Dr Deepankar Datta

MBChB, BSc (Hons), FRCEM

Dr Deepankar Datta is a Consultant in Emergency Medicine with specialist registration since July 2019. He holds a substantive consultant post within NHS Lothian, working across St John's Hospital and the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh. His clinical practice covers the full spectrum of adult and general paediatric emergency medicine, including high-acuity presentations, trauma, sepsis, resuscitation, and complex decision-making at the front door of the hospital.

He has a strong academic and governance background, with particular expertise in sepsis research, clinical risk stratification, audit, and quality improvement. Dr Datta is actively involved in teaching, examination, and leadership at local, national, and international level. He provides clear, structured, evidence-based medico-legal opinions grounded in contemporary consultant-level emergency medicine practice.
