Dr Michael Flynn

MD PhD - Oncology

Dr Michael Flynn is a Consultant Medical Oncologist practising at University College London Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust and within the private sector at HCA Healthcare. He specialises in the use of systemic anti-cancer therapies, including chemotherapy, immunotherapy and targeted treatments, and manages patients across the full cancer care pathway.

He has an established medico-legal practice with over 2 years' experience as an expert witness, producing in excess of 100 reports annually across clinical negligence and personal injury cases. His work includes detailed analysis of breach of duty, causation, condition and prognosis, as well as contribution to out-of-court settlement discussions.

Dr Flynn is experienced in reviewing complex oncology cases, including those involving delayed diagnosis, treatment decisions and complications of systemic therapy. He delivers clear, structured and CPR Part 35-compliant reports grounded in contemporary NHS and private oncology practice
