Connect the dots between foundational knowledge and real-life OT!

Occupational therapists work in increasingly complex and chaotic caseloads, but it's amazing how often the solution is simpler than we think. Going back to the foundational knowledge and skills you learnt at uni can be just what you need to build your competence and confidence so you can deliver efficient, high-quality OT services.

Who is this for?

The Connector membership is perfect if you are an OT student, new graduate or experienced OT who wants to...

- Build or refresh foundational OT knowledge, skills and processes at your own pace.
- Master the "why" behind everyday practice by using step-by-step clinical frameworks, so you can articulate and implement solid clinical reasoning.
- Develop clinical efficiency through building confidence in decision-making, streamlining documentation, and mastering caseload management.

How will I learn?

There's a mix of on-demand content, downloadable resources and live sessions so you can have complete flexibility with how you like to learn. This includes:

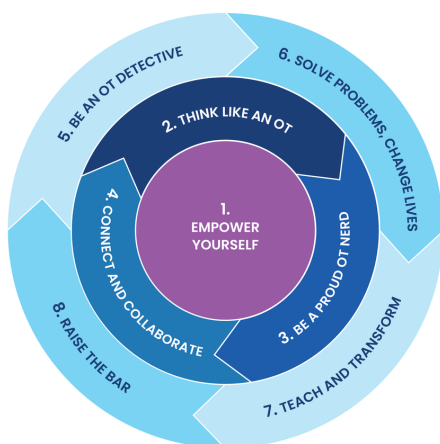

- Extensive library of step-by-step tutorials on core OT skills
- Regular live sessions in a variety of formats, including Q&As, workshops, journal clubs and practice sessions

Need some social proof?

"I am a student in my second year of occupational therapy (just about to finish my first 8-week placement!) and found the membership extremely useful in understanding more about occupational therapy and all of the processes that come with it. I watched the initial assessment video so many times to wrap my head around conducting initial assessments, and without that webinar I don't think I would have felt as confident as I do now with doing initial assessments, so I thank you greatly for that. All of the content is highly informative."
