Dr Ravinder Kambow

BDS

Dr Ravinder Kambow is a General Dental Practitioner with over 25 years of clinical experience in NHS and private dental practice. He qualified with a Bachelor of Dental Surgery (BDS) from the Royal London Hospital, University of London in 2000 and has maintained continuous GDC registration since qualification.

He has practised extensively within Central London, including long-standing roles within BUPA Dental Care practices. His clinical practice spans comprehensive general dentistry, restorative and aesthetic dentistry, endodontics, prosthodontics and minimally invasive treatment planning.

Dr Kambow provides independent, structured clinical opinion within the scope of general dental practice, with particular insight into standards of care, consent, treatment planning, restorative decision-making and documentation in primary care dentistry.
