DAY 5

DAY 5: The Power Behind Monetisation

Name the fears that have stopped you in the past 5 days.

Where else have they showed up in your life?
How have they been costing you in your life until now?

If you continue to let them manifest and run/ruin your life, how else are they going to cost you in future? In the next 5, 10 years? Are you going to continue to feel disappointed with yourself?

DAY 5: The Power Behind Monetisation

What will your life look like if you no longer had these fears? How will it impact the people around you? How beautiful would it be?

What kind of legacy would you like to leave behind? How would you like people to remember you by?

From Mission To Movement

Where does mission to movement begin?

Mission: It begins with our Self. Our stories, what we experienced in our lives, the pain we suffered. Are the pains we suffered going to be in vain? If you don't take the lessons and share them with someone else who's going through the pains, are you letting them down?

Movement: It also begins with us. Only when we move, will we move others. Only when we move, will we be able to touch others' lives. Only when we move, will we eventually turn this into a movement.

You are important. You are put here on earth for a reason.
You have suffered for a reason. Don't let that reason go to waste.
Let your light shine. Let your light guide those who are still in the dark.
Do it for others.
But more importantly, do it for the person that you will become.
You are worth it.

DAY 5: The Power Behind Monetisation

If you became the kind of leader that you wish you had, what would your legacy be? What kind of permission would your story give others?

> You weren't born to stay quiet—you were born to speak with depth, lead with presence, and move people with truth. The world doesn't need louder voices. It needs your voice, spoken with courage.
