed.

Not included

- Outbound phone calling
- SMS or WhatsApp prospecting
- Social media management
- Paid advertising
- Full sales conversations after a reply
- Negotiation, discounts and closing
- Binding commercial commitments

Shared responsibility

We manage the agreed research, campaign and follow-up. Your team remains responsible for responding promptly and converting opportunities.
