SHORT BIO

Jay Adewole is a two-time award-winning business coach, Harvard alumnus, author, speaker, Managing Partner at Point of View Consulting, and host of The Winners Circle Podcast. He helps founders build stronger businesses with clarity, systems, leadership, and scale.

MEDIUM BIO

Jay Adewole is a two-time award-winning business coach, Harvard alumnus, author, speaker, and Managing Partner at Point of View Consulting. He is also the host of The Winners Circle Podcast, where he leads practical conversations about entrepreneurship, leadership, business systems, artificial intelligence, revenue, and scalable growth. Through coaching, consulting, publishing, and live strategy, Jay helps founders move from unclear priorities and founder-dependence toward stronger positioning, repeatable execution, better leadership, and businesses designed to grow with greater structure and intention.

FULL BIO

Jay Adewole is a two-time award-winning business coach, Harvard alumnus, author, speaker, and Managing Partner at Point of View Consulting. He is the host of The Winners Circle Podcast and the voice behind The Winners Circle, a premium business, leadership, media, and coaching platform for entrepreneurs who are ready to build with greater clarity, structure, and authority.

Jay's work focuses on the practical connection between strategy and execution. He helps founders clarify their positioning, strengthen their offers, improve sales and follow-up, build repeatable operating systems, develop leadership capacity, and prepare the business to scale beyond the founder. His signature C.S.S. approach centers on Clarity, Systems, and Scale.

Across television, podcasts, print interviews, conferences, workshops, panels, books, and advisory engagements, Jay brings a direct and grounded perspective to entrepreneurship, founder-dependence, the CEO shift, artificial intelligence, business systems, visibility, revenue, purpose, and sustainable growth. His goal is not simply to inspire an audience, but to help people think differently and make a stronger next decision.

Practical conversations for serious audiences.

01 The CEO Shift

Why founder-dependence limits growth and what must change when an entrepreneur moves from doing everything to leading the business.

02 Clarity, Systems & Scale

How positioning, repeatable execution, stronger operations, and leadership capacity support more sustainable growth.

03 AI Without Losing Strategic Control

How founders can use artificial intelligence to improve decisions, productivity, follow-up, content, and execution without replacing judgment.

04 Building a Business in the United States

Practical insight for entrepreneurs who need stronger preparation, clearer structure, and a credible path from idea to operation.

05 Visibility, Authority & Demand

How founders can build a more trusted presence across media, publishing, events, and business platforms.

06 Purpose-Driven Leadership

How leaders make stronger decisions when purpose, commercial discipline, social impact, and long-term direction are considered together.
