WHITE LIONE ALCHEMY · CELINNE DA COSTA

Experimentía

A two-day intensive applying the ancient art of alchemy to your life, and to your work.

November 14–15, 2026

AUSTIN, TEXAS · IN PERSON

Alchemy – the understanding of how consciousness and matter are related: taking something alive in your inner world and making it real in the physical one.

This past January, Celinne sat down to train with Giselle Jennaway on an ancient alchemical structure called Squaring the Circle — Alchemy's Law of Three — and the way it maps onto the Hero's Journey, the pattern storytellers have used for thousands of years to chart how a person actually transforms. It landed so close to the shamanic Andean wisdom teachings at the root of Celinne's own work that she hired Giselle on the spot and brought her in to teach her mastermind these ancient secrets. Their minds were blown.

Now Celinne is bringing Giselle from Australia to Austin for a weekend of it, in person.

In alchemy you can't know the truth, you can only experience it. So this is a working weekend. You bring the thing closest to your heart that refuses to move — the relationship you've quietly stopped believing will change, the health pattern no one can explain, the business sitting under a ceiling you can't break — and together we work real magic on it. The kind you feel in your body by the time you leave, and watch reshape things in the weeks that follow.

THE TWO DAYS

DAY ONE

Your "impossible"

Love, health, money — any human knot that has defied every solution you've thrown at it. We square the circle on it, and what has felt immovable starts to dissolve.

DAY TWO

Your vision

The business, book, or visionary project you can feel but haven't yet built. We square the circle on it, and its evolution into the world of form begins.

Across both days, Giselle helps you access what has been hidden in plain sight all along. And in person, you get the aliveness only a shared room creates.

Why this is unlike anything else

Alchemy is lived, not studied from the outside. On Day One we apply alchemy to your life. On Day Two we apply alchemy to your vision. What we work with is Alchemy's Law of Three — in plain English — the legacy of a laboratory alchemist who learned seven languages to translate the original texts. Most of his practice was private, but he taught for a few years and offered some of his alchemical works, including Oil of Gold, before retreating. You leave these two days understanding the structure of reality, how to cultivate a seemingly magical chain of synchronicities, with a map you can follow and the enthusiasm to create with your eyes opened.

THE TWO OF US

Giselle Jennaway

NATUROPATH · PSYCH-K® FACILITATOR · WHITE LIONE ALCHEMY

Known for her ability to catalyse awareness and change, and dedicated to nurturing the life force in people so natural wellbeing can take hold. A naturopath, homeopath, hypnotherapist and PSYCH-K® facilitator, and a mother of five, she's spent more than thirty years in wellbeing and the astute study of how inner reality becomes outer. After a life-changing introduction to a laboratory alchemist in 2017, what she'd always tracked intuitively was given language and form, and her work moved from fixing what's wrong to exalting what's true. Today she's confidant and secret weapon to paradigm-changing thought leaders, and has founded a private association in service of sharing this alchemical understanding of self and reality.

Between Celinne's gift for tracking and moving stagnant energy and Giselle's for architecting reality, these two days are built to leave you alive with inspiration and lucid in how you're dreaming your future.
