Dr. Cameron Braddy-Green

BSc (Hons) MBBS AFHEA AFFMLM MRCP(London)

Dr Cameron Braddy-Green is a Consultant Gastroenterologist and General Physician based at Barts Health NHS Trust, practising at Whipps Cross University Hospital and across several private centres including Nuffield Health at St Bartholomew's Hospital, Chase Lodge Hospital, and LSCD Healthcare. He has a strong sub-specialist interest in inflammatory bowel disease (IBD), nutrition, diagnostic and therapeutic endoscopy, and colorectal medicine.

He holds full registration with the General Medical Council (GMC 7461710) and is a Member of the Royal College of Physicians (London). Dr Braddy-Green has gained JAG accreditation in diagnostic gastroscopy and colonoscopy and holds the European Specialty Examination in Gastroenterology & Hepatology (ESEGH). He is currently a member of the British Society of Gastroenterology (BSG) IBD Guideline Development Group and serves as the Service Lead for Nutrition and Postgraduate Education at Whipps Cross Hospital.

Dr Braddy-Green has significant leadership experience, having completed the Royal College of Physicians Chief Registrar Programme, focusing on sustainable leadership, quality improvement, and change management. He is also an Associate Fellow of both the Higher Education Academy (AFHEA) and the Faculty of Medical Leadership and Management (AFFMLM).

His medico-legal interests align with clinical negligence and personal injury claims involving gastrointestinal medicine, IBD management, nutritional disorders, and procedural complications. He is undertaking mentorship and core medico-legal training through British Medical Experts and is committed to providing clear, evidence-based, and CPR 35-compliant expert reports.
