

Living in Vinings

A village feel at the edge of the city.

Vinings is an unincorporated community in southeast Cobb County, tucked between the Chattahoochee River and the I-285 / I-75 interchange. Its historic core around Paces Ferry Road pairs 19th-century landmarks with shops and restaurants built to match.

01 At a glance

- Vinings Jubilee, a village-style shopping center opened in 1986
- The historic Old Vinings Inn and Pace family history
- Chattahoochee River National Recreation Area units nearby
- Quick access to Cumberland, Buckhead and Midtown

02 Parks & outdoors

- The Paces Mill and Palisades units of the Chattahoochee River National Recreation Area offer river access, trails and paddling close to Vinings.
- The Silver Comet Cumberland Connector and county trail system link nearby areas for walking and biking.

03 Dining & gathering

Vinings Jubilee was designed to resemble the historic buildings of old Vinings, with brick sidewalks, a clock tower and a mix of restaurants and boutiques. More options are minutes away in the Cumberland area and across the river in Buckhead.

04 Getting around

- The I-285 / I-75 interchange sits next to Vinings for trips across metro Atlanta.
- Paces Ferry Road crosses the Chattahoochee into Buckhead.
- Cobb Parkway and Cumberland Boulevard connect to the Cumberland business district.

05 Housing styles

- Established homes on wooded, often hilly lots
- Townhomes and cluster homes close to the village
- Condominiums and apartment-style living near Cumberland
- Custom and newer luxury construction on infill lots
