KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Speaker Introduction: Maureen Ross Gemme

For the emcee or host. About one minute read aloud.

> How to say her name: Maureen Ross Gemme, pronounced "Gem."

Our next speaker has spent many years helping people understand themselves and work better with the people around them.

Maureen Ross Gemme spent 30 years in corporate HR, IT and training, 27 of them at a Fortune 200 company, where she led training teams and guided organizations through major change.

In 2013 she founded Emerge Leadership Academy. Since then she has trained more than 4,000 professionals across more than 170 organizations, from government agencies and universities to manufacturers and nonprofits.

Maureen is an Everything DiSC Authorized Partner, a Certified Professional Coach and a Distinguished Toastmaster. She earned her bachelor's in Psychology and her master's in Education, both Summa Cum Laude, while working full time. She is also the author of Emerge: 7 Steps to Transformation and the host of the Emerge. Evolve. Lead. podcast.

Today, Maureen is going to help you discover your personality style and show you how knowing it can lower your stress, at work and at home.

Please help me welcome Maureen Ross Gemme.
