Mr Khizar Ishtiaque Khan

MBBS, MRCS, FRCS (General Surgery), FCPS

Mr Khizar Ishtiaque Khan is a Consultant Colorectal and General Surgeon with extensive experience in colorectal surgery, emergency general surgery, and complex abdominal surgical conditions. He has been practising at consultant level within the NHS since 2019 and is currently based at County Durham and Darlington Foundation Trust.

Mr Khan has substantial leadership experience within NHS surgical services, including roles as Clinical Lead for General Surgery, Emergency General Surgery Lead, Morbidity & Mortality Lead, and NELA Lead at University Hospital North Durham. He has played a key role in pathway development, theatre efficiency initiatives, and surgical governance processes.

Alongside his clinical work, Mr Khan has significant involvement in medical education and postgraduate surgical training. He is an MRCS Examiner, Trainer and Faculty Member for the Royal College of Surgeons of England, Faculty for FRCS preparatory courses, and an ATLS Instructor. He is actively involved in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching across multiple institutions.

Mr Khan combines strong clinical expertise with a structured and evidence-based approach to medico-legal reporting.
