Improved Braking!

Research has shown that the most effective braking power occurs immediately prior to losing traction. Siping extends the window allowed for maximum braking power by giving the existing tread a helping hand. In the examples above notice how the SIPED tire has dozens more gripping edges. These micro edges reduce the distance needed for braking on wet and snow packed roads.

Better Traction!

The tread surface on your tire is made up of many smaller surfaces known as "Tread Blocks". These surfaces are especially important when it comes to icy or wet road conditions. The "Tread Blocks" get their gripping power not from their many smooth surfaces but from the even more numerous sharp surrounding edges. SIPING improves the job started by your tire manufacturer by providing more of these gripping edges.

Smoother Ride!

New asphalt is relatively smooth but time and wear exaggerate the coarse texture of the roads' surface, causing your tires to absorb most of the impact. SIPING gives your tires a Micro-Flexibility, reducing the wear on your tires' carcasses and sidewalls. This effect not only increases tire life but will result in a smoother ride.

How is SIPING done?

SIPING is done by placing your tires (new or used) on a specially designed machine that rotates your tires while making small virtually invisible 90 degree cuts in your tread. Don't be alarmed! Although the process is actually cutting your tread, it doesn't harm your tire in any way, it improves on it. Only under very close inspection can the SIPES even be seen, and you're more likely to tell by your improved driving experience than by visual inspection.

Will SIPING adversely affect my tires' performance?

SIPING will not adversely affect your tires' performance in any way. The tread on your tires retains all of its strength due to the patented spiral cutting process. This process leaves uncut areas known as Tie Bars, keeping your tread strong.

Why don't my tires come SIPED from the manufacturer?

Our SIPING process doesn't remove ANY rubber from the tread allowing the individual SIPES to support each other.

To SIPE (in mass production) after the molding process would be too expensive and time consuming for the manufacturer. A molded SIPE (becoming more popular) would leave vacant gaps in the tread. Siping creates edges without gaps.

BETTER GRIP.
GET IT SIPED!
