MAIN TRADE-OFF

A life lease is a contractual occupancy interest

It is not condominium title. Review the exact life-lease agreement, upfront payment, monthly occupancy fee, included services, eligibility, sponsor process and resale or transfer provisions together.

Read the life-lease records together

The governing agreement defines the occupancy interest, costs, services, approvals and transfer process.

What the current evidence supports

Obtain the current life-lease agreement, disclosure package, fee schedule, rules and suite records. Confirm the upfront payment, monthly occupancy fee, eligibility, services, insurance, maintenance, approval and transfer requirements.

Documents and questions to confirm

- The current life-lease agreement, disclosure package and rights attached to the exact suite.
- Formal 55+ eligibility, application, approval, spouse, co-occupant and occupancy provisions.
- Current monthly occupancy fee, included services, utilities, parking, storage and increase mechanisms.
- The agreement of purchase and sale, schedules, conditions, adjustments and closing requirements.
- Suite condition, insurance, repairs, maintenance boundaries, capital planning and separate charges.
- Resale, transfer, valuation, sponsor involvement, administrative fees and estate treatment.

Cost categories to separate

Purchase

Confirm the upfront payment, deposit, financing eligibility, legal review and adjustments.

Ongoing

Confirm occupancy fees, utilities, insurance, parking, services and personal expenses.

Future

Review fee changes, capital work, suite repairs, resale administration and moving costs.

IMPORTANT

This guide intentionally avoids fixed fee amounts. Obtain current suite-specific legal and financial records and professional advice before relying on any cost or responsibility estimate.
