Long bio

For websites, media kits, and longer program listings. About 230 words.

Maureen Ross Gemme, MS Ed, CPC, is a keynote speaker, leadership trainer, and Certified Professional Coach who helps people understand their personality, lower their stress, and build workplaces where good people want to stay.

She spent 30 years in corporate, most of them at a Fortune 200 company, working in HR, IT, communications, training, and change management. She led remote training teams and rolled out multi-million-dollar technology systems across the enterprise. Along the way she went back to school in her 40s, while working full time, and earned a BA in Psychology and an MS in Education, both Summa Cum Laude.

In 2013 she founded Emerge Leadership Academy to help organizations turn bosses into leaders, reduce turnover, and increase productivity. She has since trained more than 4,000 professionals across 170+ organizations in government, corporate, healthcare, nonprofit, and higher education.

Maureen is an Everything DiSC® Authorized Partner, a Certified Professional Coach (CPC), a Distinguished Toastmaster, and a Certified Technical Trainer (CTT+). She is the author of Emerge: 7 Steps to Transformation (No Matter What Life Throws At You!) and host of the Emerge. Evolve. Lead. podcast, and she has been a guest on more than 50 podcasts.

Audiences describe her as warm, funny, and refreshingly real. Event planners describe her as easy to work with. Maureen lives in Connecticut with her husband, Paul.
