

ANNUAL DEBRIEF

A LETTER FROM WHIZ BUCKLEY

2024 was a transformational year for the No Fallen Heroes Foundation, as we continued our mission to heal our heroes and raise awareness about the tragic epidemic of veteran suicide.

This year, we directly helped heal 18 heroes through retreats in Mexico, Colorado, Oregon, Arizona, and Oklahoma. A key highlight was an all-female retreat in Sedona, Arizona, where brave women veterans, first responders, and family members healed using iboga—a powerful, sacred plant medicine—addressing trauma such as military sexual trauma (MST). These retreats continue to exemplify our commitment to healing all who served, regardless of the source of their trauma.

In 2024, we expanded our reach and impact through media coverage, innovative fundraising, strategic restructuring, and collaboration with like-minded organizations. Here are some of the key achievements that highlight our commitment to healing heroes and driving change:

- Media Coverage: Our mission gained visibility with features in the New York Times, Fox News, and local media, as well as appearances on notable podcasts like Henrik Lundqvist's Pod 30. Our MAX Afterburner podcast ranked in the top 2.5% globally.
- Fundraising Through Flight: Flying the L-39 Albatros fighter jet remains a cornerstone of fundraising, with 100% of donations from flights going to healing grants. Celebrities like NFL Captain of the Miami Dolphins Jerome Baker joined us for unforgettable experiences.
- Internal Restructuring: We transitioned to a volunteer-led model, maximizing funds for healing initiatives. This commitment earned us a 5-star rating from Great Nonprofits & helps us maximize our efforts for those heroes in need.
- Advocacy: While the FDA advisory committee's decision against approving MDMA for therapeutic use was a disappointment, it underscored our belief in natural, God-given medicines over lab-created substances. The VA's announcement of a small-scale psychedelic study—a mere $1.5M over five years—highlighted the insufficiency of federal efforts compared to the urgent need. With proper funding, organizations like ours could immediately expand healing opportunities for veterans and their families.
- Collaboration: We supported partner veteran and first responder organizations, including the Grey Team, Heroic Hearts Project, and Golf for Cops. We also partnered with aligned nonprofits Colorado Extreme and Bridging Bionics, amplifying collective impact.

Looking ahead to 2025, I am energized by the incoming administration's openness to psychedelic therapy for veterans. Vice President-elect JD Vance recently discussed the topic on Joe Rogan's podcast, while SECDEF nominee Pete Hegseth and HHS nominee Robert F. Kennedy Jr. have also voiced strong support. The timing feels divinely guided as we prepare to begin filming No Fallen Heroes: Extraction. Though delayed last year, I trust in God and the Holy Spirit to ensure this docuseries has maximum impact. We're on schedule to begin filming in Q2 of this year.

Additionally, we are planning at least two galas in 2025—one in Aspen and another in Boca Raton—to further raise awareness and funding. We will also focus on building partnerships with corporate sponsors to support our mission.

Suzi and I remain deeply humbled to lead this effort. We are committed to putting the ladder down and helping our heroes heal.

FIGHTS ON,

Matthew 'Whiz' Buckley

A LETTER FROM LINDA PROVAN

As the daughter of a WWII veteran and the wife of a Naval Aviator veteran, my dedication to serving those who have sacrificed so much for our country runs deep. Being both a Board Member and Grants Director for No Fallen Heroes allows me to honor this legacy by contributing to a cause that aims to end veteran suicide and provide veterans, first responders and their families with the mental health support they deserve.

I am particularly proud to do this work because I have personally experienced the profound healing these entheogenic and holistic methods provide. Through my journey, I have also had the privilege of supporting close friends on their paths to healing and growth. Witnessing the transformative impact of these therapies inspires me every day to continue advocating for this mission. The funding we secure through grants and other contributions allows us to provide a comprehensive support network and continued access to these innovative therapies for our veteran and first responder communities.

This past year, we've made great strides, thanks to the unwavering support of our partners, donors, and the broader community. Receiving grants from organizations like the Florida Panthers Foundation has been instrumental in advancing our mission. This is just the beginning of a larger movement, and I am encouraged to see the growing interest, excitement, and investment in these groundbreaking healing methods.

Looking ahead to 2025, No Fallen Heroes is poised for a year of even greater impact. I am filled with excitement for the opportunities to further connect with the community. These connections are the foundation of meaningful change, and they inspire hope for a future where healing is accessible to all who need it. Additionally, growing political support offers hope for broader recognition and acceptance of these transformative therapies. We will continue to advocate for policies that support veterans' and first responders' health, expand our outreach, and foster strategic partnerships to amplify our mission.

The year ahead holds immense promise for expanding our reach and deepening our impact. I invite you to join us on this journey. Together, we can drive impactful change, build lasting solutions, and create a future where every veteran and first responder's well-being remains a priority.

I am deeply grateful for the contributions of our donors, partners, and advocates who make this work possible. Thank you for standing with us. With your support and involvement, we will continue to build a brighter future for our heroes.

WITH GRATITUDE AND RESOLVE,

> ABOUT NO FALLEN HEROES

OUR MISSION IS CLEAR: WE NEED TO END VETERAN SUICIDE

No Fallen Heroes exist to improve the quality of life for Veterans, First Responders and their family members using psychedelic medicines and integration. We envision a world where these heroes have local access to life-saving psychedelic-assisted therapy. We're continuing to work hard toward this reality, and are proud to have helped so many heroes find healing with this live saving medicine. We need to heal our heroes at home.

ADVOCATE

We work with lawmakers to expand access to psychedelics, improve support for Veterans and First Responders, and educate the public on psychedelic healing and the Veteran suicide crisis.

EDUCATE

Through content and media outreach, we raise awareness of psychedelic medicine's effectiveness and the urgent need to support our heroes, working to break stigma and drive change.

HEAL

We help fund psychedelic therapy retreats for Veterans and First Responders, providing ongoing integration support for them and their loved ones.

LEARN MORE ABOUT PSYCHEDELIC THERAPY

Psychedelics – or 'entheogens' – have been used in indigenous cultures for millennia and are some of the most effective treatments for mental health disorders on the planet.

Psychedelic Assisted Therapy is a form of treatment that uses a range of psychedelic medicines – like MDMA, Iboga/Ibogaine, or Psilocybin – that temporarily alter perception and mood and may impact numerous cognitive processes.

SCIENCE SHOWS THIS MEDICINE WORKS.

- Stanford Medicine ran a study with special ops military vets that found ibogaine effectively treated their traumatic brain injury, PTS, and addictions
- In the MAPS final MDMA trial, 86.5 percent of people achieved a measurable reduction in severity of symptoms – a majority were clinically healed
- The Center for Psychedelic Research and Therapy at Dell Medical School (University of Texas at Austin) is conducting a study to explore whether psychedelics can help combat prolonged grief in Gold Star moms and wives.

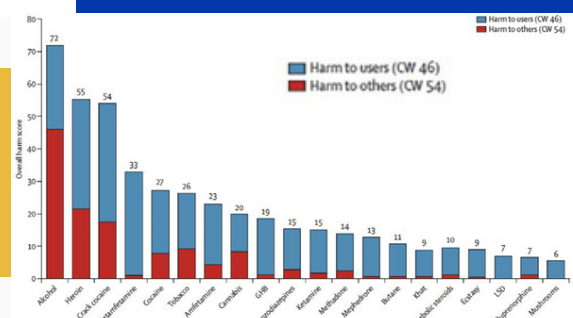

WHY PSYCHEDELICS?

Radical trauma requires radical healing. After having our own experiences with psychedelics we knew this was the medicine that would save our heroes lives... and the science backs us up.

Science, experience, and indigenous communities have all proven the amazing healing power of psychedelic medicines like psilocybin, iboga/ibogaine, 5-MeO-DMT, and MDMA

Organizations like Johns Hopkins, NYU, MAPs and Stanford Medicine have run studies that prove this therapy is highly effective.

> OUR IMPACT

NO FALLEN HEROES HELPED 18 HEROES HEAL WITH PSYCHEDELIC ASSISTED THERAPY GRANTS.

In 2024, No Fallen Heroes expanded its healing program, hosting eight retreats and providing individual treatment opportunities for veterans and first responders. Through our partnerships with retreat centers internationally and domestically, we connected heroes with life-changing experiences. Participants engaged in iboga/ibogaine, psilocybin and 5-MeO-DMT therapy, leading to profound healing and transformation.

By facilitating treatment within the United States, we significantly reduced costs, making these therapies more accessible. Our efforts continue to break barriers, ensuring more heroes receive the support they deserve.

“None of this would be possible without No Fallen Heroes. So much lip service is given to supporting our nation’s heroes—hashtags, slogans, and empty promises—but real change requires bold, unforgiving action in the name of what’s right
