

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Akron-Made Stoner Comedy "Are You High Yet" Comes Home for Its World Premiere October 11

AKRON, OHIO — [Release Date] — "Are You High Yet," a stoner comedy shot entirely on location in Akron, will premiere in its hometown on October 11, 2026. The film is produced by A Twister Productions, with the marketing campaign led by Fantastikole Entertainment.

The film stars two upcoming actors, Hasani and Maurice Pringle, in a story described by the filmmakers as "a stoner movie with heart and soul." Both leads are local-to-the-scene talent making their mark with a project built from the ground up in Northeast Ohio.

"[Sample quote — confirm exact wording with Hasani before sending]," said Hasani, who stars in and helped shape the film. "This movie is for anyone who dreams big but hasn't figured out how to make the leap yet."

"[Sample quote — confirm exact wording with Maurice before sending]," added co-star Maurice Pringle.

Unlike a traditional box office release, admission to the October 11 premiere is structured as a ticket donation — supporting [beneficiary/cause — insert: e.g. the film's next project, a local nonprofit, or A Twister Productions' next indie effort] while giving Akron audiences first access to the film.
