

Centre for the Wild Soma – Terms & Conditions

Last Updated: 18 May 2026

1. Introduction

Welcome to the Centre for the Wild Soma (“we”, “us”, “our”), a training and professional development provider operated by Faye Smith.

By accessing our website, purchasing our services, or participating in our training programmes, you agree to be legally bound by these Terms and Conditions.

If you do not agree with these terms, you must not use our services.

2. Definitions

For clarity within these Terms:

- “Services” refers to all training programmes, courses, mentorship, workshops, online content, and in-person events.
- “Training Programmes” refers specifically to the Wild Soma Practitioner Training and Advanced Wild Soma Guide Training.
- “Student” / “Participant” refers to any individual enrolled in or attending Services.
- “Wild Soma Method” refers to the proprietary embodied facilitation methodology developed by the Centre for the Wild Soma.

3. Services

3.1 Scope of Services

We provide professional training in embodied facilitation, including but not limited to:

- Somatic and nervous system awareness practices
- Eco-somatic and nature-based facilitation
- Council and witnessing practices
- Movement, voice, and embodied expression
- Meditation and reflective inquiry
- Professional practitioner development

Our Services may include online and in-person training, mentorship, and experiential learning environments.

3.2 Training Disclaimer

Our Services are educational and developmental in nature.

They do not constitute:

- psychotherapy/therapy
- counselling
- medical treatment
- diagnosis or clinical intervention

We do not guarantee specific personal, emotional, financial, or professional outcomes as a result of enrolling in our Services.

3.3 Changes to Services

We reserve the right to:

- amend course content, structure, schedules, or facilitators
- reschedule or replace sessions where necessary
- discontinue Services at any time

Where reasonably possible, notice will be provided.

We are not liable for changes made due to circumstances beyond our control.

4. Eligibility

To participate in our Services, you must:

- be aged 18 or over
- have legal capacity to enter into a binding contract
- complete the application or registration process where required
- confirm you are fit to participate in experiential learning activities

Certain in-person practices may not be suitable for individuals experiencing active psychosis or severe unmanaged mental health conditions. Participation is at your own responsibility.

5. Payment Terms

5.1 Fees

All fees are stated in GBP and are payable as displayed at the point of purchase.

Payment may be made in full or via agreed instalment plans. By selecting a payment plan, you agree to complete all scheduled payments in full.

Failure to complete payment may result in suspension of access and recovery action including court action for outstanding balances.

5.2 Refunds

Refund requests must be made in writing within 14 days of purchase.

Refunds are not available for:

- Services already accessed or partially completed
- live programmes or cohorts already underway (unless legally required)
- digital content delivered immediately upon purchase

This does not affect your statutory rights.

6. Participation & Conduct

6.1 Participant Responsibility

You agree to:

- attend sessions prepared and on time
- engage responsibly in all experiential practices
- follow all safety instructions provided
- disclose relevant physical or mental health considerations where necessary
- act respectfully toward facilitators and participants

6.2 Safety (In-Person Work)

Where Services include in-person experiential work (including outdoor facilitation), you agree to:

- follow all safety briefings and instructions
- use any tools or materials responsibly
- behave in a manner that does not endanger yourself or others
- accept responsibility for your personal belongings

We reserve the right to remove any participant whose behaviour is deemed unsafe or disruptive, without refund.

6.3 Recording Consent

Sessions may be recorded for training or community purposes.

By participating with your camera/microphone on, you consent to your image, voice, and participation being recorded and used by the Centre for the Wild Soma for educational and promotional purposes.

If you do not consent, it is your responsibility to disable the camera and microphone during recorded sessions.

7. Intellectual Property & Brand Protection

7.1 Ownership

All content, materials, teachings, frameworks, recordings, curriculum design, language, and methodologies remain the exclusive intellectual property of the Centre for the Wild Soma and Faye Smith.

This includes (but is not limited to):

- The Wild Soma Method
- Body as Truth, Land as Mirror, Soul as Guide framework
- training structures and session designs
- teaching content, exercises, and facilitation processes
- branding, terminology, and naming systems

All rights are protected under UK and international copyright law.

7.2 Permitted Use After Certification

Upon successful completion of training, participants are granted a limited, non-exclusive licence to:

- integrate Wild Soma principles into their own client work
- facilitate sessions within their existing professional practice
- describe themselves as “Wild Soma Practitioner” or “Advanced Wild Soma Guide” only if certified at that level by the Centre for the Wild Soma.

This permission applies strictly to client-facing facilitation only.

7.3 Strict Prohibited Use

Unless expressly authorised in writing, participants must NOT:

- teach, train, certify, or deliver the Wild Soma Method as a training or educational programme
- create derivative trainings, courses, certifications, or modalities based on the Wild Soma Method
- replicate or substantially reproduce the Wild Soma Method, curriculum, or structure
- rebrand or present Wild Soma materials as their own work
- use Wild Soma to train others in facilitation or practitioner development
- represent themselves as affiliated trainers, educators, or representatives of the Centre for the Wild Soma

This applies whether paid or unpaid, formal or informal, online or in person.

7.4 Brand Use

The Wild Soma name, brand, and associated materials may not be used commercially without written permission.

You must not:

- register domains, businesses, or social media accounts using “Wild Soma” or confusingly similar names
- imply organisational affiliation beyond certified practitioner status
- misrepresent your relationship to the Centre for the Wild Soma

7.5 Protection of Method Integrity

The Wild Soma Method must not be:

- copied in structure or teaching format
- adapted into derivative systems for teaching purposes
- presented in a way that causes confusion with official training

We reserve the right to revoke certification and pursue legal remedies in cases of misuse.

8. Confidentiality

We respect confidentiality and expect participants to respect the privacy of others.

However, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed where disclosure is required by law or safeguarding concerns arise.

9. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law:

- we accept no liability for indirect or consequential loss
- we are not responsible for personal, professional, or financial outcomes resulting from participation
- participation in all experiential practices is undertaken at your own risk

10. Indemnity

You agree to indemnify and hold harmless the Centre for the Wild Soma and its representatives against any claims, losses, damages, liabilities, or expenses arising from your participation in our Services.

11. Termination of Access

We reserve the right to suspend or terminate access to Services without refund where:

- Terms are breached
- behaviour is unsafe or disruptive
- intellectual property misuse is suspected
- payment obligations are not met

12. Governing Law

These Terms are governed by the laws of England and Wales.

Any disputes shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.

13. Updates to Terms

We may update these Terms at any time.

Continued use of our Services constitutes acceptance of updated Terms.
