Reactive Rover

Cost: $130

5-week session

Reactive Rover – Does your dog bark, lunge or get out of control when he sees other dogs, bikes, people or cars? This five-week class will help you get a handle on your dog's behavior. The first week is for people only as you learn why your dog behaves the way he does and how you can help him be more calm, cool and collected. The remaining four classes your dog will join you to work on the exercises that you can use in the real world to help manage and modify your dog's behavior.

CGC & Therapy Dog Test Dates

The Canine Good Citizen (CGC) test is a comprehensive evaluation that assesses a dog's behavior and obedience skills in various real-life situations. It is designed to promote responsible dog ownership and well-mannered dogs in the community. The test includes exercises such as accepting a friendly stranger, walking on a loose leash, and staying calm during distractions. Dogs who pass the test are awarded a Canine Good Citizen certificate from the American Kennel Club, which can be a valuable credential for therapy dog work, certain housing situations, and other activities that require well-behaved dogs.

The CGC Test is included in our Level 3 - Advanced Learning class. If you would like to take the test independently of the class, please contact the Evaluator associated with the date of the test that you are interested in for availability.

Upcoming Tests:
