Jackson Hole Will Pose For Screen

Three hundred people, actors and technicians of the Fox Film Co., will go into the Jackson Hole region within the next 10 days for the filming of a picture. Will Hays, czar of moviedom, notified Gov. Frank C. Emerson Monday afternoon by telephone from New York City.

In addition to the regular cast approximately 1,000 inhabitants of the surrounding country will be used as extras in the production, the governor was informed.

Leading members of the cast or the name of the picture were not disclosed, but it is presumed that it will be a western production. Mr. Hays told Governor Emerson that the Fox Co. wished to take full advantage of the rare scenic beauty of the Jackson Hole country.

GLIDER CLUB MEMBER RETURNS FROM TRIP WEST

Walker S. Clute, petroleum engineer, returned to Lander yesterday from a business trip to Los Angeles. While in southern California, Mr. Clute, who is interested in aviation, acquired a practical knowledge of the art of gliding for the benefit of the Lander Glider club, and made a number of short flights in Col. Lindbergh's training glider at the Hastings-Bowlus gliding school, Los Angeles Municipal air port. The glider was launched by towing behind an automobile, rising to a height of some eighty feet.

Mr. Clute stopped also on his return trip at Colorado Springs, and made several flights in the Alexander aircraft type of glider which is being shiped to the Lander Glider club this week. These gliders are of the preliminary training type, and the average length of flight is about a quarter of a mile. Secondary, or soaring types of gliders, are not readily available at present, states Mr. Clute, although the coming summer will probably see a considerable number of these sailing craft in the air.
