DON'T HAVE A DIAGNOSIS YET? THAT'S OKAY.

A licensed provider in the Evidence Command network can evaluate many common physical conditions by telemedicine and determine whether clinical criteria are met - or whether additional testing, imaging, records, or an in-person evaluation may be needed before a diagnosis can be rendered.

COMMON CONDITIONS THAT MAY BE EVALUATED VIRTUALLY

First-time diagnosis when clinically supported

IMPORTANT: Whether a diagnosis can be established virtually depends on the condition, available medical evidence, examination findings, provider qualifications, and whether additional testing or an in-person evaluation is medically necessary. Licensed providers use independent clinical judgment. Evidence Command does not guarantee a diagnosis, VA rating, or claim outcome.
