

Agents

Recruit students for English language courses in London or online — let's work together.

Influential English, in London, is looking for reliable and ethical partners around the world to recruit more international students for our English language courses. We'll work in partnership with you to make sure your students enjoy a memorable learning experience — and that you receive fair commission for all your hard work.

Our promise to our agents

We provide a high level of service to you and your clients, built on honest, open communication. We satisfy your clients and address any issues promptly, efficiently and fairly. We give you all the information and support you need to represent us well, and we listen — your feedback, proposals and requests are always welcome. And we confirm that all our marketing materials and website give a factual representation of the courses and services we offer.

Why work with us

A professional, approachable service

- Efficient, dedicated and friendly staff.
- Speak directly to any department — academic, accommodation, welfare or accounts.
- A personal service with an open, excellent working relationship.

Academic excellence & student support

- A broad range of courses for different ages, interests and budgets.
- Creative, innovative teaching.
- 24-hour student emergency service.
- A full, up-to-date website translated into several languages.

Online help & quick response

- We're online throughout working hours.
- Agent enquiries answered within one working day.
- If a problem arises, we solve it quickly and effectively.

Competitive, open pricing

- No hidden charges.
- Attractive rates of commission.
- If clients upgrade or extend, you're notified and paid commission in full.

Who can become our agent?

If you can refer students regularly, we'd be pleased to work with you on an agency basis. Our agents are often:

- Professional language travel agents
- Travel agents
- Language schools
- Language teachers
- Individuals with the right contacts

We'll consider your request to become our partner with respect and professionalism.

The role of a school agent

- Find students interested in our English courses, in London or online.
- Tell students about the different courses we offer.
- Help students complete some registration documents for visas (kept to a minimum).
