

Academic Preparation

Statement of Academic Readiness

To prepare for the rigor of doctoral-level nurse anesthesia education, I have intentionally strengthened my science foundation through recent undergraduate coursework and continued advanced study. I have combined in-person and online learning while working full-time, which has required disciplined study habits, time management, independent learning, and sustained focus.

What began as an effort to strengthen my earlier academic record became something more important: a commitment not simply to gain admission to a program, but to master the material and build the habits necessary to succeed in it. The coursework below reflects my current academic preparation, consistency, and readiness for the next stage of training.

Planned GRE: May 2027

Post-Baccalaureate Academic Record

Course	Credits	Level	Grade	Start
Physiology	5	Undergraduate	B	07/29/2025
Statistics	4	Undergraduate	B	07/29/2025
Introductory Chemistry	5	Undergraduate	A+	01/15/2026
Pharmacology	3	Undergraduate	A	01/15/2026
General Chemistry I	4.5	Undergraduate	A-	05/19/2026
Organic Chemistry I	4.5	Undergraduate	TBA	08/24/2026
Microbiology	4.5	Undergraduate	TBA	08/31/2026
Biochemistry	4.5	Undergraduate	TBA	09/21/2026
Advanced Physiology		Graduate	TBA	01/05/2027
Advanced Pharmacology		Graduate	TBA	01/05/2027

Statement of Financial Readiness

I have also prepared financially for the demands of a full-time nurse anesthesia program. Over the past several years, I have worked deliberately to build dedicated resources for tuition, living expenses, and personal costs so that, once enrolled, I can give the program the focus and attention its academic and clinical expectations require.