Engineering revenue systems for experienced professionals who are done leaving income to chance.

Gemma Serenity Gorokhoff is a Swiss-American entrepreneur, revenue strategist, multiple award-winning founder, published author, and host of two globally distributed podcasts with over 3 million combined downloads. She built her early career as a tax adviser and accountant for high-net-worth clients in Geneva, Switzerland, before founding Predictable Revenue Systems — a 90-day private engagement that installs the structure experienced professionals need to engineer consistent, predictable income.
