

BIO

I am a senior information security executive serving as a Fractional CISO for small and mid-sized law firms. I bring more than 25 years leading law firm technology and security, including 10 years in CISO-level roles for a large consumer credit and collections practice serving major financial institutions. I am also active in legal industry professional associations (Association of Legal Administrators, ILTA) as well as information security associations (ISACA, Infragard), and have presented at both local and international conferences.

Notable results include:

Stabilized cyber insurance renewals by aligning security controls, documentation, and governance reporting with carrier expectations, reducing surprise premium spikes and renewal risk.

Addressed increasingly complex enterprise client security assessments and questionnaires, preserving and strengthening client relationships.

Led cyber incident response and secured full payout of contested cyber insurance claim.

Enterprise-grade cybersecurity leadership for your firm, without the full-time CISO price tag.

I help mid-sized law firms serving regulated or institutional clients remediate failed audits, secure insurance coverage, and install executive-level security leadership to protect revenue and client retention

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

If we had a security incident, could our leadership team comfortably articulate our security posture, roadmap and governance to clients and regulators?

If we failed a client security assessment or faced a difficult cyber insurance renewal, who would lead our response, set the strategy, collaborate with the carrier and explain our plan to partners and the board?

If a major client or cyber insurer asked who owns our cybersecurity program, who would we name, and could they confidently represent it?
