19 Though I am free of obligation to anyone, I make myself a slave to everyone, to win as many as possible. 20 To the Jews I became like a Jew, to win the Jews. To those under the law I became like one under the law (though I myself am not under the law), to win those under the law. 21 To those without the law I became like one without the law (though I am not outside the law of God but am under the law of Christ), to win those without the law. 22 To the weak I became weak, to win the weak. I have become all things to all people so that by all possible means I might save some.

THE SYNAGOGUE OF THE HEBREWS

1 CORINTHIANS 9:20 · ACTS 18:4 TO 8

The synagogue stone in the museum at Ancient Corinth. Photo Mark Landon, CC BY 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

A broken marble stone, probably from over a doorway, carved with the Greek words SYNAGOGUE OF THE HEBREWS. Only the middle letters survive, and the rest are filled in by experts.

HOW OLD IT IS

The date is debated. When it was found, some scholars thought it came from Paul's time. Most now date the letters later, somewhere between AD 100 and 400. It may mark a later building on the same spot, or a different synagogue.

WHERE AND WHEN FOUND

American School archaeologists found it in 1898 near the bottom of the Lechaion Road, the main street that led into the forum of Corinth.

WHAT THE BIBLE SAYS

Paul preached in the synagogue in Corinth every Sabbath, Acts 18:4. When he was pushed out, he moved next door to the house of Titius Justus. Crispus, the synagogue leader, believed, Acts 18:8, and Paul baptized him, 1 Corinthians 1:14. A later leader, Sosthenes, was beaten at Gallio's court, Acts 18:17, and may be the Sosthenes of 1:1.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

In the Archaeological Museum at Ancient Corinth, Greece.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

There was a Jewish community in Corinth with its own synagogue, just as Acts says. It reminds us that Paul's church started with Jews and God fearing Gentiles before it reached the whole city. To the Jews I became like a Jew, Paul said, 9:20.

MESSIANIC FORESHADOW

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Because the stone is probably later, it may not be from the synagogue where Paul preached.

23 I do all this for the sake of the gospel, so that I may share in its blessings.

RUN YOUR RACE TO WIN

24 Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one receives the prize? Run in such a way as to take the prize. 25 Everyone who competes in the games trains with strict discipline. They do it for a crown that is perishable, but we do it for a crown that is imperishable. 26 Therefore I do not run aimlessly; I do not fight like I am beating the air. 27 No, I discipline my body and make it my slave, so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified.

THE ISTHMIAN GAMES

1 CORINTHIANS 9:24 TO 27

The starting line of the old stadium at Isthmia. The wooden posts show where the starting gate stood. Photo Zde, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS
The ruins of Isthmia, the sanctuary of the sea god Poseidon about 10 miles from Corinth. Every two years it hosted the Isthmian Games, one of the four big Greek games along with the Olympics. Athletes came from all over to run, wrestle, box and race chariots.

HOW OLD IT IS
The games started about 580 BC. The starting line in the photo comes from an older stadium of the 300s BC. When Rome wrecked Corinth in 146 BC the games moved to nearby Sicyon, and they came back to Isthmia around the time of Paul.

WHERE AND WHEN FOUND
Oscar Broneer of the University of Chicago began digging Isthmia in 1952. He found the temple of Poseidon, two stadiums and a clever starting gate. Ropes held the runners back, and a judge in a pit dropped them all at once.

THE CROWN
Olympic winners got olive leaves. Isthmian winners got a wreath of pine, or in some years dried celery. In a week it was dead. That is Paul's point. Athletes train hard for a crown that is perishable, but we run for a crown that is imperishable, 9:25.

PAUL WAS IN TOWN
Many scholars think the games were held while Paul lived in Corinth, maybe in AD 51. Paul worked as a tentmaker, Acts 18:3, and the crowds needed tents. He may have watched the runners himself.

WHERE IT IS TODAY
At the village of Kyras Vrysi near the Corinth Canal. A small museum on the site shows finds from the sanctuary.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Paul's readers knew exactly what he meant by a race, strict training and a crown that fades. The games were their hometown sport.

CHAPTER 10 IN 30 SECONDS
Israel had God's miracles in the desert and still fell into idols and complaining. Their story is a warning for us. No temptation is too strong, because God always makes a way out. You cannot eat at the Lord's table and the table of demons. Do everything for the glory of God.

WARNINGS FROM ISRAEL'S PAST // NUMBERS 16:41–50; NUMBERS 25:1–5

1 I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, that our forefathers were all under the cloud, and that they all passed through the sea. 2 They were all baptized into

Moses in the cloud and in the sea. 3 They all ate the same spiritual food 4 and drank the same spiritual drink; for they drank from the spiritual rock that accompanied them, and that rock was Christ. 5 Nevertheless, God was not pleased with most of them, for they were struck down in the wilderness.

6 These things took place as examples to keep us from craving evil things as they did. 7 Do not be idolaters, as some of them were. As it is written: "The people sat down to eat and drink and got up to indulge in revelry." 8 We should not commit sexual immorality, as some of them did, and in one day twenty-three thousand of them died. 9 We should not test Christ, as some of them did, and were killed by snakes. 10 And do not complain, as some of them did, and were killed by the destroying angel.

11 Now these things happened to them as examples and were written down as warnings for us, on whom the fulfillment of the ages has come. 12 So the one who thinks he is standing firm should be careful not to fall. 13 No temptation has seized you except what is common to man. And God is faithful; He will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, He will also provide an escape, so that you can stand up under it.

14 Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. 15 I speak to reasonable people; judge for yourselves what I say. 16 Is not the cup of blessing that we bless a participation in the blood of Christ? And is not the bread that we break a participation in the body of Christ? 17 Because there is one loaf, we who are many are one body; for we all partake of the one loaf.

18 Consider the people of Israel: Are not those who eat the sacrifices fellow partakers in the altar? 19 Am I suggesting, then, that food sacrificed to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything? 20 No, but the sacrifices of pagans are offered to demons, not to God. And I do not want you to be participants with demons. 21 You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons too; you cannot partake in the table of the Lord and the table of demons too. 22 Are we trying to provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than He?

ALL TO GOD'S GLORY // 1 PETER 4:1–11

23 "Everything is permissible," but not everything is beneficial. "Everything is permissible," but not everything is edifying. 24 No one should seek his own good, but the good of others.

DEMONIC

WHAT IT IS
Two broken Latin inscriptions from Corinth that mention a MACELLUM, a Roman meat and food market, along with a fish market. A rich citizen paid to build it and had his name carved on it.

HOW OLD IT IS
The inscriptions are from the early first century AD, the time of the emperors Augustus and Tiberius. That means the market was standing when Paul lived in Corinth.

WHERE AND WHEN FOUND
American School digs at Corinth turned them up in the early 1900s. In 1934 the scholar Henry Cadbury connected them to 1 Corinthians 10:25. Many think the market stood near the Lechaion Road, north of the forum, but the building has not been found for sure.

THE WORD PAUL USED
Paul writes makellon, a Latin word in Greek letters. It is the only time it shows up in the whole New Testament. He used the same word the people of Roman Corinth used for their market.

WHY IT MATTERED
Much of the meat sold in a city like Corinth came from animals sacrificed at temples. Christians asked, Is it a sin to eat it? Paul says an idol is nothing, so buy it and eat it without asking questions, 10:25. But if someone tells you it was offered to idols, skip it for that person's sake, 10:28.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Corinth had a Roman style meat market in Paul's day, just as his advice assumes.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
No one knows how much of the meat in this market came from temples. The pieces of the inscriptions do not show where the building stood.

27 If an unbeliever invites you to a meal and you want to go, eat anything set before you without raising questions of conscience. 28 But if someone tells you, "This food was offered to idols," then do not eat it, for the sake of the one who told you and for the sake of conscience— 29 the other one's conscience, I mean, not your own. For why should my freedom be determined by someone else's conscience?
30 If I partake in the meal with thankfulness, why am I denounced because of that for which I give thanks?

31 So whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all to the glory of God. 32 Do not become a stumbling block, whether to Jews or Greeks or the church of God— 33
as I also try to please everyone in all I do.
For I am not seeking my own good, but the good of many, that they may be saved.

11

CHAPTER 11 IN 30 SECONDS
Paul tackles head coverings in worship, then something worse. At the Lord's Supper the rich eat first and get drunk while the poor go hungry. Paul reminds them what Jesus said: This is My body, this cup is the new covenant in My blood. Examine yourself before you eat.

ROLES IN WORSHIP

1 You are to imitate me, just as I imitate Christ.

2 Now I commend you for remembering me in everything and for maintaining the traditions, just as I passed them on to you.
3 But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, and the head of the woman is man, and the head of Christ is God.

4 Every man who prays or prophesies with his head covered dishonors his head. 5
And every woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonors her head, for it is just as if her head were shaved. 6 If a woman does not cover her head, she should have her hair cut off.
And if it is shameful for a woman to have her hair cut or shaved off, she should cover her head.

7 A man ought not to cover his head, since he is the image and glory of God; but the ■ 1CO 11:2 [NOTE] HEAD COVERINGS. In Corinth, how a woman covered her head sent a message about her marriage and her honor, a bit like a wedding ring today. Many believe Paul was keeping Corinthian worship from looking shameful to outsiders, and the lasting point is honor and order. Some churches still have women cover their heads, because Paul ties it to creation and the angels, 11:8 to 10. Notice 11:5: women were praying and prophesying out loud in church.

DEMONIC JESUS SPEAKING

woman is the glory of man. 8 For man did not come from woman, but woman from man. 9 Neither was man created for woman, but woman for man. 10 For this reason a woman ought to have a sign of authority on her head, because of the angels.

11 In the Lord, however, woman is not independent of man, nor is man independent of woman. 12 For just as woman came from man, so also man is born of woman. But everything comes from God.

13 Judge for yourselves: Is it proper for a woman to pray to God with her head uncovered? 14 Doesn't nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a disgrace to him, 15 but that if a woman has long hair, it is her glory? For long hair is given to her as a covering. 16 If anyone is inclined to dispute this, we have no other practice, nor do the churches of God.

SHARING IN THE LORD'S SUPPER // MATTHEW 26:20–30; MARK 14:17–26; LUKE 22:14–23

17 In the following instructions I have no praise to offer, because your gatherings do more harm than good. 18 First of all, I hear that when you come together as a church, there are divisions among you, and in part I believe it. 19 And indeed, there must be differences among you to show which of you are approved.

20 Now then, when you come together, it is not the Lord's Supper you eat. 21 For as you eat, each of you goes ahead without sharing his meal. While one remains hungry, another gets drunk. 22 Don't you have your own homes in which to eat and drink? Or do you despise the church of God and humiliate those who have nothing? What can I say to you? Shall I praise you for this? No, I will not!

23 For I received from the Lord what I also passed on to you: The Lord Jesus, on the night He was betrayed, took bread, 24 and when He had given thanks, He broke it and said, "This is My body, which is for you; do this in remembrance of Me." 25 In the same way, after supper He took the cup, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood; do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me." 26 For as often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until He comes.

27 Therefore, whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of sinning against the body and blood of the Lord. 28 Each one must examine himself before he eats of the bread and drinks of the cup. 29 For anyone who eats and drinks without recognizing the body eats and drinks judgment on himself. 30 That is why many among you are weak and sick, and a number of you have fallen asleep.

31 Now if we judged ourselves properly, we would not come under judgment. 32 But when we are judged by the Lord, we are being disciplined so that we will not be condemned with the world.

33 So, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for one another. 34 If anyone is hungry, he should eat at home, so that when you come together it will not result in judgment. And when I come, I will give instructions about the remaining matters.

CHAPTER 12 IN 30 SECONDS

The Holy Spirit gives gifts to every believer, all from the same Spirit. Wisdom, knowledge, faith, healing, miracles, prophecy, telling spirits apart, tongues and interpretation. The church is one body with many parts. The eye cannot tell the hand, I do not need you. Every part matters.

SPIRITUAL GIFTS

1 Now about spiritual gifts, brothers, I do not want you to be uninformed. 2 You know that when you were pagans, you were influenced and led astray to mute idols. 3 Therefore I inform you that no one who is speaking by the Spirit of God says, "Jesus be cursed," and no one can say, "Jesus is Lord," except by the Holy Spirit.

1CO 11:30 [NOTE] Fallen asleep means died. Paul links sickness and death in Corinth to treating the Lord's Supper like a party while the poor went hungry, 11:21 to 22. Not every sickness is a judgment, John 9:3. But take it seriously and examine yourself first, 11:28.

1CO 12:2 [DEMONIC] Before Christ you were led astray to mute idols

MIRACLES

4 There are different gifts, but the same Spirit. 5 There are different ministries, but the same Lord. 6 There are different ways of working, but the same God works all things in all people.

7 Now to each one the manifestation of the Spirit is given for the common good. 8 To one there is given through the Spirit the message of wisdom, to another the message of knowledge by the same Spirit, 9 to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by that one Spirit, 10 to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another distinguishing between spirits, to another speaking in various tongues, and to still another the interpretation of tongues. 11 All these are the work of one and the same Spirit, who apportions them to each one as He determines.

THE BODY OF CHRIST

12 The body is a unit, though it is composed of many parts. And although its parts are many, they all form one body. So it is with Christ. 13 For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, slave or free, and we were all given one Spirit to drink.

14 For the body does not consist of one part, but of many. 15 If the foot should say,
"Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," that would not make it any less a part of the body. 16 And if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body," that would not make it any less a part of the body. 17 If the whole body were an eye, where would the sense of hearing be? If the whole body were an ear, where would the sense of smell be?

18 But in fact, God has arranged the members of the body, every one of them, according to His design. 19 If they were all one part, where would the body be? 20 As it is, there are many parts, but one body.

21 The eye cannot say to the hand, "I do not need you." Nor can the head say to the feet, "I do not need you." 22 On the contrary, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable, 23 and the parts we consider less honorable, we treat with greater honor. And our unpresentable parts are treated with special modesty, 24 whereas our presentable parts have no such need.

But God has composed the body and has given greater honor to the parts that lacked it, 25 so that there should be no division in the body, but that its members should have mutual concern for one another. 26 If one part suffers, every part suffers with it; if one part is honored, every part rejoices with it.

THE GREATER GIFTS

27 Now you are the body of Christ, and each of you is a member of it. 28 And in the church God has appointed first of all apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then workers of miracles, and those with gifts of healing, helping, administration, and various tongues. 29 Are all apostles?
Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all work miracles? 30 Do all have gifts of healing? Do all speak in tongues? Do all interpret? 31 But eagerly desire the greater gifts.

And now I will show you the most excellent way.

DEBATED THE REAL LIFE CHEAT CODE

THE 9 SPIRITUAL GIFTS

(The Real Life Cheat Code)

1 CORINTHIANS 12:7 TO 11

UP UP DOWN DOWN

In 1988 kids found a secret code for the video game Contra: up, up, down, down, left, right, left, right, B, A, start. Type it in and you got 30 extra lives. Other games had a God mode that made you nearly unstoppable. Here is the real version. In 1 Corinthians 12, Paul lists nine gifts the Holy Spirit gives to believers. No button combo needed. You just ask, Luke 11:13. It can feel like cheating at life, because you are playing with help from the One who designed the game.

WHO GETS THEM

To each one the Spirit is given for the common good, 12:7. Not just pastors. Not just apostles. Each one. The Spirit decides who gets what, 12:11, and Paul says to eagerly desire them, 14:1. Bible teachers often sort them into three groups of three: gifts that know, gifts that do and gifts that speak.

GIFT 1: A MESSAGE OF WISDOM

God shows you what to do next, like Solomon with the two mothers, 1 Kings 3:16 to 28.

GIFT 2: A MESSAGE OF KNOWLEDGE

God tells you something you had no way of knowing, like Jesus telling the woman at the well about her five husbands, John 4:17 to 19.

GIFT 3: FAITH

Not the faith that saves you, but a sudden, rock solid trust that God is about to do something big, like Elijah calling down fire, 1 Kings 18:36 to 38.

GIFT 4: GIFTS OF HEALING

God heals the sick through you, like Peter and John at the temple gate, Acts 3:6 to 8.

GIFT 5: WORKING OF MIRACLES

God steps in and breaks the normal rules, like Paul shaking off a deadly snake, Acts 28:3 to 6.

GIFT 6: PROPHECY

Speaking a message from God that builds up, encourages and comforts, 14:3.

GIFT 7: TELLING SPIRITS APART

Knowing whether something is from God, from people or from the enemy, like Paul spotting the spirit in the fortune telling girl, Acts 16:16 to 18.

GIFT 8: TONGUES

Speaking in a language you never learned, either a real human one like Acts 2, or praying in the Spirit, 14:2.

GIFT 9: INTERPRETING TONGUES

God gives the meaning of a message in tongues so the whole church is built up, 14:13.

WHY GOD GIVES THEM

Not to make anyone look important. The Corinthians were showing off, and Paul had to tell them it is all for the common good, 12:7. That is why chapter 13, the love chapter, sits right in the middle of the gifts. A cheat code used to show off is not what God had in mind.

The Cheat Code: Still Working?

1 CORINTHIANS 1:7 · 12:7 · 14:1

DID THE CODE EXPIRE?

Many teachers say the gifts were only needed until the Bible was written, and then they stopped. That view is called cessationism. But look at who Paul was writing to. Not the twelve apostles. Not Mark, Luke, James or Jude. He was writing to regular believers in Corinth: dock workers, slaves, shop owners and a few rich families. None of them ever wrote a word of the Bible. Yet Paul told them to eagerly desire spiritual gifts, 14:1, and said they did not lack any gift as they waited for Jesus to come back, 1:7. If the gifts were only for writing Scripture, it is strange that Paul spent three chapters training people who would never write any.

THE OTHER SIDE

Cessationists answer that the gifts confirmed the apostles' message while the church was being founded, Hebrews 2:3 to 4 and Ephesians 2:20. That is an honest argument made by people who love the Bible, even if many believers today, and this Bible's commentary, lean the other way.

FROM RULES TO RELATIONSHIP

Here is where God gets real. Without the Spirit, the Bible can turn into a rule book: do this, do not do that. With the Spirit, it becomes a relationship. Understanding these gifts is literally the difference between having a relationship with God and having a relationship with your Bible. Jesus told the Bible experts of His day, You pore over the Scriptures because you presume that by them you possess eternal life. These are the very words that testify about Me, yet you refuse to come to Me to have life, John 5:39 to 40. The Bible points you to Him. It was never meant to replace Him. Jesus said the Spirit would guide you into all truth, John 16:13. Those who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God, Romans 8:14. The early church did not make big moves without Him. The Spirit said, Set apart Barnabas and Saul, Acts 13:2, and when Paul tried to go one way, the Spirit said no and sent him somewhere better, Acts 16:6 to 10.

GOD MODE FOR REAL LIFE

Picture every big decision going straight to the Holy Spirit first: who to marry, what job to take, where to live, what to say to a friend who is hurting. You are not guessing alone. If any of you lacks wisdom, ask God, James 1:5. Same game, but now you are playing with the Developer sitting next to you.

HOW TO PLAY FAIR

Every cheat code has rules, and so do the gifts. They never go against the Bible, because the Spirit inspired it and He does not contradict Himself. Test everything and hold on to what is good, 1 Thessalonians 5:19 to 21. Use the gifts for others, not for a show. Keep it orderly, 14:40. And love is the point. Without love you are just a noisy gong, 13:1.

HOW TO START

Ask. If you then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him! Luke 11:13. Then read 1 Corinthians 12 to 14, pray, and step out in faith. Up, up, down, down is optional.

THE ASCLEPION AND ITS BODY PARTS

1 CORINTHIANS 12:12 TO 27

A clay arm and hand with a sore on it, given to Asclepius by someone who wanted healing. Photo Zde, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

The Asclepion was the temple of Asclepius, the Greek god of healing, on the north edge of Corinth. Sick people slept there hoping for a cure. When they were healed, or hoped to be, they left a clay copy of the body part that hurt: hands, feet, legs, arms, eyes, ears and more.

HOW OLD IT IS

Most of the clay body parts are from the 300s BC. The temple was rebuilt after Rome refounded Corinth and was still in use in Paul's day.

WHERE AND WHEN FOUND

American School archaeologists dug the Asclepion from 1929 to 1934. Many of the clay pieces had been dumped in pits when the temple was cleaned out long ago.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

Rows of clay hands, feet and arms are on display in the Archaeological Museum at Ancient Corinth, Greece.

THE BODY PICTURE

Paul says the church is one body with many parts. The foot cannot say, I am not a hand, and the eye cannot tell the hand, I do not need you, 12:15 and 12:21. Many scholars think his readers would picture the Asclepion, where body parts hung on the walls cut off from any body. Paul's point: in Christ no part is cut off. Every part belongs.

NOTABLE

A BETTER HEALER
The Corinthians knew a temple where people begged a stone god for healing. Paul tells them the Holy Spirit gives gifts of healing to believers, 12:9.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Paul never names the Asclepion. The link to his body picture is a good guess, not a sure thing.

13

CHAPTER 13 IN 30 SECONDS
The love chapter. Without love, the best gifts are just noise. Love is patient and kind. It does not envy, boast, or keep score. Love never fails. Someday we will see face to face. Faith, hope and love remain, but the greatest of these is love.

LOVE

1 If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am only a ringing gong or a clanging cymbal. 2 If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have absolute faith so as to move mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. 3 If I give all I possess to the poor and exult in the surrender of my body, but have not love, I gain nothing.

4 Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. 5 It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no account of wrongs. 6 Love takes no pleasure in evil, but rejoices in the truth. 7 It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

8 Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will be restrained;
where there is knowledge, it will be dismissed. 9 For we know in part and we prophesy in part, 10 but when the perfect comes, the partial passes away.

11 When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child.
When I became a man, I set aside childish ways. 12 Now we see but a dim reflection as in a mirror; then we shall see face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known.

13 And now these three remain: faith, hope, and love; but the greatest of these is love.

CHAPTER 14 IN 30 SECONDS
Paul wants them to desire spiritual gifts, especially prophecy, because it builds up the church. Tongues in a meeting need an interpreter, or outsiders will think you are crazy. Take turns, two or three at a time. God is not a God of confusion. Do not forbid tongues, but keep it orderly.

PROPHECY AND TONGUES

1 Earnestly pursue love and eagerly desire spiritual gifts, especially the gift of prophecy. 2 For he who speaks in a tongue does not speak to men, but to God. Indeed, no one understands him; he utters mysteries in the Spirit. 3 But he who prophesies speaks to men for their edification, encouragement, and comfort. 4
The one who speaks in a tongue edifies himself, but the one who prophesies edi-fies the church.

5 I wish that all of you could speak in tongues, but I would rather have you prophesy. He who prophesies is greater than one who speaks in tongues, unless he interprets so that the church may be edified.

6 Now, brothers, if I come to you speaking in tongues, how will I benefit you, unless I bring you some revelation or knowledge or prophecy or teaching? 7 Even in the case of lifeless instruments, such as the flute or harp, how will anyone recognize the tune they are playing unless the notes are distinct? 8 Again, if the trumpet sounds a muffled call, who will prepare for battle?
9 So it is with you. Unless you speak intel-

1CO 13:1 [NOTABLE] Read at almost every wedding, but Paul wrote it to a church at war with itself over gifts and status. Without love, even the greatest gift is just noise. Love here is something you do, not just something you feel.

1CO 13:8 [NOTE] WHEN THE PERFECT COMES. Cessationists say the perfect is the finished Bible, so tongues and prophecy stopped once it was written. Continuists say the perfect comes when Jesus returns, because then we shall see face to face, 13:12, and Paul already said the church would not lack any gift while it waits for Jesus to come back, 1:7. Both sides love the Bible. Either way, love never fails.

1CO 14:2 [THE BIG DEBATE] For more on tongues, see the two Speaking in Tongues pages in Romans, p.1809.

ligible words with your tongue, how will anyone know what you are saying? You will just be speaking into the air.

10 Assuredly, there are many different languages in the world, yet none of them is without meaning. 11 If, then, I do not know the meaning of someone's language, I am a foreigner to the speaker, and he is a foreigner to me.

12 It is the same with you. Since you are eager to have spiritual gifts, strive to excel in gifts that build up the church. 13 Therefore, the one who speaks in a tongue should pray that he may interpret. 14 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prays, but my mind is unfruitful.

15 What then shall I do? I will pray with my spirit, but I will also pray with my mind. I will sing with my spirit, but I will also sing with my mind. 16 Otherwise, if you speak a blessing in spirit, how can someone who is uninstructed say "Amen" to your thanksgiving, since he does not know what you are saying? 17 You may be giving thanks well enough, but the other one is not edified.

18 I thank God that I speak in tongues more than all of you. 19 But in the church, I would rather speak five coherent words to instruct others than ten thousand words in a tongue.

20 Brothers, stop thinking like children. In regard to evil be infants, but in your thinking be mature. 21 It is written in the Law:

"By strange tongues and foreign lips
I will speak to this people, but even then they will not listen to Me,
says the Lord."

22 Tongues, then, are a sign, not for believers, but for unbelievers. Prophecy, however, is for believers, not for unbelievers.

23 So if the whole church comes together and everyone speaks in tongues, and some who are uninstructed or some unbelievers come in, will they not say that you are out of your minds? 24 But if an unbeliever or uninstructed person comes in while everyone is prophesying, he will be convicted and called to account by all, 25 and the secrets of his heart will be made known. So he will fall facedown and worship God, proclaiming, "God is truly among you!"

ORDERLY WORSHIP

26 What then shall we say, brothers? When you come together, everyone has a psalm or a teaching, a revelation, a tongue, or an interpretation. All of these must be done to build up the church.

27 If anyone speaks in a tongue, two, or at most three, should speak in turn, and someone must interpret. 28 But if there is no interpreter, he should remain silent in the church and speak only to himself and God.

29 Two or three prophets should speak, and the others should weigh carefully what is said. 30 And if a revelation comes to someone who is seated, the first speaker should stop. 31 For you can all prophesy in turn so that everyone may be instructed and encouraged. 32 The spirits of prophets are subject to prophets. 33 For God is not a God of disorder, but of peace—as in all the churches of the saints.

34 Women are to be silent in the churches. They are not permitted to speak, but must be in submission, as the law says. 35 If they wish to inquire about something, they are to ask their own husbands at home; for it is dishonorable for a woman to speak in the church.

1CO 14:21 [FULFILLS] God would speak to His people through foreign tongues ← IS 28:11 · MEDIUM p.1094

1CO 14:23 [NOTE] Paul is not against tongues. He is against chaos. In a meeting, only two or three should speak, one at a time, with someone to interpret, 14:27 to 28. Otherwise visitors will think the church has lost its mind.

1CO 14:25 [ALLUDES TO] Refers to ← IS 45:14 p.1118

1CO 14:34 [TEXT] Some old copies put 14:34 to 35 after 14:40. Because of that, the scholar Gordon Fee argued a copyist added these verses later. Every known copy has them somewhere, and most scholars think Paul wrote them.

1CO 14:34 [NOTE] Many believe Paul was fixing disorder in one church, likely wives calling out questions during the teaching, 14:35. That fits 11:5, where women pray and prophesy out loud, and Phoebe and Junia, leaders Paul praised in Romans 16:1 and 16:7. Others read these verses as a rule for women in all churches, 14:33.

CHAPTER 15 IN 30 SECONDS

Some in Corinth said the dead do not rise. Paul says Jesus died, was buried, rose on the third day and was seen by more than five hundred people. If Christ is not raised, our faith is useless. But He is. We will all be changed in the twinkling of an eye. Death, where is your sting?

THE RESURRECTION OF CHRIST

1 Now, brothers, I want to remind you of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, and in which you stand firm. 2 By this gospel you are saved, if you hold firmly to the word I preached to you. Otherwise, you have believed in vain.

3 For what I received I passed on to you as of first importance: that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures, 4 that He was buried, that He was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures, 5 and that He appeared to Cephas and then to the Twelve. 6 After that, He appeared to more than five hundred brothers at once, most of whom are still living, though some have fallen asleep. 7 Then He appeared to James, then to all the apostles. 8 And last of all He appeared to me also, as to one of untimely birth.

9 For I am the least of the apostles and am unworthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. 10 But by the grace of God I am what I am, and His grace to me was not in vain. No, I worked harder than all of them—yet not I, but the grace of God that was with me. 11 Whether, then, it was I or they, this is what we preach, and this is what you believed.

THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD

12 But if it is preached that Christ has been raised from the dead, how can some of you say that there is no resurrection of the dead? 13 If there is no resurrection of the dead, then not even Christ has been raised. 14 And if Christ has not been raised, our preaching is worthless, and so is your faith. 15 In that case, we are also exposed as false witnesses about God. For we have testified about God that He raised Christ from the dead, but He did not raise
Him if in fact the dead are not raised.

16 For if the dead are not raised, then not even Christ has been raised. 17 And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile; you are still in your sins. 18 Then those also who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. 19 If our hope in Christ is for this life alone, we are to be pitied more than all men.

THE ORDER OF RESURRECTION

20 But Christ has indeed been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep. 21 For since death came through a man, the resurrection of the dead comes also through a man. 22 For as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive. 23 But each in his own turn:
Christ the firstfruits; then at His coming,
those who belong to Him.

24 Then the end will come, when He hands over the kingdom to God the Father after He has destroyed all dominion, authority, and power. 25 For He must reign until He has put all His enemies under His feet. 26 The last enemy to be destroyed is death. 27 For "God has put everything under His feet." Now when it says that everything has been put under Him, this clearly does not include the One who put everything under Him. 28 And when all things have been subjected to Him, then the Son Himself will be made subject to Him who put all things under Him, so that God may be all in all.

29 If these things are not so, what will those do who are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why are people baptized for them? 30 And why do we endanger ourselves every hour? 31 I face death every day, brothers, as surely as I boast about you in Christ Jesus our Lord. 32 If I fought wild beasts in Ephesus for human motives, what did I gain? If the dead are not raised,

"Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."

33 Do not be deceived: "Bad company corrupts good character." 34 Sober up as you ought, and stop sinning; for some of you are ignorant of God. I say this to your shame.

THE RESURRECTION BODY

35 But someone will ask, "How are the dead raised? With what kind of body will they come?" 36 You fool! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. 37 And what you sow is not the body that will be, but just a seed, perhaps of wheat or something else. 38 But God gives it a body as He has designed, and to each kind of seed He gives its own body.

39 Not all flesh is the same: Men have one kind of flesh, animals have another, birds another, and fish another. 40 There are also heavenly bodies and earthly bodies. But the splendor of the heavenly bodies is of one degree, and the splendor of the earthly bodies is of another. 41 The sun has one degree of splendor, the moon another, and the stars another; and star differs from star in splendor.

42 So will it be with the resurrection of the dead: What is sown is perishable; it is raised imperishable. 43 It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. 44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. 45 So it is written: "The first man Adam became a living being"; the last Adam a life-giving spirit.

46 The spiritual, however, was not first, but the natural, and then the spiritual. 47 The first man was of the dust of the earth, the second man from heaven. 48 As was the earthly man, so also are those who are of the earth; and as is the heavenly man, so also are those who are of heaven. 49 And just as we have borne the likeness of the earthly man, so also shall we bear the likeness of the heavenly man.

WHERE, O DEATH, IS YOUR VICTORY? // HOSEA 13:9–14

50 Now I declare to you, brothers, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable.

51 Listen, I tell you a mystery: We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed— 52 in an instant, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. 53 For the perishable must be clothed with the imperishable, and the mortal with immortality.

54 When the perishable has been clothed with the imperishable and the mortal with immortality, then the saying that is written will come to pass: "Death has been swallowed up in victory."

55 "Where, O Death, is your victory?
Where, O Death, is your sting?"

■ 1CO 15:29 [NOTE] BAPTIZED FOR THE DEAD. No one knows for sure what this means. Some say believers were baptized in place of Christians who died before they could be. Some say people were baptized because of the dead, hoping to see believing loved ones again. Some say Paul was pointing to what another group did, without approving it, to prove that even they believed in the resurrection. The Latter Day Saints baptize living people for the dead based on this verse. No other verse teaches it.

CHAPTER 16 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul asks them to set money aside each Sunday for the poor in Jerusalem. He is staying in Ephesus until Pentecost because a great door is open. Timothy and Apollos are mentioned. Paul signs off in his own handwriting with an Aramaic prayer, Come, Lord. Then, my love to all of you.

THE COLLECTION FOR THE SAINTS // 2 CORINTHIANS 9:1–15

1 Now about the collection for the saints, you are to do as I directed the churches of Galatia: 2 On the first day of every week, each of you should set aside a portion of his income, saving it up, so that when I come no collections will be needed. 3 Then, on my arrival, I will send letters with those you recommend to carry your gift to Jerusalem. 4 And if it is advisable for me to go also, they can travel with me.

PAUL'S TRAVEL PLANS // ROMANS 15:23–33

5 After I go through Macedonia, however, I will come to you; for I will be going through Macedonia. 6 Perhaps I will stay with you awhile, or even spend the winter, so that you can help me on my journey, wherever I go. 7 For I do not want to see you now only in passing; I hope to spend some time with you, if the Lord permits. 8
But I will stay in Ephesus until Pentecost, 9 because a great door for effective work has opened to me, even though many oppose me.

TIMOTHY AND APOLLOS // PHILIPPIANS 2:19–30

10 If Timothy comes, see to it that he has nothing to fear while he is with you, for he is doing the work of the Lord, just as I am.
11 No one, then, should treat him with contempt. Send him on his way in peace so that he can return to me, for I am expecting him along with the brothers.

12 Now about our brother Apollos: I strongly urged him to go to you with the brothers. He was not at all inclined to go now, but he will go when he has the opportunity.

CONCLUDING EXHORTATIONS

13 Be on the alert. Stand firm in the faith.
Be men of courage. Be strong. 14 Do everything in love.

15 You know that Stephanas and his household were the first converts in Achaia, and they have devoted themselves to the service of the saints. Now I urge you, brothers, 16 to submit to such as these, and to every fellow worker and laborer.

17 I am glad that Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus have arrived, because they have supplied what was lacking from you.
18 For they refreshed my spirit and yours
as well. Show your appreciation, therefore, to such men.

SIGNATURE AND FINAL GREETINGS // COLOSSIANS 4:15–18; 2 THESSALONIANS 3:16–18

19 The churches in the province of Asia
send you greetings.

Aquila and Prisca greet you warmly in the Lord, and so does the church that meets at their house.

20 All the brothers here send you greetings. Greet one another with a holy kiss.

21 This greeting is in my own hand—Paul.

22 If anyone does not love the Lord, let him be under a curse. Come, O Lord!

23 The grace of the Lord Jesus be with you.

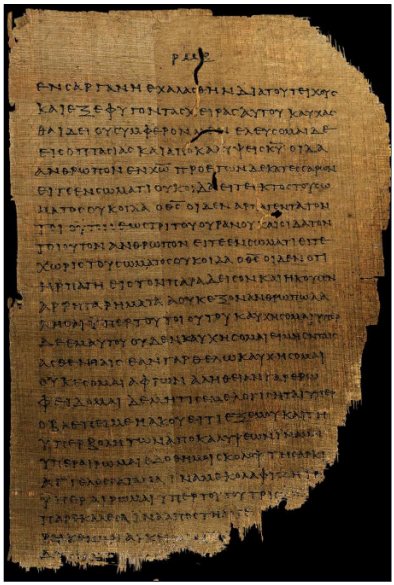
24 My love be with all of you in Christ Jesus.

Amen.



1CO 16:22 [NOTABLE] In the Greek, Come, O Lord is one Aramaic word, Maranatha, the language Jesus spoke. Paul left it untranslated in a Greek letter, which shows the very first believers were already praying for Jesus to come back.

BOOK 47 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · LETTER

2 CORINTHIANS

Dear Messy Church, Part 2

AUTHOR	Paul, with Timothy, 1:1. This is Paul's most personal letter. He opens his heart about his fears, his tears and his weakness.
WRITTEN FROM	Macedonia in northern Greece, maybe Philippi, after Titus met Paul there with good news, 7:5 to 7.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 55 to 57, a year or so after 1 Corinthians.
WRITTEN TO	The church in Corinth and all the believers in the province of Achaia, southern Greece, 1:1.
WHY HE WROTE	To say thank you for turning around, to finish an offering for poor believers in Jerusalem, and to warn against fake super apostles, 11:5.
KEY VERSE	2 Corinthians 12:9. My grace is sufficient for you, for My power is perfected in weakness.

THE OLDEST COPY OF 2 CORINTHIANS
This is a page of Papyrus 46, a book of Paul's letters copied in Egypt about AD 200. This page is at the University of Michigan. It holds 2 Corinthians 11:33 to 12:9. The first line tells how Paul was let down in a basket through the wall. Further down you can read to the third heaven, 12:2, and into paradise, 12:4. Near the bottom it says a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan, 12:7.

THE BOOK IT COMES FROM. The whole book once had about 104 sheets, each written on both sides, and 86 survive, split between Dublin, Ireland, and Michigan. See the 1 Corinthians title page, p.1821, for how it was found.

WHY IT MATTERS. This copy was made only about 150 years after Paul wrote. Apart from small spelling and word order differences, it says what our Bibles say today.

Historical Setting

After 1 Corinthians, things got worse before they got better. Paul made a quick painful visit to Corinth, 2:1, and someone there insulted him. He went back to Ephesus and wrote a letter through many tears, 2:4, and sent Titus to deliver it. Then Paul waited and worried. He left Ephesus after a riot, Acts 19 to 20, crossed to Macedonia, and finally Titus arrived with good news. Most of the church had turned around. But a new group of traveling preachers had shown up, calling themselves super apostles and making fun of Paul.

What Was Going Wrong

FAKE SUPER APOSTLES. Smooth talking teachers preached a different Jesus and charged for it, 11:4 to 5 and 11:20.
DOUBTING PAUL. Some said his letters were strong but he was weak in person, 10:10.
SLOW TO FORGIVE. The man they disciplined had repented, but they had not welcomed him back, 2:6 to 8.
AN UNFINISHED OFFERING. They promised to give to the poor in Jerusalem a year ago and never finished, 8:10 to 11.
SIN NOT DEALT WITH. Some had still not turned from sexual sin, 12:21.

The Idiot Proof Summary

2 Corinthians is Paul letting you see his heart. He has been insulted, doubted and nearly killed, but he still loves this church. He shows that real ministry looks less like a celebrity and more like a cracked clay pot with a light inside. God's comfort is real, His promises are yes, and His power shows up best when we are weak. If you have ever felt like a failure in God's work, this letter is for you.

2 Corinthians at a Glance

CH 1 to 7 PAUL OPENS HIS HEART
Comfort, the tearful letter, jars of clay and a new creation.

CH 8 to 9 THE OFFERING
Give generously and cheerfully, like Jesus gave.

CH 10 to 13 PAUL DEFENDS HIMSELF
Fake apostles, his real resume and strength in weakness.

Where Jesus Shows Up

2 CORINTHIANS 1:20 All of God's promises are Yes in Christ.

2 CORINTHIANS 4:6 God made His light shine in our hearts to show the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

2 CORINTHIANS 5:21 God made Him who knew no sin to be sin on our behalf. Fulfills Isaiah 53:5.

2 CORINTHIANS 8:9 Though He was rich, yet for your sake He became poor, so that you through His poverty might become rich.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

THE BASKET ESCAPE
Paul's greatest brag is not a miracle. It is being let down in a basket through a window in the Damascus wall to escape a king's governor, 11:32 to 33.

WHAT DID PAUL LOOK LIKE?
Paul admits people said he was unimpressive in person, 10:10. A story written about AD 170, the Acts of Paul and Thecla, describes him as short and bald with bowed legs, eyebrows that met and a hooked nose, but full of grace. It is a legend, not Scripture, but it fits.

A HILARIOUS GIVER
God loves a cheerful giver, 9:7. The Greek word for cheerful is hilaros, where we get the word hilarious.

FOUR LETTERS, TWO SURVIVE
Paul wrote at least four letters to Corinth: a first one that is lost, 1 Corinthians 5:9, then 1 Corinthians, then the tearful letter, 2:4, then this one. Unless the tearful letter is hiding inside chapters 10 to 13, two of them are gone.

AMBASSADORS FOR CHRIST
An ambassador lives in a foreign country but speaks for his own king. Paul says that is every believer, 5:20: God making His appeal through us.

THE TRINITY BLESSING
The last verse, 13:14, names the Lord Jesus Christ, God and the Holy Spirit together. Churches still close services with it today.

Did Anybody Listen?

Yes. Paul came to Corinth for his third visit and stayed about three months, Acts 20:2 to 3. While he was there he wrote Romans, and in it he says the believers of Achaia were pleased to give to the poor in Jerusalem, Romans 15:26. The offering got finished. The church that fought Paul ended up funding his mission and sending the letter that changed the world.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul opens with comfort. The God of all comfort comforts us so we can comfort others. In Asia, Paul was under so much pressure he thought he would die. Some in Corinth called him unreliable for changing his travel plans. Paul says God's promises are always yes in Christ.

PAUL GREETS THE CORINTHIANS // ACTS 18:1–11; 1 CORINTHIANS 1:1–3

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

To the church of God in Corinth, together with all the saints throughout Achaia:

2 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

THE GOD OF ALL COMFORT

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, 4 who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves have received from God. 5 For just as the sufferings of Christ overflow to us, so also through Christ our comfort overflows.

6 If we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which accomplishes in you patient endurance of the same sufferings we experience. 7 And our hope for you is sure, because we know that just as you share in our sufferings, so also you will share in our comfort.

8 We do not want you to be unaware, brothers, of the hardships we encountered in the province of Asia. We were under a burden far beyond our ability to endure, so that we despaired even of life. 9 Indeed, we felt we were under the sentence of death, in order that we would not trust in ourselves, but in God, who raises the dead.

10 He has delivered us from such a deadly peril, and He will deliver us. In Him we have placed our hope that He will yet again deliver us, 11 as you help us by your prayers. Then many will give thanks on our behalf for the favor shown us in answer to their prayers.

PAUL'S CHANGE OF PLANS

12 For this is our boast: Our conscience testifies that we have conducted ourselves in the world, and especially in relation to you, in the holiness and sincerity that are from God—not in worldly wisdom, but in the grace of God. 13 For we do not write you anything that is beyond your ability to read and understand. And I hope that you will understand us completely, 14 as you have already understood us in part, that you may boast of us just as we will boast of you in the day of our Lord Jesus.

15 Confident of this, I planned to visit you first, so that you might receive a double blessing. 16 I wanted to visit you on my way to Macedonia, and to return to you from Macedonia, and then to have you help me on my way to Judea.

17 When I planned this, did I do it carelessly? Or do I make my plans by human standards, so as to say "Yes, yes" and also "No, no"? 18 But as surely as God is faithful, our message to you is not "Yes" and "No." 19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was proclaimed among you by me and Silvanus and Timothy, was not "Yes" and "No," but in Him it has always been "Yes." 20 For all the promises of God are "Yes" in Christ. And so through Him, our "Amen" is spoken to the glory of God.

21 Now it is God who establishes both us and you in Christ. He anointed us, 22 placed His seal on us, and put His Spirit in our hearts as a pledge of what is to come.

23 I call God as my witness that it was in order to spare you that I did not return to Corinth. 24 Not that we lord it over your faith, but we are fellow workers with you for your joy, because it is by faith that you stand firm.

2CO 1:21 [NOTABLE] God's threefold action on believers: established, anointed, sealed — the Spirit as guarantee

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul skipped a visit to spare them another painful one and wrote a letter through many tears instead. The man the church disciplined has turned around, so forgive him and love him again. Do not let Satan outsmart you. Paul says God leads us in Christ's victory parade.

REAFFIRM YOUR LOVE

1 So I made up my mind not to make another painful visit to you. 2 For if I grieve you, who is left to cheer me but those whom I have grieved? 3 I wrote as I did so that on my arrival I would not be grieved by those who ought to make me rejoice. I had confidence in all of you, that you would share my joy. 4 For through many tears I wrote you out of great distress and anguish of heart, not to grieve you but to let you know how much I love you.

5 Now if anyone has caused grief, he has not grieved me but all of you—to some degree, not to overstate it. 6 The punishment imposed on him by the majority is sufficient for him. 7 So instead, you ought to forgive and comfort him, so that he will not be overwhelmed by excessive sorrow.
8 Therefore I urge you to reaffirm your love for him.

9 My purpose in writing you was to see if you would stand the test and be obedient in everything. 10 If you forgive anyone, I also forgive him. And if I have forgiven anything, I have forgiven it in the presence of Christ for your sake, 11 in order that Satan should not outwit us. For we are not unaware of his schemes.

TRIUMPH IN CHRIST

12 Now when I went to Troas to preach the gospel of Christ and a door stood open for me in the Lord, 13 I had no peace in my spirit, because I did not find my brother Titus there. So I said goodbye to them and went on to Macedonia.

14 But thanks be to God, who always leads us triumphantly as captives in Christ and through us spreads everywhere the fragrance of the knowledge of Him. 15 For we are to God the sweet aroma of Christ among those who are being saved and those who are perishing. 16 To the one we are an odor that brings death, to the other a fragrance that brings life. And who is qualified for such a task?

A ROMAN TRIUMPH

2 CORINTHIANS 2:14 TO 16

Titus rides in his triumph chariot while a winged Victory crowns him. Relief inside the Arch of Titus, Rome.

WHAT IT IS

A marble carving inside the Arch of Titus in Rome. It shows the general Titus riding in a four horse chariot in his triumph, the biggest victory parade Rome could give. A winged figure of Victory holds a crown over his head.

HOW OLD IT IS

The arch was built about AD 81, after Titus died. It honors the triumph he and his father held in AD 71 after destroying Jerusalem. That is about 15 years after Paul wrote, but triumphs had looked like this for centuries.

WHAT A TRIUMPH WAS

When a Roman general won a great war, he paraded through Rome. Soldiers marched, the treasures of the beaten nation were carried along, and prisoners walked in chains. Incense burned all along the route. At the end, some of the captives were put to death.

PAUL'S PICTURE

Thanks be to God, who always leads us

■ 2CO 2:5 [NOTE] Many believe this is the man from 1 Corinthians 5:1 to 5, put out of the church, now sorry and ready to come home. See the note on 1 Corinthians 5:5, p.1827. Others think it is someone who insulted Paul on his painful visit. Either way, church discipline was meant to bring him back, and Paul says forgive him now.

■ 2CO 2:14 [FIELD NOTES] See A Roman Triumph Field Notes page, p.1849.

THE HEART NOTABLE

triumphantly as captives in Christ, 2:14. Jesus is the winning King, and Paul pictures himself as a captive happily marching in His parade. The incense smell meant celebration to the winners and death to the captives. Paul says we are the smell of life to some and death to others, 2:15 to 16.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

At the east end of the Roman Forum in Rome, Italy. The other side of the arch shows soldiers carrying the golden lampstand from the temple in Jerusalem.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Paul's readers lived in a Roman colony. They knew exactly what a triumph looked and smelled like.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

This arch is later than Paul's letter. It shows the kind of parade he meant, not one he saw.

17 For we are not like so many others, who peddle the word of God for profit. On the contrary, in Christ we speak before God with sincerity, as men sent from God.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul does not need letters of recommendation. The Corinthians are his letter, written on hearts by the Spirit. The old covenant came with a glory so bright Moses wore a veil. The new one is even brighter. Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom.

MINISTERS OF A NEW COVENANT

1 Are we beginning to commend ourselves again? Or do we need, like some people, letters of recommendation to you or from you? 2 You yourselves are our letter, inscribed on our hearts, known and read by everyone. 3 It is clear that you are a letter from Christ, the result of our ministry, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts.

4 Such confidence before God is ours through Christ. 5 Not that we are competent in ourselves to claim that anything comes from us, but our competence comes from God. 6 And He has qualified us as ministers of a new covenant, not of the letter but of the Spirit; for the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.

7 Now if the ministry of death, which was engraved in letters on stone, came with such glory that the Israelites could not gaze at the face of Moses because of its fleeting glory, 8 will not the ministry of the Spirit be even more glorious? 9 For if the ministry of condemnation was glorious, how much more glorious is the ministry of righteousness! 10 Indeed, what was once glorious has no glory now in comparison to the glory that surpasses it. 11 For if what was fading away came with glory, how much greater is the glory of that which endures!

12 Therefore, since we have such a hope, we are very bold. 13 We are not like Moses, who would put a veil over his face to keep the Israelites from gazing at the end of what was fading away.

14 But their minds were closed. For to this day the same veil remains at the reading of the old covenant. It has not been lifted, because only in Christ can it be removed. 15 And even to this day when Moses is read, a veil covers their hearts. 16 But whenever anyone turns to the Lord, the veil is taken away.

17 Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. 18 And we, who with unveiled faces all reflect the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into His image with intensifying glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit.

2CO 3:3 [HEART] You are a letter from Christ, written on hearts of flesh, not stone.

2CO 3:16 [ALLUDES TO] Refers to ← EX 34:34 p.167

2CO 3:17 [NOTABLE] Freedom here is not doing whatever you want. It is freedom from the veil, 3:16, from fear and from trying to earn God's love by keeping rules. When the Spirit is in charge, you are free to see Jesus clearly and become more like Him, 3:18.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Satan has blinded people to the gospel, but God makes His light shine in our hearts. We carry this treasure in jars of clay. Pressed on every side but not crushed. Struck down but not destroyed. Our outer self is wasting away, but our inner self is renewed every day.

THE LIGHT OF THE GOSPEL

1 Therefore, since God in His mercy has given us this ministry, we do not lose heart. 2 Instead, we have renounced secret and shameful ways. We do not practice deceit, nor do we distort the word of God. On the contrary, by open proclamation of the truth, we commend ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. 3 And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing.

4 The god of this age has blinded the minds of unbelievers, so they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. 5 For we do not proclaim ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake. 6 For God, who said,
"Let light shine out of darkness," made His light shine in our hearts to give us the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

TREASURE IN JARS OF CLAY // ROMANS 6:1–14

7 Now we have this treasure in jars of clay to show that this surpassingly great power is from God and not from us. 8 We are hard pressed on all sides, but not crushed; perplexed, but not in despair; 9 persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed.

10 We always carry around in our body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our body. 11 For we who are alive are always consigned to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our mortal body. 12 So then, death is at work in us, but life is at work in you.

13 And in keeping with what is written, "I believed, therefore I have spoken," we who have the same spirit of faith also believe and therefore speak, 14 knowing that the One who raised the Lord Jesus will also raise us with Jesus and present us with you in His presence. 15 All this is for your benefit, so that the grace that is extending to more and more people may cause thanksgiving to overflow, to the glory of God.

16 Therefore we do not lose heart. Though our outer self is wasting away, yet our inner self is being renewed day by day. 17
For our light and momentary affliction is producing for us an eternal weight of glory that is far beyond comparison. 18 So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal.

5

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Our bodies are like tents. Someday God will give us a building that lasts forever. To be away from the body is to be at home with the Lord. Anyone in Christ is a new creation. God made Jesus, who knew no sin, to be sin for us. We are ambassadors for Christ.

OUR ETERNAL DWELLING // ROMANS 8:18–27

1 For we know that if the earthly tent we live in is dismantled, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands. 2 For in this tent we groan, longing to be clothed with our heavenly dwelling, 3 because when we are clothed, we will not be found naked. 4 For while we are in this tent, we groan under our burdens, because we do not wish to be unclothed but clothed, so that our mortality may be swallowed up by life. 5 And it is God who has prepared us for this very purpose and has given us the Spirit as a pledge of what is to come.

JARS OF CLAY

2 CORINTHIANS 4:6 TO 7

A clay oil lamp with two fish on top, in the museum at Ancient Corinth. Photo Zde, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

A small oil lamp made of baked clay, found at Corinth. You filled it with olive oil, put a wick in the hole at the front, and it gave light. Corinth made huge numbers of cheap clay lamps and pots.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was probably made in Roman times, in the first centuries AD. The museum does not give an exact date.

WHY CLAY

Clay was cheap and broke easily. A cracked pot was thrown away. Yet people often hid their most valuable things in plain clay jars. Jeremiah put a land deed in a clay jar so it would last, Jeremiah 32:14, and the Dead Sea Scrolls survived 2,000 years in clay jars.

PAUL'S PICTURE

The treasure is the light of the gospel that God made shine in our hearts, 4:6. We are the cheap clay jars, so everyone can see the power comes from God and not from us, 4:7. Many preachers also think of Gideon's men, who hid torches in clay jars and broke them so the light blazed out, Judges 7:19 to 20.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Clay lamps and jars were everywhere in Paul's Corinth, the cheapest things in the house.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Fish later became a Christian symbol, but this lamp is not Christian. Fish were a common decoration.

6 Therefore we are always confident, although we know that while we are at home in the body, we are away from the Lord. 7 For we walk by faith, not by sight. 8
We are confident, then, and would prefer to be away from the body and at home with the Lord. 9 So we aspire to please Him, whether we are at home in this body or away from it. 10 For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive his due for the things done in the body, whether good or bad.

2CO 5:8 [NOTABLE] For a believer, death is not the end of the story. To be away from the body is to be at home with the Lord. Paul says the same in Philippians 1:23: to depart and be with Christ is far better.

2CO 5:10 [PROPHECY] We must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad → STILL TO COME 2CO 5:10 [FIELD NOTES] The judgment seat is the Greek word bema, the same raised platform in the forum of Corinth where Paul stood before Gallio, Acts 18:12. Every Corinthian had seen it. See the Gallio Field Notes page in Acts, p.1775.

11 Therefore, since we know what it means to fear the Lord, we try to persuade men.
What we are is clear to God, and I hope it is clear to your conscience as well. 12 We are not commending ourselves to you again. Instead, we are giving you an occasion to be proud of us, so that you can answer those who take pride in appearances rather than in the heart.

13 If we are out of our mind, it is for God; if we are of sound mind, it is for you. 14 For Christ's love compels us, because we are convinced that One died for all, therefore all died. 15 And He died for all, that those who live should no longer live for themselves, but for Him who died for them and was raised again.

16 So from now on we regard no one according to the flesh. Although we once regarded Christ in this way, we do so no longer. 17 Therefore if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away. Behold, the new has come!

18 All this is from God, who reconciled us to Himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: 19 that God was reconciling the world to Himself in Christ, not counting men's trespasses against them. And He has committed to us the message of reconciliation.

20 Therefore we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God were making His appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ: Be reconciled to God. 21 God made Him who knew no sin to be sin on our behalf, so that in Him we might become the righteousness of God.

Now is the day of salvation. Paul lists everything he went through to serve them: beatings, prison, sleepless nights and hunger. He opened his heart wide and asks them to do the same. Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. You are the temple of the living God.

PAUL'S HARDSHIPS AND GOD'S GRACE

1 As God's fellow workers, then, we urge you not to receive God's grace in vain. 2 For He says:

"In the time of favor I heard you,
and in the day of salvation I helped you."

Behold, now is the time of favor; now is the day of salvation!

3 We put no obstacle in anyone's way, so that no one can discredit our ministry.

4 Rather, as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: in great endurance; in troubles, hardships, and calamities; 5 in beatings, imprisonments, and riots; in labor, sleepless nights, and hunger; 6 in purity, knowledge, patience, and kindness; in the Holy Spirit and in sincere love; 7 in truthful speech and in the power of God; with the weapons of righteousness in the right hand and in the left; 8 through glory and dishonor, slander and praise; viewed as imposters, yet genuine; 9 unknown, yet well-known; dying, and yet we live on; punished, yet not killed; 10 sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; poor, yet making many rich; having nothing, and yet possessing everything.

11 We have spoken freely to you, Corinthians. Our hearts are open wide. 12 It is not our affection, but yours, that is restrained. 13 As a fair exchange—I speak as to my children—open wide your hearts also.

DO NOT BE UNEQUALLY YOKED

14 Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership can righteousness have with wickedness? Or what fellowship does light have with darkness? 15 What harmony is there between Christ and Belial? Or what does a believer have in common with an unbeliever? 16 What agreement can exist between the temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God. As God has said:

"I will dwell with them and walk among them,
and I will be their God,
and they will be My people."

CHAPTER 7 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul was worried sick in Macedonia until Titus showed up with good news. The tearful letter worked. The church was sorry and made things right. Paul says godly sorrow leads to real change, but worldly sorrow only leads to death. He is proud of them again.

PAUL'S JOY IN THE CORINTHIANS

1 Therefore, beloved, since we have these promises, let us cleanse ourselves from everything that defiles body and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Make room for us in your hearts. We have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, we have exploited no one. 3 I do not say this to condemn you. I have said before that you so occupy our hearts that we live and die together with you. 4 Great is my confidence in you; great is my pride in you; I am filled with encouragement; in all our troubles my joy overflows.

5 For when we arrived in Macedonia, our bodies had no rest, but we were pressed from every direction—conflicts on the outside, fears within. 6 But God, who comforts the downcast, comforted us by the arrival of Titus, 7 and not only by his arrival, but also by the comfort he had received from you. He told us about your longing, your mourning, and your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced all the more.

8 Even if I caused you sorrow by my letter, I do not regret it. Although I did regret it—for I see that my letter caused you sorrow, but only for a short time— 9 yet now I rejoice, not because you were made sorrowful, but because your sorrow led you to repentance. For you felt the sorrow that God had intended, and so were not harmed in any way by us. 10 Godly sorrow brings repentance that leads to salvation without regret, but worldly sorrow brings death.

11 Consider what this godly sorrow has produced in you: what earnestness, what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what alarm, what longing, what zeal, what vindication! In every way you have proved yourselves to be innocent in this matter. 12 So even though I wrote to you, it was not on account of the one who did wrong or the one who was harmed, but rather that your earnestness on our behalf would be made clear to you in the sight of God. 13 On account of this, we are encouraged.

In addition to our own encouragement, we were even more delighted by the joy of Titus. For his spirit has been refreshed by all of you. 14 Indeed, I was not embarrassed by anything I had boasted to him about you. But just as everything we said to you was true, so our boasting to Titus has proved to be true as well. 15 And his affection for you is even greater when he remembers that you were all obedient as you welcomed him with fear and trembling. 16 I rejoice that I can have complete confidence in you.

CHAPTER 8 IN 30 SECONDS

The churches of Macedonia were poor and suffering, yet they begged to give to the poor believers in Jerusalem. Paul asks Corinth to finish the offering they started a year ago. Jesus was rich but became poor for us. Titus and two trusted brothers will handle the money honestly.

ordeal they suffered, their abundant joy and deep poverty overflowed into rich generosity. 3 For I testify that they gave according to their ability and even beyond it. Of their own accord, 4 they earnestly pleaded with us for the privilege of sharing in this service to the saints. 5 And not only did they do as we expected, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and then to us, through the will of God.

6 So we urged Titus to help complete your act of grace, just as he had started it. 7 But just as you excel in everything—in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in complete earnestness, and in the love we inspired in you—see that you also excel in this grace of giving. 8 I am not giving a command, but I am testing the sincerity of your love through the earnestness of others.

9 For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though He was rich, yet for your sake He became poor, so that you through His poverty might become rich. 10 And this is my opinion about what is helpful for you in this matter: Last year you were the first not only to give, but even to have such a desire. 11 Now finish the work, so that you may complete it with the same eager desire, according to your means. 12 For if the eagerness is there, the gift is acceptable according to what one has, not according to what he does not have.

13 It is not our intention that others may be relieved while you are burdened, but that there may be equality. 14 At the present time, your surplus will meet their need, so that in turn their surplus will meet your need. This way there will be equality. 15 As it is written:

"He who gathered much had no excess, and he who gathered little had no shortfall."

TITUS COMMENDED // TITUS 1:1–4

16 But thanks be to God, who put into the heart of Titus the same devotion I have for you. 17 For not only did he welcome our appeal, but he is eagerly coming to you of his own volition.

18 Along with Titus we are sending the brother who is praised by all the churches for his work in the gospel. 19 More than that, this brother was chosen by the churches to accompany us with the gracious offering we administer to honor the Lord Himself and to show our eagerness to help.

20 We want to avoid any criticism of the way we administer this generous gift. 21 For we are taking great care to do what is right, not only in the eyes of the Lord, but also in the eyes of men.

22 And we are sending along with them our brother who has proven his earnestness to us many times and in many ways, and now even more so by his great confidence in you. 23 As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker among you. As for our brothers, they are messengers of the churches, the glory of Christ. 24 In full view of the churches, then, show these men the proof of your love and the reason for our boasting about you.

1 Now about the service to the saints, there is no need for me to write to you. 2 For I know your eagerness to help, and I have been boasting to the Macedonians that since last year you in Achaia were prepared to give. And your zeal has stirred most of them to do likewise.

any Macedonians come with me and find you unprepared, we—to say nothing of you—would be ashamed of having been so confident. 5 So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers to visit you beforehand and make arrangements for the generous gift you had promised. This way, your gift will be prepared generously and not begrudgingly.

6 Remember this: Whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows generously will also reap generously. 7 Each one should give what he has decided in his heart to give, not out of regret or compulsion. For God loves a cheerful giver. 8 And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that in all things, at all times, having all that you need, you will abound in every good work. 9 As it is written:

"He has scattered abroad His gifts to the poor;

10 Now He who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will supply and multiply your store of seed and will increase the harvest of your righteousness. 11 You will be enriched in every way to be generous on every occasion, and through us your generosity will produce thanksgiving to God. 12 For this ministry of service is not only supplying the needs of the saints but is also overflowing in many expressions of thanksgiving to God.

13 Because of the proof this ministry provides, the saints will glorify God for your obedient confession of the gospel of Christ, and for the generosity of your contribution to them and to all the others. 14 And their prayers for you will express their affection for you, because of the surpassing grace God has given you. 15 Thanks be to God for His indescribable gift!

Now the tone changes. Some say Paul is bold in his letters but weak in person. Paul says our weapons are not worldly. They tear down strongholds and take every thought captive to obey Christ. He will not compare himself with people who measure themselves by themselves.

PAUL'S APOSTOLIC AUTHORITY

1 Now by the mildness and gentleness of Christ, I appeal to you—I, Paul, who am humble when face to face with you, but bold when away. 2 I beg you that when I come I may not need to be as bold as I expect toward those who presume that we live according to the flesh.

3 For though we live in the flesh, we do not wage war according to the flesh. 4 The weapons of our warfare are not the weapons of the flesh. Instead, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. 5 We demolish arguments and every presumption set up against the knowledge of God; and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 6 And we will be ready to punish every act of disobedience, as soon as your obedience is complete.

7 You are looking at outward appearances. If anyone is confident that he belongs to Christ, he should remind himself that we belong to Christ just as much as he does. 8 For even if I boast somewhat excessively about the authority the Lord gave us for building you up rather than tearing you down, I will not be ashamed.

9 I do not want to seem to be trying to frighten you by my letters. 10 For some say, "His letters are weighty and forceful, but his physical presence is unimpressive, and his speaking is of no account." 11 Such people should consider that what we are in our letters when absent, we will be in our actions when present.

- 2CO 10:1 [TEXT] The tone changes sharply here. Every old copy has 2 Corinthians as one letter, and many read it that way: Paul finished thanking the church and then turned to the troublemakers. Many scholars think chapters 10 to 13 were a separate letter, maybe the tearful letter of 2:4, joined to the others later.

DEMONIC OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW

12 We do not dare to classify or compare ourselves with some who commend themselves. When they measure themselves by themselves and compare themselves with themselves, they show their ignorance. 13 We, however, will not boast beyond our limits, but only within the field of influence that God has assigned to us—a field that reaches even to you. 14 We are not overstepping our bounds, as if we had not come to you. Indeed, we were the first to reach you with the gospel of Christ.

15 Neither do we boast beyond our limits in the labors of others. But we hope that as your faith increases, our area of influence among you will greatly increase as well, 16 so that we can preach the gospel in the regions beyond you. Then we will not be boasting in the work already done in another man's territory.

17 Rather, "Let him who boasts boast in the Lord." 18 For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends.

CHAPTER 11 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul is jealous for them with a godly jealousy. Fake super apostles are preaching a different Jesus. Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. So Paul plays the fool and brags about his real resume: beatings, shipwrecks, hunger, cold, and once escaping Damascus in a basket.

PAUL AND THE FALSE APOSTLES

1 I hope you will put up with a little of my foolishness, but you are already doing that. 2 I am jealous for you with a godly jealousy. For I promised you to one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to Christ.

3 I am afraid, however, that just as Eve was deceived by the serpent's cunning, your minds may be led astray from your simple and pure devotion to Christ. 4 For if someone comes and proclaims a Jesus other than the One we proclaimed, or if you receive a different spirit than the One you received, or a different gospel than the one you accepted, you put up with it very easily.

5 I consider myself in no way inferior to those "super-apostles." 6 Although I am not a polished speaker, I am certainly not lacking in knowledge. We have made this clear to you in every way possible.

7 Was it a sin for me to humble myself in order to exalt you, because I preached the gospel of God to you free of charge? 8 I robbed other churches by accepting their support in order to serve you. 9 And when I was with you and in need, I was not a burden to anyone; for the brothers who came from Macedonia supplied my needs. I have refrained from being a burden to you in any way, and I will continue to do so. 10 As surely as the truth of Christ is in me, this boasting of mine will not be silenced in the regions of Achaia. 11 Why?
Because I do not love you? God knows I do!

12 But I will keep on doing what I am doing, in order to undercut those who want an opportunity to be regarded as our equals in the things of which they boast. 13 For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, masquerading as apostles of Christ. 14 And no wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. 15 It is not surprising, then, if his servants masquerade as servants of righteousness.
Their end will correspond to their actions.

THE BIG QUESTION

ANGEL OF LIGHT?

2 CORINTHIANS 11:4 · 11:13 TO 15 · GALATIANS 1:8 · 1 JOHN 4:1 TO 3

WHAT PAUL MEANT

The fake apostles in Corinth looked impressive and sounded spiritual. Paul says that should not surprise anyone, because Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light, 11:14. The enemy rarely shows up with horns. He shows up looking bright, kind and holy, with a message that sounds almost right but brings a different Jesus, 11:4.

TEST THE MESSAGE, NOT THE GLOW

Paul wrote: even if we or an angel from heaven should preach a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be under a curse, Galatians 1:8. John gave the test: do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits. Every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, 1 John 4:1 to 3. The question is never how bright the messenger looks. The question is what it says about Jesus.

THE CAVE OF HIRA

Islamic tradition says that in AD 610, Muhammad, a merchant from Mecca about 40 years old, went to pray alone in a cave on Mount Hira. A being appeared, later identified as the angel Gabriel, squeezed him tightly and commanded, Recite! The words he received became the start of the Quran. Over the next 23 years Muhammad said he received the rest the same way. Today almost two billion Muslims believe it was the true Gabriel.

HIS OWN FIRST REACTION

Islam's own early writings say Muhammad ran home shaking and said, Cover me! He was afraid something was wrong with him. One early biography says he feared he had been possessed. His wife Khadijah comforted him, and her Christian cousin Waraqa said it was the same messenger who came to Moses. Muslims see this fear as the humble reaction of a true prophet.

WHAT THE MESSAGE SAYS ABOUT JESUS

The Quran honors Jesus. It calls Him the Messiah, says He was born of the virgin Mary, did miracles and will come back. Mary is named more times in the Quran than in the whole New Testament. But the Quran also says Jesus is not God's Son and that He was not killed on a cross, Quran 4:157 and 4:171. The Bible says the cross and the empty tomb are the gospel itself, 1 Corinthians 15:3 to 4. By the test of Galatians 1:8 and 1 John 4, that is why Christians cannot accept the message from the cave as coming from the God of the Bible, however bright the messenger seemed.

ABOUT OUR MUSLIM NEIGHBORS

This is about a message, not about people. Most Muslims are sincere people who pray, fast, give to the poor and love God as they know Him. Many have more discipline in prayer than many Christians. Love them, be a good friend and talk about Jesus with respect. Many former Muslims say they came to faith after Jesus appeared to them in a dream.

THE SAME TEST FOR EVERYONE

This test is not only for other religions. It applies to every vision, angel visit, prophecy and preacher, including Christians today. If a message points away from the Jesus who died for our sins and rose again, the glow does not matter.

PAUL'S SUFFERING AND SERVICE // COLOSSIANS 1:24–29

16 I repeat: Let no one take me for a fool.
But if you do, then receive me as a fool, so that I too may boast a little. 17 In this confident boasting of mine, I am not speaking as the Lord would, but as a fool.
18 Since many are boasting according to the flesh, I too will boast. 19 For you gladly put up with fools, since you are so wise.
20 In fact, you even put up with anyone who enslaves you or exploits you or takes advantage of you or exalts himself or strikes you in the face. 21 To my shame I concede that we were too weak for that!
Speaking as a fool, however, I can match
what anyone else dares to boast about. 22
Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they descendants of Abraham? So am I. 23 Are they servants of

NOTABLE

Christ? (I am speaking as if I were out of my mind.) I am so much more: in harder labor, in more imprisonments, in worse beatings, in frequent danger of death. 24 Five times I received from the Jews the forty lashes minus one. 25 Three times I was beaten with rods, once I was stoned, three times I was shipwrecked. I spent a night and a day in the open sea.

26 In my frequent journeys, I have been in danger from rivers and from bandits, in danger from my countrymen and from the Gentiles, in danger in the city and in the country, in danger on the sea and among false brothers, 27 in labor and toil and often without sleep, in hunger and thirst and often without food, in cold and exposure.

28 Apart from these external trials, I face daily the pressure of my concern for all the churches. 29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is led into sin, and I do not burn with grief?

30 If I must boast, I will boast of the things that show my weakness. 31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, who is forever worthy of praise, knows that I am not lying. 32 In Damascus, the governor under King Aretas secured the city of the Damascenes in order to arrest me. 33 But I was lowered in a basket through a window in the wall and escaped his grasp.

2CO 11:23 [NOTABLE] The fake super apostles bragged about their credentials, so Paul lists his: forty lashes minus one five times, beaten with rods three times, stoned once, shipwrecked three times, a night and a day in the open sea. Forty minus one was a Jewish rule to make sure a whipping never went past the limit in Deuteronomy 25:3. Then the hardest part of all: daily worry for all the churches.

KING ARETAS IV

2 CORINTHIANS 11:32 TO 33 · ACTS 9:23 TO 25

A silver coin of King Aretas IV of the Nabateans, AD 21, front and back. The back honors his queen Shaqilat. Photo Classical Numismatic Group, CC BY SA 3.0.

WHAT IT IS

A silver coin of Aretas IV, king of the Nabateans, the Arab kingdom whose capital was Petra, the famous city carved in rock in Jordan. Thousands of his coins have been found.

HOW OLD IT IS

This coin was made in AD 21. Aretas ruled from about 9 BC to AD 40, so he was king during the whole life of Jesus and the first years of the church.

THE STORY

Paul says the governor under King Aretas guarded Damascus to arrest him, and he escaped when friends lowered him in a basket through a window in the wall, 11:32 to 33. Acts 9:23 to 25 tells the same escape. Since Aretas died about AD 40, it happened before then.

JOHN THE BAPTIST'S STORY TOO

Herod Antipas married Aretas's daughter, then divorced her to marry Herodias. John the Baptist said that marriage was wrong and was killed for it, Mark 6:17 to 18. About AD 36, Aretas beat Herod's army in battle. The Jewish historian Josephus says many Jews saw it as God punishing Herod for killing John.

THE PUZZLE

Damascus was a Roman city, so why did an Arab king's governor guard it? Some think Rome let Aretas control it for a few years. Coins of Damascus with Roman emperors stop from about AD 34 to 62. Others think the governor led the Nabatean community and watched the city from outside.

MIRACLES DEMONIC NOTABLE JESUS SPEAKING

WHERE IT IS TODAY
Coins of Aretas IV are in museums and collections around the world. Petra is in southern Jordan.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Aretas IV was a real king with power around Damascus in Paul's time, just as Paul says.

CHAPTER 12 IN 30 SECONDS
Paul knows a man who was caught up to the third heaven. Then he was given a thorn in the flesh. He begged three times to have it taken away, but the Lord said, My grace is sufficient for you. When I am weak, then I am strong. Paul is coming a third time.

PAUL'S REVELATION

1 I must go on boasting. Although there is nothing to gain, I will go on to visions and revelations from the Lord. 2 I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago was caught up to the third heaven. Whether it was in the body or out of it I do not know, but God knows. 3 And I know that this man—whether in the body or out of it I do not know, but God knows— 4 was caught up to Paradise. The things he heard were inexpressible, things that man is not permitted to tell.

PAUL'S THORN AND GOD'S GRACE

5 I will boast about such a man, but I will not boast about myself, except in my weaknesses. 6 Even if I wanted to boast, I would not be a fool, because I would be speaking the truth. But I refrain, so no one will credit me with more than he sees in me or hears from me, 7 or because of these surpassingly great revelations.
So to keep me from becoming conceited, I was given a thorn in my flesh, a messenger of Satan, to torment me. 8 Three times
I pleaded with the Lord to take it away from me. 9 But He said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for My power is perfected in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly in my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest on me.
10 That is why, for the sake of Christ, I delight in weaknesses, in insults, in hardships, in persecutions, in difficulties. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

PAUL'S CONCERN FOR THE CORINTHIANS

11 I have become a fool, but you drove me to it. In fact, you should have commended me, since I am in no way inferior to those "super-apostles," even though I am nothing. 12 The marks of a true apostle—signs, wonders, and miracles—were performed among you with great perseverance. 13 In what way were you inferior to the other churches, except that I was not a burden to you? Forgive me this wrong!

14 See, I am ready to come to you a third time, and I will not be a burden, because I am not seeking your possessions, but you. For children should not have to save up for their parents, but parents for their children. 15 And for the sake of your souls, I will most gladly spend my money and myself. If I love you more, will you love me less?

16 Be that as it may, I was not a burden to you; but crafty as I am, I caught you by trickery. 17 Did I exploit you by anyone I sent you? 18 I urged Titus to visit you, and I sent our brother with him. Did Titus exploit

- 2CO 12:1 [MIRACLE] Paul caught up to the third heaven; heard inexpressible words
- 2CO 12:2 [NOTE] THE THIRD HEAVEN. Most agree the man is Paul himself, talking humbly. The first heaven is the sky and the second is the stars. The third heaven is where God lives, which Paul also calls paradise, 12:4, the word Jesus used to the thief on the cross, Luke 23:43. Paul heard things he was not allowed to tell, and he waited fourteen years to mention it.
- 2CO 12:7 [DEMONIC] A thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan
- 2CO 12:7 [NOTE] THE THORN. Paul never says what it was. Some think it was an eye problem, because he wrote with large letters and said the Galatians would have given him their eyes, Galatians 4:15 and 6:11. Some think it was another sickness or the people who attacked him everywhere he went. Others take messenger of Satan literally, a demon harassing him. The point is 12:9: God's grace was enough.
- 2CO 12:9 [NOTABLE] STRENGTH IN WEAKNESS. Paul is not saying weakness is good. He begged God three times to take the thorn away, 12:8. He is saying God's power shows up best right where ours runs out, so Christ gets the credit. The fake super apostles bragged about their strengths. Paul bragged about his weaknesses, and that left them nothing to attack. Think of the last rap battle in the movie 8 Mile. B-Rabbit, Eminem's character, says every embarrassing thing about himself before his opponent can, and the other guy has nothing left to say. Pride can't do that. Only a humble person can admit weakness out loud, and that is when the power of Christ rests on him.
- 2CO 12:12 [MIRACLE] The marks of an apostle: signs, wonders and miracles

you in any way? Did we not walk in the same Spirit and follow in the same footsteps?

19 Have you been thinking all along that we were making a defense to you? We speak before God in Christ, and all of this, beloved, is to build you up. 20 For I am afraid that when I come, I may not find you as I wish, and you may not find me as you wish. I fear that there may be quarreling, jealousy, rage, rivalry, slander, gossip, arrogance, and disorder. 21 I am afraid that when I come again, my God will humble me before you, and I will be grieved over many who have sinned earlier and have not repented of their acts of impurity, sexual immorality, and debauchery.

CHAPTER 13 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul warns he will not go easy when he comes. Examine yourselves to see whether you are in the faith. He would rather be weak than have them fail. Aim for restoration, comfort each other and live in peace. He closes with a blessing from the Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

EXAMINE YOURSELVES

1 This is the third time I am coming to you.
"Every matter must be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses."

2 I already warned you the second time I was with you. So now in my absence I warn those who sinned earlier and everyone else: If I return, I will not spare anyone, 3 since you are demanding proof that Christ is speaking through me. He is not weak in dealing with you but is powerful among you. 4 For He was indeed crucified in weakness, yet He lives by God's power. For we are also weak in Him, yet by God's power we will live with Him concerning you.

5 Examine yourselves to see whether you are in the faith; test yourselves. Do you not realize that Jesus Christ is in you—unless you fail the test? 6 And I hope you will realize that we have not failed the test.

7 Now we pray to God that you will not do anything wrong—not that we will appear to have stood the test, but that you will do what is right, even if we appear to have failed. 8 For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth. 9 In fact, we rejoice when we are weak but you are strong, and our prayer is for your perfection.

10 This is why I write these things while absent, so that when I am present I will not need to be severe in my use of the authority that the Lord gave me for building you up, not for tearing you down.

BENEDICTION AND FAREWELL

11 Finally, brothers, rejoice! Aim for perfect harmony, encourage one another, be of one mind, live in peace. And the God of love and peace will be with you.

12 Greet one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints send you greetings.

14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with all of you.

BOOK 48 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · LETTER

GALATIANS

Jesus Plus Nothing

AUTHOR	Paul, 1:1. Nobody doubts it. Even scholars who question some of Paul's letters agree he wrote this one.
WRITTEN TO	The churches of Galatia, 1:2, a Roman province in the middle of what is now Turkey. More than one church got this letter, so it was passed around.
DATE WRITTEN	Many date it about AD 48 to 49, which would make it Paul's first letter in the Bible. Others date it AD 53 to 57. See the setting below.
WHY HE WROTE	Teachers came in saying Gentile believers had to be circumcised and keep the law of Moses to really be saved, 5:2 and 6:12. Paul says that is a different gospel.
KEY VERSE	Galatians 2:16. A man is not justified by works of the law, but by faith in Jesus Christ.

THE OLDEST COPY OF GALATIANS
This is a page of Papyrus 46, a book of Paul's letters copied in Egypt about AD 200, now at the University of Michigan. The top lines are the end of Ephesians. Then a line, and the title PROS GALATAS, To the Galatians. Below it, Galatians begins: Paul, an apostle, sent not from men nor by man. The bottom lines reach 1:8, even if we or an angel from heaven.

THE ORDER OF THE BOOKS. In this old book, Galatians comes right after Ephesians, not after 2 Corinthians like in our Bibles. Early Christians did not all put Paul's letters in the same order.

WHY IT MATTERS. See the 1 Corinthians title page, p.1821, for how this book was found. Copied only about 150 years after Paul wrote, it says what our Bibles say today.

Historical Setting

The word Galatia comes from Celts, the same people as the Gauls, who moved into the middle of Turkey about 278 BC. In 25 BC Rome turned their kingdom into a big province called Galatia. It stretched south to cities Paul visited on his first trip: Antioch of Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra and Derbe, Acts 13 to 14. Most scholars today think he wrote to those southern churches, maybe about AD 48 to 49, right before the big meeting in Jerusalem in Acts 15. Others think he meant the Celtic Galatians up north near Ankara, visited in Acts 16:6 and 18:23, and that he wrote about AD 53 to 57. Either way, after Paul left, teachers showed up and told his new believers that Jesus was not enough.

What Was Going Wrong

JESUS PLUS RULES. Teachers said Gentile believers had to be circumcised to belong to God's people, 5:2 to 3 and 6:12 to 13.
TURNING SO QUICKLY. The Galatians were deserting the gospel fast, 1:6.
ATTACKING PAUL. Some said Paul was not a real apostle and got his message secondhand, 1:1 and 1:11 to 12.
HOLY DAYS. They started keeping special days, months, seasons and years to earn God's favor, 4:10.
PETER SLIPPED TOO. Even Peter and Barnabas stopped eating with Gentile believers out of fear, 2:12 to 13.
BITING EACH OTHER. The church was tearing itself apart, 5:15.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Galatians is Paul's angriest letter, and the reason is simple. Some people were telling new believers that Jesus was a great start, but to really be right with God they also had to keep the rules. Paul says no. You are made right with God by trusting Jesus, period. Add anything to Him and you lose Him. But that freedom is not a license to sin. It is freedom to love, led by the Holy Spirit. If you have ever felt like you have to earn God's love, this letter is for you.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

LUTHER'S WIFE
Martin Luther loved this letter more than any other. He said Galatians was his epistle, the one he was engaged to, his Katie von Bora, which was his wife's name. His lectures on it, printed in 1535, helped spread the Reformation.

THE CELTS WHO STILL SPOKE CELTIC
About AD 387, Jerome wrote that the Galatians up north still spoke a language almost like the one he had heard near Trier, in Germany. So some of Paul's readers may have been cousins of the Gauls.

WELCOMED LIKE AN ANGEL
Paul says they welcomed him like an angel of God, 4:14. At Lystra in South Galatia, the crowd thought Paul was the god Hermes and tried to offer sacrifices to him, Acts 14:11 to 13.

ABBA
Abba is the Aramaic word a child calls his father. Jesus prayed it, Mark 14:36, and Paul says the Spirit in us cries it too, 4:6.

BIG LETTERS
Paul usually spoke his letters to a helper who wrote them down. Here he grabs the pen and writes the end in large letters himself, 6:11.

NO THANK YOU
Every other letter Paul wrote to a church opens with thanks or praise. Galatians jumps straight from hello to I am amazed you are deserting, 1:6.

Did Anybody Listen?

Yes. The church leaders met in Jerusalem and agreed Gentile believers do not have to be circumcised, Acts 15:19. Paul went back through Galatia to strengthen the churches, Acts 16:4 to 5, and Timothy, a young man from Lystra, joined his team. Later the Galatian churches gave to Paul's offering for the poor, 1 Corinthians 16:1. Fifteen hundred years later, a German monk named Martin Luther read this letter and was set free by it. The fight in Galatia became the fight of the Reformation.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul skips the thank you notes and goes straight to the problem. The Galatians are already turning to a different gospel, which is really no gospel at all. Even if an angel preaches something else, let him be cursed. Paul got his message straight from Jesus, not from a committee in Jerusalem.

PAUL'S GREETING TO THE GALATIANS

1 Paul, an apostle—sent not from men nor by man, but by Jesus Christ and God the Father, who raised Him from the dead— 2 and all the brothers with me,

To the churches of Galatia:

3 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ, 4 who gave Himself for our sins to rescue us from the present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father, 5 to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

NO OTHER GOSPEL

6 I am amazed how quickly you are deserting the One who called you by the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel— 7 which is not even a gospel. Evidently some people are troubling you and trying to distort the gospel of Christ.

8 But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be under a curse! 9 As we have said before, so now
I say again: If anyone is preaching to you a gospel contrary to the one you received, let him be under a curse!

PAUL PREACHES THE GOSPEL

10 Am I now seeking the approval of men, or of God? Or am I striving to please men?
If I were still trying to please men, I would not be a servant of Christ. 11 For I want you to know, brothers, that the gospel I preached was not devised by man. 12 I did not receive it from any man, nor was I taught it; rather, I received it by revelation from Jesus Christ.

13 For you have heard of my former way of life in Judaism, how severely I persecuted
the church of God and tried to destroy it.
14 I was advancing in Judaism beyond many of my contemporaries and was extremely zealous for the traditions of my fathers.

ANTIOCH OF PISIDIA

GALATIANS 1:2 · ACTS 13:14 TO 52

The main paved street of Antioch of Pisidia, with the theater ruins on the hill. Photo Dosseman, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

The ruins of a Roman city near the town of Yalvaç in central Turkey. Visitors walk its paved main street, a theater, a temple to the emperor Augustus, and a large church named for Paul.

HOW OLD IT IS

Greek kings founded the city about 280 BC. Augustus made it a Roman colony about 25 BC and settled army veterans there. The street and buildings you see are mostly from the Roman era, the first few centuries AD. The church of Paul was built in the 300s. Some say it sits over the synagogue where Paul preached, but that is not proven.

PAUL WAS HERE

On his first trip, Paul preached a long sermon in the synagogue here, Acts 13:16 to 41. Almost the whole city came the next Sabbath. Many Gentiles believed, but leaders stirred up trouble and threw Paul and Barnabas out, Acts 13:44 to 50. If Paul wrote Galatians to the southern churches, this was one of them.

THE SICKNESS CLUE
Paul says he first preached to them because of an illness, 4:13. Antioch sits about 3,600 feet up. The explorer William Ramsay guessed Paul caught malaria in the swampy coast below and climbed to the cool mountains to get well. It is only a guess.

THE SERGIUS PAULLUS LINK
Inscriptions found here name members of the Sergius Paullus family. A man with that name was the governor of Cyprus who believed just before Paul came here, Acts 13:7 and 13:12. Some think he sent Paul to his family's hometown. That is possible but not proven.

WHERE IT IS TODAY
Just outside Yalvaç, Isparta Province, Turkey. A museum in town holds finds from the site, including pieces of a copy of the emperor's own life story carved in stone.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Antioch was a real Roman colony in the province of Galatia, on the road Paul traveled, just as Acts describes.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
It does not settle whether Paul's letter went to these southern churches or to the Celts up north.

15 But when God, who set me apart from my mother's womb and called me by His grace, was pleased 16 to reveal His Son in me so that I might preach Him among the Gentiles, I did not rush to consult with flesh and blood, 17 nor did I go up to Jerusalem to the apostles who came before me, but I went into Arabia and later returned to Damascus.

18 Only after three years did I go up to Jerusalem to confer with Cephas, and I stayed with him fifteen days. 19 But I saw none of the other apostles except James, the Lord's brother. 20 I assure you before God that what I am writing to you is no lie.

21 Later I went to the regions of Syria and Cilicia. 22 I was personally unknown, however, to the churches of Judea that are in Christ. 23 They only heard the account:
"The man who formerly persecuted us is now preaching the faith he once tried to destroy." 24 And they glorified God because of me.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS
Fourteen years later Paul checked his gospel with the leaders in Jerusalem, and they shook hands on it. Later in Antioch, Peter stopped eating with Gentiles when the strict crowd showed up, so Paul called him out in front of everyone. We are made right with God by faith in Christ, not by keeping the law.

THE COUNCIL AT JERUSALEM // ACTS 15:5–21

1 Fourteen years later I went up again to Jerusalem, accompanied by Barnabas. I took Titus along also. 2 I went in response to a revelation and set before them the gospel that I preach among the Gentiles.
But I spoke privately to those recognized as leaders, for fear that I was running or had already run in vain. 3 Yet not even Titus, who was with me, was compelled to be circumcised, even though he was a Greek.

4 This issue arose because some false brothers had come in under false pretenses to spy on our freedom in Christ Jesus, in order to enslave us. 5 We did not give in to them for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel would remain with you.

6 But as for the highly esteemed—whatever they were makes no difference to me; God does not show favoritism—those leaders added nothing to me. 7 On the contrary, they saw that I had been entrusted to preach the gospel to the uncircumcised, just as Peter had been to the circumcised. 8 For the One who was at work in Peter's apostleship to the circumcised was also at work in my apostleship to the Gentiles.

9 And recognizing the grace that I had been given, James, Cephas, and John—those reputed to be pillars—gave me and Barnabas the right hand of fellow-

■ GAL 2:1 [NOTE] WHICH TRIP? Many scholars think this is the big meeting in Jerusalem in Acts 15, p.1766, where the church decided Gentiles do not have to be circumcised. If Galatians was written before that meeting, as the intro says many think, this is the earlier trip when Paul and Barnabas brought gifts for the hungry, Acts 11:30. Either way, the leaders agreed with Paul's gospel, 2:9.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW NOTABLE

ship, so that we should go to the Gentiles, and they to the circumcised. 10 They only asked us to remember the poor, the very thing I was eager to do.

PAUL CONFRONTS CEPHAS

11 When Cephas came to Antioch, however, I opposed him to his face, because he stood condemned. 12 For before certain men came from James, he used to eat with the Gentiles. But when they arrived, he began to draw back and separate himself, for fear of those in the circumcision group. 13 The other Jews joined him in his hypocrisy, so that by their hypocrisy even Barnabas was led astray.

14 When I saw that they were not walking in line with the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas in front of them all, "If you, who are a Jew, live like a Gentile and not like a Jew, how can you compel the Gentiles to live like Jews?"

15 We who are Jews by birth and not Gentile "sinners" 16 know that a man is not justified by works of the law, but by faith in Jesus Christ. So we, too, have believed in Christ Jesus, that we may be justified by faith in Christ and not by works of the law, because by works of the law no one will be justified.

17 But if, while we seek to be justified in Christ, we ourselves are found to be sinners, does that make Christ a minister of sin? Certainly not! 18 If I rebuild what I have already torn down, I prove myself to be a lawbreaker.

19 For through the law I died to the law so that I might live to God. 20 I have been crucified with Christ, and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself up for me. 21 I do not set aside the grace of God. For if righteousness comes through the law, then Christ died for nothing.

- GAL 2:11 [NOTE] PAUL CONFRONTS PETER. Peter was the top apostle, but when he pulled away from Gentile believers out of fear, Paul corrected him to his face. Truth matters more than titles, and even great leaders can be wrong. They did not stay enemies. Peter later called Paul our beloved brother, 2 Peter 3:15. Protestants have used this story to say no church leader is above correction. Catholics answer that Peter slipped in what he did, not in what he taught.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

You foolish Galatians! Who put a spell on you? You started with the Spirit, so why try to finish with rules? Abraham believed God, and that was counted as righteousness. Christ took the curse for us on the cross. Now there is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female. You are all one in Christ.

FAITH AND BELIEF // JAMES 2:14–26

1 O foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? Before your very eyes Jesus Christ was clearly portrayed as crucified. 2 I would like to learn just one thing from you: Did you receive the Spirit by works of the law, or by hearing with faith?

3 Are you so foolish? After starting in the Spirit, are you now finishing in the flesh? 4 Have you suffered so much for nothing, if it really was for nothing? 5 Does God lavish His Spirit on you and work miracles among you because you practice the law, or because you hear and believe?

6 So also, "Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness." 7 Understand, then, that those who have faith are sons of Abraham. 8 The Scripture foresaw that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, and foretold the gospel to Abraham: "All nations will be blessed through you." 9 So those who have faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith.

CHRIST HAS REDEEMED US

10 All who rely on works of the law are under a curse. For it is written: "Cursed is everyone who does not continue to do everything written in the Book of the Law." 11 Now it is clear that no one is justified before God by the law, because, "The righteous will live by faith." 12 The law, however, is not based on faith; on the contrary, "The man who does these things will live by them."

13 Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us. For it is written: "Cursed is everyone who is hung on a tree." 14 He redeemed us in order that the blessing promised to Abraham would come to the Gentiles in Christ Jesus, so that by faith we might receive the promise of the Spirit.

THE GALATIAN CELTS

GALATIANS 3:1

The Dying Gaul, a marble statue of a wounded Celtic warrior, Capitoline Museums, Rome. Photo antmoose, CC BY 2.0.

WHAT IT IS

A life size marble statue of a Celtic warrior sitting on his shield, bleeding from a wound in his side. You can tell he is a Celt by his spiky hair, his mustache and the twisted metal ring around his neck, called a torc. The Greeks called these people Galatians.

HOW OLD IT IS

It is a Roman copy in marble, made a little before or after the time of Jesus. The first version was bronze, made about 230 to 220 BC for the king of Pergamum in Turkey. He had beaten the Galatians in battle and showed off statues of them dying. It was dug up in Rome in the early 1600s.

WHO THE GALATIANS WERE

About 278 BC, thousands of Celts crossed into Turkey. They raided cities for years and then settled in the middle of the land around Ankara in three tribes. Rome made their land part of a province in 25 BC and kept the name Galatia.

YOU FOOLISH GALATIANS

Paul writes, You foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? 3:1. He is not insulting a race. He is shocked that people who saw Christ crucified so clearly would trade grace for rules. Greek writers did call the Celts brave but hot tempered and quick to change, and some think Paul's readers would have felt that sting.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

In the Capitoline Museums in Rome, Italy.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

The Galatians were a real people famous across the ancient world, and their name stayed on the map in Paul's day.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The statue shows a Celt from 300 years before Paul. It does not tell us whether Paul's readers were Celts in the north or a mix of peoples in the south.

THE PURPOSE OF THE LAW // ROMANS 7:1–6

15 Brothers, let me put this in human terms. Even a human covenant, once it is ratified, cannot be canceled or amended. 16 The promises were spoken to Abraham and to his seed. The Scripture does not say, "and to seeds," meaning many, but "and to your seed," meaning One, who is Christ.

17 What I mean is this: The law that came 430 years later does not revoke the covenant previously established by God, so as to nullify the promise. 18 For if the inheritance depends on the law, then it no longer depends on a promise; but God freely granted it to Abraham through a promise.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES THE HEART DEMONIC

19 Why then was the law given? It was added because of transgressions, until the arrival of the seed to whom the promise referred. It was administered through angels by a mediator. 20 A mediator is unnecessary, however, for only one party; but God is one.
21 Is the law, then, opposed to the promises of God? Certainly not! For if a law had been given that could impart life, then righteousness would certainly have come from the law. 22 But the Scripture pronounces all things confined by sin, so that by faith in Jesus Christ the promise might be given to those who believe.
23 Before this faith came, we were held in custody under the law, locked up until faith should be revealed. 24 So the law became our guardian to lead us to Christ, that we might be justified by faith. 25 Now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian.

SONS THROUGH FAITH IN CHRIST

26 You are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus. 27 For all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. 28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus.
29 And if you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed and heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Before Jesus, we were like kids with a babysitter. When the time was right, God sent His Son, born of a woman, so we could be adopted. Now we call God Abba, Father. Paul remembers how they welcomed him when he was sick. Then a picture story: Hagar and Sarah, slavery and freedom.

SONS AND HEIRS

1 What I am saying is that as long as the heir is a child, he is no different from a slave, although he is the owner of everything. 2 He is subject to guardians and trustees until the date set by his father.
3 So also, when we were children, we were enslaved under the basic principles of the world. 4 But when the time had fully come, God sent His Son, born of a woman, born under the law, 5 to redeem those under the law, that we might receive our adoption as sons. 6 And because you are sons, God sent the Spirit of His Son into our hearts, crying out, "Abba, Father!"
7 So you are no longer a slave, but a son;
and since you are a son, you are also an heir through God.

PAUL'S CONCERN FOR THE GALATIANS

8 Formerly, when you did not know God, you were slaves to those who by nature are not gods. 9 But now that you know God, or rather are known by God, how is it that you are turning back to those weak and worthless principles? Do you wish to be enslaved by them all over again? 10 You are observing special days and months and seasons and years! 11 I fear for you, that my efforts for you may have been in vain. 12 I beg you, brothers, become like me, for I became like you. You have done me no wrong.

■ GAL 3:28 [NOTE] ALL ONE IN CHRIST. Your race, your job and whether you are a man or a woman do not change how much God values you or your place in His family. A Jewish prayer, written down later, thanks God for not making a man a Gentile, a slave or a woman. Paul tears that wall down. Some believe this verse opens every role in the church to women, pointing to Phoebe and Junia in Romans 16, p.1818. Others say Paul is talking about being saved, not about church roles.

THE TEMPLE OF AUGUSTUS

GALATIANS 4:8 TO 10

The Temple of Rome and Augustus in Ankara, Turkey. Its walls carry the Deeds of the Divine Augustus. Photo Diego Delso, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

The stone walls of a temple to the goddess Roma and the emperor Augustus in Ankara, the capital of the province of Galatia. On its walls the emperor's life story is carved in Latin inside and Greek outside. It is called the Deeds of the Divine Augustus. This is the best copy left in the world.

HOW OLD IT IS

The temple was built about 25 BC to AD 14. Experts argue over the exact date. The Deeds were carved after Augustus died in AD 14, so they were on the wall when Paul wrote.

SON OF GOD ON THE WALL

Augustus called himself the son of a god, because Rome had declared his adopted father Julius Caesar a god. All over Galatia people kept festival days for the emperor. Pieces of two more copies of the Deeds have been found in Galatia, one at Antioch of Pisidia, Paul's city.

DAYS, MONTHS, SEASONS AND YEARS

Paul says the Galatians were going back to observing special days, months, seasons and years, 4:10. Most think he means Jewish holy days pushed by the new teachers, because the whole letter is about the law. Some scholars add that new believers who quit the emperor's festivals were under pressure, and keeping Jewish days made them look like a legal religion in Roman eyes.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

In the Ulus area of Ankara, Turkey, right beside the Hacı Bayram Mosque. The temple was later turned into a church.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Emperor worship was everywhere in Galatia. Calling Jesus the true Son God sent, 4:4, was a bold claim there.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Paul never names the emperor in Galatians. The link to 4:10 is a scholar's idea, not something the verse says.

13 You know that it was because of an illness that I first preached the gospel to
you. 14 And although my illness was a trial to you, you did not despise or reject me.
Instead, you welcomed me as if I were an angel of God, as if I were Christ Jesus Himself. 15 What then has become of your blessing? For I can testify that, if it were possible, you would have torn out your eyes and given them to me. 16 Have I now

MESSIANIC FORESHADOW OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW

WHAT IT IS
A Roman road paved with stones, climbing through a mountain pass in southern Turkey. Many experts think it was part of the Via Sebaste, the road of Augustus, which tied together the Roman colonies of South Galatia.

HOW OLD IT IS
Milestones along the Via Sebaste say it was built in 6 BC under Augustus. The stones in this photo may have been laid or fixed in later Roman centuries, so their exact date is debated. The route itself was there in Paul's day.

PAUL'S ROAD
On his first trip, Paul landed on the south coast at Perga and went up to Antioch of Pisidia, Acts 13:13 to 14. The easiest way up the mountains was this kind of road. From Antioch it ran on toward Iconium and Lystra, the next stops in Acts 14.

WHY ROMAN ROADS MATTER
Rome built tens of thousands of miles of roads for its armies. Soldiers kept them safe from bandits. Paul used them to carry the gospel, and his letters traveled the same roads. Still, Paul says he faced danger from rivers and robbers, 2 Corinthians 11:26.

THE ILLNESS
Paul says he first preached in Galatia because of an illness, and they did not turn him away even though it was a trial for them, 4:13 to 14. Some think it was an eye problem, 4:15. See the 6:11 note and the 2 Corinthians 12:7 note, p.1860.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Rome had just built a road linking the very cities Acts says Paul visited, in the order he visited them.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
No one can say Paul walked on these exact stones.

17 Those people are zealous for you, but not in a good way. Instead, they want to isolate you from us, so that you may be zealous for them. 18 Nevertheless, it is good to be zealous if it serves a noble purpose—at any time, and not only when I am with you.

19 My children, for whom I am again in the pains of childbirth until Christ is formed in you, 20 how I wish I could be with you now and change my tone, because I am perplexed about you.

HAGAR AND SARAH // GENESIS 21:9–21

21 Tell me, you who want to be under the law, do you not understand what the law says? 22 For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman and the other by the free woman. 23 His son by the slave woman was born according to the flesh, but his son by the free woman was born through the promise.

24 These things serve as illustrations, for the women represent two covenants. One covenant is from Mount Sinai and bears children into slavery: This is Hagar. 25 Now Hagar stands for Mount Sinai in Arabia and corresponds to the present-day Jerusalem, because she is in slavery with her children. 26 But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother. 27 For it is written:

"Rejoice, O barren woman, who bears no children;
break forth and cry aloud,
you who have never travailed;
because more are the children of the desolate woman than of her who has a husband."

28 Now you, brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise. 29 At that time, however, the son born by the flesh persecuted the son born by the Spirit. It is the same now.

30 But what does the Scripture say? "Expel the slave woman and her son, for the slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with the free woman's son." 31 There-

- GAL 4:24 [NOTE] TWO COVENANTS, NOT TWO RACES. Paul says this is an allegory, a picture story. Hagar stands for the law given at Mount Sinai, Sarah for God's promise. It is not about Arabs and Jews. Paul even puts the Jerusalem of his day on Hagar's side and believing Gentiles on Sarah's. The point is how you relate to God: as a slave trying to earn it, or as a free child of the promise. See the Genesis 21:9 note, p.75.

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Christ set you free, so do not go back to slavery. If you add circumcision to Jesus, you lose the whole point. Love your neighbor as yourself. Walk by the Spirit and you will not do what the flesh wants. Paul lists the works of the flesh and the fruit of the Spirit: love, joy, peace and more.

FREEDOM IN CHRIST

1 It is for freedom that Christ has set us free. Stand firm, then, and do not be encumbered once more by a yoke of slavery.

2 Take notice: I, Paul, tell you that if you let yourselves be circumcised, Christ will be of no value to you at all. 3 Again I testify to every man who gets himself circumcised that he is obligated to obey the whole law.
4 You who are trying to be justified by the law have been severed from Christ; you have fallen away from grace.

5 But by faith we eagerly await through the Spirit the hope of righteousness. 6 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision has any value. What matters is faith expressing itself through love.

7 You were running so well. Who has obstructed you from obeying the truth? 8
Such persuasion does not come from the One who calls you. 9 A little leaven works through the whole batch of dough. 10 I am confident in the Lord that you will take no other view. The one who is troubling you will bear the judgment, whoever he may be.

11 Now, brothers, if I am still preaching circumcision, why am I still being persecuted? In that case the offense of the cross has been abolished. 12 As for those who are agitating you, I wish they would proceed to emasculate themselves!

13 For you, brothers, were called to freedom; but do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh. Rather, serve one another in love. 14 The entire law is fulfilled in a single decree: "Love your neighbor as yourself." 15 But if you keep on biting and devouring one another, watch out, or you will be consumed by one another.

WALKING BY THE SPIRIT // EZEKIEL 36:16–38; RO-MANS 8:9–11

16 So I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. 17 For the flesh craves what is contrary to the Spirit, and the Spirit what is contrary to the flesh. They are opposed to each other, so that you do not do what you want. 18
But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law.

19 The acts of the flesh are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity, and debauchery; 20 idolatry and sorcery; hatred, discord, jealousy, and rage; rivalries, divisions, factions, 21 and envy; drunkenness, orgies, and the like. I warn you, as I did before, that those who practice such things will not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, 23 gentleness, and self-control. Against such things there is no law.

24 Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. 25 Since we live by the Spirit, let us walk in step with the Spirit. 26 Let us not become conceited, provoking and envying one another.

- GAL 5:1 [NOTABLE] Christ set us free so we would stay free. The yoke of slavery here is trying to earn God's love by keeping religious rules, like the Galatians adding circumcision. Freedom is not permission to sin either, 5:13. It is freedom to love God and serve people because you want to, not because you are scared.
- GAL 5:12 [NOTE] Yes, Paul really said that. The troublemakers wanted to cut the Galatians with circumcision, so Paul says he wishes the knife would slip and they would cut the whole thing off. It is harsh, and a little funny, but he was angry because they were cutting new believers off from grace. Priests of the goddess Cybele in Galatia really did cut themselves this way, so his readers got the joke.
- GAL 5:14 [QUOTES] Direct ← LEV 19:18 p.205
- GAL 5:20 [DEMONIC] Sorcery (pharmakeia) listed among works of the flesh
- GAL 5:20 [NOTE] SORCERY. The Greek word is pharmakeia, where we get pharmacy. In Paul's day it meant using potions, poisons and drugs in magic: spells, curses and calling on spirits. That is why most Bibles say sorcery or witchcraft. Some read it as warning against drug use, but the word points to the occult, not to medicine.
- GAL 5:22 [NOTABLE] Nine qualities, but Paul says fruit, not fruits. They grow together like one piece of fruit, not a basket where you pick your favorites. You cannot make fruit by straining. It grows when you stay connected to the vine, John 15:5. Compare the works of the flesh in 5:19 to 21. Works are made. Fruit is grown.

CHAPTER 6 IN 30 SECONDS

Gently help a brother who falls, and carry each other's burdens. You reap what you sow, so do not get tired of doing good. Paul grabs the pen and writes the ending himself in big letters. The troublemakers only want to brag about you. Paul will only brag about the cross.

CARRY ONE ANOTHER'S BURDENS

1 Brothers, if someone is caught in a trespass, you who are spiritual should restore him with a spirit of gentleness. But watch yourself, or you also may be tempted. 2 Carry one another's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.
3 If anyone thinks he is something when he is nothing, he deceives himself.
4 Each one should test his own work. Then he will have reason to boast in himself alone, and not in someone else. 5 For each one should carry his own load. 6 Nevertheless, the one who receives instruction in the word must share in all good things with his instructor.
7 Do not be deceived: God is not to be mocked. Whatever a man sows, he will reap in return. 8 The one who sows to please his flesh, from the flesh will reap destruction; but the one who sows to please the Spirit, from the Spirit will reap eternal life.
9 Let us not grow weary in well-doing, for in due time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up. 10 Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to the family of faith.

FINAL WARNINGS AND BLESSINGS

11 See what large letters I am using to write to you with my own hand!
12 Those who want to make a good impression outwardly are trying to compel you to be circumcised. They only do this to avoid persecution for the cross of Christ. 13 For the circumcised do not even keep the law themselves, yet they want you to be circumcised that they may boast in your flesh.
14 But as for me, may I never boast, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world. 15 For neither circumcision nor uncircumcision means anything. What counts is a new creation.
16 Peace and mercy to all who walk by this rule, even to the Israel of God.
17 From now on let no one cause me trouble, for I bear on my body the marks of Jesus.
18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers.
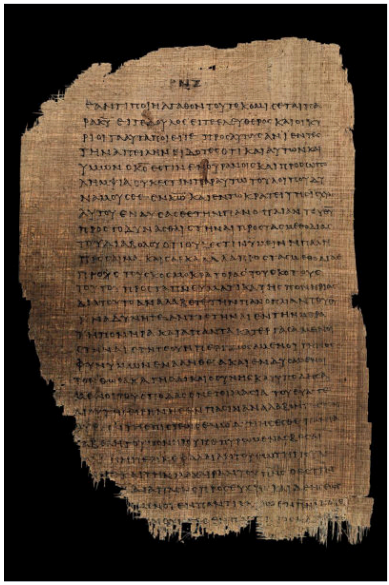
Amen.

GAL 6:7 [NOTABLE] A farming law: plant corn, get corn. Plant to please your flesh and you harvest ruin. Plant to please the Spirit and you harvest life forever. Harvest takes time, so do not give up doing good, 6:9. People call this karma, but karma has no grace. God forgives the sinner, and He still lets us learn from what we planted.



GAL 6:11 [NOTE] LARGE LETTERS. Paul usually told a helper what to write, Romans 16:22, then signed the end himself so no one could fake his letters, 2 Thessalonians 3:17. Why so large? Maybe for emphasis. Maybe poor eyesight. Paul said the Galatians would have torn out their eyes and given them to him, 4:15. Some think that was his thorn in the flesh. That is a guess. See the 2 Corinthians 12:7 note, p.1860.

BOOK 49 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · LETTER

EPHESIANS

Who You Are in Christ

AUTHOR	Paul, 1:1 and 3:1. The early church never doubted it. Some modern scholars think a follower wrote it in Paul's name because the style is different and much of it is like Colossians.
WRITTEN FROM	Prison, 3:1, 4:1 and 6:20, most likely Rome, where Paul lived under guard for two years, Acts 28:30.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 60 to 62.
WRITTEN TO	The believers in Ephesus, and maybe a group of churches around it. See the 1:1 note.
DELIVERED BY	Tychicus, 6:21, on the same trip that carried Colossians and Philemon, Colossians 4:7 to 9.
WHY HE WROTE	No crisis this time. Paul wanted believers to know who they are in Christ and how to live as one body.
KEY VERSE	Ephesians 2:8. For it is by grace you have been saved through faith, and this not from yourselves; it is the gift of God.

THE OLDEST COPY OF EPHESIANS
This is a page of Papyrus 46, a book of Paul's letters copied in Egypt about AD 200, now at the University of Michigan. It holds Ephesians 6:8 to 18, the armor of God. In the middle you can read our struggle is not against flesh and blood, 6:12. The Greek letters at the top are the page number, 157.

WHY IT MATTERS. Papyrus 46 is also one of the oldest copies without the words in Ephesus in 1:1. Copied only about 140 years after Paul wrote, it says what our Bibles say today.

Historical Setting

Ephesus was the biggest city in the Roman province of Asia, in western Turkey, with a busy harbor and maybe 200,000 people. It was home to the Temple of Artemis, one of the Seven Wonders of the World, and it was famous for magic. Paul lived there almost three years, Acts 20:31. For two years he taught every day in the lecture hall of Tyrannus, so all of Asia heard the word, Acts 19:9 to 10. Then the silversmiths started a riot, Acts 19. Later Paul said goodbye to the Ephesian elders with tears and warned them about wolves, Acts 20:17 to 38. Now he writes to them from chains.

What Ephesus Was Up Against

MAGIC. Ephesus was known for charms and spells. New believers burned magic scrolls worth 50,000 silver coins, Acts 19:19.
ARTEMIS. The city's money and pride were tied to her temple, Acts 19:27.
FEAR OF SPIRITS. People lived afraid of spiritual powers. Paul says Christ sits far above them all, 1:21, and we stand in His strength, 6:10 to 12.
A WALL BETWEEN PEOPLE. Jews and Gentiles did not mix. Jesus tore down that wall, 2:14.
WOLVES COMING. Paul warned false teachers would rise up, Acts 20:29 to 30, so believers must grow up and not get tossed around, 4:14.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Ephesians tells you who you are. Before you ever did anything right, God chose you, adopted you, forgave you and filled you with His Spirit. You are saved by grace, not by trying harder. Jesus made Jews and Gentiles one family, and the church is not a building but the people. Then Paul shows how to live it: walk in love, use your gifts, treat your family and your job as service to Jesus, and stand firm in God's armor. If you have ever wondered who you are, read this letter.

Ephesians at a Glance

CH 1 to 3	WHO YOU ARE Chosen, rich, alive, saved by grace and part of one family.
CH 4 to 6:9	HOW YOU WALK Unity, gifts, new life, light, marriage, family and work.
CH 6:10 to 24	HOW YOU STAND The armor of God and prayer.

Where Jesus Shows Up

EPHESIANS 1:7 In Him we have redemption through His blood. Foreshadowed by Boaz the redeemer, Ruth 4:9 to 10.

EPHESIANS 1:20 God raised Him and seated Him at His right hand, far above every ruler. Fulfills Isaiah 52:13 and Daniel 7:13 to 14.

EPHESIANS 2:14 He Himself is our peace. Fulfills Micah 5:5.

EPHESIANS 2:20 Christ Jesus Himself is the cornerstone. Fulfills Zechariah 10:4.

EPHESIANS 4:8 When He ascended on high, He gave gifts to men. Fulfills Psalm 68:18.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

SIT, WALK, STAND
The Chinese church leader Watchman Nee summed up Ephesians in three words in his book Sit, Walk, Stand: seated with Christ, 2:6, walk worthy, 4:1, and stand firm, 6:11.

ONE LONG SENTENCE
In Greek, 1:3 to 14 is one sentence, over 200 words long. Paul got so excited about grace he forgot to stop.

YOU ARE A POEM
The word workmanship in 2:10 is poiema in Greek, where we get the word poem. You are God's work of art.

THE SPIRIT HAS FEELINGS
Do not grieve the Holy Spirit, 4:30. You cannot hurt the feelings of a force. The Spirit is a Person.

AN EARLY SONG
Awake, O sleeper, rise up from the dead, and Christ will shine on you, 5:14. Many think this was a song the first Christians sang.

MISSING ADDRESS
The oldest copies leave out the words in Ephesus in 1:1. See the note there.

Did Anybody Listen?

Yes and no. About 30 years later, Jesus praised the church in Ephesus for hard work and for testing people who called themselves apostles and finding them false, Revelation 2:2. But He also said, You have abandoned your first love, Revelation 2:4. They kept the doctrine and lost the love Paul prayed for in 3:19. About AD 110, the church leader Ignatius wrote to them and praised them again. Today Ephesus is ruins, but the letter still tells millions of people who they are.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul starts with a praise party. In Christ you are chosen, adopted, forgiven and sealed with the Holy Spirit, and it all happened before you did anything. Paul prays you would see how rich you really are, and how much power God used when He raised Jesus and seated Him above every power there is.

PAUL'S GREETING TO THE EPHESIANS // ACTS 19:8–12; REVELATION 2:1–7

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God,

To the saints in Ephesus, the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

SPIRITUAL BLESSINGS // ROMANS 8:28–34

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us in Christ with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly realms. 4 For He chose us in Him before the foundation of the world to be holy and blameless in His presence. In love 5 He predestined us for adoption as His sons through Jesus Christ, according to the good pleasure of His will, 6 to the praise of His glorious grace, which He has freely given us in the Beloved One.

7 In Him we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of His grace 8 that He lavished on us with all wisdom and understanding. 9 And He has made known to us the mystery of His will according to His good pleasure, which He purposed in Christ 10 as a plan for the fullness of time, to bring all things in heaven and on earth together in Christ.

EPHESIANS 1:17 · ACTS 19:9 TO 10 · ACTS 19:19

The front of the Library of Celsus in Ephesus, rebuilt from its fallen stones. Photo Benh LIEU SONG, CC BY SA 3.0.

WHAT IT IS

The two story marble front of a library in Ephesus. It was built to honor Celsus, a Roman governor of Asia, by his son. Celsus was buried in a stone coffin under the floor. The library held about 12,000 scrolls. Statues in the front stand for Wisdom, Knowledge, Thought and Goodness.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was built about AD 110 to 120, about 50 years after Paul wrote Ephesians, so Paul never saw it. A fire gutted it in the AD 260s. Austrian archaeologists stood the front back up from its fallen pieces from 1970 to 1978.

A CITY OF SCROLLS

Ephesus loved books long before this library. When people believed, they burned their magic scrolls worth 50,000 silver coins, Acts 19:19. Paul taught every day for two years in the lecture hall of Tyrannus, Acts 19:9 to 10.

REAL WISDOM

In a city proud of its learning, Paul prays

- EPH 1:1 [TEXT] IN EPHESUS. The oldest copies, Papyrus 46, Codex Sinaiticus and Codex Vaticanus, do not have the words in Ephesus. Many think Paul wrote one letter to be passed around the churches of Asia, with Ephesus as the main stop. Some think it is the letter to Laodicea that Paul mentions in Colossians 4:16. Most later copies have in Ephesus, and the early church always called it Ephesians.
- EPH 1:1 [FIELD NOTES] See The Library of Celsus Field Notes page, p.1878, and the theater and Temple of Artemis page in Acts, p.1780.
- EPH 1:4 [NOTE] CHOSEN AND PREDESTINED, TWO VIEWS. Reformed or Calvinist: before the world was made, God chose certain people to be saved, not because of anything He saw in them, but by His own will, 1:5 and 1:11. Even faith is His gift, 2:8. Augustine, Calvin and Spurgeon taught this. Arminian or free will: God chose a people in Him, 1:4. Christ is the Chosen One, and whoever joins Him by faith is chosen in Him, like getting on a bus whose destination is already set. God knows ahead who will believe, Romans 8:29, and He wants everyone to be saved, 1 Timothy 2:4. John Wesley taught this. Both sides agree salvation is God's idea, it is all grace, and the goal is to be holy, 1:4, to the praise of His glory, 1:6. See the Romans 9:13 note, p.1811.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Ephesus was a rich, learned city that loved books and big buildings.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Nothing about Paul. It came later. It shows the kind of city the church kept growing in.

11 In Him we were also chosen as God's own, having been predestined according to the plan of Him who works out everything by the counsel of His will, 12 in order that we, who were the first to hope in Christ, would be for the praise of His glory.
13 And in Him, having heard and believed the word of truth—the gospel of your salvation—you were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, 14 who is the pledge of our inheritance until the redemption of those who are God's possession, to the praise of His glory.

SPIRITUAL WISDOM // 1 CORINTHIANS 2:6–16

15 For this reason, ever since I heard about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints, 16 I have not stopped giving thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers, 17 that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the glorious Father, may give you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in your knowledge of Him.
18 I ask that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened, so that you may know the hope of His calling, the riches of His glorious inheritance in the saints, 19 and the surpassing greatness of His power to us who believe. These are in accordance with the working of His mighty strength, 20 which He exerted in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His right hand in the heavenly realms, 21 far above all rule and authority, power and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in the present age but also in the one to come.
22 And God put everything under His feet and made Him head over everything for the church, 23 which is His body, the fullness of Him who fills all in all.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS
You were dead in sin, following the ruler of the air. But God, who is rich in mercy, made you alive with Christ. You are saved by grace through faith, not by works. Jesus tore down the wall between Jews and Gentiles. Now you are one family, a temple built out of people.

ALIVE WITH CHRIST // COLOSSIANS 2:6–23

1 And you were dead in your trespasses and sins, 2 in which you used to walk when you conformed to the ways of this world and of the ruler of the power of the air, the spirit who is now at work in the sons of disobedience. 3 All of us also lived among them at one time, fulfilling the cravings of our flesh and indulging its desires and thoughts. Like the rest, we were by nature children of wrath.
4 But because of His great love for us,
God, who is rich in mercy, 5 made us alive with Christ even when we were dead in our trespasses. It is by grace you have been saved! 6 And God raised us up with Christ and seated us with Him in the heavenly realms in Christ Jesus, 7 in order that in the coming ages He might display
the surpassing riches of His grace, demonstrated by His kindness to us in Christ Jesus.
8 For it is by grace you have been saved through faith, and this not from yourselves; it is the gift of God, 9 not by works, so that no one can boast. 10 For we are God's workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance as our way of life.

ONE IN CHRIST // PHILIPPIANS 2:1–4

11 Therefore remember that formerly you who are Gentiles in the flesh and called uncircumcised by the so-called circumcision (that done in the body by human hands)— 12 remember that at that time you were separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers to the covenants of the promise, without hope and without God in the world. 13 But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far away have been brought near through the blood of Christ.

14 For He Himself is our peace, who has made the two one and has torn down the dividing wall of hostility 15 by abolishing in His flesh the law of commandments and decrees. He did this to create in Himself one new man out of the two, thus making peace 16 and reconciling both of them to God in one body through the cross, by which He put to death their hostility.

17 He came and preached peace to you who were far away and peace to those who were near. 18 For through Him we both have access to the Father by one Spirit.

CHRIST OUR CORNERSTONE // ISAIAH 28:14–22; 1 CORINTHIANS 3:10–15; 1 PETER 2:1–8

19 Therefore you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and members of God's household, 20 built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus Himself as the cornerstone. 21 In Him the whole building is fitted together and grows into a holy temple in the Lord. 22 And in Him you too are being built together into a dwelling place for God in His Spirit.

THE BIG IDEA

THE CHURCH IS NOT A BUILDING

EPHESIANS 2:19 TO 22 · 4:12 · ROMANS 16:5 · ACTS 18:3

WHAT A CHURCH IS

The Greek word for church is ekklesia. It means people called out and gathered together. It never meant a building. Paul says you are being built together into a dwelling place for God, 2:22, and Peter calls believers living stones, 1 Peter 2:5. Jesus is the cornerstone, 2:20. The church is the people.

CHURCH IN THE HOUSE

The first Christians met in homes: the church that meets at their house, Romans 16:5. In Ephesus the church met in the home of Priscilla and Aquila, 1 Corinthians 16:19. Others met in the homes of Nympha, Colossians 4:15, and Philemon, Philemon 2. They also used rented halls, Acts 19:9, riverbanks and courtyards. For about 200 years there were no church buildings.

THE FIRST CHURCH BUILDINGS

The oldest ones ever found come from about AD 230 to 300: a prayer hall at Megiddo in Israel, about AD 230, though some date it later; a house turned into a church at Dura Europos in Syria, about AD 240; and a church at Aqaba in Jordan, about AD 300, maybe the first one built from the ground up. All are ruins now. Etchmiadzin Cathedral in Armenia was founded about AD 301, but the building standing today is from AD 483. Big church buildings came after Constantine.

A CRIME TO BELIEVE

For almost 300 years, Christianity had no legal standing in Rome, and persecution came in waves. Nero blamed Christians for the fire of Rome in AD 64. Decius demanded sacrifices to the gods in AD 250. Diocletian ordered churches torn down and Bibles burned in AD 303. Galerius gave tolerance in AD 311, and Constantine and Licinius made the faith legal with the Edict of Milan in AD 313.

WORK AND WORSHIP ARE ONE WORD

In Hebrew, avodah means work, worship and service all at once. Adam was put in the garden to work it, Genesis 2:15, and God freed Israel to serve and worship Him, Exodus 3:12. It is the same word. The Bible does not split life into holy jobs and regular jobs. Paul made tents to pay for his mission, Acts 18:3 and 20:34. Your business can be your ministry, Colossians 3:23.

EVERYONE IS IN MINISTRY

Leaders are given to equip the saints for works of ministry, 4:12. Ministry is not something the pastor does while you watch. It is what every believer does, at home, at work and on the street.

WHY IT MATTERS

A building can be a great tool. But if every church building burned down tomorrow, the church would still be standing, because the church is you.

THE TERRACE HOUSES OF EPHESUS

EPHESIANS 2:19 TO 22 · 1 CORINTHIANS 16:19

A room in Terrace House 2, Ephesus, with painted walls and a mosaic floor, under its modern roof. Photo Satirdan kahraman, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

Rich family homes built in steps up the hillside on the main street of Ephesus. Terrace House 2 holds seven homes, some two stories tall, with courtyards, painted walls, marble floors, mosaics, running water and even heated floors.

HOW OLD IT IS

The first homes were built around the time of Augustus, just before Jesus was born. Families lived in them, remodeling again and again, for about 250 years, until earthquakes destroyed them in the AD 200s. So they were lived in when Paul was in Ephesus.

WHERE THE CHURCH MET

A house like this, with a big open courtyard, could hold maybe 30 to 50 people. That is how big many early churches were. In Ephesus the church met in the house of Priscilla and Aquila, 1 Corinthians 16:19. Wealthy believers opened their homes, and slaves and masters ate at the same table.

WHAT A HOUSE CHURCH WAS LIKE

They shared a meal, the Lord's Supper, sang psalms and hymns, 5:19, read letters from apostles out loud, prayed and used their gifts, 1 Corinthians 14:26. Everyone was family, members of God's household, 2:19.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

In the ruins of Ephesus, near Selçuk, Turkey, under a protective roof opened in 2000. Visitors walk on glass walkways above the rooms.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Ephesus had large homes like the ones the New Testament says churches met in.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

No one knows if a church ever met in these exact homes, or where Priscilla and Aquila lived.

THE DURA EUROPOS HOUSE CHURCH

EPHESIANS 2:19 TO 22 · MARK 2:1 TO 12

Jesus heals a paralyzed man, who walks away carrying his bed. Wall painting from the baptism room of the Dura Europos church, now at Yale University Art Gallery.

WHAT IT IS

A normal house in a Roman border town on the Euphrates River in Syria that believers remodeled into a church. They knocked out a wall to make a meeting room for about 60 people and turned a small room into a baptism room with a pool. Its walls were painted with Bible stories: the Good Shepherd, Adam and Eve, Jesus healing a paralyzed man, Jesus and Peter walking on water, and the women coming to the tomb.

HOW OLD IT IS

A date scratched into the house says it was built about AD 232. It became a church soon after, about AD 240. About AD 256 the Persians attacked. The Romans filled the houses along the city wall with dirt to make the wall stronger, which buried the church and saved it.

HOW IT WAS FOUND

British soldiers digging trenches found painted walls in 1920. Yale University and French scholars dug there from 1928 to 1937. The baptism room was taken apart and rebuilt in a museum at Yale.

AN EARLY PICTURE OF JESUS

The painting of Jesus healing the paralyzed man, Mark 2, is one of the oldest pictures of Jesus anyone has found. He looks like a young man in a simple robe, not the long haired figure of later art.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

The baptism room is at the Yale University Art Gallery in New Haven, Connecticut. The site in Syria was badly looted during the war that began in 2011.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

The early church met in homes, and believers turned a home into a place to gather, baptize and remember Jesus.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

It was not the first church ever. It is just the oldest house church anyone has found.

THE MEGIDDO PRAYER HALL

EPHESIANS 2:19 TO 22 · JOHN 20:28

The Akeptous inscription in the floor of the Megiddo prayer hall: offered the table to God Jesus Christ. Photo Vesafis Tzferris, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

The mosaic floor of an early Christian prayer hall, found in 2005 at Kefar Othnay near Megiddo, Israel, when prisoners dug for a new building at Megiddo Prison. The floor has geometric patterns, a picture of two fish and three Greek inscriptions.

HOW OLD IT IS

The archaeologist who dug it, Yotam Tepper, dated it about AD 230, which would make it one of the oldest Christian buildings ever found. Other scholars think it is a little later, late 200s or early 300s. The date is still debated.

TO GOD JESUS CHRIST

The most famous inscription says: The God loving Akeptous has offered the table to God Jesus Christ as a memorial. The table was probably for the Lord's Supper. It is one of the oldest inscriptions anywhere that calls Jesus God, just like Thomas did, My Lord and my God, John 20:28.

WOMEN AND A SOLDIER

Akeptous was a woman, and another inscription remembers four more women by name. A third says a Roman army officer named Gaianus paid for the mosaic. Soldiers and women, rich and poor, worshiped together, just like the one family of 2:19.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

It was found on the grounds of Megiddo Prison, where it has mostly stayed, covered for protection. Parts of it have been shown in museums abroad.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Long before Christianity was legal, believers worshiped Jesus as God and set aside a room to do it.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Because the date is debated, no one can say for sure it is the very oldest church building.

THE FISH

EPHESIANS 2:19 TO 22 · MARK 6:41 · HEBREWS 6:19

Top left: the gravestone of Licinia Amias, Rome, early 200s. Top right: the fish and bread mosaic at Tabgha by the Sea of Galilee, about AD 480. Bottom: ICHTHYS and the fish wheel carved at Ephesus, lines traced in red for visitors. Bottom photo David Bjorgen, CC BY SA 3.0.

Three real Christian fish from three different centuries. Top left: the marble gravestone of a woman named Licinia Amias, from a cemetery near the Vatican in Rome. It shows two fish facing an anchor and the Greek words ICHTHYS ZONTON, Fish of the living. Top right: a floor mosaic of two fish beside a basket of bread at the Church of the Multiplication at Tabgha, where tradition says Jesus fed the 5,000. Bottom: the word ICHTHYS carved into a marble slab in Ephesus, next to a wheel made by stacking its five letters on top of each other.

HOW OLD IT IS

The gravestone is from the early 200s, while the faith was still illegal, so it is one of the oldest Christian inscriptions anywhere. The Tabgha mosaic is from about AD 480, long after the faith became legal. The Ephesus carving has no exact date and is probably from the 300s or later. About AD 200, Clement of Alexandria told Christians to put a fish on their seal rings.

DETAILS TO LOOK FOR

The D M at the top of the gravestone is a pagan Roman phrase, to the spirits of the dead. Stone carvers put it on almost every grave, and some Christians kept it. The anchor is the Christian sign of hope, Hebrews 6:19. In the Tabgha basket there are only four loaves, because the fifth loaf is the altar stone right above it.

WHAT ICHTHYS MEANS

The five Greek letters stand for Iesous Christos Theou Huios Soter: Jesus Christ, God's Son, Savior. A whole creed in one word. It also recalled Jesus feeding the crowds with bread and fish, Mark 6:41.

THE SECRET CODE STORY

You may have heard that a Christian would draw one curve in the sand, and if the stranger drew the other curve, they knew they were both on Team Jesus. It is a great story, but no ancient writer tells it. It comes from a guess made in the 1800s and the 1951 movie

THE HEART NOTABLE

Quo Vadis. The fish is real and very old. The secret handshake is probably a legend. And the simple two line fish on cars today only became popular in the 1970s. The first Christians carved real looking fish, like the ones on this page.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul is in prison, but he calls himself a prisoner of Christ. God's secret plan is out: Gentiles are equal heirs with Israel. Paul prays you would grasp how wide and long and high and deep the love of Christ is. God can do far more than all you ask or imagine.

THE MYSTERY OF THE GOSPEL

1 For this reason I, Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus for the sake of you Gentiles…
2 Surely you have heard about the stewardship of God's grace that was given to me for you, 3 that is, the mystery made known to me by revelation, as I have already written briefly. 4 In reading this, then, you will be able to understand my insight into the mystery of Christ, 5 which was not made known to men in other generations as it has now been revealed by the Spirit to God's holy apostles and prophets. 6 This mystery is that through the gospel the Gentiles are fellow heirs, fellow members of the body, and fellow partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus.
7 I became a servant of this gospel by the gift of God's grace, given me through the working of His power. 8 Though I am less than the least of all the saints, this grace was given me: to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, 9 and to illuminate for everyone the stewardship of this mystery, which for ages past was kept hidden in God, who created all things. 10 His purpose was that now, through the church, the manifold wisdom of God should be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly realms, 11 according to the eternal purpose that He accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord.
12 In Him and through faith in Him we may enter God's presence with boldness and confidence. 13 So I ask you not to be discouraged because of my sufferings for you, which are your glory.

PAUL'S PRAYER FOR THE EPHESIANS

14 … for this reason I bow my knees before the Father, 15 from whom every family in heaven and on earth derives its name. 16 I ask that out of the riches of His glory He may strengthen you with power through His Spirit in your inner being, 17 so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith. Then you, being rooted and grounded in love, 18 will have power, together with all the saints, to comprehend the length and width and height and depth 19 of the love of Christ, and to know this love that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God.
20 Now to Him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to His power that is at work within us, 21 to Him be the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, forever and ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Now Paul switches from who you are to how you walk. Keep the unity of the Spirit. Jesus gave apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers to equip you, so you grow up and stop getting tossed around. Take off the old self, put on the new. Be angry but do not sin. Be kind and forgive.

UNITY IN THE BODY // PSALM 133:1–3; 1 CORINTHIANS 1:10–17

1 As a prisoner in the Lord, then, I urge you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling you have received: 2 with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love, 3 and with diligence to preserve the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace.

EPH 3:17 [HEART] Paul prays that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith.
EPH 3:20 [NOTABLE] Paul runs out of words. God can do more than you ask, and more than you can even imagine, and He does it by His power already at work in you. The KJV says exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES THE HEART OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW NOTABLE

4 There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to one hope when you were called; 5 one Lord, one faith, one baptism; 6 one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.

7 Now to each one of us grace has been given according to the measure of the gift of Christ. 8 This is why it says:

"When He ascended on high,
He led captives away,
and gave gifts to men."

9 What does "He ascended" mean, except that He also descended to the lower parts of the earth? 10 He who descended is the very One who ascended above all the heavens, in order to fill all things.

11 And it was He who gave some to be apostles, some to be prophets, some to be evangelists, and some to be pastors and teachers, 12 to equip the saints for works of ministry and to build up the body of Christ, 13 until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God, as we mature to the full measure of the stature of Christ.

14 Then we will no longer be infants, tossed about by the waves and carried around by every wind of teaching and by the clever cunning of men in their deceitful scheming. 15 Instead, speaking the truth in love, we will in all things grow up into Christ Himself, who is the head. 16 From Him the whole body, fitted and held together by every supporting ligament, grows and builds itself up in love through the work of each individual part.

NEW LIFE IN CHRIST // COLOSSIANS 3:1–17

17 So I tell you this, and insist on it in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their thinking.
18 They are darkened in their understanding and alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them due to the hardness of their hearts. 19 Having lost all sense of shame, they have given themselves over to sensuality for the practice of every kind of impurity, with a craving for more.

20 But this is not the way you came to know Christ. 21 Surely you heard of Him and were taught in Him—in keeping with the truth that is in Jesus— 22 to put off your former way of life, your old self, which is being corrupted by its deceitful desires; 23 to be renewed in the spirit of your minds; 24 and to put on the new self, created to be like God in true righteousness and holiness.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

THE FIVEFOLD MINISTRY

(God's Org Chart)

EPHESIANS 4:7 TO 16 · 2:20

WHAT PAUL SAID

When Jesus went back to heaven, He gave gifts to His people, 4:8. The gifts are people: apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers, 4:11. Their job is not to do all the work. It is to equip the saints for works of ministry, 4:12, until we all reach unity and grow up into Christ, 4:13. Continuists call this list the fivefold ministry. Over all of it, Jesus Himself is the chief cornerstone, 2:20.

FIVE OR FOUR?

In the Greek, apostles, prophets and evangelists each get their own word the. But pastors and teachers share just one: the pastors and teachers, like one team. So some say it is really a fourfold ministry, with pastor and teacher as one job. Most Greek scholars say the two are tied together but not exactly the same: every pastor is a teacher, but not every teacher is a pastor. A shepherd who cannot teach cannot feed the sheep.

Many teachers use your hand. The thumb is the apostle, because it can touch every other finger. The pointer is the prophet, pointing the way. The middle finger is the evangelist, reaching farthest out. The ring finger is the pastor, married to the flock. The pinky is the teacher, small enough to get into the ear. It is a picture, not a verse, but it sticks.

EPH 4:8 [FULFILLS] He would ascend on high and give gifts to men ← PS 68:18 p.927
EPH 4:11 [NOTABLE] The fivefold ministry. Jesus gave apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers to His church, and their job is to equip every believer to do the ministry. See The Fivefold Ministry pages, p.1885.
EPH 4:18 [HEART] The Gentiles are cut off from God because of the hardness of their hearts.

APOSTLE: THE ONE WHO IS SENT

Apostle means sent one. An apostle is sent to start something new: a church, a ministry, a work in a new place, like Paul planting churches across the Roman world. Many teachers say an apostle can work in all five gifts when needed. Paul called himself a preacher, an apostle and a teacher, 2 Timothy 1:11. Some today also speak of marketplace apostles, people sent to build businesses that fund and spread the gospel, like Paul the tentmaker, Acts 18:3. That is a modern way of saying it, not a Bible term.

PROPHET: THE WATCHMAN

A prophet hears from God and speaks it. Sometimes that means telling the future, like Agabus, who warned of a famine and of Paul's arrest, Acts 11:28 and 21:10 to 11. Sometimes it means exposing what is hidden, so the secrets of a heart come out, 1 Corinthians 14:24 to 25, and warning against deception. Prophets work side by side with apostles, 2:20. Every prophecy gets weighed, 1 Corinthians 14:29.

STRANGE AND HEAVY

Prophets are often unusual people who carry heavy burdens. Isaiah walked barefoot and stripped for three years, Isaiah 20:2 to 3. Ezekiel lay on his side for 390 days, Ezekiel 4:4 to 6. Hosea married an unfaithful wife. Jeremiah wore an ox yoke and was thrown into a muddy pit. John the Baptist ate locusts. Many go through pain most people could never imagine.

EVANGELIST: THE MARKETING DEPARTMENT

An evangelist gets the good news out and brings people in. Philip the evangelist led a city in Samaria to Jesus, then one man on a desert road, Acts 8 and 21:8. If the church were a company, the evangelist would be marketing. Paul told Timothy, do the work of an evangelist, 2 Timothy 4:5.

PASTOR: THE SHEPHERD

Pastor means shepherd. A shepherd feeds, leads, protects and counsels the flock. Jesus is the Good Shepherd, John 10:11, and the Chief Shepherd, 1 Peter 5:4. Paul told the Ephesian elders, shepherd the church of God, Acts 20:28.

TEACHER: THE TRANSLATOR

A teacher breaks the Bible down so anyone can get it, idiot proof. Priscilla and Aquila explained the way of God more accurately to Apollos, Acts 18:26. Teachers will be judged more strictly, James 3:1.

Apostles and Prophets Today?

EPHESIANS 2:20 · 4:11 TO 13 · ACTS 1:21 TO 22

THE CESSATIONIST SIDE

Cessationists believe the offices of apostle and prophet ended with the first generation. An apostle had to be an eyewitness of the risen Jesus, Acts 1:21 to 22 and 1 Corinthians 9:1, and Paul called himself the last of all to see Him, 1 Corinthians 15:8. The church is built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, 2:20, and you only lay a foundation once. Now we have the finished Bible. Most cessationists gladly keep evangelists, pastors and teachers, and some call missionaries apostles in a small sense, sent ones.

THE CONTINUIST SIDE

Continuists point to 4:13: these gifts last until we all reach unity and full maturity, and that has not happened yet. Paul was writing to ordinary believers in Ephesus, none of them part of the Twelve, about gifts Christ gives His church. The Bible calls others apostles too: Barnabas, Acts 14:14, James the brother of Jesus, Galatians 1:19, Andronicus and Junia, Romans 16:7, and Silas and Timothy, 1 Thessalonians 2:6. The Twelve had a role nobody can repeat, Revelation 21:14, but the gift of being sent did not stop.

WHAT THE EARLY CHURCH SAID

About AD 100, a church manual called the Didache gave rules for traveling apostles and prophets: welcome an apostle like the Lord, but if he stays three days or asks for money, he is a false prophet. So apostles and prophets were still around after the Twelve. Even John Calvin, a hero of the cessationist side, wrote in 1559 that God still occasionally raises them up when the times require it, and that He had raised up apostles, or at least evangelists, in Calvin's own day.

WHERE THE WORD CAME FROM

The phrase fivefold ministry took off with the Latter Rain revival in Canada in 1948, then spread through the charismatic movement. The Assemblies of God rejected Latter Rain in 1949. Today it says apostolic and prophetic ministry still works, but it does not give anyone the title apostle or prophet.

WHO IS THE PASTOR ACCOUNTABLE TO?

The New Testament put a team of elders in every church, Acts 14:23, not one man alone. Without apostles and prophets, many pastors today answer to no one. Many believe that is why God often places prophetic people on elder and deacon boards, even when nobody calls them prophets.

A WORD OF CAUTION

Since the 1990s, some groups have named their own apostles and prophets who demand loyalty, money or obedience. Titles are not the point. Real apostles serve. Real prophets point to Jesus. Test them all, 1 John 4:1, just as Jesus praised the Ephesians for testing false apostles, Revelation 2:2.

THE POINT

Whatever you call them, the goal never changes: equip every believer for ministry, 4:12, so the whole body grows up into Jesus, the Head, 4:15 to 16.

25 Therefore each of you must put off falsehood and speak truthfully to his neighbor, for we are all members of one another. 26 "Be angry, yet do not sin." Do not let the sun set upon your anger, 27 and do not give the devil a foothold.

28 He who has been stealing must steal no longer, but must work, doing good with his own hands, that he may have something to share with the one in need.

29 Let no unwholesome talk come out of your mouths, but only what is helpful for building up the one in need and bringing grace to those who listen.

30 And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, in whom you were sealed for the day of redemption.

31 Get rid of all bitterness, rage and anger, outcry and slander, along with every form of malice. 32 Be kind and tenderhearted to one another, forgiving each other just as in Christ God forgave you.

5

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Copy God like a kid copies a parent. Walk in love and walk in the light. Make the most of your time. Do not get drunk on wine. Be filled with the Spirit instead. Submit to one another. Wives and husbands get a picture of Christ and the church: love that gives everything.

IMITATORS OF GOD

1 Be imitators of God, therefore, as beloved children, 2 and walk in love, just as Christ loved us and gave Himself up for us as a fragrant sacrificial offering to God.

3 But among you, as is proper among the saints, there must not be even a hint of sexual immorality, or of any kind of impurity, or of greed. 4 Nor should there be obscenity, foolish talk, or crude joking, which are out of character, but rather thanksgiving. 5 For of this you can be sure:
No immoral, impure, or greedy person (that is, an idolater) has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6 Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of such things the wrath of God is coming on the sons of disobedience. 7 Therefore do not be partakers with them.

CHILDREN OF LIGHT

8 For you were once darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light, 9 for the fruit of the light consists in all goodness, righteousness, and truth.
10 Test and prove what pleases the Lord.

11 Have no fellowship with the fruitless deeds of darkness, but rather expose them. 12 For it is shameful even to mention what the disobedient do in secret. 13 But everything exposed by the light becomes visible, for everything that is illuminated becomes a light itself. 14 So it is said:

"Wake up, O sleeper, rise up from the dead,
and Christ will shine on you."

15 Pay careful attention, then, to how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, 16 redeeming the time, because the days are evil. 17 Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the Lord's will is. 18 Do not get drunk on wine, which leads to reckless indiscretion. Instead, be filled with the Spirit.

19 Speak to one another with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs. Sing and make music in your hearts to the Lord, 20 always giving thanks to God the Father for everything in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

WIVES AND HUSBANDS // SONG OF SOLOMON 1:1–17; 1 PETER 3:1–7

21 Submit to one another out of reverence for Christ.

22 Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord. 23 For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, His body, of which He is the Savior. 24 Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything.

25 Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave Himself up for her 26 to sanctify her, cleansing her by the washing with water through the word, 27 and to present her to Himself as a glorious church, without stain or wrinkle or any such blemish, but holy and blameless.

28 In the same way, husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself. 29 Indeed, no one ever hated his own body, but he nourishes and cherishes it, just as Christ does the church. 30 For we are members of His body.

31 "For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh." 32 This mystery is profound, but I am speaking about Christ and the church. 33 Nevertheless, each one of you also must love his wife as he loves himself, and the wife must respect her husband.

CHAPTER 6 IN 30 SECONDS

Kids, obey your parents. Fathers, do not make your kids angry. Workers, serve like Jesus is your boss, and bosses, remember you have a Boss too. Then suit up: our fight is not against people but against spiritual forces of evil. Put on the whole armor of God and pray at all times.

CHILDREN AND PARENTS // COLOSSIANS 3:18–21

1 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. 2 "Honor your father and mother" (which is the first commandment with a promise), 3 "that it may go well with you and that you may have a long life on the earth."

4 Fathers, do not provoke your children to wrath; instead, bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord.

SERVING WITH HONOR // COLOSSIANS 3:22–25; 1 TIMOTHY 6:1–2

- EPH 5:18 [NOTE] UNDER THE INFLUENCE. Paul compares two ways to be under the influence. Wine leads to reckless living. The Spirit leads to singing, thankfulness and serving each other, 5:19 to 21. At Pentecost, people thought the apostles were drunk, Acts 2:13 and 2:15. In Greek, be filled means keep on being filled. It is a daily habit, not a one time event.

So submission starts as something every believer does. Then Paul gives husbands the harder job: love your wife the way Christ loved the church and died for her, 5:25. In Paul's world that was radical. Others read it as a clear order in the home, the husband leading as a servant and the wife following, both under Christ.

just as you would obey Christ. 6 And do this not only to please them while they are watching, but as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from your heart. 7 Serve with good will, as to the Lord and not to men, 8 because you know that the Lord will reward each one for whatever good he does, whether he is slave or free.

9 And masters, do the same for your slaves. Give up your use of threats, because you know that He who is both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no favoritism with Him.

THE FULL ARMOR OF GOD

10 Finally, be strong in the Lord and in His mighty power. 11 Put on the full armor of God, so that you can make your stand against the devil's schemes. 12 For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this world's darkness, and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms.

13 Therefore take up the full armor of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you will be able to stand your ground, and having done everything, to stand. 14 Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness arrayed, 15 and with your feet fitted with the readiness of the gospel of peace. 16 In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. 17 And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

18 Pray in the Spirit at all times, with every kind of prayer and petition. To this end, stay alert with all perseverance in your prayers for all the saints. 19 Pray also for me, that whenever I open my mouth, words may be given me so that I will boldly make known the mystery of the gospel, 20 for which I am an ambassador in chains. Pray that I may proclaim it fearlessly, as I should.

21 Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful servant in the Lord, will tell you everything, so that you also may know about me and what I am doing. 22 I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know about us, and that he may encourage your hearts.

23 Peace to the brothers and love with faith from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace to all who love our Lord Jesus Christ with an undying love.

Paul did not start a revolt, but he planted seeds that would end it. He told masters to stop threatening, because they have the same Master in heaven, 6:9. He called slave traders lawbreakers, 1 Timothy 1:10, and asked Philemon to welcome a runaway slave as a brother. Centuries later, Christians like William Wilberforce fought slavery with these truths. The Armor of God

A Roman legionary in Paul's day, about AD 60, drawn for this Bible from real finds. The numbers match the list below.

PAUL'S VIEW. Paul wrote this chained to a Roman soldier, Acts 28:16, an ambassador in chains, 6:20. He had armor in front of him all day.

1 BELT OF TRUTH. It held everything in place and carried the sword.

2 BREASTPLATE OF RIGHTEOUSNESS. It guarded the heart.

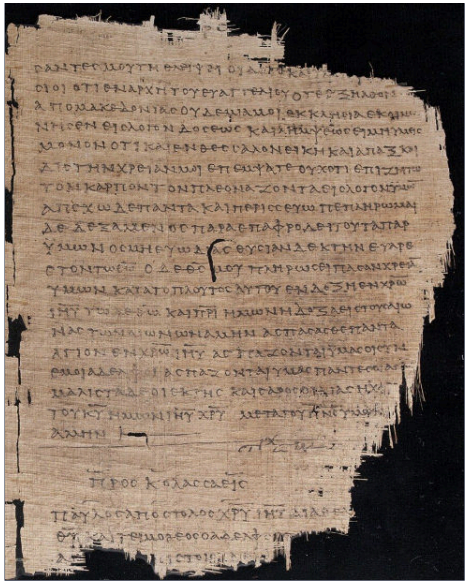
3 SHOES OF PEACE. Hobnailed sandals gave grip so he would not slip.

4 SHIELD OF FAITH. Paul's word means a shield shaped like a door, big enough to hide behind. The only one ever found whole, from Dura Europos, about AD 256, is at Yale.

5 HELMET OF SALVATION. It protects the mind.

6 SWORD OF THE SPIRIT. The short sword for close fighting: the word of God.

GOD WORE IT FIRST. Isaiah 59:17 pictures God in the breastplate and helmet. It is His armor, loaned to us.



STAND AND PRAY. Paul says stand four times, 6:11 to 14, and there is no armor for the back. It all works with prayer, 6:18.

This is a page of Papyrus 46, a book of Paul's letters copied in Egypt about AD 200, now at the Chester Beatty Library in Dublin, Ireland. It holds the end of Philippians, 4:14 to 23. Paul thanks them for sharing in his troubles and for their gift by Epaphroditus. The last line of the letter is followed by Amen.

THE NEXT LETTER. Under a short line, you can read the title PROS KOLASSAEIS, To the Colossians, and the first words of Colossians. The small note under Amen counts the lines in the letter. Scribes used counts like this to check for missing lines and to figure their pay.

WHY IT MATTERS. See the 1 Corinthians title page, p.1821, for how this book was found. Copied only about 140 years after Paul wrote, it says what our Bibles say today.

Historical Setting

Philippi sat on the main Roman highway across northern Greece. Philip of Macedon, the father of Alexander the Great, took the town and named it after himself in 356 BC. In 42 BC Antony and Octavian won a huge battle there, and Rome turned the city into a colony full of retired soldiers. It was a little Rome far from Rome. About AD 49 or 50, Paul crossed from Asia to Europe after a vision of a man from Macedonia and started a church here, Acts 16. The first believers were a businesswoman named Lydia, a slave girl set free from a spirit, and the jailer who had locked Paul up. About ten years later, Paul writes to them from chains.

What Philippi Was Up Against

SUFFERING. They were being opposed for their faith, just like Paul, 1:28 to 30.
FRICTION. Some were looking out for themselves, 2:3 to 4, and two leaders could not get along, 4:2.
THE CIRCUMCISION TEACHERS. Teachers were saying Gentile believers had to be circumcised, 3:2 to 3.
PEOPLE OF THE BELLY. Some lived for their appetites and set their minds on earthly things, 3:18 to 19.
WORRY. Their friend was in chains and might be killed, and their messenger nearly died, 1:20 and 2:27.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Philippians is a thank you note from a man in chains. The church in Philippi had sent Paul money and a friend to help him. He writes back full of joy, not because his life was easy, but because Jesus was enough. He shows them the mind of Christ, who stepped down from heaven to serve and die, and was lifted up to the highest place. He tells them to get along, to stop worrying and pray, and to keep pressing on. If you need joy that does not depend on your circumstances, read this letter.

Philippians at a Glance

CH 1 JOY IN CHAINS
Prison cannot stop the gospel. To live is Christ.

CH 2 THE MIND OF CHRIST
Humble yourself like Jesus did, and God will lift you up.

CH 3 KNOWING CHRIST

CH 4 PEACE AND CONTENTMENT
Rejoice, pray instead of worry, and be content in Him.

Where Jesus Shows Up

PHILIPPIANS 2:7 He emptied Himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in human likeness. Fulfills Isaiah 49:5 and Isaiah 53:2.

PHILIPPIANS 2:8 TO 9 He humbled Himself to death on a cross, so God highly exalted Him. Fulfills Isaiah 52:13 and Psalm 110:7.

PHILIPPIANS 2:10 TO 11 Every knee will bow and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord. Echoes Isaiah 45:23. Still to come in full.

PHILIPPIANS 3:20 TO 21 We await a Savior from heaven, who will change our lowly bodies to be like His glorious body. Still to come.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

JOY FROM JAIL
The words joy and rejoice show up 16 times in this short letter. Paul wrote it in chains.

AN EARLY SONG
Many scholars think 2:6 to 11 was a song the first Christians sang about Jesus, maybe even before Paul wrote it down. Others think Paul wrote it himself.

THE FIRST CHURCH IN EUROPE
The first believers Acts tells about in Europe were a rich businesswoman, a slave girl and a Roman jailer, Acts 16. God does not pick a type.

CAESAR'S OWN STAFF
Paul sends greetings from believers in Caesar's household, 4:22, slaves and freedmen who served the emperor. The gospel got into the palace.

THE ONLY ONE WHO GAVE
When Paul first left Macedonia, Philippi was the only church that supported him, and they sent help again and again, 4:15 to 16. They were his ministry partners.

CITIZENS OF HEAVEN
Philippi was proud to be a Roman colony. Paul tells them their real citizenship is in heaven, 3:20.

Did Anybody Listen?

Yes. About AD 110 or a little later, the church leader Polycarp of Smyrna wrote his own letter to the Philippians. He praised them for helping believers in chains, and he reminded them that Paul had written to them. The church in Philippi kept growing. By the AD 300s and 500s it built some of the biggest churches in Greece, and one of the first was dedicated to Paul. Today Philippi is ruins, but its letter still teaches millions to rejoice in hard times.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul is in chains and still smiling. He thanks God for the Philippians, who have been his partners since day one. Prison is not stopping the gospel. It is spreading it, all the way into the palace guard. Live or die, Paul wins: to live is Christ and to die is gain.

GREETINGS FROM PAUL AND TIMOTHY // COLOSSIANS 1:1–2; PHILEMON 1:1–3

1 Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus,

To all the saints in Christ Jesus at Philippi, together with the overseers and deacons:

2 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

THANKSGIVING AND PRAYER // 1 CORINTHIANS 1:4–9; COLOSSIANS 1:3–14

3 I thank my God every time I remember you. 4 In every prayer for all of you, I always pray with joy, 5 because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now, 6 being confident of this, that He who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus.

7 It is right for me to feel this way about all of you, since I have you in my heart. For in my chains and in my defense and confirmation of the gospel, you are all partners in grace with me. 8 God is my witness how I long for all of you with the affection of Christ Jesus.

9 And this is my prayer: that your love may abound more and more in knowledge and depth of insight, 10 so that you may be able to test and prove what is best and may be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, 11 filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I want you to know, brothers, that my circumstances have actually served to advance the gospel. 13 As a result, it has become clear throughout the whole palace guard and to everyone else that I am in chains for Christ. 14 And most of the brothers, confident in the Lord by my chains, now dare more greatly to speak the word without fear.

15 It is true that some preach Christ out of envy and rivalry, but others out of goodwill. 16 The latter do so in love, knowing that I am appointed for the defense of the gospel. 17 The former, however, preach Christ out of selfish ambition, not sincerely, supposing that they can add to the distress of my chains.

18 What then is the issue? Just this: that in every way, whether by false motives or true, Christ is preached. And in this I rejoice. Yes, and I will continue to rejoice, 19 because I know that through your prayers and the provision of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, my distress will turn out for my deliverance. 20 I eagerly expect and hope that I will in no way be ashamed, but will have complete boldness so that now as always Christ will be exalted in my body, whether by life or by death.

WHAT IT IS

The ruins of the city of Philippi near Kavala in northern Greece. In the middle is the forum, the main city square, with its paved courtyard, columns, temples and the platform where city leaders judged cases. The Via Egnatia, the Roman highway, ran right along its north side.

HOW OLD IT IS

The forum you see today was rebuilt in marble under the emperor Marcus Aurelius, about AD 161 to 180, about 110 years after Paul. Underneath is an earlier, smaller forum from the time of Claudius, about AD 41 to 54. That is the one Paul saw. The tall pillars on the right are from a church built about AD 550.

PAUL WAS HERE

Acts says the owners of the slave girl dragged Paul and Silas into the marketplace before the rulers, Acts 16:19. That was the forum. They were stripped, beaten with rods and thrown in jail. At midnight they sang, an earthquake opened the doors, and the jailer and his family believed, Acts 16:25 to 34.

PAUL'S PRISON?

Visitors are shown a small room near the forum called the prison of Paul. It was really a Roman water tank. Christians began to honor it as Paul's cell around AD 500, when a big church was built beside it. Acts does not say where the jail was, so no one knows.

WHERE IT IS TODAY

About 10 miles north of Kavala, Greece. It became a World Heritage Site in 2016. For the whole story of Paul in Philippi, see Acts 16, p.1769.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Philippi was a real Roman city with a forum and rulers who judged cases in public, just as Acts describes.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Most of what you see came after Paul. The so called prison of Paul is a tradition, not proof.

TO LIVE IS CHRIST

21 For to me, to live is Christ, and to die is gain. 22 But if I go on living in the body, this will mean fruitful labor for me. So what shall I choose? I do not know. 23 I am torn between the two. I desire to depart and be with Christ, which is far better indeed. 24
But it is more necessary for you that I remain in the body.

PHIL 1:21 [NOTABLE] Paul is in chains and might be killed, and he is not afraid. If he lives, he gets more time to serve Jesus. If he dies, he goes to be with Jesus, which is far better, 1:23. He chooses to stay for their sake, 1:24 to 25. See also Absent from the Body, 2 Corinthians 5:8, p.1852.

FOR THE DYE TRADE · NO FIND NAMES LYDIA

LYDIA AND THE PURPLE DYERS

PHILIPPIANS 1:5 · ACTS 16:13 TO 15 · ACTS 16:40

Left and middle: both sides of a bronze coin of Thyatira, about AD 54 to 96, with the head of Heracles and the double axe of the city's god. University of Tübingen collection, photo KlassArchTÜ, CC BY SA 4.0. Right: shells of the purple dye murex. Photo H. Zell, CC BY SA 3.0.

WHAT IT IS

A coin from Thyatira, Lydia's hometown in western Turkey, and the sea snail shells that made the famous purple dye. Acts says Lydia was a seller of purple from the city of Thyatira, Acts 16:14.

HOW OLD IT IS

The coin was made about AD 54 to 96, in Paul and Lydia's own lifetime. The shells are modern, from the same kind of snail used for purple dye for thousands of years.

THE DYERS OF THYATIRA

Stone inscriptions from the first to third centuries AD mention a guild of dyers in Thyatira, a kind of trade union. At Philippi itself, a stone was found that honored Antiochus son of Lykos, a Thyatiran and a leading purple dyer. It was seen in 1872 and is now lost. So dye sellers from Thyatira really did come to Philippi.

SNAILS OR ROOTS?

Real purple came from thousands of crushed sea snails and cost a fortune. Only the rich wore it. Some scholars think inland Thyatira used a cheaper red dye made from madder root. Others think Lydia sold both. Either way, Lydia had money and a house big enough for a church, Acts 16:15 and 16:40.

BY THE RIVER

Paul found Lydia and other women praying by a river outside the city gate, Acts 16:13. Tradition places it at a stream west of Philippi, where a small modern church and outdoor baptism pool were built in 1974. No one knows the exact spot.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES END TIMES PROPHECIES

FROM THE FIRST DAY
Paul thanks them for their partnership from the first day until now, 1:5. The first day was Lydia's day. The first church in Europe started in a businesswoman's home.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
No find names Lydia herself. It shows that her city, her trade and her travels fit Acts exactly.

25 Convinced of this, I know that I will remain and will continue with all of you for your progress and joy in the faith, 26 so that through my coming to you again your exultation in Christ Jesus will resound on account of me.

WORTHY OF THE GOSPEL

27 Nevertheless, conduct yourselves in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ.
Then, whether I come and see you or only hear about you in my absence, I will know that you stand firm in one spirit, contending together as one for the faith of the gospel, 28 without being frightened in any way by those who oppose you. This is a clear sign of their destruction but of your salvation, and it is from God. 29 For it has been granted to you on behalf of Christ not only to believe in Him, but also to suffer for Him, 30 since you are encountering the same struggle you saw I had, and now hear that I still have.

2

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS
Want to know how to get along? Think like Jesus. He was God, but He took the form of a servant and went all the way to the cross. So God lifted Him to the highest place, and every knee will bow. Work out what God put in you. Timothy and Epaphroditus are proof that real servants still exist.

ONE IN CHRIST // EPHESIANS 2:11–18

1 Therefore if you have any encouragement in Christ, if any comfort from His love, if any fellowship with the Spirit, if any affection and compassion, 2 then make my joy complete by being like-minded, having the same love, being united in spirit and purpose.

3 Do nothing out of selfish ambition or empty pride, but in humility consider others more important than yourselves. 4
Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others.

THE MIND OF CHRIST // ISAIAH 52:13–15

5 Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus:

6 Who, existing in the form of God, did not consider equality with God something to be grasped, 7 but emptied Himself, taking the form of a servant,
being made in human likeness.
8 And being found in appearance as a man,
He humbled Himself and became obedient to death—
even death on a cross.

9 Therefore God exalted Him to the highest place and gave Him the name above all names,
10 that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow,
in heaven and on earth and under the earth,
11 and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord,
to the glory of God the Father.

He added a human nature, set aside His rights and His glory for a while, and chose to serve all the way to the cross, 2:8. In Him all the fullness of God lives in bodily form, Colossians 2:9. In the 1800s some taught that He gave up powers like knowing everything. Catholic, Orthodox and most Protestant churches reject that idea.

12 Therefore, my beloved, just as you have always obeyed, not only in my presence, but now even more in my absence, continue to work out your salvation with fear and trembling. 13 For it is God who works in you to will and to act on behalf of His good purpose.

14 Do everything without complaining or arguing, 15 so that you may be blameless and pure, children of God without fault in a crooked and perverse generation, in which you shine as lights in the world 16 as you hold forth the word of life, in order that I may boast on the day of Christ that I did not run or labor in vain.

17 But even if I am being poured out like a drink offering on the sacrifice and service of your faith, I am glad and rejoice with all of you. 18 So you too should be glad and rejoice with me.

TIMOTHY AND EPAPHRODITUS // 1 CORINTHIANS 16:10–12

19 Now I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, that I also may be cheered when I learn how you are doing. 20 I have nobody else like him who will genuinely care for your needs. 21 For all the others look after their own interests, not those of Jesus Christ. 22 But you know Timothy's proven worth, that as a child with his father he has served with me to advance the gospel. 23 So I hope to send him as soon as I see what happens with me. 24 And I trust in the Lord that I myself will come soon.

25 But I thought it necessary to send back to you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow worker, and fellow soldier, who is also your messenger and minister to my needs. 26 For he has been longing for all of you and is distressed because you heard he was ill. 27 He was sick indeed, nearly unto death. But God had mercy on him, and not only on him but also on me, to spare me sorrow upon sorrow.

28 Therefore I am all the more eager to send him, so that when you see him again you may rejoice, and I may be less anxious. 29 Welcome him in the Lord with great joy, and honor men like him, 30 because he nearly died for the work of Christ, risking his life to make up for your deficit of service to me.

WHAT IT IS

Left: the stone paving of the Via Egnatia, the great Roman highway, where it passes through Philippi. Right: a stone mile marker from the same road. It names the man who built it, Gnaeus Egnatius, a Roman governor, in Latin and in Greek, with the number 260, written CCLX in Latin and in Greek letters below.

HOW OLD IT IS

Egnatius built the road between about 146 and 120 BC, about 200 years before Paul. The milestone is from that first building work. It was found in 1974 buried in a riverbed west of Thessaloniki. The paving at Philippi was repaired again and again over the centuries.

THE ROAD

It ran about 700 miles from the Adriatic Sea to Byzantium, later called Constantinople. The number 260 means 260 Roman miles from the start of the road.

- PHIL 2:12 [NOTE] WORK OUT, NOT WORK FOR. You cannot work for your salvation. It is a gift, Ephesians 2:8 to 9, p.1879. But you work it out, the way you work out a muscle you already have. You live out what God already put in. And 2:13 tells you how: God is the One working in you. Fear and trembling means taking it seriously, not being scared. Catholic and Arminian readers add that how we respond to grace really counts, and salvation can be lost.

PAUL'S ROAD
Paul landed at Neapolis, Philippi's port, and walked about 10 miles inland to Philippi, Acts 16:11 to 12. When he left, he went through Amphipolis and Apollonia to Thessalonica, Acts 17:1. Those are stops on the Via Egnatia, in order.

EPAPHRODITUS' ROAD
Epaphroditus carried the church's gift to Paul and almost died, 2:27 and 2:30. If Paul was in Rome, the trip was about 800 miles each way, by this road, a ship and more road. Timothy would walk it too, 2:19.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
The route Acts gives for Paul's travel matches a real Roman highway, stop by stop.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
No one can say Paul stepped on these exact stones.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Watch out for teachers who say you need circumcision to belong. Paul had the best religious resume in town, and he calls it garbage next to knowing Jesus. He has not arrived yet. He forgets what is behind and presses on. Our citizenship is in heaven, and Jesus is coming back for us.

RIGHTEOUSNESS THROUGH FAITH IN CHRIST // ROMANS 3:21–31

1 Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord. It is no trouble for me to write the same things to you again, and it is a safeguard for you.

2 Watch out for those dogs, those workers of evil, those mutilators of the flesh! 3 For it is we who are the circumcision, we who worship by the Spirit of God, who glory in Christ Jesus, and who put no confidence in the flesh— 4 though I myself could have such confidence.

If anyone else thinks he has grounds for confidence in the flesh, I have more: 5 circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin; a Hebrew of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; 6 as to zeal, persecuting the church;
as to righteousness in the law, faultless.

7 But whatever was gain to me I count as loss for the sake of Christ. 8 More than that, I count all things as loss compared to the surpassing excellence of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have lost all things. I consider them rubbish, that I may gain Christ 9 and be found in Him, not having my own righteousness from the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God on the basis of faith.

10 I want to know Christ and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to Him in His death, 11 and so, somehow, to attain to the resurrection from the dead.

PRESSING ON TOWARD THE GOAL

12 Not that I have already obtained all this, or have already been made perfect, but I press on to take hold of that for which Christ Jesus took hold of me. 13 Brothers, I do not consider myself yet to have taken hold of it. But one thing I do: Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, 14 I press on toward the goal to win the prize of God's heavenly calling in Christ Jesus.

15 All of us who are mature should embrace this point of view. And if you think differently about some issue, God will reveal this to you as well. 16 Nevertheless, we must live up to what we have already attained.

CITIZENSHIP IN HEAVEN

17 Join one another in following my example, brothers, and carefully observe those who walk according to the pattern we set for you. 18 For as I have often told you before, and now say again even with tears:
Many live as enemies of the cross of Christ. 19 Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and their glory is in their

PHIL 3:2 [NOTE] DOGS. Some Jews called Gentiles dogs, Matthew 15:26. Paul turns the insult on the teachers who said Gentiles must be circumcised. Mutilators is a Greek pun: katatome, cutting up, versus peritome, circumcision, 3:3. Some scholars say dogs was not yet a common insult for Gentiles.

PHIL 3:8 [NOTE] RUBBISH. The Greek word skubala is much stronger. It meant dung or garbage, and the King James says dung. Paul calls his whole religious resume, 3:5 to 6, a pile of skubala next to knowing Jesus.

shame. Their minds are set on earthly things.

20 But our citizenship is in heaven, and we eagerly await a Savior from there, the Lord Jesus Christ, 21 who, by the power that enables Him to subject all things to Himself, will transform our lowly bodies to be like His glorious body.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Euodia and Syntyche, please make up. Rejoice always. Do not worry about anything, pray about everything, and God's peace will guard your heart. Think about good things. Paul learned the secret of being content, rich or broke. Then he says thank you for their gift, and God will meet all your needs.

REJOICE IN THE LORD

1 Therefore, my brothers, whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, that is how you must stand firm in the Lord, my beloved.

2 I urge Euodia and Syntyche to agree with each other in the Lord. 3 Yes, and I ask you, my true yokefellow, to help these women who have contended at my side for the gospel, along with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the Book of Life.

4 Rejoice in the Lord always. I will say it again: Rejoice! 5 Let your gentleness be apparent to all. The Lord is near.

Even good leaders clash. Paul counts them with his fellow workers, the word he uses for Timothy and Titus. Many believe this shows women led in ministry and every role is open to them, see Phoebe and Junia in Romans 16, p.1818. Others say a fellow worker is not the same as a pastor or elder.

A LITTLE ROME

PHILIPPIANS 3:20 · 1:27 · ACTS 16:12 · ACTS 16:20 TO 21

WHAT IT IS

Left: a stone in the forum of Philippi, written in Latin. On the first line you can read VOL, short for Voltinia, the Roman voting tribe that the citizens of Philippi belonged to. Right: a coin made in Philippi. It shows a statue of Augustus being crowned by Julius Caesar, and the letters COL, for colony.

HOW OLD IT IS

The coin is from the reign of Claudius, AD 41 to 54. Paul came to Philippi about AD 49 or 50, so coins like this were in people's pockets when he arrived. The stone is later, from the 100s AD.

A COLONY OF VETERANS

After the battle of Philippi in 42 BC, Rome settled retired soldiers here. After another war in 30 BC, Augustus refounded it as his own colony. Its land counted as if it were in Italy. Most of the inscriptions found from Paul's era are in Latin, not Greek, which is rare in the East.

WE ARE ROMANS

Acts calls Philippi a Roman colony, Acts 16:12. The crowd shouted that Paul taught customs unlawful for us Romans to accept, Acts 16:21. The leaders panicked when they learned Paul and Silas were Roman citizens too, Acts 16:38.

CITIZENSHIP IN HEAVEN

Philippi was proud to be a piece of Rome far from Rome. Paul tells them, our citizenship is in heaven, 3:20, and to live as citizens worthy of the gospel,

THE HEART NOTABLE

1:27. The church is a colony of heaven on earth, waiting for its true King.
WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Philippi was exactly what Acts and Philippians say it was: a proud Roman colony full of Roman citizens.
WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Neither object mentions Christians. They show the world the church lived in.

6 Be anxious for nothing, but in everything,
by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. 7 And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

8 Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable—if anything is excellent or praiseworthy—think on these things. 9 Whatever you have learned or received or heard from me, or seen in me, put it into practice. And the God of peace will be with you.

THE GENEROSITY OF THE PHILIPPIANS // 2 CORINTHIANS 8:1–15

10 Now I rejoice greatly in the Lord that at last you have revived your concern for me. You were indeed concerned, but you had no opportunity to show it. 11 I am not saying this out of need, for I have learned to be content regardless of my circumstances. 12 I know how to live humbly, and I know how to abound. In any and every situation I have learned the secret of being filled and being hungry, of having plenty and having need. 13 I can do all things through Christ who gives me strength.

14 Nevertheless, you have done well to share in my affliction. 15 And as you Philippians know, in the early days of the gospel, when I left Macedonia, no church but you partnered with me in the matter of giving and receiving. 16 For even while I was in Thessalonica, you provided for my needs again and again.

17 Not that I am seeking a gift, but I am looking for the fruit that may be credited to your account. 18 I have all I need and more, now that I have received your gifts from Epaphroditus. They are a fragrant offering, an acceptable sacrifice, well-pleasing to God.

19 And my God will supply all your needs
according to His glorious riches in Christ Jesus. 20 To our God and Father be glory
forever and ever. Amen.

FINAL GREETINGS // EPHESIANS 6:21–24; 2 TIMOTHY 4:19–22

21 Greet all the saints in Christ Jesus.

The brothers who are with me send you greetings.

22 All the saints send you greetings, especially those from the household of Caesar.

23 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

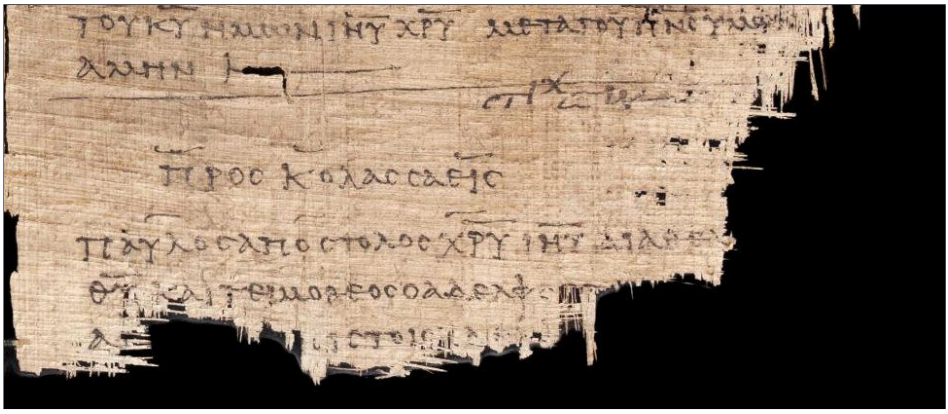
PHIL 4:7 [HEART] The peace of God will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

PHIL 4:11 [NOTABLE] Paul learned to be content with a full stomach or an empty one, 4:12. That is what 4:13 is about. I can do all things means I can get through anything, rich or broke, because Christ gives me strength. Athletes love to put it on their eye black, and that is fine, as long as you remember Paul wrote it hungry and in chains, not holding a trophy.



PHIL 4:13 [TEXT] THROUGH CHRIST. The oldest complete copies, Codex Sinaiticus before it was corrected, Alexandrinus and Vaticanus, say through Him who gives me strength. The word Christ was added in later copies and is in the King James. The meaning is the same, because Him is Christ. This verse is lost from Papyrus 46.

COLOSSIANS

Jesus Is Enough

AUTHOR	Paul, with Timothy, 1:1. Paul signs it in his own hand, 4:18. Some scholars think a follower wrote it later, because the style is different.
WRITTEN FROM	Prison, 4:3 and 4:18. Most say Rome, the same stay as Philemon and Ephesians. Some say Ephesus instead.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 60 to 62. If it was Ephesus, about AD 54 to 55.
WRITTEN TO	The believers in Colossae, a small town in the Lycus valley of Turkey, 1:2. Paul had never visited them, 2:1.
CHURCH STARTED BY	Epaphras, a man from Colossae who learned the gospel from Paul, 1:7 and 4:12.
DELIVERED BY	Tychicus, with Onesimus, 4:7 to 9. They likely carried Philemon and Ephesians on the same trip.
WHY HE WROTE	Teachers were adding philosophy, food rules, holy days and angel worship to Jesus, 2:8 to 23. Paul says Jesus is enough.
KEY VERSE	Colossians 2:9 to 10. For in Christ all the fullness of the Deity dwells in bodily form. And you have been made complete in Christ.

THE OLDEST COPY OF COLOSSIANS
Part of a page of Papyrus 46, Paul's letters copied in Egypt about AD 200, now in the Chester Beatty Library, Dublin. At the top is the end of Philippians and the word Amen. Under the short line is the title PROS KOLASSAEIS, To the Colossians, and the first words of the letter: Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus, by the will of God.

THE OTHER SIDE. The back of this leaf holds Colossians 1:5 to 13. See the whole page in Philippians, p.1891.

WHY IT MATTERS. Copied only about 140 years after Paul wrote, it says what our Bibles say today.

Historical Setting

Colossae sat in the Lycus river valley in western Turkey, next to two bigger cities, Laodicea about 10 miles away and Hierapolis about 13 miles away. Five hundred years before Paul, the Greek writer Herodotus called it a great city. By Paul's day it was a small town, known for wool dyed a deep purple red. Paul never went there. A local man named Epaphras heard the gospel from Paul, probably in Ephesus, and took it home. Later he visited Paul in prison with good news and bad news. The church was growing, but some teachers were selling a Jesus plus package.

What Colossae Was Up Against

SMART SOUNDING TALK. Teachers used fine words and philosophy to pull people away from Christ, 2:4 and 2:8.
RULE KEEPING. Food and drink rules, festivals, New Moons and Sabbaths were being used to judge people, 2:16 and 2:21.
ANGEL WORSHIP. Some claimed special visions and worshiped angels, 2:18.
OLD HABITS. Anger, lies, greed and sexual sin still needed to be put to death, 3:5 to 9.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Colossians is a short letter with a big Jesus. The church in Colossae was young, and slick teachers were telling them they needed more: more secret knowledge, more rules, more visions. Paul answers with one of the greatest songs about Jesus ever written. He made the universe, He holds it together, and all the fullness of God lives in Him. Have Jesus, and you are not missing anything.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

AN EARLY SONG
Many scholars think 1:15 to 20 was a song or poem about Jesus. In six verses it says He made everything, holds everything together and rules everything.

THE SAME MAILBAG
Tychicus and Onesimus carried this letter, 4:7 to 9. Philemon lived in Colossae, so the little letter to Philemon was likely in the same bag.

O OR A?
The town's coins spell it with an o. Many old copies of this letter, like Papyrus 46, spell it with an a. Both were used.

THE SECOND CHANCE
Mark, the young man Paul refused to take on a trip, Acts 15:37 to 39, is back on Paul's team, 4:10. Later Paul calls him useful, 2 Timothy 4:11.

Did Anybody Listen?

Yes. Colossians was copied with Paul's letters by about AD 200 and quoted by Irenaeus. In the 300s, Athanasius used its words, the image of the invisible God, to show Jesus is fully God. The town faded, but its letter still tells the world that Jesus is enough.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul has never met these people, but he prays for them all the time. Then he breaks into a song about Jesus. He made everything, He holds everything together, He is head of the church, and He made peace by His blood. The big secret God kept for ages is out: Christ in you, the hope of glory.

GREETINGS FROM PAUL AND TIMOTHY // PHILIPPIANS 1:1–2; PHILEMON 1:1–3

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

2 To the saints and faithful brothers in Christ at Colossae:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father.

THANKSGIVING AND PRAYER // 1 CORINTHIANS 1:4–9; PHILIPPIANS 1:3–11

3 We always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, when we pray for you, 4 because we have heard about your faith in Christ Jesus and your love for all the saints— 5 the faith and love proceeding from the hope stored up for you in heaven, of which you have already heard in the word of truth, the gospel 6 that has come to you.

All over the world this gospel is bearing fruit and growing, just as it has been doing among you since the day you heard it and truly understood the grace of God. 7 You learned it from Epaphras, our beloved fellow servant, who is a faithful minister of Christ on our behalf, 8 and who also informed us of your love in the Spirit.

9 For this reason, since the day we heard about you, we have not stopped praying for you and asking God to fill you with the knowledge of His will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, 10 so that you may walk in a manner worthy of the Lord and may please Him in every way: bearing fruit in every good work, growing in the knowledge of God, 11 being strengthened with all power according to His glorious might so that you may have full endurance and patience, and joyfully 12 giving thanks to the Father, who has qualified you to share in the inheritance of the saints in the light.

13 He has rescued us from the dominion of darkness and brought us into the kingdom of His beloved Son, 14 in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

THE SUPREMACY OF THE SON // HEBREWS 1:1–14

15 The Son is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. 16 For in Him all things were created, things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities. All things were created through Him and for Him.

17 He is before all things, and in Him all things hold together. 18 And He is the head of the body, the church; He is the beginning and firstborn from among the dead, so that in all things He may have preeminence. 19 For God was pleased to have all His fullness dwell in Him, 20 and through Him to reconcile to Himself all things, whether things on earth or things in heaven, by making peace through the blood of His cross.

- COL 1:2 [FIELD NOTES] See the Colossae Field Notes page, p.1902.
- COL 1:14 [TEXT] Many later manuscripts and the KJV add through His blood. The oldest copies do not have these words here. Ephesians 1:7 says it, and 1:20 says He made peace by the blood of His cross.
- COL 1:15 [FULFILLS] He would be the Firstborn ← PS 89:27 · MEDIUM p.944
- COL 1:15 [FULFILLS] Foreordained from everlasting ← PROV 8:23 · MEDIUM p.995
- COL 1:15 [NOTE] FIRSTBORN. In the Bible, firstborn can mean first in rank, the heir, not the first one made. God says of David, a youngest son, I will indeed appoint him as My firstborn, Psalm 89:27. Paul explains in the next verse: all things were created through Him. If He made all things, He was not made. Jehovah's Witnesses read firstborn as the first thing God created, and their New World Translation adds the word other in 1:16, 17 and 20. That word is not in the Greek.

Bottom: a bronze coin of Colossae from the late 100s AD, with a Roman emperor on one side and the goddess Artemis in a chariot pulled by deer on the other. Münzkabinett, Berlin, photo Reinhard Saczewski, public domain.

WHAT IT IS

Top: the hill where Colossae stood, on the Lycus river in western Turkey. Under the grass are the walls, streets and a theater of the town Paul wrote to. Bottom: a coin made in Colossae. On the deer side you can read KOLOSSENON, of the Colossians.

HOW OLD IT IS

People lived on this hill for thousands of years. Herodotus says it was a great city when the Persian king Xerxes passed through in 481 BC. The coin is from the late 100s AD, about 120 years after Paul wrote. A matching coin in Berlin is dated to the emperor Commodus, AD 180 to 192.

THE TOWN THAT FADED

By Paul's day Colossae was smaller than its neighbors, Laodicea and Hierapolis. The historian Orosius says an earthquake hit all three in Nero's day. Over the next centuries the people moved to a safer town nearby called Chonae, today Honaz. Colossae was left empty.

NEVER DUG UP

Unlike the other cities Paul wrote to, Colossae was never dug until recently. A team from Pamukkale University led by Barış Yener began surveys in 2021. The first real dig started in 2025 and found about 60 tombs cut into the rock, more than 2,200 years old.

WHY IT MATTERS

Paul wrote one of his greatest letters to a small, fading town he had never seen. God does not save His best words for big cities.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Colossae was a real town in the Lycus valley with Laodicea and Hierapolis close by, just as the letter says, 4:13.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Nothing from the church of Colossae has been found yet. The house where they met, maybe Philemon's, is still under the dirt.

21 Once you were alienated from God and were hostile in your minds, engaging in evil deeds. 22 But now He has reconciled you by Christ's physical body through death to present you holy, unblemished, and blameless in His presence— 23 if indeed you continue in your faith, established and firm, not moved from the hope of the gospel you heard, which has been proclaimed to every creature under heaven, and of which I, Paul, have become a servant.

PAUL'S SUFFERING FOR THE CHURCH // 2 CORINTHIANS 11:16–33

24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for you, and I fill up in my flesh what is lacking in regard to Christ's afflictions for the sake of His body, which is the church. 25 I became its servant by the commission God gave me to fully proclaim to you the word of God, 26 the mystery that was hidden for ages and generations but is now revealed to His saints. 27 To them God has chosen to make known among the Gentiles the glorious riches of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

28 We proclaim Him, admonishing and teaching everyone with all wisdom, so that we may present everyone perfect in Christ. 29 To this end I also labor, striving with all His energy working powerfully within me.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Somebody in town is selling an upgrade: deep philosophy, strict food rules, holy days, angel visions. Paul says you do not need an upgrade. All the fullness of God lives in Jesus, and you are complete in Him. Your debt was nailed to the cross. Rules about do not touch and do not taste cannot fix the heart.

ABSENT IN BODY, PRESENT IN SPIRIT // REVELATION 3:14–22

1 For I want you to know how much I am struggling for you and for those at Laodicea, and for all who have not met me face to face, 2 that they may be encouraged in heart, knit together in love, and filled with the full riches of complete understanding, so that they may know the mystery of God, namely Christ, 3 in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 I say this so that no one will deceive you by smooth rhetoric. 5 For although I am absent from you in body, I am present with you in spirit, and I delight to see your orderly condition and firm faith in Christ.

ALIVE WITH CHRIST // EPHESIANS 2:1–10

6 Therefore, just as you have received Christ Jesus as Lord, continue to walk in Him, 7 rooted and built up in Him, established in the faith as you were taught, and overflowing with thankfulness.

8 See to it that no one takes you captive through philosophy and empty deception, which are based on human tradition and the spiritual forces of the world rather than on Christ. 9 For in Christ all the fullness of the Deity dwells in bodily form. 10 And you have been made complete in Christ, who is the head over every ruler and authority.

11 In Him you were also circumcised, in the putting off of your sinful nature, with the circumcision performed by Christ and not by human hands. 12 And having been buried with Him in baptism, you were raised with Him through your faith in the power of God, who raised Him from the dead.

A water tower at Laodicea. The round holes are the ends of stone water pipes, and the white crust is minerals left by the water. Photo Rjdeadly, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

A Roman water tower at Laodicea, the big city about 10 miles from Colossae. Water came in through stone pipes and was sent out to the city in clay pipes. Look for the round pipe holes and the thick white crust.

HOW OLD IT IS

Roman. The water system was built and repaired from about the first century AD on. The exact date of this tower is not known. A city law about the water, carved in stone in AD 114, set huge fines for anyone who dirtied the water or broke the pipes.

THE WATER

The water came from springs several miles south, near today's Denizli. It was so full of minerals that it crusted the pipes shut, and workers had to clean or replace them.

DEMONIC NOTABLE

HOT, COLD AND LUKEWARM
Jesus told this church, How I wish you were one or the other! So because you are lukewarm, I am about to vomit you out of My mouth, Revelation 3:15 to 16. Many scholars think He was pointing at their water. Hierapolis had hot springs that healed. Colossae had cold, fresh water. Laodicea's water, piped in from miles away and full of minerals, was neither.

THE EARTHQUAKE
Tacitus says an earthquake ruined Laodicea in AD 60, and the city rebuilt with its own money, without help from Rome. Jesus said, You say, I am rich; I have grown wealthy and need nothing, Revelation 3:17.

PAUL AND LAODICEA
Paul was struggling in prayer for them, 2:1. He greets the believers there and Nympha's house church, 4:15, and tells Colossae to swap letters with them, 4:16.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Laodicea was a rich city next to Colossae, with a water system that fits Revelation 3.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
The water reading of Revelation 3 is a strong guess, not something the Bible spells out.

13 When you were dead in your trespasses and in the uncircumcision of your sinful nature, God made you alive with Christ.
He forgave us all our trespasses, 14 having canceled the debt ascribed to us in the decrees that stood against us. He took it away, nailing it to the cross! 15 And having disarmed the powers and authorities, He made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them by the cross.

16 Therefore let no one judge you by what you eat or drink, or with regard to a feast, a New Moon, or a Sabbath. 17 These are a shadow of the things to come, but the body that casts it belongs to Christ. 18 Do not let anyone who delights in false humility and the worship of angels disqualify you with speculation about what he has seen. Such a person is puffed up without basis by his unspiritual mind. 19 He has lost connection to the head, from whom the whole body, supported and knit together by its joints and ligaments, grows as God causes it to grow.

20 If you have died with Christ to the spiritual forces of the world, why, as though you still belonged to the world, do you submit to its regulations: 21 "Do not handle, do not taste, do not touch!"? 22 These will all perish with use, because they are based on human commands and teachings. 23 Such restrictions indeed have an appearance of wisdom, with their self-prescribed worship, their false humility, and their harsh treatment of the body; but they are of no value against the indulgence of the flesh.

- COL 2:13 [NOTABLE] The debt is a handwritten IOU, a list of everything we owe God. Paul says God did not just stamp it paid. He took it away and nailed it to the cross. Many preachers picture the sign nailed over Jesus' head that listed His crime, John 19:19, with our list nailed there instead.
- COL 2:15 [DEMONIC] Christ disarmed the powers and triumphed over them by the cross

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS
You were raised with Christ, so set your mind on things above. Take off the old clothes, like anger, lies and greed. Put on the new ones, like kindness, forgiveness and love. Then Paul brings it home: wives, husbands, kids, parents, slaves and bosses. Whatever you do, do it for the Lord.

PUT ON THE NEW SELF // EPHESIANS 4:17–32

1 Therefore, since you have been raised with Christ, strive for the things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. 2 Set your minds on things above, not

- COL 2:16 [NOTE] A SHADOW. Food laws, festivals, New Moons and Sabbaths were a shadow, 2:17. Jesus is the body that casts it. So do not let anyone judge you over these things. Seventh day Adventists and some others say Paul means the extra holy day sabbaths of the Law, not the weekly Sabbath.
- COL 2:18 [NOTE] WORSHIP OF ANGELS. Scholars still debate what the Colossian teachers taught. It seems to mix Jewish rules, special visions and praying to angels. The habit lasted. About AD 363 a church council in Laodicea banned calling on angels, and in the 400s Theodoret said Phrygia still had chapels to the angel Michael. Some scholars read it as joining the worship that angels give God in visions.
- COL 3:1 [NOTABLE] You were raised with Christ, so live like it. Where your mind goes, your life follows. This does not mean ignore life down here. It means let heaven set your priorities on earth.
- COL 3:1 [ALLUDES TO] Refers to ← PS 110:1 p.960 on earthly things. 3 For you died, and your life is now hidden with Christ in God. 4

When Christ, who is your life, appears, then you also will appear with Him in glory.

5 Put to death, therefore, the components of your earthly nature: sexual immorality, impurity, lust, evil desires, and greed, which is idolatry. 6 Because of these, the wrath of God is coming on the sons of disobedience. 7 When you lived among them, you also used to walk in these ways. 8 But now you must put aside all such things as these: anger, rage, malice, slander, and filthy language from your lips.

9 Do not lie to one another, since you have taken off the old self with its practices, 10 and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge in the image of its Creator. 11 Here there is no Greek or Jew, circumcised or uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave, or free, but Christ is all and is in all.

12 Therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, clothe yourselves with hearts of compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience. 13 Bear with one another and forgive any complaint you may have against someone else. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. 14 And over all these virtues put on love, which is the bond of perfect unity. 15 Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, for to this you were called as members of one body. And be thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ richly dwell within you as you teach and admonish one another with all wisdom, and as you sing psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs with gratitude in your hearts to God. 17 And whatever you do, in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him.

CHRISTIAN HOUSEHOLDS // EPHESIANS 6:1–4

18 Wives, submit to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord.

19 Husbands, love your wives and do not be harsh with them.

20 Children, obey your parents in everything, for this is pleasing to the Lord.

21 Fathers, do not provoke your children,
so they will not become discouraged.

SERVING WITH HONOR // EPHESIANS 6:5–9; 1 TIMO-THY 6:1–2

22 Slaves, obey your earthly masters in everything, not only to please them while they are watching, but with sincerity of heart and fear of the Lord.

23 Whatever you do, work at it with your whole being, as for the Lord and not for men, 24 because you know that you will receive an inheritance from the Lord as your reward. It is the Lord Christ you are serving. 25 Whoever does wrong will be repaid for his wrong, and there is no favoritism.

GREETINGS FROM PAUL'S FELLOW WORKERS // ROMANS 16:21–23

7 Tychicus will tell you all the news about me. He is a beloved brother, a faithful minister, and a fellow servant in the Lord.
8 I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know about us, and that he may encourage your hearts. 9 With him I am sending Onesimus, our faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you.
They will tell you about everything here.

10 My fellow prisoner Aristarchus sends you greetings, as does Mark the cousin of Barnabas. You have already received instructions about him: If he comes to you, welcome him. 11 Jesus, who is called Jus-tus, also sends greetings. These are the only Jews among my fellow workers for the kingdom of God, and they have been a comfort to me.

12 Epaphras, who is one of you and a servant of Christ Jesus, sends you greetings.
He is always wrestling in prayer for you,
so that you may stand mature and fully assured in the full will of God. 13 For I testify about him that he goes to great pains for you and for those at Laodicea and Hi-erapolis.

14 Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas
send you greetings.

SIGNATURE AND FINAL INSTRUCTIONS // 1 CORINTHIANS 16:19–24; 2 THESSALONIANS 3:16–18

15 Greet the brothers in Laodicea, as well as Nympha and the church that meets at her house.

16 After this letter has been read among you, make sure that it is also read in the church of the Laodiceans, and that you in turn read the letter from Laodicea.

17 Tell Archippus: "See to it that you complete the ministry you have received in the Lord."

18 This greeting is in my own hand—Paul.

Remember my chains.

Grace be with you.

COL 4:6 [NOTABLE] Salt keeps food from going bad and gives it flavor. Your words should be kind, but not bland. Grace with salt means people can tell you love them and also that you mean it. Be ready with an answer, 1 Peter 3:15.

COL 4:9 [NOTE] ONESIMUS. A slave from Colossae who ran away from his master Philemon, met Paul, and became a believer. Paul sends him home with this letter, now a faithful and beloved brother, and writes the little letter to Philemon asking him to welcome Onesimus like Paul himself, Philemon 16 to 17, p.1971.

COL 4:10 [NOTE] MARK IS BACK. Paul once refused to take Mark on a trip because he had quit on them, and Paul and Barnabas split over it, Acts 15:37 to 39, p.1769. Now Mark is on Paul's team, and Paul tells the church to welcome him. Later Paul says he is useful to me, 2 Timothy 4:11. Quitting once does not have to be the end.

COL 4:13 [FIELD NOTES] See the Hierapolis Field Notes page, p.1910.

COL 4:16 [NOTE] THE LETTER FROM LAODICEA. It is lost, or it is a letter we already have. Many think it is Ephesians, because in Ephesus is missing from 1:1 in the oldest copies, p.1878. A fake Letter to the Laodiceans, 20 verses pieced together from Philippians and Galatians, later got into many Latin Bibles, like Codex Fuldensis about AD 546. The church never accepted it as Scripture.

HIERAPOLIS

COLOSSIANS 4:12 TO 13

The Plutonium at Hierapolis: a stone arch over the small opening to the cave. Photo Carole Raddato, CC BY SA 2.0.

WHAT IT IS

The Plutonium, a shrine to Pluto, the Greek god of the dead, at Hierapolis. Below the arch is a small opening into a cave full of deadly gas. People called it a gate to the underworld.

HOW OLD IT IS

Hierapolis was founded about 190 BC. The shrine goes back about that far, and the Greek writer Strabo saw it working near the time of Jesus. It was rebuilt over the centuries. Italian archaeologists found part of it in 1965 and uncovered the whole shrine around 2013.

THE DEADLY GAS

Strabo said any animal that went in died at once. He threw in sparrows, and they fell dead. Priests of the goddess Cybele went in and came out alive, and people called it a miracle. In 2018 scientists found the gas is carbon dioxide. It is heavier than air and lies low, so a tall man standing up could live where a bird or a bull would die.

EPAPHRAS' TOWN

Epaphras worked hard for the believers in Colossae, Laodicea and Hierapolis, 4:13. The gospel got into a town that bragged about its gate to hell.

LATER CHRISTIANS

Tradition says the apostle Philip died here, and a church was built for him about AD 400. Papias, who told how Mark and Matthew wrote their Gospels, led the church here about AD 100 to 130.

WHY IT MATTERS

Jesus said the gates of Hades will not prevail against His church, Matthew 16:18. In Hierapolis the gate of Hades was a real place, and the church outlasted it.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Hierapolis was a real city full of pagan worship, close to Colossae and Laodicea, just as 4:13 lists them.

BOOK 52 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · LETTER

1 THESSALONIANS

Jesus Is Coming Back

AUTHOR	Paul, with Silvanus, also called Silas, and Timothy, 1:1. Almost no scholar doubts that Paul wrote it.
WRITTEN FROM	Corinth, right after Timothy came back with news, 3:6 and Acts 18:5.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 50 to 51. Many say it is the oldest book in the New Testament. Others give that title to Galatians or James.
WRITTEN TO	The young church in Thessalonica, the capital of the Roman province of Macedonia in northern Greece.
WHY HE WROTE	Paul had to leave town in a hurry. He wanted to encourage a church under fire, answer charges against him, and comfort them about believers who had died.
KEY VERSE	1 Thessalonians 4:16. For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a loud command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God.

AN EARLY COPY OF 1 THESSALONIANS
These are pieces of Papyrus 30, a page from a book of Paul's letters copied in Egypt in the 200s AD. It was found at Oxyrhynchus and is now at Ghent University Library in Belgium. This side holds bits of 1 Thessalonians 4:12 to 13, 4:16 to 17 and 5:12 to 14, and the start of 2 Thessalonians. Papyrus 46, from about AD 200, also holds parts of 1 Thessalonians, and Papyrus 65 is another scrap from the 200s.

THE HOPE ON PAPYRUS. Some of these scraps hold 4:16 to 17, the Lord coming down and believers caught up to meet Him. Christians in Egypt were reading that promise about 1,800 years ago.

Historical Setting

Thessalonica was founded about 316 BC and named after Thessalonike, a half sister of Alexander the Great. By Paul's day it was the capital of Macedonia, a busy port on the Via Egnatia, the great Roman highway. About AD 49 or 50, Paul and Silas came straight from being beaten and jailed in Philippi. For three Sabbaths Paul taught in the synagogue, and Jews, Greeks and leading women believed. Then a mob dragged Jason and other believers before the city officials, shouting that these men had turned the world upside down, Acts 17:1 to 9. Paul slipped out by night. A few months later he wrote this letter.

What Thessalonica Was Up Against

PERSECUTION. Their own neighbors turned on them, 2:14 and 3:3 to 4.
RUMORS ABOUT PAUL. Some said Paul was a con man who ran off, 2:3 to 6 and 2:17 to 18.
SEXUAL SIN. Pagan culture saw nothing wrong with it, 4:3 to 8.
NOT WORKING. Some had stopped working and were leaning on others, 4:11 to 12 and 5:14.
GRIEF AND QUESTIONS. Believers had died, and the church was afraid they would miss the Lord's return, 4:13.

The Idiot Proof Summary

1 Thessalonians is a letter from a spiritual dad to a brand new church. Paul was only with them a short time before a mob chased him out, and he was worried sick. When Timothy brought good news, Paul wrote to cheer them on. Every chapter ends with the return of Jesus. For a church losing loved ones and facing hate from their neighbors, that hope was everything. Jesus is coming back, the dead in Christ will rise, and we will always be with the Lord.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

MAYBE THE OLDEST
This may be the first book of the New Testament ever written, about 20 years after Jesus rose.

EVERY CHAPTER ENDS THE SAME
Each chapter ends with Jesus coming back: 1:10, 2:19, 3:13, 4:16 to 17 and 5:23.

THE WORD RAPTURE
The word is not in English Bibles. It comes from the Latin Bible, where 4:17 says rapiemur, we will be caught up.

THE NEXT TOWN
After Thessalonica, Paul went to Berea, where people checked his teaching against the Scriptures every day, Acts 17:11. That is 5:21 in action.

Did Anybody Listen?

Yes. Paul soon wrote again, 2 Thessalonians, to clear up confusion about the Day of the Lord. Thessalonica became one of the strongest churches in Greece. Two men from there, Aristarchus and Secundus, traveled with Paul, Acts 20:4, and Aristarchus went all the way to Rome with him, Acts 27:2. Today Thessaloniki is the second biggest city in Greece, full of old churches, and believers still read 4:13 to 18 at funerals.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul is bragging on a brand new church. People all over Greece are talking about how the Thessalonians turned from idols to the living God and are now waiting for Jesus to come back from heaven. Not bad for a few weeks of Bible study.

GREETINGS TO THE THESSALONIANS // 2 THESSALONIANS 1:1–4

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy,

To the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

Grace and peace to you.

2 We always thank God for all of you, remembering you in our prayers 3 and continually recalling before our God and Father your work of faith, your labor of love, and your enduring hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.

4 Brothers who are beloved by God, we know that He has chosen you, 5 because our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power, in the Holy Spirit, and with great conviction—just as you know we lived among you for your sake. 6 And you became imitators of us and of the Lord when you welcomed the message with the joy of the Holy Spirit, in spite of your great suffering.

7 As a result, you have become an example to all the believers in Macedonia and Achaia. 8 For not only did the message of the Lord ring out from you to Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith in God has gone out to every place, so that we have no need to say anything more. 9 For they themselves report what kind of welcome you gave us, and how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God 10 and to await His Son from heaven, whom He raised from the dead—Jesus our deliverer from the coming wrath.

Left: the vaulted corridor, or cryptoporticus, and the square of the Roman forum. Photo Andrew Zorin, CC BY SA 3.0. Right: a round room of the older Greek era baths found under the forum. Photo Marsyas, CC BY 2.5.

WHAT IT IS

The heart of ancient Thessalonica, now in the middle of the modern city of Thessaloniki, Greece. Left: the big open square of the Roman forum with its arched underground corridor. Right: a round room from a public bath of the older Greek city, with stone basins set around the wall.

HOW OLD IT IS

The forum you see was built mostly in the late 100s AD, more than 100 years after Paul, and used into the 500s. Under it are older layers from the Greek city, like these baths. They are from before Paul, and they may still have been in use when he came. The site was found in the 1960s, when builders started digging for a new courthouse.

PAUL WAS HERE

Paul taught in the synagogue for three Sabbaths, Acts 17:2. A mob formed in the marketplace, Acts 17:5, rushed Jason's house, and dragged believers before the city officials. The marketplace of Paul's day lies somewhere under this later square.

THE POLITARCHS

Acts calls the city officials politarchs, a rare title. Stones from Thessalonica prove Luke got it right. See The Politarch Inscription page in Acts, p.1771.

A CITY ON THE HIGHWAY

Thessalonica sat on the Via Egnatia and had a harbor. That is why the message rang out from you to Macedonia and Achaia, 1:8. News traveled fast from here. See The Via Egnatia page in Philippians, p.1897.

THE HEART

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Thessalonica was a big, busy Roman city with a public square, officials and crowds, just as Acts 17 describes.
WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Most of what you see came after Paul. Nothing here names Paul or the church.

2

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS
Paul did not come for money or fame. He was gentle like a nursing mother and worked night and day so he would not be a burden. They took his message as God's word, even when their own neighbors turned on them.

PAUL'S MINISTRY

1 You yourselves know, brothers, that our visit to you was not in vain. 2 As you are aware, we had already endured suffering and shameful treatment in Philippi. But in the face of strong opposition, we were bold in our God to speak to you the gospel of God.

3 For our appeal does not arise from deceit or ulterior motives or trickery. 4 Instead, we speak as those approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel, not in order to please men but God, who examines our hearts. 5 As you know, we never used words of flattery or any pretext for greed.
God is our witness! 6 Nor did we seek praise from you or from anyone else, although as apostles of Christ we had authority to demand it.

1TH 2:4 [HEART] Paul preaches to please God, who tests our hearts, not to please people.

THE GODS OF THESSALONICA

Left: head of Sarapis, AD 150 to 200. Photo Yair Haklai, CC BY SA 4.0. Middle: stone ear dedicated to Isis, first century BC. Photo Gts-tg, CC BY SA 4.0. Both in the Archaeological Museum of Thessaloniki. Right: coin of Thessalonica with the god Kabeiros, about AD 193 to 217. Photo HJunghans, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS
Three things from the idols the Thessalonians turned away from, 1:9. Left: a huge marble head of Sarapis, a god from Egypt. Middle: a stone carved with an ear, given to Isis, the goddess who listens, by a man named Marcus Agelleius. Right: a city coin showing Kabeiros, Thessalonica's own god, holding a hammer inside a little temple.
HOW OLD IT IS
The ear stone is from the first century BC, before Paul came. The head of Sarapis is from about AD 150 to 200. The coin was made about AD 193 to 217, under the empress Julia Domna.
THE TEMPLE OF EGYPT'S GODS
After a great fire in 1917, digging in 1921 found a sanctuary of Sarapis and Isis in the old city, with more than 70 inscriptions and a hidden underground room. People had worshiped the Egyptian gods in Thessalonica since about 200 BC.
A GOD WHO LISTENS?
People carved ears and gave them to Isis, hoping she would hear their prayers. Paul brought news of the living and true God, 1:9, who really does hear, 5:17.
KABEIROS
Kabeiros was a local god of mystery rites. Later the city put him on its coins as its protector. Some scholars think the cult was strong in Paul's day too, but that is debated.

PROPHECIES FULFILLED IN SCRIPTURE DEMONIC NOTABLE

TURNING FROM IDOLS
Leaving these gods was costly. It could mean losing friends, business and family, and it made the neighbors angry, 2:14. That is why everyone was talking about this church, 1:8 to 9.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
Thessalonica was full of idols, just as 1:9 says.

7 On the contrary, we were gentle among you, like a nursing mother caring for her children. 8 We cared so deeply that we were delighted to share with you not only the gospel of God, but our own lives as well. That is how beloved you have become to us.
9 Surely you recall, brothers, our labor and toil. We worked night and day so that we would not be a burden to anyone while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God. 10
You are witnesses, and so is God, of how holy, righteous, and blameless our conduct was among you who believed. 11 For you know that we treated each of you as a father treats his own children— 12 encouraging you, comforting you, and urging you to walk in a manner worthy of God, who calls you into His own kingdom and glory.
13 And we continually thank God because, when you received the word of God that you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of men, but as it truly is, the word of God, which is also now at work in you who believe.
14 For you, brothers, became imitators of the churches of God in Judea that are in Christ Jesus. You suffered from your own countrymen the very things they suffered from the Jews, 15 who killed both the Lord Jesus and their own prophets and drove us out as well. They are displeasing to God and hostile to all men, 16 hindering us from telling the Gentiles how they may be saved. As a result, they continue to heap up their sins to full capacity; the utmost wrath has come upon them.

PAUL'S LONGING TO VISIT

17 Brothers, although we were torn away from you for a short time (in person, not in heart), our desire to see you face to face was even more intense. 18 For we wanted to come to you—indeed I, Paul, tried again and again—but Satan obstructed us. 19 After all, who is our hope, our joy, our crown of boasting, if it is not you yourselves in the presence of our Lord Jesus at His coming? 20 You are indeed our glory and our joy.

3

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS
Paul got run out of town and could not stand not knowing how they were doing. So he sent Timothy. Timothy came back with good news: they are standing firm. Paul is so relieved he says, now we can go on living.

TIMOTHY'S VISIT

1 So when we could bear it no longer, we were willing to be left on our own in Athens. 2 We sent Timothy, our brother and fellow worker for God in the gospel of Christ, to strengthen and encourage you in your faith, 3 so that none of you would be shaken by these trials. For you know that we are destined for this. 4 Indeed, when we were with you, we kept warning you that we would suffer persecution; and as you know, it has come to pass. 5 For this reason, when I could bear it no longer, I sent to find out about your faith, for fear that the tempter had somehow

- 1TH 2:7 [NOTABLE] Paul, the tough apostle who was beaten and jailed, calls himself a nursing mother. Real leaders are gentle. He gave them not just the gospel but his own life, 2:8, and then he was a father to them too, 2:11.
- 1TH 2:9 [NOTE] NIGHT AND DAY. Paul made tents, Acts 18:3, so no one could say he preached for money. He had the right to be paid, 2:6 and 1 Corinthians 9:14, but chose not to use it here. Ministry and business can go together. See 4:11.
- 1TH 2:14 [FULFILLS] Paul warned the believers in Thessalonica that they would suffer persecution ← 1TH 3:4 p.1916
- 1TH 2:15 [NOTE] HARD WORDS. Paul was a Jew, and so were Jesus and all the first apostles. Here he means the leaders who opposed Jesus and the men who drove Paul out of town, Acts 17:5, not every Jewish person. Elsewhere he says he would give up his own soul for his people, Romans 9:3, and that God has not rejected Israel, Romans 11:1, p.1813. Sadly, these verses were later misused to justify hatred of Jews. Some scholars think 2:15 to 16 was added later, but every manuscript has it.
- 1TH 2:18 [DEMONIC] Satan hindered us tempted you and that our labor might have been in vain.

TIMOTHY'S ENCOURAGING REPORT

6 But just now, Timothy has returned from his visit with the good news about your faith, your love, and the fond memories you have preserved, longing to see us just as we long to see you. 7 For this reason, brothers, in all our distress and persecution, we have been reassured about you, because of your faith. 8 For now we can go on living, as long as you are standing firm in the Lord.

9 How can we adequately thank God for you in return for our great joy over you in His presence? 10 Night and day we pray most earnestly that we may see you face to face and supply what is lacking in your faith.

11 Now may our God and Father Himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our way to you. 12 And may the Lord cause you to increase and overflow with love for one another and for everyone else, just as our love for you overflows, 13 so that He may establish your hearts in blamelessness and holiness before our God and Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all His saints. Amen.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Stay sexually pure, love each other and work with your hands. Then the big one. Some believers had died, and the church was worried they would miss out. Paul says no. The dead in Christ rise first, then we are caught up with them to meet the Lord. Encourage each other with that.

LIVING TO PLEASE GOD

1 Finally, brothers, we ask and encourage you in the Lord Jesus to live in a way that is pleasing to God, just as you have received from us. This is how you already live, so you should do so all the more. 2 For you know the instructions we gave you by the authority of the Lord Jesus.

3 For it is God's will that you should be holy: You must abstain from sexual immorality; 4 each of you must know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, 5 not in lustful passion like the Gentiles who do not know God; 6 and no one should ever violate or exploit his brother in this regard, because the Lord will avenge all such acts, as we have already told you and solemnly warned you. 7 For God has not called us to impurity, but to holiness. 8 Anyone, then, who rejects this command does not reject man but God, the very One who gives you His Holy Spirit.

9 Now about brotherly love, you do not need anyone to write to you, because you yourselves have been taught by God to love one another. 10 And you are indeed showing this love to all the brothers throughout Macedonia. But we urge you, brothers, to excel more and more 11 and to aspire to live quietly, to attend to your own matters, and to work with your own hands, as we instructed you. 12 Then you will behave properly toward outsiders, without being dependent on anyone.

THE RETURN OF THE LORD

13 Brothers, we do not want you to be uninformed about those who sleep in death, so that you will not grieve like the rest, who are without hope. 14 For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, we also believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in Him.

1TH 4:4 [NOTE] CONTROL YOUR BODY. The Greek says your own vessel. Most read it as your own body, keep it under control. Some read it as take a wife for yourself in holiness. Either way, God's will is clear: sex belongs in marriage, 4:3, and cheating on a brother hurts real people, 4:6.

1TH 4:11 [NOTABLE] Mind your own business and earn your own way. Some in Thessalonica had quit working, maybe waiting for Jesus to come back. Paul worked night and day himself, 2:9. Later he wrote, if anyone is not willing to work, he shall not eat, 2 Thessalonians 3:10.

WHEN THE KING COMES

1 THESSALONIANS 4:15 TO 17 · 2:19 · ACTS 28:15

Both sides of a bronze coin of Corinth honoring Nero's arrival in Greece, AD 66 to 67. The ship side reads ADVE AVG, the arrival of the emperor. Bibliothèque nationale de France, public domain.

WHAT IT IS

A coin from Corinth, the city where Paul wrote this letter. One side shows the emperor Nero. The other shows a warship and the words ADVE AVG, short for adventus Augusti, the arrival of the emperor.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was made about AD 66 to 67, when Nero toured Greece, about 15 years after Paul wrote 1 Thessalonians.

THE WORD PAROUSIA

Paul's word for the coming of the Lord, 4:15, is parousia. In Paul's world it often meant the official visit of a king or emperor to a city. Latin called it adventus. Cities minted coins and held parties to mark it.

GOING OUT TO MEET HIM

When a king came, the leading citizens went out of the city to meet him on the road, then walked back in with him. The Greek word for that meeting is apantesis. Paul uses it in 4:17, to meet the Lord in the air. Luke uses it when believers from Rome came out to meet Paul, Acts 28:15.

WHAT IT MEANS

Paul took the words people used for Caesar and gave them to Jesus. The real King is coming, and His people will go out to meet Him.

THE DEBATE

Some teachers say this picture means believers meet Jesus in the air and come right back down with Him to earth. Others say the picture does not settle where they go next, John 14:3. See The Big Question pages that follow, p.1918.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS

Paul's words in 4:15 to 17 are the same words used for royal visits in his day.

15 By the word of the Lord, we declare to you that we who are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord will by no means precede those who have fallen asleep. 16
For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a loud command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will be the first to rise. 17 After that, we who are alive and remain will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will always be with the Lord.

18 Therefore encourage one another with these words.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

THE RAPTURE

What the Church Has Believed

1 THESSALONIANS 4:13 TO 18 · 5:1 TO 11

WHAT PAUL SAID

Believers in Thessalonica had died, and the church was afraid they would miss the return of Jesus. Paul says no. The Lord Himself will come down from heaven with a shout and a trumpet. The dead in Christ rise first. Then believers who are still alive will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will always be with the Lord, 4:16 to 17. Every Christian group agrees on that much. The fight is over WHEN it happens and what happens next.

WHERE THE WORD COMES FROM

Caught up is harpazo in Greek. The Latin

1TH 4:15 [PROPHECY] The Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air → STILL TO COME

1TH 4:15 [FIELD NOTES] See the When the King Comes Field Notes page, p.1918.

1TH 4:17 [NOTE] CAUGHT UP. The word rapture comes from this verse in the Latin Bible, rapiemur. When it happens is one of the biggest debates in the church. See The Big Question pages that follow, p.1918.

Bible says rapiemur, and that gives us the word rapture. The question is how the rapture fits with the tribulation, a time of great trouble, Daniel 9:27, Matthew 24:21 and Revelation 6 to 19, and with the thousand years of Revelation 20, called the millennium.

THE EARLY CHURCH, AD 100 TO 300

Many early leaders expected Jesus to come back and reign on earth for 1,000 years. This is called chiliasm, or historic premillennialism. The Didache, about AD 100, warns that a world deceiver will come and believers must endure to the end. Justin Martyr, about AD 155, believed in the 1,000 years but said some true Christians did not. Irenaeus, about AD 180, and Hippolytus, about AD 200, taught that the church would face the Antichrist. Pre tribulation teachers point to one line in Irenaeus, when the church shall suddenly be caught up from this, Against Heresies 5.29. Most scholars read him as expecting the church to go through the trouble first.

AUGUSTINE CHANGES THE PICTURE

About AD 426, Augustine wrote The City of God. He taught that the 1,000 years is not a future kingdom but the church age right now, with Christ reigning from heaven. This is called amillennialism. It became the main view of the Catholic and Orthodox churches, and later of Martin Luther, John Calvin and most Protestant churches. In this view there is one return of Christ at the end, when believers rise to meet Him.

JOHN NELSON DARBY, 1830S

Darby was an Irish preacher who helped start the Plymouth Brethren. Around 1830 he taught a new system called dispensationalism, which keeps Israel and the church on two separate tracks. In it, Jesus comes FOR His church in a secret rapture before a 7 year tribulation, and later comes WITH His church to rule. Darby spread it at Bible meetings at Powerscourt, Ireland, 1831 to 1833, and on trips to America from 1862 to 1877.

CYRUS SCOFIELD, 1909

Cyrus I. Scofield learned Darby's ideas from the St. Louis pastor James H. Brookes. In 1909 Oxford University Press printed the Scofield Reference Bible, with Scofield's notes right on the page under the Bible text. It was revised in 1917 and sold more than two million copies by the end of World War II. For millions of readers, the notes and the verses blended together. It is still sold today as the Scofield Study Bible.

THE 1900S

Dallas Theological Seminary, founded 1924, trained thousands of pastors in this view. Hal Lindsey's The Late Great Planet Earth, 1970, and the Left Behind novels, 1995 to 2007, sold tens of millions of copies. For many American churches, pre tribulation became the only view they ever heard. Worldwide, it is still a minority view.

When Does It Happen?

1 THESSALONIANS 4:17 · 5:9 · MATTHEW 24:29 TO 31 · REVELATION 3:10

PRE TRIBULATION

Jesus takes His church to heaven BEFORE the 7 years of trouble. Key verses: God has not appointed us to suffer wrath, 5:9; I will keep you from the hour of testing, Revelation 3:10; I will come back and welcome you, John 14:3. Best case: Jesus could come at any moment, so stay ready, and after Revelation 3 the word church does not show up again until 22:16. Held by Darby, Scofield, Dallas Seminary and many Baptist, Bible church and Pentecostal churches.

MID TRIBULATION

The rapture comes in the MIDDLE, after 3 and a half years, when Daniel's 70th week breaks in half, Daniel 9:27. Key verses: Paul's last trumpet, 1 Corinthians 15:52, matched with the seventh trumpet, Revelation 11:15. Best case: believers face the first trials but are taken before the worst. Held by a smaller group, like the scholar Gleason Archer.

PRE WRATH

The rapture comes after the Antichrist's persecution starts but BEFORE God pours out His wrath, somewhere in the second half. Key verses: the sun is darkened and then the angels gather the elect, Matthew 24:29 to 31; the great day of their wrath has come, Revelation

END TIMES PROPHECIES

6:17. Best case: the church suffers from man but never from God. Made popular by Marvin Rosenthal's book in 1990.

POST TRIBULATION

There is ONE return of Jesus, AFTER the tribulation. Believers are caught up to meet Him and come right back with Him, like a city going out to welcome a king, Acts 28:15. Key verses: Immediately after the tribulation, Matthew 24:29 to 31; that day will not come until the man of lawlessness is revealed, 2 Thessalonians 2:3. Best case: it is the simplest reading and closest to the early church. Held by scholars like George Eldon Ladd and Robert Gundry.

AMILLENNIAL

No 7 year countdown and no future 1,000 year kingdom on earth. The millennium is now. Jesus returns once at the end, the dead rise, believers meet Him, and the judgment and new creation follow. Held by Catholic, Orthodox, Lutheran and many Reformed churches, which means most Christians in history.

POSTMILLENNIAL

The gospel will slowly win the world and bring a long golden age, and THEN Jesus returns once. Popular with the Puritans and Jonathan Edwards in the 1700s and still held by some today.

ANY OLDER PRE TRIB VOICES?

Supporters point to a sermon called Pseudo Ephraem, written sometime between AD 300 and 700, that says the saints are taken to the Lord before the tribulation; scholars argue about what it means. Morgan Edwards, a Baptist, wrote in 1788 about a rapture three and a half years before the end. A Scottish teen, Margaret MacDonald, had a vision in 1830; some say Darby borrowed from it, but scholars dispute both what she meant and whether he did.

PRETERISM

Preter means past. Preterists say many of these prophecies already came true when Rome destroyed Jerusalem and the temple in AD 70. Key verse: this generation will not pass away until all these things have happened, Matthew 24:34. PARTIAL preterists say the great tribulation happened then, but the return of Jesus, the resurrection and 4:16 to 17 are still to come; R.C. Sproul and Kenneth Gentry taught this. FULL preterists say everything happened in AD 70, even the return of Jesus and the resurrection. To them every prophecy in the Bible has already come true, so every verse highlighted Blue in this Bible as still to come would already be fulfilled. Partial preterists keep a few Blue verses, like 4:16 to 17, in the future; Catholic, Orthodox and nearly all Protestant churches reject that, because the creeds say He will come again. The first full preterist commentary was by Luis de Alcázar, a Spanish Jesuit, printed in 1614.

WHAT WE ALL AGREE ON

Jesus is coming back. The dead in Christ will rise. We will always be with the Lord. Nobody knows the day, 5:1 to 2. Stay awake and live ready, 5:6. And as Paul says, encourage one another with these words, 4:18, not fight with them.

5

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Nobody knows the date. The Day of the Lord comes like a thief. So stay awake and sober. Respect your leaders. Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in everything. Test everything and keep the good. The God of peace will finish what He started.

THE DAY OF THE LORD // ZEPHANIAH 1:7–18; MALACHI 4:1–6; 2 PETER 3:8–13

1 Now about the times and seasons, brothers, we do not need to write to you. 2 For you are fully aware that the Day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. 3 While people are saying, "Peace and security," destruction will come upon them suddenly, like labor pains on a pregnant woman, and they will not escape.

4 But you, brothers, are not in the darkness so that this day should overtake you like a thief. 5 For you are all sons of the light and sons of the day; we do not be-

1TH 5:1 [PROPHECY] The day of the Lord so comes as a thief in the night. For when they say, 'Peace and safety!' then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman → STILL TO COME

long to the night or to the darkness. 6 So then, let us not sleep as the others do, but let us remain awake and sober. 7 For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, get drunk at night. 8 But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and the helmet of our hope of salvation.

9 For God has not appointed us to suffer wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. 10 He died for us so that, whether we are awake or asleep, we may live together with Him. 11 Therefore encourage and build one another up, just as you are already doing.

CHRISTIAN LIVING

12 But we ask you, brothers, to acknowledge those who work diligently among you, who care for you in the Lord and who admonish you. 13 In love, hold them in highest regard because of their work. Live in peace with one another.

14 And we urge you, brothers, to admonish the unruly, encourage the fainthearted, help the weak, and be patient with everyone.

15 Make sure that no one repays evil for evil. Always pursue what is good for one another and for all people.

16 Rejoice at all times. 17 Pray without ceasing. 18 Give thanks in every circumstance, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus.

19 Do not extinguish the Spirit. 20 Do not treat prophecies with contempt, 21 but test all things. Hold fast to what is good. 22 Abstain from every form of evil.

FINAL BLESSINGS AND INSTRUCTIONS

23 Now may the God of peace Himself sanctify you completely, and may your entire spirit, soul, and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. 24 The One who calls you is faithful, and He will do it.

Top: silver coin of Claudius, AD 46 to 47, with Pax and the words PACI AVGVSTAE. Photo Coin Archives, CC BY SA 2.5. Bottom: bronze coin of Nero, about AD 66, with Securitas and the words SECVRITAS AVGVSTI. Photo EttuBruta, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

Two Roman coins. Top: Claudius, the emperor when Paul wrote, and on the back a winged goddess Pax, peace, with the words To the Emperor's Peace. Bottom: Nero, and on the back the goddess Securitas, safety, sitting on a throne, with the words The Security of the Emperor.

HOW OLD IT IS

The Claudius coin was made in Rome in AD 46 to 47, just a few years before Paul wrote. Coins like it were in people's pockets. The Nero coin is from about AD 66.

1TH 5:16 [NOTABLE] People always ask, what is God's will for my life? Here it is in three short lines. Pray without ceasing does not mean nonstop words. It means keep the line open all day. Give thanks IN everything, not FOR everything.
■ 1TH 5:20 [NOTE] DO NOT DESPISE PROPHECY. Paul expected real prophecy in the church, and he expected it to be tested, 5:21. See the Ephesians pages on prophets today, p.1886.
1TH 5:21 [NOTABLE] God does not want blind faith. Check every teaching, prophecy and preacher against Scripture, keep what is good and throw out the rest. The very next town Paul visited, Berea, did exactly that, Acts 17:11.

■ 1TH 5:23 [NOTE] SPIRIT, SOUL AND BODY. Some read this as three parts of a person: a spirit that knows God, a soul that thinks and feels, and a body. Others say we are two parts, body and soul, and Paul is just saying all of you, the way Jesus said heart, soul, mind and strength, Mark 12:30. Either way, God wants to make all of you holy.

THE EMPIRE'S SLOGAN
Rome bragged that it had brought peace and safety to the world. People called it the Pax Romana, the Roman peace. Coins, statues and temples all told the same story: trust Caesar, and you are safe.

WHAT PAUL SAID
While people are saying, Peace and security, destruction will come upon them suddenly, 5:3. Many scholars think Paul is poking at Rome's slogan. The peace of Caesar will not save anyone on the Day of the Lord.

THE OTHER VIEW
Other scholars say Paul is echoing the prophets, who blasted false prophets for saying Peace, peace when there is no peace, Jeremiah 6:14 and Ezekiel 13:10. He may mean both.

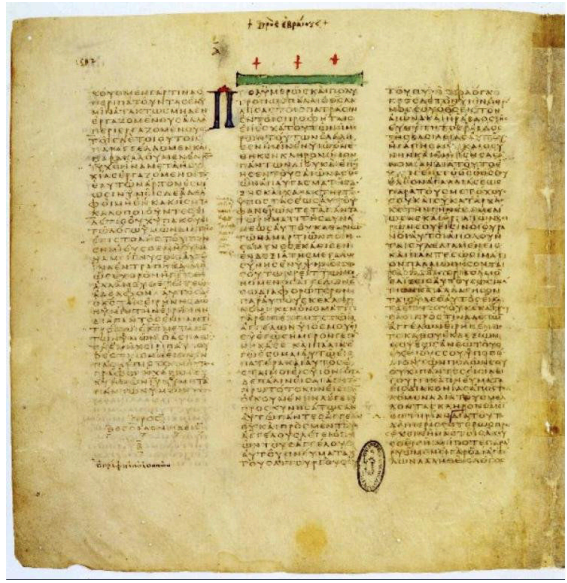
WHAT IT MEANS FOR YOU
Every age has its own peace and security. Money, government and tech all promise it. Only Jesus delivers from the coming wrath, 1:10.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
No coin mentions Paul. The coins show what people were saying, not which words Paul had in mind.

25 Brothers, pray for us as well.

26 Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss.

27 I charge you before the Lord to have this letter read to all the brothers.



28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

2 THESSALONIANS

Not Yet

AUTHOR	Paul, with Silvanus and Timothy, 1:1. Paul signs it in his own hand, 3:17. Many scholars think a follower wrote it later, because it sounds different about the end than 1 Thessalonians.
WRITTEN FROM	Corinth, where Paul, Silas and Timothy were together, Acts 18:5.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 51, a few months after 1 Thessalonians.
WRITTEN TO	The same young church in Thessalonica, still under persecution, 1:4.
WHY HE WROTE	A fake message said the Day of the Lord had already come, 2:2. Some believers had quit working, 3:11. Paul wrote to calm them down and set them straight.
KEY VERSE	2 Thessalonians 2:3. Let no one deceive you in any way, for it will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed.

AN EARLY COPY OF 2 THESSALONIANS
A page of Codex Vaticanus, one of the oldest complete Bibles, copied about AD 300 to 350, in the Vatican Library. The left column ends 2 Thessalonians, 3:11 to 18, with Paul's signature line, 3:17. The next columns start Hebrews. Older still is Papyrus 30, from the 200s, which holds a few verses of 2 Thessalonians.

Historical Setting

Paul had written 1 Thessalonians to comfort a church that was afraid their dead would miss the return of Jesus. Then things got worse. The persecution kept going. And someone, maybe a prophet in the church, maybe a fake letter signed with Paul's name, told them the Day of the Lord was already here. Some were so shaken that they quit their jobs. Paul writes back fast, from Corinth, to say: calm down, not yet, and get back to work. For the first letter, see 1 Thessalonians, p.1911.

What Thessalonica Was Up Against

PERSECUTION. They were still suffering for their faith, 1:4 to 6.
PANIC. They were told the Day of the Lord had already come, 2:2.
A FAKE LETTER. Someone may have used Paul's name to spread it, 2:2 and 3:17.
IDLE BELIEVERS. Some were not working, just being busybodies, 3:11.

The Idiot Proof Summary

2 Thessalonians is Paul's follow up letter. The church had heard that the end had already come, and some had panicked. Paul says no. Certain things have to happen first, and Jesus will win when He comes. Until then, do not freak out, do not quit your job, and do not stop doing good. It is a short letter for anyone who has been scared by end times headlines.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

PAUL'S SIGNATURE
Paul usually dictated his letters to a helper, then signed the end himself, 3:17. Romans even names the writer, Tertius, Romans 16:22.

ANTICHRIST?
The word antichrist is never used in this letter. Paul says the man of lawlessness. The word antichrist only shows up in 1 and 2 John.

THE MOST ARGUED OVER VERSES
Who the restrainer is in 2:6 to 7 may be the most debated question in all of Paul's letters. See The Big Question pages, p.1928.

THE WORK RULE
3:10 became a common saying. Captain John Smith used it in Jamestown, Virginia, in 1608 to make lazy colonists work.

Did Anybody Listen?

It seems so. When Paul passed through Macedonia again a few years later, the churches there were so generous that they begged to give to the poor in Jerusalem, even in deep poverty, 2 Corinthians 8:1 to 4. Thessalonica stayed a strong Christian city for centuries, and its church of Saint Demetrius, first built in the 400s, is one of the largest in Greece.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

The church is still getting hammered, and Paul is still bragging on them. Hang on. When Jesus is revealed from heaven with blazing fire, He will make things right. The people hurting you will pay, and you will get relief.

GREETINGS TO THE THESSALONIANS // 1 THESSALONIANS 1:1–10

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy,

To the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are obligated to thank God for you all the time, brothers, as is fitting, because your faith is growing more and more, and your love for one another is increasing. 4 That is why we boast among God's churches about your perseverance and faith in the face of all the persecution and affliction you are enduring.

CHRIST'S COMING

5 All this is clear evidence of God's righteous judgment. And so you will be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are suffering. 6 After all, it is only right for God to repay with affliction those who afflict you, 7 and to grant relief to you who are oppressed and to us as well. This will take place when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with His mighty angels 8 in blazing fire, inflicting vengeance on those who do not know God and do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. 9 They will suffer the penalty of eternal destruction, separated from the presence of the Lord and the glory of His might, 10 on the day He comes to be glorified in His saints and regarded with wonder by all who have believed, including you who have believed our testimony.

11 To this end, we always pray for you, that our God will count you worthy of His calling, and that He will powerfully fulfill your every good desire and work of faith, 12 so that the name of our Lord Jesus will be glorified in you, and you in Him, according to the grace of our God and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Somebody sent a fake letter saying the Day of the Lord already came. Paul says not yet. First the rebellion has to happen and the man of lawlessness has to show up, and something is holding him back. When he comes, Jesus will wipe him out with a breath. So stand firm.

THE MAN OF LAWLESSNESS

1 Now concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered together to Him, we ask you, brothers, 2 not to be easily disconcerted or alarmed by any spirit or message or letter seeming to be from us, alleging that the Day of the Lord has already come. 3 Let no one deceive you in any way, for it will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness—the son of destruction—is revealed. 4 He will oppose and exalt himself above every so-called god or object of worship. So he will seat himself in the temple of God, proclaiming himself to be God.

CALIGULA AND THE TEMPLE

2 THESSALONIANS 2:3 TO 4 · MARK 13:14 · DANIEL 11:31

Left: marble portrait of the emperor Gaius, called Caligula, AD 37 to 41. Metropolitan Museum of Art, public domain. Right: a bronze sestertius of Caligula, Rome, AD 37 to 38. Bibliothèque nationale de France, public domain.

WHAT IT IS

A marble head of the Roman emperor Gaius, nicknamed Caligula, and one of his coins with his name, C CAESAR AVG GERMANICVS.

HOW OLD IT IS

Both are from his own reign, AD 37 to 41, about ten years before Paul wrote this letter.

WHAT HE TRIED TO DO

Caligula wanted to be worshiped as a god. About AD 40 he ordered a giant statue of himself set up inside the temple in Jerusalem. The Jewish writer Philo, who met him, and the historian Josephus both tell the story. The Roman governor Petronius stalled, Jewish crowds begged him to stop, and King Agrippa pleaded with Caligula. Then Caligula was murdered in January AD 41, and the statue never went in.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Paul says the man of lawlessness will seat himself in the temple of God, proclaiming himself to be God, 2:4. The Thessalonians had just lived through a real emperor who tried to do exactly that. Many scholars think it shaped how they heard Paul's words.

HOW PEOPLE READ IT

Some see Caligula as a preview of a future Antichrist who will do it for real. Preterists see the fulfillment in the Romans and Zealots who defiled the temple before it burned in AD 70. Others read temple of God as the church. See The Big Question pages, p.1928.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Paul never names Caligula. The coin and portrait show who Caligula was, not who Paul had in mind.

5 Do you not remember that I told you these things while I was still with you? 6
And you know what is now restraining him, so that he may be revealed at the proper time. 7 For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work, but the one who now restrains it will continue until he is taken out of the way. 8 And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will slay with the breath of His mouth and annihilate by the majesty of His arrival.

9 The coming of the lawless one will be accompanied by the working of Satan, with every kind of power, sign, and false wonder, 10 and with every wicked deception directed against those who are perishing, because they refused the love of the truth that would have saved them. 11
For this reason God will send them a powerful delusion so that they believe the lie, 12 in order that judgment may come upon all who have disbelieved the truth and delighted in wickedness.

THE MAN OF LAWLESSNESS

Who Is He?

2 THESSALONIANS 2:1 TO 12 · 1 JOHN 2:18 · DANIEL 11:36

WHAT PAUL SAID

Some told the church that the Day of the Lord had already come. Paul says it will not come until two things happen. First, the rebellion. Second, the man of lawlessness, the son of destruction, is revealed. He sets himself above every god, sits in the temple of God and claims to be God, 2:3 to 4. Satan gives him power and fake miracles, 2:9. Then Jesus destroys him with the breath of His mouth, 2:8. Paul had told them more in person, 2:5, but he did not write it down, so we have to piece it together.

FUTURE ANTICHRIST

Most Christians today read him as one evil world ruler still to come at the end, the same as the beast of Revelation 13 and the king of Daniel 11:36. Many expect a rebuilt temple in Jerusalem. Early leaders like Irenaeus, about AD 180, and Hippolytus, about AD 200, read it this way, and so do most dispensational and premillennial teachers today.

ALREADY HAPPENED, AD 70

Preterists say he came in the first century. Some point to Nero; some to the Zealot leaders who took over the temple and filled it with murder during the war with Rome; some to the Roman general Titus, who stood in the temple as it burned in AD 70. They point out that Paul spoke to his readers about a temple that was standing at the time.

THE PAPACY

The Protestant Reformers taught that the man of lawlessness was the office of the pope, sitting in the temple of God, the church, and claiming God's authority. Martin Luther said so in the Smalcald Articles, 1537, and the Westminster Confession of Faith, 1646, called the pope that man of sin. Many churches later took that line out, like American Presbyterians in 1903. Catholics, of course, reject it.

A SPIRIT IN EVERY AGE

Some read the man of lawlessness as a picture of the spirit of rebellion that shows up again and again, in many tyrants and false teachers. John says many antichrists have already come, 1 John 2:18. Many who hold this still expect a final one.

THE REBELLION, 2:3

The Greek word is apostasia, falling away or rebellion, a great turning from God. A few pre tribulation teachers argue it means a departure, the rapture itself, and note that Tyndale's 1526 New Testament and the Geneva Bible of 1560 said departing. Most scholars say the word means rebellion, and most modern Bibles say so.

What Is Holding It Back?

2 THESSALONIANS 2:5 TO 8

WHAT PAUL SAID

Something is holding back the man of lawlessness until the right time, 2:6. Paul calls it a thing in 2:6 and a person in 2:7, the one who now restrains it, until he is taken out of the way. The readers knew what he meant, 2:6. We do not. Augustine admitted about AD 426 that he had no idea what Paul meant.

THE HOLY SPIRIT, OR THE CHURCH

Only God is strong enough to hold back Satan's man. The Holy Spirit lives in the church, so when the church is taken in the rapture, the restraint is gone. This is the main pre tribulation view. Others agree it is the Spirit but say He is not removed from the earth, only the way He holds back evil changes.

ROMAN LAW AND ORDER

The oldest known answer. Tertullian, about AD 200, and John Chrysostom, about AD 400, said it was the Roman Empire, a thing, and the emperor, a person. That fits Paul switching between it and he. Many today widen it to government and law in general, Romans 13:1 to 4.

THE ANGEL MICHAEL

Michael stands guard over God's people in Daniel 10:21 and 12:1, and Daniel 12:1 ties him to a time of great distress at the end. Some read that verse as Michael standing aside, and think Paul means him.

THE HEART NOTABLE

THE PREACHING OF THE GOSPEL

The end cannot come until the gospel goes to all nations, Matthew 24:14. Some say the restrainer is that mission, or Paul himself as its leader. Others say it is God Himself, holding things back until His set time.

THE TIMING DEBATE

This passage is a key text for when the rapture happens. Post tribulation readers say 2:1 to 3 puts our being gathered to Him after the man of lawlessness shows up. Pre tribulation readers say the restrainer's removal in 2:7 is the rapture, before he is revealed. See The Big Question pages in 1 Thessalonians, p.1918.

WHAT WE ALL AGREE ON

Evil will not win. God sets the timing. The lawless one is doomed the moment Jesus shows up, 2:8. And Paul's point is practical: do not be shaken, 2:2, and stand firm, 2:15.

STAND FIRM

13 But we should always thank God for you, brothers who are loved by the Lord, because God chose you from the beginning to be saved by the sanctification of the Spirit and by faith in the truth. 14 To this He called you through our gospel, so that you may share in the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15 Therefore, brothers, stand firm and cling to the traditions we taught you, whether by speech or by letter.

16 Now may our Lord Jesus Christ Himself and God our Father, who by grace has loved us and given us eternal comfort and good hope, 17 encourage your hearts and strengthen you in every good word and deed.

■ 2TH 2:15 [NOTE] THE TRADITIONS. The Greek word paradosis means what is handed down. Catholic and Orthodox Christians read this as Sacred Tradition, teaching passed on by speech beside the written Word. Most Protestants say the apostles' spoken teaching is now preserved in Scripture, and Scripture is the final judge of every tradition. Both agree: hold on to what the apostles taught.

Pray for us, and the Lord will guard you. Now about the people who quit their jobs and are mooching off everybody: no work, no food. Get to work quietly, and do not get tired of doing good. Paul signs off in his own handwriting so nobody can fake it.

REQUEST FOR PRAYER

1 Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may spread quickly and be held in honor, just as it was with you. 2
And pray that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men; for not everyone holds to the faith. 3 But the Lord is faithful, and He will strengthen you and guard you from the evil one. 4 And we have confidence in the Lord that you are doing and will continue to do what we command. 5 May the Lord direct your hearts into God's love and Christ's perseverance.

A WARNING AGAINST IDLENESS

6 Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to keep away from any brother who leads an undisciplined life that is not in keeping with the tradition you received from us. 7
For you yourselves know how you ought to imitate us, because we were not undisciplined among you, 8 nor did we eat anyone's food without paying for it. Instead, in labor and toil, we worked night and day so that we would not be a burden to any of you. 9 Not that we lack this right, but we wanted to offer ourselves as an example for you to imitate. 10 For even while we were with you, we gave you this command: "If anyone is unwilling to work, he shall not eat."

■ 2TH 3:3 [NOTABLE] Paul just asked them to pray for him because not everyone has faith, 3:2. Then he turns it around: people are not always faithful, but the Lord is. Your safety does not rest on how strong you are. It rests on Him.

■ 2TH 3:5 [HEART] May the Lord direct your hearts into God's love.

■ 2TH 3:6 [NOTE] THE IDLE. Some had quit working, maybe because they thought Jesus was coming any day, maybe because rich believers would feed them. Paul worked night and day to set an example, 3:8 to 9, the tentmaker way, Acts 18:3. Faith in the return of Jesus is never a reason to stop working.

■ 2TH 3:10 [NOTABLE] This is about the unwilling, not the unable. The church cared for widows and the sick, 1 Timothy 5:3. But a believer who could work and chose not to

NOTABLE

11 For we hear that some of you are leading undisciplined lives, accomplishing nothing, but being busybodies. 12 We command and urge such people by our Lord Jesus Christ to begin working quietly to earn their own living. 13 But as for you, brothers, do not grow weary in well-doing.

14 Take note of anyone who does not obey the instructions we have given in this letter. Do not associate with him, so that he may be ashamed. 15 Yet do not regard him as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

SIGNATURE AND FINAL GREETINGS // 1 CORINTHIANS 16:19–24; COLOSSIANS 4:15–18

16 Now may the Lord of peace Himself give you peace at all times and in every way.
The Lord be with all of you.

17 This greeting is in my own hand—Paul.
This is my mark in every letter; it is the way I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be
with all of you.

Vindolanda tablet 291, a birthday invitation from Claudia Severa to Sulpicia Lepidina, about AD 100. British Museum. Photo Fæ, CC BY SA 3.0.

WHAT IT IS
A thin wooden writing tablet with a birthday party invitation, found at Vindolanda, a Roman fort near Hadrian's Wall in northern England. A lady named Claudia Severa invites her friend Sulpicia Lepidina to her birthday on September 11.

HOW OLD IT IS
About AD 100, some 50 years after Paul wrote. It was dug up in the 1970s and is now in the British Museum.

TWO HANDWRITINGS
Most of the letter is written neatly by a scribe. The last four lines, on the right half, are in a different and shakier hand. Experts think Claudia wrote them herself: she will expect her, her sister, and she says goodbye, my dearest soul. It may be the oldest Latin writing by a woman that we have.

JUST LIKE PAUL
Paul did the same thing. A helper wrote out the letter as Paul spoke. Tertius even says hi in Romans 16:22. Then Paul took the pen and wrote the last lines himself: This greeting is in my own hand, 3:17. See what large letters I am using, Galatians 6:11.

WHY IT MATTERS
A fake letter in Paul's name had already caused trouble, 2:2. Paul's own handwriting at the end was his mark in every letter, so the church could tell the real thing from a forgery.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
This tablet has nothing to do with Paul. It shows how letters worked in his world.

was not to live off everyone else. Paul set the example by working night and day, 3:8.

2TH 3:13 [NOTABLE] Doing good gets old when people take advantage of you, like the idle ones in 3:11. Paul says keep going anyway. Galatians 6:9 says the same: in due time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up.

2TH 3:14 [NOTE] CHURCH DISCIPLINE. Do not associate with him, so he will feel ashamed and turn around. But do not treat him as an enemy. Warn him as a brother, 3:15. The goal is always to win the person back, Matthew 18:15 and Galatians 6:1.

2TH 3:16 [NOTABLE] Peace does not come from your situation. It comes from a Person. Paul prays it over a church facing persecution, confusion about the end and lazy members. At all times and in every way means there is no situation too messy for His peace.

1 TIMOTHY

How to Run a Church

AUTHOR	Paul, 1:1. Most critical scholars think a follower of Paul wrote this letter and the other two Pastoral Letters, 2 Timothy and Titus, later, about AD 90 to 130, because the words and church offices sound different.
WRITTEN FROM	Probably Macedonia, in northern Greece, after Paul left Ephesus, 1:3.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 62 to 64, after Paul was set free from his first arrest in Rome. Acts ends before this part of the story.
WRITTEN TO	Timothy, Paul's young helper, son of a Jewish mother and a Greek father, Acts 16:1. Paul left him in charge in Ephesus.
WHY HE WROTE	False teachers were stirring up trouble in Ephesus. Paul wrote so Timothy would know how people should act in God's household, 3:15.
KEY VERSE	1 Timothy 3:15. You will know how each one must conduct himself in God's household, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of the truth.

AN EARLY COPY OF 1 TIMOTHY
The first page of 1 Timothy in Codex Sinaiticus, copied about AD 330 to 360, the oldest complete New Testament. It holds 1:1 to 2:12. 1 Timothy is not in Papyrus 46, the oldest collection of Paul's letters, or in Codex Vaticanus, which breaks off in Hebrews. The oldest scrap is Papyrus 133, in Oxford, published in 2016.

Historical Setting

Paul had spent about three years in Ephesus, Acts 20:31, the big port city famous for its temple of Artemis. Before he left, he warned the elders that savage wolves would come, even from their own group, Acts 20:29 to 30. It happened. Now Paul is gone, and he has left young Timothy behind to fix it. This letter is Paul's coaching memo: how to pray, who can lead, how to care for widows, how to pay pastors, and how to handle money. It is the first church manual. For the city, see Ephesians and the Ephesus Field Notes in Acts, p.1780.

What Was Going Wrong in Ephesus

FALSE TEACHERS. They loved myths, endless family trees and arguing about the law, 1:4 to 7.
FAKE HOLINESS. Some banned marriage and certain foods, 4:3.
MESSY WORSHIP. Anger and arguing in prayer, 2:8, and showing off wealth, 2:9.
WIDOWS. Who should the church support, and who should family support, 5:3 to 16?
MONEY. Some treated faith as a way to get rich, 6:5.

The Idiot Proof Summary

1 Timothy is a letter from an old coach to a young pastor. The church in Ephesus had problems, and Paul tells Timothy how to fix them. Teach the truth. Pray for everyone. Pick leaders with good character. Take care of the needy. Do not fall in love with money. And live it out yourself, so no one can look down on you. If you have ever wondered how a church is supposed to work, start here.

1 Timothy at a Glance

CH 1	WATCH THE TEACHING Stop the false teachers. Paul, the worst sinner, saved by grace.
CH 2	HOW TO WORSHIP Pray for everyone. Men and women in worship.
CH 3	WHO CAN LEAD Elders and deacons. The great mystery of godliness.
CH 4	TRAIN FOR GODLINESS Fake rules about food and marriage. Do not let anyone look down on your youth.

CH 6	MONEY AND THE GOOD FIGHT Contentment, the love of money, and fight the good fight of faith.

Where Jesus Shows Up

1 TIMOTHY 1:15 Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.

1 TIMOTHY 2:5 TO 6 The one Mediator between God and men, who gave Himself as a ransom for all. Job longed for this, Job 9:33 and 33:24.

1 TIMOTHY 3:16 God revealed in the flesh. Isaiah 7:14 and 9:6.

1 TIMOTHY 6:13 TO 15 He made the good confession before Pontius Pilate, and He will appear again in God's own time. Still to come.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

A SAYING OF JESUS CALLED SCRIPTURE
In 5:18 Paul quotes Deuteronomy 25:4 and the words of Jesus in Luke 10:7, and calls them both Scripture.

SLAVE TRADERS
In a world built on slavery, Paul lists slave traders, people who kidnapped and sold human beings, with murderers, 1:10.

AN EARLY SONG?
3:16 has six short lines that may come from a hymn the first Christians sang.

KING OF KINGS
Paul calls God the King of kings and Lord of lords, 6:15. Revelation gives Jesus the same title, Revelation 19:16.

Did It Work?

Timothy stayed with it. Paul wrote him again from prison in 2 Timothy, and Hebrews 13:23 says Timothy was set free from a prison of his own. Church historian Eusebius, about AD 325, says Timothy was the first bishop of Ephesus. About AD 95, Jesus praised the church in Ephesus for testing false apostles, but warned them they had lost their first love, Revelation 2:2 to 4. About AD 110, Ignatius wrote that no false teaching had a home among them.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul left Timothy in Ephesus to shut down some false teachers who love myths and family trees. Then Paul gets personal: I used to hunt Christians. I was the worst sinner there is. If Jesus can save me, He can save anybody.

PAUL'S GREETING TO TIMOTHY // 2 TIMOTHY 1:1–2

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the command of God our Savior and of Christ
Jesus our hope,

2 To Timothy, my true child in the faith:
Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

CORRECTING FALSE TEACHERS // TITUS 1:10–16

3 As I urged you on my departure to Macedonia, you should stay on at Ephesus to instruct certain men not to teach false doctrines 4 or devote themselves to myths and endless genealogies, which promote speculation rather than the stewardship of God's work, which is by faith.

5 The goal of our instruction is the love that comes from a pure heart, a clear conscience, and a sincere faith. 6 Some have strayed from these ways and turned aside to empty talk. 7 They want to be teachers of the law, but they do not understand what they are saying or that which they so confidently assert.

8 Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it legitimately. 9 We realize that law is not enacted for the righteous, but for the lawless and rebellious, for the ungodly and sinful, for the unholy and profane, for killers of father or mother, for murderers, 10 for the sexually immoral, for homosexuals, for slave traders and liars and perjurers, and for anyone else who is averse to sound teaching 11 that agrees with the glorious gospel of the blessed God, with which I have been entrusted.

GOD'S GRACE TO PAUL

12 I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has strengthened me, that He considered me faithful and appointed me to service. 13 I was formerly a blasphemer, a persecutor, and a violent man; yet because I had acted in ignorance and unbelief, I was shown mercy. 14 And the grace of our Lord overflowed to me, along with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus.

15 This is a trustworthy saying, worthy of full acceptance: Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the worst. 16 But for this very reason I was shown mercy, so that in me, the worst of sinners, Christ Jesus might display His perfect patience as an example to those who would believe in Him for eternal life.
17 Now to the King eternal, immortal, and invisible, the only God, be honor and glory
forever and ever. Amen.

18 Timothy, my child, I entrust you with this command in keeping with the previous prophecies about you, so that by them you may fight the good fight, 19 holding on to faith and a good conscience, which some have rejected and thereby shipwrecked their faith. 20 Among them are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan to be taught not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Pray for everybody, even the people running the government. There is one God and one go be-tween, Jesus. Men, pray without fighting. Women, skip the over the top hair and jewelry and dress up in good deeds. Then come the verses about women and authority that churches still argue over.

1TI 1:3 [FIELD NOTES] See the Artemis of the Ephesians Field Notes page, p.1935. For the city of Ephesus, see Acts 19 and Ephesians, p.1780.

1TI 1:5 [HEART] The goal of our teaching is love from a pure heart.

1TI 1:10 [ALLUDES TO] Refers to ← LEV 18:22; 20:13 p.204

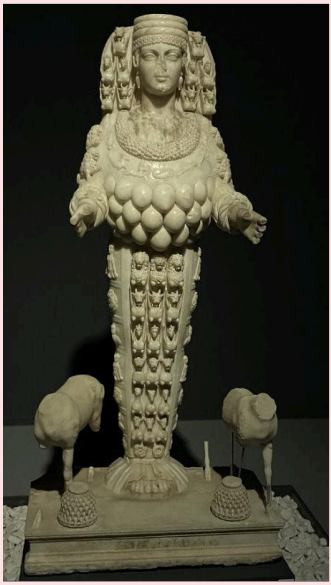
1TI 1:15 [NOTABLE] The KJV says chief of sinners. Paul had hunted down Christians, 1:13. He does not say I was the worst. He says I am. If Jesus could save him, He can save anyone, 1:16.



1TI 1:20 [NOTE] HANDED OVER TO SATAN. Put out of the church, back into Satan's world, so they would learn their lesson. The goal was to win them back, not destroy them. See 1 Corinthians 5:5, p.1827. Hymenaeus shows up again in 2 Timothy 2:17.

ARTEMIS OF THE EPHESIANS

1 TIMOTHY 1:3 · ACTS 19:23 TO 41 · 1 TIMOTHY 2:12 TO 15

The Beautiful Artemis, marble, AD 125 to 175, Ephesus Museum, Selçuk, Turkey. Photo Furkan Akkurt, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

A marble statue of Artemis of the Ephesians, the goddess of the city where Timothy was pastor. She is not the slim Greek hunter. She stands stiff like an idol, with rows of round shapes on her chest, animals carved all over her skirt, and a deer on each side. It was found buried in the town hall of Ephesus in the 1950s and is now in the Ephesus Museum.

HOW OLD IT IS

About AD 125 to 175, some 60 to 110 years after Paul wrote. It copies the famous statue that stood in her temple, which is lost.

THE GODDESS OF EPHESUS

Her temple was one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World. When Paul preached there, the silversmiths who sold her shrines started a riot, Acts 19:23 to 41. The city proudly called itself her temple keeper. Women prayed to Artemis for help in childbirth.

WHAT ARE THE BUMPS?

Nobody knows. Some say breasts, some say eggs, and some say bull parts from her sacrifices. Others say gourds or jewelry.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Some scholars think her worship, with its priestesses and its link to childbirth, helps explain why Paul wrote 2:12 to 15 to this city. Others answer that Paul never names her, that most of that evidence is weak or from later times, and that Paul bases his words on Adam and Eve, 2:13. See The Big Question pages, p.1936.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The statue shows who Ephesus worshiped. It cannot tell us what Paul meant. For the temple and the theater, see Acts 19, p.1777.

A CALL TO PRAYER

1 First of all, then, I urge that petitions, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgiving be offered for everyone— 2 for kings and all those in authority—so that we may lead tranquil and quiet lives in all godliness and dignity. 3 This is good and pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, 4 who wants everyone to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth.

5 For there is one God, and there is one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, 6 who gave Himself as a ransom for all—the testimony that was given at just the right time.

7 For this reason I was appointed as a preacher, an apostle, and a faithful and true teacher of the Gentiles. I am telling the truth; I am not lying about anything. 8 Therefore I want the men everywhere to 1TI 2:1 [NOTABLE] Paul wrote this while Nero was emperor. Pray for leaders you like and leaders you do not. The goal is peaceful lives and people coming to know God, 2:4. Jeremiah told the exiles to pray for Babylon too, Jeremiah 29:7.

pray, lifting up holy hands, without anger or dissension.

INSTRUCTIONS TO WOMEN

9 Likewise, I want the women to adorn themselves with respectable apparel, with modesty, and with self-control, not with braided hair or gold or pearls or expensive clothes, 10 but with good deeds, as is proper for women who profess to worship God.

11 A woman must learn in quietness and full submissiveness. 12 I do not permit a woman to teach or to exercise authority over a man; she is to remain quiet. 13 For Adam was formed first, and then Eve. 14 And it was not Adam who was deceived, but the woman who was deceived and fell into transgression. 15 Women, however, will be saved through childbearing, if they continue in faith, love, and holiness, with self-control.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

WOMEN IN THE CHURCH

What Did Paul Mean?

1 TIMOTHY 2:8 TO 15 · 1 CORINTHIANS 14:34 · ROMANS 16:1 TO 7

WHAT PAUL SAID

Let a woman learn in quietness and full submission. I do not permit a woman to teach or to exercise authority over a man. Then he gives a reason: Adam was formed first, and Eve was deceived, 2:11 to 14. And women will be saved through childbearing if they continue in faith, 2:15. Christians who love the Bible have argued over these five verses for 2,000 years. Here is how the argument grew.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Women were all over the early church. Priscilla taught Apollos, Acts 18:26. Philip had four daughters who prophesied, Acts 21:9. Paul called Phoebe a deacon and Junia outstanding among the apostles, Romans 16:1 and 16:7. But as churches got organized, the leaders who taught and led worship were men.

Tertullian, about AD 200, wrote that a woman may not speak, teach or baptize in church. When the Montanists, a movement led partly by two prophetesses, Priscilla and Maximilla, were rejected in the late 100s, that made church leaders even more careful.

DEACONESSES

At the same time, women served as deaconesses for centuries. The governor Pliny wrote about two in about AD 112. The Council of Nicaea, AD 325, mentions them, and the Council of Chalcedon, AD 451, said a woman must be at least 40. They helped baptize women and cared for the sick. Over time the office faded, first in the West. See the Phoebe, Pliny and Sophia Field Notes page, p.1939.

REFORMATION TO REVIVAL

The Reformers taught that every believer is a priest, 1 Peter 2:9, but kept pastors male. Then new voices came. The Quaker Margaret Fell wrote Women's Speaking Justified in 1666. John Wesley let some Methodist women preach. Catherine Booth wrote Female Ministry in 1859 and helped start the Salvation Army. At the Azusa Street Revival in 1906, women preached, and the Assemblies of God has given women preaching papers since it began in 1914. Aimee Semple McPherson opened Angelus Temple in 1923 and started the Foursquare Church.

WHERE CHURCHES STAND TODAY

Only men are priests in the Catholic and Orthodox churches. Pope John Paul II said in 1994 that the church has no authority to ordain women. The Southern Baptist Convention's statement of faith, 2000, says the office of pastor is limited to men. The Church of England ordained its first women priests in 1994 and its first woman bishop in 2015. Most Pentecostal, Methodist and mainline churches ordain women. In 1987 two groups formed on opposite sides: the Council on Biblical Manhood and Womanhood, with its Danvers Statement, and Christians for Biblical Equality.

- 1TI 2:9 [FIELD NOTES] See the Braided Hair and Gold Field Notes page, p.1938.
- 1TI 2:12 [NOTE] WOMEN AND AUTHORITY. Christians are split on what these verses mean today. See The Big Question pages, p.1936, which give the history and every view without taking a side.

The Case Each Side Makes

1 TIMOTHY 2:11 TO 15 · GALATIANS 3:28 · GENESIS 2 AND 3

TRADITIONAL, OR COMPLEMENTARIAN

Men and women are equal in worth but have different roles. Pastors and elders should be men. Key verses: 2:12 to 13, 1 Corinthians 11:3 and 14:34, Ephesians 5:22 to 24, and 3:2, the husband of one wife. Best case: Paul does not base his rule on Ephesus or culture. He goes back to creation, before sin, Adam was formed first, 2:13. Jesus picked twelve men as apostles. Held by Catholics and Orthodox, Southern Baptists and many others. Teachers like John Piper and Wayne Grudem.

THE MIDDLE GROUND

Many churches let women preach, teach and lead ministries, but keep the office of elder or senior pastor for men. They read 2:12 as being about that one office of authority, not every time a woman speaks.

EQUAL, OR EGALITARIAN

Every role is open to women and men, based on gifts, not gender. Key verses: Galatians 3:28, Acts 2:17 to 18, Deborah who judged Israel, Judges 4:4, Huldah, 2 Kings 22:14, Priscilla, Phoebe and Junia, Romans 16, and women praying and prophesying, 1 Corinthians 11:5. Best case: Paul praised women leaders by name, so 2:12 must be a fix for a problem, not a rule for all time. The Greek can mean I am not permitting, right now. Held by Pentecostals, Methodists, the Salvation Army and many others. Teachers like Gordon Fee and Philip Payne.

THE EPHESUS PROBLEM

Many egalitarians add this: false teaching was spreading in Ephesus, 1:3, and young widows were going house to house saying things they should not, 5:13. Women had not been allowed to study, so Paul says first let them learn, 2:11. Some point to the goddess Artemis or to later stories that made Eve the hero. Critics say most of that evidence comes from after Paul's time.

THE RARE WORD

Exercise authority is the Greek word authentein, used only here in the whole Bible. Most Bibles say have authority. The KJV says usurp authority. Some, like Catherine and Richard Kroeger in 1992, said it means domineer or take control by force. Others, like Andreas Köstenberger in 1995, said the grammar shows teach and have authority are both normal good things that Paul limits.

SAVED THROUGH CHILDBEARING

Nobody thinks a woman earns heaven by having babies, Ephesians 2:8 to 9. Views: saved through the Childbirth, the birth of Jesus promised to Eve, Genesis 3:15; kept safe through childbirth; or a woman living out her calling in faith. The Greek says the childbearing.

WHAT WE ALL AGREE ON

Men and women are both made in God's image, Genesis 1:27, saved the same way and gifted by the same Spirit. Women sat at Jesus' feet to learn, Luke 10:39, and were the first to see Him risen. The argument is about one role, not about worth. See the Romans 16, 1 Corinthians 14:34 and Ephesians 5:21 notes, p.1818.

3

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Want to lead a church? Here is the job description. Elders and deacons must be faithful in marriage, sober, gentle, not money hungry, and good at running their own homes. Then Paul breaks into what sounds like an early song about Jesus.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR OVERSEERS // TITUS 1:5–9; 1 PETER 5:1–4

1 This is a trustworthy saying: If anyone aspires to be an overseer, he desires a noble task. 2 An overseer, then, must be above reproach, the husband of but one wife, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, 3 not dependent on wine, not violent but gentle, peaceable, and free of the love of money.
4 An overseer must manage his own household well and keep his children un-

■ 1TI 3:2 [NOTE] HUSBAND OF ONE WIFE. In Greek, a one woman man. Most read it as faithful to his wife. Some say it means not a polygamist. Others say never divorced and remarried. Many in the early church said not married a second time, even after his wife died. A few say he must be married. Whatever the view, the point is a man of proven faithfulness, 3:2 to 7.

BRAIDED HAIR AND GOLD

1 TIMOTHY 2:9 TO 10 · 1 PETER 3:3 TO 4

The Fonseca Bust, a rich Roman woman, about AD 90 to 110. Capitoline Museums, Rome. Photo Mark Landon, CC BY 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

A marble portrait of a rich Roman woman with a giant tower of tight curls. Hairstyles like this were the fashion for wealthy women in the empire.

HOW OLD IT IS

Experts date it about AD 90 to 110, a generation after Paul. Some date it a little later. It is in the Capitoline Museums in Rome.

HOURS IN THE CHAIR

A look like this took hours. Rich women owned slaves whose only job was doing hair, and many added hairpieces and wigs. The poet Juvenal joked about towers of curls stacked like floors on a building. Pliny the Elder said a woman named Lollia Paulina wore pearls and emeralds worth 40 million sesterces to a dinner.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Paul says not with braided hair or gold or pearls or expensive clothes, 2:9. Peter says the same, 1 Peter 3:3 to 4. Paul is not against hair. He is against showing off. In a church of slaves and rich people side by side, a rich woman walking in like this would make the poor feel small. Paul's answer: dress up in good deeds, 2:10.

HOW PEOPLE READ IT

Some churches, like many Holiness churches, ask women not to wear jewelry or makeup. Most churches read it as a call to modesty and humility, not a list of banned items.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

This woman has nothing to do with the church in Ephesus. Her bust shows the kind of style Paul had in mind.

der control, with complete dignity. 5 For if someone does not know how to manage his own household, how can he care for the church of God? 6 He must not be a recent convert, or he may become conceited and fall under the same condemnation as the devil. 7 Furthermore, he must have a good reputation with outsiders, so that he will not fall into disgrace and into the snare of the devil.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR DEACONS // ACTS 6:1–7

8 Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued or given to much wine or greedy for money. 9 They must hold to the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience. 10 Additionally, they must first be tested. Then, if they are above reproach, let them serve as deacons.

11 In the same way, the women must be dignified, not slanderers, but temperate and faithful in all things.

12 A deacon must be the husband of but one wife, a good manager of his children and of his own household. 13 For those who have served well as deacons acquire for themselves a high standing and great confidence in the faith that is in Christ Jesus.

THE MYSTERY OF GODLINESS

14 Although I hope to come to you soon, I am writing you these things 15 in case I am delayed, so that you will know how each one must conduct himself in God's household, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of the truth.

16 By common confession, the mystery of godliness is great:

God was manifest in the flesh,
was vindicated by the Spirit,
was seen by angels,
was proclaimed among the nations,
was believed in throughout the world,
was taken up in glory.

4

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Some will fall for fake spiritual rules like no marriage and no certain foods. Paul says everything God made is good when you thank Him for it. Hitting the gym is fine, but training for godliness pays off forever. And Timothy, do not let anyone look down on you because you are young.

A WARNING AGAINST APOSTASY

1 Now the Spirit expressly states that in later times some will abandon the faith to follow deceitful spirits and the teachings of demons, 2 influenced by the hypocrisy of liars, whose consciences are seared with a hot iron.

3 They will prohibit marriage and require abstinence from certain foods that God has created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. 4 For every creation of God is good, and nothing that is received with thanksgiving should be rejected, 5 because it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

PHOEBE, PLINY AND SOPHIA

1 TIMOTHY 3:8 TO 13 · ROMANS 16:1 TO 2

Part of the marble plaque honoring Pliny the Younger, early 100s AD, in the wall of the church of Sant'Ambrogio, Milan. Photo Giovanni Dall'Orto, free with credit.

WHAT IT IS

A piece of a marble plaque honoring Pliny the Younger, a Roman governor. His name PLINIUS is on the top line. Matching pieces let scholars rebuild the whole text, which lists his job as governor of Pontus and Bithynia, in today's Turkey.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was carved about AD 113, around the time Pliny died. It is now built into the wall of an old church in Milan, Italy.

TWO WOMEN CALLED DEACONS

As governor, about AD 112, Pliny wrote to the emperor Trajan about the Christians, Letter 10.96. To get the facts, he tortured two slave women who were called ministrae. That Latin word means servants, the same idea as the Greek diakonos, deacon. This was about 50 years after 1 Timothy.

- 1TI 3:16 [FULFILLS] He would be Immanuel ← IS 7:14 p.1070
- 1TI 3:16 [FULFILLS] A Son would be given ← IS 9:6 p.1072
- 1TI 3:16 [TEXT] The KJV says God was manifest in the flesh, and this Bible uses those words. The oldest Greek copies say who, so most modern Bibles say He appeared in the flesh. See the God or Who? Field Notes page, p.1940.
- 1TI 4:1 [PROPHECY] In latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons... forbidding to marry, commanding to abstain from foods → HISTORY: By about AD 120 to 180, groups like the Encratites and followers of Marcion banned marriage and meat. Recorded by Irenaeus, Against Heresies 1.24 and 1.28.
- 1TI 4:1 [DEMONIC] Doctrines of demons in the last times

- 1TI 4:4 [NOTE] EVERY CREATION OF GOD IS GOOD. The false teachers made up rules: no marriage, no certain foods, 4:3. Paul goes back to Genesis: everything God made was very good, Genesis 1:31. Jesus declared all foods clean, Mark 7:19. Receive what God made with thanks and prayer, 4:5. Freedom still has limits: not everything is helpful, and nothing should control you, 1 Corinthians 6:12.

NOTABLE

PHOEBE AND SOPHIA
Paul calls Phoebe a diakonos of the church at Cenchrea, Romans 16:1, the same word used for deacons in 3:8. A gravestone from the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem, from the late 300s, says: Here lies the servant and bride of Christ, Sophia the deacon, the second Phoebe. We could not find a free photo of it.

HOW PEOPLE READ 3:11
Paul says in the same way, the women must be dignified. Many believe these are women deacons, since Paul switches from the deacons' job to the women and back, and Phoebe was one. Others read it as the deacons' wives, since 3:12 says a deacon must be the husband of one wife.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Pliny does not tell us what the two women did. A deacon was a serving role, not the same as an elder.

A GOOD SERVANT OF JESUS CHRIST

6 By pointing out these things to the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, nourished by the words of faith and sound instruction that you have followed.

7 But reject irreverent, silly myths. Instead, train yourself for godliness. 8 For physical exercise is of limited value, but godliness is valuable in every way, holding promise for the present life and for the one to come. 9 This is a trustworthy saying, worthy of full acceptance.

10 To this end we labor and strive, because we have set our hope on the living God, who is the Savior of everyone, and especially of those who believe. 11 Command and teach these things.

1TI 4:7 [NOTABLE] Train is the Greek word our word gymnasium comes from. Paul is not against working out. He says it helps for this life, but godliness pays off now and forever. Put in the reps for your soul.

GOD OR WHO?

1 TIMOTHY 3:16 · JOHN 1:14

Top: 1 Timothy 3:16 in Codex Alexandrinus, British Library. Bottom: 1 Timothy 3:16 in Codex Sinaiticus, with a later correction written above the line. Both public domain.

WHAT IT IS
Close ups of 1 Timothy 3:16 in two of the oldest Bibles in the world. In both, the word after mystery is the one people fight over.

HOW OLD IT IS
Codex Sinaiticus was copied about AD 330 to 360. Codex Alexandrinus was copied about AD 400 to 440. Both are in the British Library in London.

TWO LETTERS APART
Scribes wrote God in a short form, ΘΣ, with a line on top. The word who is ΟΣ. The only difference is a tiny line inside the O and the bar on top. In Sinaiticus the first scribe wrote ΟΣ, who. Later someone wrote small letters above it to make it God. You can see them in the bottom photo.

THE ALEXANDRINUS FIGHT
In Alexandrinus the word looks like God. But in the 1700s the scholar Johann Wettstein said the line inside the O was ink showing through from the other side of the page. Others said it was real. The page is so worn that people still argue.

ISAAC NEWTON JOINS IN
The famous scientist wrote a long letter in 1690 arguing that 1 Timothy 3:16 and 1 John 5:7 had been changed. Newton did not believe in the Trinity. His letter was published in 1754, after he died.

WHICH IS RIGHT?
Most modern Bibles follow the oldest Greek copies and early translations: He who appeared. The KJV and most later

NOTABLE

Greek copies say God. This Bible prints God was manifest in the flesh, the KJV wording.

WHAT IT DOES NOT CHANGE

Either way, the verse is about Jesus, and only someone who already existed can appear in the flesh. The Bible calls Jesus God in other places that no copy disputes, like John 1:1 and 20:28.

12 Let no one despise your youth, but set an example for the believers in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity. 13 Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to exhortation, and to teaching.

14 Do not neglect the gift that is in you, which was given you through the prophecy spoken over you at the laying on of the hands of the elders. 15 Be diligent in these matters and absorbed in them, so that your progress will be evident to all. 16 Pay close attention to your life and to your teaching. Persevere in these things, for by so doing you will save both yourself and those who hear you.

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

How to treat people in the church family: older men like fathers, younger women like sisters. Take care of widows who are truly alone, but family comes first. Pay good leaders well. And Timothy, drink a little wine for that stomach of yours.

REPROOF AND RESPECT

1 Do not rebuke an older man, but appeal to him as to a father.

Treat younger men as brothers, 2 older women as mothers, and younger women as sisters, with absolute purity.

HONORING TRUE WIDOWS // RUTH 1:1–5

3 Honor the widows who are truly widows.
4 But if a widow has children or grandchildren, they must first learn to show godliness to their own family and repay their parents, for this is pleasing in the sight of God.

5 The widow who is truly in need and left all alone puts her hope in God and continues night and day in her petitions and prayers. 6 But she who lives for pleasure is dead even while she is still alive.

7 Give these instructions to the believers, so that they will be above reproach. 8 If anyone does not provide for his own, and especially his own household, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbe-liever.

9 A widow should be enrolled if she is at least sixty years old, faithful to her husband, 10 and well known for good deeds such as bringing up children, entertaining strangers, washing the feet of the saints, imparting relief to the afflicted, and devoting herself to every good work.

11 But refuse to enroll younger widows. For when their passions draw them away from Christ, they will want to marry, 12 and thus will incur judgment because they are setting aside their first faith. 13 At the same time they will also learn to be idle, going from house to house and being not only idle, but also gossips and busybodies, discussing things they should not mention.

14 So I advise the younger widows to marry, have children, and manage their households, denying the adversary occasion for slander. 15 For some have already turned aside to follow Satan.

16 If any believing woman has dependent widows, she must assist them and not allow the church to be burdened, so that it can help the widows who are truly in need.

1TI 4:12 [NOTABLE] Timothy was young for a leader, maybe in his thirties. Paul does not tell him to argue. He tells him to outlive the critics: speech, conduct, love, faith and purity.

1TI 4:14 [NOTE] THE LAYING ON OF HANDS. The elders laid their hands on Timothy and prayed, and prophecies were spoken over him, 1:18. Paul laid hands on him too, 2 Timothy 1:6. The church did the same when it sent out Paul and Barnabas, Acts 13:3. Many churches still do this to set apart pastors and leaders. Paul warns: do not rush it, 5:22.

1TI 5:8 [NOTABLE] In context, Paul means caring for your own widowed mother or grandmother, 5:4 and 5:16, instead of leaving it to the church. Even unbelievers take care of family. A believer who will not is worse.

OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW NOTABLE

HONORING ELDERS

17 Elders who lead effectively are worthy of double honor, especially those who work hard at preaching and teaching. 18
For the Scripture says, "Do not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain," and,
"The worker is worthy of his wages."

19 Do not entertain an accusation against an elder, except on the testimony of two or three witnesses. 20 But those who persist in sin should be rebuked in front of everyone, so that the others will stand in fear of sin.

A CHARGE TO TIMOTHY

21 I solemnly charge you before God and Christ Jesus and the elect angels to maintain these principles without bias, and to do nothing out of partiality.

22 Do not be too quick in the laying on of hands and thereby share in the sins of others. Keep yourself pure.

23 Stop drinking only water and use a little wine instead, because of your stomach and your frequent ailments.

24 The sins of some men are obvious, going ahead of them to judgment; but the sins of others do not surface until later. 25
In the same way, good deeds are obvious, and even the ones that are inconspicuous cannot remain hidden.

CHAPTER 6 IN 30 SECONDS

Slaves, work hard. Teachers who use faith to get rich, beware. Godliness plus contentment is the real jackpot, because the love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. Fight the good fight, tell the rich to be generous, and guard what God gave you.

SERVING WITH HONOR // EPHESIANS 6:5–9; COLOSSIANS 3:22–25

1 All who are under the yoke of slavery should regard their masters as fully worthy of honor, so that God's name and our teaching will not be discredited. 2 Those who have believing masters should not show disrespect because they are brothers, but should serve them all the more, since those receiving their good service are beloved believers. Teach and encourage these principles.

REJECT FALSE DOCTRINES

3 If anyone teaches another doctrine and disagrees with the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ and with godly teaching, 4 he is conceited and understands nothing. Instead, he has an unhealthy interest in controversies and disputes about words, out of which come envy, strife, abusive talk, evil suspicions, 5 and constant friction between men of depraved mind who are devoid of the truth. These men regard godliness as a means of gain.

GODLINESS WITH CONTENTMENT

6 Of course, godliness with contentment is great gain. 7 For we brought nothing into the world, so we cannot carry anything out of it. 8 But if we have food and clothing, we will be content with these.

9 Those who want to be rich, however, fall into temptation and become ensnared by many foolish and harmful desires that plunge them into ruin and destruction. 10
For the love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. By craving it, some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many sorrows.

FIGHT THE GOOD FIGHT

11 But you, O man of God, flee from these things and pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, perseverance, and gentleness. 12 Fight the good fight of the faith.
Take hold of the eternal life to which you

1TI 5:18 [QUOTES] Direct ← DT 25:4 p.315
1TI 5:18 [NOTE] CALLED SCRIPTURE. Paul quotes two things and calls both Scripture: Deuteronomy 25:4, and The worker is worthy of his wages, the words of Jesus in Luke 10:7. It is one of the earliest times a saying of Jesus is called Scripture. Some scholars think Paul knew the saying by word of mouth, not from Luke's book. Peter calls Paul's letters Scripture too, 2 Peter 3:16.
1TI 5:19 [QUOTES] Quotes ← DT 19:15 p.310
1TI 5:23 [NOTE] A LITTLE WINE. Timothy had been drinking only water. Paul tells him to use a little wine for his stomach, since water was often unsafe. The Greek word oinos means real wine. In 1869 Thomas Welch made grape juice for communion, and many churches in the anti alcohol movement taught that Bible wine was juice. Most scholars say it was fermented, Ephesians 5:18. Paul says a little, and leaders must not be given to much wine, 3:3 and 3:8.

1TI 6:6 [NOTABLE] The false teachers saw faith as a way to get rich, 6:5. Paul flips it: knowing God and being content is the real jackpot. You came in with nothing and you leave with nothing, Job 1:21.
1TI 6:9 [NOTABLE] Paul's classic warning, often misquoted as money is the root of all evil. He actually says the LOVE of money is the root of ALL KINDS of evil.

END TIMES PROPHECIES NOTABLE

were called when you made the good confession before many witnesses.

13 I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who made the good confession in His testimony before Pontius Pilate: 14 Keep this commandment without stain or reproach until the appearance of our Lord Jesus Christ, 15 which the blessed and only Sovereign One—the King of kings and Lord of lords—will bring about in His own time. 16 He alone is immortal and dwells in unapproachable light. No one has ever seen Him, nor can anyone see Him. To Him be honor and eternal dominion! Amen.

A CHARGE TO THE RICH // PROVERBS 23:1–5; JAMES 5:1–6

17 Instruct those who are rich in the present age not to be conceited and not to put their hope in the uncertainty of wealth, but in God, who richly provides all things for us to enjoy. 18 Instruct them to do good, to be rich in good works, and to be generous and ready to share, 19 treasuring up for themselves a firm foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life.

GUARD THE FAITH

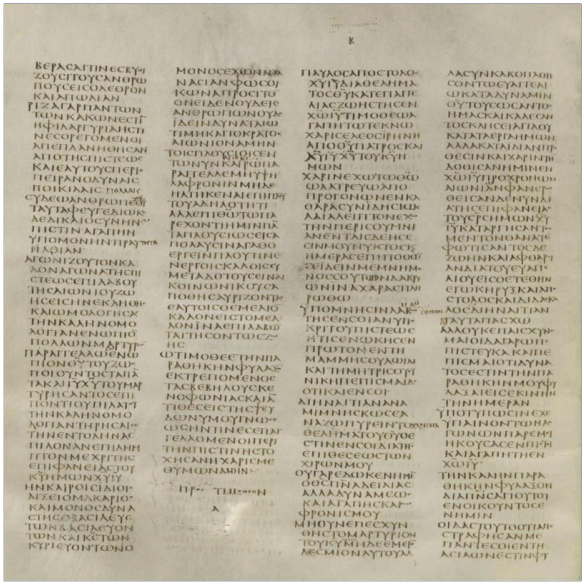
20 O Timothy, guard what has been entrusted to you. Avoid irreverent, empty chatter and the opposing arguments of so-called "knowledge," 21 which some have professed and thus swerved away from the faith.

Grace be with you all.

1TI 6:12 [NOTABLE] The word fight is agon, used for athletes in a contest. Faith takes effort. At the end of his life Paul could say, I have fought the good fight, 2 Timothy 4:7.

1TI 6:14 [PROPHECY] Keep this commandment until our Lord Jesus Christ's appearing, which He will manifest in His own time → STILL TO COME

1TI 6:17 [NOTABLE] Paul does not tell the rich to become poor. He tells them not to be proud, to trust God instead of money, and to be rich in good works, generous and ready to share. God richly provides all things for us to enjoy, 6:17.



1TI 6:20 [NOTE] SO CALLED KNOWLEDGE. The Greek word is gnosis. In the 100s a movement called Gnosticism taught that secret knowledge saves you and the body is bad. Irenaeus, about AD 180, named his famous book against them after this verse: On the Detection and Overthrow of Knowledge Falsely So Called. Some scholars think Paul was facing an early form of it; others say it was simply the false teaching of his day.

2 TIMOTHY

Paul's Last Words

AUTHOR	Paul, in chains, 1:8 and 2:9. Most critical scholars think a follower wrote it, like 1 Timothy. Some who doubt it still think the personal notes in 4:9 to 21 came from Paul.
WRITTEN FROM	A prison in Rome, 1:17.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 64 to 67, shortly before Paul was put to death under Nero.
WRITTEN TO	Timothy, probably still in Ephesus, 1:18 and 4:19.
WHY HE WROTE	Paul knew his death was near, 4:6. He wanted Timothy to come quickly, to hold on to the gospel, and to pass it on.
KEY VERSE	2 Timothy 4:7. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.

AN EARLY COPY OF 2 TIMOTHY
A page of Codex Sinaiticus, copied about AD 330 to 360. The second column ends 1 Timothy with its title, TO TIMOTHY 1. The third column starts 2 Timothy: PAUL, AN APOSTLE. It is the oldest copy of this letter that we have.

Historical Setting

This is the last letter Paul ever wrote. His first arrest in Rome was easy: he lived in a rented house and welcomed visitors, Acts 28:30. Not now. Now he is chained like a criminal, 2:9, and even his friend Onesiphorus had to search hard to find him, 1:17. Almost everyone has left. Winter is coming and he needs his coat. He knows he will be killed soon. So he writes to the young man he calls his beloved child and tells him what matters most. For Timothy's first letter, see 1 Timothy, p.1931.

What Paul Was Facing

PRISON. Chained like a criminal in Rome, 2:9.
LONELINESS. Everyone in Asia deserted him, 1:15. Demas left, 4:10. Only Luke stayed, 4:11.
FALSE TEACHERS. Some said the resurrection had already happened, 2:18.
DEATH. His time had come, 4:6.

The Idiot Proof Summary

2 Timothy is Paul's goodbye. He is on death row, and he is not bitter. He tells Timothy to be brave, to stick with the Bible, to train others, and to finish strong. Then he asks for a coat and some books, like any old man in a cold cell. If you want to know what a life well lived looks like at the very end, read this.

2 Timothy at a Glance

CH 1 DO NOT BE ASHAMED
Fan the gift into flame. God gave us power, love and a sound mind.

CH 2 BE STRONG
Soldier, athlete, farmer. Pass it on. Handle the word right.

CH 3 HARD TIMES AHEAD
The last days, and why Scripture is enough.

CH 4 FINISH WELL
Preach the word. I have fought the good fight. Bring my coat.

Where Jesus Shows Up

2 TIMOTHY 1:10 Our Savior Christ Jesus abolished death and brought life and immortality to light.

2 TIMOTHY 2:8 Raised from the dead, descended from David. 2 Samuel 7:12.

2 TIMOTHY 4:1 AND 4:8 He will judge the living and the dead and give the crown of righteousness at His appearing. Still to come.

PAUL'S LAST WORDS
As far as we know, this is the last thing Paul wrote.

GRANDMA'S FAITH
Paul names Timothy's grandmother Lois and mother Eunice, 1:5. Faith passed down three generations.

MAGICIANS WITH NAMES
Exodus never names Pharaoh's magicians. Paul does: Jannes and Jambres, 3:8.

GOD BREATHED
The Greek word in 3:16 shows up here first in all known writing. Paul may have coined it.

What Happened Next?

Paul was put to death in Rome. Clement of Rome wrote about AD 96 that Paul bore witness before the rulers and went to the holy place. Later writers say he was beheaded, as a Roman citizen. Timothy kept going: Hebrews 13:23 says he was set free from prison. Mark, whom Paul once refused to take along, was now useful to him, 4:11, and Christian tradition says Mark wrote the Gospel of Mark.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul is in chains in Rome and knows he is about to die. He writes to Timothy like a dad to a son. Remember your grandma's faith. Fan the fire back up. God did not give you a spirit of fear. Almost everyone left me, but Onesiphorus came looking for me.

PAUL'S GREETING TO TIMOTHY // 1 TIMOTHY 1:1–2

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, according to the promise of life in Christ Jesus,

2 To Timothy, my beloved child:

Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

FAITHFULNESS UNDER PERSECUTION //
MATTHEW 10:16–25

3 I thank God, whom I serve with a clear conscience as did my forefathers, as I constantly remember you night and day in my prayers. 4 Recalling your tears, I long to see you so that I may be filled with joy.

5 I am reminded of your sincere faith, which first dwelt in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice, and I am convinced is in you as well.

6 For this reason I remind you to fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you through the laying on of my hands. 7 For God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power, love, and self-control.

8 So do not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, or of me, His prisoner. Instead, join me in suffering for the gospel by the power of God. 9 He has saved us and called us to a holy calling, not because of our works, but by His own purpose and by the grace He granted us in Christ Jesus before time began. 10 And now He has revealed this grace through the appearing of our Savior, Christ Jesus, who has abolished death and illuminated the way to life and immortality through the gospel, 11 to which I was appointed as a preacher, an apostle, and a teacher.

12 For this reason, even though I suffer as I do, I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed, and I am convinced that He is able to guard what I have entrusted to Him for that day.

LYSTRA, TIMOTHY'S HOMETOWN

2 TIMOTHY 1:5 · 3:11 · ACTS 14:6 TO 20 · ACTS 16:1 TO 3

Bronze coin of Lystra under Augustus, both sides. Bibliothèque nationale de France, public domain.

WHAT IT IS

A bronze coin made by the city of Lystra. One side shows the emperor Augustus. The other shows a priest plowing with two oxen, the ceremony Romans used to mark out a new colony, with the Latin words COLONIA IULIA FELIX GEMINA and the city's name.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was made under Augustus, between about 25 BC and AD 14, after he made Lystra a Roman colony for retired soldiers. That was about 70 years before Paul came.

FINDING THE TOWN

For centuries no one knew where Lystra was. In 1885 the American scholar J. R. S. Sterrett found a stone altar near the village of Hatunsaray in Turkey with the town's Latin name on it. The mound has barely been dug.

TIMOTHY'S HOME

Paul met Timothy here, Acts 16:1. His mother was a Jewish believer and his father was Greek. His grandmother Lois and mother Eunice taught him the Scriptures from a baby, 1:5 and 3:15.

2TI 1:5 [NOTE] LOIS AND EUNICE. Three generations of faith. Timothy's mother was a Jewish believer and his father was Greek, Acts 16:1, so his faith came through the women in his family. See the Lystra Field Notes page, p.1948.

2TI 1:7 [NOTABLE] Timothy seems to have been timid, 1 Corinthians 16:10. Fear is not from God. The KJV says a sound mind: the Greek word means a clear, disciplined mind that does not panic.

2TI 1:12 [NOTABLE] Paul wrote this chained in prison, facing death. He does not say I know what I believe. He says I know whom. Faith rests on a Person who can be trusted.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES NOTABLE

WHAT TIMOTHY SAW
On Paul's first visit, the crowd thought he and Barnabas were the gods Hermes and Zeus. Days later they stoned Paul and left him for dead, Acts 14:11 to 19. Timothy was likely there. Years later Paul reminds him: you saw what happened to me at Lystra, 3:11.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
The coin shows Lystra was a real Roman colony, just as its Latin name says. It does not mention Timothy or Paul.

HOLDING TO SOUND TEACHING

13 Hold on to the pattern of sound teaching you have heard from me, with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. 14 Guard the treasure entrusted to you, with the help of the Holy Spirit who dwells in us.

15 You know that everyone in the province of Asia has deserted me, including Phygelus and Hermogenes.

16 May the Lord grant mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, because he has often refreshed me and was unashamed of my chains. 17 Indeed, when he arrived in Rome, he searched diligently until he found me.

18 May the Lord grant Onesiphorus His mercy on that day. You know very well how much he ministered to me in Ephesus.

2

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS
Be strong like a soldier, play by the rules like an athlete, work hard like a farmer. Pass the truth on to people who will pass it on again. Work hard at handling God's word right, run from youthful lusts, and do not get dragged into dumb arguments.

GRACE AND PERSEVERANCE // HEBREWS 12:1–3

1 You therefore, my child, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. 2 And the things that you have heard me say among many witnesses, entrust these to faithful men who will be qualified to teach others as well.

3 Join me in suffering, like a good soldier of Christ Jesus. 4 A soldier refrains from entangling himself in civilian affairs, in order to please the one who enlisted him. 5 Likewise, a competitor does not receive the crown unless he competes according to the rules. 6 The hardworking farmer should be the first to partake of the crops.
7 Consider what I am saying, for the Lord will give you insight into all things.

8 Remember Jesus Christ, raised from the dead, descended from David, as proclaimed by my gospel, 9 for which I suffer to the extent of being chained like a criminal. But the word of God cannot be chained! 10 For this reason I endure all things for the sake of the elect, so that they too may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory.

11 This is a trustworthy saying:

If we died with Him,
  we will also live with Him; 12 if we endure,
  we will also reign with Him;
if we deny Him,
  He will also deny us;
13 if we are faithless,
  He remains faithful,
  for He cannot deny Himself.

THE LORD'S APPROVED WORKMAN

14 Remind the believers of these things, charging them before God to avoid quarreling over words, which succeeds only in leading the listeners to ruin.

15 Be diligent to show yourself approved to God, a workman who does not need to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

2TI 2:2 [NOTABLE] Four generations in one verse: Paul, Timothy, faithful men, and others. This is how the faith reached you. Every believer is a link in the chain.

2TI 2:3 [NOTABLE] Three pictures of the Christian life. The soldier stays focused on his commander. The athlete plays by the rules. The hardworking farmer eats first. Each one says the same thing: hard work now, reward later.

← 2SA 7:12 p.503

2TI 2:11 [NOTABLE] Likely an early Christian saying or song. It has a warning, if we deny Him, He will deny us, Matthew 10:33, and a comfort: even when our faith is weak, God keeps His word.

2TI 2:15 [NOTE] BE DILIGENT. The KJV says Study. In 1611 study could mean work hard, and that is what the Greek word spoudazo means; the KJV itself says do thy diligence for the same word in 4:9. So this is not a command to read only the Bible. It is about working hard to handle God's word right. Paul read widely: he quoted Greek writers, Acts 17:28, Titus 1:12 and 1 Corinthians 15:33, and asked for his books, 4:13. Trained under Gamaliel, Acts 22:3, he was probably the most educated of the apostles, Acts 4:13 and 26:24. Many believe he never knew his letters would be called Scripture; others note he knew he wrote with the Lord's authority, 1 Corinthians 14:37.

WHAT IT IS

The Tullianum, a cramped underground stone cell at the edge of the Roman Forum. It was the bottom level of Rome's state prison, later called the Mamertine Prison. Prisoners were lowered through a hole in the ceiling.

HOW OLD IT IS

Its walls are centuries older than Paul. Experts date the oldest parts anywhere from about 600 to 100 BC. A repair inscription on the front names the consuls of about AD 22.

WHO DIED HERE

Rome kept famous enemies here before killing them: the African king Jugurtha, 104 BC, men from Catiline's plot, 63 BC, the Gallic chief Vercingetorix, 46 BC, and Simon bar Giora, a Jewish rebel leader, in AD 71 after the fall of Jerusalem. The Roman writer Sallust said it looked dirty, dark and frightening.

THE PAUL AND PETER STORY

A church was built over it, and tradition says Peter and Paul were held here before they died. That story is first found in writings from hundreds of years later. No early source says it.

WHERE WAS PAUL?

We do not know. His first arrest was easy: a rented house, Acts 28:30. This time he is chained like a criminal, 2:9, so hard to find that Onesiphorus had to search for him, 1:17. A cell like this shows the kind of place he may have been.

PROPHECIES FULFILLED IN HISTORY DEMONIC NOTABLE

Nothing found here names Paul. It shows how Rome treated its prisoners.

23 But reject foolish and ignorant speculation, for you know that it breeds quarreling. 24 And a servant of the Lord must not be quarrelsome, but must be kind to everyone, able to teach, and forbearing. 25 He must gently reprove those who oppose him, in the hope that God may grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth. 26 Then they will come to their senses and escape the snare of the devil, who has taken them captive to his will.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS
The last days will be ugly. People will love themselves, money and pleasure more than God, and still look religious. But Timothy, you know how I lived. Stick with what you learned from Scripture, because all Scripture is God breathed.

EVIL IN THE LAST DAYS

1 But understand this: In the last days terrible times will come. 2 For men will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, 3 unloving, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, without love of good, 4 traitorous, reckless, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, 5 having a form of godliness but denying its power. Turn away from such as these!

6 They are the kind who worm their way into households and captivate vulnerable women who are weighed down with sins and led astray by various passions, 7 who are always learning but never able to come to a knowledge of the truth.

8 Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so also these men oppose the truth. They are depraved in mind and disqualified from the faith. 9 But they will not advance much further. For just like Jannes and Jambres, their folly will be plain to everyone.

ALL SCRIPTURE IS GOD-BREATHED // HEBREWS 4:12–16

10 You, however, have observed my teaching, my conduct, my purpose, my faith, my patience, my love, my perseverance, 11 my persecutions, and the sufferings that came upon me in Antioch, Iconium, and Lystra. What persecutions I endured! Yet the Lord rescued me from all of them. 12 Indeed, all who desire to live godly lives in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, 13 while evil men and imposters go from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived.

14 But as for you, continue in the things you have learned and firmly believed, since you know from whom you have learned them. 15 From infancy you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. 16 All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for instruction, for conviction, for correction, and for training in righteousness, 17 so that the man of God may be complete, fully equipped for every good work.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

HOW IS THE BIBLE INSPIRED?

God Breathed

2 TIMOTHY 3:14 TO 17 · 2 PETER 1:20 TO 21 · 2 PETER 3:16

WHAT PAUL SAID

All Scripture is God breathed, 3:16. The Greek word is theopneustos, God plus breath, and it is the first time anyone is known to use it. The KJV says given by inspiration of God. Paul says Scripture is useful to teach, to rebuke, to correct and to train, so a believer is ready for every good work, 3:17.

WHAT SCRIPTURE MEANT TO PAUL

He meant the holy writings Timothy had known from a baby, 3:15, our Old Testament. But the first Christians were already calling some New Testament writings Scripture: Paul quotes Jesus' words in Luke 10:7 as Scripture, 1 Timothy 5:18, and Peter puts Paul's letters with the other Scriptures, 2 Peter 3:16. Many believe Paul never pictured his letters gathered into a Bible. Others point out that he knew he wrote with the Lord's authority, 1 Corinthians 14:37.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Clement of Rome, about AD 96, called the Scriptures true and given through the Holy Spirit. Augustine, about AD 405, wrote that if a Bible verse seemed wrong to him, he would assume the copy was bad, the translator made a mistake, or he did not understand it.

WORD FOR WORD DICTATION

God told the writers exactly what to write, like a boss speaking to a secretary. Jeremiah 36:4 and Revelation 2 and 3 look like this. Few hold it for the whole Bible today, because each writer's own style shows, and Luke says he did research, Luke 1:1 to 3.

INERRANCY

God guided the human writers, using their own personalities, so that every word is what He wanted and the Bible is without error in everything it teaches, in the original copies. Key verses: 2 Peter 1:21, Matthew 5:18, John 10:35. Spelled out in the Chicago Statement on Biblical Inerrancy, 1978. Held by many evangelicals; the Southern Baptist confession says truth without any mixture of error.

INFALLIBLE FOR FAITH AND LIFE

The Bible never fails in what it teaches about God, salvation and how to live, but small details of history or science may reflect the writers' times. Harold Lindsell's 1976 book The Battle for the Bible made this debate famous among evangelicals.

CATHOLIC AND ORTHODOX

God is the author of Scripture and it teaches without error the truth God wanted written for our salvation, as the Catholic Church said at Vatican II in 1965. It is read together with the church's Tradition.

OTHER VIEWS

Karl Barth taught that the Bible is a human witness to Jesus, the Word of God, and becomes God's Word when God speaks through it. Many liberal scholars see the Bible as inspired the way great writing is inspired, a human record of people's experience of God.

WHAT WE ALL AGREE ON

God speaks through the Bible. It points to Jesus, John 5:39. And its goal is not to win arguments but to make us complete and ready for every good work, 3:17.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Preach the word whether people like it or not. Paul is ready to die: I fought the good fight, I finished the race, I kept the faith. Then it gets personal. Come quickly before winter, bring Mark, and do not forget my coat and my books.

SCROLLS AND PARCHMENTS

2 TIMOTHY 4:9 TO 13

Wall painting from Pompeii, about AD 55 to 79. National Archaeological Museum, Naples. Photo Jebulon, public domain.

WHAT IT IS

A painted portrait of a married couple from a house in Pompeii. She holds a stylus to her lips and a little notebook of wax tablets. He holds a papyrus scroll.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was painted in the last years before the volcano buried Pompeii in AD 79, probably under Nero, the same years Paul wrote this letter.

SCROLLS AND PARCHMENTS

Paul asks for his scrolls, especially the parchments, 4:13. Scrolls were usually papyrus rolls like the one in his hand. The word parchments is a Latin word in Paul's Greek, membranas, notebooks of animal skin pages. The poet Martial, about AD 85, sold his poems in small parchment books you could hold in one hand.

WHAT WERE THEY?

Nobody knows. Maybe Old Testament scrolls, notes, copies of his own letters, or his papers proving he was a Roman citizen. Paul wanted his books even on death row.

THE CHRISTIAN BOOK

Most books in Paul's world were scrolls. But the first Christians loved the page book, the codex. Almost every early Christian copy of the Bible we have is a codex, like Codex Sinaiticus on the title page.

THE COAT

The cloak was a heavy wool travel cloak. Winter was coming, 4:21, and stone cells are cold.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

This couple has nothing to do with Paul. The painting shows what scrolls and notebooks looked like in his day.

WHAT IT IS

The place under the main altar of the Basilica of Saint Paul Outside the Walls in Rome where a large marble coffin, a sarcophagus, was found. A marble slab above it reads PAULO APOSTOLO MART, to Paul, apostle, martyr.

HOW OLD IT IS

Emperor Constantine built the first church here in the 300s, and it was made much bigger about AD 390. The slab is from about that time. The coffin is at the level of that old church.

THE OLD TRADITION

About AD 200, a Roman church leader named Gaius said he could show visitors the trophies, the monuments, of the apostles: Peter's on the Vatican hill and Paul's on the road to Ostia. Writers like Tertullian, about AD 200, say Paul was beheaded.

THE DIG

From 2002 to 2006, Vatican archaeologist Giorgio Filippi dug under the altar and found the sarcophagus. A small opening now lets visitors see one side of it.

WHAT WAS INSIDE

On June 28, 2009, Pope Benedict XVI announced that a probe slipped into a tiny hole found purple linen with gold, blue cloth, red incense, and tiny pieces of bone. Carbon dating put the bones in the first or second century.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The bones fit Paul's time, but nothing can prove whose they are. This is a very old and strong tradition, not proof.

2TI 4:21 [NOTE] LINUS AND CLAUDIA. Irenaeus, about AD 180, says Linus, named here, led the church in Rome after Peter and Paul. A legend makes Claudia a British princess, from a poem by Martial about a British Claudia married to a Pudens; most scholars doubt it.

Set It in Order

AUTHOR	Paul, 1:1. Most critical scholars think a follower wrote the three Pastoral Letters about AD 90 to 130. See the 1 Timothy facts, p.1931.
WRITTEN FROM	Probably Macedonia or Greece, on the way to Nicopolis, 3:12.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 62 to 65, between Paul's two Roman arrests.
WRITTEN TO	Titus, a Greek believer Paul left on the island of Crete, 1:5.
WHY HE WROTE	To help Titus finish setting up the churches, choose good leaders, and stop false teachers.
KEY VERSE	Titus 3:5. He saved us, not by the righteous deeds we had done, but according to His mercy.

AN EARLY COPY OF TITUS
Papyrus 32, front and back, copied about AD 200. One side has Titus 1:11 to 15, right where Paul quotes the Cretan poet. The other side has 2:3 to 8. It is about 4 inches tall and is kept in the John Rylands Library in Manchester, England. Public domain.

Historical Setting

Acts never mentions Titus by name, but Paul's letters do. He was a Greek who was never circumcised, Galatians 2:3, and Paul sent him to fix problems in Corinth, 2 Corinthians 7 and 8. Most think that after Paul's first arrest in Rome, the two of them went to Crete, a big island south of Greece. Paul moved on and left Titus to finish the work. Crete had a bad name. Even Greeks used Cretan as a word for liar. Into that place Paul sends a short letter about good leaders, good lives and God's kindness.

What Was Going Wrong

NO LEADERS. The new churches had no elders yet, 1:5.
FALSE TEACHERS. Talkers who taught for money and upset whole families, 1:10 to 11.
MYTHS AND FIGHTS. Jewish myths, family lines and arguments about the law, 1:14 and 3:9.
BAD NAME. Cretans were known as liars, 1:12, so their lives had to back up the gospel, 2:5 to 10.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Titus is a short handbook for a young church on a tough island. Paul does not give Titus a fancy program. He gives him two things: leaders whose lives match their words, and a gospel that changes how people live. In the middle of it are two of the clearest verses in the Bible about who Jesus is and how we are saved.

CH 2 SOUND DOCTRINE, GOOD LIVES

5 The reason I left you in Crete was that you would set in order what was unfinished and appoint elders in every town, as I directed you. 6 An elder must be blameless, the husband of but one wife, having children who are believers and who are not open to accusation of indiscretion or insubordination.

7 As God's steward, an overseer must be above reproach—not self-willed, not quick-tempered, not given to drunkenness, not violent, not greedy for money. 8 Instead, he must be hospitable, a lover of good, self-controlled, upright, holy, and disciplined. 9 He must hold firmly to the faithful word as it was taught, so that he can encourage others by sound teaching and refute those who contradict it.

WHAT IT IS

A clay tablet from the palace of Knossos on Crete, written in a script called Linear B. It is a list of olive oil given to gods, and even to a priestess of the winds.

HOW OLD IT IS

About 1450 to 1375 BC, nearly 1,500 years before Paul. The first palace at Knossos was built about 1900 BC. Tablets like this were only dried clay. Fires that burned the palace baked them hard, and that is why they lasted.

THE OLDEST GREEK

The British archaeologist Arthur Evans dug the palace starting in 1900 and found thousands of tablets. Nobody could read them. In 1952 a young English architect named Michael Ventris cracked the code: it was an early form of Greek, centuries older than Homer.

A REBUILT PALACE

Evans rebuilt parts of the palace in concrete and painted copies of its wall art. Visitors today see his best guesses mixed with the real ruins, so not everything there is ancient.

CRETE IN THE BIBLE

Amos 9:7 says the Philistines came from Caphtor, which most think was Crete. David's bodyguards, the Cherethites, 2 Samuel 8:18, may have been Cretans. Cretans heard the gospel at Pentecost, Acts 2:11, and Paul's prison ship sailed along Crete, Acts 27:7 to 13.

THE KING AND THE MAZE

Greek myths said King Minos ruled here, and a monster, half man and half

ARCHAEOLOGY NOTABLE

bull, lived in a maze called the labyrinth. Evans named the whole culture Minoan after Minos. The myths are not history, but the real palace was a maze of hundreds of rooms.

IN PAUL'S DAY

Rome took Crete about 67 BC, and Knossos became a Roman colony. Epimenides, the poet Paul quotes in 1:12, came from Knossos. The Roman capital, though, was Gortyn; see The Gortyn Law Code Field Notes page, p.1963.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

This tablet is far older than Paul and says nothing about Titus. It shows how old and proud the island was where Titus had to work.

CORRECTING FALSE TEACHERS // 1 TIMOTHY 1:3–11

10 For many are rebellious and full of empty talk and deception, especially those of the circumcision, 11 who must be silenced. For the sake of dishonorable gain, they undermine entire households and teach things they should not. 12 As one of their own prophets has said, "Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons."

13 This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sternly, so that they will be sound in the faith 14 and will pay no attention to Jewish myths or to the commands of men who have rejected the truth.

15 To the pure, all things are pure; but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure. Indeed, both their minds and their consciences are defiled. 16 They profess to know God, but by their actions they deny Him. They are detestable, disobedient, and unfit for any good deed.

WHAT IT IS

A bronze shield given as an offering in the Idaean Cave on Mount Ida, the highest mountain on Crete. In the middle a god, most likely Zeus, lifts a lion over his head and stands on a bull. Two winged helpers beat drums.

HOW OLD IT IS

Late 700s or 600s BC. A shepherd found the first pieces in 1884, and the Italian archaeologist Federico Halbherr dug the cave in 1885.

THE MYTH

Greeks said Zeus was born on Crete and hidden in a cave so his father would not eat him. Young warriors called Curetes banged shields and drums so no one would hear the baby cry. Shields like this one remembered that story.

THE TOMB OF ZEUS

Cretans also showed visitors a tomb of Zeus. Other Greeks were shocked, because a god cannot die. The poet Callimachus, about 270 BC, wrote to Zeus: Cretans are always liars; they built a TIT 1:12 [NOTABLE] Paul quotes Epimenides, a poet from Crete, from about 600 BC. Paul even calls him one of their own prophets.

TIT 1:12 [NOTE] THE CRETAN LIAR. The poet is Epimenides of Knossos, about 600 BC, as Clement of Alexandria said about AD 200. Acts 17:28 may quote the same poem, but that is debated. Teachers of logic later made the line a puzzle: if a Cretan says all Cretans lie, is he lying? That puzzle dates only from the 1800s. Paul is not playing games: he says this testimony is true, 1:13. See The Cave of Zeus Field Notes page, p.1961.

TIT 1:14 [NOTE] JEWISH MYTHS. Probably made up stories built on Old Testament names and family lines, plus rules about clean and unclean food, 1:15. Writings of the time like the Book of Jubilees retold Genesis with many extra details. See 1 Timothy 1:4 and 3:9.

TIT 1:16 [NOTABLE] Saying you know God and living like you do not are two different things. Your life is the loudest sermon you preach.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES ARCHAEOLOGY NOTABLE

tomb for you, but you did not die. Paul quotes the same famous line.

THE PROPHET

The line comes from Epimenides of Knossos, about 600 BC. Old stories say he slept in a cave for 57 years and woke up a prophet. That is why Paul says one of their own prophets.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Paul just called God the One who cannot lie, 1:2. Now he uses a line Cretans all knew to tell Titus to correct the false teachers firmly, 1:13. The point is not that every Cretan is bad. He is sending Titus to them.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The shield shows the Zeus stories were real worship on Crete. It does not make the myths true.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Teach what fits sound doctrine. Older men, older women, young women, young men, even slaves all get a word, and it is the same word: live so well that nobody can trash the gospel. Why? Because God's grace showed up, and it trains us while we wait for Jesus.

TEACHING SOUND DOCTRINE

1 But as for you, speak the things that are consistent with sound doctrine.

2 Older men are to be temperate, dignified, self-controlled, and sound in faith, love, and perseverance.

3 Older women, likewise, are to be reverent in their behavior, not slanderers or addicted to much wine, but teachers of good. 4 In this way they can train the young women to love their husbands and children, 5 to be self-controlled, pure, managers of their households, kind, and submissive to their own husbands, so that the word of God will not be discredited.

6 In the same way, urge the younger men to be self-controlled.

7 In everything, show yourself to be an example by doing good works. In your teaching show integrity, dignity, 8 and wholesome speech that is above reproach, so that anyone who opposes us will be ashamed, having nothing bad to say about us.

9 Slaves are to submit to their own masters in everything, to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, 10 not stealing from them, but showing all good faith, so that in every respect they will adorn the teaching about God our Savior.

GOD'S GRACE BRINGS SALVATION

11 For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation to everyone. 12 It instructs us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live sensible, upright, and godly lives in the present age, 13 as we await the blessed hope and glorious appearance of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ. 14 He gave Himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for Himself a people for His own possession, zealous for good deeds.

- TIT 2:5 [TEXT] Managers of their households follows the oldest Greek copies, like Sinaiticus and Alexandrinus, which say workers at home. Later copies say keepers at home, the KJV wording.

- TIT 2:9 [ARCHAEOLOGY] The Gortyn law code, Crete, about 450 BC, the longest Greek law inscription, with laws on slaves, marriage, divorce and family property → FIELD NOTES p.1963
- TIT 2:9 [NOTE] SLAVES. Many people in the Roman world were slaves. It was not based on race, and some bought their freedom, but people were still owned. Paul tells Philemon to take a runaway back as a dear brother, Philemon 16, and tells slaves to gain freedom if they can, 1 Corinthians 7:21. About AD 379 Gregory of Nyssa preached that no one should own a person. Later some used verses like this to defend American slavery, while Christians like William Wilberforce fought to end it.
- TIT 2:11 [NOTABLE] Grace does not only save you, it trains you. The same grace that forgives also teaches you to say no to what hurts you and yes to a godly life.

- TIT 2:13 [FULFILLS] Called Mighty God (El Gibor) ← IS 9:6 p.1072
- TIT 2:13 [NOTE] ONE PERSON, TWO TITLES. In Greek one the covers both titles: the great God and Savior. In 1798 Granville Sharp, an English scholar who also fought slavery, showed that this pattern means one person, so both titles belong to Jesus. 2 Peter 1:1 is the same. The KJV, the great God and our Saviour, can be read as two persons, and the Jehovah's Witness Bible says the great God and of our Savior.

THE GORTYN LAW CODE

TITUS 1:5 · 2:1 TO 10 · 1 MACCABEES 15:23

Part of the law code carved into a stone wall at Gortyn, Crete. Photo Zde, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

Laws carved into a curved stone wall at Gortyn, in southern Crete. About 600 lines in 12 columns, some 30 feet long. It is the most complete ancient Greek law code ever found.

HOW OLD IT IS

Carved about 450 BC. The first pieces turned up in 1857. Federico Halbherr found the main wall in 1884 near a mill. The Romans had reused the stones in a later building, and that kept them safe.

READ IT LIKE AN OX PLOWS

The lines run right to left, then left to right, back and forth, the way an ox plows a field. The Greeks called it boustrophedon, ox turning.

SLAVES AND FAMILIES

The laws cover slaves, marriage, divorce, children, adoption and who inherits the family property. The fine for a crime depended on who you were: free, serf or slave. Harming a slave cost less than harming a free man.

TITUS AT GORTYN

In Titus' day Gortyn was the Roman capital of Crete and of Cyrene in North Africa. Jews lived there long before, 1 Maccabees 15:23. Eusebius, about AD 325, says Titus led the churches of Crete, and tradition makes him the first bishop at Gortyn. A big church named for him was built there in the 500s, and its ruins still stand.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Old laws like these ranked people by birth. Paul gives older men, older women, young people and slaves the same calling: live so that the teaching about God our Savior looks beautiful, 2:10.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The code is about 500 years older than Paul and does not mention Christians. The stories about Titus at Gortyn come from later church tradition.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Be good neighbors and good citizens. We used to be a mess too, until God saved us, not because we earned it, but because He is kind. So do good works, skip the dumb arguments, warn a trouble-maker twice, then move on. And Titus, meet me at Nicopolis for the winter.

HEIRS OF GRACE

1 Remind the believers to submit to rulers and authorities, to be obedient and ready for every good work, 2 to malign no one,
and to be peaceable and gentle, showing full consideration to everyone.

3 For at one time we too were foolish, disobedient, misled, and enslaved to all sorts of desires and pleasures—living in malice and envy, being hated and hating one another.

4 But when the kindness of God our Savior and His love for mankind appeared, 5 He saved us, not by the righteous deeds we had done, but according to His mercy,

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

DOES BAPTISM SAVE?

The Washing of New Birth

TITUS 3:4 TO 7 · JOHN 3:5 · ACTS 2:38 · 1 PETER 3:21

WHAT PAUL SAID

God saved us, not by our good deeds, but by His mercy, through the washing of new birth and renewal by the Holy Spirit, 3:5. The KJV says the washing of regeneration. Christians have argued for centuries about one question: is that washing baptism, and does baptism save?

THE FIRST CHRISTIANS

In Acts, people were baptized right after they believed, often the same day, Acts 2:41, 8:36 to 38 and 16:33. The Didache, a church guide from about AD 100, says to baptize in running water, or to pour water on the head three times if there is none. Justin Martyr, about AD 155, calls baptism a washing and a new birth and quotes John 3:5.

BABIES OR BELIEVERS?

Tertullian, about AD 200, said it was better to wait until children were old enough to know Christ, which shows some churches baptized babies. A church order linked to Hippolytus, about AD 215, says to baptize the little ones first and let parents answer for them. Origen, about AD 245, said baptizing babies came from the apostles. Augustine, about AD 400, taught that babies need baptism to wash away the sin they are born with, and infant baptism became normal for over a thousand years.

THE REFORMATION

Martin Luther kept infant baptism. In his Small Catechism, 1529, he asks how water can do such great things and answers: not the water, but God's word with the water, and faith that trusts it, quoting Titus 3:5 to 8. Ulrich Zwingli in Zurich taught that baptism is a sign, not a cause, of grace. John Calvin called it a sign and seal of God's promise, like circumcision.

THE BELIEVERS ONLY MOVEMENT

On January 21, 1525, in Zurich, Conrad Grebel baptized George Blaurock as a believer, and the Anabaptists were born. They were called rebaptizers and hunted down; Felix Manz was drowned in 1527. In 1609 John Smyth led the first English Baptist church, in Amsterdam.

LATER MOVEMENTS

In the early 1800s the Restoration Movement of Barton Stone and Alexander Campbell, which grew into the Churches of Christ and the Christian Church, taught baptism by immersion for the forgiveness of sins, Acts 2:38. In 1913, a sermon at a camp meeting near Los Angeles started the Oneness Pentecostal movement, which baptizes in Jesus' name only. Churches also differ on how: dunking all the way under, pouring, or sprinkling.

The Case Each Side Makes

TITUS 3:5 · ROMANS 6:3 TO 4 · EPHESIANS 2:8 TO 9 · LUKE 23:39 TO 43

BAPTISM SAVES, CATHOLIC AND ORTHODOX

Baptism really washes away sin and gives new birth, for babies and adults. Key verses: John 3:5, Acts 2:38, Acts 22:16, Romans 6:3 to 4, 1 Peter 3:21, and Titus 3:5. Best case: the Bible says baptism now saves you, 1 Peter 3:21, and the early church read it that way. The Catholic Catechism adds that God tied salvation to baptism but is not Himself tied by it, so a person who dies wanting baptism, or as a martyr, can be saved.

GOD'S WORD IN THE WATER, LUTHERAN

Baptism is God's work, not ours. His promise joined to the water gives new birth and creates faith, even in a baby. Key verses: Titus 3:5, Mark 16:16 in the longer ending, Galatians 3:27. Best case: it keeps salvation all grace, a gift you receive, never a work you do.

REQUIRED FOR BELIEVERS

Churches of Christ teach that a believer is saved when he is immersed for the forgiveness of sins. Oneness Pentecostals add that it must be in the name of Jesus. Key verses: Acts 2:38, Acts 22:16, Mark 16:16, and Acts 10:48 and 19:5. Best case: every conversion in Acts ends in the water, quickly, and nobody in the New Testament is called saved and then left unbaptized.

A COVENANT SIGN, REFORMED

Presbyterian and Reformed churches say baptism is a sign and seal of God's promise, the way circumcision was for Israel. It is given to believers and their children, but the water does not save by itself. Key verses: Colossians 2:11 to 12, Acts 2:39, and whole households baptized, Acts 16:15 and 16:33.

A SYMBOL OF A CHANGE ALREADY MADE

Baptists and most evangelical and Pentecostal churches say we are saved by grace through faith, Ephesians 2:8 to 9, and baptism is the first step of obedience that shows it. The washing in 3:5 is the Spirit's inner work. Key verses: Acts 10:44 to 48, where the Spirit came before the water, and 1 Corinthians 1:17, Christ did not send me to baptize but to preach. THE THIEF ON THE CROSS: he was never baptized as far as the Bible tells, yet Jesus said, today you will be with Me in paradise, Luke 23:43. Other sides answer that he died before Jesus commanded baptism, Matthew 28:19, that no one knows if John baptized him, or, for Catholics, that he had a baptism of desire.

WHAT WE ALL AGREE ON

Jesus commanded baptism, Matthew 28:19, so every believer should be baptized. The power to save is God's mercy, 3:5, not plain water. And the same Spirit He poured out on us, 3:6, makes us new.

AVOID DIVISIONS // ROMANS 16:17–20

9 But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, arguments, and quarrels about the law, because these things are pointless and worthless.

10 Reject a divisive man after a first and second admonition, 11 knowing that such a man is corrupt and sinful; he is self-condemned.

NICOPOLIS, VICTORY CITY

TITUS 3:12 · 2 TIMOTHY 4:10 TO 12

Part of the wall of Augustus' victory monument above Nicopolis, Greece, with sockets for bronze ship rams. Photo Mark Landon, CC BY 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

Huge stone blocks from the victory monument Augustus built on the hill above Nicopolis, in western Greece. The oddly shaped holes held bronze rams, the pointed beaks of enemy warships he captured.

HOW OLD IT IS

Built about 29 to 27 BC, right after Augustus beat Mark Antony and Cleopatra in the sea battle of Actium, 31 BC. At least 36 rams hung on this wall. A Latin inscription says he gave his old army camp to Mars and Neptune, the gods of war and sea.

VICTORY CITY

Nicopolis means victory city. Augustus founded it in 29 BC near the spot where his army had camped, and started big games there every four years.

PAUL'S WINTER PLAN

Ships stopped sailing in winter. Paul writes, I have decided to winter there, 3:12, and asks Titus to come once Artemas or Tychicus arrives to take his place. We do not know how the meeting went. 2 Timothy 4:10 says Titus later went to Dalmatia, farther up the same coast.

A FAMOUS TEACHER

About AD 94, the emperor Domitian banished the Stoic teacher Epictetus, and he opened a school at Nicopolis. Students came from all over the empire.

WHICH NICOPOLIS?

At least three cities had this name. Most think Paul meant this one, the biggest, on the route between Greece and Italy. A note at the end of Titus in the KJV says it was written from Nicopolis, but that note was added by later copyists.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Nothing here names Paul. The ruins show that the city he picked for the winter was real and important.

PHILEMON

Charge It to My Account

AUTHOR	Paul, with Timothy, verse 1. Almost all scholars agree Paul wrote it.
WRITTEN FROM	Prison, verse 9, most likely in Rome. Many scholars say Ephesus, only about 100 miles from Colossae; a few say Caesarea.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 60 to 62, at the same time as Colossians.
WRITTEN TO	Philemon, a believer in Colossae, and the church that met in his house, verse 2.
WHY HE WROTE	To ask Philemon to welcome back Onesimus, his runaway slave, as a brother in Christ.
KEY VERSE	Philemon 16. No longer as a slave, but better than a slave, as a beloved brother.

AN EARLY COPY OF PHILEMON
Papyrus 87, front and back, copied in the early 200s. One side has verses 13 to 15, the other verses 24 to 25. It is kept at the University of Cologne in Germany. Public domain.

Historical Setting

Philemon was a believer in Colossae who had a church meeting in his house. One of his slaves, Onesimus, ran away, and may have taken money too, verse 18. Somehow he ended up with Paul, who was in prison, and there he became a Christian. Now Paul has a problem. Under Roman law Onesimus belonged to Philemon. So Paul sends him back, carried along with the letter to the Colossians by Tychicus, Colossians 4:7 to 9, and writes this short note to change how Philemon sees him. It is the shortest of Paul's letters, and the most personal.

What Was at Stake

A RUNAWAY. Onesimus had left his master, verses 15 to 16.
A DEBT. He may have owed Philemon money, verse 18.
THE LAW. Roman law gave a master full power over a slave who ran away.
A NEW BROTHER. Now master and slave were both believers. How should they treat each other?

The Idiot Proof Summary

Philemon is a one page letter about one man, but it shows the whole gospel in miniature. Paul stands between an angry master and a guilty runaway and says, if he owes you, put it on my account. That is exactly what Jesus does for us. Martin Luther said it best: we are all His Onesimus.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Paul writes from prison to his friend Philemon about a runaway slave named Onesimus. The runaway met Paul, met Jesus, and became a new man. Now Paul sends him home with a note: take him back, not as a slave but as a brother. If he owes you anything, put it on my tab. Oh, and get the guest room ready.

GREETINGS FROM PAUL AND TIMOTHY // PHILIPPIANS 1:1–2; COLOSSIANS 1:1–2

1 Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother,

To Philemon our beloved fellow worker, 2 to Apphia our sister, to Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the church that meets at your house:

3 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

PHILEMON'S FAITH AND LOVE

4 I always thank my God, remembering you in my prayers, 5 because I hear about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints. 6 I pray that your partnership in the faith may become effective as you fully acknowledge every good thing that is ours in Christ. 7 I take great joy and encouragement in your love, because you, brother, have refreshed the hearts of the saints.

PAUL'S APPEAL FOR ONESIMUS

8 So although in Christ I am bold enough to order you to do what is proper, 9 I prefer to appeal on the basis of love. For I, Paul, am now aged, and a prisoner of Christ Jesus as well.

10 I appeal to you for my child Onesimus, whose father I became while I was in chains. 11 Formerly he was useless to you, but now he has become useful both to you and to me. 12 I am sending back to you him who is my very heart.

13 I would have liked to keep him with me, so that on your behalf he could minister to me in my chains for the gospel. 14 But I did not want to do anything without your consent, so that your goodness will not be out of compulsion, but by your own free will.

15 For perhaps this is why he was separated from you for a while, so that you might have him back for good— 16 no longer as a slave, but better than a slave, as a beloved brother. He is especially beloved to me, but even more so to you, both in person and in the Lord.

17 So if you consider me a partner, receive him as you would receive me. 18 But if he has wronged you in any way or owes you anything, charge it to my account. 19 I, Paul, write this with my own hand. I will repay it—not to mention that you owe me your very self.

20 Yes, brother, let me have some benefit from you in the Lord. Refresh my heart in Christ.

- PHM 1:2 [NOTE] THE HOUSE CHURCH. There were no church buildings yet, so believers met in homes. Many think Apphia was Philemon's wife and Archippus their son. Paul tells Archippus to finish his work for the Lord, Colossians 4:17.

Some think he went to Paul on purpose to ask him to make peace with his master; others that Philemon sent him to help Paul; a few that he was Philemon's brother, not a slave. Deuteronomy 23:15 to 16 says not to hand back a runaway. Some answer that the law was for slaves fleeing to Israel from other nations; others that Paul would not act without Philemon's consent, verse 14, and sent him as a brother, not as property.

PLINY'S LETTER FOR A FREEDMAN

PHILEMON 8 TO 21

Part of the marble plaque honoring Pliny the Younger, early 100s AD, in the wall of the church of Sant'Ambrogio, Milan. Photo Giovanni Dall'Orto, free with credit.

WHAT IT IS

Part of a marble plaque honoring Pliny the Younger, a rich Roman lawyer and governor. His name PLINIUS is on the top line. The same plaque appears in 1 Timothy, p.1939, because Pliny also wrote about Christians.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was carved in the early 100s AD, around the time of Pliny's death. Pliny was born about the time Paul wrote Philemon.

PLINY'S LETTER

About AD 107, Pliny wrote to his friend Sabinianus. A freedman, a former slave of Sabinianus, had made his master angry and ran to Pliny for help. He fell at Pliny's feet, cried and begged. Pliny wrote: he is sorry, forgive him, you can always be angry again if he deserves it. In a second letter Pliny thanks Sabinianus for taking him back.

SIDE BY SIDE

Both letters ask a master to take back a man who wronged him, and both use gentle pressure. But Pliny begs mercy for an inferior. Paul calls Onesimus my child, my very heart and a beloved brother, and offers to pay his debt himself.

THE OLDEST COPY

The title page shows Papyrus 87, a scrap of Philemon from the early 200s, now at the University of Cologne. Some scholars date it even earlier, in the 100s.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Pliny never heard of Onesimus. The two letters show how such requests were made in the Roman world.

- PHM 1:22 [NOTE] A GUEST ROOM. Paul expected to be set free, Philippians 1:25. Clement of Rome, about AD 96, says Paul reached the limit of the west, and many believe he was released and traveled again before his second arrest. See 2 Timothy, p.1945.
- PHM 1:24 [NOTE] THE SAME TEAM. These are the same friends who send greetings in Colossians 4:10 to 14. Mark is the young man Paul once refused to take along, Acts 15:37 to 39. Luke is the doctor who wrote Luke and Acts. Demas later left Paul, 2 Timothy 4:10.
- PHM 1:25 [NOTE] WHAT HAPPENED TO ONESIMUS? About AD 110, Ignatius praised a bishop of Ephesus named Onesimus. Some think it was the same man, and that he later helped gather Paul's letters, which would explain why this tiny note was saved. It is possible, but no one knows.

THE SLAVE COLLAR

PHILEMON 10 TO 16

Iron slave collar with bronze tag, Museo Nazionale Romano, Rome. Photo Mark Landon, CC BY 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

An iron collar that was locked around a slave's neck, with a bronze tag. The Latin says: I have run away. Hold me. When you bring me back to my master Zoninus, you will get a gold coin.

HOW OLD IT IS

From the 300s or 400s AD, at least 250 years after Paul. It has been known since 1749 and is in the National Museum of Rome.

A HARD TRUTH

The tag has a small palm branch, which may be a Christian sign, and other collars like it carry the Christian Chi Rho. Long after Paul, some Christians still owned slaves and collared them.

WHAT A RUNAWAY FACED

In Paul's day a caught runaway could be beaten, branded on the face, chained or sold far away. Professional slave catchers hunted them. Anyone who hid a runaway could owe the master for his lost work.

WHY PAUL WAS BOLD

Paul did not hide Onesimus. He sent him home with a letter asking his master to treat him as a brother, and he offered to pay whatever was owed, verses 16 to 19.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

This collar has nothing to do with Onesimus. It shows what running away could cost a slave.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

THE BIBLE AND SLAVERY

What Happened Then

PHILEMON 16 · GALATIANS 3:28 · EXODUS 21:2 TO 16 · LEVITICUS 25:44 TO 46

WHAT PAUL SAID

Take him back no longer as a slave, but as a beloved brother, verse 16. In Christ there is neither slave nor free, Galatians 3:28. If you can gain your freedom, take it, 1 Corinthians 7:21. Slave traders are listed with the lawless, 1 Timothy 1:10. But Paul also told slaves to obey their masters, Titus 2:9 and Ephesians 6:5, and he never told masters to free them.

SLAVERY IN ISRAEL

Hebrew servants were set free in the seventh year, Exodus 21:2 and Deuteronomy 15:12 to 15. Kidnapping a person was punished by death, Exodus 21:16. A runaway was not to be handed back, Deuteronomy 23:15 to 16. But foreigners could be held for life, Leviticus 25:44 to 46, and a master who beat a slave was not always punished, Exodus 21:20 to 21.

SLAVERY IN ROME

Millions were slaves: war captives, children of slaves, people sold for debt. It was not based on race. Many were freed in time, and some were doctors or teachers. But a slave had no rights, could be beaten or sold, and could not legally marry.

THE EARLY CHURCH

About AD 110, Ignatius told slaves not to expect the church to buy their freedom, which shows churches were doing it. About AD 379, Gregory of Nyssa preached that no human can own another. In the 300s, Constantine let Christians free slaves in church. About AD 450, Patrick of Ireland wrote against a king whose men captured new believers as slaves.

THE GREAT DEBATE

In 1688 Quakers in Germantown, Pennsylvania, protested slavery. John Newton, a former slave trader, wrote Amazing Grace and fought the trade. William Wilberforce led Britain to end the slave trade in 1807 and slavery in 1833. In America both sides quoted the Bible. A Slave Bible printed in 1807 for slaves in the British West Indies cut out the Exodus story. Frederick Douglass wrote in 1845 that the Christianity of this land was not the Christianity of Christ. Methodists split over slavery in 1844 and Baptists in 1845. In 1995 the Southern Baptist Convention apologized for its role.

The Case Each Side Makes

PHILEMON 16 · GENESIS 1:27 · 1 TIMOTHY 1:10 · EPHESIANS 6:5 TO 9

THE SEEDS VIEW

The Bible planted seeds that would destroy slavery: every person is made in God's image, Genesis 1:27, master and slave are brothers, verse 16, and both answer to the same Master, Ephesians 6:9. Paul worked inside a system he could not change overnight. Best case: the abolitionist movement grew from exactly these verses. Many evangelicals hold this, and William Webb's 2001 book calls it a redemptive movement.

IT WAS DIFFERENT

Bible slavery was mostly debt service for a set time, not the race based slavery of the Americas, and man stealing was a crime, Exodus 21:16. Best case: the Old Testament laws were kinder than the nations around Israel. Critics answer with Leviticus 25:44 to 46 and Exodus 21:20 to 21, and note Roman slavery in Paul's day was often lifelong.

THE BIBLE ACCEPTED IT

Many scholars say the Bible writers simply accepted slavery as part of their world, and Christians were right to move beyond it later. Jennifer Glancy's 2002 book shows how early Christians lived with slavery. Best case: it is honest about the texts. Believers who hold it say God's word came in real history and pointed forward.

THE PROSLAVERY READING

In the 1800s many preachers in the American South said slavery was God's plan, using the curse on Canaan in Genesis 9:25 and verses telling slaves to obey. Almost every church today rejects this reading. The curse fell on Canaan, not on Africans, and the Bible condemns kidnapping people to sell, 1 Timothy 1:10.

WHAT WE ALL AGREE ON

Kidnapping and selling people is sin. In Christ a slave and a master stand equal before God. And slavery is not gone: a 2022 estimate counted about 50 million people in forced labor or forced marriage today, and many Christians work to set them free.

CHARGE IT TO MY ACCOUNT

PHILEMON 17 TO 19 · COLOSSIANS 2:14

Loan contract on papyrus, Elephantine, Egypt, about 402 BC. Brooklyn Museum, no known restrictions.

WHAT IT IS

A loan contract written on papyrus in Aramaic. Anani son of Haggai, a Jewish soldier at Elephantine, an island in the Nile in Egypt, borrowed grain from a man named Pahnum and promised to pay it back.

HOW OLD IT IS

About 402 BC, more than 450 years before Paul. It belongs to the Elephantine papyri, records of a Jewish community in Egypt, and is in the Brooklyn Museum.

WHAT IT SAYS

Anani would repay out of his ration from the king. If he was late, he owed a fine in silver. If he died, his children or his guarantors had to pay. Until then the lender could take his house, a servant or his bronze pots. A scribe wrote it and four witnesses signed.

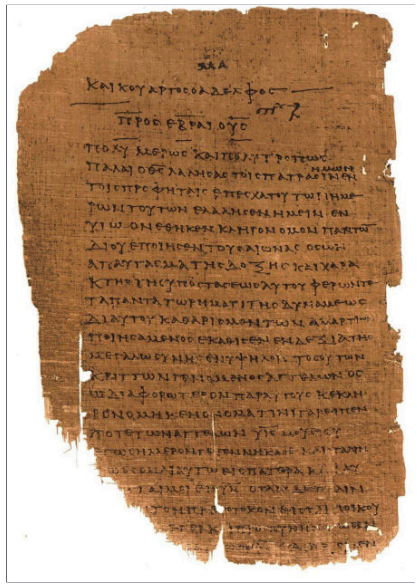
THE LANGUAGE OF DEBT

Paul writes like a businessman. Charge it to my account is a bookkeeping word. I, Paul, write this with my own hand. I will repay. That was the standard promise in a written IOU, and the signer wrote it himself.

A GUARANTOR

Paul steps in as Onesimus' guarantor and takes the debt on himself. Colossians 2:14 uses a word for a handwritten record of debt and says God nailed ours to the cross. Martin Luther wrote: we are all His Onesimus.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE



This contract has nothing to do with Paul. It shows how debts and promises to repay were written down.

HEBREWS

Something Better

AUTHOR	Unknown. The letter never names its writer. Origen, about AD 240, said only God knows. See The Big Question pages, p.1979.
WRITTEN FROM	Unknown. Those from Italy send you greetings, 13:24, so maybe Italy, or Italians living somewhere else.
DATE WRITTEN	Most likely about AD 60 to 69, while the temple sacrifices were still going on, 10:1 to 2. Some date it about AD 80 to 90.
WRITTEN TO	Believers in Jesus with a Jewish background, maybe in Rome or Jerusalem, who were tempted to go back to the old ways.
WHY HE WROTE	To show that Jesus is better than everything that came before Him, and to beg them not to drift away.
KEY VERSE	Hebrews 12:2. Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith.

THE OLDEST COPY OF HEBREWS
This is a page of Papyrus 46, a book of Paul's letters copied in Egypt about AD 200. At the top are the last words of Romans, and Quartus our brother, Romans 16:23. Under them is the title, To Hebrews, and the letter begins: On many past occasions and in many different ways, 1:1. A few lines down is the rare Greek word for radiance, 1:3. The page runs to about 1:7. Public domain.

Historical Setting

Hebrews reads like a sermon with a short note at the end; the writer calls it a word of encouragement, 13:22. His readers had a Jewish background and had already suffered for Jesus. They lost property, and some went to prison, 10:32 to 34. Now years had passed.

Jesus had not come back yet, some were skipping church, and the temple in Jerusalem, with its priests and sacrifices, still looked solid. Going back must have looked easy. So the writer walks through the Old Testament, the angels, Moses, the priests and the sacrifices, and shows that Jesus is better than all of it.

What Was Going Wrong

DRIFTING. Slowly sliding away from the faith, 2:1 and 3:12.
SLOW LEARNERS. They should have been teachers, but still needed milk, 5:11 to 12.
SKIPPING CHURCH. Some had stopped meeting together, 10:25.
PRESSURE. Insults, lost property and prison, 10:32 to 34 and 13:3.
GOING BACK. The pull of the old system of priests, food rules and sacrifices, 13:9 to 13.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Hebrews has one big word: better. Jesus is better than the angels and better than Moses. He is a better priest, with a better covenant, a better sacrifice and better promises. Everything in the Old Testament worship, the tabernacle, the priests and the blood, was a shadow pointing to Him. The book holds some of the strongest warnings in the Bible and some of its warmest comfort. Its answer to every problem is the same: fix your eyes on Jesus.

Hebrews at a Glance

CH 1 to 2	BETTER THAN ANGELS The Son is God's last word. He became human to rescue us.
CH 3 to 4	BETTER THAN MOSES Do not harden your hearts. A rest still waits for God's people.
CH 5 to 7	A BETTER PRIEST A priest forever like Melchizedek, who lives to pray for us.
CH 8 to 10	A BETTER COVENANT One sacrifice, once for all, opens the way to God.
CH 11	THE HALL OF FAITH Abel to Rahab and beyond: they trusted God without seeing.
CH 12	RUN THE RACE Eyes on Jesus. Discipline is love. A better mountain than Sinai.
CH 13	LIVING IT OUT Love, hospitality, marriage, contentment and a sacrifice of praise.

Where Jesus Shows Up

HEBREWS 1:3 The radiance of God's glory, who sat down at His right hand. Psalm 110:1.

HEBREWS 4:15 A High Priest who was tempted in every way like us, yet without sin.

HEBREWS 7:17 A priest forever in the order of Melchizedek. Psalm 110:4.

HEBREWS 10:12 One sacrifice for sins for all time, then He sat down.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

SEVEN QUOTES IN A ROW
Chapter 1 strings together seven Old Testament quotes to show the Son is greater than the angels.

A KING NAMED RIGHTEOUS
Melchizedek means king of righteousness, and Salem means peace, 7:2.

THE HALL OF FAITH
Chapter 11 names 16 heroes of faith and points to many more.

NO NAME
The writer never says who he is. People have been guessing for 1,800 years.

What Happened Next?

We do not know how the first readers answered. Within a few years, in AD 70, the Roman army burned the temple, and the sacrifices stopped for good, just as Hebrews said the old system was ready to vanish, 8:13. The church kept Hebrews and read it as Scripture, even while it argued about who wrote it.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES MIRACLES OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW

1

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

God used to speak in bits and pieces through the prophets. Now He has spoken through His Son, who made the universe and holds it together. Angels? They are great, but they are servants. The writer proves it with seven Old Testament quotes in a row, the ancient version of showing the receipts.

THE SUPREMACY OF THE SON // COLOSSIANS 1:15–23

1 On many past occasions and in many different ways, God spoke to our fathers through the prophets. 2 But in these last days He has spoken to us by His Son, whom He appointed heir of all things, and through whom He made the universe.
3 The Son is the radiance of God's glory and the exact representation of His nature, upholding all things by His powerful word. After He had provided purification for sins, He sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high. 4 So He became as far superior to the angels as the name He has inherited is excellent beyond theirs. 5
For to which of the angels did God ever say:

"You are My Son;
today I have become Your Father"?

Or again:

"I will be His Father,
and He will be My Son"?

6 And again, when God brings His firstborn into the world, He says:

"Let all God's angels worship Him."

7 Now about the angels He says:

"He makes His angels winds,
His servants flames of fire."

8 But about the Son He says:

"Your throne, O God, endures forever and ever,
and justice is the scepter of Your kingdom.
9 You have loved righteousness and hated wickedness;
therefore God, Your God, has anointed You above Your companions with the oil of joy."

10 And:

"In the beginning, O Lord, You laid the foundations of the earth, and the heavens are the work of Your hands.
11 They will perish, but You remain;
they will all wear out like a garment.
12 You will roll them up like a robe;
like a garment they will be changed;
but You remain the same,
and Your years will never end."

13 Yet to which of the angels did God ever say:

"Sit at My right hand
until I make Your enemies a footstool for Your feet"?

14 Are not the angels ministering spirits sent to serve those who will inherit salvation?

2

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

So pay attention, or you will drift like a boat with no anchor. Jesus was made a little lower than the angels for a while, became one of us, died, and broke the devil's grip on death. Now He is not ashamed to call us brothers, and He knows exactly how temptation feels.

SALVATION CONFIRMED

1 We must pay closer attention, therefore, to what we have heard, so that we do not drift away. 2 For if the message spoken by angels was binding, and every transgression and disobedience received its just punishment, 3 how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation?
This salvation was first announced by the Lord, was confirmed to us by those who heard Him, 4 and was affirmed by God through signs, wonders, various miracles, and gifts of the Holy Spirit distributed according to His will.

JESUS LIKE HIS BROTHERS

5 For it is not to angels that He has subjected the world to come, about which we are speaking. 6 But somewhere it is testified in these words:

"What is man that You are mindful of him,
or the son of man that You care for him?
7 You made him a little lower than the angels;
You crowned him with glory and honor
8 and placed everything under his feet."

When God subjected all things to him, He left nothing outside of his control. Yet at present we do not see everything subject to him. 9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, now crowned with glory and honor because He suffered death, so that by the grace of God He might taste death for everyone.
10 In bringing many sons to glory, it was fitting for God, for whom and through whom all things exist, to make the author of their salvation perfect through suffering. 11 For both the One who sanctifies and those who are sanctified are of the same family. So Jesus is not ashamed to call them brothers. 12 He says:

"I will proclaim Your name to My brothers;
I will sing Your praises in the assembly."

13 And again:

"I will put My trust in Him."

And once again:

"Here am I, and the children God has given Me."

14 Now since the children have flesh and blood, He too shared in their humanity, so that by His death He might destroy him who holds the power of death, that is, the devil, 15 and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by their fear of death.
16 For surely it is not the angels He helps, but the descendants of Abraham. 17 For this reason He had to be made like His brothers in every way, so that He might become a merciful and faithful high priest in service to God, in order to make atonement for the sins of the people. 18 Because He Himself suffered when He was tempted, He is able to help those who are being tempted.

WHO WROTE HEBREWS?

The Letter With No Name

HEBREWS 2:3 · 13:22 TO 25 · 2 PETER 3:15 TO 16

WHAT THE LETTER SAYS

Nothing about who wrote it. Paul always starts with his name, but Hebrews has no greeting at all. A few clues: the writer is a friend of Timothy, 13:23. He heard the gospel from people who heard Jesus, 2:3. He writes the most polished Greek in the New Testament and quotes the Greek Old Testament.

- HEB 2:1 [NOTABLE] The picture is a boat slipping past its harbor. Most people do not quit Jesus in one day; they drift.
- HEB 2:3 [NOTE] HEARD IT SECONDHAND. The writer says the message was confirmed to us by those who heard the Lord. Paul said he got his gospel straight from Jesus, Galatians 1:12. This is one reason many doubt Paul wrote Hebrews.

THE FIRST CENTURY
Clement of Rome, about AD 96, borrows lines from Hebrews in his own letter, so Hebrews was already known in Rome. But he never says who wrote it.

EGYPT SAYS PAUL
Papyrus 46, about AD 200, puts Hebrews right after Romans. Clement of Alexandria, about AD 200, said Paul wrote it in Hebrew and Luke put it into Greek. He thought Paul left his name off out of humility, because Jesus Himself was sent to the Hebrews. Church historian Eusebius, about AD 325, passes this on.

ORIGEN'S FAMOUS ANSWER
Origen, the great teacher of Alexandria, about AD 240, said the thoughts are Paul's, but the wording is someone else's. Then he added: who wrote the letter, in truth, God knows.

THE WEST WAS NOT SURE
In Rome and North Africa many doubted Paul for about 200 years. Tertullian, about AD 220, said Barnabas wrote it. Jerome and Augustine, about AD 400, accepted it with Paul's letters, and church councils in North Africa about that time listed it with them. That settled it for over a thousand years.

THE REFORMATION
Martin Luther doubted Paul. In his 1522 New Testament he moved Hebrews near the back with James, Jude and Revelation, and later he guessed Apollos. John Calvin said he could not believe Paul wrote it and thought of Luke or Clement. The KJV of 1611 still titled it The Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews.

TODAY
Most scholars, including many conservative ones, say we do not know. Some still defend Paul. The next page gives the case for every name.

The Case for Each Name

HEBREWS 2:3 · 11:32 · 13:22 TO 25 · ACTS 4:36 · ACTS 18:24 TO 26

PAUL
The case: the Eastern church from about AD 200 said so, Papyrus 46 puts it with his letters, the writer knows Timothy, 13:23, and it ends with grace be with you all, like Paul, 13:25. Some copies of 10:34 even say my chains. Against: the writer heard the gospel secondhand, 2:3, but Paul said he got it straight from Jesus, Galatians 1:12. The style is very different, and Paul always names himself.

BARNABAS
Tertullian named him about AD 220. The case: he was a Levite, Acts 4:36, so he would know the priests and sacrifices that fill Hebrews. His nickname means son of encouragement, and Hebrews calls itself a word of encouragement, 13:22, using the same Greek word. Against: no other early writer names him.

APOLLOS
Luther's guess. The case: Apollos was a learned man from Alexandria, powerful in the Scriptures, Acts 18:24, which fits the polished Greek and the Old Testament arguments. He knew Paul and Timothy's circle. Against: no early writer names him.

LUKE OR CLEMENT
Clement of Alexandria thought Luke translated it, and the Greek has some things in common with Luke and Acts. Origen said some named Clement of Rome. Against: Clement quotes Hebrews in his own letter, and his style is plainer.

PRISCILLA
The German scholar Adolf von Harnack suggested her in 1900. The case: she taught Apollos the way of God more accurately, Acts 18:26, and the writer's name might have been dropped because she was a woman. Against: in 11:32 the writer says time would fail me to tell, and the Greek word for me telling is masculine.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON
The church accepted Hebrews as Scripture because of what it says about Jesus, not because of a name. Whoever held the pen, Origen's answer still stands: God knows.

MESSIANIC FORESHADOW THE HEART OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Moses was a faithful servant in God's house. Jesus is the Son who owns the house. Then a warning from Psalm 95: Israel heard God's voice and hardened their hearts in the desert. Today, if you hear His voice, do not repeat their mistake.

JESUS OUR APOSTLE AND HIGH PRIEST

1 Therefore, holy brothers, who share in the heavenly calling, set your focus on Jesus, the apostle and high priest whom we confess. 2 He was faithful to the One who appointed Him, just as Moses was faithful in all God's house.

3 For Jesus has been counted worthy of greater glory than Moses, just as the builder of a house has greater honor than the house itself. 4 And every house is built by someone, but God is the builder of everything.

5 Now Moses was faithful as a servant in all God's house, testifying to what would be spoken later. 6 But Christ is faithful as the Son over God's house. And we are His house, if we hold firmly to our confidence and the hope of which we boast.

DO NOT HARDEN YOUR HEARTS // PSALM 95:1–11

7 Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says:

"Today, if you hear His voice,
8 do not harden your hearts,
as you did in the rebellion,
in the day of testing in the wilderness, 9 where your fathers tested and tried Me,
and for forty years saw My works.
10 Therefore I was angry with that generation,
and I said,
'Their hearts are always going astray,
and they have not known My ways.'
11 So I swore on oath in My anger,
'They shall never enter My rest.'"

THE PERIL OF UNBELIEF

12 See to it, brothers, that none of you has a wicked heart of unbelief that turns away from the living God. 13 But exhort one another daily, as long as it is called today, so that none of you may be hardened by sin's deceitfulness.

14 We have come to share in Christ if we hold firmly to the end the assurance we had at first. 15 As it has been said:

"Today, if you hear His voice,
do not harden your hearts,
as you did in the rebellion."

16 For who were the ones who heard and rebelled? Were they not all those Moses led out of Egypt? 17 And with whom was God angry for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? 18 And to whom did He swear that they would never enter His rest? Was it not to those who disobeyed?
19 So we see that it was because of their unbelief that they were unable to enter.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

God's rest is still open. Israel missed it, so do not miss it. God's word is sharper than a sword and sees right into the heart. The good news: our High Priest has felt every temptation, so walk right up to the throne of grace.

THE SABBATH REST // GENESIS 2:1–3; EXODUS 16:22–30

1 Therefore, while the promise of entering His rest still stands, let us be careful that none of you be deemed to have fallen short of it. 2 For we also received the good news just as they did; but the message they heard was of no value to them, since they did not share the faith of those who comprehended it.

3 Now we who have believed enter that rest. As for the others, it is just as God has said:

"So I swore on oath in My anger,
'They shall never enter My rest.'"

HEB 3:12 [HEART] See that none of you has an evil, unbelieving heart that turns away from God.

And yet His works have been finished since the foundation of the world. 4 For somewhere He has spoken about the seventh day in this manner: "And on the seventh day God rested from all His works." 5 And again, as He says in the passage above: "They shall never enter My rest."

6 Since, then, it remains for some to enter His rest, and since those who formerly heard the good news did not enter because of their disobedience, 7 God again designated a certain day as "Today," when a long time later He spoke through David as was just stated: "Today, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts."

8 For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken later about another day. 9 There remains, then, a Sabbath rest for the people of God. 10 For whoever enters God's rest also rests from his own work, just as God did from His. 11 Let us, therefore, make every effort to enter that rest, so that no one will fall by following the same pattern of disobedience.

THE LIVING WORD // 2 TIMOTHY 3:10–17

12 For the word of God is living and active. Sharper than any double-edged sword, it pierces even to dividing soul and spirit, joints and marrow. It judges the thoughts and intentions of the heart. 13 Nothing in all creation is hidden from God's sight; everything is uncovered and exposed before the eyes of Him to whom we must give account.

14 Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold firmly to what we profess. 15 For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who was tempted in every way that we are, yet was without sin. 16 Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need.

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Every high priest is chosen by God, and Jesus was too, a priest in the order of Melchizedek. He learned obedience through what He suffered. Then the writer sighs: by now you should be teachers, but you still need baby food.

THE PERFECT HIGH PRIEST // PSALM 110:1–7

1 Every high priest is appointed from among men to represent them in matters relating to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. 2 He is able to deal gently with those who are ignorant and misguided, since he himself is subject to weakness. 3 That is why he is obligated to offer sacrifices for his own sins, as well as for the sins of the people.

4 No one takes this honor upon himself; he must be called by God, just as Aaron was. 5 So also Christ did not take upon Himself the glory of becoming a high priest, but He was called by the One who said to Him:

"You are My Son;
today I have become Your Father."

6 And in another passage God says:

"You are a priest forever
in the order of Melchizedek."

7 During the days of Jesus' earthly life, He offered up prayers and petitions with loud cries and tears to the One who could save Him from death, and He was heard because of His reverence. 8 Although He was a Son, He learned obedience from

MILK AND SOLID FOOD // 1 CORINTHIANS 3:1–9

11 We have much to say about this, but it is hard to explain, because you are dull of hearing. 12 Although by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to reteach you the basic principles of God's word. You need milk, not solid food!

13 For everyone who lives on milk is still an infant, inexperienced in the message of righteousness. 14 But solid food is for the mature, who by constant use have trained their senses to distinguish good from evil.

6

CHAPTER 6 IN 30 SECONDS

Time to grow up. Then the scariest warning in the book: those who fall away cannot be brought back. But the writer is sure of better things for his readers. God swore an oath to Abraham, and that hope is an anchor for the soul.

A CALL TO MATURITY

1 Therefore let us leave the elementary teachings about Christ and go on to maturity, not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith in God, 2 instruction about baptisms, the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment. 3 And this we will do, if God permits.

4 It is impossible for those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, who have shared in the Holy Spirit, 5 who have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the coming age— 6 and then have fallen away—to be restored to repentance, because they themselves are crucifying the Son of God all over again and subjecting Him to open shame.

7 For land that drinks in the rain often falling on it and that produces a crop useful to those for whom it is tended receives the blessing of God. 8 But land that produces thorns and thistles is worthless, and its curse is imminent. In the end it will be burned.

9 Even though we speak like this, beloved, we are convinced of better things in your case—things that accompany salvation. 10 For God is not unjust. He will not forget your work and the love you have shown for His name as you have ministered to the saints and continue to do so.

11 We want each of you to show this same diligence to the very end, in order to make your hope sure. 12 Then you will not be sluggish, but will imitate those who through faith and patience inherit what has been promised.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

CAN A CHRISTIAN FALL AWAY?

The Warning Passages

HEBREWS 3:12 TO 14 · 6:4 TO 12 · 10:26 TO 39

WHAT HEBREWS SAID

It is impossible for those who have been enlightened, tasted the heavenly gift and shared in the Holy Spirit, and then have fallen away, to be restored to repentance, 6:4 to 6. If we deliberately go on sinning after we know the truth, no sacrifice for sins remains, 10:26. But the writer also says: we are confident of better things in your case, 6:9, and we are not of those who shrink back, 10:39.

THE FIRST CHRISTIANS

The Shepherd of Hermas, about AD 140, taught only one more chance to repent after baptism. Tertullian, about AD 210, used Hebrews 6 to say the church could not forgive the worst sins after baptism. When Emperor Decius persecuted the church in AD 250, many denied Christ. Novatian said they could never come back. Most churches, led by Cyprian of Carthage and the bishop of Rome, took them back after real repentance.

AUGUSTINE

About AD 428 Augustine wrote that God gives His chosen people the gift of perseverance, so they keep going to the end. He also believed some baptized people do not persevere.

THE REFORMATION

The Catholic Council of Trent, 1547, taught that grace can be lost by serious sin and regained through repentance and confession. John Calvin taught that true believers cannot finally fall away, and that Hebrews 6 describes people who tasted but never truly believed.

ARMINIUS AND DORT

Followers of the Dutch teacher Jacob Arminius said in 1610 that the question needed more study. The Synod of Dort, 1618 to 1619, answered with the perseverance of the saints. Later Arminians, and John Wesley in the 1700s, taught that a true believer can fall away and can also be restored.

TODAY

Many Baptists and Presbyterians say once saved, always saved, or that true believers persevere. Methodists, many Pentecostals, Churches of Christ, Catholics and the Orthodox say a believer can fall away. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

HEBREWS 6:4 TO 9 · 10:26 TO 39 · JOHN 10:28 TO 29 · 1 JOHN 2:19

THEY WERE NEVER SAVED

The Reformed view. These people tasted, but never truly fed. Like the field in 6:7 to 8, they never bore real fruit. Key verses: 1 John 2:19, John 10:28 to 29, Philippians 1:6 and Hebrews 6:9. Best case: it keeps every promise that God finishes what He starts.

TRUE BELIEVERS CAN FALL AWAY

The Arminian and Wesleyan view. Enlightened, sharing in the Holy Spirit and sanctified by the blood, 10:29, sound like real Christians. Key verses: Hebrews 3:12, 2 Peter 2:20 to 22, Galatians 5:4 and John 15:6. Best case: it reads the warnings plainly. Some say this falling away is final; others say a person can come back.

A WARNING GOD USES

Many today say the warnings are real, and they are one of the ways God keeps His people from falling, like a sign that says bridge out. Key verses: Hebrews 6:9 to 12, Philippians 2:12 to 13 and 1 Corinthians 10:12. Best case: it holds both the warnings and the promises together.

ONLY IF IT COULD HAPPEN

The hypothetical view. The writer is saying: if a Christian could fall away, there would be no way back, because Christ cannot be crucified again, 6:6. Since that is unthinkable, hold on. Best case: it explains the word impossible.

LOSS OF REWARDS

The Free Grace view. Falling away brings God's discipline and lost rewards, not hell. The burned field, 6:8, is like works burned up while the person is saved, 1 Corinthians 3:15. Best case: it guards that salvation is a free gift.

CATHOLIC AND ORTHODOX

Grace can be lost through serious sin and restored through repentance and confession. John Chrysostom, about AD 400, read 6:4 to 6 as no second baptism, not as no way back. Key verses: 1 John 1:9, James 5:19 to 20.

THE FIRST READERS

Many think the danger was Jewish believers turning back to the temple sacrifices. If you leave Jesus' sacrifice, no other sacrifice is left, 10:26.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Jesus' sacrifice is the only one. Keep going, keep meeting, and keep your eyes on Him, 10:24 to 25 and 12:2. Many pastors also point out that a person worried about falling away is not the hard hearted rebel of 6:6.

GOD'S UNCHANGEABLE PROMISE

13 When God made His promise to Abraham, since He had no one greater to swear by, He swore by Himself, 14 saying, "I will surely bless you and multiply your descendants." 15 And so Abraham, after waiting patiently, obtained the promise.

16 Men swear by someone greater than themselves, and their oath serves as a confirmation to end all argument. 17 So when God wanted to make the unchanging nature of His purpose very clear to the heirs of the promise, He guaranteed it with an oath. 18 Thus by two unchangeable things in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled to take hold of the hope set before us may be strongly encouraged.

19 We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure. It enters the inner sanctuary behind the curtain, 20 where Jesus our forerunner has entered on our behalf. He has become a high priest forever in the order of Melchizedek.

7

CHAPTER 7 IN 30 SECONDS

Meet Melchizedek, king of Salem and priest of God Most High, who blessed Abraham and got a tenth of his loot. No family tree, no birth, no death written down. Jesus is a priest like him: forever, sworn in by God, and always living to pray for us.

MELCHIZEDEK AND ABRAHAM // GENESIS 14:17–24

1 This Melchizedek was king of Salem and priest of God Most High. He met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him, 2 and Abraham apportioned to him a tenth of everything. First, his name means "king of righteousness." Then also, "king of Salem" means "king of peace." 3 Without father or mother or genealogy, without beginning of days or end of life, like the Son of God, he remains a priest for all time.

4 Consider how great Melchizedek was: Even the patriarch Abraham gave him a tenth of the plunder. 5 Now the law commands the sons of Levi who become priests to collect a tenth from the people—that is, from their brothers—though they too are descended from Abraham. 6 But Melchizedek, who did not trace his descent from Levi, collected a tenth from Abraham and blessed him who had the promises. 7 And indisputably, the lesser is blessed by the greater.

8 In the case of the Levites, mortal men collect the tenth; but in the case of Melchizedek, it is affirmed that he lives on. 9 And so to speak, Levi, who collects the tenth, paid the tenth through Abraham. 10 For when Melchizedek met Abraham, Levi was still in the loin of his ancestor.

- HEB 7:3 [NOTE] WHO WAS MELCHIZEDEK? Three answers. A real king and priest whose family the Bible never lists, so he pictures Christ. Jesus Himself, appearing before He was born in Bethlehem. Or Shem, the son of Noah, as Jewish tradition and Martin Luther said. Made like the Son of God suggests he was a picture, not the Son Himself. See The Melchizedek Scroll Field Notes page, p.1985.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES | MESSIANIC FORESHADOW | OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW

WHAT IT IS
Pieces of a Hebrew scroll found in Cave 11 at Qumran, near the Dead Sea. Scholars call it 11Q13, or 11QMelchizedek. It strings Old Testament verses together to explain what will happen at the end of days.

HOW OLD IT IS
Copied in the first century BC, most say about 75 to 50 BC. Bedouin found Cave 11 in 1956, and the Dutch scholar Adam van der Woude published the scroll in 1965.

WHAT IT SAYS
Melchizedek appears as a heavenly figure. At the end of the tenth jubilee he will proclaim liberty to the captives, Isaiah 61:1, and bring atonement on a Day of Atonement. He judges Belial, a name for Satan, and his spirits. The scroll even takes God stands in the divine assembly, Psalm 82:1, and applies it to Melchizedek.

OTHER JEWISH IDEAS
The Jewish writer Philo, about AD 40, called Melchizedek a priest king and a picture of God's Word. Later rabbis said he was Shem, the son of Noah, and Martin Luther agreed. Another old book, 2 Enoch, tells a strange story of his miracle birth.

HEBREWS IS DIFFERENT
Hebrews never says Melchizedek was an angel or that he will come back. It reads Genesis 14 carefully: no father, mother, birth or death is written down, so he is made like the Son of God, 7:3. The real eternal priest is Jesus, Psalm 110:4.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE
It shows that Jews before Jesus were already asking big questions about Melchizedek. The first readers of Hebrews may have heard ideas like these.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
The scroll never mentions Jesus or Hebrews, and its Melchizedek is not the same as the one in Hebrews.

A SUPERIOR PRIESTHOOD

11 Now if perfection could have been attained through the Levitical priesthood (for on this basis the people received the law), why was there still need for another priest to appear—one in the order of Melchizedek and not in the order of Aaron? 12 For when the priesthood is changed, the law must be changed as well.

13 He of whom these things are said belonged to a different tribe, from which no one has ever served at the altar. 14 For it is clear that our Lord descended from Judah, a tribe as to which Moses said nothing about priests.

15 And this point is even more clear if another priest like Melchizedek appears, 16 one who has become a priest not by a law of succession, but by the power of an indestructible life. 17 For it is testified:

"You are a priest forever
in the order of Melchizedek."

18 So the former commandment is set aside because it was weak and useless 19 (for the law made nothing perfect), and a better hope is introduced, by which we draw near to God.

20 And none of this happened without an oath. For others became priests without an oath, 21 but Jesus became a priest with an oath by the One who said to Him:

"The Lord has sworn and will not change His mind:
'You are a priest forever.'"

22 Because of this oath, Jesus has become the guarantee of a better covenant.

23 Now there have been many other priests, since death prevented them from continuing in office. 24 But because Jesus lives forever, He has a permanent priesthood. 25 Therefore He is able to save completely those who draw near to God through Him, since He always lives to intercede for them.

26 Such a high priest truly befits us—One who is holy, innocent, undefiled, set apart from sinners, and exalted above the heavens. 27 Unlike the other high priests, He does not need to offer daily sacrifices, first for His own sins and then for the sins of the people; He sacrificed for sin once for all when He offered up Himself. 28 For the law appoints as high priests men who are weak; but the oath, which came after the law, appointed the Son, who has been made perfect forever.

8

CHAPTER 8 IN 30 SECONDS

Our High Priest serves in the real sanctuary, in heaven. The earthly one was only a copy. God promised a new covenant in Jeremiah 31, with His laws written on hearts. New means the old one is getting ready to vanish.

CHRIST'S ETERNAL PRIESTHOOD

1 The point of what we are saying is this: We do have such a high priest, who sat down at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in heaven, 2 and who ministers in the sanctuary and true tabernacle set up by the Lord, not by man. 3 And since every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices, it was necessary for this One also to have something to offer.

4 Now if He were on earth, He would not be a priest, since there are already priests who offer gifts according to the law. 5 The place where they serve is a copy and shadow of what is in heaven. This is why Moses was warned when he was about to build the tabernacle: "See to it that you make everything according to the pattern shown you on the mountain."

THE NEW COVENANT // JEREMIAH 31:26–40

6 Now, however, Jesus has received a much more excellent ministry, just as the covenant He mediates is better and is founded on better promises. 7 For if that first covenant had been without fault, no place would have been sought for a second. 8 But God found fault with the people and said:

"Behold, the days are coming, declares the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel
and with the house of Judah.
9 It will not be like the covenant
I made with their fathers when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, because they did not abide by My covenant,
and I disregarded them,
declares the Lord.
10 For this is the covenant I will make
with the house of Israel
after those days,
declares the Lord.
I will put My laws in their minds and inscribe them on their hearts.
And I will be their God,
and they will be My people.
11 No longer will each one teach his neighbor or his brother, saying, 'Know the Lord,'
because they will all know Me, from the least of them to the greatest.
12 For I will forgive their iniquities and will remember their sins no more."

13 By speaking of a new covenant, He has made the first one obsolete; and what is obsolete and aging will soon disappear.

WHAT IT IS

A big limestone block from the top of the Temple Mount wall that King Herod built. Carved on it in Hebrew are the words to the place of trumpeting, followed by a broken word. Many read it as to announce, or to separate, holy days from ordinary days.

HOW OLD IT IS

Carved while Herod's temple was being built, between about 20 BC and AD 64. In 1968 Benjamin Mazar's dig found it lying on the street at the foot of the southwest corner, where Roman soldiers threw it down in AD 70. It is about 8 feet long and is now in the Israel Museum. The one at the site is a copy.

THE HIGH CORNER

The stone fell from the southwest corner, where two of the great walls met high above a busy street of shops. Some think this corner was the pinnacle of the temple where the devil took Jesus, Matthew 4:5, but that is only a guess.

WHAT JOSEPHUS SAID

The Jewish historian Josephus, about AD 75, says a priest stood up high on the temple wall and blew a trumpet to announce when the Sabbath began each Friday evening and when it ended the next evening.

TRUMPETS IN THE BIBLE

God told the priests to blow silver trumpets on feast days and new moons, Numbers 10:10. Hebrews 12:19 remembers the trumpet blast at Mount Sinai.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

When Hebrews was written the temple was still standing, and priests still offered sacrifices, 10:1 to 2. The writer says the old covenant is aging and will soon disappear, 8:13. A few years later this stone lay in the street, and the trumpets were silent.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The stone tells about the temple, not about Hebrews or who wrote it. The broken last word means part of its meaning is a guess.

HEBREWS 9:1 TO 5 · EXODUS 25:23 TO 40 · NUMBERS 10:2

WHAT IT IS

A carved marble panel inside the Arch of Titus in Rome. Roman soldiers wearing victory wreaths carry the golden lampstand from the temple in Jerusalem. Next to it they carry the table for the bread of the Presence, with two long silver trumpets leaning across it, and signs held up on poles.

HOW OLD IT IS

The arch was built about AD 81 by Emperor Domitian to honor his brother Titus, who had just died. It shows the victory parade of AD 71, after Titus' army destroyed Jerusalem in AD 70. The arch was repaired in the early 1800s, but this panel is the ancient original, worn by time.

JOSEPHUS SAW IT

Josephus watched the parade in Rome. He says the golden table, the lampstand and a copy of the Jewish Law were carried in it. Emperor Vespasian put the treasures in his new Temple of Peace, finished in AD 75.

HEBREWS 9:2

The first room had the lampstand, the table and the consecrated bread. Hebrews describes the tabernacle of Moses' day, Exodus 25, and says Jesus entered the real Most Holy Place, heaven itself, 9:24.

WHERE DID IT GO?

The writer Procopius says the Vandals carried the treasures from Rome to Carthage in AD 455, and a Roman general brought them to Constantinople in 534. After that no one knows. Stories that the lampstand is hidden in the Vatican have no proof.

THE LAMPSTAND TODAY

In 1949 the new State of Israel put this very lampstand from the arch on its national emblem. Another panel of the same arch is in the 2 Corinthians Field Notes, A Roman Triumph, p.1849.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The arch is later than Hebrews and shows Herod's temple treasures, not the tabernacle items Hebrews describes.

6 When everything had been prepared in this way, the priests entered regularly into the first room to perform their sacred duties. 7 But only the high priest entered the second room, and then only once a year, and never without blood, which he offered for himself and for the sins the people had committed in ignorance.

8 By this arrangement the Holy Spirit was showing that the way into the Most Holy Place had not yet been disclosed as long as the first tabernacle was still standing. 9
It is an illustration for the present time, because the gifts and sacrifices being offered were unable to cleanse the conscience of the worshiper. 10 They consist only in food and drink and special washings—external regulations imposed until the time of reform.

REDEMPTION THROUGH HIS BLOOD

11 But when Christ came as high priest of the good things that have come, He went through the greater and more perfect tabernacle that is not made by hands and is not a part of this creation. 12 He did not enter by the blood of goats and calves, but He entered the Most Holy Place once for all by His own blood, thus securing eternal redemption.

13 For if the blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer sprinkled on those who are ceremonially unclean sanctify them so that their bodies are clean, 14 how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered Himself unblemished to God, purify our consciences from works of death, so that we may serve the living God!

15 Therefore Christ is the mediator of a new covenant, so that those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance, now that He has died to redeem them from the transgressions committed under the first covenant.

16 In the case of a will, it is necessary to establish the death of the one who made it, 17 because a will does not take effect until the one who made it has died; it cannot be executed while he is still alive.

18 That is why even the first covenant was not put into effect without blood. 19 For when Moses had proclaimed every commandment of the law to all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats, along with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled the scroll and all the people, 20 saying, "This is the blood of the covenant, which God has commanded you to keep."

21 In the same way, he sprinkled with blood the tabernacle and all the vessels used in worship. 22 According to the law, in fact, nearly everything must be purified with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness.

23 So it was necessary for the copies of the heavenly things to be purified with these sacrifices, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. 24 For Christ did not enter a man-made copy of the true sanctuary, but He entered heaven itself, now to appear on our behalf in the presence of God.

25 Nor did He enter heaven to offer Himself again and again, as the high priest enters the Most Holy Place every year with blood that is not his own. 26 Otherwise, Christ would have had to suffer repeatedly since the foundation of the world. But now He has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to do away with sin by the sacrifice of Himself.

27 Just as man is appointed to die once, and after that to face judgment, 28 so also Christ was offered once to bear the sins of many; and He will appear a second time, not to bear sin, but to bring salvation to those who eagerly await Him.

10

CHAPTER 10 IN 30 SECONDS

The old sacrifices were like reruns that never fixed anything. Jesus offered Himself once and sat down, job done. So come near to God, hold on, and keep meeting together. Then another stern warning, and a reminder: you already endured a lot, so do not throw your confidence away now.

CHRIST'S PERFECT SACRIFICE // PSALM 40:1–17

1 For the law is only a shadow of the good things to come, not the realities themselves. It can never, by the same sacrifices offered year after year, make perfect those who draw near to worship. 2 If it could, would not the offerings have ceased? For the worshipers would have been cleansed once for all, and would no longer have felt the guilt of their sins.

3 Instead, those sacrifices are an annual reminder of sins, 4 because it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins. 5 Therefore, when Christ came into the world, He said:

"Sacrifice and offering You did not desire,

but a body You prepared for Me.
6 In burnt offerings and sin offerings
You took no delight.
7 Then I said, 'Here I am, it is written about Me in the scroll:
I have come to do Your will, O God.'"

8 In the passage above He says, "Sacrifices and offerings, burnt offerings and sin offerings You did not desire, nor did You delight in them" (although they are offered according to the law). 9 Then He adds, "Here I am, I have come to do Your will." He takes away the first to establish the second. 10 And by that will, we have been sanctified through the sacrifice of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 Day after day every priest stands to minister and to offer again and again the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. 12 But when this Priest had offered for all time one sacrifice for sins, He sat down at the right hand of God. 13 Since that time, He waits for His enemies to be made a footstool for His feet, 14 because by a single offering He has made perfect for all time those who are being sanctified.

15 The Holy Spirit also testifies to us about this. First He says:

16 "This is the covenant I will make with them
after those days, declares the Lord.
I will put My laws in their hearts and inscribe them on their minds."

17 Then He adds:

"Their sins and lawless acts
I will remember no more."

18 And where these have been forgiven, an offering for sin is no longer needed.

A CALL TO PERSEVERE // JUDE 1:17–23

19 Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence to enter the Most Holy Place by the blood of Jesus, 20 by the new and living way opened for us through the curtain of His body, 21 and since we have a great priest over the house of God, 22 let us draw near with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled to cleanse us from a guilty conscience and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold resolutely to the hope we profess, for He who promised is faithful. 24 And let us consider how to spur one another on to love and good deeds. 25 Let us not neglect meeting together, as some have made a habit, but let us encourage one another, and all the more as you see the Day approaching.

26 If we deliberately go on sinning after we have received the knowledge of the truth, no further sacrifice for sins remains, 27 but only a fearful expectation of judgment and of raging fire that will consume all adversaries. 28 Anyone who rejected the law of Moses died without mercy on the testimony of two or three witnesses. 29 How much more severely do you think one deserves to be punished who has trampled on the Son of God, profaned the blood of the covenant that sanctified him, and insulted the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know Him who said, "Vengeance is Mine; I will repay," and again, "The Lord will judge His people." 31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 Remember the early days that you were in the light. In those days, you endured a great conflict in the face of suffering. 33 Sometimes you were publicly exposed to ridicule and persecution; at other times you were partners with those who were so treated. 34 You sympathized with those in prison and joyfully accepted the confiscation of your property, knowing that you yourselves had a better and permanent possession.

35 So do not throw away your confidence; it holds a great reward. 36 You need to persevere, so that after you have done the will of God, you will receive what He has promised. 37 For,

"In just a little while,
He who is coming will come and will not delay.
38 But My righteous one will live by faith;
and if he shrinks back,
I will take no pleasure in him."

39 But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls.

CHAPTER 11 IN 30 SECONDS

Faith's hall of fame: Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Sarah, Moses, even Rahab. They trusted God without seeing the finish line. Some won battles, some were sawed in two. None of them got everything promised yet, because God had planned something better.

FAITH AND ASSURANCE // GENESIS 1:1–2; JOHN 1:1–5

1 Now faith is the assurance of what we hope for and the certainty of what we do not see. 2 This is why the ancients were commended.

3 By faith we understand that the universe was formed at God's command, so that what is seen was not made out of what was visible.

THE FAITH OF ABEL, ENOCH, NOAH // GENESIS 4–9

4 By faith Abel offered God a better sacrifice than Cain did. By faith he was commended as righteous when God gave approval to his gifts. And by faith he still speaks, even though he is dead.

5 By faith Enoch was taken up so that he did not see death: "He could not be found, because God had taken him away." For before he was taken, he was commended as one who pleased God.

6 And without faith it is impossible to please God. For anyone who approaches Him must believe that He exists and that He rewards those who earnestly seek Him.

7 By faith Noah, when warned about things not yet seen, in godly fear built an ark to save his family. By faith he condemned the world and became heir of the righteousness that comes by faith.

THE FAITH OF ABRAHAM AND SARAH // GENESIS 15–22; ROMANS 4:1–12

8 By faith Abraham, when called to go to a place he would later receive as his inheritance, obeyed and went, without knowing where he was going. 9 By faith he dwelt in the promised land as a stranger in a foreign country. He lived in tents, as did Isaac and Jacob, who were heirs with him of the same promise. 10 For he was looking forward to the city with foundations, whose architect and builder is God.

11 By faith Sarah, even though she was barren and beyond the proper age, was enabled to conceive a child, because she considered Him faithful who had promised. 12 And so from one man, and he

as good as dead, came descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky and as countless as the sand on the seashore.

13 All these people died in faith, without having received the things they were promised. However, they saw them and welcomed them from afar. And they acknowledged that they were strangers and exiles on the earth.

14 Now those who say such things show that they are seeking a country of their own. 15 If they had been thinking of the country they had left, they would have had opportunity to return. 16 Instead, they were longing for a better country, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for He has prepared a city for them.

17 By faith Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac on the altar. He who had received the promises was ready to offer his one and only son, 18 even though God had said to him, "Through Isaac your offspring will be reckoned." 19 Abraham reasoned that God could raise the dead, and in a sense, he did receive Isaac back from death.

THE FAITH OF ISAAC, JACOB, AND JOSEPH // GENESIS 27–50

20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning the future.

21 By faith Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of Joseph's sons and worshiped as he leaned on the top of his staff.

22 By faith Joseph, when his end was near, spoke about the exodus of the Israelites and gave instructions about his bones.

THE FAITH OF MOSES // EXODUS 2–15; ACTS 7:20–22

23 By faith Moses' parents hid him for three months after his birth, because they saw that he was a beautiful child, and they were unafraid of the king's edict.

24 By faith Moses, when he was grown, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter. 25 He chose to suffer oppression with God's people rather than to experience the fleeting enjoyment of sin. 26 He valued disgrace for Christ above the treasures of Egypt, for he was looking ahead to his reward.

27 By faith Moses left Egypt, not fearing the king's anger; he persevered because he saw Him who is invisible. 28 By faith he kept the Passover and the sprinkling of blood, so that the destroyer of the firstborn would not touch Israel's own firstborn.

29 By faith the people passed through the Red Sea as on dry land; but when the Egyptians tried to follow, they were drowned.

THE FAITH OF MANY // JOSHUA–MALACHI

30 By faith the walls of Jericho fell, after the people had marched around them for seven days.

31 By faith the prostitute Rahab, because she welcomed the spies in peace, did not perish with those who were disobedient.

32 And what more shall I say? Time will not allow me to tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David, Samuel, and the prophets, 33 who through faith conquered kingdoms, administered justice, and gained what was promised; who shut the mouths of lions, 34 quenched the raging fire, and escaped the edge of the sword; who gained strength from weakness, became mighty in battle, and put foreign armies to flight.

35 Women received back their dead, raised to life again. Others were tortured and refused their release, so that they might gain a better resurrection. 36 Still others endured mocking and flogging, and even chains and imprisonment.

37 They were stoned, they were sawed in two, they were put to death by the sword.

They went around in sheepskins and goatskins, destitute, oppressed, and mistreated. 38 The world was not worthy of them. They wandered in deserts and mountains, and hid in caves and holes in the ground.

39 These were all commended for their faith, yet they did not receive what was promised. 40 God had planned something better for us, so that together with us they would be made perfect.

12

CHAPTER 12 IN 30 SECONDS

So run your race with that crowd of witnesses around you, eyes on Jesus. Hard times can be a Father's training. You did not come to a scary mountain of fire like Sinai, but to Mount Zion and the city of the living God. Do not refuse Him.

A CALL TO ENDURANCE // 2 TIMOTHY 2:1–13

1 Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off every encumbrance and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with endurance the race set out for us. 2 Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before Him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. 3 Consider Him who endured such hostility from sinners, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart.

GOD DISCIPLINES HIS SONS

4 In your struggle against sin, you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. 5 And you have forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons:

"My son, do not take lightly the discipline of the Lord, and do not lose heart when He rebukes you.
6 For the Lord disciplines the one He loves,
and He chastises every son He receives."

7 Endure suffering as discipline; God is treating you as sons. For what son is not disciplined by his father? 8 If you do not experience discipline like everyone else, then you are illegitimate children and not true sons. 9 Furthermore, we have all had earthly fathers who disciplined us, and we respected them. Should we not much more submit to the Father of our spirits and live?

10 Our fathers disciplined us for a short time as they thought best, but God disciplines us for our good, so that we may share in His holiness. 11 No discipline seems enjoyable at the time, but painful. Later on, however, it yields a harvest of righteousness and peace to those who have been trained by it.

12 Therefore strengthen your limp hands and weak knees. 13 Make straight paths for your feet, so that the lame may not be disabled, but rather healed.

A CALL TO HOLINESS // 1 PETER 1:13–21

14 Pursue peace with everyone, as well as holiness, without which no one will see the Lord. 15 See to it that no one falls short of the grace of God, and that no root of bitterness springs up to cause trouble and defile many. 16 See to it that no one is sexually immoral, or is godless like Esau, who for a single meal sold his birthright. 17 For you know that afterward, when he wanted to inherit the blessing, he was rejected. He could find no ground for repentance, though he sought the blessing with tears.

AN UNSHAKABLE KINGDOM // EXODUS 20:18–21; DEUTERONOMY 5:22–33

18 For you have not come to a mountain that can be touched and that is burning with fire; to darkness, gloom, and storm; 19 to a trumpet blast or to a voice that made its hearers beg that no further word be spoken. 20 For they could not bear what

You have come to God the Judge of all, to the spirits of the righteous made perfect, 24 to Jesus the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel.

25 See to it that you do not refuse Him who speaks. For if the people did not escape when they refused Him who warned them on earth, how much less will we escape if we reject Him who warns us from heaven? 26 At that time His voice shook the earth, but now He has promised, "Once more I will shake not only the earth, but heaven as well." 27 The words "Once more" signify the removal of what can be shaken—that is, created things—so that the unshakable may remain.

28 Therefore, since we are receiving an unshakable kingdom, let us be filled with gratitude, and so worship God acceptably with reverence and awe. 29 "For our God is a consuming fire."

CHAPTER 13 IN 30 SECONDS

Love one another, open your home, remember the prisoners, honor marriage, skip the love of money. Jesus is the same yesterday, today and forever. Offer God a sacrifice of praise. And good news: Timothy is out of jail. Grace be with you all.

BROTHERLY LOVE

1 Continue in brotherly love. 2 Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by so doing some people have entertained angels without knowing it. 3 Remember those in prison as if you were bound with them, and those who are mistreated as if you were suffering with them.

4 Marriage should be honored by all and the marriage bed kept undefiled, for God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterers.

CHRIST'S UNCHANGING NATURE

5 Keep your lives free from the love of money and be content with what you have, for God has said:

"Never will I leave you, never will I forsake you."

6 So we say with confidence:

"The Lord is my helper; I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?"

7 Remember your leaders who spoke the word of God to you. Consider the outcome of their way of life and imitate their faith. 8 Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever.

9 Do not be carried away by all kinds of strange teachings, for it is good for the heart to be strengthened by grace and not by foods of no value to those devoted to them. 10 We have an altar from which those who serve at the tabernacle have no right to eat.

11 Although the high priest brings the blood of animals into the Holy Place as a sacrifice for sin, the bodies are burned outside the camp. 12 And so Jesus also suffered outside the city gate, to sanctify the people by His own blood. 13 Therefore let us go to Him outside the camp, bearing the disgrace He bore. 14 For here we do not have a permanent city, but we are looking for the city that is to come.

SACRIFICE, OBEDIENCE, AND PRAYER

15 Through Jesus, therefore, let us continually offer to God a sacrifice of praise, the fruit of lips that confess His name. 16 And do not neglect to do good and to share with others, for with such sacrifices God is pleased.

17 Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they watch over your souls as those who must give an account. To this end, allow them to lead with joy and not with grief, for that would be of no advantage to you.

18 Pray for us; we are convinced that we have a clear conscience and desire to live honorably in every way. 19 And I especially urge you to pray that I may be restored to you soon.

BENEDICTION AND FAREWELL

20 Now may the God of peace, who through the blood of the eternal covenant brought back from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, 21 equip you with every good thing to do His will. And may He accomplish in us what is pleasing in His sight through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

22 I urge you, brothers, to bear with my word of exhortation, for I have only written to you briefly.

23 Be aware that our brother Timothy has been released. If he arrives soon, I will come with him to see you.

BOOK 59 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · LETTER

JAMES

Faith That Works

AUTHOR	James, the brother of Jesus and leader of the church in Jerusalem, 1:1 and Galatians 1:19. Many critical scholars think a later follower wrote in his name.
WRITTEN FROM	Jerusalem.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 45 to 50, which may make it the first New Testament book written. Some say about AD 60, shortly before James was killed in AD 62.
WRITTEN TO	The twelve tribes scattered abroad, Jewish believers in Jesus living outside Israel, 1:1.
WHY HE WROTE	To show that real faith changes how you live, talk, spend and treat people.
KEY VERSE	James 2:17. Faith by itself, if it does not result in action, is dead.

AN EARLY COPY OF JAMES
Papyrus 20, copied in the early 200s AD and found at Oxyrhynchus, Egypt. This side holds James 2:19 to 3:2. Near the top is the word for shudder, the demons believe and shudder, 2:19. Lower down the word for dead, nekron, shows up twice: faith without works is dead, 2:26. It is kept at Princeton University. Papyrus 23, also from the early 200s, has a few verses of James 1. Public domain.

Historical Setting

After Stephen was stoned, many believers ran from Jerusalem and scattered, Acts 8:1 and 11:19. Most were poor. Rich landowners cheated them, dragged them into court and paid their workers late or not at all. Inside the churches there were fights, favorites and loose tongues. James, the brother of Jesus, led the mother church in Jerusalem. He writes like a prophet and like Proverbs: short, sharp, practical. His letter has about 50 commands in just 108 verses, and it echoes the Sermon on the Mount again and again.

What Was Going Wrong

DOUBTING. Praying while doubting, like a wave tossed by the wind, 1:6 to 8.
FAVORITISM. The best seats for the rich, the floor for the poor, 2:1 to 9.
ALL TALK. Faith that says nice words but never helps anyone, 2:14 to 17.
THE TONGUE. Cursing, bragging and gossip, 3:1 to 12 and 4:11.
FIGHTS. Quarrels driven by jealousy and wanting more, 4:1 to 3.
RICH OPPRESSORS. Wages held back from the workers, 5:1 to 6.

The Idiot Proof Summary

James is the most practical book in the New Testament. It does not argue about big theories. It asks one question over and over: does your faith actually do anything? Real faith shows up in how you handle trials, how you treat the poor, what comes out of your mouth, how you plan your week and how you pray. James was Jesus' own brother, and you can hear Jesus' teaching all through it.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

JESUS' BROTHER
James did not believe at first, John 7:5. The risen Jesus appeared to him, 1 Corinthians 15:7, and he became a leader of the church.

SERMON ON THE MOUNT ECHOES
Let your yes be yes, 5:12, sounds just like Matthew 5:37, and James echoes Jesus' teaching many more times.

JAMES IS JACOB
In Greek his name is Iakobos, the same name as Jacob. English turned it into James.

LUTHER'S STRAW
Martin Luther called it a right strawy letter in 1522. See The Big Question pages, p.2004.

What Happened Next?

James stayed in Jerusalem and led the church there, Acts 15 and 21. In AD 62 the high priest had him stoned. The Jewish historian Josephus wrote it down; see What Josephus Wrote. Eight years later the Romans destroyed Jerusalem. James' brother Jude wrote one more short letter, Jude 1.

THE HEART ARCHAEOLOGY NOTABLE

1

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

James skips the small talk. Trials? Count it joy, they build endurance. Need wisdom? Ask God, He is not stingy. Temptation does not come from God; it grows from our own desires. And do not just nod along to the Bible like a bobblehead. Do what it says.

A GREETING FROM JAMES // JUDE 1:1–2

1 James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ,

To the twelve tribes of the Dispersion:

Greetings.

REJOICING IN TRIALS // PHILIPPIANS 1:12–20

2 Consider it pure joy, my brothers, when you encounter trials of many kinds, 3 because you know that the testing of your faith develops perseverance. 4 Allow perseverance to finish its work, so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything.

5 Now if any of you lacks wisdom, he should ask God, who gives generously to all without finding fault, and it will be given to him. 6 But he must ask in faith, without doubting, because he who doubts is like a wave of the sea, blown and tossed by the wind. 7 That man should not expect to receive anything from the Lord. 8 He is a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways.

9 The brother in humble circumstances should exult in his high position. 10 But the one who is rich should exult in his low position, because he will pass away like a flower of the field. 11 For the sun rises with scorching heat and withers the plant; its flower falls and its beauty is lost. So too, the rich man will fade away in the midst of his pursuits.

12 Blessed is the man who perseveres under trial, because when he has stood the test, he will receive the crown of life that God has promised to those who love Him.

GOOD AND PERFECT GIFTS

13 When tempted, no one should say, "God is tempting me." For God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does He tempt anyone. 14 But each one is tempted when by his own evil desires he is lured away and enticed. 15 Then after desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death.

16 Do not be deceived, my beloved brothers. 17 Every good and perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of the heavenly lights, with whom there is no change or shifting shadow. 18 He chose to give us birth through the word of truth, that we would be a kind of firstfruits of His creation.

HEARING AND DOING

19 My beloved brothers, understand this: Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak, and slow to anger, 20 for man's anger does not bring about the righteousness that God desires. 21 Therefore, get rid of all moral filth and every expression of evil, and humbly accept the word planted in you, which can save your souls.

22 Be doers of the word, and not hearers only. Otherwise, you are deceiving yourselves. 23 For anyone who hears the word but does not carry it out is like a man who looks at his face in a mirror, 24 and after observing himself goes away and immediately forgets what he looks like. 25 But the one who looks intently into the perfect law of freedom, and continues to do so—not being a forgetful hearer, but an effective doer—he will be blessed in what he does.

THE JAMES OSSUARY

JAMES 1:1 · GALATIANS 1:19 · MARK 6:3

The James ossuary and a close up of its inscription. Photos Paradiso, attribution license.

WHAT IT IS

A limestone bone box, about 20 inches long. On one side, in Aramaic, are the words: Yaakov bar Yosef akhui di Yeshua, James son of Joseph brother of Jesus.

HOW OLD IT IS

Jews in Jerusalem used boxes like this from about 20 BC to AD 70. A year after a burial the family gathered the bones and put them in a bone box. The box is surely that old. The question is the writing.

THE BIG ANNOUNCEMENT

In October 2002 the French scholar Andre Lemaire announced it in Biblical Archaeology Review. It belonged to Oded Golan, an Israeli collector who said he bought it years before from a dealer. It was shown in Toronto, where it cracked on the way.

FORGERY OR NOT?

In 2003 a committee of the Israel Antiquities Authority called the inscription a fake, at least the words brother of Jesus. Golan was charged with forgery. After a trial that dragged on for years, the judge in March 2012 found him not guilty of forgery, but said that did not prove the inscription was real. Experts still disagree.

COMMON NAMES

James, Joseph and Jesus were all common names then. Scholars argue about how many men in Jerusalem could have had all three in their family, and about why a brother would be named at all.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

If it is real, it may be the oldest object naming Jesus. The Bible itself already says James was the Lord's brother, Galatians 1:19 and Mark 6:3.

THE PATINA TESTS

Scientists studied the thin crust, called patina, inside the carved letters. Experts for the Israel Antiquities Authority said the patina in the words had been faked. Other experts, some called by the defense, said real ancient patina was in the letters and that cleaning had disturbed it.

THE TALPIOT TOMB IDEA

Some writers claimed the box came from a family tomb found at Talpiot in Jerusalem in 1980, which a 2007 TV film called the tomb of Jesus. Most archaeologists reject that tomb claim, and no one has proven the box came from there.

WHO JAMES WAS

James led the church in Jerusalem, Acts 15:13 and Galatians 2:9. Jesus appeared to him after rising from the dead, 1 Corinthians 15:7. Josephus says he was stoned to death about AD 62. See What Josephus Wrote in this book.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Nobody knows where it was found. Even if every word is ancient, it might belong to a different James.

THE HEART NOTABLE

26 If anyone considers himself religious and yet does not bridle his tongue, he de-ceives his heart and his religion is worthless. 27 Pure and undefiled religion before our God and Father is this: to care for orphans and widows in their distress, and to keep oneself from being polluted by the world.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT JOSEPHUS WROTE

The Death of James, AD 62

JOSEPHUS, ANTIQUITIES OF THE JEWS 20.197 TO 203 · ACTS 15:13 · GALATIANS 2:9

WHO JOSEPHUS WAS

Josephus was a Jewish priest and general, born in AD 37. He fought the Romans, surrendered, and spent the rest of his life in Rome writing history. He finished his big book, Antiquities of the Jews, about AD 93. He was not a Christian.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is the whole passage, Antiquities 20.197 to 203, in William Whiston's English translation of 1737. Words in square brackets were added by Whiston.

ANTIQUITIES 20.9.1

And now Caesar, upon hearing the death of Festus, sent Albinus into Judea, as procurator. But the king deprived Joseph of the high priesthood, and bestowed the succession to that dignity on the son of Ananus, who was also himself called Ananus. Now the report goes that this eldest Ananus proved a most fortunate man; for he had five sons who had all performed the office of a high priest to God, and who had himself enjoyed that dignity a long time formerly, which had never happened to any other of our high priests. But this younger Ananus, who, as we have told you already, took the high priesthood, was a bold man in his temper, and very insolent; he was also of the sect of the Sadducees, who are very rigid in judging offenders, above all the rest of the Jews, as we have already observed; when, therefore, Ananus was of this disposition, he thought he had now a proper opportunity [to exercise his authority]. Festus was now dead, and Albinus was but upon the road; so he assembled the sanhedrim of judges, and brought before them the brother of Jesus, who was called Christ, whose name was James, and some others, [or, some of his companions]; and when he had formed an accusation against them as breakers of the law, he delivered them to be stoned: but as for those who seemed the most equitable of the citizens, and such as were the most uneasy at the breach of the laws, they disliked what was done; they also sent to the king [Agrippa], desiring him to send to Ananus that he should act so no more, for that what he had already done was not to be justified; nay, some of them went also to meet Albinus, as he was upon his journey from Alexandria, and informed him that it was not lawful for Ananus to assemble a sanhedrim without his consent. Whereupon Albinus complied with what they said, and wrote in anger to Ananus, and threatened that he would bring him to punishment for what he had done; on which king Agrippa took the high priesthood from him, when he had ruled but three months, and made Jesus, the son of Damneus, high priest.

James the Just

ACTS 12:17 · ACTS 15:13 TO 21 · GALATIANS 2:9 · JOHN 18:13

WHO JAMES WAS

After Peter left Jerusalem, James led the church there, Acts 12:17. He gave the final word at the Jerusalem council, Acts 15:13 to 21, and Paul called him one of the pillars, Galatians 2:9. Early Christians called him James the Just. Hegesippus says he prayed so much that his knees became hard like a camel's.

ONE FAMILY OF HIGH PRIESTS

Ananus was a son of Annas, and Caiaphas was Annas' son in law, John 18:13. So the same family that put Jesus on trial had His brother killed about 30 years later. Ananus himself was killed in AD 68 during the Jewish war with Rome, Josephus says.

JAS 1:26 [HEART] A religious man who cannot control his tongue deceives his own heart.
JAS 1:27 [NOTABLE] James's definition of real religion: help the helpless and stay clean from the world.

OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW NOTABLE

WHAT HAPPENED
In AD 62 the Roman governor Festus, the one in Acts 25, died. Before the next governor arrived, the new high priest Ananus, son of the Annas of John 18:13, held a trial and had James stoned. Many Jews were angry, and King Agrippa II, the one in Acts 26, fired Ananus after three months.

IS IT REAL?
Almost all scholars, even skeptics, accept this passage. It is in every Greek copy, Origen knew it about AD 248, and the words who was called Christ sound like a Jewish writer, not a Christian. Josephus' longer passage about Jesus, Antiquities 18.63 to 64, is more debated; see Exhibit A, p.2120.

ORIGEN'S MISSING LINE
Origen, about AD 248, said Josephus blamed the fall of Jerusalem on the killing of James the Just. No surviving copy of Josephus says that, so Origen may have mixed him up with another writer, or that line was lost.

THE LATER STORY
Hegesippus, a Christian writer about AD 170 quoted by Eusebius, tells it differently: James was thrown down from the temple, stoned, and finished off with a club, praying for his killers as Jesus did. The two stories do not fully agree.

WHY IT MATTERS
A writer who was not a Christian names Jesus, who was called Christ, and His brother James, and tells how James died, about 30 years after the cross.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS
No VIP seating for the rich guy with the gold ring while the poor guy gets the floor. Love your neighbor as yourself. Then the big one: faith that never does anything is dead. Even demons believe in God, and they shudder. Abraham and Rahab showed their faith by what they did.

A WARNING AGAINST FAVORITISM

1 My brothers, as you hold out your faith in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ, do not show favoritism.

2 Suppose a man comes into your meeting wearing a gold ring and fine clothes, and a poor man in shabby clothes also comes in. 3 If you lavish attention on the man in fine clothes and say, "Here is a seat of honor," but say to the poor man, "You must stand" or "Sit at my feet," 4 have you not discriminated among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts?

5 Listen, my beloved brothers: Has not God chosen the poor of this world to be rich in faith and to inherit the kingdom He promised those who love Him? 6 But you have dishonored the poor. Is it not the rich who oppress you and drag you into court?
7 Are they not the ones who blaspheme the noble name by which you have been called?

8 If you really fulfill the royal law stated in Scripture, "Love your neighbor as yourself," you are doing well. 9 But if you show favoritism, you sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors.

10 Whoever keeps the whole law but stumbles at just one point is guilty of breaking all of it. 11 For He who said, "Do not commit adultery," also said, "Do not murder." If you do not commit adultery, but do commit murder, you have become a lawbreaker.

12 Speak and act as those who are going to be judged by the law that gives freedom.
13 For judgment without mercy will be shown to anyone who has not been merciful. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

FAITH AND WORKS // GALATIANS 3:1–9

14 What good is it, my brothers, if someone claims to have faith, but has no deeds?
Can such faith save him? 15 Suppose a brother or sister is without clothes and daily food. 16 If one of you tells him, "Go in peace; stay warm and well fed," but does not provide for his physical needs, what good is that? 17 So too, faith by itself, if it does not result in action, is dead.

MESSIANIC FORESHADOW DEMONIC OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW NOTABLE

18 But someone will say, "You have faith and I have deeds." Show me your faith without deeds, and I will show you my faith by my deeds. 19 You believe that God is one. Good for you! Even the demons believe that—and shudder.

20 O foolish man, do you want evidence that faith without deeds is worthless? 21
Was not our father Abraham justified by what he did when he offered his son Isaac on the altar? 22 You see that his faith was working with his actions, and his faith was perfected by what he did. 23 And the Scripture was fulfilled that says, "Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness," and he was called a friend of God. 24 As you can see, a man is justified by his deeds and not by faith alone.

25 In the same way, was not even Rahab
the prostitute justified by her actions when she welcomed the spies and sent them off on another route? 26 As the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without deeds is dead.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Not many of you should become teachers. The tongue is tiny, like a horse's bit or a ship's rudder, but it steers the whole body, and one spark can burn a forest. We bless God and curse people with the same mouth. Real wisdom from above is pure, peaceful and gentle.

TAMING THE TONGUE // PSALM 64:1–10

1 Not many of you should become teachers, my brothers, because you know that we who teach will be judged more strictly.
2 We all stumble in many ways. If anyone is never at fault in what he says, he is a perfect man, able to control his whole body.

3 When we put bits into the mouths of horses to make them obey us, we can guide the whole animal. 4 Consider ships as well. Although they are so large and are driven by strong winds, they are steered by a very small rudder wherever the pilot is inclined.

5 In the same way, the tongue is a small part of the body, but it boasts of great things. Consider how small a spark sets a great forest ablaze. 6 The tongue also is a fire, a world of wickedness among the parts of the body. It pollutes the whole person, sets the course of his life on fire, and is itself set on fire by hell.

FAITH AND WORKS

Did James and Paul Disagree?

JAMES 2:14 TO 26 · ROMANS 3:28 · GALATIANS 2:16 · EPHESIANS 2:8 TO 10

WHAT JAMES SAID

A man is justified by his deeds and not by faith alone, 2:24. Faith without deeds is dead, 2:26.

WHAT PAUL SAID

A man is justified by faith apart from works of the law, Romans 3:28. Both men use Abraham and the same verse, Genesis 15:6: Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness, Romans 4:3 and James 2:23.

THE EARLY CHURCH

James was slow to be accepted. Origen, about AD 240, is one of the first to quote it by name, and Eusebius, about AD 325, listed it among the books some disputed. By about AD 400 it was in every major list. Augustine, about AD 413, said there is no fight: Paul means works done before faith, to earn it, and James means works that come after faith.

LUTHER'S STRAW

In his 1522 New Testament Martin Luther compared James to John, Romans, Galatians and 1 Peter and called it a right strawy letter, because he said it has nothing of the gospel in it. He moved it near the back. The straw line was

JAS 2:19 [DEMONIC] Demons believe — and tremble
JAS 2:19 [NOTE] THE SHEMA. You believe that God is one. This is the Shema, Deuteronomy 6:4, the creed every Jew said daily. Knowing the right facts is not saving faith. Demons know them too.

THE HEART DEMONIC

dropped from later editions, and Luther still quoted James in his sermons.

TRENT AND CALVIN

The Catholic Council of Trent, 1547, quoted James 2:24 and taught that justification grows through good works done by grace, and it rejected faith alone. John Calvin answered that same year with a famous line: it is faith alone that justifies, but the faith that justifies is never alone.

TODAY

In 1999 the Lutheran World Federation and the Catholic Church signed the Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification. They agreed that we are saved by grace through faith in Christ, not by our merits, and that good works must follow. They still disagree on some details. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

JAMES 2:14 TO 26 · ROMANS 4:1 TO 5 · GALATIANS 5:6 · PHILIPPIANS 2:12 TO 13

SHOWN, NOT EARNED

Most Protestants say Paul and James answer different questions. Paul asks how a sinner is made right with God: by faith. James asks what real faith looks like: it works. Justified in James means shown to be right, as in show me your faith, 2:18. Key verses: Ephesians 2:8 to 10 and Galatians 5:6. Best case: it keeps grace free and faith real.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF WORKS

Paul fights works of the law, like circumcision and food rules, used as a ticket into God's people. James means acts of love, like feeding the hungry, 2:15 to 16. Best case: the two men use the same word for different things.

ABRAHAM, THEN AND LATER

Paul points to Genesis 15, when Abraham first believed. James points to Genesis 22, years later, when Abraham offered Isaac. The later act proved the earlier faith was real, 2:21 to 23.

CATHOLIC

Justification begins by grace through faith and baptism and grows through good works done in grace. James 2:24 means what it says. Key verses: Galatians 5:6, faith working through love, and Romans 2:6 to 7. Best case: it takes every word of James at face value.

ORTHODOX

Salvation is a lifelong journey of becoming like God, by grace, with our free cooperation. Faith and works are two sides of one life. Key verses: Philippians 2:12 to 13 and 2 Peter 1:4.

THE NEW PERSPECTIVE

Scholars like E. P. Sanders, 1977, James Dunn and N. T. Wright say works of the law in Paul mainly means the Jewish badges, like circumcision and food laws, so Paul and James are not even talking about the same works.

A REAL DISAGREEMENT

Some scholars, and Luther in his early years, think James and Paul really disagreed, or that James was answering people who twisted Paul's teaching. Best case: it reads both letters without forcing them to match.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

We are saved by God's grace, not by earning it. Real faith never stays alone; it shows up in love for the poor, 2:15 to 17. Both Paul and James say so, Galatians 5:6.

7 All kinds of animals, birds, reptiles, and creatures of the sea are being tamed and have been tamed by man, 8 but no man can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison.

9 With the tongue we bless our Lord and Father, and with it we curse men, who have been made in God's likeness. 10 Out of the same mouth come blessing and cursing. My brothers, this should not be! 11
Can both fresh water and salt water flow from the same spring? 12 My brothers, can a fig tree grow olives, or a grapevine bear figs? Neither can a salt spring produce fresh water.

THE WISDOM FROM ABOVE

13 Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show it by his good conduct, by deeds done in the humility that comes from wisdom. 14 But if you harbor bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast in it or deny the truth.

■ JAS 3:9 [ALLUDES TO] Refers to ← GEN 1:26-27 p.48

THE HEART DEMONIC OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW NOTABLE

15 Such wisdom does not come from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic.
16 For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every evil practice.

17 But the wisdom from above is first of all pure, then peace-loving, gentle, accommodating, full of mercy and good fruit, impartial, and sincere. 18 Peacemakers who sow in peace reap the fruit of righteousness.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Why all the fights? You want what you do not have. Friendship with the world is a breakup with God. Submit to God, resist the devil, and he will run. Draw near to God and He will draw near to you. And quit planning your year like you own tomorrow; your life is a mist.

A WARNING AGAINST PRIDE

1 What causes conflicts and quarrels among you? Don't they come from the passions at war within you? 2 You crave what you do not have; you kill and covet, but are unable to obtain it. You quarrel and fight. You do not have, because you do not ask. 3 And when you do ask, you do not receive, because you ask with wrong motives, that you may squander it on your pleasures.

4 You adulteresses! Do you not know that friendship with the world is hostility toward God? Therefore, whoever chooses to be a friend of the world renders himself an enemy of God. 5 Or do you think the Scripture says without reason that the Spirit He caused to dwell in us yearns with envy? 6 But He gives us more grace. This is why it says:

"God opposes the proud,
but gives grace to the humble."

DRAWING NEAR TO GOD

7 Submit yourselves, then, to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. 8 Draw near to God, and He will draw near to you.
Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. 9 Grieve, mourn, and weep. Turn your laughter to mourning, and your joy to gloom. 10 Humble yourselves before the Lord, and He will exalt you.

11 Brothers, do not slander one another.
Anyone who speaks against his brother or judges him speaks against the law and judges it. And if you judge the law, you are not a practitioner of the law, but a judge of
it. 12 There is only one Lawgiver and Judge, the One who is able to save and destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor?

DO NOT BOAST ABOUT TOMORROW // PROVERBS 27:1

13 Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go to this or that city, spend a year there, carry on business, and make a profit." 14 You do not even know what will happen tomorrow! What is your life? You are a mist that appears for a little while and then vanishes.

15 Instead, you ought to say, "If the Lord is willing, we will live and do this or that." 16
As it is, you boast in your proud intentions. All such boasting is evil. 17 Anyone, then, who knows the right thing to do, yet fails to do it, is guilty of sin.

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Bad news for rich oppressors: your gold is rusting and the unpaid workers are crying out to God. Believers, be patient like a farmer waiting for rain; the Lord is coming. No swearing oaths. Sick? Call the elders to pray and anoint with oil. Elijah was a regular guy whose prayers stopped the rain.

A WARNING TO THE RICH // PROVERBS 23:1–5; 1 TIMOTHY 6:17–19

1 Come now, you who are rich, weep and wail over the misery to come upon you. 2
Your riches have rotted and moths have eaten your clothes. 3 Your gold and silver are corroded. Their corrosion will testify against you and consume your flesh like fire.

You have hoarded treasure in the last days. 4 Look, the wages you withheld from the workmen who mowed your fields are crying out against you. The cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of Hosts.

5 You have lived on earth in luxury and self-indulgence. You have fattened your hearts in the day of slaughter. 6 You have condemned and murdered the righteous, who did not resist you.

PATIENCE IN SUFFERING // JOB 1:1–5

7 Be patient, then, brothers, until the Lord's coming. See how the farmer awaits the precious fruit of the soil—how patient he is for the fall and spring rains. 8 You, too, be patient and strengthen your hearts, because the Lord's coming is near. 9 Do not complain about one another, brothers, so that you will not be judged. Look, the Judge is standing at the door!

10 Brothers, as an example of patience in affliction, take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. 11 See how blessed we consider those who have persevered.
You have heard of Job's perseverance and have seen the outcome from the Lord. The Lord is full of compassion and mercy.

12 Above all, my brothers, do not swear, not by heaven or earth or by any other oath. Simply let your "Yes" be yes, and your "No," no, so that you will not fall under judgment.

THE PRAYER OF FAITH

13 Is any one of you suffering? He should pray. Is anyone cheerful? He should sing praises. 14 Is any one of you sick? He should call the elders of the church to pray over him and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord. 15 And the prayer offered in faith will restore the one who is sick. The Lord will raise him up. If he has sinned, he will be forgiven.

16 Therefore confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous man has great power to prevail. 17 Elijah was a man just like us. He prayed earnestly that it would not rain, and it did not rain on the land for three and a half years. 18 Again he prayed, and the heav-

WHAT IT IS

A broken piece of pottery with 14 lines of ancient Hebrew written in ink. It is a letter from a farm worker to the official in charge of a small fort.

HOW OLD IT IS

About 630 to 609 BC, in the days of King Josiah. The Israeli scholar Joseph Naveh found it in 1960 at Mesad Hashavyahu, a fort near the coast south of where Tel Aviv is today.

WHAT IT SAYS

The worker says he was harvesting and finished his work, but a man named Hoshayahu son of Shobai took his cloak. His fellow workers in the heat can swear he did nothing wrong. He begs the official to give his cloak back.

THE LAW BEHIND IT

God's law said if you take a poor man's cloak as a pledge, give it back before sunset so he can sleep in it, Exodus 22:26 to 27 and Deuteronomy 24:12 to 13. Pay a hired worker the same day, Deuteronomy 24:14 to 15. Amos 2:8 condemns people who lie down on cloaks taken in pledge.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

James says the wages you held back from the harvesters are crying out against you, and their cries have reached the Lord of Hosts, 5:4. This little piece of pottery is a real harvester crying out, more than 600 years earlier.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

We do not know if the worker got his cloak back. The letter is far older than James and has nothing to do with him.

ens gave rain, and the earth yielded its crops.

RESTORING A SINNER

1 PETER

Living Hope

AUTHOR	Peter, one of Jesus' twelve apostles, 1:1, with help from Silvanus, 5:12. Many critical scholars think a later follower wrote in his name.
WRITTEN FROM	Rome, which Peter calls Babylon, 5:13.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 62 to 64, shortly before Nero turned on the Christians of Rome. Critical scholars say about AD 70 to 95.
WRITTEN TO	Believers scattered across five Roman provinces in what is now Turkey: Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia, 1:1.
WHY HE WROTE	To give hope to believers who were insulted and mistreated for following Jesus, and to show them how to live and suffer well.
KEY VERSE	1 Peter 1:3. He has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

THE OLDEST COPY OF 1 PETER
Papyrus 72, copied about AD 300 and found in Egypt. The left page holds the last lines of 1 Peter, 5:12 to 14, with in Babylon and Mark my son. Under them the copyist wrote the title, Of Peter, Letter 1, and a blessing: Peace to the one who wrote and to the one who reads. The right page starts 2 Peter. Kept in the Vatican Library. Public domain.

Historical Setting

Peter was a fisherman from Galilee who became the leader of Jesus' twelve apostles. About 30 years after the cross, he writes from Rome to believers far away in what is now Turkey. Many of them were Gentiles who used to live wild, 4:3. When they turned to Jesus they quit the idol parties, and their old friends called them strange and spread lies about them, 2:12 and 4:4. There was no law yet against being a Christian everywhere in the empire, but they were mocked, slandered and sometimes beaten. Soon it got worse. In AD 64 a great fire burned Rome, and the emperor Nero blamed the Christians.

What Was Going Wrong

INSULTS. Neighbors slandered them as evildoers, 2:12 and 4:4.
SUFFERING. Trials of many kinds, and a fiery trial on the way, 1:6 and 4:12.
OLD HABITS. The pull back to the old life of partying and idols, 2:11 and 4:3.
HARD HOMES. Slaves with cruel masters and wives with unbelieving husbands, 2:18 and 3:1.
FEAR. Fear of the people who opposed them, 3:14.
PROUD LEADERS. The temptation for elders to lead for money or power, 5:2 to 3.

The Idiot Proof Summary

1 Peter is a letter of hope for people having a hard time. Peter never promises that following Jesus will be easy. He says suffering is normal, it is temporary, and it is worth it, because Jesus suffered first and then rose. So live as God's people in a world that is not your home. Be holy, love one another, respect everyone, do good even when you are treated badly, and keep your hope fixed on the day Jesus is revealed.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

THE ROCK
Jesus named him Peter, which means rock, Matthew 16:18. Here Peter calls Jesus the living stone and believers living stones, 2:4 to 5.

AN EYEWITNESS
Peter calls himself a witness of Christ's sufferings, 5:1. He was there.

THE WORD CHRISTIAN
4:16 is one of only three places the Bible uses the word Christian, with Acts 11:26 and 26:28.

WHAT THE ROMANS WROTE
Two Romans, Tacitus and Pliny, wrote about Christians who suffered just for the name. See their pages.

LUTHER'S PICK
In his 1522 New Testament Martin Luther named 1 Peter among the books that show you Christ, with John, Romans and Galatians.

What Happened Next?

In AD 64 a fire burned much of Rome, and Nero blamed the Christians. Early Christian writers say Peter was crucified in Rome under Nero, and Origen says upside down. Before he died Peter wrote one more letter, 2 Peter 1:14. Papias says Mark, Peter's son in the faith, 5:13, wrote down Peter's preaching, and it became the Gospel of Mark.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Peter opens with good news: a living hope and an inheritance that cannot rot, rust or get repossessed. Trials? They are a furnace that proves your faith is real gold. The prophets wondered about all this, and even angels lean in to look. So be holy, because God is holy, and love each other from the heart.

A GREETING FROM PETER // 2 PETER 1:1–2

1 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ,

To the elect who are exiles of the Dispersion throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, chosen 2 according to the foreknowledge of God the Father and sanctified by the Spirit for obedience to Jesus Christ and sprinkling by His blood:

Grace and peace be yours in abundance.

A LIVING HOPE

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! By His great mercy He has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, 4 and into an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, reserved in heaven for you, 5 who through faith are shielded by God's power for the salvation that is ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while you may have had to suffer grief in various trials 7 so that the proven character of your faith—more precious than gold, which perishes even though refined by fire—may result in praise, glory, and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ.

8 Though you have not seen Him, you love Him; and though you do not see Him now, you believe in Him and rejoice with an inexpressible and glorious joy, 9 now that you are receiving the goal of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

10 Concerning this salvation, the prophets who foretold the grace to come to you searched and investigated carefully, 11 trying to determine the time and setting to which the Spirit of Christ in them was pointing when He predicted the sufferings of Christ and the glories to follow.

12 It was revealed to them that they were not serving themselves, but you, when they foretold the things now announced by those who preached the gospel to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven. Even angels long to look into these things.

A CALL TO HOLINESS // HEBREWS 12:14–17

13 Therefore prepare your minds for action. Be sober-minded. Set your hope fully on the grace to be given you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. 14 As obedient children, do not conform to the passions of your former ignorance. 15 But just as He who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do, 16 for it is written: "Be holy, because I am holy."

17 Since you call on a Father who judges each one's work impartially, conduct yourselves in reverent fear during your stay as foreigners. 18 For you know that it was not with perishable things such as silver or gold that you were redeemed from the empty way of life you inherited from your forefathers, 19 but with the precious blood of Christ, a lamb without blemish or spot. 20 He was known before the foundation of the world, but was revealed in the last times for your sake.

21 Through Him you believe in God, who raised Him from the dead and glorified

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Grow up like babies who really want their milk. Jesus is the living stone the builders threw out, and now He holds the whole building up. You are living stones and a royal priesthood. Respect the government, yes, even that one. And when you suffer unfairly, remember Jesus took it without hitting back.

THE LIVING STONE AND CHOSEN PEOPLE // ISAIAH 28:14–22; 1 CORINTHIANS 3:10–15; EPHESIANS 2:19–22

1 Rid yourselves, therefore, of all malice, deceit, hypocrisy, envy, and slander. 2 Like newborn babies, crave pure spiritual milk, so that by it you may grow up in your salvation, 3 now that you have tasted that the Lord is good.

4 As you come to Him, the living stone, rejected by men but chosen and precious in God's sight, 5 you also, like living stones, are being built into a spiritual house to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. 6 For it stands in Scripture:

"See, I lay in Zion a stone,
a chosen and precious cornerstone;
and the one who believes in Him will never be put to shame."

7 To you who believe, then, this stone is precious. But to those who do not believe,

"The stone the builders rejected has become the cornerstone,"

8 and,

"A stone of stumbling and a rock of offense."

They stumble because they disobey the word—and to this they were appointed.

9 But you are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God's own possession, to proclaim the virtues of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light. 10 Once you were not a people, but now you are the people of God; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.

11 Beloved, I urge you, as foreigners and exiles, to abstain from the desires of the flesh, which war against your soul. 12 Conduct yourselves with such honor among the Gentiles that, though they slander you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day He visits us.

SUBMISSION TO AUTHORITIES // ROMANS 13:1–7

13 Submit yourselves for the Lord's sake to every human institution, whether to the king as the supreme authority, 14 or to governors as those sent by him to punish those who do wrong and to praise those who do right. 15 For it is God's will that by doing good you should silence the ignorance of foolish men.

16 Live in freedom, but do not use your freedom as a cover-up for evil; live as servants of God. 17 Treat everyone with high regard: Love the brotherhood of believers, fear God, honor the king.

18 Servants, submit yourselves to your masters with all respect, not only to those who are good and gentle, but even to those who are unreasonable. 19 For if anyone endures the pain of unjust suffering because he is conscious of God, this is to be commended. 20 How is it to your credit
if you are beaten for doing wrong and you endure it? But if you suffer for doing good and you endure it, this is commendable before God.

CHRIST'S EXAMPLE OF SUFFERING // ISAIAH 53:1–8

21 For to this you were called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, that you should follow in His footsteps:

22 "He committed no sin,
and no deceit was found in His mouth."
23 When they heaped abuse on Him,
He did not retaliate;
when He suffered, He made no threats, but entrusted Himself to Him who judges justly.
24 He Himself bore our sins
in His body on the tree, so that we might die to sin and live to righteousness.
"By His stripes you are healed."

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Wives, husbands, everybody: be kind, be humble, and do not trade insult for insult. Always be ready to explain your hope, but nicely. Christ died once for all. Then comes a famous head scratcher about spirits in prison, Noah's ark and baptism, and Jesus goes up to the right hand of God.

inner disposition of your heart, the unfad-which is precious in God's sight. 5 For this is how the holy women of the past adorned themselves. They put their hope

FROM HISTORY

WHAT TACITUS WROTE

Nero Blames the Christians, AD 64

TACITUS, ANNALS 15.44 · 1 PETER 2:13 TO 17 · 4:12 TO 16

WHO TACITUS WAS

Publius Cornelius Tacitus was a Roman senator and governor, born about AD 56. About AD 116 he wrote the Annals, a history of the emperors. He was not a Christian, and he did not like Christians.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is the whole passage, Annals book 15, chapter 44, in the English translation by Alfred Church and William Brodribb, 1876. It starts right after the great fire of Rome in July AD 64.

ANNALS 15.44

Such indeed were the precautions of human wisdom. The next thing was to seek means of propitiating the gods, and recourse was had to the Sibylline books, by the direction of which prayers were offered to Vulcanus, Ceres, and Proserpina. Juno, too, was entreated by the matrons, first, in the Capitol, then on the nearest part of the coast, whence water was procured to sprinkle the fane and image of the goddess. And there were sacred banquets and nightly vigils celebrated by married women. But all human efforts, all the lavish gifts of the emperor, and the propitiations of the gods, did not banish the sinister belief that the conflagration was the result of an order. Consequently, to get rid of the report, Nero fastened the guilt and inflicted the most exquisite tortures on a class hated for their abominations, called Christians by the populace. Christus, from whom the name had its origin, suffered the extreme penalty during the reign of Tiberius at the hands of one of our procurators, Pontius Pilatus, and a most mischievous superstition, thus checked for the moment, again broke out not only in Judaea, the first source of the evil, but even in Rome, where all things hideous and shameful from every part of the world find their centre and become popular. Accordingly, an arrest was first made of all who pleaded guilty; then, upon their information, an immense multitude was convicted, not so much of the crime of firing the city, as of hatred against mankind. Mockery of every sort was added to their deaths. Covered with the skins of beasts, they were torn by dogs and perished, or were nailed to crosses, or were doomed to the flames and burnt, to serve as a nightly illumination, when daylight had expired. Nero offered his gardens for the spectacle, and was exhibiting a show in the circus, while he mingled with the people in the dress of a charioteer or stood aloft on a car. Hence, even for criminals who deserved extreme and exemplary punishment, there arose a feeling of compassion; for it was not, as it seemed, for the public good, but to glut one man's cruelty, that they were being destroyed.

Nero and the Christians

1 PETER 2:13 TO 17 · 4:12 TO 16 · ROMANS 13:1 · ACTS 5:29

THE GREAT FIRE

On July 19, AD 64, a fire broke out near the Circus Maximus in Rome. It burned for six days. Tacitus says only 4 of the city's 14 districts were left whole, 15.40. A rumor said Nero sang about the fall of Troy while Rome burned, and many believed he started the fire, because he soon built a huge new palace on the burned land.

THE SCAPEGOATS

To stop the rumor, Nero blamed the Christians. Tacitus says a huge crowd was convicted, more for hatred of mankind than for the fire. They were torn apart by dogs, nailed to crosses, or burned as torches at night in Nero's gardens.

THE KING IN 2:13

The king Peter tells believers to honor, 2:17, was this same Nero. Peter wrote to people who would soon face him at his worst.

1PE 3:7 [NOTE] WEAKER VESSEL. The Greek and the KJV say weaker vessel. Many believe Peter means physically weaker; others say weaker in Roman law and power. Either way, honor her, she is a fellow heir, or your prayers get blocked.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES | MESSIANIC FORESHADOW | THE HEART | DEMONIC | OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW | NOTABLE

THE FIERY TRIAL
Do not be surprised at the fiery trial, 4:12. If you suffer as a Christian, do not be ashamed, 4:16. Many date the letter just before the fire. Others think Nero's attack had already begun.

PETER AND PAUL
Clement of Rome, about AD 96, names Peter and Paul together as faithful to death, 1 Clement 5. Right after, he mentions a great crowd of believers who were tortured, 1 Clement 6, and many link that to Nero.

WHAT IT CONFIRMS
A Roman historian who disliked Christians says Christus was executed by Pontius Pilate under Tiberius, that the movement began in Judaea, and that by AD 64 there were huge numbers of Christians in Rome. See Exhibit A, p.2120.

IS IT REAL?
Almost all scholars accept it. It is in the oldest copy of this part of the Annals, the Second Medicean manuscript from the 1000s, kept in Florence. Under ultraviolet light the word for Christians shows it was first written Chrestians, a common Roman mix up of the name, and later corrected.

TURNING FROM EVIL

8 Finally, all of you, be like-minded and sympathetic, love as brothers, be tender-hearted and humble. 9 Do not repay evil with evil or insult with insult, but with blessing, because to this you were called so that you may inherit a blessing. 10 For,

"Whoever would love life and see good days must keep his tongue from evil and his lips from deceitful speech.
11 He must turn from evil and do good;
he must seek peace and pursue it.
12 For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, and His ears are inclined to their prayer.
But the face of the Lord is against those who do evil."

13 Who can harm you if you are zealous for what is good?

SUFFERING FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS

14 But even if you should suffer for what is right, you are blessed. "Do not fear what they fear; do not be shaken." 15 But in your hearts sanctify Christ as Lord. Always be prepared to give a defense to everyone who asks you the reason for the hope that is in you. But respond with gentleness and respect, 16 keeping a clear conscience, so that those who slander you may be put to shame by your good behavior in Christ. 17 For it is better, if it is God's will, to suffer for doing good than for doing evil.

18 For Christ also suffered for sins once for all, the righteous for the unrighteous, to bring you to God. He was put to death in the body but made alive in the Spirit, 19 in whom He also went and preached to the spirits in prison 20 who disobeyed long ago when God waited patiently in the days of Noah while the ark was being built.

In the ark a few people, only eight souls, were saved through water. 21 And this water symbolizes the baptism that now saves you also—not the removal of dirt from the body, but the pledge of a clear conscience toward God—through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, 22 who has gone

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

SPIRITS IN PRISON

What Did Peter Mean?

1 PETER 3:18 TO 22 · 4:6 · GENESIS 6:1 TO 8 · 2 PETER 2:4 TO 5 · JUDE 6

WHAT PETER SAID

Christ was put to death in the body but made alive in the Spirit, in whom He also went and preached to the spirits in prison who disobeyed long ago, in the days of Noah, 3:18 to 20. Later Peter adds that the gospel was preached even to those who are now dead, 4:6.

WHY IT IS HARD

Who are the spirits? When did Jesus go? What did He preach? Martin Luther wrote in 1523 that this is a strange text, more obscure than any other passage in the New Testament, and that he did not know for sure what Peter meant.

THE BOOK OF ENOCH

Jews in Peter's day knew 1 Enoch, written about 300 to 200 BC. It says the angels who sinned in Genesis 6 were locked up until judgment, and that Enoch went to announce their doom, 1 Enoch 6 to 16. 2 Peter 2:4 to 5 and Jude 6 also speak of angels kept in chains, right next to Noah.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Many early Christians taught that Christ went down to the dead between the cross and Easter. Irenaeus, about AD 180, says He went to the regions under the earth preaching His coming. Clement of Alexandria, about AD 200, said He offered salvation to the dead there.

THE CREED

The words He descended into hell, or to the dead, show up in creeds in the 300s, and became part of the Apostles' Creed. Eastern churches paint it at Easter as Christ pulling Adam and Eve out of their graves, the harrowing of hell.

AUGUSTINE

About AD 414 Augustine wrote a long letter on this verse, Letter 164. He decided Christ preached in the Spirit through Noah to the people of Noah's day, whose spirits are now in prison. Thomas Aquinas and many later teachers followed him.

THE REFORMERS

Luther, after his doubts, taught that Christ went down to hell in victory, and the Lutheran Formula of Concord, 1577, says so. John Calvin read the creed's descent into hell as Christ suffering hell's agony for us on the cross.

TODAY

In 1965 William Dalton argued that the risen Christ announced His victory to the fallen angels of Genesis 6, and many scholars now agree. Others hold Augustine's view or the descent to the dead. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

1 PETER 1:11 · 3:18 TO 22 · 4:6 · EPHESIANS 4:8 TO 10 · 2 PETER 2:4 TO 5

CHRIST PREACHING THROUGH NOAH

The Spirit of Christ, who spoke in the prophets, 1:11, spoke through Noah, a preacher of righteousness, 2 Peter 2:5, to the people of his day. They refused, died in the flood, and their spirits are now in prison. Held by Augustine and many Reformed teachers. Best case: it fits 1:11 and leaves no second chance after death, Hebrews 9:27.

VICTORY OVER FALLEN ANGELS

After rising, on His way to heaven, Christ announced His win to the angels who sinned in Noah's day, Genesis 6:1 to 4. In the New Testament spirits usually means angels or demons, and preached can mean announced. The same word went is used in 3:22, where angels and powers are made subject to Him. Best case: it matches 3:22, 2 Peter 2:4 and Jude 6, and Jewish readers knew the Enoch story.

THE GOSPEL OFFERED TO THE DEAD

Between His death and resurrection Christ went to the dead and offered them the gospel, and 4:6 says the gospel was preached to those who are now dead. Clement of Alexandria and some modern teachers hold this. Best case: it reads 3:19 and 4:6 plainly and shows God's mercy to those who never heard.

THE HARROWING OF HELL

Christ went down to the place of the dead and freed the faithful who died before Him, from Adam to the prophets, and led them out, Ephesians 4:8 to 10 and Matthew 27:52 to 53. This is the Orthodox Easter teaching, and the Catholic Catechism, 632 to 635, says Christ went to free the just, not to rescue the damned. Best case: it is very old and fits the creed.

LUTHERAN

Christ, body and soul, went down to hell after His burial, defeated the devil and broke hell's power. It was a victory march, not more suffering, Formula of Concord, 1577. Best case: it takes went and preached as a real event and fits 3:22.

WHAT ABOUT 4:6?

Most read the dead in 4:6 as people who heard the gospel while alive and have since died. Others link it to 3:19. Your view of one usually shapes the other.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Christ really died and rose. He now sits at the right hand of God with angels and powers under Him, 3:22. God was patient in Noah's day, 3:20, and is patient now. And Peter's point for suffering believers is clear: suffering for doing good is not defeat, because Christ suffered and won.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

You partied enough in the old days. Your old friends think you are weird now, and that is fine. Love covers a multitude of sins, so love big. Use your gifts. Do not be shocked by the fiery trial. If you suffer as a Christian, do not be ashamed. Wear the name.

LIVING FOR GOD'S GLORY // 1 CORINTHIANS 10:23–33

1 Therefore, since Christ suffered in His body, arm yourselves with the same resolve, because anyone who has suffered in his body is done with sin. 2 Consequently, he does not live out his remaining time on earth for human passions, but for the will of God. 3 For you have spent enough time in the past carrying out the same desires as the Gentiles: living in debauchery, lust, drunkenness, orgies, carousing, and detestable idolatry.
4 Because of this, they consider it strange of you not to plunge with them into the same flood of reckless indiscretion, and they heap abuse on you. 5 But they will have to give an account to Him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. 6
That is why the gospel was preached even to those who are now dead, so that they might be judged as men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.
7 The end of all things is near. Therefore be clear-minded and sober, so that you can pray. 8 Above all, love one another deeply,
because love covers over a multitude of sins. 9 Show hospitality to one another without complaining.
10 As good stewards of the manifold grace of God, each of you should use whatever gift he has received to serve one another.
11 If anyone speaks, he should speak as one conveying the words of God. If anyone serves, he should serve with the strength God provides, so that in all things
God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory and the power forever and ever. Amen.

SUFFERING AS CHRISTIANS

sufferings of Christ, so that you may be overjoyed at the revelation of His glory.

14 If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests on you. 15 Indeed, none of you should suffer as a murderer or thief or wrongdoer, or even as a meddler. 16 But if you suffer as a Christian, do not be ashamed, but glorify God that you bear that name. 17 For it is time for judgment to begin with the family of God; and if it begins with us, what will the outcome be for those who disobey the gospel of God? 18 And,

"If it is hard for the righteous to be saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner?"

19 So then, those who suffer according to God's will should entrust their souls to their faithful Creator and continue to do good.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT PLINY WROTE

Trials for the Name, About AD 112

PLINY, LETTERS 10.96 · 1 PETER 1:1 · 4:14 TO 16

WHO PLINY WAS

Pliny the Younger was a Roman lawyer and senator. About AD 110 the emperor Trajan sent him to govern Pontus and Bithynia, in what is now northern Turkey. Those are two of the places 1 Peter was sent to, 1:1.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is his whole letter to Trajan, Letters book 10, number 96, in William Melmoth's English translation as revised by F. C. T. Bosanquet. Sir means the emperor.

LETTERS 10.96

It is my invariable rule, Sir, to refer to you in all matters where I feel doubtful; for who is more capable of removing my scruples, or informing my ignorance? Having never been present at any trials concerning those who profess Christianity, I am unacquainted not only with the nature of their crimes, or the measure of their punishment, but how far it is proper to enter into an examination concerning them. Whether, therefore, any difference is usually made with respect to ages, or no distinction is to be observed between the young and the adult; whether repentance entitles them to a pardon; or if a man has been once a Christian, it avails nothing to desist from his error; whether the very profession of Christianity, unattended with any criminal act, or only the crimes themselves inherent in the profession are punishable; on all these points I am in great doubt. In the meanwhile, the method I have observed towards those who have been brought before me as Christians is this: I asked them whether they were Christians; if they admitted it, I repeated the question twice, and threatened them with punishment; if they persisted, I ordered them to be at once punished: for I was persuaded, whatever the nature of their opinions might be, a contumacious and inflexible obstinacy certainly deserved correction. There were others also brought before me possessed with the same infatuation, but being Roman citizens, I directed them to be sent to Rome. But this crime spreading (as is usually the case) while it was actually under prosecution, several instances of the same nature occurred. An anonymous information was laid before me containing a charge against several persons, who upon examination denied they were Christians, or had ever been so. They repeated after me an invocation to the gods, and offered religious rites with wine and incense before your statue (which for that purpose I had ordered to be brought, together with those of the gods), and even reviled the name of Christ: whereas there is no forcing, it is said, those who are really Christians into any of these compliances: I thought it proper, therefore, to discharge them. Some among those who were accused by a witness in person at first confessed themselves Christians, but immediately after denied it; the rest owned indeed that they had been of that number formerly, but had now (some above three, others more, and a few above twenty years ago) renounced that error. They all worshipped your statue and the images of the gods, uttering imprecations at the same time against the name of Christ. They affirmed the whole of their guilt, or their error, was, that they met on a stated day before it was light, and addressed a form of prayer to Christ, as to a divinity, binding themselves by a solemn oath, not for the purposes of any wicked design, but never to commit any fraud, theft, or adultery, never to falsify their word, nor deny a trust when they should be called upon to deliver it up; after which it was their custom to separate, and then reassemble, to eat in common a harmless meal. From this custom, however, they desisted after the publication of my edict, by which, according to your commands, I forbade the meeting of any assemblies. After receiving this account, I judged it so much the more necessary to endeavor to extort the real truth, by putting two female slaves to the torture, who were said to officiate in their religious rites: but all I could discover was evidence of an absurd and extravagant superstition. I deemed it expedient, therefore, to adjourn all further proceedings, in order to consult you. For it appears to be a matter highly deserving your consideration, more especially as great numbers must be involved in the danger of these prosecutions, which have already extended, and are still likely to extend, to persons of all ranks and ages, and even of both sexes. In fact, this contagious superstition is not confined to the cities only, but has spread its infection among the neighbouring villages and country. Nevertheless, it still seems possible to restrain its progress. The temples, at least, which were once almost deserted, begin now to be frequented; and the sacred rites, after a long intermission, are again revived; while there is a general demand for the victims, which till lately found very few purchasers. From all this it is easy to conjecture what numbers might be reclaimed if a general pardon were granted to those who shall repent of their error.

Are You a Christian?

TRAJAN'S ANSWER

The emperor wrote back, Letters 10.97. Here is his whole reply, same translation: You have adopted the right course, my dearest Secundus, in investigating the charges against the Christians who were brought before you. It is not possible to lay down any general rule for all such cases. Do not go out of your way to look for them. If indeed they should be brought before you, and the crime is proved, they must be punished; with the restriction, however, that where the party denies he is a Christian, and shall make it evident that he is not, by invoking our gods, let him (notwithstanding any former suspicion) be pardoned upon his repentance. Anonymous informations ought not to be received in any sort of prosecution. It is introducing a very dangerous precedent, and is quite foreign to the spirit of our age.

PUNISHED FOR THE NAME

Pliny did not ask what crime they did. He asked one question: are you a Christian? Saying yes three times was enough to be executed. That is just what Peter wrote about: if you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, 4:14, and if you suffer as a Christian, do not be ashamed, 4:16.

WHAT CHRISTIANS DID

They met on a set day before dawn, sang a hymn to Christ as to a god, and promised not to steal, cheat or commit adultery. Later they ate a simple meal together. Pliny's Latin says they sang a hymn; this translation says a form of prayer. Even their enemy found no crime.

TWO WOMEN

The two slave women were called ministrae in Latin, which means servants. Many think they were deaconesses. See Phoebe, Pliny and Sophia in 1 Timothy, p.1939.

THE TEMPLES WERE EMPTY

Pliny says the temples had been almost deserted and few people bought animals for sacrifice. The faith had spread to towns and villages and to people of every age and rank.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Pliny wrote about 50 years after Peter, so he shows what believers in Bithynia faced later, not in Peter's own day. But some told him they had left the faith 20 years earlier, so there were Christians there by about AD 90.

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Elders, be shepherds, not bosses, and do not do it for the money. Everybody, tie on humility like a servant's apron. Throw your worries on God, because He cares about you. Stay alert, because the devil prowls like a roaring lion. After a little while of suffering, God Himself will restore you. Mark says hi.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ELDERS // 1 TIMOTHY 3:1–7; TITUS 1:5–9

1 As a fellow elder, a witness of Christ's sufferings, and a partaker of the glory to be revealed, I appeal to the elders among you: 2 Be shepherds of God's flock that is among you, watching over them not out of compulsion, but willingly, as God would have you; not out of greed, but out of eagerness; 3 not lording it over those entrusted to you, but being examples to the flock. 4 And when the Chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the crown of glory that will never fade away.

- 1PE 5:2 [NOTABLE] Lead willingly, not for money and not as a boss, but as an example.
- 1PE 5:2 [NOTE] TEXT. Watching over them is missing in Codex Sinaiticus and Vaticanus. As God would have you is missing in Vaticanus and the KJV.

CAST YOUR CARES ON HIM

5 Young men, in the same way, submit yourselves to your elders. And all of you, clothe yourselves with humility toward one another, because,

"God opposes the proud,
but gives grace to the humble."

6 Humble yourselves, therefore, under God's mighty hand, so that in due time He may exalt you. 7 Cast all your anxiety on Him, because He cares for you.

8 Be sober-minded and alert. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour. 9 Resist him, standing firm in your faith and in the knowledge that your brothers throughout the world are undergoing the same kinds of suffering.

BENEDICTION AND FAREWELL

10 And after you have suffered for a little while, the God of all grace, who has called you to His eternal glory in Christ, will Himself restore you, secure you, strengthen you, and establish you. 11 To Him be the power forever and ever. Amen.

12 Through Silvanus, whom I regard as a faithful brother, I have written to you briefly, encouraging you and testifying that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it.

with you, sends you greetings, as does

PETER'S TOMB?

Gravestone of Licinia Amias from the Vatican hill, early 200s AD, National Roman Museum, Baths of Diocletian, Rome. Photo Marie-Lan Nguyen, public domain.

WHAT IT IS

A Christian gravestone from the Vatican hill in Rome. At the top are D M, short for to the spirits of the dead, an old pagan habit. Under it in Greek: ICHTHYS ZONTON, fish of the living. Then two fish and an anchor, and in Latin: to Licinia Amias, well deserving, she lived. The rest is broken off.

HOW OLD IT IS

Early 200s AD, about 150 years after Peter. It is one of the oldest Christian gravestones known. The tombs under St Peter's Basilica date from about AD 100 to 300.

THE DIG

In 1939, while making room for the grave of Pope Pius XI, workers broke into an old Roman street of tombs under the church. Pope Pius XII ordered a quiet dig that lasted until 1949. Right under the high altar they found a small shrine built against a red plastered wall, about AD 160.

THE TROPHY

About AD 200 a Roman Christian named Gaius wrote: I can show the trophies of the apostles. If you go to the Vatican or to the Ostian Way, you will find them. Eusebius quotes him, Church History 2.25. Many think the little shrine is Peter's trophy, his monument.

PETER IS HERE?

Next to the shrine stood a wall covered in Christian scratchings. The scholar Margherita Guarducci read one Greek scrap as Petros eni, Peter is within. Others read it differently.

THE BONES

Bones from a hollow in that wall belonged to a man about 60 to 70 years old, wrapped in purple cloth with gold thread. In 1968 Pope Paul VI said they had been identified as Peter's in a convincing way. Many archaeologists, Catholic ones included, are not sure.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Peter writes from Babylon, 5:13, which most take to mean Rome. Jesus told him how he would die, John 21:18 to 19.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

No grave there has Peter's name on it. The dig shows Christians honored this spot as Peter's grave by about AD 160, about 100 years after his death. Most historians accept that Peter died in Rome. Whether these are his bones is still debated.

14 Greet one another with a kiss of love.
Peace to all of you who are in Christ.

WHAT IT IS

A red granite obelisk from Egypt, about 83 feet tall, with no hieroglyphs on it. Beside it is the bronze ball that once sat on its tip.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was cut in Egypt long before Jesus; with no hieroglyphs, nobody knows exactly when. The emperor Caligula shipped it to Rome in AD 37. Pliny the Elder, who died in AD 79, says it stood in the circus of the emperors Gaius and Nero on the Vatican hill, Natural History 36.74. The bronze ball is Roman, about AD 1 to 50.

THE OLD WORDS

Carved on the shaft in Latin is a dedication to the divine Augustus and to Tiberius, the emperor when Jesus was crucified. Holes from older bronze letters show it first stood in Alexandria, Egypt, set up by Cornelius Gallus, Egypt's first Roman governor, about 30 BC.

NERO'S CIRCUS

Caligula built a racetrack on the Vatican hill, and Nero raced chariots there. Tacitus says Nero offered his gardens for killing Christians and held a show in the circus, Annals 15.44. Most scholars think this is that circus, because Nero's gardens were on the Vatican hill.

PETER'S DEATH

Clement of Rome, about AD 96, says Peter died a faithful witness. Tertullian, about AD 200, says Peter died in Rome like his Lord, on a cross. Origen, quoted by Eusebius, says upside down. Later tradition puts the cross near Nero's circus. If so, this obelisk stood nearby.

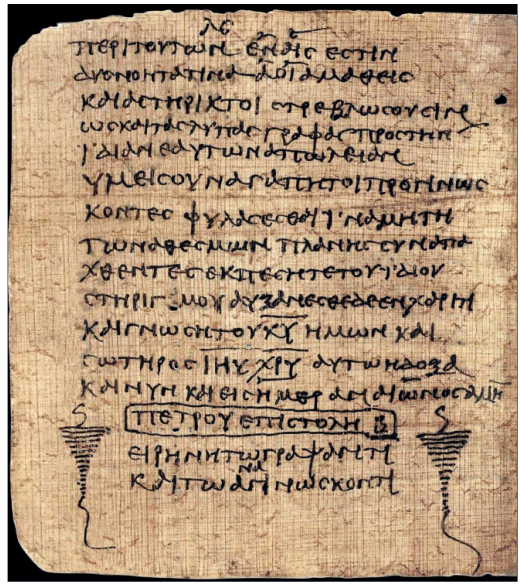
MOVED IN 1586

For 1,500 years it stood beside the old church of St Peter, the only obelisk in Rome that never fell. In 1586 Pope Sixtus V had the engineer Domenico Fontana move it to St Peter's Square, with about 900 men and 140 horses. The cross went on top, and the bronze ball came down.

THE BALL

People in the Middle Ages said the ball held the ashes of Julius Caesar. When it came down, it held only dust. The dents are said to be bullet marks from the Sack of Rome in 1527.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE



No ancient writer says Peter died at this obelisk. It does show that the circus where Christians died was a real place.

Grow in Grace

AUTHOR	Simon Peter, 1:1, shortly before his death, 1:14. It is the most debated letter in the New Testament, and many scholars think a later follower wrote it. See The Big Question pages, p.2028.
WRITTEN FROM	Probably Rome, while Peter waited to die.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 64 to 68, just before Peter was killed under Nero. Critical scholars say about AD 80 to 150.
WRITTEN TO	The same believers as 1 Peter, 3:1, in what is now Turkey.
WHY HE WROTE	To warn against false teachers who mocked Jesus' return and lived for pleasure, and to remind believers to keep growing.
KEY VERSE	2 Peter 3:18. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

THE OLDEST COPY OF 2 PETER
Papyrus 72, copied about AD 300 and found in Egypt. This page holds the end of 2 Peter, 3:16 to 18. In the box is the title, Of Peter, Letter 2. Under it is the same blessing the copyist wrote after 1 Peter: Peace to the one who wrote and to the one who reads. Kept in the Vatican Library. Public domain.

Historical Setting

Peter knows he is about to die, 1:14. Like Paul in 2 Timothy, he writes a farewell letter. Jesus had not come back yet, and some teachers said He never would, 3:4. They turned grace into an excuse to sin, chased money and pleasure, and promised freedom while they were slaves themselves, 2:19. Peter answers with three things: what he saw with his own eyes on the mountain, what the prophets wrote, and how God has judged and rescued people before.

What Was Going Wrong

FALSE TEACHERS. They slipped in quietly and denied the Master who bought them, 2:1.
GREED. They used people to make money, 2:3 and 2:14.
ANYTHING GOES. They promised freedom but lived as slaves to their desires, 2:18 to 19.
SCOFFERS. Where is His coming? Nothing ever changes, 3:3 to 4.
TWISTING PAUL. Unstable people distorted Paul's letters, 3:16.
FORGETTING. Some forgot they had been cleansed from their old sins, 1:9.

The Idiot Proof Summary

2 Peter is Peter's last word. He knows his time is short, so he says: keep growing, remember what you were taught, and do not fall for teachers who make faith an excuse to sin. Jesus really is coming back. God is not late; He is patient, giving people time to repent. Then everything will change, and righteousness will finally be at home.

What Happened Next?

Early writers say Peter was crucified in Rome under Nero, as Jesus had told him, John 21:18 to 19. The church argued for a long time about whether this letter was really his, but by AD 367 it was on the New Testament list of Athanasius of Alexandria, and soon in Bibles everywhere.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Peter's last letter starts with a gift list: God has given you everything you need. Now build on it: goodness, knowledge, self control, endurance, godliness, kindness and love. Peter knows he will die soon, so he says remember this. He saw Jesus shine on the mountain. This is no fairy tale.

A GREETING FROM PETER // 1 PETER 1:1–2

1 Simon Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ,

To those who through the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ have received a faith as precious as ours:

2 Grace and peace be multiplied to you through the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

PARTAKERS OF THE DIVINE NATURE

3 His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through the knowledge of Him who called us by His own glory and excellence. 4 Through these He has given us His precious and magnificent promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, now that you have escaped the corruption in the world caused by evil desires.

5 For this very reason, make every effort to add to your faith virtue; and to virtue, knowledge; 6 and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness; 7 and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love. 8 For if you possess these qualities and continue to grow in them, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 But whoever lacks these traits is nearsighted to the point of blindness, having forgotten that he has been cleansed from his past sins.

10 Therefore, brothers, strive to make your calling and election sure. For if you practice these things you will never stumble, 11 and you will receive a lavish reception into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

12 Therefore I will always remind you of these things, even though you know them and are established in the truth you now have. 13 I think it is right to refresh your memory as long as I live in the tent of my body, 14 because I know that this tent will soon be laid aside, as our Lord Jesus Christ has made clear to me. 15 And I will make every effort to ensure that after my departure, you will be able to recall these things at all times.

The Most Debated Letter

2 PETER 1:1 · 1:14 TO 18 · 3:1 · 3:15 TO 16 · JUDE 4 TO 18

WHAT THE LETTER SAYS

The writer calls himself Simeon Peter, 1:1. He says Jesus showed him he would die soon, 1:14. He says he saw Jesus shine on the holy mountain and heard God's voice, 1:16 to 18. He calls this his second letter, 3:1, and calls Paul our beloved brother, 3:15.

SLOW TO BE ACCEPTED

Few early writers quote 2 Peter by name. Origen, about AD 240, said Peter left one letter everyone accepts, and possibly a second, but it is disputed. Eusebius, about AD 325, put it among the books some disputed, though he said many found it useful.

About AD 392 Jerome wrote that most people denied the second letter was Peter's because its style is so different from the first. Elsewhere he suggested Peter used a different helper to write each letter.

ACCEPTED

Papyrus 72 already copied it about AD 300. Athanasius listed it in AD 367, and church councils at Hippo, 393, and Carthage, 397, did too. After that it stood in the New Testament everywhere.

THE REFORMERS

Erasmus doubted it. John Calvin, 1551, said he could not deny it was Peter's message, and thought a follower may have written it down at Peter's command. Luther kept it with no complaint, though he questioned Hebrews, James, Jude and Revelation.

MODERN SCHOLARS

Many scholars today think someone wrote it after Peter's death, about AD 80 to 150. Their reasons: the Greek is very different from 1 Peter, chapter 2 looks borrowed from Jude, Paul's letters are already a collection, 3:16, and the fathers have fallen asleep, 3:4, sounds like a later generation.

THE OTHER SIDE

Other scholars answer each point: a different helper explains the style, Peter may have used Jude, Paul's letters were copied early, and the fathers can mean the Old Testament fathers. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

2 PETER 1:1 · 1:12 TO 15 · 3:1 · 3:4 · 3:16 · 1 PETER 5:12

PETER WROTE IT

Peter wrote it near his death, about AD 64 to 68, just as it says. Held by most of the church through history and by scholars like Michael Green. Best case: the letter plainly claims to be his, the early church in the end accepted it, and it would be strange for a fake to warn so hard against deceivers.

PETER THROUGH A HELPER

Peter gave the message, and a different secretary wrote it out than the one who helped with 1 Peter, Silvanus, 1 Peter 5:12. Jerome suggested this, and Calvin thought something like it. Best case: it explains the different Greek and keeps Peter as the true author.

A FAREWELL BY A FOLLOWER

After Peter died, a close follower wrote down Peter's teaching as his last testament, a style of writing readers would have recognized. Richard Bauckham argued this in 1983. Best case: it explains the style and the later details without calling anyone a liar.

A LATER FORGERY

Someone in the 100s used Peter's name to win an argument, and the church was fooled. Bart Ehrman argues this. Best case: it explains why so many in the early church doubted it.

WHY IT MATTERS

If Peter wrote it, we have the last words of Jesus' closest friend. If not, the church still judged that it teaches the faith the apostles taught.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

The letter is in every New Testament since the late 300s. Its message is clear either way: grow in faith, reject false teachers, and wait for the Lord's return, because God is patient.

2

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Fake teachers are coming, and they are greedy, proud and good at sounding spiritual. God judged the fallen angels, the flood world and Sodom, but He rescued Noah and Lot. These teachers are like Balaam, who got scolded by his own donkey. A dog goes back to its vomit, and a washed pig heads straight back to the mud.

DELIVERANCE FROM FALSE PROPHETS // JUDE 1:3–16

1 Now there were also false prophets among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you. They will secretly introduce destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them—bringing swift destruction on themselves. 2 Many will follow in their depravity, and because of them the way of truth will be defamed. 3 In their greed, these false teachers will exploit you with deceptive words. The longstanding verdict against them remains in force, and their destruction does not sleep.

4 For if God did not spare the angels when they sinned, but cast them deep into hell, placing them in chains of darkness to be held for judgment; 5 if He did not spare the ancient world when He brought the flood on its ungodly people, but preserved Noah, a preacher of righteousness, among the eight; 6 if He condemned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to destruction, reducing them to ashes as an example of what is coming on the ungodly; 7 and if He rescued Lot, a righteous man distressed by the depraved conduct of the lawless 8 (for that righteous man, living among them day after day, was tormented in his righteous soul by the lawless deeds he saw and heard)— 9 if all this is so, then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials and to hold the unrighteous for punishment on the day of judgment.

10 Such punishment is specially reserved for those who indulge the corrupt desires of the flesh and despise authority. Bold and self-willed, they are unafraid to slander glorious beings. 11 Yet not even angels, though greater in strength and power, dare to bring such slanderous charges against them before the Lord.

- 2PE 1:20 [NOTE] OWN INTERPRETATION. Catholics and Orthodox often read this as no one may interpret Scripture privately, apart from the church. Most Protestants read it with 1:21: the prophets did not make up their messages; they came from God. The Greek can bear both.
- 2PE 1:21 [NOTE] TEXT. The KJV says holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. Many old copies say men spoke from God.
- 2PE 2:1 [PROPHECY] There will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Lord who bought them… many will follow their destructive ways → HISTORY: False teachers soon spread, like the Gnostics Irenaeus wrote against about AD 180. Later Arius taught Jesus was a created being, and the Council of Nicaea rejected this in AD 325.
- 2PE 2:1 [NOTE] 2 PETER AND JUDE. 2:1 to 3:3 shares a lot with Jude 4 to 18: false teachers, angels, Sodom, Balaam, waterless springs and scoffers. Most scholars think Peter used Jude; some think Jude used Peter, or both used a common source. Peter leaves out Jude's quotes from 1 Enoch. THE MASTER WHO BOUGHT THEM. Arminians say this shows Christ died for everyone, even people who fall away. Calvinists say it describes how these teachers claimed to be bought, or echoes God buying Israel, Deuteronomy 32:6.
- 2PE 2:4 [DEMONIC] God did not spare the angels who sinned but cast them into chains of darkness
- 2PE 2:4 [NOTABLE] Peter and Jude both seem to know the story in 1 Enoch 6 to 16, where angels sinned with human women and were locked up until the judgment. Genesis 6 does not say this outright, but many Jews in their day believed it.
- 2PE 2:4 [NOTE] HELL. The Greek verb means sent to Tartarus, the only time it is used in the Bible. See What Hesiod Wrote. TEXT. Some copies say chains of darkness, others pits of darkness; the two Greek words look almost alike.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT HESIOD WROTE

Tartarus, About 700 BC

HESIOD, THEOGONY 713 TO 735 · 2 PETER 2:4 · JUDE 6

WHY THIS IS HERE

In 2:4 Peter says God cast the angels who sinned deep into hell. The Greek verb is tartaroo, to send to Tartarus. It is the only time this word appears in the Bible. Greek readers knew Tartarus from their oldest stories.

WHO HESIOD WAS

Hesiod was a Greek farmer and poet who lived about 700 BC, around the time of Isaiah. His poem the Theogony tells how the Greek gods were born and how Zeus beat the older gods, the Titans, and locked them away. He did not know the God of Israel.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is the whole passage, Theogony lines 713 to 735, in the English translation by Hugh Evelyn White, 1914. Cottus, Briareos and Gyes are giants with a hundred hands who fought for Zeus.

THEOGONY 713 TO 735

And amongst the foremost Cottus and Briareos and Gyes insatiate for war raised fierce fighting: three hundred rocks, one upon another, they launched from their strong hands and overshadowed the Titans with their missiles, and hurled them beneath the wide-pathed earth, and bound them in bitter chains when they had conquered them by their strength for all their great spirit, as far beneath the earth as heaven is above earth; for so far is it from earth to Tartarus. For a brazen anvil falling down from heaven nine nights and days would reach the earth upon the tenth: and again, a brazen anvil falling from earth nine nights and days would reach Tartarus upon the tenth. Round it runs a fence of bronze, and night spreads in triple line all about it like a neck-circlet, while above grow the roots of the earth and unfruitful sea. There by the counsel of Zeus who drives the clouds the Titan gods are hidden under misty gloom, in a dank place where are the ends of the huge earth. And they may not go out; for Poseidon fixed gates of bronze upon it, and a wall runs all round it on every side. There Gyes and Cottus and great-souled Obriareus live, trusty warders of Zeus who holds the aegis.

Why Peter Said Tartarus

2 PETER 2:4 · JUDE 6 · GENESIS 6:1 TO 4 · 1 ENOCH 20:2 · JOB 41:32

A FAMOUS PRISON

To Greeks, Tartarus was the deepest place there is, far below Hades, a locked prison for rebels against heaven, bound in chains and darkness. Homer says it lies as far below Hades as heaven is above the earth.

JEWS USED THE WORD TOO

Jews who spoke Greek borrowed it. The Greek Old Testament uses Tartarus in Job 41:32. The Greek text of 1 Enoch 20:2 says the angel Uriel is set over Tartarus. Josephus and Philo use the word as well.

THE ANGELS WHO SINNED

Peter and Jude 6 both say these angels are kept in chains of darkness until judgment, right before they mention Noah's flood. That matches 1 Enoch 6 to 16, where the angels of Genesis 6 are bound under the earth until the last day. See Spirits in Prison in 1 Peter, p.2017.

WHAT PETER MEANT

Peter is not saying the Greek myths were true. He uses a word his readers knew for the worst prison imaginable, the way we might say someone was sent to Alcatraz.

TARTARUS, HADES OR GEHENNA?

Many teachers say the Bible uses three different words. Hades is the place of the dead. Gehenna is the place of final punishment, Mark 9:43. Tartarus, here, is a holding prison for fallen angels until judgment. Others think the words overlap.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

Hesiod's Titans are not Peter's angels. The two stories share a picture of rebels locked in a dark prison, not a source.

12 These men are like irrational animals, creatures of instinct, born to be captured and destroyed. They blaspheme in matters they do not understand, and like such

THE HEART MIRACLES DEMONIC OLD TESTAMENT QUOTED IN THE NEW NOTABLE

creatures, they too will be destroyed. 13 The harm they will suffer is the wages of their wickedness.

They consider it a pleasure to carouse in broad daylight. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their deception as they feast with you. 14 Their eyes are full of adultery; their desire for sin is never satisfied; they seduce the unstable. They are accursed children with hearts trained in greed.

15 They have left the straight way and wandered off to follow the way of Balaam son of Beor, who loved the wages of wickedness. 16 But he was rebuked for his transgression by a donkey, otherwise without speech, that spoke with a man's voice and restrained the prophet's madness.

17 These men are springs without water and mists driven by a storm. Blackest darkness is reserved for them. 18 With lofty but empty words, they appeal to the sensual passions of the flesh and entice those who are just escaping from others who live in error. 19 They promise them freedom, while they themselves are slaves to depravity. For a man is a slave to whatever has mastered him.

20 If indeed they have escaped the corruption of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, only to be entangled and overcome by it again, their final condition is worse than it was at first. 21 It would have been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness than to have known it and then to turn away from the holy commandment passed on to them. 22 Of them the proverbs are true: "A dog returns to its vomit," and, "A sow that is washed goes back to her wallowing in the mud."

- 2PE 2:13 [NOTE] TEXT. Most copies say reveling in their deceptions. Some old copies say in their love feasts, like Jude 12; the two Greek words differ by one letter.
- 2PE 2:14 [HEART] False teachers have trained their hearts in greed, like an athlete in training.
- 2PE 2:15 [DEMONIC] Balaam son of Beor, the hired diviner, loved the wages of wickedness
- 2PE 2:16 [MIRACLE] Balaam's donkey spoke with a man's voice
- 2PE 2:19 [NOTABLE] False freedom is the worst kind of slavery.
- 2PE 2:20 [NOTABLE] Knowing the way and turning back is worse than never knowing it.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT AHIQAR SAID

The Washed Pig

THE STORY OF AHIQAR · 2 PETER 2:22 · PROVERBS 26:11 · TOBIT 1:21 TO 22

TWO PROVERBS

2:22 quotes two sayings. A dog returns to its vomit is Proverbs 26:11. A sow that is washed goes back to her wallowing in the mud is not in the Bible at all.

WHO AHIQAR WAS

The Story of Ahiqar is about a wise royal adviser in Assyria, under Sennacherib and Esarhaddon, about 700 to 670 BC. He adopts his nephew Nadan and trains him, but Nadan betrays him and has him sentenced to death. Ahiqar hides, is saved, and later scolds Nadan with a long string of sayings that begin, My son.

WHAT HE SAID

Here are Ahiqar's words to Nadan from the Syriac version of the story, in the English translation by J. Rendel Harris, The Story of Ahikar, second edition, Cambridge, 1913, page 125. Thou and thee are old English for you.

THE STORY OF AHIQAR, SYRIAC

My son, thou hast been to me like the swine that had been to the baths, and when it saw a muddy ditch, went down and washed in it, and cried to his companions, 'Come and wash.'

OTHER VERSIONS

The story was copied in many languages. The Armenian and Slavonic versions tell the same picture of a pig taken to the bath that goes right back to the mud.

WHO NOTICED

In his 1913 introduction Harris argued that this saying explains the second proverb in 2 Peter, so the sow that went to the bath.

IN THE BIBLE TOO

Ahiqar shows up by name in the book of Tobit, as Tobit's nephew who served the king of Assyria, Tobit 1:21 to 22 and 14:10.

- 2PE 2:22 [QUOTES] Direct ← PROV 26:11 p.1017

THE AHIQAR PAPYRUS

2 PETER 2:22 · TOBIT 1:21 TO 22 · JEREMIAH 44:1

Part of the Aramaic Story of Ahiqar on papyrus, from Elephantine, Egypt, 400s BC. Neues Museum, Berlin. Photo Osama Shukir Muhammed Amin, CC BY SA 4.0.

WHAT IT IS

Pieces of a papyrus scroll with the Story of Ahiqar and his sayings, written in Aramaic, the language Jesus spoke. It is the oldest copy of the story known.

HOW OLD IT IS

It was written in the late 400s BC. The scribe reused an older papyrus; under the story, an erased Egyptian customs list from about 475 BC can still be read.

WHERE IT WAS FOUND

On Elephantine, an island in the Nile in southern Egypt, dug up by German archaeologists from 1906 to 1908. It is now in Berlin.

WHO READ IT

Elephantine was home to a colony of Jewish soldiers serving the Persian king. They had their own temple to the God of Israel there. Their letters were found too, including one from about 407 BC asking for help to rebuild that temple. Jeremiah 44:1 speaks of Jews living in southern Egypt in his day.

WHAT IT SAYS

Ahiqar's story and wise sayings, like: Do not let a word go out of your mouth until you have weighed it. Some sayings sound like the book of Proverbs.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Jews were reading Ahiqar 500 years before Peter, so his sayings were well known among them. That helps explain how one of them ended up as a proverb in 2:22.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The washed pig saying is not on the surviving pieces of this old papyrus. It is known from later copies of the story, in Syriac, Armenian and other languages. Pigs going back to the mud was also a common picture; the Greek thinker Heraclitus said pigs delight in mud.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Scoffers ask, so where is He? Peter answers that with God a day is like a thousand years. He is not slow; He is patient, because He wants everyone to repent. The day will come like a thief, with fire, and then a new heaven and earth. Paul says the same, though some of his letters are hard to understand. Keep growing.

THE COMING JUDGMENT // GENESIS 7:1–24; JUDE 1:17–23

1 Beloved, this is now my second letter to you. Both of them are reminders to stir you to wholesome thinking 2 by recalling what was foretold by the holy prophets and commanded by our Lord and Savior through your apostles.

3 Most importantly, you must understand that in the last days scoffers will come, scoffing and following their own evil desires. 4 "Where is the promise of His coming?" they will ask. "Ever since our fathers fell asleep, everything continues as it has from the beginning of creation."

5 But they deliberately overlook the fact that long ago by God's word the heavens existed and the earth was formed out of water and by water, 6 through which the world of that time perished in the flood. 7
And by that same word, the present heavens and earth are reserved for fire, being kept for the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men.

- 2PE 3:1 [NOTE] SECOND LETTER. Most take the first letter to be 1 Peter.
- 2PE 3:3 [PROPHECY] In the last days scoffers will come, walking according to their own lusts... the heavens and the earth which are now preserved by the same word, are reserved for fire until the day of judgment → STILL TO COME

THE DAY OF THE LORD // ZEPHANIAH 1:7–18; MALACHI 4:1–6; 1 THESSALONIANS 5:1–11

8 Beloved, do not let this one thing escape your notice: With the Lord a day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years are like a day. 9 The Lord is not slow in keeping His promise as some understand slowness, but is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish but everyone to come to repentance.

10 But the Day of the Lord will come like a thief. The heavens will disappear with a roar, the elements will be destroyed by fire, and the earth and its works will be laid bare.

11 Since everything will be destroyed in this way, what kind of people ought you to be?
You ought to conduct yourselves in holiness and godliness 12 as you anticipate and hasten the coming of the day of God, when the heavens will be destroyed by fire and the elements will melt in the heat.
13 But in keeping with God's promise, we are looking forward to a new heaven and a new earth, where righteousness dwells.

FINAL EXHORTATIONS

14 Therefore, beloved, as you anticipate these things, make every effort to be found at peace—spotless and blameless in His sight.

15 Consider also that our Lord's patience brings salvation, just as our beloved brother Paul also wrote you with the wisdom God gave him. 16 He writes this way in all his letters, speaking in them about such matters. Some parts of his letters are hard to understand, which ignorant and unstable people distort, as they do the rest of the Scriptures, to their own destruction.

17 Therefore, beloved, since you already know these things, be on your guard so that you will not be carried away by the error of the lawless and fall from your secure standing. 18 But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To Him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity.

Amen.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

A DAY LIKE A THOUSAND YEARS

What Did Peter Mean?

2 PETER 3:8 TO 9 · PSALM 90:4 · GENESIS 2:17 · MATTHEW 24:36

WHAT PETER SAID

With the Lord a day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years are like a day, 3:8. He borrows Psalm 90:4, a prayer of Moses: a thousand years in Your sight are like yesterday when it passes. Then he explains: the Lord is not slow, but patient, 3:9.

THE HISTORY

Early Jews and Christians did a lot with this verse. The book of Jubilees, about 160 BC, and Justin Martyr, about AD 155, said Adam died at 930 within one day of a thousand years, so God's warning in Genesis 2:17 came true. The Letter of Barnabas, about AD 130, and Irenaeus, about AD 180, taught that the world would last six days of a thousand years

- 2PE 3:9 [ALLUDES TO] Refers to ← EZK 18:23; 33:11 p.1272
- 2PE 3:9 [NOTE] NOT WANTING ANYONE TO PERISH. Arminians say God wants every person saved and leaves the choice to them. Calvinists say anyone means any of you, God's people, or shows what God desires in general, not whom He chooses. Both agree God is patient and calls all to repent, Ezekiel 33:11.
- 2PE 3:10 [PROPHECY] The day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements will melt with fervent heat; both the earth and the works that are in it will be burned up... we look for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells → STILL TO COME
- 2PE 3:10 [NOTE] TEXT. The oldest copies say the earth and its works will be found, laid bare. Later copies and the KJV say burned up. See Will the Earth Burn?

- 2PE 3:15 [NOTE] PAUL IS SCRIPTURE. Peter puts Paul's letters next to the rest of the Scriptures, 3:16. They once clashed at Antioch, Galatians 2:11 to 14. Here Peter calls him our beloved brother.
- 2PE 3:18 [NOTABLE] The last words Peter ever wrote: keep growing.

each, then a seventh thousand year sabbath.

GOD IS PATIENT

Most teachers say Peter's point is simple: God does not watch the clock like we do. What feels like a long delay to us is nothing to Him, and He waits so more people can repent. Key verses: 3:9 and Psalm 90:2 to 4. Best case: it is the reason Peter himself gives in the next verse.

THE MILLENNIAL WEEK

Six thousand years of history, then a thousand year reign of Christ, Revelation 20:4. Best case: it is very old, held by Barnabas, Irenaeus and many after. Problem: every attempt to count the years to a date has failed, and Jesus said no one knows the day or hour, Matthew 24:36.

DAY AGE CREATION

Some use the verse to say the days of Genesis 1 could be long ages. Young earth teachers answer that Peter is talking about God's patience, not about creation, and that Genesis 1 counts evening and morning.

GOD OUTSIDE TIME

Augustine and many after him taught that God is not inside time at all. A day and a thousand years are the same to Him because He sees all of history at once.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Jesus is coming back. The delay is not God forgetting His promise; it is mercy. Nobody should set dates.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

WILL THE EARTH BURN?

Burned Up or Made New

2 PETER 3:7 TO 13 · ROMANS 8:19 TO 22 · REVELATION 21:1 TO 5 · 1 CORINTHIANS 3:13

WHAT PETER SAID

The present heavens and earth are reserved for fire, 3:7. The heavens will disappear with a roar, the elements will be destroyed by fire, and the earth and its works will be laid bare, 3:10. Then a new heaven and a new earth, where righteousness dwells, 3:13.

THE TEXT

The oldest full Bibles, Codex Sinaiticus and Vaticanus, say the earth and its works will be found, which this Bible says as laid bare. Later copies say will be burned up, and the KJV follows them. A few old translations even say will not be found. So one word changes the picture.

BURNED UP AND REPLACED

God will destroy this universe completely and create a brand new one. Some Lutheran teachers after the Reformation taught this, and many Christians today. Key verses: 3:10 to 12 in the KJV, Revelation 21:1, the first earth passed away. Best case: Peter's words are strong, destroyed and melt.

PURIFIED AND RENEWED

Fire will clean this world the way fire refines gold, 1 Peter 1:7, and God will make it new. Irenaeus said the form of this world passes away, not its substance. Calvin and many today agree. Key verses: Romans 8:21, creation itself set free; Acts 3:21, the restoration of all things; Revelation 21:5, I make all things new. Best case: Noah's world was washed by water, 3:6, not wiped from existence.

LAID BARE FOR JUDGMENT

Found or laid bare means every work on earth will be exposed before God, like fire testing each person's work, 1 Corinthians 3:13. Best case: it reads the oldest copies plainly and fits the next verse, what kind of people ought you to be?

PICTURE LANGUAGE

The prophets used falling stars and melting heavens as pictures of God's judgment, Isaiah 34:4. Some, called preterists, think it pointed to the fall of Jerusalem in AD 70. Most think it is still future.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Jesus will return, the world will be judged, and God's people will live in a new heaven and a new earth where righteousness is at home. So live holy now, 3:11.

BOOK 62 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · LETTER

1 JOHN

God Is Love

AUTHOR	John the apostle, the disciple Jesus loved, though the letter never names him. Some think John the Elder or a circle of John's followers wrote it.
WRITTEN FROM	Ephesus, where early writers say John spent his last years.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 85 to 95.
WRITTEN TO	Churches John cared for, probably around Ephesus in what is now Turkey. He calls them little children.
WHY HE WROTE	Teachers had left the church saying Jesus did not really come in the flesh. John writes so believers can know they have eternal life, 5:13.
KEY VERSE	1 John 4:8. Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love.

THE OLDEST COPY OF 1 JOHN
Papyrus 9, copied in the 200s and found at Oxyrhynchus, Egypt. The two sides of this small scrap hold parts of 1 John 4:11 to 12 and 4:14 to 17, the chapter that says God is love. Kept at Harvard University's Houghton Library. Public domain.

Historical Setting

John was the last of the twelve apostles still alive, an old man living in Ephesus, early writers say. A group of teachers had walked out of the churches, 2:19. They claimed special knowledge, acted like sin did not matter, and denied that Jesus the Christ had really come in a human body, 4:2 to 3. The people left behind were shaken. Were they really saved? John writes like a grandfather to his little children: here is how you can know.

What Was Going Wrong

THE WALKOUT. False teachers left the church and pulled others with them, 2:19 and 2:26.
ALL TALK. People said they knew God but did not obey Him, 2:4.
DENYING JESUS. They denied Jesus is the Christ come in the flesh, 2:22 and 4:3.
NO SIN. Some claimed they had no sin at all, 1:8 and 1:10.
HATE. Claiming to love God while hating a brother, 2:9 and 4:20.
THE WORLD. The pull of the flesh, the eyes and pride, 2:15 to 16.

The Idiot Proof Summary

1 John is a letter about being sure. John gives three tests of real faith: do you believe Jesus is the Christ who came in the flesh, do you obey Him, and do you love other believers? People who pass are not perfect; they confess their sins. But they belong to God. And at the center of it all is the shortest description of God in the Bible: God is love.

1 John at a Glance

CH 1 WALK IN THE LIGHT
Seen and touched, light and darkness, confess your sins.

CH 2 KNOW HIM, OBEY HIM
Our advocate, the new commandment, do not love the world, antichrists.

CH 3 CHILDREN OF THE FATHER
What manner of love, no peace with sin, Cain, love in action.

CH 4 LOVE ONE ANOTHER
Test the spirits, He first loved us, perfect love drives out fear.

CH 5 SO THAT YOU MAY KNOW
Faith overcomes, eternal life in the Son, prayer, keep away from idols.

Where Jesus Shows Up

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

NO NAME
John never names himself in this letter. Early Christians knew who wrote it by his voice and by tradition.

SOUNDS LIKE HIS GOSPEL
Light, life, love, truth, abide, little children: the same words fill the Gospel of John.

THE SHORTEST DEFINITION
Only this letter says it in these exact words, 4:8 and 4:16.

ANTICHRIST
John is the only Bible writer who uses the word antichrist.

THE MISSING WORDS
5:7 to 8 holds the most famous added words in the KJV. See The Big Question pages, p.2046.

What Happened Next?

Early writers say John lived in Ephesus until the time of the emperor Trajan, who began to rule in AD 98, and tradition says he was the only one of the twelve to die of old age. His disciple Polycarp quoted this letter; see What Polycarp Wrote. Centuries later a huge church was built over his traditional grave; see The Basilica of St John.

1

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

John starts like a witness in court: we heard Him, saw Him and touched Him. God is light, so walk in the light. And do not pretend you never sin. Confess it, and He forgives you and cleans you up. Simple, but not easy.

THE WORD OF LIFE // LUKE 24:36–49; JOHN 20:19–23

1 That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our own eyes, which we have gazed upon and touched with our own hands—this is the Word of life. 2 And this is the life that was revealed; we have seen it and testified to it, and we proclaim to you the eternal life that was with the Father and was revealed to us.

3 We proclaim to you what we have seen and heard, so that you also may have fellowship with us. And this fellowship of ours is with the Father and with His Son, Jesus Christ. 4 We write these things so that our joy may be complete.

WALKING IN THE LIGHT // JOHN 8:12–29

5 And this is the message we have heard from Him and announce to you: God is light, and in Him there is no darkness at all. 6 If we say we have fellowship with Him yet walk in the darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. 7 But if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus His Son cleanses us from all sin.

8 If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. 9 If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 10 If we say we have not sinned, we make Him out to be a liar, and His word is not in us.

WHAT IT IS

The ruins of one of the biggest churches of the ancient world, on a hill just outside old Ephesus. It was built in the shape of a cross over the place where Christians said the apostle John was buried.

HOW OLD IT IS

The emperor Justinian built this church about AD 548 to 565. It replaced a smaller church from the 300s over the same grave. Earthquakes and raids later wrecked it. Greek archaeologists began digging in 1921, and later work rebuilt some walls and columns, so not every column standing today is where it fell.

JOHN IN EPHESUS

Irenaeus, about AD 180, says John lived in Ephesus until the time of Trajan, AD 98 to 117. Polycrates, a bishop of Ephesus about AD 190, wrote that John sleeps at Ephesus. Eusebius quotes him.

TWO TOMBS?

About AD 250 Dionysius of Alexandria said people showed two tombs of a John at Ephesus. Some think one was John the apostle and one John the Elder, the name Papias used. Others think it was just two rival spots for the same man.

THE TOMB TODAY

Under the old altar a square of modern marble with four columns marks the traditional grave. No bones or inscription naming John have been found.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES DEMONIC NOTABLE

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

1 John was most likely written to the churches around Ephesus. John says, we have seen Him and touched Him, 1:1, and Christians in this city remembered the old man who said it.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The church proves Christians honored this spot as John's grave by the 300s. It cannot prove John is buried here.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Jesus speaks up for us when we blow it. Say you know Him? Then obey Him, and love your brother. Do not love the world and its stuff; it is all passing away. Many antichrists have already shown up, people who deny that Jesus is the Christ. Stay with what you heard from the beginning.

JESUS OUR ADVOCATE

1 My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you will not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate before the Father—Jesus Christ, the Righteous One. 2 He Himself is the atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not only for ours but also for the sins of the whole world.

3 By this we can be sure that we have come to know Him: if we keep His commandments. 4 If anyone says, "I know Him," but does not keep His commandments, he is a liar, and the truth is not in him. 5 But if anyone keeps His word, the love of God has been truly perfected in him. By this we know that we are in Him: 6 Whoever claims to abide in Him must walk as Jesus walked.

A NEW COMMANDMENT

7 Beloved, I am not writing to you a new commandment, but an old one, which you have had from the beginning. This commandment is the message you have heard. 8 Then again, I am also writing to you a new commandment, which is true in Him and also in you. For the darkness is fading and the true light is already shining.

9 If anyone claims to be in the light but hates his brother, he is still in the darkness. 10 Whoever loves his brother remains in the light, and there is no cause of stumbling in him. 11 But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness. He does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

12 I am writing to you, little children, because your sins have been forgiven through His name.

13 I am writing to you, fathers, because you know Him who is from the beginning.

I am writing to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one.

I have written to you, children, because you know the Father.

14 I have written to you, fathers, because you know Him who is from the beginning.

I have written to you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one.

DO NOT LOVE THE WORLD

15 Do not love the world or anything in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. 16 For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh, the desires of the eyes, and the pride of life—is not from the Father but from the world. 17 The world is passing away, along with its desires; but whoever does the will of God remains forever.

1JN 2:2 [NOTE] THE WHOLE WORLD. Atoning sacrifice, the KJV says propitiation, is the sacrifice that turns away God's anger and covers sin. Arminians say the whole world means every person. Calvinists say it means people from every nation, not only Jews, John 11:51 to 52, or that it is enough for all but applied to those who believe.

1JN 2:13 [DEMONIC] Young men, you have overcome the evil one 1JN 2:15 [NOTABLE] Three pulls of the world: the desires of the flesh, the desires of the eyes and the pride of life.

BEWARE OF ANTICHRISTS

18 Children, it is the last hour; and just as you have heard that the antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have appeared. This is how we know it is the last hour. 19 They went out from us, but they did not belong to us. For if they had belonged to us, they would have remained with us. But their departure made it clear that none of them belonged to us.

20 You, however, have an anointing from the Holy One, and all of you know the truth. 21 I have not written to you because you lack knowledge of the truth, but because you have it, and because no lie comes from the truth. 22 Who is the liar, if it is not the one who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, who denies the Father and the Son. 23 Whoever denies the Son does not have the Father, but whoever confesses the Son has the Father as well.

REMAIN IN CHRIST

24 As for you, let what you have heard from the beginning remain in you. If it does, you will also remain in the Son and in the Father. 25 And this is the promise that He Himself made to us: eternal life.

26 I have written these things to you about those who are trying to deceive you. 27
And as for you, the anointing you received from Him remains in you, and you do not need anyone to teach you. But just as His true and genuine anointing teaches you about all things, so remain in Him as you have been taught.

28 And now, little children, remain in Christ, so that when He appears, we may be confident and unashamed before Him at His coming.

29 If you know that He is righteous, you also know that everyone who practices righteousness has been born of Him.

3

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Look how much the Father loves us: we are His kids. His children do not make a hobby out of sin. Do not be like Cain, who killed his brother. Love is not just talk; it opens its wallet. And when your own heart beats you up, remember God is greater than your heart.

CHILDREN OF GOD

1 Behold what manner of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God. And that is what we are!
The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know Him. 2 Beloved, we are now children of God, and what we will be has not yet been revealed. We know that when Christ appears, we will be like Him, for we will see Him as He is. 3 And everyone who has this hope in Him purifies himself, just as Christ is pure.

4 Everyone who practices sin practices lawlessness as well. Indeed, sin is lawlessness. 5 But you know that Christ appeared to take away sins, and in Him there is no sin. 6 No one who remains in Him keeps on sinning. No one who continues to sin has seen Him or known Him.

7 Little children, let no one deceive you:
The one who practices righteousness is righteous, just as Christ is righteous. 8 The one who practices sin is of the devil, because the devil has been sinning from the very start. This is why the Son of God was revealed, to destroy the works of the devil.

THE HEART DEMONIC NOTABLE

9 Anyone born of God refuses to practice sin, because God's seed abides in him; he cannot go on sinning, because he has been born of God. 10 By this the children of God are distinguished from the children of the devil: Anyone who does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is anyone who does not love his brother.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER // JOHN 13:31–35; ROMANS 12:9–13

11 This is the message you have heard from the beginning: We should love one another. 12 Do not be like Cain, who belonged to the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did Cain slay him? Because his own deeds were evil, while those of his brother were righteous. 13 So do not be surprised, brothers, if the world hates you.

14 We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love our brothers. The one who does not love remains in death. 15 Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that eternal life does not reside in a murderer.

16 By this we know what love is: Jesus laid down His life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for our brothers. 17 If anyone with earthly possessions sees his brother in need, but withholds his compassion from him, how can the love of God abide in him?

18 Little children, let us love not in word and speech, but in action and truth. 19 And by this we will know that we belong to the truth, and will assure our hearts in His presence: 20 Even if our hearts condemn us, God is greater than our hearts, and He knows all things.

21 Beloved, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have confidence before God, 22 and we will receive from Him whatever we ask, because we keep His commandments and do what is pleasing in His sight. 23 And this is His commandment:
that we should believe in the name of His Son, Jesus Christ, and we should love one another just as He commanded us. 24 Whoever keeps His commandments remains in God, and God in him. And by this we know that He remains in us: by the Spirit He has given us.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

CAN A CHRISTIAN KEEP SINNING?

What Did John Mean?

1 JOHN 1:8 TO 10 · 2:1 · 3:6 TO 9 · 5:18 · ROMANS 7:15 TO 25

THE PUZZLE

John says if we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, 1:8, and if anyone does sin, we have an advocate, 2:1. Then he says no one born of God keeps on sinning, he cannot go on sinning, 3:6 and 3:9. How can both be true?

THE BACKGROUND

The false teachers seem to have said two things: some claimed they had no sin at all, and others said what you do in the body does not matter. John fights both.

THE TENSE

Most scholars point to the Greek present tense in 3:6 and 3:9: it means keep on sinning as a way of life, which is how this Bible translates it. A believer can fall into sin, but does not make peace with it. Best case: it fits 1:8 to 2:1 and the whole letter.

CHRISTIAN PERFECTION

John Wesley, in A Plain Account of Christian Perfection, 1766, taught that God can fill a believer with perfect love so that he no longer sins on purpose, though he still makes mistakes. The Holiness and many Pentecostal churches grew from this. Best case: it takes 3:9 at full strength and expects real change.

REFORMED AND LUTHERAN

Luther said a believer is at the same time righteous and a sinner. Sin stays in us 1JN 3:21 [HEART] A heart that does not condemn us gives confidence.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES DEMONIC NOTABLE

until death, Romans 7, but it no longer rules, Romans 6:14. Best case: it is honest about daily struggle and keeps grace central.

CATHOLIC AND ORTHODOX

There is sin that kills grace in the soul and lesser daily sin that does not, 5:16 to 17. Believers can grow in holiness by grace and the sacraments. Best case: it reads 1:9 and 5:16 to 17 together.

THE NEW NATURE

Some say John speaks of the new nature, God's seed, which cannot sin, while the old nature still can. Best case: it explains cannot in 3:9.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Christians still sin and must confess it, 1:9. But being born of God changes a person, and a life that happily keeps sinning is a warning sign, 3:10.

4

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

Test the spirits, because not every voice is from God. Greater is He who is in you. Then the big one: God is love. He loved us first and sent His Son, so we love each other. Perfect love drives out fear. You cannot love God and hate your brother.

TESTING THE SPIRITS

1 Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God. For many false prophets have gone out into the world. 2 By this you will know the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, 3 and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you have heard is coming and which is already in the world at this time.
4 You, little children, are from God and have overcome them, because greater is He who is in you than he who is in the world. 5 They are of the world. That is why they speak from the world's perspective, and the world listens to them. 6 We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. That is how we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of deception.

LOVE COMES FROM GOD

7 Beloved, let us love one another, because love comes from God. Everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. 8 Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love.

9 This is how God's love was revealed among us: God sent His one and only Son into the world, so that we might live through Him. 10 And love consists in this: not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son as the atoning sacrifice for our sins.

11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. 12 No one has ever seen God; but if we love one another, God remains in us, and His love is perfected in us. 13 By this we know that we remain in Him, and He in us: He has given us of His Spirit. 14 And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent His Son to be the Savior of the world.

15 If anyone confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. 16 And we have come to know and believe the love that God has for us. God is love; whoever abides in love abides in God, and God in him. 17 In this way, love has been perfected among us, so that we may have confidence on the day of judgment; for in this world we are just like Him.

18 There is no fear in love, but perfect love drives out fear, because fear involves punishment. The one who fears has not been perfected in love. 19 We love because He first loved us.

20 If anyone says, "I love God," but hates his brother, he is a liar. For anyone who does not love his brother, whom he has seen, cannot love God, whom he has not seen. 21 And we have this commandment

- 1JN 4:1 [DEMONIC] Test the spirits; greater is He who is in you

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Faith in Jesus overcomes the world, and John writes so you can know you have eternal life. Pray with confidence. Then one last line, like a dad at the door: little children, keep yourselves from idols.

OVERCOMING THE WORLD

1 Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father also loves those born of Him. 2 By this we know that we love the children of God: when we love God and keep His commandments. 3 For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments. And His commandments are not burdensome, 4 because everyone born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world: our faith.

5 Who then overcomes the world? Only he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God. 6 This is the One who came by water and blood, Jesus Christ—not by water alone, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit who testifies to this, because the Spirit is the truth. 7 For there are three that testify [in heaven: The Father, the Word, and the Holy Spirit; and these three are one. And there are three that testify on earth:] 8 the Spirit, the water, and the blood—and these three are in agreement.

GOD'S TESTIMONY ABOUT HIS SON

9 Even if we accept human testimony, the testimony of God is greater. For this is the testimony that God has given about His Son. 10 Whoever believes in the Son of God has this testimony within him; whoever does not believe God has made Him out to be a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has given about His Son.

11 And this is that testimony: God has given us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. 12 Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life.

EFFECTIVE PRAYER

13 I have written these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, so that you may know that you have eternal life. 14 And this is the confidence that we have before Him: If we ask anything according to His will, He hears us. 15 And if we know that He hears us in whatever we ask, we know that we already possess
what we have asked of Him.

16 If anyone sees his brother committing a sin not leading to death, he should ask God, who will give life to those who commit this kind of sin. There is a sin that leads to death; I am not saying he should ask regarding that sin. 17 All unrighteousness is sin, yet there is sin that does not lead to death.

THE TRUE GOD

18 We know that anyone born of God does not keep on sinning; the One who was born of God protects him, and the evil one cannot touch him. 19 We know that we are of God, and that the whole world is under the power of the evil one. 20 And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know Him who is true; and we are in Him who is true—in His Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

THE MISSING WORDS

Three That Testify in Heaven

1 JOHN 5:7 TO 8 · KJV · MATTHEW 28:19 · 2 CORINTHIANS 13:14

WHAT IT SAYS

The KJV reads: For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one. And there are three that bear witness in earth, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood. Most Bibles today print only: there are three that testify, the Spirit, the water and the blood. Scholars call the extra words the Johannine Comma. Comma here means a short phrase.

THE GREEK COPIES

There are more than 500 Greek copies of 1 John. The extra words are in fewer than ten, all made after about AD 1300, and in several they are only written in the margin. None of the old Greek Bibles, like Sinaiticus, Vaticanus or Alexandrinus, has them.

THE CHURCH FATHERS

In the 300s, when the church argued fiercely about the Trinity, no Greek writer ever quoted these words, though they would have been perfect proof.

THE LATIN TRAIL

The words first appear in Latin. A Spanish writer, Priscillian, has a form of them about AD 380. Augustine read the Spirit, the water and the blood as a picture of the Trinity, and a note like that seems to have slipped from the margin into the text. The oldest Latin Vulgate copies, from the 500s and 700s, do not have them; many later ones do.

ERASMUS

In 1516 Erasmus printed the first Greek New Testament, without the words. Critics attacked him. Then a Greek copy that had them turned up in England, now called Codex Montfortianus, made about 1520. Erasmus added the words in his third edition, 1522, while writing that he suspected the copy was made to fit the Latin.

INTO THE KJV

Later Greek editions kept the words, and the KJV translators of 1611 followed them. In 1897 the Catholic Church's Holy Office said Catholics could not deny the words were genuine; in 1927 it allowed scholars to study the question freely.

IN THIS BIBLE

This Bible prints the words in [brackets], the way it marks every passage missing from the oldest copies. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

1 JOHN 5:6 TO 9 · MATTHEW 28:19 · JOHN 1:1 · ACTS 5:3 TO 4

A LATER ADDITION

Almost all scholars, Protestant and Catholic, say John did not write these words. Best case: no early Greek copy, no early translation outside Latin, and no Greek church father has them, even when they needed them most.

JOHN WROTE THEM

Some defenders of the KJV say the words are original and were lost by accident or removed by heretics who denied the Trinity. They point to the grammar of verse 8: three is masculine in Greek though Spirit, water and blood are not, which they say fits better if the Father, the Word and the Spirit came first. Best case: the grammar question is real, and the words are very old in Latin.

A PREACHER'S NOTE

Many think a Latin reader wrote a note in the margin explaining the three witnesses as the Trinity, and a later copyist put it into the text. Best case: it explains where the words came from and why they show up first in Latin.

WHAT IT DOES NOT CHANGE

The Trinity does not depend on this verse. The Father, Son and Spirit are named together in Matthew 28:19 and 2 Corinthians 13:14; the Word is God in John 1:1; the Spirit is God in Acts 5:3 to 4. The church taught the Trinity for over a thousand years before Erasmus printed these words in Greek.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

God gives testimony about His Son, 5:9, and whoever has the Son has life, 5:12. That is John's point in this chapter, with or without the bracketed words.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

THE SIN THAT LEADS TO DEATH

What Is It?

1 JOHN 5:16 TO 17 · MARK 3:28 TO 29 · HEBREWS 6:4 TO 6 · 1 CORINTHIANS 11:30

WHAT JOHN SAID

There is a sin that leads to death; I am not saying he should ask regarding that sin. All unrighteousness is sin, yet there is sin that does not lead to death, 5:16 to 17. John never names it. His readers must have known.

PHYSICAL DEATH

Some believers sinned so badly that God took their life as discipline, like Ananias and Sapphira, Acts 5:1 to 11, and those who abused the Lord's Supper, 1 Corinthians 11:30. Best case: brother in 5:16 suggests a believer, and death can mean the body.

WALKING AWAY FROM JESUS

The false teachers in this letter denied that Jesus is the Christ and left the church, 2:19 and 2:22. Rejecting Jesus for good leads to eternal death. Best case: it fits the whole letter's fight. Compare Hebrews 6:4 to 6, see the Hebrews pages, p.1983.

BLASPHEMY AGAINST THE SPIRIT

Jesus said one sin will never be forgiven, Mark 3:28 to 29. Some think John means the same thing. Best case: both speak of a sin beyond prayer.

MORTAL AND VENIAL SIN

The Catholic Church teaches that a grave sin done with full knowledge and consent is mortal, killing the life of grace, while lesser sins are venial, Catechism 1854 to 1864, which cites these verses. Mortal sin can still be forgiven through repentance and confession. Best case: it takes John's two kinds of sin at face value.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Tertullian, about AD 210, used this verse to say some sins, like idolatry, murder and adultery, could not be forgiven by the church. Most other churches disagreed and welcomed sinners back after repentance.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Every sin is serious, 5:17. Christians should pray for each other, and God gives life when they do, 5:16. Anyone worried that they committed the sin that leads to death is showing a tender heart, which is a good sign.

POLYCARP, TO THE PHILIPPIANS 7 · 1 JOHN 4:2 TO 3 · 2 JOHN 7

WHO POLYCARP WAS

Polycarp was bishop of Smyrna, a city near Ephesus. His student Irenaeus says Polycarp was taught by apostles and knew John. He was burned alive about AD 155, at 86 years old, after saying he had served Christ 86 years and would not deny Him.

HIS LETTER

Polycarp wrote to the church at Philippi, in Greece, about AD 110 to 135. In chapter 7 he warns against false teachers using words that come straight from 1 John 4:2 to 3 and 2 John 7. It is the oldest quote of 1 John that we have.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is the whole of chapter 7, in the English translation by J. B. Lightfoot, 1891.

TO THE PHILIPPIANS 7

For every one who shall not confess that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is antichrist: and whosoever shall not confess the testimony of the Cross, is of the devil; and whosoever shall pervert the oracles of the Lord to his own lusts and say that there is neither resurrection nor judgment, that man is the first-born of Satan. Wherefore let us forsake the vain doing of the many and their false teachings, and turn unto the word which was delivered unto us from the beginning, being sober unto prayer and constant in fastings, entreating the all-seeing God with supplications that He bring us not into temptation, according as the Lord said, The Spirit is indeed willing, but the flesh is weak.

COMPARE
Every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, 1 John 4:2 to 3.

John and Cerinthus

IRENAEUS, AGAINST HERESIES 3.3.4 · 1 JOHN 2:19 · 2 JOHN 10 TO 11

WHO IRENAEUS WAS
Irenaeus grew up in Smyrna, where as a boy he heard Polycarp teach. Later he became bishop of Lyons in France. About AD 180 he wrote Against Heresies, a long book against the false teachers of his day.

WHAT HE WROTE
Here is the whole passage, book 3, chapter 3, section 4, in the English translation by Alexander Roberts and William Rambaut, Ante Nicene Fathers, 1885. Words in [square brackets] were added by the translators.

AGAINST HERESIES 3.3.4
But Polycarp also was not only instructed by apostles, and conversed with many who had seen Christ, but was also, by apostles in Asia, appointed bishop of the Church in Smyrna, whom I also saw in my early youth, for he tarried [on earth] a very long time, and, when a very old man, gloriously and most nobly suffering martyrdom, departed this life, having always taught the things which he had learned from the apostles, and which the Church has handed down, and which alone are true. To these things all the Asiatic Churches testify, as do also those men who have succeeded Polycarp down to the present time,—a man who was of much greater weight, and a more stedfast witness of truth, than Valentinus, and Marcion, and the rest of the heretics. He it was who, coming to Rome in the time of Anicetus caused many to turn away from the aforesaid heretics to the Church of God, proclaiming that he had received this one and sole truth from the apostles,—that, namely, which is handed down by the Church. There are also those who heard from him that John, the disciple of the Lord, going to bathe at Ephesus, and perceiving Cerinthus within, rushed out of the bath-house without bathing, exclaiming, "Let us fly, lest even the bath-house fall down, because Cerinthus, the enemy of the truth, is within." And Polycarp himself replied to Marcion, who met him on one occasion, and said, "Dost thou know me?" "I do know thee, the first-born of Satan." Such was the horror which the apostles and their disciples had against holding even verbal communication with any corrupters of the truth; as Paul also says, "A man that is an heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject; knowing that he that is such is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself." There is also a very powerful Epistle of Polycarp written to the Philippians, from which those who choose to do so, and are anxious about their salvation, can learn the character of his faith, and the preaching of the truth. Then, again, the Church in Ephesus, founded by Paul, and having John remaining among them permanently until the times of Trajan, is a true witness of the tradition of the apostles.

The Fake Jesus

1 JOHN 2:22 · 4:2 TO 3 · 5:6 · 2 JOHN 7

A CHAIN OF WITNESSES
John taught Polycarp, and Polycarp taught Irenaeus. So Irenaeus is only two steps from the apostle who wrote this letter.

WHO CERINTHUS WAS
Irenaeus says Cerinthus taught that Jesus was just a man, the son of Joseph and Mary, that the Christ came down on Him like a dove at His baptism, and that the Christ left Him before the cross, so only the man Jesus died and rose, Against Heresies 1.26.1.

JOHN'S ANSWER
That sounds like the teachers John fights: they denied that Jesus is the Christ, 2:22, and that Jesus Christ came in the flesh, 4:2. John insists He came not by water only, His baptism, but by water and blood, His death, 5:6.

SEEN AND TOUCHED
Others, later called Docetists, from the Greek word for to seem, said Jesus only seemed to have a body. John opens the letter with we have seen Him and touched Him, 1:1.

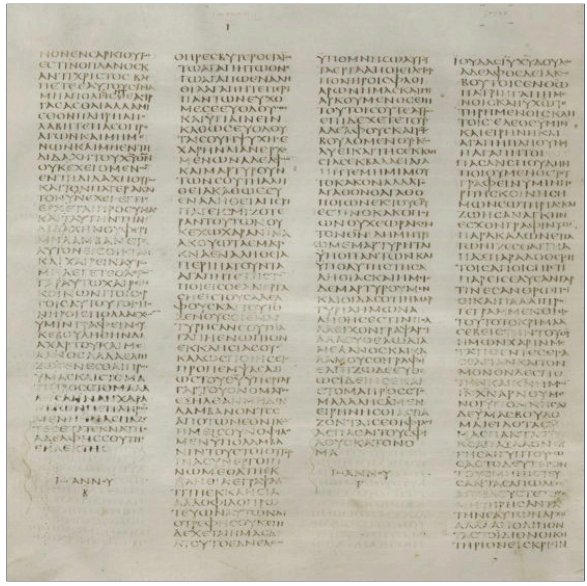
THE BATHHOUSE STORY

Irenaeus heard it from people who heard it from Polycarp, so it is secondhand. Many scholars think it is true to John's character; some think it grew in the telling. Either way it matches 2 John 10 to 11: do not welcome false teachers.

FIRST BORN OF SATAN

Polycarp used the same words for false teachers in his letter, chapter 7, and Irenaeus says he called Marcion that to his face. It is strong language, borrowed from John: the one who practices sin is of the devil, 1 John 3:8.

WHY IT MATTERS



Within a lifetime of John, his student was quoting his letter and his student's student was telling stories about him. 1 John was known and used very early.

Truth and Love

AUTHOR	He calls himself the elder. Most of the early church said John the apostle. A few think it was John the Elder, a man Papias names; see What Papias Wrote.
WRITTEN FROM	Probably Ephesus, where early writers say John spent his last years.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 85 to 95, around the same time as 1 John.
WRITTEN TO	The chosen lady and her children. Most think that means a church and its members. Some think it was a real woman and her family.
WHY HE WROTE	Traveling teachers were spreading a Jesus who did not really come in the flesh. John says keep loving, but do not give them a home base, verses 7 to 11.
KEY VERSE	2 John 1:6. And this is love, that we walk according to His commandments.

2 JOHN IN CODEX SINAITICUS
Codex Sinaiticus, copied about AD 330 to 360. The first column picks up in verse 7, at the words in the flesh: this is the deceiver and the antichrist, and runs to the end of 2 John. Then come all of 3 John and the start of Jude. An even older piece exists: a small parchment leaf called 0232, from about AD 300, with verses 1 to 9. Kept at the British Library, London. Public domain.

Historical Setting

In the first century Christian teachers traveled from town to town, and churches met in homes. A traveling teacher needed a bed, a meal and a room full of people to listen. That was a good system until the wrong teachers showed up. Some had walked out of John's churches, 1 John 2:19, and were going around saying Jesus the Christ did not really come in a human body. John sends this short note ahead of a visit, like a phone call before he drives over: keep loving each other, but do not hand your living room to a fake Jesus.

What Was Going Wrong

DECEIVERS. Many had gone out into the world denying Jesus Christ came in the flesh, verse 7.
RUNNING AHEAD. Some claimed to move past the teaching of Christ into something newer, verse 9.
OPEN DOORS. House churches could end up hosting and funding false teachers, verses 10 to 11.
LOSING GROUND. Believers could lose what they had worked for, verse 8.

The Idiot Proof Summary

2 John is the shortest book in the Bible by verse count, 13 verses, and it fits on one sheet of papyrus. It holds two things together that people usually pull apart: truth and love. Love without truth opens the door to anyone. Truth without love slams the door on everyone. John wants a church that loves one another and also knows who Jesus really is.

THE SHORTEST
13 verses, the fewest of any book. 3 John has more verses but fewer Greek words.
TRUTH FIVE TIMES
The word truth shows up five times in the first four verses.

A LETTER TO A LADY?
It may be the only New Testament letter written to a woman, unless the lady is a church.

PAPER AND INK
Verse 12 is the only place the New Testament mentions paper. See Paper and Ink.

TWIN LETTER
2 John 7 sounds almost exactly like 1 John 4:2 to 3.

What Happened Next?

Little letters were easy to lose. In the 300s Eusebius still listed 2 and 3 John among the books some churches questioned, but they were widely accepted, and in AD 367 Athanasius listed both in his list of the 27 New Testament books. About AD 180 Irenaeus quoted verses 7 and 8 against the false teachers of his own day; see What Irenaeus Wrote.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

The elder writes to a chosen lady and her children. He is thrilled that some of them walk in the truth. His one request is old news: love one another, and love means obeying what He commands. Then a warning: deceivers deny that Jesus Christ came in the flesh. Do not run ahead of the teaching of Christ, and do not open your home to men who spread a fake Jesus. He has more to say, but he would rather say it face to face.

A GREETING FROM THE ELDER // 3 JOHN 1:1–4

1 The elder,

To the chosen lady and her children,
whom I love in the truth—and not I alone, but also all who know the truth— 2 because of the truth that abides in us and will be with us forever:

3 Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, will be with us in truth and love.

WALKING IN THE TRUTH // JOHN 8:30–47

4 I was overjoyed to find some of your children walking in the truth, just as the Father has commanded us. 5 And now I urge you, dear lady—not as a new commandment to you, but one we have had from the beginning—that we love one another. 6 And this is love, that we walk according to His commandments. This is the very commandment you have heard from the beginning, that you must walk in love.

BEWARE OF DECEIVERS

7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, refusing to confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Any such person is the deceiver and the antichrist. 8 Watch yourselves, so that you do not lose what we have worked for, but that you may be fully rewarded. 9 Anyone who runs ahead without remaining in the teaching of Christ does not have God. Whoever remains in His teaching has both the Father and the Son.

10 If anyone comes to you but does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your home or even greet him. 11 Whoever greets such a person shares in his evil deeds.

CONCLUSION // 3 JOHN 1:13–14

12 I have many things to write to you, but I would prefer not to do so with paper and ink. Instead, I hope to come and speak with you face to face, so that our joy may be complete.

13 The children of your elect sister send you greetings.

inkwell is from the first or second century AD, the century of John's letters.

PAPER

The Greek word in verse 12 is chartes, a sheet of papyrus. Strips of the papyrus reed from the Nile were laid in two layers, pressed and dried into a sheet. A whole letter like 2 John fit on one sheet.

INK

The Greek word is melan, black. Ink was soot mixed with gum and water. It could be washed off with a wet sponge, so a scribe could fix mistakes.

PEN

3 John 13 says pen and ink. The Greek for pen is kalamos, a reed. It is the same word used for the reed the soldiers put in Jesus' hand, Matthew 27:29.

WHO HELD THE PEN

Paul often used a scribe and signed at the end, Romans 16:22 and Galatians 6:11. John may have done the same.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

John says, I have much to tell you, but I would rather not use paper and ink. Instead, face to face, verse 12. Even the man tradition says wrote five books of the Bible preferred to talk in person.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT PAPIAS WROTE

The Elder John

EUSEBIUS, CHURCH HISTORY 3.39.3 TO 7 · 2 JOHN 1:1 · 3 JOHN 1:1

WHO PAPIAS WAS

Papias was bishop of Hierapolis, near Colossae in what is now Turkey. About AD 110 to 130 he wrote five books called Explanations of the Sayings of the Lord. They are lost. We only have bits that later writers copied.

WHO KEPT HIS WORDS

Eusebius, bishop of Caesarea, wrote his Church History in the early 300s. He copied part of Papias's preface and then gave his own opinion about it.

WHAT THEY WROTE

Here is the whole passage, book 3, chapter 39, sections 3 to 7, in the English translation by Arthur Cushman McGiffert, 1890. The quote marks hold Papias's own words. After that, Eusebius is speaking.

CHURCH HISTORY 3.39.3 TO 7

He says: "But I shall not hesitate also to put down for you along with my interpretations whatsoever things I have at any time learned carefully from the elders and carefully remembered, guaranteeing their truth. For I did not, like the multitude, take pleasure in those that speak much, but in those that teach the truth; not in those that relate strange commandments, but in those that deliver the commandments given by the Lord to faith, and springing from the truth itself. If, then, any one came, who had been a follower of the elders, I questioned him in regard to the words of the elders,—what Andrew or what Peter said, or what was said by Philip, or by Thomas, or by James, or by John, or by Matthew, or by any other of the disciples of the Lord, and what things Aristion and the presbyter John, the disciples of the Lord, say. For I did not think that what was to be gotten from the books would profit me as much as what came from the living and abiding voice." It is worth while observing here that the name John is twice enumerated by him. The first one he mentions in connection with Peter and James and Matthew and the rest of the apostles, clearly meaning the evangelist; but the other John he mentions after an interval, and places him among others outside of the number of the apostles, putting Aristion before him, and he distinctly calls him a presbyter. This shows that the statement of those is true, who say that there were two persons in Asia that bore the same name, and that there were two tombs in Ephesus, each of which, even to the present day, is called John's. It is important to notice this. For it is probable that it was the second, if one is not willing to admit that it was the first that saw the Revelation, which is ascribed by name to John. And Papias, of whom we are now speaking, confesses that he received the words of the apostles from those that followed them, but says that he was himself a hearer of Aristion and the presbyter John. At least he mentions them frequently by name, and gives their traditions in his writings. These things we hope, have not been uselessly adduced by us.

One John or Two?

2 JOHN 1:1 · 3 JOHN 1:1 · 1 PETER 5:1 · JOHN 21:24

THE SAME WORD

Presbyter is the Greek word presbyteros, an elder. It is the word John uses for himself in 2 John 1:1 and 3 John 1:1: the elder.

TWO JOHNS?

Papias names John twice: once with Peter, James and Matthew, and once as the presbyter John, with Aristion. Eusebius says that means two different men named John lived in Asia.

ONE JOHN

Many scholars think Papias meant the same man both times: John the apostle, who was also an elder. Peter called himself a fellow elder, 1 Peter 5:1. Irenaeus, about AD 180, said Papias heard John and was a friend of Polycarp, Against Heresies 5.33.4, and he never mentions a second John.

WHY EUSEBIUS CARED

Eusebius had doubts about the book of Revelation. A second John gave him someone else to credit it to. He says so: it was probably the second John who saw the Revelation, if not the first.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR 2 JOHN

Most Christians through history have read the elder as John the apostle, an old man writing to churches he loved. Some modern scholars think the elder was Papias's presbyter John. Either way the letter was written by a leader who knew the eyewitnesses.

WHY IT MATTERS

Papias shows that around AD 100 Christians wanted the living voice of men who had walked with Jesus, and that the title the elder belonged to one of them.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT IRENAEUS WROTE

The Oldest Quote of 2 John

IRENAEUS, AGAINST HERESIES 3.16.8 · 2 JOHN 1:7 TO 8 · 1 JOHN 4:1 TO 3

WHO IRENAEUS WAS

Irenaeus heard Polycarp, John's student, teach when he was a boy in Smyrna. Later he was bishop of Lyons in France. About AD 180 he wrote Against Heresies.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is the whole of book 3, chapter 16, section 8, in the English translation by Alexander Roberts and William Rambaut, Ante Nicene Fathers, 1885. Words in [square brackets] were added by the translators.

AGAINST HERESIES 3.16.8

All, therefore, are outside of the [Christian] dispensation, who, under pretext of knowledge, understand that Jesus was one, and Christ another, and the Only-begotten another, from whom again is the Word, and that the Saviour is another, whom these disciples of error allege to be a production of those who were made Æons in a state of degeneracy. Such men are to outward appearance sheep; for they appear to be like us, by what they say in public, repeating the same words as we do; but inwardly they are wolves. Their doctrine is homicidal, conjuring up, as it does, a number of gods, and simulating many Fathers, but lowering and dividing the Son of God in many ways. These are they against whom the Lord has cautioned us beforehand; and His disciple, in his Epistle already mentioned, commands us to avoid them, when he says: "For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist. Take heed to them, that ye lose not what ye have wrought." And again does he say in the Epistle: "Many false prophets are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God; and every spirit which separates Jesus Christ is not of God, but is of antichrist." These words agree with what was said in the Gospel, that "the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us." Wherefore he again exclaims in his Epistle, "Every one that believeth that Jesus is the Christ, has been born of God;" knowing Jesus Christ to be one and the same, to whom the gates of heaven were opened, because of His taking upon Him flesh: who shall also come in the same flesh in which He suffered, revealing the glory of the Father.

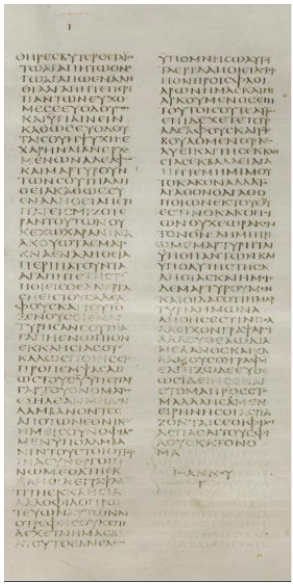
WHAT IT TELLS US



His disciple means John, the disciple of the Lord. The first quote is 2 John 7 to 8, and the next is 1 John 4:1 to 3. Irenaeus calls both the Epistle, so he may have thought of them as one letter, or just not kept them apart. Either way, about 90 years after John wrote, 2 John was being quoted as Scripture against the same kind of fake Jesus.

3 JOHN

Walking in the Truth

AUTHOR	The elder, the same writer as 2 John. Most of the early church said John the apostle; some think John the Elder of Papias. See What Papias Wrote in 2 John.
WRITTEN FROM	Probably Ephesus, near the end of the first century.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 85 to 95, around the same time as 1 and 2 John.
WRITTEN TO	Gaius, a believer John loved, probably a leader with a home open to travelers. Nothing else is known about him for sure.
WHY HE WROTE	To thank Gaius for hosting missionaries, to deal with Diotrephes, who refused them, and to recommend Demetrius.
KEY VERSE	3 John 1:4. I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are walking in the truth.

3 JOHN IN CODEX SINAITICUS
Codex Sinaiticus, copied about AD 330 to 360. These two columns hold all of 3 John, from The elder, to Gaius at the top to the words Ioannou G at the bottom, meaning John's third letter. Kept at the British Library, London. Public domain.

THE OLDEST COPIES. 3 John is the shortest book in the Bible, so it rarely shows up on old scraps. The oldest copies are the two great Bibles of the 300s, Codex Sinaiticus, shown here, and Codex Vaticanus. Codex Alexandrinus follows in the 400s.

HOW IT WAS FOUND. Constantin von Tischendorf found Codex Sinaiticus at St. Catherine's Monastery at the foot of Mount Sinai in 1844 and 1859. In 1933 the British Museum bought most of it from the Soviet government for 100,000 pounds.

SLOW TO BE ACCEPTED. About AD 325 Eusebius listed 2 and 3 John among the books some still questioned, though most churches used them (Church History 3.25). The old Syriac Bible, the Peshitta, about AD 400, left out 2 and 3 John, 2 Peter, Jude and Revelation.

Historical Setting

2 John told a church not to host false teachers. 3 John is the other side of the coin: host the true ones. Missionaries went from town to town living on the kindness of believers, because they would not take money from pagans, verse 7. Gaius opened his home. But in one church a man named Diotrephes had taken charge. He would not read John's letter to the church, he spread rumors about John, and he threw out anyone who welcomed the traveling brothers. So the old apostle writes a personal note to his friend: you are doing it right, Diotrephes is not, and I am coming.

What Was Going Wrong

A CHURCH BOSS. Diotrephes loved to be first and would not accept John's letter, verse 9.
GOSSIP. He spread wicked talk about John and the others, verse 10.
CLOSED DOORS. He refused to welcome the missionaries and stopped others from doing it, verse 10.
KICKED OUT. He put out of the church anyone who helped them, verse 10.

The Idiot Proof Summary

3 John is a short thank you note with a warning inside. It shows the church at ground level: real names, a guest room, a power trip, and an old pastor who just wants his kids to keep walking in the truth. It also gives the Bible's clearest word on supporting missionaries: when you send them and pay their way, you become fellow workers for the truth.

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

The elder writes to his friend Gaius and prays he is doing as well in body as he is in soul. Gaius has been taking in traveling missionaries, and John says keep it up: helping them makes you part of the work. Then there is Diotrephes, a church boss who loves to be first, trashes John, turns the missionaries away and kicks out anyone who helps them. John says copy what is good, not what is evil, puts in a good word for Demetrius, and saves the rest for a face to face talk.

A GREETING FROM THE ELDER // 2 JOHN 1:1–3

1 The elder,

To the beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth:

2 Beloved, I pray that in every way you may prosper and enjoy good health, as your soul also prospers. 3 For I was overjoyed when the brothers came and testified about your devotion to the truth, in which you continue to walk. 4 I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are walking in the truth.

GAIUS COMMENDED FOR HOSPITALITY

5 Beloved, you are faithful in what you are doing for the brothers, and especially since they are strangers to you. 6 They have testified to the church about your love. You will do well to send them on their way in a manner worthy of God. 7 For they went out on behalf of the Name, accepting nothing from the Gentiles. 8 Therefore we ought to support such men, so that we may be fellow workers for the truth.

DIOTREPHES AND DEMETRIUS

9 I have written to the church about this, but Diotrephes, who loves to be first, will not accept our instruction. 10 So if I come, I will call attention to his malicious slander against us. And unsatisfied with that, he refuses to welcome the brothers and forbids those who want to do so, even putting them out of the church.

11 Beloved, do not imitate what is evil, but what is good. The one who does good is of God; the one who does evil has not seen God.

12 Demetrius has received a good testimony from everyone, and from the truth itself. We also testify for him, and you know that our testimony is true.

CONCLUSION // 2 JOHN 1:12–13

13 I have many things to write to you, but I would prefer not to do so with pen and ink. 14 Instead, I hope to see you soon and speak with you face to face.

Peace to you.

The friends here send you greetings.

Greet each of our friends there by name.

Corinthians 16:2. Be in health is hygiaino, the word our hygiene comes from.

AN EVERYDAY GREETING

Hundreds of private letters on papyrus from Roman Egypt open with almost the same line: a prayer that the reader is well. Many scholars think John is using that normal greeting, warmed up with as your soul prospers.

THE EARLY CHURCH

In the early church many believers were poor or persecuted, and wealth was more often seen as a danger than a goal, 1 Timothy 6:9 to 10.

THE 1900S

E. W. Kenyon, who died in 1948, taught that believers can speak faith into reality. In the late 1940s Oral Roberts said his Bible fell open to 3 John 2, and the verse became the heart of his ministry. He taught seed faith: give to God, and expect Him to multiply it back.

WORD OF FAITH

Kenneth Hagin, who opened Rhema Bible Training Center in 1974, and Kenneth Copeland spread the teaching that health and wealth are every believer's right, received by faith and spoken confession. It grew huge on Christian TV, then worldwide.

PUSHBACK

Gordon Fee, a Pentecostal scholar and Assemblies of God minister, wrote The Disease of the Health and Wealth Gospels in 1985. In 2008 and 2009 an African working group of the Lausanne Movement, meeting in Akropong, Ghana, called its strongest forms a false gospel.

TODAY

Pew Research surveys in 2006, in ten countries across Africa, Latin America, Asia and the United States, found that belief in God's promise of health and prosperity is very common among Pentecostals and charismatics.

Is 3 John 2 a Promise?

3 JOHN 1:2 · ISAIAH 53:5 · PHILIPPIANS 4:11 TO 13 · 2 CORINTHIANS 12:7 TO 10

VIEW 1: HEALTH AND WEALTH FOR EVERY BELIEVER

Word of Faith and many prosperity teachers. God wants you well and well off; poverty and sickness are part of the curse Jesus broke. Key verses: 3 John 2; Deuteronomy 8:18, He gives you power to get wealth; Malachi 3:10; Mark 10:29 to 30; 2 Corinthians 8:9, He became poor so you might become rich; Isaiah 53:5, by His stripes we are healed. Best case: God is a good Father, and the Bible is full of blessing on the obedient.

VIEW 2: BLESSING, BUT NO GUARANTEE

Many Pentecostals, charismatics and other believers. It is right to pray for health and success, and God often answers, but He does not owe it. Key verses: 3 John 2; Proverbs 30:8 to 9, neither poverty nor riches; Philippians 4:11 to 13, content in plenty and in want; James 5:14 to 15. Best case: it keeps both the prayer and the cross.

VIEW 3: A GREETING, NOT A PROMISE

Most Bible scholars and many church traditions. John is wishing a friend well, like letters of his day did. Turning it into a law for everyone reads too much in. Key verses: Paul was sick, Galatians 4:13; he left Trophimus sick, 2 Timothy 4:20; Timothy had a weak stomach, 1 Timothy 5:23; the thorn, 2 Corinthians 12:7 to 10; godliness is not a means of gain, 1 Timothy 6:5 to 10; believers who were poor and suffered, Hebrews 11:36 to 38. Best case: it fits the plain grammar and the whole Bible.

THE TENT MAKER ANGLE

Paul worked with his hands so he would not be a burden, Acts 18:3 and 2 Thessalonians 3:8, and he also said workers in the gospel deserve support, 1 Corinthians 9:14. Hard work and giving are both in the Bible; giving as a way to get rich is the part that is argued.

WHAT ALL AGREE ON

God cares about the whole person, body and soul. It is good to pray for a friend's health and success. John puts the soul first: as your soul prospers. Nobody has to buy a blessing.

FIELD NOTES

DIOTREPHES

Who Loves to Be First

3 JOHN 1:9 TO 11 · MARK 10:42 TO 45 · 1 PETER 5:2 TO 3

WHO HE WAS

A leader in a church John knew, maybe the man whose house the church met in. He is named only here. His name means raised by Zeus, a rare name found in some noble Greek families, so he may have been a man of money and standing.

LOVES TO BE FIRST

The Greek is one word, philoproteuon, first loving. It shows up nowhere else in the New Testament. Jesus said whoever wants to be first must be slave of all, Mark 10:44.

WHAT HE DID

He would not accept John's letter, he spread wicked talk about John, he refused to take in the traveling brothers, and he threw out the people who did, verses 9 to 10. That is four sins in two verses.

WHY DID HE DO IT?

Most readers think it was plain pride and control. In 1897 the historian Adolf von Harnack suggested Diotrephes was one of the first single bishops in charge of a city, pushing back against outside missionaries. In 1951 Ernst Kasemann turned it around and said Diotrephes thought the elder was the troublemaker. Neither idea can be proved; the letter gives only John's side.

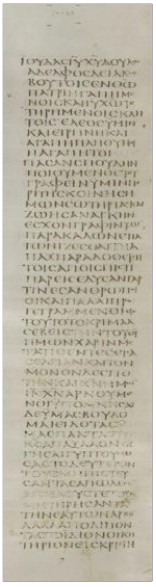
JOHN'S PLAN

No secret meeting and no new rule. If I come, I will bring up what he is doing, verse 10, in the open, before the church.

GAIUS AND DEMETRIUS

Gaius was a very common Roman name; there are three other men named Gaius in the New Testament, Acts 19:29, Acts 20:4 and Romans 16:23. Demetrius may have carried this letter. Some guess he was the Ephesus silversmith of Acts 19:24 after he came to faith, but there is no proof.

WHY IT MATTERS



Church fights are not new. John's answer is short: do not imitate what is evil, but what is good, verse 11. Shepherd the flock, not as lords over them, but as examples, 1 Peter 5:3.

BOOK 65 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · LETTER

JUDE

Contend for the Faith

AUTHOR	Jude, a brother of James, 1:1, and so a brother of Jesus, Mark 6:3. Some scholars think a later writer used his name.
WRITTEN FROM	He does not say. Many think somewhere in the land of Israel, where Jesus' family lived.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 50 to 80. Scholars who doubt Jude wrote it say about AD 80 to 120.
WRITTEN TO	Believers he calls called, loved and kept, 1:1. They knew the Old Testament and Jewish stories well.
WHY HE WROTE	False teachers had crept into the church and turned grace into an excuse to sin. Jude tells believers to fight for the faith.
KEY VERSE	Jude 1:3. Contend earnestly for the faith entrusted once for all to the saints.

JUDE IN CODEX SINAITICUS
Codex Sinaiticus, copied about AD 330 to 360. This column is the start of Jude, verses 1 to 6, with the name loudas written small at the top. In verse 5 this copy says the Lord, written short as KS, where other old copies say Jesus. Kept at the British Library, London. Public domain.

OLDER STILL. Papyrus 72, about AD 300, has the whole letter. It is a strange little book that also holds 1 and 2 Peter, a story of Mary's birth, a Passover sermon and some Psalms. In verse 5 it reads God Christ. Papyrus 78, from about the same time, has verses 4 to 8 on a tiny folded sheet; see The Jude Amulet? Field Notes page, p.2069.

SLOW TO BE ACCEPTED. About AD 325 Eusebius listed Jude among the books some still questioned (Church History 3.25). About AD 392 Jerome wrote that many rejected it because it quotes the Book of Enoch, but that its age and use had won it a place among the Scriptures (Lives of Illustrious Men 4).

HOW IT WAS FOUND. Constantin von Tischendorf found Codex Sinaiticus at St. Catherine's Monastery at the foot of Mount Sinai in 1844 and 1859. Most of it is now in London; other leaves are in Leipzig, at the monastery and in St. Petersburg.

Historical Setting

Jude grew up in Nazareth in Jesus' family, and at first he did not believe in Him, John 7:5. After the resurrection he was praying with the disciples, Acts 1:14, and later the Lord's brothers traveled as preachers, 1 Corinthians 9:5. He planned to write a warm letter about the salvation we share. Then word came that men had slipped into the churches who used grace as a license for immorality and slandered anything holy. So he wrote a short, sharp warning full of Bible examples that his readers knew by heart.

What Was Going Wrong

CREEPING IN. Ungodly men slipped in unnoticed, 1:4.
GRACE AS LICENSE. They turned God's grace into an excuse for immorality, 1:4.
DENYING JESUS. By how they lived they denied our only Master and Lord, 1:4.
SLANDER. They mocked authority and glorious beings they did not understand, 1:8 and 1:10.
GREED AND GRUMBLING. They ran after money like Balaam, flattered people and complained, 1:11 and 1:16.
DIVISION. They split churches and did not have the Spirit, 1:19.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Jude is a small letter with a loud voice. It is mostly warning: God has judged rebels before, and He will again. But it is wrapped in comfort. It starts with believers who are kept for Jesus Christ and ends with God, who is able to keep you from stumbling. In between, Jude tells us to fight for the faith without becoming like the people we are fighting: build up, pray, stay in God's love, and pull people out of the fire.

Jude at a Glance

CH 1:1 to 2	CALLED, LOVED, KEPT Jude greets the believers.
CH 1:3 to 4	CONTEND Fight for the faith; false teachers have crept in.
CH 1:5 to 16	REMEMBER The Exodus, angels, Sodom, Michael, Cain, Balaam, Korah and Enoch.
CH 1:17 to 23	BUT YOU, BELOVED Remember the apostles, build up, pray, keep yourselves, show mercy.
CH 1:24 to 25	ABLE TO KEEP YOU A blessing of praise to God.

Where Jesus Shows Up

JUDE 1:1 Believers are kept in Jesus Christ.

JUDE 1:4 Our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

JUDE 1:5 The oldest copies say Jesus delivered His people out of Egypt.

JUDE 1:21 The mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ brings eternal life.

JUDE 1:25 Glory to God our Savior through Jesus Christ our Lord.

What Happened Next?

Jude was slow to be accepted. Jerome says many set it aside because it quotes Enoch. But the Muratorian list, often dated to the late 100s, already names it, and Clement, Tertullian and Origen used it. Origen called it a letter of few lines but full of heavenly grace. Eusebius listed it among the disputed books, and Athanasius listed it among the 27 in AD 367. In 1522 Martin Luther moved it to the back of his New Testament with Hebrews, James and Revelation.

MIRACLES DEMONIC NOTABLE

1

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

Jude, a brother of Jesus, sat down to write a happy letter about salvation. Then he heard that fake teachers had slipped into church and turned grace into a free pass to sin, so he wrote a fire alarm instead. He reminds them of the Exodus, angels in chains, Sodom, Cain, Balaam and Korah, and calls the teachers clouds with no rain. He even quotes Enoch. Then he tells believers to build up, pray, stay in God's love and pull the wanderers out of the fire, and he signs off with one of the best blessings in the Bible.

A GREETING FROM JUDE // JAMES 1:1

1 Jude, a servant of Jesus Christ and a brother of James,
To those who are called, loved by God the Father, and kept in Jesus Christ:
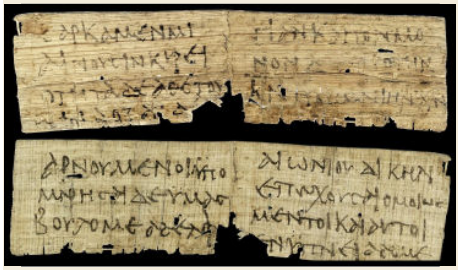
2 Mercy, peace, and love be multiplied to
you.

GOD'S JUDGMENT ON THE UNGODLY // 2 PETER 3:1–7

3 Beloved, although I made every effort to write to you about the salvation we share, I felt it necessary to write and urge you to contend earnestly for the faith entrusted once for all to the saints. 4 For certain men have crept in among you unnoticed—ungodly ones who were designated long ago for condemnation. They turn the grace of our God into a license for immorality, and they deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

5 Although you are fully aware of this, I want to remind you that after Jesus had delivered His people out of the land of Egypt, He destroyed those who did not believe. 6 And the angels who did not stay within their own domain but abandoned their proper dwelling—these He has kept in eternal chains under darkness, bound for judgment on that great day. 7 In like manner, Sodom and Gomorrah and the cities around them, who indulged in sexual immorality and pursued strange flesh, are on display as an example of those who sustain the punishment of eternal fire.



8 Yet in the same way these dreamers defile their bodies, reject authority, and slander glorious beings. 9 But even the archangel Michael, when he disputed with the devil over the body of Moses, did not presume to bring a slanderous charge against him, but said, "The Lord rebuke you!" 10 These men, however, slander what they do not understand, and like irrational animals, they will be destroyed by the things they do instinctively. 11 Woe to them! They have traveled the path of Cain; they have rushed for profit into the error of Balaam; they have perished in Korah's rebellion.

- JUDE 1:1 [NOTE] WHO JUDE WAS. Jude is Judas in Greek, a common name; English Bibles say Jude to keep him apart from Judas Iscariot. As a brother of James, the leader in Jerusalem, Acts 15:13, he was a brother of Jesus too, Mark 6:3, but he humbly calls himself a servant. He did not believe at first, John 7:5, but was praying with the disciples after Easter, Acts 1:14. Catholics and Orthodox read brother as cousin or stepbrother. Some scholars think a later writer used his name.

- JUDE 1:5 [NOTE] TEXT. Old copies disagree on who saved Israel from Egypt. Codex Vaticanus and Alexandrinus say Jesus, as here. Codex Sinaiticus and the KJV say the Lord. Papyrus 72 says God Christ. If Jesus is right, Jude says the Son was already at work in the Exodus, like 1 Corinthians 10:4.
- JUDE 1:6 [DEMONIC] Angels who left their proper home are kept in chains for judgment
- JUDE 1:6 [NOTABLE] Peter and Jude both seem to know the story in 1 Enoch 6 to 16, where angels sinned with human women and were locked up until the judgment. Genesis 6 does not say this outright, but many Jews in their day believed it.

- JUDE 1:7 [NOTE] STRANGE FLESH. Most Christians through history read this as the sexual sin of Sodom, including the men of the city going after the two visitors, Genesis 19:4 to 5. Others note that in like manner points back to the angels of verse 6; the visitors were angels, so strange flesh may mean a different kind of flesh. Ezekiel 16:49 adds pride, plenty and ignoring the poor. Many hold more than one.
- JUDE 1:8 [NOTE] DREAMERS. They may have claimed visions in their dreams to back their teaching, like the false prophets of Deuteronomy 13:1 to 5 and Jeremiah 23:25 to 32. Or Jude means they live in a dream world.
- JUDE 1:9 [MIRACLE] Michael disputed with the devil over Moses' body

THE JUDE AMULET?

JUDE 1:4 TO 5 · 1:7 TO 8 · P.OXY. 2684

Papyrus 78, P.Oxy. 2684, both sides of the folded sheet, late 200s or 300s AD. Sackler Library, Oxford. Public domain, via Wikimedia Commons.

WHAT IT IS

A tiny scrap of papyrus with Jude 4 to 5 and 7 to 8 in Greek. It is one small sheet folded in half, making four little pages. Each page is only about 3 cm tall and 5 cm wide, smaller than a matchbook.

HOW OLD IT IS

The handwriting dates it to the late 200s or the 300s AD, about the same age as Papyrus 72, the oldest full copy of Jude.

WHERE IT WAS FOUND

In the ancient trash heaps of Oxyrhynchus, Egypt, where Bernard Grenfell and Arthur Hunt dug up thousands of papyri from 1896 on. It was published in 1968 as number 2684 and is kept in Oxford.

WHAT YOU CAN SEE

Bottom photo, left: arnoumenoi, denying, from verse 4. Under it: I want to remind you, brothers, verse 5. This copy adds the word brothers. On the right: aioniou diken, eternal punishment, verse 7. The top photo is the other side, with verse 8, they defile the flesh, and more of verse 4.

AN AMULET?

Because it is so small and was folded, Tommy Wasserman argued in 2006 that someone carried it as an amulet, a small charm kept close for protection. Others think it was a tiny book for private reading.

WHY IT MATTERS

About 200 years after Jude wrote, Christians in Egypt were copying his letter and keeping it close, even while some church leaders still debated it.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

We do not know who owned it or how it was used. The amulet idea is a good guess, not a fact.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

WHAT WAS THE ANGELS' SIN?

Jude 6 and Genesis 6

JUDE 1:6 TO 7 · 2 PETER 2:4 TO 5 · GENESIS 6:1 TO 4 · 1 ENOCH 6 TO 16

WHAT JUDE SAID

Angels did not stay within their own domain but abandoned their proper dwelling, and God keeps them in chains under darkness for judgment, 1:6. Then: in like manner Sodom and Gomorrah indulged in sexual immorality and pursued strange flesh, 1:7. 2 Peter 2:4 to 5 puts the angels right before Noah's flood.

GENESIS 6

When people began to multiply, the sons of God saw that the daughters of men were beautiful and took them as wives. The Nephilim were on the earth in those days, the mighty men of old, Genesis 6:1 to 4. Right after, God decides to send the flood. The Bible never says who the sons of God were.

THE OLDEST READING

About 300 to 200 BC, 1 Enoch 6 to 16 told it as 200 angels called Watchers who came down, married women, fathered giants and were bound under the earth until judgment. Josephus, about AD 93, says angels of God lay with women. Some copies of the Greek Old Testament say angels of God in Genesis 6:2.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Justin Martyr about AD 155, Athenagoras about 177, Irenaeus about 180 and Tertullian about 200 all taught that angels sinned with women.

A NEW VIEW

About AD 220 Julius Africanus said the sons of God were the godly family of JUDE 1:11 [NOTE] THREE MEN. Cain killed his brother out of envy, Genesis 4:8 and 1 John 3:12. Balaam took money to curse Israel, Numbers 22:7 and 31:16. Korah led a revolt against Moses, and the earth swallowed him, Numbers 16. Hate, greed and rebellion.

Seth and the daughters of men came from Cain's family. John Chrysostom and Augustine, City of God 15.23, agreed, and it became the main view for over a thousand years.

JEWISH TEACHERS

Many rabbis turned away from the angel view too. Some said the sons of God were kings and great men, and the Aramaic Targum Onkelos reads it that way.

TODAY

All three views have defenders. Many scholars today say the angel view is what Jude and Peter meant, whether or not they think it really happened. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

JUDE 1:6 TO 7 · JOB 1:6 · JOB 38:7 · MATTHEW 22:30 · PSALM 82:6 · REVELATION 12:4 TO 9

ANGELS AND WOMEN

Angels left heaven and took human wives. Best case: sons of God means angels in Job 1:6 and 38:7. Jude 7 says the men of Sodom sinned in the same way as these, going after a different kind of flesh, which sounds like angels crossing into human flesh. It is the oldest reading. Problem raised: Jesus said angels do not marry, Matthew 22:30. Answer given: He spoke of angels in heaven, and these left heaven.

THE FAMILY OF SETH

Godly men married ungodly women and the godly line was lost. Best case: Genesis 4 and 5 set the two families side by side, Genesis 6:3 judges man, not angels, and angels are spirits.

KINGS AND RULERS

Powerful men took any women they wanted. Best case: rulers in the ancient world were called sons of the gods, judges are called gods in Psalm 82:6, and Lamech had already taken two wives and bragged about killing, Genesis 4:19 to 24.

A FALL BEFORE CREATION

Some read Jude 6 apart from Genesis 6: angels left their place of rule when Satan first rebelled, Revelation 12:4 to 9. Calvin rejected the angel marriage idea. Best case: the Greek word for domain also means rule or position.

WHY IT MATTERS

How you read Genesis 6 shapes how you read the giants, the flood, Spirits in Prison in 1 Peter, p.2017, and Tartarus in 2 Peter, p.2030.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Some angels rebelled and are held for judgment. Jude's point is plain: if God did not spare angels, false teachers will not escape.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT ORIGEN WROTE

Where Jude 9 Came From

ORIGEN, ON FIRST PRINCIPLES 3.2.1 · CLEMENT OF ALEXANDRIA ON JUDE · JUDE 1:9

WHY THIS IS HERE

Jude 9 says the archangel Michael argued with the devil over the body of Moses. That story is not in the Old Testament. Two early Christian writers from Alexandria, Egypt, say where Jude found it.

WHO ORIGEN WAS

Origen, about AD 185 to 254, was the greatest Bible scholar of his day. He wrote On First Principles about AD 220 to 230. It survives mostly in a Latin translation made by Rufinus in AD 398.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is how Origen opens book 3, chapter 2, section 1, in the English translation by Frederick Crombie, Ante Nicene Fathers, 1885. The rest of the section goes on to list other Bible passages about the devil.

ON FIRST PRINCIPLES 3.2.1

We have now to notice, agreeably to the statements of Scripture, how the opposing powers, or the devil himself, contends with the human race, inciting and instigating men to sin. And in the first place, in the book of Genesis, the serpent is described as having seduced Eve; regarding whom, in the work entitled The Ascension of Moses (a little treatise, of which the Apostle Jude makes mention in his Epistle), the archangel Michael, when disputing with the devil regarding the body of Moses, says that the serpent, being inspired by the devil, was the cause of Adam and Eve's transgression.

END TIMES PROPHECIES

WHO CLEMENT WAS
Clement of Alexandria, about AD 150 to 215, taught in Alexandria, and Eusebius says Origen was his student. His short notes on Jude survive in Latin, translated in the 500s for Cassiodorus.
WHAT HE WROTE
Here is his whole note on Jude 9, Ante Nicene Fathers, 1885. The words in quote marks are Jude's verse as Clement read it.
COMMENTS ON THE EPISTLE OF JUDE
"When Michael, the archangel, disputing with the devil, debated about the body of Moses." Here he confirms the assumption of Moses. He is here called Michael, who through an angel near to us debated with the devil.

The Assumption of Moses

JUDE 1:9 · DEUTERONOMY 34:5 TO 6 · ZECHARIAH 3:1 TO 2 · 2 PETER 2:10 TO 11 · DANIEL 12:1

A LOST ENDING
A Jewish book called the Testament of Moses survives in one damaged Latin copy found in Milan and published in 1861. Its ending is missing. Origen calls the book Jude used The Ascension of Moses, and other old writers call it the Assumption of Moses. Most scholars think the lost ending told the story of Moses' burial.
THE STORY
Later Christian writers retell it this way: when Moses died, the devil claimed his body and accused him of murder, because Moses had killed an Egyptian, Exodus 2:12. Michael would not trade insults with him. He said, The Lord rebuke you, and buried Moses.
THE BIBLE BACKGROUND
God Himself buried Moses, and no one knows where his grave is, Deuteronomy 34:5 to 6. The words The Lord rebuke you come from Zechariah 3:1 to 2, where Satan accuses Joshua the high priest.
WHO MICHAEL IS
Michael is a great angel prince who fights for God's people, Daniel 10:13 and 12:1, and leads the angels against the dragon, Revelation 12:7. Jude is the only verse that calls him the archangel; 1 Thessalonians 4:16 mentions the voice of the archangel.
JUDE'S POINT
Even the highest angel did not mock the devil on his own authority. He left judgment to God. The false teachers slander glorious beings they do not understand, 1:8 and 1:10. 2 Peter 2:10 to 11 makes the same point without naming Michael.
WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Using a story from a Jewish book does not make that book Scripture. See Does Quoting Enoch Make It Scripture?

12 These men are hidden reefs in your love feasts, shamelessly feasting with you but shepherding only themselves. They are clouds without water, carried along by the wind; fruitless trees in autumn, twice dead after being uprooted. 13 They are wild waves of the sea, foaming up their own shame; wandering stars, for whom blackest darkness has been reserved forever.

14 Enoch, the seventh from Adam, also prophesied about them:

"Behold, the Lord is coming with myriads of His holy ones 15 to execute judgment on everyone, and to convict all the ungodly of every ungodly act of wickedness and every harsh word spoken against Him by ungodly sinners."

16 These men are discontented grumblers, following after their own lusts; their mouths spew arrogance; they flatter others for their own advantage.

17 But you, beloved, remember what was foretold by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ 18 when they said to you, "In the last times there will be scoffers who will follow after their own ungodly desires." 19 These are the ones who cause divisions, who are worldly and devoid of the Spirit.

20 But you, beloved, by building yourselves up in your most holy faith and praying in the Holy Spirit, 21 keep yourselves in the love of God as you await the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to bring you eternal life.

22 And indeed, have mercy on those who doubt; 23 save others by snatching them from the fire; and to still others show mercy tempered with fear, hating even the clothing stained by the flesh.

be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority through Jesus Christ our Lord before all

FROM HISTORY

WHAT ENOCH SAYS

The Book Jude Quoted

1 ENOCH 1:1 TO 9 · JUDE 1:14 TO 15

WHY THIS IS HERE

Jude 14 to 15 says Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, and quotes him. The words come from 1 Enoch 1:9, the end of the opening poem of a Jewish book written long after Enoch's time. Here is the whole opening, so you can see what Jude was quoting.

WHAT IT IS

1 Enoch is written as Enoch's visions. Only the Ethiopic version has the whole book. This English is by R. H. Charles, The Book of Enoch, 1917, made from the Ethiopic and the Greek.

CHARLES'S MARKS

⌜ ⌝ words in the Greek copy but not the Ethiopic. ⌜⌜ ⌝⌝ words in the Ethiopic but not the Greek. [ ] words he thought were added later. ( ) words he added to make the sense clear.

1 ENOCH 1:1 TO 9

1. The words of the blessing of Enoch, wherewith he blessed the elect ⌜and⌝ righteous, who will be living in the day of tribulation, when all the wicked ⌜and godless⌝ are to be removed. 2. And he took up his parable and said—Enoch a righteous man, whose eyes were opened by God, saw the vision of the Holy One in the heavens, ⌜which⌝ the angels showed me, and from them I heard everything, and from them I understood as I saw, but not for this generation, but for a remote one which is for to come. 3. Concerning the elect I said, and took up my parable concerning them:
The Holy Great One will come forth from His dwelling,
4. And the eternal God will tread upon the earth, (even) on Mount Sinai,
[And appear from His camp]
And appear in the strength of His might from the heaven ⌜of heavens⌝.
5. And all shall be smitten with fear,
And the Watchers shall quake,
And great fear and trembling shall seize them unto the ends of the earth.
6. And the high mountains shall be shaken,

And the high hills shall be made low,
And shall melt like wax before the flame 7. And the earth shall be ⌜wholly¹ rent in sunder,
And all that is upon the earth shall perish,
And there shall be a judgement upon all (men).
8. But with the righteous He will make peace,
And will protect the elect,
And mercy shall be upon them.
And they shall all belong to God,
And they shall be prospered,
And they shall ⌜all¹ be blessed.
⌜And He will help them all¹,
And light shall appear unto them,
⌜And He will make peace with them¹.
9. And behold! He cometh with ten thousands of ⌜His¹ holy ones
To execute judgement upon all,
And to destroy ⌜all¹ the ungodly:
And to convict all flesh
Of all the works ⌜of their ungodliness¹ which they have ungodly committed,
⌜And of all the hard things which¹ ungodly sinners ⌜have spoken¹ against Him.

Jude and Enoch Side by Side

JUDE 1:14 TO 15 · 1 ENOCH 1:9 · DEUTERONOMY 33:2 · MICAH 1:3 TO 4 · ZECHARIAH 14:5

SIDE BY SIDE

Jude says myriads, Charles says ten thousands: the same Greek word. Jude adds the Lord.

WHICH LANGUAGE?

1 Enoch was first written in Aramaic; pieces of chapter 1 were found among the Dead Sea Scrolls. A Greek copy of chapters 1 to 32 turned up at Akhmim, Egypt, in 1886 to 1887. Jude's words are closest to the Greek.

WHERE ENOCH GOT IT

The poem borrows from Deuteronomy 33:2, the Lord came from Sinai with myriads of holy ones; Micah 1:3 to 4, mountains melt; and Zechariah 14:5.

WHO IS COMING?

In Enoch it is God coming to judge. In Jude the Lord is Jesus Christ, 1:17 and 1:21, so Jude reads it as Jesus' return. Clement of Alexandria, about AD 200, wrote on this verse: In these words he verifies the prophecy.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

DOES QUOTING ENOCH MAKE IT SCRIPTURE?

Jude and the Books Outside the Bible

JUDE 1:9 · 1:14 TO 15 · ACTS 17:28 · 1 CORINTHIANS 15:33 · TITUS 1:12

WHAT JUDE DID

Jude says Enoch prophesied, and quotes 1 Enoch 1:9, 1:14 to 15. His story of Michael, 1:9, likely comes from the Assumption of Moses. Neither book is in the Old Testament.

THE EARLY CHURCH

The Letter of Barnabas, about AD 130, quotes Enoch as Scripture. Tertullian, about AD 200, said accept Enoch because Jude quotes him, On the Apparel of Women 1.3. Origen, about 248, said the churches did not receive Enoch as divine, Against Celsus 5.54.

JEROME

About AD 392 Jerome wrote that many rejected Jude because it quotes Enoch, but its age and use had earned it a place among the Scriptures, Lives of Illustrious Men 4.

AUGUSTINE

About AD 420 Augustine said Enoch surely wrote some things from God, since Jude says so, but the books under his name were left out because no one could prove they were his, City of God 15.23.

TODAY

Only the Ethiopian Orthodox Church counts 1 Enoch as Scripture.

A TRUE SAYING IN AN ORDINARY BOOK

Jude quoted one true prophecy without approving the whole book. Paul quoted Greek poets: Aratus, Acts 17:28; Menander, 1 Corinthians 15:33; Epimenides, whom he calls a prophet, Titus 1:12. Best case: it is how quoting works everywhere else in the Bible. Held by most Christians.

ENOCH IS SCRIPTURE

Best case: Jude says prophesied, and the first Christians read Enoch. Held by the Ethiopian church.

THEIR OWN BOOK

His readers loved Enoch, so he used a book they respected. Best case: it explains why he picked it.

A TRUE OLD TRADITION

Enoch's real words were passed down into the book, and Jude quoted them. Best case: Enoch really said it.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Quoting is not the same as listing a book in the Bible. 1 Enoch was never in the Hebrew Bible or on the lists of Hippo, Carthage or Trent. And the line Jude chose says what the rest of the Bible says: the Lord is coming to judge.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT HEGESIPPUS WROTE

Jude's Grandsons and the Emperor

EUSEBIUS, CHURCH HISTORY 3.19 TO 3.20.8 · JUDE 1:1 · MARK 6:3

WHY THIS IS HERE

Jude calls himself a brother of James, 1:1, which makes him a brother of Jesus, Mark 6:3. An early writer tells what happened to his family.

WHO HEGESIPPUS WAS

A Christian writer who wrote five books of Memoirs about AD 180. They are lost, but Eusebius copied pieces into his Church History in the early 300s.

WHAT THEY WROTE

Here is the whole passage, book 3, chapter 19 and chapter 20 sections 1 to 8, McGiffert translation, 1890. The quote marks hold Hegesippus's own words; after that, Eusebius retells the rest. An Evocatus was an old soldier called back to duty.

CHURCH HISTORY 3.19 TO 3.20.8

But when this same Domitian had commanded that the descendants of David should be slain, an ancient tradition says that some of the heretics brought accusation against the descendants of Jude (said to have been a brother of the Saviour according to the flesh), on the ground that they were of the lineage of David and were related to Christ himself. Hegesippus relates these facts in the following words.

"Of the family of the Lord there were still living the grandchildren of Jude, who is said to have been the Lord's brother according to the flesh.

Information was given that they belonged to the family of David, and they were brought to the Emperor Domitian by the Evocatus. For Domitian feared the coming of Christ as Herod also had feared it. And he asked them if they were descendants of David, and they confessed that they were. Then he asked them how much property they had, or how much money they owned. And both of them answered that they had only nine thousand denarii, half of which belonged to each of them; and this property did not consist of silver, but of a piece of land which contained only thirty-nine acres, and from which they raised their taxes and supported themselves by their own labor."

Then they showed their hands, exhibiting the hardness of their bodies and the callousness produced upon their hands by continuous toil as evidence of their own labor.

And when they were asked concerning Christ and his kingdom, of what sort it was and where and when it was to appear, they answered that it was not a temporal nor an earthly kingdom, but a heavenly and angelic one, which would appear at the end of the world, when he should come in glory to judge the quick and the dead, and to give unto every one according to his works.

Upon hearing this, Domitian did not pass judgment against them, but, despising them as of no account, he let them go, and by a decree put a stop to the persecution of the Church.

But when they were released they ruled the churches because they were witnesses and were also relatives of the Lord. And peace being established, they lived until the time of Trajan. These things are related by Hegesippus.

The Family of Jesus

JUDE 1:1 · MARK 6:3 · 1 CORINTHIANS 9:5 · JOHN 18:36 · MATTHEW 20:2

A REAL FAMILY

Jude had at least one son and two grandsons. About AD 430 Philip of Side, quoting Hegesippus, names them Zoker and James.

A NERVOUS EMPEROR

Domitian ruled Rome from AD 81 to 96 and feared anyone who might claim a throne. A family of King David, related to the Christ, sounded like trouble.

JUST FARMERS

The 9,000 coins Hegesippus names were about 9,000 days' wages, Matthew 20:2. The translator turned the old Greek land measure into acres. Either way, a small family farm.

THE KINGDOM ANSWER

The quick and the dead means the living and the dead. They said Christ's kingdom is heavenly, not earthly, and that He will come to judge the living and the dead. Jesus told Pilate the same: My kingdom is not of this world, John 18:36.

HOW SURE IS IT?

Hegesippus wrote about a hundred years later, and historians debate how much Domitian really persecuted Christians. But several early sources agree that relatives of Jesus led churches for generations.

WHY IT MATTERS

Jesus' family once thought He was out of His mind, Mark 3:21. Later Jude's grandsons stood before the emperor and would not deny Him.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

CAN A BELIEVER FALL AWAY?

Keep Yourselves, He Is Able to Keep You

JUDE 1:1 · 1:21 · 1:24 · HEBREWS 6:4 TO 6 · JOHN 10:28 TO 29 · 1 JOHN 2:19

WHAT JUDE SAID

Believers are kept in Jesus Christ, 1:1. Keep yourselves in the love of God, 1:21. To Him who is able to keep you from stumbling, 1:24. So who does the keeping, God or us? Christians have argued about that for a very long time.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Most early Christian writers warned that a baptized believer could fall away and be lost. The Shepherd of Hermas, from the early 100s, allowed only one repentance after baptism. Hebrews 6 and 10 were often read this way.

AUGUSTINE

About AD 428 to 429 Augustine wrote On the Gift of Perseverance. He taught that staying faithful to the end is itself a gift God gives to those He chose. Some who seemed to be born again do fall away, but they were not among the chosen.

CATHOLIC TEACHING

Grace can be lost by a deadly sin and restored by repentance and confession. The Council of Trent, 1547, said no one can be sure he will keep going to the end without a special revelation from God.

LUTHER

Lutherans teach that a true believer can fall from grace and be brought back. The Augsburg Confession, 1530, article 12, rejects the idea that those once justified cannot lose the Holy Spirit.

CALVIN AND DORT

John Calvin taught that God's chosen will surely keep believing to the end. The Synod of Dort, 1618 to 1619, made it official for Reformed churches. It is the P in TULIP, the perseverance of the saints.

ARMINIUS AND WESLEY

The followers of Jacob Arminius, in 1610, left the question open for more study of Scripture. Later Arminians and John Wesley taught a believer can fall away; Wesley wrote Serious Thoughts upon the Perseverance of the Saints in 1751. Most Pentecostals agree.

ONCE SAVED, ALWAYS SAVED

Many Baptists and others teach eternal security: once you are truly saved, you can never be lost. Charles Stanley, Eternal Security, 1990. Free Grace teachers like Zane Hodges go further and say a believer who stops believing is still saved.

THE ORTHODOX

The Eastern Orthodox speak of salvation as a lifelong journey with God. A person can turn away, and can always return through repentance.

The Case Each Side Makes

JUDE 1:21 TO 24 · PHILIPPIANS 1:6 · EPHESIANS 1:13 TO 14 · HEBREWS 10:26 TO 29 · GALATIANS 5:4

THE CHOSEN WILL PERSEVERE

Reformed. God keeps every true believer, and they will keep believing to the end. People who leave for good were never truly saved, 1 John 2:19. Key verses: John 10:28 to 29, Romans 8:30, Philippians 1:6, Jude 24. Best case: God finishes what He starts.

ONCE SAVED, ALWAYS SAVED

Many Baptists and others. Salvation is a gift, and a gift once given is not taken back. Key verses: John 5:24, John 6:37 to 39, Ephesians 1:13 to 14, sealed with the Spirit. Best case: your assurance rests on what Christ did, not on how well you hold on.

SALVATION CAN BE LOST

Wesleyan, Arminian and most Pentecostal churches. A real believer can turn away and be lost. Key verses: Hebrews 6:4 to 6 and 10:26 to 29, 2 Peter 2:20 to 22, Colossians 1:23, and Jude 21, keep yourselves. Best case: the warnings would be empty if no one could fall.

LOST AND RESTORED

Catholic, Lutheran and Orthodox. Grace can be lost by serious sin and given back through repentance. Key verses: Galatians 5:4, 1 Corinthians 10:12, Luke 15:24, he was dead and is alive again. Best case: it takes both the warnings and the call to come home at face value.

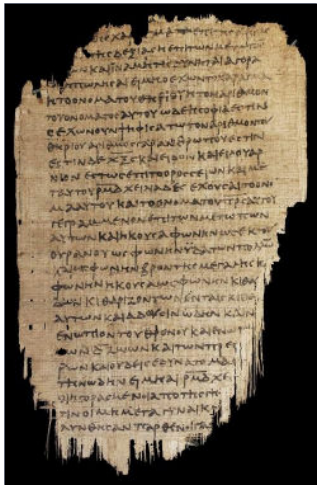
THE WARNING PASSAGES

Every side reads Hebrews 6 its own way: real believers who are lost; people who tasted the gospel but were never saved; or a true warning God uses to keep His people going.

JUDE'S BALANCE

Jude puts both sides next to each other. Keep yourselves in the love of God, verse 21. He is able to keep you from stumbling, verse 24. Our part is real, and God's part is bigger.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON



Salvation is by grace. God is faithful. Real faith keeps going. Grace is no license to sin, verse 4. Pull the wanderer out of the fire, verse 23.

BOOK 66 OF 66 · NEW TESTAMENT · PROPHECY

REVELATION

The Lamb Wins

AUTHOR	John, 1:1, 1:4 and 22:8. The early church said John the apostle. About AD 250 Dionysius of Alexandria thought it was a different John; see What Dionysius Wrote.
WRITTEN FROM	The island of Patmos, off the coast of what is now Turkey, where John was sent for preaching about Jesus, 1:9.
DATE WRITTEN	About AD 95, near the end of the emperor Domitian's reign, as Irenaeus says. Some scholars date it about AD 68, under Nero.
WRITTEN TO	Seven real churches in the Roman province of Asia, 1:11, and through them to every church.
WHY HE WROTE	To show suffering believers that Jesus is still in control, that evil will be judged, and that God will make all things new. Hold on.
KEY VERSE	Revelation 17:14. They will wage war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will conquer them, because He is Lord of lords and King of kings.

REVELATION IN PAPYRUS 47
Papyrus 47, copied about AD 250 in Egypt, the oldest large copy of Revelation. This page holds 13:16 to 14:4. On the ninth line, the number of the beast is written in Greek letters, chi xi stigma, 666. Chester Beatty Library, Dublin. Public domain.

OLDER SCRAPS. Papyrus 98, about AD 150 to 200, though some date it later, has part of chapter 1, written on the back of a used sheet. Papyrus 18 has 1:4 to 7 on the back of a scroll of Exodus. Papyrus 115 gives the number of the beast as 616; see its Field Notes page, p.2103.

ERASMUS' MISSING PAGE. Revelation is the least copied book of the New Testament. In 1516 Erasmus printed the first Greek New Testament with only one copy of it, and it lacked the last six verses. He translated them back into Greek from the Latin. That is why the King James Version says book of life in 22:19, where the Greek copies say tree of life.

Historical Setting

By the AD 90s the church had been around for sixty years, and Rome was not getting friendlier. Emperors were worshiped as gods; Domitian liked to be called Lord and God. Believers who would not burn incense to Caesar could lose their jobs, their freedom or their lives. John, the last living apostle, was banished to a rocky island. On a Sunday he got a vision, and Jesus told him to write it down. The book is full of symbols drawn from the Old Testament, like a political cartoon with a heavenly message: the beast looks strong, but the Lamb wins.

What Was Going Wrong

EMPEROR WORSHIP. Christians were pushed to worship Caesar and the gods of the city, 2:13 and 13:4.
PERSECUTION. Some were jailed or killed, like Antipas, 2:10 and 2:13.
FALSE TEACHERS. Nicolaitans, Balaam's teaching and a prophetess called Jezebel led people into idol feasts and sexual sin, 2:14 to 15 and 2:20.
LOST LOVE. Ephesus kept the right beliefs but left its first love, 2:4.
DEAD AND LUKEWARM. Sardis had a name for being alive but was dead; Laodicea was rich and lukewarm, 3:1 and 3:15 to 17.
A GREEDY WORLD. Babylon's trade made the merchants rich and the saints bleed, 18:3 and 18:24.

The Idiot Proof Summary

Revelation is not mainly a puzzle about dates. It is a picture book of who is really in charge. On earth the beast seems to win; in heaven the Lamb who was slain sits on the throne. The book pulls back the curtain so suffering believers can see the end of the story: evil judged, tears wiped away, God living with His people. Christians read its details in very different ways, and this Bible shows them all. On the main point they agree: Jesus is coming back, and the Lamb wins.

Cool Stuff Most People Miss

NOT REVELATIONS
The title is singular: one revelation, from the Greek apokalypsis, an unveiling.

A BLESSING FOR READING
It is the only book of the Bible that opens with a blessing on the one who reads it aloud, 1:3.

OLD TESTAMENT EVERYWHERE
It never quotes the Old Testament with it is written, yet hundreds of its lines echo Daniel, Ezekiel, Isaiah, Zechariah and the Psalms.

616
Some of the oldest copies give the beast's number as 616, not 666. See Papyrus 115.

SEVENS
Seven churches, seals, trumpets, bowls, spirits, stars and lampstands. Seven is the number of completeness.

THE END IS THE BEGINNING
The Bible starts with a garden and a tree of life, Genesis 2, and ends with a city, a river and the tree of life, Revelation 22.

What Happened Next?

The western church accepted Revelation early; Justin Martyr and Irenaeus quote it as John's. In the East it was doubted for centuries, and the Eastern Orthodox still do not read it aloud in their worship services. Martin Luther said in 1522 that his spirit could not fit itself to the book, though he spoke more warmly of it later. John Calvin wrote commentaries on almost the whole New Testament but never on Revelation. Through it all the book has given hope to persecuted Christians in every century.

JESUS SPEAKING

1

CHAPTER 1 IN 30 SECONDS

John is stuck on the prison island of Patmos when Jesus shows up shining like the sun, with eyes like fire and a voice like a waterfall. John faints. Jesus says do not be afraid, I hold the keys of death, now write this down and send it to seven churches.

PROLOGUE // DANIEL 12:1–13

1 This is the revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave Him to show His servants what must soon come to pass. He made it known by sending His angel to His servant John, 2 who testifies to everything he saw. This is the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed is the one who reads aloud the words of this prophecy, and blessed are those who hear and obey what is written in it, because the time is near.

JOHN GREETS THE SEVEN CHURCHES

4 John,

To the seven churches in the province of Asia:

Grace and peace to you from Him who is and was and is to come, and from the seven spirits before His throne, 5 and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead, and the ruler of the kings of the earth.

To Him who loves us and has released us from our sins by His blood, 6 who has made us to be a kingdom, priests to His God and Father—to Him be the glory and power forever and ever! Amen.

7 Behold, He is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see Him—even those who pierced Him. And all the tribes of the earth will mourn because of Him. So shall it be! Amen.

8 "I am the Alpha and the Omega," says the Lord God, who is and was and is to come—the Almighty.

JOHN'S VISION ON PATMOS

9 I, John, your brother and partner in the tribulation and kingdom and perseverance that are in Jesus, was on the island of Patmos because of the word of God and my testimony about Jesus. 10 On the Lord's day I was in the Spirit, and I heard behind me a loud voice like a trumpet, 11 saying,
"Write on a scroll what you see and send it to the seven churches: to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis,
Philadelphia, and Laodicea."

12 Then I turned to see the voice that was speaking with me. And having turned, I saw seven golden lampstands, 13 and among the lampstands was One like the Son of Man, dressed in a long robe, with a golden sash around His chest. 14 The hair of His head was white like wool, as white as snow, and His eyes were like a blazing fire. 15 His feet were like polished bronze refined in a furnace, and His voice was like the roar of many waters. 16 He held in His right hand seven stars, and a sharp double-edged sword came from His mouth. His face was like the sun shining at its brightest.

The Seven Churches

Letters from Jesus to seven real cities in Asia

PATMOS John got the vision while he was on the island of Patmos because of the word of God, Revelation 1:9.

REAL PROBLEMS Each letter fits its city. Pergamum had a great altar and temples, where Satan's throne is, 2:13. Sardis was proud of its strong hill, but it was taken by surprise twice, 3:3.

A MAIL ROUTE The churches are listed in the order a messenger would reach them on the Roman roads, starting at Ephesus and going around in a loop.

LUKEWARM Laodicea got water by pipe from springs miles away. Nearby Hierapolis had hot springs and Colossae had cold water. Many think Jesus had that in mind, 3:15 to 16.

All seven cities are known and can be visited today. The lukewarm water idea is likely, but it is a scholar's reading.

MESSIANIC PROPHECIES JESUS SPEAKING

17 When I saw Him, I fell at His feet like a dead man. But He placed His right hand on me and said, "Do not be afraid. I am the First and the Last, 18 the Living One. I was dead, and behold, now I am alive forever and ever! And I hold the keys of Death and of Hades.

19 Therefore write down the things you have seen, the things that are, and the things that will happen after this. 20 This is the mystery of the seven stars you saw in My right hand and of the seven golden lampstands: The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven lampstands are the seven churches.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

FOUR WAYS TO READ REVELATION

The Big Picture

REVELATION 1:1 · 1:3 · 1:19 · 4:1 · 22:6 · 22:10

WHY IT MATTERS

Before anyone argues about the mark, the rapture or the thousand years, they have already decided one thing: when do the visions happen? In John's day, all through church history, at the end of the world, or all the time? Most fights about Revelation come from that first choice.

WHAT JOHN SAYS

The things that must soon take place, 1:1. The time is near, 1:3 and 22:10. Write what you have seen, what is now, and what will happen after this, 1:19. Every view has to explain those verses.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Justin Martyr, about AD 155, and Irenaeus, about AD 180, read the beast, the thousand years and the new Jerusalem as still in the future, after a time of great trouble. About AD 380 Tyconius, and then Augustine, read much of the book as a picture of the church's battle in every age.

THE MIDDLE AGES AND REFORMATION

Joachim of Fiore, about 1190, read Revelation as a timeline of church history. Many Reformers did the same and saw the beast or Babylon in the papacy; Martin Luther's preface of 1530 reads it that way.

THE JESUITS ANSWER

Two Jesuit scholars answered the Reformers. Francisco Ribera, 1590, pushed most of the book into the future. Luis de Alcazar, 1614, placed most of it in the first centuries. Their two answers grew into the futurist and preterist views.

MODERN TIMES

In the 1830s John Nelson Darby taught a future seven year tribulation after the church is taken away. The Scofield Reference Bible, 1909, carried it into millions of homes, then Hal Lindsey's The Late Great Planet Earth, 1970, and the Left Behind novels from 1995. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

REVELATION 1:1 · 1:19 · 4:1 · 11:8 · 17:9 · 19:11

PRETERIST

Most of it happened in the first century: the fall of Jerusalem in AD 70, or Rome's war on the church, with Jesus' return still ahead at the end, 19 to 22. A few say all of it is fulfilled. Best case: soon and near, 1:1 and 22:10, meant something to the first readers, and the great city is where the Lord was crucified, 11:8.

HISTORICIST

Revelation is a map of church history from John's day to the end, with the seals, trumpets and bowls as events in order. Held by many Reformers, Isaac Newton and the early Adventists. Best case: it gives every generation a place in the story.

FUTURIST

From chapter 4 on, most of the book is still future: a final tribulation, a world ruler, the return of Christ and His kingdom. Held by many early fathers in some form and by most evangelicals today. Best case: the events are worldwide and have never happened that way yet, 6:15 to 17 and 16:18.

IDEALIST

The visions are not a calendar but pictures of the war between Christ and Satan in every age, ending in His victory. Held by many who follow Augustine. Best case: the book calls itself signs, 1:1, and every church in every century can read it as its own story.

MIXING THEM

Many scholars today mix the views: the visions spoke to John's churches, repeat in every age, and point to one final end.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Jesus is Lord over history. Evil will be judged. Believers are called to stay faithful, even unto death. Jesus is coming back, and God will make all things new.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT EUSEBIUS WROTE

John on Patmos

EUSEBIUS, CHURCH HISTORY 3.18 · REVELATION 1:9 · IRENAEUS, AGAINST HERESIES 5.30.3

WHY THIS IS HERE

John was on the island called Patmos because of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus, 1:9. Patmos is a rocky island of about 13 square miles, and Rome often banished troublemakers to islands. An early church historian tells when.

WHO EUSEBIUS WAS

Bishop of Caesarea; he wrote his Church History in the early 300s from a large library of older Christian books.

WHAT HE WROTE

All of book 3, chapter 18, McGiffert translation, 1890. The quote is from Irenaeus, about AD 180.

CHURCH HISTORY 3.18

It is said that in this persecution the apostle and evangelist John, who was still alive, was condemned to dwell on the island of Patmos in consequence of his testimony to the divine word. Irenæus, in the fifth book of his work Against Heresies, where he discusses the number of the name of Antichrist which is given in the so-called Apocalypse of John, speaks as follows concerning him:

"If it were necessary for his name to be proclaimed openly at the present time, it would have been declared by him who saw the revelation. For it was seen not long ago, but almost in our own generation, at the end of the reign of Domitian." To such a degree, indeed, did the teaching of our faith flourish at that time that even those writers who were far from our religion did not hesitate to mention in their histories the persecution and the martyrdoms which took place during it. And they, indeed, accurately indicated the time. For they recorded that in the fifteenth year of Domitian Flavia Domitilla, daughter of a sister of Flavius Clement, who at that time was one of the consuls of Rome, was exiled with many others to the island of Pontia in consequence of testimony borne to Christ.

WHAT IT TELLS US

This persecution means Domitian's, AD 81 to 96; his fifteenth year is AD 95 to 96. Irenaeus heard Polycarp, who knew John, so his date is early. Some scholars prefer a date under Nero, about AD 68. Flavius Clemens, the emperor's cousin, was put to death; Cassius Dio says for atheism and Jewish ways, which many think meant Christianity.

CHAPTER 2 IN 30 SECONDS

Jesus writes report cards to four churches. Ephesus works hard but lost its first love. Smyrna is poor and persecuted but rich in His eyes. Pergamum lives where Satan has his throne. Thyatira lets a false prophetess called Jezebel lead people into idol feasts. To each one: whoever overcomes wins.

endured many things for the sake of My name.

4 But I have this against you: You have abandoned your first love. 5 Therefore, keep in mind how far you have fallen. Repent and perform the deeds you did at first. But if you do not repent, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place.

6 But you have this to your credit: You hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who overcomes, I will grant the right to eat from the tree of life in the Paradise of God.

TO THE CHURCH IN SMYRNA

8 To the angel of the church in Smyrna write:

These are the words of the First and the Last, who died and returned to life.

9 I know your affliction and your poverty—though you are rich! And I am aware of the slander of those who falsely claim to be Jews, but are in fact a synagogue of Satan.

10 Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison to test you, and you will suffer tribulation for ten days. Be faithful even unto death, and I will give you the crown of life.

11 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. The one who overcomes will not be harmed by the second death.

TO THE CHURCH IN PERGAMUM

12 To the angel of the church in Pergamum write:

These are the words of the One who holds the sharp, double-edged sword.

13 I know where you live, where the throne of Satan sits, yet you hold fast to My name. You did not deny your faith in Me, even in the days of My faithful witness Antipas, who was killed among you where Satan dwells.

14 But I have a few things against you, because some of you hold to the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to place a stumbling block before the Israelites so they would eat food sacrificed to idols and commit sexual immorality. 15 In the same way, some of you also hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans. 16 Therefore repent! Otherwise I will come to you shortly and wage war against them with the sword of My mouth.

17 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who overcomes, I will give the hidden manna. I will also give him a white stone inscribed with a new name, known only to the one who receives it.

TO THE CHURCH IN THYATIRA // ACTS 16:11–15

18 To the angel of the church in Thyatira write:

These are the words of the Son of God, whose eyes are like a blazing fire and whose feet are like polished bronze.

19 I know your deeds—your love, your faith, your service, your perseverance—and your latest deeds are greater than your first.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT POLYCARP'S CHURCH WROTE

Faithful unto Death in Smyrna

THE MARTYRDOM OF POLYCARP 9 TO 16 · REVELATION 2:8 TO 11

WHY THIS IS HERE

Jesus tells Smyrna: Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life, 2:10. About sixty years later the church at Smyrna watched its old bishop do exactly that, and wrote a letter about it to other churches.

WHO POLYCARP WAS

Polycarp was bishop of Smyrna. Irenaeus says he was taught by the apostles and appointed by them, and that as a boy he heard Polycarp talk about John. He died about AD 155 to 160, at 86 or older.

WHAT THEY WROTE

Here is the whole account of his trial and death, chapters 9 to 16, in the translation by J. B. Lightfoot, The Apostolic Fathers, 1891. Words in [square brackets] are Lightfoot's. The genius of Caesar means the emperor's guardian spirit; to swear by it was an act of worship.

THE MARTYRDOM OF POLYCARP 9 TO 16

But as Polycarp entered into the stadium, a voice came to him from heaven; 'Be strong, Polycarp, and play the man.' And no one saw the speaker, but those of our people who were present heard the voice. And at length, when he was brought up, there was a great tumult, for they heard that Polycarp had been apprehended. When then he was brought before him, the proconsul enquired whether he were the man. And on his confessing that he was, he tried to persuade him to a denial saying, 'Have respect to thine age,' and other things in accordance therewith, as it is their wont to say; 'Swear by the genius of Cæsar; repent and say, Away with the atheists.' Then Polycarp with solemn countenance looked upon the whole multitude of lawless heathen that were in the stadium, and waved his hand to them; and groaning and looking up to heaven he said, 'Away with the atheists.' But when the magistrate pressed him hard and said,

'Swear the oath, and I will release thee; revile the Christ,' Polycarp said, 'Fourscore and six years have I been His servant, and He hath done me no wrong. How then can I blaspheme my King who saved me?' But on his persisting again and saying, 'Swear by the genius of Cæsar,' he answered, 'If thou supposest vainly that I will swear by the genius of Cæsar, as thou sayest, and feignest that thou art ignorant who I am, hear thou plainly, I am a Christian. But if thou wouldest learn the doctrine of Christianity, assign a day and give me a hearing.' The proconsul said; 'Prevail upon the people.' But Polycarp said; 'As for thyself, I should have held thee worthy of discourse; for we have been taught to render, as is meet, to princes and authorities appointed by God such honour as does us no harm; but as for these, I do not hold them worthy, that I should defend myself before them.'

Whereupon the proconsul said; 'I have wild beasts here and I will throw thee to them, except thou repent.' But he said, 'Call for them: for the repentance from better to worse is a change not permitted to us; but it is a noble thing to change from untowardness to righteousness.' Then he said to him again, 'I will cause thee to be consumed by fire, if thou despisest the wild beasts, unless thou repent.' But Polycarp said; 'Thou threatenest that fire which burneth for a season and after a little while is quenched: for thou art ignorant of the fire of the future judgment and eternal punishment, which is reserved for the ungodly. But why delayest thou? Come, do what thou wilt.'

Saying these things and more besides, he was inspired with courage and joy, and his countenance was filled with grace, so that not only did it not drop in dismay at the things which were said to him, but on the contrary the proconsul was astounded and sent his own herald to proclaim three times in the midst of the stadium, 'Polycarp hath confessed himself to be a Christian.' When this was proclaimed by the herald, the whole multitude both of Gentiles and of Jews who dwelt in Smyrna cried out with ungovernable wrath and with a loud shout, 'This is the teacher of Asia, the father of the Christians, the puller down of our gods, who teacheth numbers not to sacrifice nor worship.' Saying these things, they shouted aloud and asked the Asiarch Philip to let a lion loose upon Polycarp. But he said that it was not lawful for him, since he had brought the sports to a close. Then they thought fit to shout out with one accord that Polycarp should be burned alive. For it must needs be that the matter of the vision should be fulfilled, which was shown him concerning his pillow, when he saw it on fire while praying, and turning round he said prophetically to the faithful who were with him, 'I must needs be burned alive.'

These things then happened with so great speed, quicker than words could tell, the crowds forthwith collecting from the workshops and baths timber and faggots, and the Jews more especially assisting in this with zeal, as is their wont. But when the pile was made ready, divesting himself of all his upper garments and loosing his girdle, he endeavoured also to take off his shoes, though not in the habit of doing this before, because all the faithful at all times vied eagerly who should soonest touch his flesh. For he had been treated with all honour for his holy life even before his gray hairs came. Forthwith then the instruments that were prepared for the pile were placed about him; and as they were going likewise to nail him to the stake, he said; 'Leave me as I am; for He that hath granted me to endure the fire will grant me also to remain at the pile unmoved, even without the security which ye seek from the nails.'

So they did not nail him, but tied him. Then he, placing his hands behind him and being bound to the stake, like a noble ram out of a great flock for an offering, a burnt sacrifice made ready and acceptable to God, looking up to heaven said; 'O Lord God Almighty, the Father of

Thy beloved and blessed Son Jesus Christ, through whom we have received the knowledge of Thee, the God of angels and powers and of all creation and of the whole race of the righteous, who live in Thy presence; I bless Thee for that Thou hast granted me this day and hour, that I might receive a portion amongst the number of martyrs in the cup of [Thy] Christ unto resurrection of eternal life, both of soul and of body, in the incorruptibility of the Holy Spirit. May I be received among these in Thy presence this day, as a rich and acceptable sacrifice, as Thou didst prepare and reveal it beforehand, and hast accomplished it, Thou that art the faithful and true God. For this cause, yea and for all things, I praise Thee, I bless Thee, I glorify Thee, through the eternal and heavenly High-priest, Jesus Christ, Thy beloved Son, through whom with Him and the Holy Spirit be glory both now [and ever] and for the ages to come. Amen.'

When he had offered up the Amen and finished his prayer, the firemen lighted the fire. And, a mighty flame flashing forth, we to whom it was given to see, saw a marvel, yea and we were preserved that we might relate to the rest what happened. The fire, making the appearance of a vault, like the sail of a vessel filled by the wind, made a wall round about the body of the martyr; and it was there in the midst, not like flesh burning, but like [a loaf in the oven or like] gold and silver refined in a furnace. For we perceived such a fragrant smell, as if it were the wafted odour of frankincense or some other precious spice.

So at length the lawless men, seeing that his body could not be consumed by the fire, ordered an executioner to go up to him and stab him with a dagger. And when he had done this, there came forth [a dove and] a quantity of blood, so that it extinguished the fire; and all the multitude marvelled that there should be so great a difference between the unbelievers and the elect. In the number of these was this man, the glorious martyr Polycarp, who was found an apostolic and prophetic teacher in our own time, a bishop of the holy Church which is in Smyrna. For every word which he uttered from his mouth was accomplished and will be accomplished.

The Crown of Life

REVELATION 2:8 TO 11 · 1 PETER 4:14 · ROMANS 12:1

THE OLDEST ACCOUNT

This letter is the oldest Christian account of a martyr outside the New Testament, written by eyewitnesses within a year or so of his death.

AWAY WITH THE ATHEISTS

Romans called Christians atheists because they would not worship the gods. Polycarp turned the words around and pointed at the crowd.

EIGHTY SIX YEARS

Fourscore and six means 86. Many take it as the years since he was baptized, so he may have been a Christian from childhood.

SMYRNA'S JEWS

The letter says Jews in Smyrna joined the crowd, like the slander Jesus mentions in 2:9. That was one city's conflict, not a picture of all Jewish people.

WHAT IS HARD TO BELIEVE

The voice from heaven, the fire like a sail and the dove are reported as wonders. Lightfoot and many others think the dove came into the text later by a copying mistake.

WHY IT MATTERS

Smyrna's church was poor and persecuted but faithful, 2:9 to 10. Jesus did not promise them escape. He promised them the crown of life, and they believed Him.

CHAPTER 3 IN 30 SECONDS

Three more report cards. Sardis looks alive but is dead. Little Philadelphia has kept His word, so He opens a door no one can shut. Laodicea is rich, proud and lukewarm, and it makes Him sick. Still, He stands at the door and knocks.

TO THE CHURCH IN SARDIS

These are the words of the One who holds the seven spirits of God and the seven stars.

I know your deeds; you have a reputation for being alive, yet you are dead. 2 Wake up and strengthen what remains, which is about to die; for I have found your deeds incomplete in the sight of My God. 3 Remember, then, what you have received and heard. Keep it and repent. If you do not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know the hour when I will come upon you.

4 But you do have a few people in Sardis who have not soiled their garments, and because they are worthy, they will walk with Me in white. 5 Like them, he who overcomes will be dressed in white. And I will never blot out his name from the Book of Life, but I will confess his name before My Father and His angels.

6 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

TO THE CHURCH IN PHILADELPHIA

7 To the angel of the church in Philadelphia write:

These are the words of the One who is holy and true, who holds the key of David. What He opens no one can shut, and what He shuts no one can open.

8 I know your deeds. Behold, I have placed before you an open door, which no one can shut. I know that you have only a little strength, yet you have kept My word and have not denied My name. 9 As for those who belong to the synagogue of Satan, who claim to be Jews but are liars instead, I will make them come and bow down at your feet, and they will know that I love you.

10 Because you have kept My command to persevere, I will also keep you from the hour of testing that is about to come upon the whole world, to test those who dwell on the earth. 11 I am coming soon. Hold fast to what you have, so that no one will take your crown. 12 The one who overcomes I will make a pillar in the temple of My God, and he will never again leave it. Upon him I will write the name of My God, and the name of the city of My God (the new Jerusalem that comes down out of heaven from My God), and My new name.

13 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

TO THE CHURCH IN LAODICEA // COLOSSIANS 2:1–5

14 To the angel of the church in Laodicea write:

These are the words of the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the Originator of God's creation.

15 I know your deeds; you are neither cold nor hot. How I wish you were one or the other! 16 So because you are lukewarm—neither hot nor cold—I am about to vomit you out of My mouth!

17 You say, 'I am rich; I have grown wealthy and need nothing.' But you do not realize that you are wretched, pitiful, poor, blind, and naked. 18 I counsel you to buy from Me gold refined by fire so that you may become rich, white garments so that you may be clothed and your shameful nakedness not exposed, and salve to anoint your eyes so that you may see. 19 Those I love I rebuke and discipline. Therefore be earnest and repent.

20 Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in and dine with him, and he with Me. 21 To the one who overcomes, I will grant the right to sit with Me on My throne, just as I overcame and sat down with My Father on His throne.

EPHESUS

The biggest city of the province and home of the temple of Artemis, one of the seven wonders. Paul spent three years here, and the riot of Acts 19 filled this theater, which held about 24,000. Its seats and stage are partly restored. Later its harbor filled with silt and the city faded away, like a lampstand removed, 2:5.

SMYRNA

Today Izmir. The agora shown was rebuilt after an earthquake in AD 178. Smyrna was proud of its loyalty to Rome and its crown of buildings on the hill. Jesus offered a better crown, 2:10, and Polycarp died for it.

PERGAMUM

A capital city with a famous library; parchment, pergamena, is named after it. Its Great Altar of Zeus, about 180 to 160 BC, was dug up by German archaeologists from 1878 and rebuilt in Berlin with its original carved panels. Many think it was Satan's throne, 2:13; others point to the temple of the emperor or to Asclepius, the snake god of healing. No one knows for sure.

THYATIRA

Today Akhisar. A city of trade guilds; Lydia, the seller of purple, came from here, Acts 16:14. Guild feasts honored the gods with meat offered to idols, the very thing Jezebel was teaching, 2:20. Only a small field of ruins survives in the middle of the modern town.

SARDIS

Once the capital of rich King Croesus, on a hill everyone thought could not be taken. It fell by surprise at night twice, to Cyrus in 546 BC and to Antiochus III in 214 BC, because no one was watching. Jesus says: wake up, or I will come like a thief, 3:2 to 3. Its huge temple of Artemis was never finished.

PHILADELPHIA

A small city shaken by a great earthquake in AD 17 and by years of aftershocks, so people lived outside in the fields. Jesus promises to make the overcomer a pillar in God's temple who will never go out again, 3:12. The city took a new name to honor the emperor; Jesus promises a new name, 3:12. The pillars shown are from a church built centuries later, probably in the 500s.

LAODICEA

A rich banking city famous for black wool and an eye salve. When an earthquake hit in AD 60, it refused Rome's help and rebuilt itself, Tacitus says. Its water came by aqueduct from springs miles away, and the towers that carried it are crusted with lime. Many think lukewarm means its water was neither hot like the healing springs of nearby Hierapolis nor cold like the water of Colossae: just useless. Jesus tells the rich city it is poor, blind and naked, and offers gold, white clothes and eye salve, 3:17 to 18.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

THE RAPTURE AND 3:10

Kept From the Hour of Trial

REVELATION 3:10 · 4:1 · JOHN 17:15 · 1 THESSALONIANS 4:16 TO 17

WHAT JESUS SAID

Because you have kept My command to persevere, I will also keep you from the hour of trial that is about to come upon the whole world, 3:10. Christians read this verse very differently.

THE BIG DEBATE

The full history of the rapture views, from the early church to John Nelson Darby, is in the 1 Thessalonians pages, p.1918. Here is how each view reads this verse.

PRE TRIBULATION

Keep you from means taken out before the trouble starts. In 4:1 John hears come up here, and the word church does not appear again until 22:16. Best case: the promise is to be kept from the hour itself, not just from harm in it.

MID TRIBULATION AND PRE WRATH

Believers go through the first part of the trouble but are taken before God's wrath is poured out, 6:17 and 1 Thessalonians 5:9. Best case: it separates persecution from God's wrath.

POST TRIBULATION

Keep you from means keep you safe through it. Jesus prayed the same Greek words in John 17:15: not that You take them out of the world, but that You keep them from the evil one. Best case: the same phrase means protection, and the saints are on earth in 13:7 and 20:4.

A PROMISE TO ONE CHURCH

Many scholars say this was first a promise to Philadelphia about a coming trial in their own day. Best case: it is written to that church by name.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Jesus will come back for His people. Believers are not appointed to God's wrath. Stay faithful and ready, 3:11.

CHAPTER 4 IN 30 SECONDS

A door opens in heaven, and John sees a throne with a rainbow around it, twenty four elders and four living creatures who never stop saying holy, holy, holy. Everyone falls down before the Creator.

THE THRONE IN HEAVEN

1 After this I looked and saw a door standing open in heaven. And the voice I had previously heard speak to me like a trumpet was saying, "Come up here, and I will show you what must happen after these things."

2 At once I was in the Spirit, and I saw a throne standing in heaven, with someone seated on it. 3 The One seated there looked like jasper and carnelian, and a rainbow that gleamed like an emerald encircled the throne. 4 Surrounding the throne were twenty-four other thrones, and on these thrones sat twenty-four elders dressed in white, with golden crowns on their heads.

WORSHIP OF THE CREATOR

5 From the throne came flashes of lightning, rumblings, and peals of thunder. Before the throne burned seven torches of fire. These are the seven spirits of God. 6 And before the throne was something like a sea of glass, as clear as crystal. In the center, around the throne, were four living creatures, covered with eyes in front and back. 7 The first living creature was like a lion, the second like a calf, the third had a face like a man, and the fourth was like an eagle in flight. 8 And each of the four living creatures had six wings and was covered with eyes all around and within. Day and night they never stop saying:

"Holy, Holy, Holy,
is the Lord God Almighty, who was and is and is to come!"

9 And whenever the living creatures give glory, honor, and thanks to the One seated on the throne, who lives forever and ever, 10 the twenty-four elders fall down before the One seated on the throne, and they worship Him who lives forever and ever. They cast their crowns before the throne, saying:

11 "Worthy are You, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and power,
for You created all things;
by Your will they exist and were created."

CHAPTER 5 IN 30 SECONDS

Nobody is worthy to open the sealed scroll, and John cries. Then an elder says look, the Lion of Judah has won. John looks and sees a Lamb who had been slain. All heaven and earth break out singing Worthy is the Lamb.

THE LAMB TAKES THE SCROLL

1 Then I saw a scroll in the right hand of the One seated on the throne. It had writing on both sides and was sealed with seven seals. 2 And I saw a mighty angel proclaiming in a loud voice, "Who is worthy to break the seals and open the scroll?"

3 But no one in heaven or on earth or under the earth was able to open the scroll or look inside it. 4 And I began to weep bitterly, because no one was found worthy to open the scroll or look inside it.

5 Then one of the elders said to me, "Do not weep! Behold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has triumphed to open the scroll and its seven seals."

6 Then I saw a Lamb who appeared to have been slain, standing in the center of the throne, encircled by the four living creatures and the elders. The Lamb had seven horns and seven eyes, which represent the seven spirits of God sent out into all the earth. 7 And He came and took the scroll from the right hand of the One seated on the throne.

8 When He had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb. Each one had a harp, and they were holding golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. 9 And they sang a new song:

"Worthy are You to take the scroll and open its seals,
because You were slain,
and by Your blood You purchased for God those from every tribe and tongue and people and nation.
10 You have made them to be a kingdom and priests to serve our God, and they will reign upon the earth."

THE LAMB EXALTED

11 Then I looked, and I heard the voices of many angels encircling the throne, and the living creatures and the elders. And their number was myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands. 12 In a loud voice they were saying:

"Worthy is the Lamb who was slain, to receive power and riches

CHAPTER 6 IN 30 SECONDS

The Lamb opens six seals. Four horses ride out: conquest, war, famine and death. Martyrs under the altar ask how long. Then the sky rolls up like a scroll, and the powerful of the earth hide in caves, begging the mountains to fall on them.

THE FIRST SEAL: THE WHITE HORSE

1 Then I watched as the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures say in a voice like thunder, "Come!"

2 So I looked and saw a white horse, and its rider held a bow. And he was given a crown, and he rode out to overcome and conquer.

THE SECOND SEAL: WAR

3 And when the Lamb opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, "Come!"

4 Then another horse went forth. It was bright red, and its rider was granted permission to take away peace from the earth and to make men slay one another.
And he was given a great sword.

THE THIRD SEAL: FAMINE

5 And when the Lamb opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say,
"Come!"

Then I looked and saw a black horse, and its rider held in his hand a pair of scales. 6
And I heard what sounded like a voice from among the four living creatures, saying, "A quart of wheat for a day's wage, and three quarts of barley for a day's wage, and do not harm the oil and wine."

THE FOURTH SEAL: DEATH

7 And when the Lamb opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, "Come!"

8 Then I looked and saw a pale green horse. Its rider's name was Death, and Hades followed close behind. And they were given authority over a fourth of the earth, to kill by sword, by famine, by plague, and by the beasts of the earth.

THE FIFTH SEAL: THE MARTYRS

9 And when the Lamb opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain for the word of God and for the testimony they had upheld. 10 And they cried out in a loud voice,
"How long, O Lord, holy and true, until You judge those who dwell upon the earth and avenge our blood?"

11 Then each of them was given a white robe and told to rest a little while longer until the full number of their fellow servants, their brothers, were killed, just as they had been killed.

THE SIXTH SEAL: TERROR

12 And I watched as the Lamb opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake, and the sun became black like sackcloth of goat hair, and the whole moon turned blood red, 13 and the stars of the sky fell to the earth like unripe figs dropping from a tree shaken by a great wind. 14 The sky receded like a scroll being rolled up, and every mountain and island was moved from its place.

15 Then the kings of the earth, the nobles, the commanders, the rich, the mighty, and every slave and free man hid in the caves and among the rocks of the mountains. 16
And they said to the mountains and the rocks, "Fall on us and hide us from the face of the One seated on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb. 17 For the Four angels hold back the winds while 144,000 from the tribes of Israel get God's seal. Then John sees a crowd too big to count from every nation, in white robes, waving palm branches. God will wipe every tear from their eyes.

144,000 SEALED

1 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back its four winds so that no wind would blow on land or sea or on any tree. 2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, with the seal of the living God. And he called out in a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm the land and the sea: 3 "Do not harm the land or sea or trees until we have placed a seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God."

4 And I heard the number of those who were sealed, 144,000 from all the tribes of Israel:

5 From the tribe of Judah 12,000 were sealed,
from the tribe of Reuben 12,000,
from the tribe of Gad 12,000,

PRAISE FROM THE GREAT MULTITUDE

9 After this I looked and saw a multitude too large to count, from every nation and tribe and people and tongue, standing before the throne and before the Lamb. They were wearing white robes and holding palm branches in their hands. 10 And they cried out in a loud voice:

"Salvation to our God,
who sits on the throne,
and to the Lamb!"

11 And all the angels stood around the throne and around the elders and the four living creatures. And they fell facedown before the throne and worshiped God, 12 saying, "Amen! Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanks and honor and power and strength be to our God forever and 13 Then one of the elders addressed me:

"These in white robes," he asked, "who are they, and where have they come from?"

14 "Sir," I answered, "you know."

So he replied, "These are the ones who have come out of the great tribulation;
they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. 15 For this reason,

they are before the throne of God and serve Him day and night in His temple;
and the One seated on the throne will spread His tabernacle over them.

and never will they thirst;
nor will the sun beat down upon them,

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

WHO ARE THE 144,000?

Sealed From Every Tribe

REVELATION 7:1 TO 17 · 14:1 TO 5 · EZEKIEL 9:4 · ROMANS 2:28 TO 29 · GALATIANS 6:16

WHAT JOHN SAW

God's servants are sealed on their foreheads, 12,000 from each of twelve tribes of Israel, 7:4 to 8. Then John looks and sees a great multitude no one could count from every nation, 7:9. In 14:1 to 5 the 144,000 stand with the Lamb on Mount Zion, blameless and following Him wherever He goes.

A STRANGE LIST

Dan and Ephraim are missing, and Levi and Joseph are listed. Irenaeus, about AD 180, thought Dan was left out because the Antichrist would come from it. Judah, Jesus' tribe, comes first.

JEWISH BELIEVERS

Real people from the tribes of Israel who turn to Christ in the last days and are protected, Romans 11:26. Held by most dispensational teachers. Best case: John names each tribe and counts them, then describes a different, uncountable crowd from all nations.

THE WHOLE CHURCH

A picture of all God's people, Jew and Gentile, as the true Israel: 12 times 12 times 1,000, complete. John hears a number and then sees a crowd, just as he hears Lion in 5:5 and sees a Lamb in 5:6. Best case: Galatians 6:16 and Romans 2:28 to 29.

THE MARTYRS

A special group of faithful witnesses, the firstfruits, 14:4, often linked with those who die for Christ.

OTHER GROUPS

Jehovah's Witnesses teach that only 144,000 anointed believers go to heaven while others live on earth. Many early Seventh day Adventists linked them to the faithful alive at Christ's return. Most churches say the book does not limit heaven to that number, since the multitude in 7:9 cannot be counted.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

God knows and protects His own. He keeps His promises to Israel. And heaven will be full of people from every nation, tribe, people and tongue.

CHAPTER 8 IN 30 SECONDS

The seventh seal brings silence in heaven for half an hour. An angel offers incense with the prayers of the saints. Then four trumpets: hail and fire, a burning mountain in the sea, a falling star called Wormwood, and a third of the sky goes dark.

THE SEVENTH SEAL

1 When the Lamb opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.
2 And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and they were given seven trumpets.

3 Then another angel, who had a golden censer, came and stood at the altar. He was given much incense to offer, along with the prayers of all the saints, on the golden altar before the throne.
4 And the smoke of the incense, together with the prayers of the saints, rose up before God from the hand of the angel.

5 Then the angel took the censer, filled it with fire from the altar, and hurled it to the earth; and there were peals of thunder, rumblings, flashes of lightning, and an earthquake.

THE FIRST FOUR TRUMPETS

6 And the seven angels with the seven trumpets prepared to sound them.

7 Then the first angel sounded his trumpet, and hail and fire mixed with blood were hurled down upon the earth. A third of the earth was burned up, along with a third of the trees and all the green grass.

8 Then the second angel sounded his trumpet, and something like a great mountain burning with fire was thrown into the sea. A third of the sea turned to blood, 9 a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

10 Then the third angel sounded his trumpet, and a great star burning like a torch fell from heaven and landed on a third of the rivers and on the springs of water. 11
The name of the star is Wormwood. A third of the waters turned bitter like wormwood oil, and many people died from the bitter waters.

12 Then the fourth angel sounded his trumpet, and a third of the sun and moon and stars were struck. A third of the stars were darkened, a third of the day was without light, and a third of the night as well.

13 And as I observed, I heard an eagle flying overhead, calling in a loud voice, "Woe! Woe! Woe to those who dwell on the earth, because of the trumpet blasts about to be sounded by the remaining three angels!"

9

CHAPTER 9 IN 30 SECONDS

Trumpet five opens the bottomless pit, and locusts with human faces and scorpion tails torment people for five months. Trumpet six releases a giant army from the Euphrates. Even after all that, people will not stop worshiping demons and idols.

THE FIFTH TRUMPET

1 Then the fifth angel sounded his trumpet, and I saw a star that had fallen from heaven to earth, and it was given the key to the pit of the Abyss. 2 The star opened the pit of the Abyss, and smoke rose out of it like the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened by the smoke from the pit.

3 And out of the smoke, locusts descended on the earth, and they were given power like that of the scorpions of the earth. 4 They were told not to harm the grass of the earth or any plant or tree, but only those who did not have the seal of God on their foreheads. 5 The locusts were not given power to kill them, but only to torment them for five months, and their torment was like the stinging of a scorpion. 6 In those days men will seek death and will not find it; they will long to die, but death will escape them.

7 And the locusts looked like horses prepared for battle, with something like crowns of gold on their heads; and their faces were like the faces of men. 8 They had hair like that of women, and teeth like those of lions. 9 They also had breastplates like breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings was like the roar of many horses and chariots rushing into battle. 10 They had tails with stingers like scorpions, which had the power to injure people for five months. 11 They were ruled by a king, the angel of the Abyss. His name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in Greek it is Apollyon.

12 The first woe has passed. Behold, two woes are still to follow.

THE SIXTH TRUMPET

13 Then the sixth angel sounded his trumpet, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar before God 14 saying to the sixth angel with the trumpet,
"Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates."

15 So the four angels who had been prepared for this hour and day and month and year were released to kill a third of mankind. 16 And the number of mounted troops was two hundred million; I heard their number.

17 Now the horses and riders in my vision looked like this: The riders had breastplates the colors of fire, sapphire, and sulfur. The heads of the horses were like the heads of lions, and out of their mouths proceeded fire, smoke, and sulfur. 18 A third of mankind was killed by the three plagues of fire, smoke, and sulfur that proceeded from their mouths. 19 For the power of the horses was in their mouths and in their tails; indeed, their tails were

A huge angel stands with one foot on the sea and one on the land and shouts like a lion. John is told to eat a little scroll. It tastes sweet as honey, then turns his stomach sour.

THE ANGEL AND THE SMALL SCROLL // EZEKIEL 3:1–15

1 Then I saw another mighty angel coming down from heaven, wrapped in a cloud, with a rainbow above his head. His face was like the sun, and his legs were like pillars of fire. 2 He held in his hand a small scroll, which lay open. He placed his right foot on the sea and his left foot on the land. 3 Then he cried out in a loud voice like the roar of a lion. And when he cried out, the seven thunders sounded their voices.

4 When the seven thunders had spoken, I was about to put it in writing. But I heard a voice from heaven saying, "Seal up what the seven thunders have said, and do not write it down."

5 Then the angel I had seen standing on the sea and on the land lifted up his right hand to heaven. 6 And he swore by Him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and everything in it, the earth and everything in it, and the sea and everything in it: "There will be no more delay! 7 But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he begins to sound his trumpet, the mystery of God will be fulfilled, just as He proclaimed to His servants the prophets."

8 Then the voice that I had heard from heaven spoke to me again, saying, "Go, take the small scroll that lies open in the hand of the angel standing on the sea and on the land."

9 And I went to the angel and said, "Give me the small scroll."

"Take it and eat it," he said. "It will make your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be as sweet as honey."

10 So I took the small scroll from the angel's hand and ate it, and it was as sweet as honey in my mouth. But when I had eaten it, my stomach turned bitter.

11 And they told me, "You must prophesy again about many peoples and nations and tongues and kings."

CHAPTER 11 IN 30 SECONDS

Two witnesses preach for 1,260 days with power to stop the rain. The beast kills them, and the world throws a party over their bodies. After three and a half days God raises them up. The seventh trumpet sounds: the kingdom of the world now belongs to our Lord and His Christ.

THE TWO WITNESSES

1 Then I was given a measuring rod like a staff and was told, "Go and measure the temple of God and the altar, and count the number of worshipers there. 2 But exclude the courtyard outside the temple. Do not measure it, because it has been given over to the nations, and they will trample the holy city for 42 months. 3 And I will empower my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth."

4 These witnesses are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth. 5 If anyone wants to harm them, fire proceeds from their mouths and devours their enemies. In this way, anyone who wants to harm them must be killed. 6 These witnesses have power to shut the sky so that no rain will fall during the days of their prophecy, and power to turn the waters into blood and to strike the earth with every kind of plague as often as they wish.

THE WITNESSES KILLED AND RAISED

7 When the two witnesses have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up from the Abyss will wage war with them, and will overpower and kill them. 8 Their bodies will lie in the street of the great city—figuratively called Sodom and Egypt—where their Lord was also crucified. 9 For three and a half days all peoples and tribes and tongues and nations will view their bodies and will not permit them to be laid in a tomb. 10 And those who dwell on the earth will gloat over them and celebrate and send one another gifts, because these two prophets had tormented them.

11 But after the three and a half days, the breath of life from God entered the two witnesses, and they stood on their feet, and great fear fell upon those who saw them. 12 And the witnesses heard a loud voice from heaven saying, "Come up here." And they went up to heaven in a cloud as their enemies watched them.

13 And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city collapsed.
Seven thousand were killed in the quake, and the rest were terrified and gave glory
to the God of heaven.

14 The second woe has passed. Behold, the third woe is coming shortly.

THE SEVENTH TRUMPET

15 Then the seventh angel sounded his trumpet, and loud voices called out in heaven:

"The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ,
and He will reign forever and ever."

16 And the twenty-four elders who sit on their thrones before God fell on their faces and worshiped God, 17 saying:

"We give thanks to You, O Lord God Almighty,
the One who is and who was,
because You have taken Your great power
and have begun to reign.
18 The nations were enraged, and Your wrath has come.
The time has come to judge the dead and to reward Your servants the prophets,
as well as the saints and those who fear
Your name,
both small and great—
and to destroy those who destroy the earth."

19 Then the temple of God in heaven was opened, and the ark of His covenant appeared in His temple. And there were flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake, and a great hailstorm.

THE WOMAN AND THE DRAGON

1 And a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed in the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head. 2 She was pregnant and crying out in the pain and agony of giving birth.

3 Then another sign appeared in heaven: a huge red dragon with seven heads, ten horns, and seven royal crowns on his heads. 4 His tail swept a third of the stars from the sky, hurling them to the earth.
And the dragon stood before the woman who was about to give birth, ready to devour her child as soon as she gave birth.

5 And she gave birth to a son, a male child, who will rule all the nations with an iron scepter. And her child was caught up to God and to His throne. 6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where God had prepared a place for her to be nourished for 1,260 days.

THE WAR IN HEAVEN

7 Then a war broke out in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. 8 But the dragon was not strong enough, and no longer was any place found in heaven for him and his angels. 9
And the great dragon was hurled down—that ancient serpent called the devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice in heaven saying:

"Now have come the salvation and the power
and the kingdom of our God,
and the authority of His Christ.
For the accuser of our brothers has been thrown down—
he who accuses them day and night before our God.
11 They have conquered him by the blood of the Lamb
and by the word of their testimony.
And they did not love their lives
so as to shy away from death.
12 Therefore rejoice, O heavens,
and you who dwell in them!
But woe to the earth and the sea;
with great fury the devil has come down
to you,
knowing he has only a short time."

THE WOMAN PERSECUTED

13 And when the dragon saw that he had been thrown to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. 14 But the woman was given two wings of a great eagle to fly from the presence of the serpent to her place in the wilderness, where she was nourished for a time, and times, and half a time.

15 Then from his mouth the serpent spewed water like a river to overtake the woman and sweep her away in the torrent. 16 But the earth helped the woman and opened its mouth to swallow up the river that the dragon had poured from his mouth. 17 And the dragon was enraged at the woman and went to make war with the rest of her children, who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus.

And the dragon stood on the shore of the sea.

CHAPTER 13 IN 30 SECONDS

A beast rises from the sea, and the whole world worships it. A second beast from the earth does fake miracles and makes everyone take a mark on the right hand or forehead to buy or sell. Its number is 666.

THE BEAST FROM THE SEA // DANIEL 7:1–8

1 Then I saw a beast with ten horns and seven heads rising out of the sea. There were ten royal crowns on its horns and blasphemous names on its heads. 2 The beast I saw was like a leopard, with the feet of a bear and the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave the beast his power and his throne and great authority.

3 One of the heads of the beast appeared to have been mortally wounded. But the mortal wound was healed, and the whole world marveled and followed the beast. 4
They worshiped the dragon who had given authority to the beast, and they worshiped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast, and who can wage war against it?"

5 The beast was given a mouth to speak arrogant and blasphemous words, and authority to act for 42 months. 6 And the beast opened its mouth to speak blas-phemies against God and to slander His name and His tabernacle—those who dwell in heaven.

7 Then the beast was permitted to wage war against the saints and to conquer them, and it was given authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. 8 And all who dwell on the earth will worship the beast—all whose names have not been written from the foundation of the world in the Book of Life belonging to the Lamb who was slain.

9 He who has an ear, let him hear:

10 "If anyone is destined for captivity, into captivity he will go;
if anyone is to die by the sword,
by the sword he must be killed."

Here is a call for the perseverance and faith of the saints.

THE BEAST FROM THE EARTH

11 Then I saw another beast rising out of the earth. This beast had two horns like a lamb, but spoke like a dragon. 12 And this beast exercised all the authority of the first beast and caused the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose mortal wound had been healed.

13 And the second beast performed great signs, even causing fire from heaven to come down to earth in the presence of the people. 14 Because of the signs it was given to perform on behalf of the first beast, it deceived those who dwell on the earth, telling them to make an image to the beast that had been wounded by the sword and yet had lived. 15 The second beast was permitted to give breath to the image of the first beast, so that the image could speak and cause all who refused to worship it to be killed.

THE MARK OF THE BEAST

16 And the second beast required all people, small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hand or on their forehead, 17 so that no one could buy or sell unless he had the mark—the name of the beast or the number of its name.

18 Here is a call for wisdom: Let the one who has insight calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man, and that number is 666.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

THE NUMBER OF THE BEAST

666, or 616?

REVELATION 13:16 TO 18 · 14:1 · 15:2 · DEUTERONOMY 6:8

WHAT JOHN SAID

Let the one who has insight calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man, and his number is 666, 13:18. No one can buy or sell without the mark on the right hand or forehead, 13:17.

NUMBERS AS LETTERS

Greek and Hebrew used letters as numbers, so every name had a number. People played with this. A wall in Pompeii says: I love her whose number is 545.

NERO CAESAR

Written in Hebrew letters, Nero Caesar adds up to 666. Spelled the Latin way, without the last n, it adds up to 616. That may explain why some old copies, like Papyrus 115, say 616. Nero burned Christians alive in AD 64, and many believed he would come back, like a beast that was and is not, 17:8.

IRENAEUS

About AD 180 Irenaeus knew the 616 copies and called them a copying mistake. He listed names that make 666, like Lateinos, a Roman, and Teitan, but refused to choose. See What Irenaeus Wrote.

A FUTURE RULER

Many say it is the name of a final world ruler, still future. Over the years people have named popes, Napoleon, Hitler and others, and every guess has passed away.

THE NUMBER OF MAN

Some read it as a symbol: six falls short of seven, God's perfect number, three times over. Man trying to be God and failing.

THE MARK

God's people are sealed on their foreheads with His name, 7:3 and 14:1, like Israel binding God's word on hand and forehead, Deuteronomy 6:8. The beast copies God. Many read the mark as loyalty shown in what you think and do; others expect a literal mark. Barcodes, chips and vaccines have all been called the mark; none has fit.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Do not set dates or name names. Worship God alone, even when it costs you your living, and trust the Lamb.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT IRENAEUS WROTE

The Number of the Name

IRENAEUS, AGAINST HERESIES 5.30 · REVELATION 13:18

WHO IRENAEUS WAS

Bishop of Lyons in Gaul, about AD 180. As a boy he listened to Polycarp, who had known John. He wrote Against Heresies in five books; this chapter is the end of the fifth.

WHAT HE WROTE

Here is the whole of book 5, chapter 30, in the Ante Nicene Fathers translation, 1885. Words in [square brackets] were added by the translators. Decads means tens.

AGAINST HERESIES 5.30

Such, then, being the state of the case, and this number being found in all the most approved and ancient copies [of the Apocalypse], and those men who saw John face to face bearing their testimony [to it]; while reason also leads us to conclude that the number of the name of the beast, [if reckoned] according to the Greek mode of calculation by the [value of] the letters contained in it, will amount to six hundred and sixty and six; that is, the number of tens shall be equal to that of the hundreds, and the number of hundreds equal to that of the units (for that number which [expresses] the digit six being adhered to throughout, indicates the recapitulations of that apostasy, taken in its full extent, which occurred at the beginning, during the intermediate periods, and which shall take place at the end),—I do not know how it is that some have erred following the ordinary mode of speech, and have vitiated the middle number in the name, deducting the amount of fifty from it, so that instead of six decads they will have it that there is but one. [I am inclined to think that this occurred through the fault of the copyists, as is wont to happen, since numbers also are expressed by letters; so that the Greek letter which expresses the number sixty was easily expanded into the letter Iota of the Greeks.] Others then received this reading without examination; some in their simplicity, and upon their own responsibility, making use of this number expressing one decad; while some, in their inexperience, have ventured to seek out a name which should contain the erroneous and spurious number. Now, as regards those who have done this in simplicity, and without evil intent, we are at liberty to assume that pardon will be granted them by God. But as for those who, for the sake of vainglory, lay it down for certain that names containing the spurious number are to be accepted, and affirm that this name, hit upon by themselves, is that of him who is to come; such persons shall not come forth without loss, because they have led into error both themselves and those who confided in them. Now, in the first place, it is loss to wander from the truth, and to imagine that as being the case which is not; then again, as there shall be no light punishment [inflicted] upon him who either adds or subtracts anything from the Scripture, under that such a person must necessarily fall. Moreover, another danger, by no means trifling, shall overtake those who falsely presume that they know the name of Antichrist. For if these men assume one [number], when this [Antichrist] shall come having another, they will be easily led away by him, as supposing him not to be the expected one, who must be guarded against. These men, therefore, ought to learn [what really is the state of the case], and go back to the true number of the name, that they be not reckoned among false prophets. But, knowing the sure number declared by Scripture, that is, six hundred sixty and six, let them await, in the first place, the division of the kingdom into ten; then, in the next place, when these kings are reigning, and beginning to set their affairs in order, and advance their kingdom, [let them learn] to acknowledge that he who shall come claiming the kingdom for himself, and shall terrify those men of whom we have been speaking, having a name containing the aforesaid number, is truly the abomination of desolation. This, too, the apostle affirms: "When they shall say, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction shall come upon them." And Jeremiah does not merely point out his sudden coming, but he even indicates the tribe from which he shall come, where he says, "We shall hear the voice of his swift horses from Dan; the whole earth shall be moved by the voice of the neighing of his galloping horses: he shall also come and devour the earth, and the fulness thereof, the city also, and they that dwell therein." This, too, is the reason that this tribe is not reckoned in the Apocalypse along with those which are saved. It is therefore more certain, and less hazardous, to await the fulfilment of the prophecy, than to be making surmises, and casting about for any names that may present themselves, inasmuch as many names can be found possessing the number mentioned; and the same question will, after all, remain unsolved. For if there are many names found possessing this number, it will be asked which among them shall the coming man bear. It is not through a want of names containing the number of that name that I say this, but on account of the fear of God, and zeal for the truth: for the name Evanthas (ΕΥΑΝΘΑΣ) contains the required number, but I make no allegation regarding it. Then also Lateinos (ΛΑΤΕΙΝΟΣ) has the number six hundred and sixty-six; and it is a very probable [solution], this being the name of the last kingdom [of the four seen by Daniel]. For the Latins are they who at present bear rule: I will not, however, make any boast over this [coincidence]. Teitan too, (ΤΕΙΤΑΝ, the first syllable being written with the two Greek vowels ε and ι, among all the names which are found among us, is rather worthy of credit. For it has in itself the predicted number, and is composed of six letters, each syllable containing three letters; and [the word itself] is ancient, and removed from ordinary use; for among our kings we find none bearing this name Titan, nor have any of the idols which are worshipped in public among the Greeks and barbarians this appellation. Among many persons, too, this name is accounted divine, so that even the sun is termed "Titan" by those who do now possess [the rule]. This word, too, contains a certain outward appearance of vengeance, and of one inflicting merited punishment because he (Antichrist) pretends that he vindicates the oppressed. And besides this, it is an ancient name, one worthy of credit, of royal dignity, and still further, a name belonging to a tyrant. Inasmuch, then, as this name "Titan" has so much to recommend it, there is a strong degree of probability, that from among the many [names suggested], we infer, that perchance he who is to come shall be called "Titan." We will not, however, incur the risk of pronouncing positively as to the name of Antichrist; for if it were necessary that his name should be distinctly revealed in this present time, it would have been announced by him who beheld the apocalyptic vision. For that was seen no very long time since, but almost in our day, towards the end of Domitian's reign. But he indicates the number of the name now, that when this man comes we may avoid him, being aware who he is: the name, however, is suppressed, because it is not worthy of being proclaimed by the Holy Spirit. For if it had been declared by Him, he (Antichrist) might perhaps continue for a long period. But now as "he was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the abyss, and goes into perdition," as one who has no existence; so neither has his name been declared, for the name of that which does not exist is not proclaimed. But when this Antichrist shall have devastated all things in this world, he will reign for three years and six months, and sit in the temple at Jerusalem; and then the Lord will come from heaven in the clouds, in the glory of the Father, sending this man and those who follow him into the lake of fire; but bringing in for the righteous the times of the kingdom, that is, the rest, the hallowed seventh day; and restoring to Abraham the promised inheritance, in which kingdom the Lord declared, that "many coming from the east and from the west should sit down with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob."

REVELATION 13:18 · 7:5 TO 8 · 1 THESSALONIANS 5:3 · JEREMIAH 8:16

616 WAS ALREADY THERE

Only about ninety years after John wrote, some copies already said 616. Irenaeus trusted the oldest copies and the men who saw John face to face, and they said 666.

NO NAME

He gives three names that add up to 666 but will not pick one. His advice: wait and see, and do not guess.

THE DATE

His line that the vision was seen near the end of Domitian's reign is the main reason most scholars date Revelation about AD 95. Eusebius quotes it; see What Eusebius Wrote.

A THOUSAND YEARS

His last section shows he expected a real reign of Christ on earth after the Antichrist, the times of the kingdom, the rest, the hallowed seventh day. See The Millennium pages, p.2111.

PAPYRUS 115

REVELATION 13:18 · P.OXY. 4499

Papyrus 115, P.Oxy. 4499, detail with Revelation 13:18, late 200s AD. Sackler Library, Oxford. Public domain, via Wikimedia Commons.

WHAT IT IS
Twenty six scraps of a papyrus book of Revelation, found at Oxyrhynchus, Egypt, and published in 1999. This piece holds the end of 13:18.

HOW OLD IT IS
About AD 225 to 275, one of the oldest copies of Revelation.

WHAT IT SAYS
On the third line are three Greek letters with a line over them: chi, iota, sigma. A line over letters meant they were a number: 600, 10 and 6. So this copy says the number of the beast is 616.

WHY IT MATTERS
In 2005 new photographs made the faded letters easy to read, and the news spread around the world. It proves the 616 copies Irenaeus complained about were real. Codex Ephraemi, from the 400s, also has 616.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE
Most copies, including Papyrus 47 on the title page of this book, say 666, and most scholars think 666 is original.

waters and the loud rumbling of thunder.
And the sound I heard was like harpists strumming their harps.

3 And they sang a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders. And no one could learn the song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. 4 These are the ones who have not been defiled with women, for they are virgins. They follow the Lamb wherever He goes. They have been redeemed from among men as firstfruits to God and to the Lamb. 5 And no lie was found in their mouths; they are blameless.

THE THREE ANGELS AND BABYLON'S FALL

6 Then I saw another angel flying overhead, with the eternal gospel to proclaim to those who dwell on the earth—to every nation and tribe and tongue and people. 7
And he said in a loud voice, "Fear God and give Him glory, because the hour of His judgment has come. Worship the One who made the heavens and the earth and the sea and the springs of waters."

8 Then a second angel followed, saying,
"Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, who has made all the nations drink the wine of the passion of her immorality."

9 And a third angel followed them, calling out in a loud voice, "If anyone worships the beast and its image and receives its mark on his forehead or on his hand, 10 he too will drink the wine of God's anger, poured undiluted into the cup of His wrath. And he will be tormented in fire and sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb. 11 And the smoke of their torment rises forever and ever. Day and night there is no rest for those who worship the beast and its image, or for anyone who receives the mark of its name."

DEMONIC

12 Here is a call for the perseverance of the saints, who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven telling me to write, "Blessed are the dead—those who die in the Lord from this moment on."

"Yes," says the Spirit, "they will rest from their labors, for their deeds will follow them."

THE HARVEST OF THE EARTH

14 And I looked and saw a white cloud, and seated on the cloud was One like the Son of Man, with a golden crown on His head and a sharp sickle in His hand.

15 Then another angel came out of the temple, crying out in a loud voice to the One seated on the cloud, "Swing Your sickle and reap, because the time has come to harvest, for the crop of the earth is ripe." 16 So the One seated on the cloud swung His sickle over the earth, and the earth was harvested.

17 Then another angel came out of the temple in heaven, and he too had a sharp sickle. 18 Still another angel, with authority over the fire, came from the altar and called out in a loud voice to the angel with the sharp sickle, "Swing your sharp sickle and gather the clusters of grapes from the vine of the earth, because its grapes are ripe."

19 So the angel swung his sickle over the earth and gathered the grapes of the earth, and he threw them into the great winepress of God's wrath. 20 And the winepress was trodden outside the city, and the blood that flowed from it rose as high as the bridles of the horses for a distance of about 180 miles.

Those who beat the beast stand by a sea of glass and sing the song of Moses and the Lamb. Seven angels come out of the temple holding seven bowls full of God's wrath.

THE SONG OF MOSES AND THE LAMB // DEUTERONOMY 32:1–47

1 Then I saw another great and marvelous sign in heaven: seven angels with the seven final plagues, with which the wrath of God is completed.

2 And I saw something like a sea of glass mixed with fire, beside which stood those who had conquered the beast and its image and the number of its name. They were holding harps from God, 3 and they sang the song of God's servant Moses and of the Lamb:

"Great and wonderful are Your works,
O Lord God Almighty!
Just and true are Your ways,
O King of the nations!
4 Who will not fear You, O Lord, and glorify Your name?
For You alone are holy.
All nations will come and worship before You,
for Your righteous acts have been revealed."

PREPARATION FOR JUDGMENT

5 After this I looked, and the temple—the tabernacle of the Testimony—was opened in heaven. 6 And out of the temple came the seven angels with the seven plagues, dressed in clean and bright linen and girded with golden sashes around their chests.

7 Then one of the four living creatures gave the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who lives forever and ever. 8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from His power; and no one could en-

CHAPTER 16 IN 30 SECONDS

Seven bowls pour out: sores, seas and rivers of blood, a scorching sun, darkness, the Euphrates dried up, and the biggest earthquake ever. Demon frogs gather the kings to a place called Armageddon.

THE FIRST SIX BOWLS OF WRATH

1 Then I heard a loud voice from the temple saying to the seven angels, "Go, pour out on the earth the seven bowls of God's wrath."

2 So the first angel went and poured out his bowl on the earth, and loathsome, malignant sores broke out on those who had the mark of the beast and worshiped its image.

3 And the second angel poured out his bowl into the sea, and it turned to blood like that of the dead, and every living thing in the sea died.

4 And the third angel poured out his bowl into the rivers and springs of water, and they turned to blood. 5 And I heard the angel of the waters say:

"Righteous are You, O Holy One, who is and was,
because You have brought these judgments.
6 For they have spilled the blood of saints and prophets,
and You have given them blood to drink,
as they deserve."

7 And I heard the altar reply:

"Yes, Lord God Almighty, true and just are Your judgments."

8 Then the fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was given power to scorch the people with fire. 9 And the people were scorched by intense heat, and they cursed the name of God, who had authority over these plagues. Yet they did not repent and give Him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and its kingdom was plunged into darkness, and men began to gnaw their tongues in anguish 11 and curse the God of heaven for their pains and sores. Yet they did not repent of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates, and its water was dried up to prepare the way for the kings of the East.

13 And I saw three unclean spirits that looked like frogs coming out of the mouths of the dragon, the beast, and the false prophet. 14 These are demonic spirits that perform signs and go out to all the kings of the earth, to assemble them for battle on the great day of God the Almighty.

15 "Behold, I am coming like a thief.
Blessed is the one who remains awake and clothed, so that he will not go naked and let his shame be exposed."

16 And they assembled the kings in the place that in Hebrew is called Armageddon.

THE SEVENTH BOWL OF WRATH

17 Then the seventh angel poured out his bowl into the air, and a loud voice came from the throne in the temple, saying, "It is done!"

18 And there were flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, and a great earthquake the likes of which had not occurred since men were upon the earth—so mighty was the great quake. 19 The great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nations collapsed. And God remembered Babylon the great

Tel Megiddo: the round Canaanite altar and temples from the Bronze Age to the Iron Age, Carole Raddato, CC BY SA 2.0.

WHAT IT IS

Armageddon is Hebrew Har Megiddo, the mountain of Megiddo. Megiddo is a real mound, a tel, built up from about twenty cities stacked one on top of the other, guarding a pass into the wide Jezreel Valley in northern Israel.

HOW OLD IT IS

People lived here for over 5,000 years. The round stone altar shown was built in the Early Bronze Age, about 4,500 to 5,000 years ago.

A FAMOUS BATTLEFIELD

Pharaoh Thutmose III won a great battle here about 1457 BC, and wrote it on his temple walls. Deborah and Barak fought the kings of Canaan by the waters of Megiddo, Judges 5:19. Solomon rebuilt it, 1 Kings 9:15. King Josiah was killed here, 2 Kings 23:29. In 1918 the British general Allenby fought here too.

WHAT JOHN MEANT

Some expect a literal last battle in this valley. Others note there is no mountain at Megiddo, only a mound, and read it as a picture of the final showdown between God and the nations, wherever it happens.

WHAT IT DOES NOT PROVE

The ruins show Megiddo was a real place of battles, not when or how the last battle will happen. And in the end there is no real fight: the rider on the white horse wins with a word, 19:21.

CHAPTER 17 IN 30 SECONDS

An angel shows John a woman named Babylon the Great, dressed in purple and gold, riding a scarlet beast and drunk on the blood of the saints. The beast and ten kings end up turning on her.

THE WOMAN ON THE BEAST

1 Then one of the seven angels with the seven bowls came and said to me, "Come, I will show you the punishment of the great prostitute, who sits on many waters. 2 The kings of the earth were immoral with her, and those who dwell on the earth were intoxicated with the wine of her immorality."

3 And the angel carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness, where I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast that was covered with blasphemous names and had seven heads and ten horns. 4 The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls. She held in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the impurities of her sexual immorality. 5 And on her forehead a mysterious name was written:

BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF PROSTITUTES AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

for Jesus. And I was utterly amazed at the sight of her.

7 "Why are you so amazed?" said the angel. "I will tell you the mystery of the woman and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that you saw—it was, and now is no more, but is about to come up out of the Abyss and go to its destruction. And those who dwell on the earth whose names were not written in the Book of Life from the foundation of the world will marvel when they see the beast that was, and is not, and yet will be.

9 This calls for a mind with wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman sits. 10 There are also seven kings. Five have fallen, one is, and the other has not yet come. But when he does come, he must remain for only a little while.

11 The beast that was, and now is not, is an eighth king, who belongs to the other seven and is going into destruction. 12 The ten horns you saw are ten kings who have not yet received a kingdom, but will receive one hour of authority as kings along with the beast. 13 These kings have one purpose: to yield their power and authority to the beast.

THE VICTORY OF THE LAMB

14 They will make war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will triumph over them, because He is Lord of lords and King of kings; and He will be accompanied by His called and chosen and faithful ones."

15 Then the angel said to me, "The waters you saw, where the prostitute was seated, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues. 16 And the ten horns and the beast that you saw will hate the prostitute. They will leave her desolate and naked, and they will eat her flesh and burn her with fire. 17 For God has put it into their hearts to carry out His purpose by uniting to give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God are fulfilled. 18 And the woman you saw is the great city that rules over the kings of the earth."

CHAPTER 18 IN 30 SECONDS

Babylon falls in one hour. Kings, merchants and sailors stand far off and cry over all the money they lost. An angel throws a giant millstone into the sea: that is how Babylon will go down.

BABYLON IS FALLEN // ISAIAH 21:1–10

1 After this I saw another angel descending from heaven with great authority, and the earth was illuminated by his glory. 2 And he cried out in a mighty voice:

"Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great!
She has become a lair for demons and a haunt for every unclean spirit, every unclean bird,
and every detestable beast.
3 All the nations have drunk the wine of the passion of her immorality.
The kings of the earth were immoral with her,
and the merchants of the earth have grown wealthy from the extravagance of her luxury."

4 Then I heard another voice from heaven say:

"Come out of her, My people, so that you will not share in her sins or contract any of her plagues.
5 For her sins are piled up to heaven,
and God has remembered her iniquities.
6 Give back to her as she has done to others;
pay her back double for what she has done;
mix her a double portion in her own cup.

give her the same measure of torment and grief.

LAMENT OVER BABYLON

9 Then the kings of the earth who committed sexual immorality and lived in luxury with her will weep and wail at the sight of the smoke rising from the fire that consumes her. 10 In fear of her torment, they will stand at a distance and cry out:

"Woe, woe to the great city,
the mighty city of Babylon!
For in a single hour
your judgment has come."

11 And the merchants of the earth will weep and mourn over her, because there is no one left to buy their cargo— 12 cargo of gold, silver, precious stones, and pearls; of fine linen, purple, silk, and scarlet; of all kinds of citron wood and every article of ivory, precious wood, bronze, iron, and marble; 13 of cinnamon, spice, incense, myrrh, and frankincense; of wine, olive oil, fine flour, and wheat; of cattle, sheep, horses, and carriages; of bodies and souls of slaves. 14 And they will say:

"The fruit of your soul's desire has departed from you;
all your luxury and splendor have vanished,
never to be seen again."

15 The merchants who sold these things and gained their wealth from her will stand at a distance, in fear of her torment. They will weep and mourn, 16 saying:

"Woe, woe to the great city, clothed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls!
17 For in a single hour
such fabulous wealth has been destroyed!"

Every shipmaster, passenger, and sailor, and all who make their living from the sea, will stand at a distance 18 and cry out at the sight of the smoke rising from the fire that consumes her. "What city was ever like this great city?" they will exclaim.

19 Then they will throw dust on their heads as they weep and mourn and cry out:

"Woe, woe to the great city,
where all who had ships on the sea were enriched by her wealth!
For in a single hour
she has been destroyed."

20 Rejoice over her, O heaven, and you saints and apostles and prophets, because God has pronounced for you
His judgment against her.

THE DOOM OF BABYLON

21 Then a mighty angel picked up a stone the size of a great millstone and cast it into the sea, saying:

"With such violence
the great city of Babylon will be cast down,
never to be seen again.
22 And the sound of harpists and musicians,
of flute players and trumpeters,
will never ring out in you again.
Nor will any craftsmen of any trade

REJOICING IN HEAVEN

1 After this I heard a sound like the roar of a great multitude in heaven, shouting:

"Amen, Hallelujah!"

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

WHO IS BABYLON?

The Great Prostitute

REVELATION 14:8 · 17:1 TO 18 · 18:1 TO 24 · 1 PETER 5:13 · JEREMIAH 51

WHAT JOHN SAW

A woman named Babylon the Great, the mother of prostitutes, dressed in purple and gold, drunk with the blood of the saints, sitting on a beast with seven heads, 17:1 to 6. The seven heads are seven hills, 17:9, and she is the great city that rules over the kings of the earth, 17:18. She falls in one hour, 18:10.

THE OLD BABYLON

Babylon destroyed Jerusalem and its temple in 586 BC. Jeremiah 50 to 51 announced its fall. For Jews and Christians Babylon became a code name for any proud empire. Peter calls Rome Babylon, 1 Peter 5:13.

ROME

The city on seven hills that ruled the kings of the earth, grew rich on trade, 18:11 to 13, and killed Christians. Held by the early church and most scholars.

JERUSALEM

Some preterists say the great city is Jerusalem, where their Lord was crucified, 11:8, judged in AD 70.

PAPAL ROME

Many Reformers saw Babylon in the church of Rome, and the Westminster Confession, 1646, called the pope the antichrist. Most Protestants today no longer teach this.

A FUTURE CITY

Some futurists expect a rebuilt city of Babylon in Iraq or another world capital in the last days.

THE WORLD SYSTEM

Others see every society built on pride, greed, power and false worship, in every age, until the end.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Come out of her, My people, 18:4. Do not love the world's riches more than God. Every proud empire falls; only God's city lasts.

5 Then a voice came from the throne, saying:

"Praise our God,
all you who serve Him,
and those who fear Him,
small and great alike!"

THE MARRIAGE OF THE LAMB

6 And I heard a sound like the roar of a great multitude, like the rushing of many waters, and like a mighty rumbling of thunder, crying out:

"Hallelujah!

For the Lord our God the Almighty reigns.

7 Let us rejoice and be glad and give Him the glory.
For the marriage of the Lamb has come,
and His bride has made herself ready.
8 She was given clothing of fine linen,

For the fine linen she wears is the righteous acts of the saints.
9 Then the angel told me to write, "Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb." And he said to me,
"These are the true words of God."
10 So I fell at his feet to worship him. But he told me, "Do not do that! I am a fellow servant with you and your brothers who rely on the testimony of Jesus. Worship God!
For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy."

THE RIDER ON THE WHITE HORSE

11 Then I saw heaven standing open, and there before me was a white horse. And its rider is called Faithful and True. With righteousness He judges and wages war.
12 He has eyes like blazing fire, and many royal crowns on His head. He has a name written on Him that only He Himself knows. 13 He is dressed in a robe dipped in blood, and His name is The Word of God.
14 The armies of heaven, dressed in fine linen, white and pure, follow Him on white horses. 15 And from His mouth proceeds a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and He will rule them with an iron scepter. He treads the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty. 16
And He has a name written on His robe and on His thigh:
KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

DEFEAT OF THE BEAST AND FALSE PROPHET

17 Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he cried out in a loud voice to all the birds flying overhead, "Come, gather together for the great supper of God, 18 so that you may eat the flesh of kings and commanders and mighty men, of horses and riders, of everyone slave and free, small and great."
19 Then I saw the beast and the kings of the earth with their armies assembled to wage war against the One seated on the horse, and against His army. 20 But the beast was captured along with the false prophet, who on its behalf had performed signs deceiving those who had the mark of the beast and worshiped its image.
Both the beast and the false prophet were thrown alive into the fiery lake of burning sulfur. 21 And the rest were killed with the sword that proceeded from the mouth of the One seated on the horse.
And all the birds gorged themselves on their flesh.

dragon, that ancient serpent who is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years. 3 And he threw him into the Abyss, shut it, and sealed it over him, so that he could not deceive the nations until the thousand years were complete. After that, he must be released for a brief period of time.

4 Then I saw the thrones, and those seated on them had been given authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for their testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or hands. And they came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

5 The rest of the dead did not come back to life until the thousand years were complete. This is the first resurrection. 6 Blessed and holy are those who share in the first resurrection! The second death has no power over them, but they will be priests of God and of Christ and will reign with Him for a thousand years.

SATAN CAST INTO THE LAKE OF FIRE

7 When the thousand years are complete, Satan will be released from his prison, 8 and will go out to deceive the nations in the four corners of the earth—Gog and Magog—to assemble them for battle. Their number is like the sand of the seashore.

9 And they marched across the broad expanse of the earth and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city. But fire came down from heaven and consumed them. 10 And the devil who had deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and sulfur, into which the beast and the false prophet had already been thrown. There they will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

JUDGMENT BEFORE THE GREAT WHITE THRONE

11 Then I saw a great white throne and the One seated on it. Earth and heaven fled from His presence, and no place was found for them. 12 And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne.

And books were opened, and one of them was the Book of Life. And the dead were judged according to their deeds, as recorded in the books. 13 The sea gave up its dead, and Death and Hades gave up their dead, and each one was judged according to his deeds.

14 Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death—the lake of fire. 15 And if anyone was found whose name was not written in the Book of Life, he was thrown into the lake of fire.

A Thousand Years

REVELATION 20:1 TO 10 · ISAIAH 65:17 TO 25 · 1 CORINTHIANS 15:23 TO 25

WHAT JOHN SAID

An angel binds Satan for a thousand years. Those who were beheaded for Jesus and did not worship the beast came to life and reigned with Christ a thousand years, 20:4. This is the first resurrection. Then Satan is released, deceives the nations one last time, and is thrown into the lake of fire. The Latin word millennium means a thousand years.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Papias, Justin Martyr about AD 155, Irenaeus about 180 and Tertullian expected Christ to reign on earth a thousand years after His return. Justin said that was what right minded Christians believed, but admitted many true Christians thought otherwise.

A CHANGE

Origen and Dionysius of Alexandria in the 200s pushed back against the earthly kingdom. About AD 380 Tyconius, and then Augustine in City of God book 20, taught that the thousand years is now, the time of the church, with Satan bound so the gospel can spread. That became the main view in the Catholic and Orthodox churches and among Lutheran and Reformed Protestants.

A HOPEFUL VIEW

In the 1700s Daniel Whitby and Jonathan Edwards taught that the gospel would win the world first, bringing a long golden age before Christ returns. It ran strong through the revivals and missions of the 1800s.

A RETURN TO THE FUTURE

In the 1800s many returned to the early church's future kingdom, and John Nelson Darby's dispensational teaching made it popular among evangelicals, with a special place for Israel. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

REVELATION 20:1 TO 10 · MATTHEW 12:29 · JOHN 5:25 TO 29 · PSALM 110:1

PREMILLENNIAL

Christ returns before the thousand years and reigns on earth, then the final judgment. Historic premillennialists hold the early church's view; dispensational premillennialists add a rapture and a special future for Israel. Best case: chapter 20 follows Christ's return in chapter 19, and came to life in 20:4 sounds like a bodily resurrection.

AMILLENNIAL

No future earthly kingdom: the thousand years is a symbol for the whole time between Christ's first and second coming. Satan is bound now, Matthew 12:29, and the saints reign with Christ in heaven. Best case: Revelation is full of symbols, and the rest of the New Testament speaks of one return, one resurrection and one judgment, John 5:28 to 29.

POSTMILLENNIAL

The gospel will spread until most of the world is Christian, a long golden age, and then Christ returns. Best case: the mustard seed and the leaven, Matthew 13:31 to 33, and the great commission backed by all authority, Matthew 28:18 to 20.

WHO HOLDS THEM

Most early writers who mention it were premillennial. Most churches through history have been amillennial. Many American evangelicals are premillennial. The Catholic Catechism, 676, rejects any earthly kingdom before the end.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Jesus reigns now at God's right hand, Psalm 110:1. He will return in person. Satan is defeated and will be thrown into the lake of fire. The dead will be raised and judged. And God will make all things new.

DEBATED THE BIG QUESTION

IS HELL FOREVER?

The Lake of Fire

REVELATION 14:10 TO 11 · 20:10 TO 15 · 21:8 · MATTHEW 25:46 · MARK 9:48

WHAT JOHN SAID

The smoke of their torment rises forever and ever, 14:11. The devil, the beast and the false prophet will be tormented day and night forever and ever, 20:10. Death and Hades are thrown into the lake of fire; this is the second death, 20:14. Anyone not found in the book of life is thrown in too, 20:15.

WORDS FOR HELL

Hades or Sheol is the place of the dead. Gehenna, the valley of Hinnom outside Jerusalem, was where children had once been burned to Molech, Jeremiah 7:31; Jesus used it for final judgment, Mark 9:43 to 48. Revelation calls the end the lake of fire and the second death.

THE EARLY CHURCH

Most early writers taught endless punishment. Origen, in the 200s, hoped that in the end all, maybe even the devil, would be restored, and Gregory of Nyssa hoped so too. A council at Constantinople in AD 553 condemned Origen's teaching. Arnobius, about AD 300, thought the wicked would finally be destroyed.

AUGUSTINE TO TODAY

Augustine, City of God book 21, taught that hell is endless and conscious, and almost every church followed: Catholic, Orthodox and the Reformers.

MODERN DEBATE

In the 1800s and 1900s some evangelicals argued that the lost will be destroyed, not tormented forever: Edward Fudge, The Fire That Consumes, 1982, and John Stott, who said in 1988 that he held it tentatively. Seventh day Adventists and Jehovah's Witnesses also teach it. Some, like Rob Bell in Love Wins, 2011, revived the hope that all will be saved. The next page gives every view.

The Case Each Side Makes

MATTHEW 10:28 · MATTHEW 25:46 · 2 THESSALONIANS 1:9 · COLOSSIANS 1:20 · 1 CORINTHIANS 15:22

ENDLESS CONSCIOUS PUNISHMENT

The lost suffer forever, aware of it, cut off from God's goodness. Held by most churches through history. Best case: Jesus puts eternal punishment right next to eternal life, Matthew 25:46, and Revelation says forever and ever, 14:11 and 20:10.

CONDITIONAL IMMORTALITY

Only God has immortality, and He gives eternal life to the saved; the lost are finally destroyed, body and soul, Matthew 10:28. The fire is eternal in its result, not in torment. Best case: the Bible's words are death, destruction and perish, John 3:16, and the lake of fire is called the second death, 20:14.

HOPE FOR ALL

In the end God will win back every person. Best case: as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive, 1 Corinthians 15:22; God will reconcile all things, Colossians 1:20; the city's gates are never shut, 21:25. Most churches reject it because of 14:11, 20:10 and Matthew 25:46.

PURGATORY IS DIFFERENT

Catholic teaching on purgatory is about believers being made clean before heaven, not about the lost escaping hell.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

Judgment is real, and it is fair: each is judged by what he has done, 20:12. Hell is not God's wish for anyone, 2 Peter 3:9. Jesus took God's judgment on Himself so we would not have to. And the warning is meant to send us to Him now.

CHAPTER 21 IN 30 SECONDS

A new heaven and a new earth. The New Jerusalem comes down like a bride, God lives with His people, and there is no more death, crying or pain. The city has gates of pearl, a street of gold and no need of the sun.

A NEW HEAVEN AND A NEW EARTH // ISAIAH 65:17–25

1 Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. 2 I saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God,
prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying:

"Behold, the dwelling place of God is with man,
and He will dwell with them.
They will be His people, and God Himself will be with them as their God.
4 'He will wipe away every tear from their eyes,'
and there will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain, for the former things have passed away."

8 But to the cowardly and unbelieving and abominable and murderers and sexually immoral and sorcerers and idolaters and all liars, their place will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur. This is the second death."

THE NEW JERUSALEM

9 Then one of the seven angels with the seven bowls full of the seven final plagues came and said to me, "Come, I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb."

10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and showed me the holy city of Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God,
11 shining with the glory of God. Its radiance was like a most precious jewel, like a jasper, as clear as crystal.
12 The city had a great and high wall with twelve gates inscribed with the names of the twelve tribes of Israel, and twelve angels at the gates.
13 There were three gates on the east, three on the north, three on the south, and three on the west.
14 The wall of the city had twelve foundations bearing the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 The angel who spoke with me had a golden measuring rod to measure the city and its gates and walls.
16 The city lies foursquare, with its width the same as its length. And he measured the city with the rod, and all its dimensions were equal—about 1,400 miles in length and width and height.
17 And he measured its wall to be 216 feet, by the human measure the angel was using.

18 The wall was made of jasper, and the city itself of pure gold, as pure as glass.
19 The foundations of the city walls were adorned with every kind of precious stone:

The first foundation was jasper,
the second sapphire,
the third chalcedony,
the fourth emerald, 20 the fifth sardonyx,
the sixth carnelian,
the seventh chrysolite,
the eighth beryl,
the ninth topaz,
the tenth chrysoprase,
the eleventh jacinth,
and the twelfth amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls, with each gate consisting of a single pearl. The main street of the city was pure gold, as clear as glass.

22 But I saw no temple in the city, because the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are its temple.
23 And the city has no need of sun or moon to shine on it, because the glory of God illuminates the city, and the Lamb is its lamp.
24 By its light the nations will walk, and into it the kings of the earth will bring their glory.
25 Its gates will never be shut at the end of the day, because there will be no night there.

26 And into the city will be brought the glory and honor of the nations.
27 But nothing unclear will ever enter it, nor anyone who practices an abomination or a lie, but only those whose names are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

CHAPTER 22 IN 30 SECONDS

A river of life flows from the throne, and the tree of life is back. No more curse. Jesus says three times, I am coming soon. The Spirit and the bride say come. And John answers for all of us: Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.

THE RIVER OF LIFE

1 Then the angel showed me a river of the water of life, as clear as crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb 2 down the middle of the main street of the city. On either side of the river stood a tree of life, bearing twelve kinds of fruit and yielding a fresh crop for each month.
And the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations.

3 No longer will there be any curse. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be within the city, and His servants will worship Him. 4 They will see His face, and His name will be on their foreheads. 5 There will be no more night in the city, and they will have no need for the light of a lamp or of the sun. For the Lord God will shine on them, and they will reign forever and ever.

JESUS IS COMING

6 Then the angel said to me, "These words are faithful and true. The Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, has sent His angel to show His servants what must soon take place."

7 "Behold, I am coming soon. Blessed is the one who keeps the words of prophecy in this book."

8 And I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. And when I had heard and seen them, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel who had shown me these things. 9 But he said to me, "Do not do that! I am a fellow servant with you and your brothers the prophets, and with those who keep the words of this book.
Worship God!"

10 Then he told me, "Do not seal up the words of prophecy in this book, because the time is near. 11 Let the unrighteous continue to be unrighteous, and the vile continue to be vile; let the righteous continue to practice righteousness, and the holy continue to be holy."

12 "Behold, I am coming soon, and My reward is with Me, to give to each one according to what he has done. 13 I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End."

14 Blessed are those who wash their robes, so that they may have the right to the tree of life and may enter the city by its gates.
15 But outside are the dogs, the sorcerers, the sexually immoral, the murderers, the idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.

16 "I, Jesus, have sent My angel to give you this testimony for the churches. I am the Root and the Offspring of David, the bright Morning Star."

17 The Spirit and the bride say, "Come!" Let the one who hears say, "Come!" And let the one who is thirsty come, and the one who desires the water of life drink freely.

FROM HISTORY

WHAT DIONYSIUS WROTE

Who Wrote Revelation?

EUSEBIUS, CHURCH HISTORY 7.25 · REVELATION 1:1 · 1:4 · 1:9 · 22:8

WHY THIS IS HERE

Revelation names its writer only as John. Most of the early church said John the apostle. One bishop looked closely at the Greek and disagreed, and his words survive.

WHO DIONYSIUS WAS

Dionysius was bishop of Alexandria in Egypt from about AD 248 to 264, a student of Origen. Some Christians near him were teaching an earthly thousand year kingdom of feasting from Revelation, and he wrote two books On Promises to answer them.

WHAT HE WROTE

Eusebius copied his comments on Revelation into his Church History. Here is the whole of book 7, chapter 25, McGiffert translation, 1890. Quote marks hold Dionysius's own words; where Eusebius sums up, there are none.

CHURCH HISTORY 7.25

Afterward he speaks in this manner of the Apocalypse of John.

For they say that it is not the work of John, nor is it a revelation, because it is covered thickly and densely by a vail of obscurity. And they affirm that none of the apostles, and none of the saints, nor any one in the Church is its author, but that Cerinthus, who founded the sect which was called after him the Cerinthian, desiring reputable authority for his fiction, prefixed the name.

For the doctrine which he taught was this: that the kingdom of Christ will be an earthly one. And as he was himself devoted to the pleasures of the body and altogether sensual in his nature, he dreamed that that kingdom would consist in those things which he desired, namely, in the delights of the belly and of sexual passion; that is to say, in eating and drinking and marrying, and in festivals and sacrifices and the slaying of victims, under the guise of which he thought he could indulge his appetites with a better grace.

"But I could not venture to reject the book, as many brethren hold it in high esteem. But I suppose that it is beyond my comprehension, and that there is a certain concealed and more wonderful meaning in every part. For if I do not understand I suspect that a deeper sense lies beneath the words.

I do not measure and judge them by my own reason, but leaving the more to faith I regard them as too high for me to grasp. And I do not reject what I cannot comprehend, but rather wonder because I do not understand it."

After this he examines the entire Book of Revelation, and having proved that it is impossible to understand it according to the literal sense, proceeds as follows: Therefore that he was called John, and that this book is the work of one John, I do not deny. And I agree also that it is the work of a holy and inspired man. But I cannot readily admit that he was the REV 22:18 [NOTE] THIS BOOK. In two verses John says this book four times. He is guarding the words of Revelation. Moses gave the same warning, Deuteronomy 4:2, and God still sent many prophets and books after him. Some cessationists, who believe gifts like prophecy ended with the apostles, use this verse to say God no longer speaks to us directly. But it is about changing the words of this book, not about whether God still speaks. When John wrote, the New Testament had not been gathered into one book; Codex Sinaiticus even puts two more books after Revelation. Cessationists answer that their case rests mainly on other verses, like Ephesians 2:20 and Hebrews 1:1 to 2. All sides agree no one may add to Scripture, and anything said to be from God must be tested by it, 1 Thessalonians 5:20 to 21.

REV 22:19 [NOTE] TEXT. The KJV says book of life; the Greek copies say tree of life. Erasmus's only Greek copy of Revelation in 1516 was missing the last verses, so he translated them back from Latin.

REV 22:20 [PROPHECY] Behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward is with Me... Surely I am coming quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus! → STILL TO COME

REV 22:20 [NOTE] MARANATHA. Come, Lord Jesus. The early church prayed it in Aramaic, Maranatha, 1 Corinthians 16:22.

apostle, the son of Zebedee, the brother of James, by whom the Gospel of John and the Catholic Epistle were written. For I judge from the character of both, and the forms of expression, and the entire execution of the book, that it is not his. For the evangelist nowhere gives his name, or proclaims himself, either in the Gospel or Epistle."

Farther on he adds:

Then he writes also an epistle: 'John to the seven churches which are in Asia, grace be with you, and peace.' But the evangelist did not prefix his name even to the Catholic Epistle; but without introduction he begins with the mystery of the divine revelation itself: 'That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes.' For because of such a revelation the Lord also blessed Peter, saying, 'Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jonah, for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my heavenly Father.'

But neither in the reputed second or third epistle of John, though they are very short, does the name John appear; but there is written the anonymous phrase, 'the elder.' But this author did not consider it sufficient to give his name once and to proceed with his work; but he takes it up again: 'I, John, who also am your brother and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and in the patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos for the Word of God and the testimony of Jesus.' And toward the close he speaks thus: 'Blessed is he that keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book, and I, John, who saw and heard these things.'

"But that he who wrote these things was called John must be believed, as he says it; but who he was does not appear. For he did not say, as often in the Gospel, that he was the beloved disciple of the Lord, or the one who lay on his breast, or the brother of James, or the eyewitness and hearer of the Lord. For he would have spoken of these things if he had wished to show himself plainly. But he says none of them; but speaks of himself as our brother and companion, and a witness of Jesus, and blessed because he had seen and heard the revelations.

But I am of the opinion that there were many with the same name as the apostle John, who, on account of their love for him, and because they admired and emulated him, and desired to be loved by the Lord as he was, took to themselves the same surname, as many of the children of the faithful are called Paul or Peter.

For example, there is also another John, surnamed Mark, mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles, whom Barnabas and Paul took with them; of whom also it is said, 'And they had also John as their attendant.' But that it is he who wrote this, I would not say. For it not written that he went with them into Asia, but, 'Now when Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia and John departing from them returned to Jerusalem.'

But I think that he was some other one of those in Asia; as they say that there are two monuments in Ephesus, each bearing the name of John.

"And from the ideas, and from the words and their arrangement, it may be reasonably conjectured that this one is different from that one. For the Gospel and Epistle agree with each other and begin in the same manner. The one says, 'In the beginning was the Word'; the other, 'That which was from the beginning.' The one: 'And the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father'; the other says the same things slightly altered: 'Which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes; which we have looked upon and our hands have handled of the Word of life,—and the life was manifested.'

For he introduces these things at the beginning, maintaining them, as is evident from what follows, in opposition to those who said that the Lord had not come in the flesh. Wherefore also he carefully adds, 'And we have seen and bear witness, and declare unto you the eternal life which was with the Father and was manifested unto us. That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also.'

He holds to this and does not digress from his subject, but discusses everything under the same heads and names some of which we will briefly mention. Any one who examines carefully will find the phrases, 'the life,' 'the light,' 'turning from darkness,' frequently occurring in both; also continually, 'truth,' 'grace,' 'joy,' 'the flesh and blood of the Lord,' 'the judgment,' 'the forgiveness of sins,' 'the love of God toward us,' the 'commandment that we love one another,' that we should 'keep all the commandments'; the 'conviction of the world, of the Devil, of Anti-Christ,' the 'promise of the Holy Spirit,' the 'adoption of God,' the 'faith continually required of us,' 'the Father and the Son,' occur everywhere. In fact, it is plainly to be seen that one and the same character marks the Gospel and the Epistle throughout.

But the Apocalypse is different from these writings and foreign to them; not touching, nor in the least bordering upon them; almost, so to speak, without even a syllable in common with them.

Nay more, the Epistle—for I pass by the Gospel—does not mention nor does it contain any intimation of the Apocalypse, nor does the Apocalypse of the Epistle. But Paul, in his epistles, gives some indication of his revelations, though he has not written them out by themselves.

"Moreover, it can also be shown that the diction of the Gospel and Epistle differs from that of the Apocalypse.

For they were written not only without error as regards the Greek language, but also with elegance in their expression, in their reasonings, and in their entire structure. They are far indeed from betraying any barbarism or solecism, or any vulgarism whatever. For the writer had, as it seems, both the requisites of discourse,—that is, the gift of knowledge and the gift of expression,—as the Lord had bestowed them both upon him. I do not deny that the other writer saw a revelation and received knowledge and prophecy. I perceive, however, that his dialect and language are not accurate Greek, but that he uses barbarous idioms, and, in some places, solecisms. It is unnecessary to point these out here, for I would not have any one think that I have said these things in a spirit of ridicule, for I have said what I have only with the purpose of showing clearly the difference between the writings."

REVELATION 1:1 · 1:9 · 22:8 · JOHN 21:24 · 2 JOHN 1:1

HIS ARGUMENT

The Gospel and 1 John never give the writer's name; Revelation names John again and again. The Gospel and letter share words like life, light and truth; Revelation sounds different. And the Gospel's Greek is smooth, while Revelation's breaks grammar rules. So, he says, a different John.

HE STILL HONORED IT

He would not throw out the book. He said its writer was a holy and inspired man who truly saw a revelation, and that it holds a meaning too deep for him.

TWO TOMBS

He mentions two tombs of John in Ephesus. Papias also seems to name two Johns, the apostle and John the Elder; see What Papias Wrote in 2 John, p.2055.

THE OTHER SIDE

Justin Martyr, about AD 155, and Irenaeus said the apostle wrote it. Many scholars say the rough Greek fits a man writing in a hurry, in exile, without a helper, while thinking in Hebrew. And Revelation shares big ideas with John's Gospel: Jesus as the Word, 19:13 and John 1:1; the Lamb, 5:6 and John 1:29; living water, 22:17 and John 7:37 to 38; the pierced one, 1:7 and John 19:37.

WHAT ALL SIDES AGREE ON

The writer was a well known leader named John, in exile on Patmos, writing to churches he knew. And the church received his book as Scripture.

BONUS SECTION · HISTORY OUTSIDE THE BIBLE

EXHIBIT A

Jesus in history: what people outside the Bible said about Him

THE QUESTION	Did Jesus really live, or did the church make Him up? This section looks only at writers who were NOT writing Scripture.
THE WITNESSES	A Jewish historian, Roman historians, a Roman governor, a Syrian prisoner, a Greek comedian, a pagan philosopher, the Jewish Talmud, and the first Christians after the apostles.
THE TIME RANGE	From about AD 50 to about AD 500. Jesus was crucified about AD 30 or 33.
THE VERDICT	Almost every historian today, Christian or not, agrees Jesus was a real man who was baptized by John and crucified under Pontius Pilate.
HOW TO USE IT	Each exhibit gives you who wrote it, when, the actual words, how the text survived, what it backs up in the Bible and the honest debate. Confidence ratings are HIGH, MEDIUM or LOW.

Opening Statement

Imagine a courtroom. The Bible is the main witness, and it has a lot to say. But a good lawyer always asks: does anybody else back this up? Is there anyone who was not a follower of Jesus, maybe even someone who hated Christians, who says this Jesus was real?

There is. Quite a few, actually. Some of them were not trying to help Christians at all. The Roman historian Tacitus called Christianity a mischievous superstition. A Greek comedian made fun of Christians for being gullible. A pagan philosopher said Jesus was a magician. Their mean comments are gold for us, because enemies do not usually invent the person they are insulting.

Here is the honest truth up front. No outside writer is as detailed as the Gospels. Jesus was a poor teacher from a small town in a far corner of the Roman Empire, and Roman writers mostly wrote about emperors, wars and senators. What is surprising is not how little they say. It is that they say anything at all.

HOW TO READ THE QUOTES. Quotes from old books come from public domain English translations, so the wording sounds old. Words in a pink highlight are words most scholars think a Christian copyist added later. Where a translation is still owned by someone, the passage is retold in plain English and labeled that way.

EXHIBIT 1

FLAVIUS JOSEPHUS

The Jewish general who switched sides and wrote it all down

WHO	Yosef ben Matityahu, born in Jerusalem in AD 37 into a family of priests. He later took the Roman name Titus Flavius Josephus.
HIS STORY	He led Jewish troops in Galilee during the revolt against Rome in AD 66. In AD 67 he surrendered and told the Roman general Vespasian he would become emperor. Two years later Vespasian did, freed him, and Josephus spent the rest of his life writing in Rome. He died around AD 100.

HIS BOOKS	The Jewish War, about AD 75, and the Antiquities of the Jews, 20 books finished about AD 93 or 94. The Antiquities is a history of the Jews from Creation to his own day.
WHY HE MATTERS	He was a Jew who never became a Christian. He grew up in Jerusalem just a few years after the crucifixion, and he knew the places, rulers and priestly families of the Gospels firsthand.

How Many Copies of Josephus Survive

About 120 Greek manuscripts of Josephus' works survive, and 33 of them are older than the 1300s. Not every copy holds every book. For book 18, the one that mentions Jesus, the oldest Greek copy is a manuscript in the Ambrosian Library in Milan, Italy, copied in the 1000s. The next oldest is in the Vatican Library and is dated AD 1354. A third, in Florence, is from the 1300s or 1400s.

There is also an old Latin translation, made around AD 550 for a Roman scholar named Cassiodorus. About 170 Latin manuscripts of it survive. And Christian writers quoted Josephus long before any of these copies were made, which helps us see what the text said earlier.

Every Greek and Latin copy that has book 18 includes the passage about Jesus. Nobody has ever found a copy without it. The debate is not whether Josephus mentioned Jesus. The debate is whether every word in our copies is his.

The Testimony of Josephus, Three Versions

This passage is famous enough to have its own Latin name: the Testimonium Flavianum, which means the testimony of Flavius. It sits in Antiquities book 18, sections 63 to 64, right between two stories about Pontius Pilate. Here are the three versions people argue about.

VERSION 1. THE TEXT AS IT READS TODAY

This is what every Greek manuscript says. The parts in pink are the parts many scholars think a Christian copyist added, because a Jew who did not follow Jesus would not likely write them.

>
> Now there was about this time Jesus, a wise man, if it be lawful to call him a man; for he was a doer of wonderful works, a teacher of such men as receive the truth with pleasure. He drew over to him both many of the Jews and many of the Gentiles. He was the Christ. And when Pilate, at the suggestion of the principal men amongst us, had condemned him to the cross, those that loved him at the first did not forsake him; for he appeared to them alive again the third day; as the divine prophets had foretold these and ten thousand other wonderful things concerning him. And the tribe of Christians, so named from him, are not extinct at this day.

VERSION 2. THE CORE MOST SCHOLARS THINK JOSEPHUS WROTE

Take out the three pink parts and you get a calm, neutral report that sounds just like Josephus. It calls Jesus a wise man and a worker of amazing deeds, says Jewish leaders brought charges, Pilate crucified Him, and His followers never gave up. Many scholars accept something close to this.

THE RECONSTRUCTED CORE · WHISTON WORDING WITH THE THREE DISPUTED PARTS REMOVED

Now there was about this time Jesus, a wise man, for he was a doer of wonderful works, a teacher of such men as receive the truth with pleasure. He drew over to him both many of the Jews and many of the Gentiles. And when Pilate, at the suggestion of the principal men amongst us, had condemned him to the cross, those that loved him at the first did not forsake him. And the tribe of Christians, so named from him, are not extinct at this day.

VERSION 3. THE ARABIC VERSION OF AGAPIUS

In 1971 an Israeli scholar named Shlomo Pines brought attention to a different version. It is in a world history written in Arabic around AD 942 by Agapius, a Christian bishop in Syria. It is milder than the Greek. Instead of He was the Christ, it says he was perhaps the Messiah. A Syriac chronicle by Michael the Syrian, written in the 1100s, has the same idea: he was thought to be the Messiah.

AGAPIUS, BOOK OF THE TITLE, ABOUT AD 942 · RETOLD IN PLAIN ENGLISH FROM THE ARABIC

At this time there was a wise man named Jesus. He lived a good life and was known as a good man. Many people from the Jews and from other nations became his followers. Pilate sentenced him to be crucified and to die. His followers did not leave him. They reported that he appeared to them three days after his crucifixion and that he was alive. So he was perhaps the Messiah that the prophets told amazing things about.

What the Scholars Say

CAMP 1. ALL OF IT IS REAL

A small group says Josephus wrote the whole thing. Josephus was flattering, he admired wise teachers, and maybe he was writing what Christians claimed rather than what he believed. In 2025 a scholar named T. C. Schmidt published a book with Oxford University Press arguing that the passage is mostly what Josephus wrote.

CAMP 2. A REAL CORE WITH CHRISTIAN ADDITIONS

This is the biggest group. They see Josephus' style all through the passage. The phrase wonderful works, for example, is one he uses for the prophet Elisha. But the three pink phrases sound like a Christian, so they think a copyist added them, probably before AD 300.

CAMP 3. ALL OF IT IS FAKE

A smaller group says the whole passage was added by a Christian, maybe even by Eusebius, the church historian who is the first to quote it, in the early 300s. They point out that the passage seems to interrupt the story around it. Most scholars do not agree, because the language fits Josephus and because of the second passage below.

CLUE FROM ORIGEN

Origen, a Christian scholar writing around AD 248, read Josephus and said twice that Josephus did not believe Jesus was the Christ. That is strong evidence that the copy Origen read did not say He was the Christ. It is one of the main reasons scholars think that line was added later.

CLUE FROM JEROME

Jerome, the man who translated the Latin Bible, quoted the passage around AD 392 with the words he was believed to be the Christ. That matches the milder Arabic and Syriac versions. Many scholars think the older wording was something like that, and a later copyist made it stronger.

CLUE FROM THE ARABIC
Scholar Alice Whealey showed in 2008 that the Arabic and Syriac versions probably come from a Syriac translation of Eusebius, not straight from Josephus. So they are not a separate copy of Josephus. But they may still keep older wording than our Greek copies.

WHAT ABOUT THE SLAVONIC JOSEPHUS
An old Slavonic, which is old Russian, version of The Jewish War has long stories about Jesus and John the Baptist. Scholars agree these were added in the Middle Ages and are worthless for history. Do not let anybody sell you that one.

CONFIDENCE
HIGH that Josephus wrote about Jesus here. MEDIUM on the exact wording. LOW that the three pink phrases are his.

The Second Passage: the Brother of Jesus

This is the one most scholars accept with little argument. In Antiquities book 20, section 200, Josephus tells how James was killed in AD 62. The Roman governor Festus had died, and the next governor, Albinus, had not yet arrived. During that gap, the high priest Ananus grabbed his chance.

> JOSEPHUS, ANTIQUITIES 20.200 · WILLIAM WHISTON TRANSLATION, 1737
> Festus was now dead, and Albinus was but upon the road; so he assembled the sanhedrim of judges, and brought before them the brother of Jesus, who was called Christ, whose name was James, and some others; and when he had formed an accusation against them as breakers of the law, he delivered them to be stoned.

WHY SCHOLARS TRUST IT
It is short, it is not praising Jesus, and it reads like Josephus. A Christian adding words would not say only who was called Christ. He would say much more. It also explains which Jesus he means, because Jesus was a common name. Josephus mentions more than a dozen different men named Jesus.

WHAT IT BACKS UP
The Bible says Jesus had a brother named James, Mark 6:3 and Matthew 13:55. Paul says he met James, the Lord's brother, in Galatians 1:19. James led the church in Jerusalem in Acts 15 and Acts 21:18. Josephus confirms all of it: a man named James, brother of Jesus who was called Christ, important enough in Jerusalem that the high priest wanted him dead.

A BONUS CONNECTION
The high priest who killed James was Ananus, a son of Annas. Josephus says five sons of Annas became high priest. That is the same Annas who questioned Jesus in John 18:13. Same family, a generation later, still going after Jesus' people.

HOW IT ENDED FOR ANANUS
Josephus says fair minded people in Jerusalem complained, and Ananus was kicked out after only three months as high priest.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT
A Christian writer named Hegesippus, around AD 170, as quoted by Eusebius, tells the story differently. He says James was thrown from the temple, stoned and then beaten to death with a club. The details differ, but both agree James was killed by Jewish leaders in Jerusalem.

CONFIDENCE
HIGH.

The Third Passage: John the Baptist

In Antiquities book 18, sections 116 to 119, Josephus tells about John the Baptist, and he spends more words on John than on Jesus. Around AD 36, Herod Antipas lost a war to King Aretas of Nabatea, the father of his first wife. Some Jews said God was punishing Herod for what he did to John.

> JOSEPHUS, ANTIQUITIES 18.116 TO 119 · WILLIAM WHISTON TRANSLATION, 1737
> Now some of the Jews thought that the destruction of Herod's army came from God, and that very justly, as a punishment of what he did against John, that was called the Baptist: for Herod slew him, who was a good man, and commanded the Jews to exercise virtue, both as to righteousness towards one another, and piety towards God, and so to come to baptism... Accordingly he was sent a prisoner, out of Herod's suspicious temper, to Macherus, the castle I before mentioned, and was there put to death.

WHAT IT BACKS UP
John was a real preacher called the Baptist. He told people to live right and be baptized, Mark 1:4. Herod Antipas arrested and killed him, Mark 6:17 to 29. Josephus even names the place, the fortress of Machaerus, east of the Dead Sea.

WHY DID HEROD DO IT
Mark says Herod killed John because John said it was wrong for Herod to marry Herodias, his brother's wife, Mark 6:18. Josephus says Herod feared John's crowds might start a revolt. Both can be true. And Josephus tells the backstory: Herod dumped his first wife, the daughter of Aretas, to marry Herodias. That is exactly why Aretas went to war. Josephus confirms the scandalous marriage Mark talks about.

THE DANCING DAUGHTER
The Gospels never name the girl who danced for Herod. Josephus does. In Antiquities 18.136 he says Herodias had a daughter named Salome. That is how she got her name in later art and movies.

THE FORTRESS TODAY
Hungarian archaeologists led by Győző Vörös have dug at Machaerus since 2009. They uncovered the royal courtyard and what they believe was the throne area, the likely setting for the banquet in Mark 6.

CONFIDENCE
HIGH. Almost no scholar thinks a Christian wrote this. It does not even connect John to Jesus, which a Christian would have done.

More Things Josephus Backs Up

Josephus never set out to prove the Bible, which makes him a great witness. He just wrote history, and over and over his history matches the people and events of the New Testament.

BIBLE	JOSEPHUS	WHAT MATCHES
Matthew 2	Antiquities 15 to 17	Herod the Great was a ruthless, paranoid king who killed his own wife and sons. Killing the boys of Bethlehem fits him.
Matthew 2:22	Antiquities 17.317 to 320	After Herod died, his son Archelaus ruled Judea, so Joseph moved the family to Galilee.

BIBLE	JOSEPHUS	WHAT MATCHES
Luke 3:1	Antiquities 18	Tiberius, Pilate, Herod Antipas and Philip ruled exactly where Luke says.
John 18:13	Antiquities 18.26, 18.35, 20.198	Annas was high priest and Caiaphas, called Joseph Caiaphas, held the office about AD 18 to 36.
Luke 13:1	Antiquities 18.55 to 62, 85 to 89	Pilate was violent and stubborn. He was finally sent back to Rome after his troops attacked Samaritans in AD 36.
Acts 5:37	Antiquities 18.1 to 10	Judas the Galilean led a revolt over the Roman census.
Acts 11:28	Antiquities 20.51 to 53, 101	A great famine hit Judea under Emperor Claudius. A queen named Helena bought grain from Egypt to feed Jerusalem.
Acts 12:21 to 23	Antiquities 19.343 to 350	Herod Agrippa I wore shining royal robes in Caesarea, the crowd called him a god, he did not stop them, and he was struck with stomach pains and died five days later.
Acts 21:38	Jewish War 2.261 to 263	A false prophet called the Egyptian led a crowd into the wilderness. The Roman officer asks Paul if he is that man.
Acts 23:2	Antiquities 20.205 to 213; Jewish War 2.441	Ananias the high priest was greedy and violent. Jewish rebels killed him in AD 66.
Acts 24:24	Antiquities 20.141 to 143	Governor Felix married Drusilla, a Jewish princess who left her husband for him.
Acts 25:13	Antiquities 20.145	King Agrippa II and his sister Bernice were together so much that people gossiped.
Mark 13:2	Jewish War 6	The temple was burned and torn down by the Romans in AD 70. Josephus was there and watched.

TWO HONEST PUZZLES

Luke 2:2 ties Jesus' birth to a census when Quirinius governed Syria. Josephus dates Quirinius' census to AD 6, about ten years after Herod died. Scholars still argue about this one. Some think Luke meant an earlier census, and the Greek can be read as before Quirinius. Also, in Acts 5:36 the teacher Gamaliel mentions a rebel named Theudas, but Josephus puts a Theudas around AD 45, after Gamaliel's speech. It may be a different Theudas, since it was a common name, or one of the writers got the timing mixed up. We tell you, because a fair witness shows his whole hand.

EXHIBIT 2

TACITUS

Rome's greatest historian, and no fan of Christians

WHO	Publius Cornelius Tacitus, a Roman senator, governor of the province of Asia and the most respected historian of ancient Rome.
WHEN	He wrote the Annals around AD 116, about 85 years after the crucifixion.
WHERE	Annals book 15, section 44, in the story of the Great Fire of Rome in July of AD 64.
MANUSCRIPT	Books 11 to 16 of the Annals survive in one main manuscript, copied in the 1000s at the monastery of Monte Cassino in Italy. It is now in the Laurentian Library in Florence.

Rome burned for six days. People blamed Emperor Nero, so Nero found someone else to blame.

> TACITUS, ANNALS 15.44 · CHURCH AND BRODRIBB TRANSLATION, 1876
> Consequently, to get rid of the report, Nero fastened the guilt and inflicted the most exquisite tortures on a class hated for their abominations, called Christians by the populace. Christus, from whom the name had its origin, suffered the extreme penalty during the reign of Tiberius at the hands of one of our procurators, Pontius Pilatus, and a most mischievous superstition, thus checked for the moment, again broke out not only in Judaea, the first source of the evil, but even in Rome.

WHAT IT BACKS UP
Christ was a real person. He was executed, and the extreme penalty for a non Roman meant crucifixion. It happened under Emperor Tiberius, who ruled AD 14 to 37, by order of Pontius Pilate. The movement started in Judea and had reached Rome by the 60s. That is the Gospel timeline in one sentence from a man who could not stand Christians.

THE TITLE PUZZLE
Tacitus calls Pilate a procurator. A stone found at Caesarea in 1961 calls him a prefect. The title changed under Emperor Claudius, so Tacitus was probably using the word people used in his own day. Skeptics once called it a mistake that proved fakery. It is more like calling an old car a vintage car.

CHRISTIANS OR CHRESTIANS
Under ultraviolet light the manuscript shows that the word Christians was first written Chrestians and later corrected. It may mean the crowd in Rome said it wrong, or a copyist slipped. Either way it does not change the line about Christus.

WHERE DID HE GET IT
Tacitus does not say. He may have used Roman records, police reports from the trials, or what Christians themselves said. His friend Pliny the Younger, Exhibit 3, questioned Christians a few years earlier. Tacitus was careful and usually checked sources.

IS IT FAKE
Almost no scholars think so. The tone is hostile, the Latin is pure Tacitus, and no Christian would call his own faith a mischievous superstition. Fun fact: the part of the Annals that covered AD 29 to 31 is lost, and that may include the year Jesus died. So we will never know if Tacitus said more.

CONFIDENCE
HIGH.

EXHIBIT 3

PLINY THE YOUNGER

A Roman governor writes to the emperor for advice

WHO	Gaius Plinius Caecilius Secundus, a Roman lawyer and the governor of Bithynia and Pontus, in what is now northern Turkey. His uncle was Pliny the Elder, who died in the eruption of Mount Vesuvius.
WHEN	About AD 111 to 113. Letter 10.96, with Emperor Trajan's answer in letter 10.97.

MANUSCRIPT	Book 10 of his letters came down through one very old manuscript copied around AD 500 and kept at the abbey of Saint Victor in Paris. Aldus Manutius printed it in Venice in 1508. Only six leaves of that old book still exist, now at the Morgan Library in New York, and they hold other letters, not this one.

Pliny had a problem. People kept being accused of being Christians, and he was not sure what to do with them. So he wrote to the emperor and described what he had learned, partly by questioning two slave women the Christians called deaconesses, under torture.

> PLINY, LETTERS 10.96 · MELMOTH TRANSLATION, REVISED BY BOSANQUET
> They were in the habit of meeting on a certain fixed day before it was light, when they sang in alternate verses a hymn to Christ, as to a god, and bound themselves by a solemn oath, not to any wicked deeds, but never to commit any fraud, theft or adultery, never to falsify their word, nor deny a trust when they should be called upon to deliver it up.

WHAT IT BACKS UP

By about 80 years after the cross, Christians were in big numbers in Turkey, in cities and villages, men and women, slave and free. They worshiped Christ as God, not just as a dead teacher. They met early on a set day, which fits Sunday worship. They had women serving as deacons, like Phoebe in Romans 16:1. And they would die rather than curse Christ.

WHAT IT DOES NOT DO

Pliny says nothing about the life of Jesus. He is a witness to what Christians believed and did, not to Jesus' biography.

TRAJAN'S ANSWER

Do not hunt Christians down. Do not accept anonymous accusations. But if someone is proven to be a Christian and will not worship the Roman gods, punish him. In other words, being a Christian was itself a crime.

CONFIDENCE

HIGH that the letter is real.

SUETONIUS

The palace secretary who loved juicy details

WHO	Gaius Suetonius Tranquillus, a secretary to Emperor Hadrian with access to the imperial archives.
WHEN	The Lives of the Twelve Caesars, about AD 121.
MANUSCRIPT	The oldest copy is a manuscript in Paris copied in the 800s.

> SUETONIUS, LIFE OF CLAUDIUS 25.4 · J. C. ROLFE TRANSLATION, 1914
> Since the Jews constantly made disturbances at the instigation of Chrestus, he expelled them from Rome.

> SUETONIUS, LIFE OF NERO 16.2 · J. C. ROLFE TRANSLATION, 1914
> Punishment was inflicted on the Christians, a class of men given to a new and mischievous superstition.

WHAT IT BACKS UP
Acts 18:2 says Paul met Aquila and Priscilla in Corinth because Claudius had ordered all Jews to leave Rome. Suetonius confirms that expulsion. A later writer, Orosius, dates it to AD 49, which fits Paul's timeline in Acts.

WHO WAS CHRESTUS
Most scholars think Chrestus is a misspelling of Christus. Chrestus was a common slave name, and Greeks and Romans often mixed the two up. The fights were probably Jews arguing about whether Jesus was the Messiah. Suetonius seems to think Chrestus was in Rome stirring things up himself, which shows he only half understood the story. Some scholars think it was some other troublemaker named Chrestus.

CONFIDENCE
MEDIUM that Chrestus means Christ. HIGH that Nero punished Christians.

EXHIBIT 5

MARA BAR SERAPION

A father's letter from prison

WHO	Mara, son of Serapion, from Samosata in Syria, writing to his son. He was probably not a Christian.
WHEN	Sometime after AD 73. Most scholars place it in the late first century, though some say later.
MANUSCRIPT	One Syriac manuscript from the 500s or 600s, bought by the British Museum in 1843 and now in the British Library. William Cureton published the first English translation in 1855.

Mara tells his son that wisdom outlasts cruelty. He gives three examples: the Athenians who killed Socrates, the people of Samos who burned Pythagoras, and the Jews who killed their wise king.

> MARA BAR SERAPION, LETTER TO HIS SON · AFTER CURETON, 1855
> What advantage did the Jews gain from the murder of their wise king, seeing that from that very time their kingdom was driven away from them?

WHAT IT BACKS UP
Mara never says the name Jesus. But Pilate's sign over the cross called Jesus the King of the Jews, Mark 15:26. Mara says the wise king lives on through the new law he gave, and that the Jews lost their kingdom soon after, which happened in AD 70. Most scholars think he means Jesus.

CONFIDENCE
MEDIUM. The date and the meaning are both debated.

EXHIBIT 6

THALLUS AND PHLEGON

Two pagan writers and a very dark afternoon

The Gospels say darkness covered the land from noon to three o'clock while Jesus was on the cross, Mark 15:33. Two pagan writers seem to mention a darkness like it. Their own books are lost. We only know them because Christian writers quoted them.

THALLUS
A historian who wrote a history of the Mediterranean world, maybe around AD 52, though his date is debated. His work is lost. Julius Africanus, a Christian writing around AD 221, quotes him. Africanus' book is also lost, but a Byzantine monk named George Syncellus copied the quote around AD 800.

> JULIUS AFRICANUS, CHRONOGRAPHY, FRAGMENT 18 · ANTE NICENE FATHERS TRANSLATION
> On the whole world there pressed a most fearful darkness; and the rocks were rent by an earthquake, and many places in Judea and other districts were thrown down. This darkness Thallus, in the third book of his History, calls, as appears to me without reason, an eclipse of the sun.

WHY IT MATTERS
If Africanus is right, a pagan historian writing only about 20 years after the cross knew the story of the darkness and tried to explain it away as an eclipse. You do not explain away something nobody is talking about.

AFRICANUS' COMEBACK
He pointed out that a solar eclipse cannot happen at Passover, because Passover falls at full moon, when the moon is on the far side of the earth from the sun. Score one for Africanus.

PHLEGON
Phlegon of Tralles, a freed slave of Emperor Hadrian, wrote a history called the Olympiads around AD 140. Eusebius and others quote him saying that in the fourth year of the 202nd Olympiad, which is AD 32 or 33, there was the greatest eclipse ever known. At noon the day turned into night, stars came out, and a great earthquake in Bithynia knocked down buildings in the city of Nicaea. Origen adds that Phlegon also wrote about some of Jesus' predictions coming true.

THE HONEST DEBATE
Neither fragment, as it survives, names Jesus. Phlegon may have been describing a real eclipse that crossed the region on November 24, AD 29. And the quotes come to us secondhand. These are interesting clues, not courtroom proof.

CONFIDENCE
LOW to MEDIUM.

EXHIBIT 7

LUCIAN OF SAMOSATA

A Greek comedian roasts the Christians

WHO	A Greek satirist, the stand up comedian of his day. He made fun of philosophers, priests, gods and anyone gullible.
WHEN	The Passing of Peregrinus, about AD 165.

The story is about a con man named Peregrinus who joined the Christians, got rich off their kindness and became a big shot among them, until they kicked him out.

> LUCIAN, THE PASSING OF PEREGRINUS 13 · H. W. AND F. G. FOWLER TRANSLATION, 1905
> The Christians, you know, worship a man to this day, the distinguished personage who introduced their novel rites, and was crucified on that account.

WHAT IT BACKS UP
Christians worshiped a man who was crucified. In section 11 Lucian adds that he was crucified in Palestine. Lucian also says Christians looked after each other in prison, shared everything, called each other brothers and were not afraid to die. He meant it as a joke about how easy they were to fool. It reads like a compliment.

CONFIDENCE

HIGH that it is real. He tells us what pagans knew, not anything new about Jesus' life.

EXHIBIT 8

CELSUS

The first book written against Christianity

WHO	A Greek philosopher who wrote The True Word, an all out attack on Christianity.
WHEN	About AD 175 to 180. His book is lost, but around AD 248 Origen wrote a long answer called Against Celsus that quotes a large part of it.

> CELSUS, QUOTED IN ORIGEN, AGAINST CELSUS 1.28 · ANTE NICENE FATHERS TRANSLATION
> Having hired himself out as a servant in Egypt on account of his poverty, and having there acquired some miraculous powers, on which the Egyptians greatly pride themselves, he returned to his own country, highly elated on account of them, and by means of these proclaimed himself a God.

WHAT IT BACKS UP

Celsus attacked Jesus with everything he had, and he never said Jesus did not exist. He admits Jesus did amazing things. He just says it was Egyptian magic. That matches what Jesus' enemies said in the Gospels: He casts out demons by the prince of demons, Mark 3:22. Celsus also knew about the trip to Egypt, Matthew 2:14.

THE NASTY RUMOR

Celsus repeats a story that Jesus' real father was a Roman soldier named Panthera. Many scholars think this was a mean joke on the Greek word parthenos, which means virgin. Either way, it shows that even Jesus' enemies knew Christians claimed He was born of a virgin, and they knew there was something unusual about His birth.

CONFIDENCE

HIGH that Celsus wrote it. It is hostile testimony.

EXHIBIT 9

THE TALMUD

What some rabbis said

WHAT	The Talmud is the giant collection of Jewish teaching and debate. The Babylonian Talmud was finished around AD 500, but it contains older sayings.
WHERE	Sanhedrin 43a. The passage is labeled as an older teaching, which would place it in roughly AD 70 to 200, though scholars debate that.
MANUSCRIPTS	Christian censors cut this passage from many printed editions starting in the 1500s. It survives in medieval manuscripts copied before the censors got to work.

> BABYLONIAN TALMUD, SANHEDRIN 43A · RETOLD IN PLAIN ENGLISH
> On the eve of Passover they hanged Yeshu. For forty days before, a herald went out saying he would be stoned because he practiced sorcery and led Israel astray, and anyone who knew something in his defense should come and say it. Nobody did, so they hanged him on the eve of Passover. The passage adds that Yeshu had five disciples.

WHAT IT BACKS UP
A man called Yeshu, which is Jesus in Hebrew, was executed on the eve of Passover. John 19:14 puts the crucifixion on the day of preparation for Passover. Hanged is a word the New Testament also uses for crucifixion, Galatians 3:13. The charge of sorcery matches what His enemies said about His miracles. And the passage admits the Jewish leaders were involved.

THE DEBATE
Some scholars, like Peter Schäfer, think these Talmud stories are later answers to the Gospels, written to mock them, not independent history. Others doubt the passage is about Jesus of Nazareth at all. The forty day herald also does not fit the Gospels, where the trial was quick. Read it as what some rabbis believed centuries later, not as an eyewitness account.

TOLEDOT YESHU
A collection of Jewish stories called Toledot Yeshu, from the Middle Ages, tells a mocking life of Jesus. It is far too late to be history.

CONFIDENCE
MEDIUM that it refers to Jesus. LOW as independent history.

THE FIRST CHRISTIANS AFTER THE APOSTLES

Writings that are not in the Bible

These men were Christians, so they are not neutral. But they are early, and several of them knew the apostles or their students personally.

CLEMENT OF ROME, ABOUT AD 96
A leader in the church at Rome wrote to the church in Corinth. He talks about Peter and Paul as heroes of his own generation who died for their faith.

IGNATIUS OF ANTIOCH, ABOUT AD 110
On his way to be thrown to the lions in Rome, he wrote seven letters. He hammers on the facts of Jesus' life because some people were saying Jesus only seemed to have a body.

> IGNATIUS, LETTER TO THE TRALLIANS 9 · J. B. LIGHTFOOT TRANSLATION, 1891
> Jesus Christ, who was of the race of David, who was the Son of Mary, who was truly born and ate and drank, was truly persecuted under Pontius Pilate, was truly crucified and died.

POLYCARP OF SMYRNA, DIED ABOUT AD 155
A student of the apostle John, according to Irenaeus. When told to curse Christ or burn, he said he had served Him 86 years and He had never done him wrong. They burned him.

PAPIAS, ABOUT AD 110 TO 130
He collected what the apostles' followers remembered. He said Mark wrote down what Peter preached, and Matthew collected Jesus' sayings.

QUADRATUS, ABOUT AD 125
He wrote to Emperor Hadrian that some of the people Jesus healed or raised from the dead were still alive in his own lifetime. Eusebius preserved the quote. That is a bold claim to make to an emperor if it was easy to check and false.

JUSTIN MARTYR, ABOUT AD 155
A philosopher who became a Christian. He told the emperor he could check Jesus' birth in the census records of Quirinius and the records of Pontius Pilate. We do not have those records today, so we cannot test the claim.

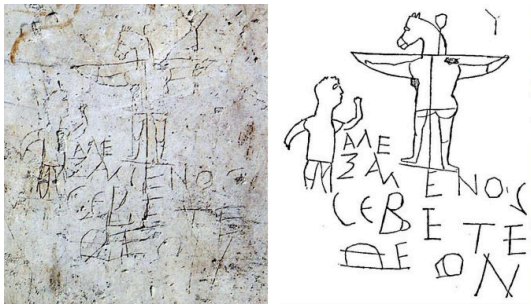
PHYSICAL EVIDENCE

Stones, a ring, coins and a cartoon

THE PILATE STONE
A limestone block found in 1961 in the theater at Caesarea Maritima. Its Latin inscription names Pontius Pilate, Prefect of Judea, and a building he dedicated to Emperor Tiberius. It is in the Israel Museum in Jerusalem. CONFIDENCE: HIGH.



THE PILATE RING
A small copper alloy ring found in 1968 or 1969 at Herodium. In 2018 scholars cleaned and photographed it and read the name Pilatus. It may have belonged to someone who worked for Pilate. CONFIDENCE: MEDIUM that it is connected to him.

PILATE'S COINS
Pilate minted small bronze coins around AD 29 to 31. Some show a priest's staff and a ladle used in pagan rituals, a strange choice in a Jewish land. They fit Philo's description of Pilate. CONFIDENCE: HIGH.

PHILO OF ALEXANDRIA
A Jewish philosopher who lived at the same time as Jesus. Around AD 41 he described Pilate as stubborn, harsh and cruel. That fits the Pilate of Luke 13:1 and Josephus. Philo never mentions Jesus.

THE CAIAPHAS OSSUARY
The bone box of the high priest who put Jesus on trial. See the Field Notes page in Matthew, p.1595. CONFIDENCE: HIGH.

THE JAMES OSSUARY
A bone box announced in 2002 with the words James, son of Joseph, brother of Jesus. The Israel Antiquities Authority said the last part was forged. Its owner was put on trial, and in 2012 a judge found him not guilty of forgery but said that did not prove the box was real. Experts are still split. CONFIDENCE: LOW. Do not lean on it.

THE ALEXAMENOS GRAFFITO
A cartoon scratched into a wall on Palatine Hill in Rome, around AD 200. It shows a man worshiping a crucified figure with a donkey's head. The caption says Alexamenos worships his god. It is the oldest known picture of the crucifixion, and it is an insult. Pagans thought worshiping a crucified man was ridiculous, 1 Corinthians 1:23. CONFIDENCE: HIGH that it mocks Christians.

CLOSING ARGUMENT

WHAT THE WITNESSES AGREE ON

Put them all together

Take away the Bible completely, and from these outside sources alone you can still piece together the following:

#	THE FACT	WHO SAYS SO
1	Jesus was a real Jewish man who lived in the early first century.	Josephus, Tacitus, the Talmud, Celsus
2	He was known as a wise teacher who did amazing deeds.	Josephus, Celsus, the Talmud
3	Some Jewish leaders brought charges against Him.	Josephus, the Talmud, Mara
4	He was executed by crucifixion under Pontius Pilate while Tiberius was emperor.	Tacitus, Josephus, Lucian
5	He was put to death around Passover.	The Talmud
6	His followers did not give up. They said He appeared to them alive.	Josephus, the Arabic version
7	He was called the Christ, and His followers were named Christians after Him.	Josephus, Tacitus, Suetonius, Pliny
8	Within a few decades Christians were in Rome and Turkey, worshiping Christ as God, and dying for it.	Tacitus, Suetonius, Pliny, Lucian
9	He had a brother named James, who was killed in Jerusalem around AD 62.	Josephus
10	John the Baptist was a real preacher killed by Herod Antipas.	Josephus

How Does That Compare

Alexander the Great died in 323 BC. The oldest full biographies of him that survive, by Plutarch and Arrian, were written around 400 years later. Nobody doubts Alexander existed. For Jesus we have four Gospels within about 60 years, Paul's letters within about 20 years, and outside witnesses starting within one lifetime. For a poor preacher from Nazareth who never led an army or ruled a city, that is a lot of paperwork.

What About People Who Say He Never Existed

There is a small group, sometimes called mythicists, who say Jesus never lived. A few have academic degrees, like Richard Carrier. But they are a tiny minority. Bart Ehrman, a well known scholar who is not a Christian and argues against much of the Bible, wrote a whole book in 2012 called Did Jesus Exist? His answer was yes, and he said nearly every expert agrees. Historians argue about who Jesus was. Very few argue about whether He was.

The Real Question

History can show you that Jesus lived, taught, was crucified under Pilate and that His followers said He rose from the dead. History cannot make you believe He did. That part is between you and Him. As Jesus asked Peter in Mark 8:29, But what about you? Who do you say I am?

So Jesus really lived. But some people say His story was copied from older gods like Horus and Mithras. Is that true?

NEXT IN THE BONUS SECTION: IS JESUS JUST A COPY OF HORUS, MITHRAS AND KRISHNA?

BONUS SECTION · MYTH OR HISTORY?

Is Jesus Just a Copy of Horus, Mithras and Krishna?

The internet says Jesus is an old myth with a new name. Here is what the old myths really say.

THE CLAIM	Long before Jesus, gods like Horus, Mithras and Krishna were said to be born of a virgin, many on December 25, with 12 disciples. They did miracles, died and rose again. So the Jesus story was copied.
WHERE YOU HEARD IT	The online movie Zeitgeist in 2007, Bill Maher's movie Religulous in 2008, and now endless TikToks and memes.
WHERE IT STARTED	Writers in the late 1700s and 1800s, before anyone could read most of the ancient sources they were talking about.
THE VERDICT	False. When you read the real myths, the matches mostly disappear. The ones that are left are small or come from after Jesus.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH. Even scholars who are not Christians reject the copycat claim.

The Story You Have Probably Heard

It usually starts with Horus. A narrator in a deep voice says that Horus, the god of ancient Egypt, was born of a virgin on December 25. A star in the east announced his birth, and three kings came to see him. He was a teacher at 12, baptized at 30, and had 12 disciples. He walked on water, was crucified, buried for three days, and rose again.

Then the list goes on. Attis, Krishna, Dionysus, Mithras. The same story, again and again, thousands of years before Jesus. So the Bible must have copied it, right?

It sounds convincing for about two minutes. Then you go and read what the Egyptians, Persians, Greeks and Indians actually wrote about their own gods.

Where This Idea Came From

THE 1700s AND 1800s. In 1795 a French writer named Charles Dupuis claimed that all religions, including Christianity, were really stories about the sun and the stars. In the 1800s and early 1900s Godfrey Higgins, Kersey Graves and Gerald Massey added more. Graves wrote a book in 1875 called The World's Sixteen Crucified Saviors. Massey wrote most of the Horus claims you see online today.

THE PROBLEM. None of these men could really read Egyptian. Egyptian hieroglyphs had only been cracked in 1822, and good translations were still rare. They often gave no sources at all. Later scholars checked and could not find their claims in the ancient texts.

THE GOLDEN BOUGH. In 1890 a Scottish scholar named James Frazer grouped many gods together as dying and rising gods, gods of the harvest who die every winter and come back every spring. That idea was popular for a long time.

THE INTERNET. In 1999 a writer using the name Acharya S put the old claims into a book called The Christ Conspiracy. In 2007 the online movie Zeitgeist turned them into a slick video watched by millions. From there they went everywhere.

Horus: The Real Story

Horus was one of the most important gods of ancient Egypt. He was shown as a falcon, or as a man with a falcon's head. Every pharaoh was said to be the living Horus on earth.

HIS BIRTH. His father was the god Osiris and his mother was the goddess Isis. Osiris was murdered by his jealous brother Set, who cut his body into pieces. Isis found the pieces and put him back together, and brought him back to life just long enough to conceive a son. That is not a virgin birth. Isis was Osiris's wife.

HIS CHILDHOOD. Isis hid baby Horus in the papyrus swamps of the Nile Delta to keep him safe from Set.

HIS LIFE. When he grew up, Horus fought Set for the throne of Egypt. In one battle Set tore out Horus's eye, and in most versions the god Thoth healed it. That is the famous Eye of Horus. In the end the gods made Horus king.

BORN ON DECEMBER 25?	No ancient Egyptian text says so. Egyptians celebrated his birth on their own calendar. A Greek writer named Plutarch, about AD 100, says the child Horus was born near the shortest day of winter, early and weak. That is close to December, but it is not December 25, and it is not a virgin birth.
A VIRGIN MOTHER?	No. Isis was married to Osiris. Online you may see her called Isis Meri, but Meri just means beloved, and it was not her name.
A STAR AND THREE KINGS?	Not in any Egyptian source.
BAPTIZED BY ANUP THE BAPTIZER?	There is no such person. Anubis, sometimes called Anup, was a jackal headed god of the dead.
12 DISCIPLES?	No. Horus had four sons who guarded the dead, but no 12 disciples.
CRUCIFIED AND RISEN?	No. Horus is never crucified. In one Egyptian story baby Horus dies from a scorpion sting in the swamps, and Thoth brings him back. That is a baby healed in a marsh, not a man raised from a tomb after three days.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that almost every claim in the Horus list is made up.

Mithras: The Real Story

There are really two Mithras, and the internet mixes them up.

MITHRA OF PERSIA. In old Persian and Indian religion, Mitra or Mithra was a god of promises and agreements, linked to the light of the sun. He is praised in the Avesta, the holy book of the Zoroastrians. There is no story of a virgin birth, 12 disciples, death or resurrection.

MITHRAS OF ROME. The Mithras most people mean was the god of a secret Roman club for men, popular with soldiers. Members met in small, dark rooms built to look like caves, and moved up through seven ranks. The oldest real evidence for this religion comes from the late first century AD, after the time of Jesus and after Christianity had already spread to Rome. So if anyone copied, it was not the Christians. Plutarch says some pirates kept secret rites for Mithra in 67 BC, but he wrote that 150 years later, and nothing links those pirates to the Roman club.

HIS BIRTH. Roman Mithras was born out of a rock as a young man, holding a dagger and a torch. A few carvings show shepherds watching. A rock is not a virgin, and he was never a baby in a manger.

HIS STORY. His big deed was killing a bull. That scene was carved in almost every Mithras temple. Then he shared a meal with the sun god and rode off with him in his chariot. He never dies, so he never rises.

Mithras killing the bull, a Roman marble carving from the 100s or 200s AD, Louvre, Paris. Photo by Jastrow, public domain.

BORN ON DECEMBER 25?	No ancient source says so. A Roman calendar from AD 354 lists December 25 as the birthday of the Unconquered Sun, Sol Invictus. Some think Emperor Aurelian started that festival in AD 274, when he built a temple to the sun, but no ancient writer says so. Some modern writers guess the Mithras club kept it too, but there is no proof.
12 DISCIPLES?	No. Some carvings show the 12 signs of the zodiac around him. Signs of the zodiac are not disciples.

A SACRED MEAL?	Members did share a meal, and the Christian writer Tertullian, about AD 200, said it looked like a copy of the Lord's Supper. He thought the copying went the other way.
SUNDAY?	Christians met on the first day of the week because Jesus rose that day, Acts 20:7 and Revelation 1:10. That was settled before Roman Mithras was popular.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH. The Roman Mithras religion grew up after Christianity, not before.

Krishna: The Real Story

Krishna is one of the most loved gods in Hinduism. Many Hindus believe he is the eighth avatar, or earthly form, of the god Vishnu. Others worship him as the highest God himself. His teaching in the Bhagavad Gita is one of the most famous religious texts in the world.

HIS BIRTH. Krishna's mother was Devaki and his father was Vasudeva. He was their eighth son. That means his mother was not a virgin. She had already had seven children.

THE WICKED KING. A voice warned Devaki's brother, the wicked King Kamsa, that her eighth son would kill him. So Kamsa locked the couple in prison and killed their babies. When Krishna was born, his father carried him across the Yamuna River to safety, and cowherders raised him. This does sound a little like King Herod in Matthew 2. But while Krishna killing Kamsa is an old story, the part about killing the babies first shows up in Hindu books written after the time of Jesus.

HIS LIFE. As a boy Krishna played tricks, stole butter, played the flute and killed demons. As a man he was a prince and a warrior, and he drove the chariot of the hero Arjuna in a great war.

HIS DEATH. A hunter named Jara mistook Krishna's foot for a deer and shot him with an arrow. Krishna died and returned to his home in the heavens. He was not crucified, and he did not rise from the dead.

BORN OF A VIRGIN?	No. He was his mother's eighth son.
BORN ON DECEMBER 25?	No. His birthday, Janmashtami, is in August or September.
A STAR IN THE EAST?	No. One Hindu book says the stars were lucky the night he was born, but no star leads anyone to him.
KRISHNA AND CHRIST SOUND ALIKE?	Only in English. Krishna is Sanskrit for dark or black. Christ is Greek for anointed one. They are not related.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that the big claims are false. MEDIUM for the baby killing king, which is real but written down late.

Attis: The Real Story

Attis came from Phrygia, in what is now Turkey. He was the young lover of the mother goddess Cybele.

HIS BIRTH. Here the internet is half right. In one Greek version, his mother Nana became pregnant when she put an almond, or in another version a pomegranate, in her lap. So yes, it is an odd kind of virgin birth. But it came from a fruit that grew from the blood of a wild, half monster god. That is not exactly Luke 1.

HIS DEATH. Attis was about to marry a princess. Cybele, also called Agdistis, was jealous and drove him mad, and he cut off his own private parts under a pine tree and died. His priests copied him by doing the same thing to themselves. This story does not get better from here.

DID HE RISE? In the stories we have, no, and they were written after Jesus. One says Zeus kept his body from rotting, so his hair kept growing and his little finger kept moving. Another says he turned into a pine tree. A Roman festival in March later celebrated joy for Attis, but clear evidence that people saw it as a rising from the dead comes from after Christianity spread.

BORN ON DECEMBER 25?	No. His festival was in March.
CRUCIFIED?	No. He died under a pine tree from a wound he gave himself.
RISEN AFTER THREE DAYS?	No early source says so.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that the Zeitgeist version is wrong.

Dionysus: The Real Story

Dionysus, called Bacchus by the Romans, was the Greek god of wine, parties and wild worship.

HIS BIRTH. His father was Zeus and his mother was Semele, a human princess. Zeus slept with her, so she was no virgin. Zeus's jealous wife Hera tricked Semele into asking to see Zeus in all his glory, and she burned up on the spot. Zeus saved the unborn baby and sewed him into his own thigh until he was ready to be born. That is why Dionysus was called twice born.

A DIFFERENT DEATH. In a later version, a baby Dionysus called Zagreus was torn apart and eaten by giant gods called Titans. Zeus saved his heart and he was born again. Being eaten and born again as a new baby is not the same as walking out of a tomb in the same body.

WINE MIRACLES. This part is real. The Greek writer Pausanias, in the 100s AD, says that at a festival in Elis, priests sealed three empty pots in a building overnight, and in the morning they were full of wine. Jesus turned water into wine too, John 2. But a god of wine having a wine trick at his own party is not a big surprise, and the stories look nothing alike.

BORN OF A VIRGIN ON DECEMBER 25?	No to both.
KING OF KINGS, ONLY BEGOTTEN SON, ALPHA AND OMEGA?	No ancient source calls him these. Those are Bible titles for Jesus, 1 Timothy 6:15, John 3:16 and Revelation 22:13, pasted onto Dionysus.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH for most claims. The wine miracles are a real but shallow match.

The Rest of the List

OSIRIS. The Egyptian god of the dead. Murdered and cut up by Set, put back together by Isis. He did not return to life on earth. He went down to rule the underworld. Christians believe Jesus rose to new life in the same body, Luke 24:39.

TAMMUZ. A Babylonian shepherd god, Dumuzi in Sumerian, whose death was mourned every year. The Bible itself mentions it. God showed Ezekiel women weeping for Tammuz at the temple gate and called it an abomination, Ezekiel 8:13 to 15. The Bible knew these gods and rejected them. One Sumerian poem says Dumuzi and his sister took turns, each spending half the year in the underworld.

BUDDHA. Born in India about 400 to 500 years before Jesus. His mother Maya was married to King Suddhodana. A later legend says she dreamed of a white elephant before he was born. He taught that suffering ends when desire ends, and he died at about 80 after eating a meal. He never claimed to be God and never claimed to rise.

THE SIXTEEN SAVIORS. Kersey Graves's 1875 list of crucified saviors included gods from Mexico, India, Persia and more. Almost none of them were crucified in any ancient source. Even skeptical writers today call his book unreliable.

The Star Signs Theory

Zeitgeist also says Jesus is really the sun moving through the sky. Here is how that works, and why it does not.

GOD'S SUN. The movie says Jesus is God's Sun, the light of the world. But son and sun only sound alike in English. The New Testament was written in Greek, where son is huios and sun is helios. Jesus did not speak English.

THE THREE KINGS. The movie says the three kings are the three stars of Orion's Belt, which point to the star Sirius. But the Bible never says there were three wise men, and it never calls them kings. It says magi came with three kinds of gifts, Matthew 2:11. The number three and the word kings come from later tradition.

DEAD FOR THREE DAYS. The movie says the sun stops moving south for three days in December, near the Southern Cross, then rises again on December 25. But the Southern Cross is far south in the sky, nowhere near the sun's path. And the Bible never gives December 25 as Jesus' birthday. See Was Jesus Born on December 25?, Luke, p.1649.

TWELVE DISCIPLES. The movie says the 12 disciples are the 12 signs of the zodiac. Jesus chose 12 because Israel had 12 tribes, Matthew 19:28. That number came from Genesis, not from the stars.

What the Experts Say

NOT JUST CHRISTIANS. Bart Ehrman is one of the best known New Testament scholars in the world, and he is not a Christian. In his 2012 book Did Jesus Exist?, he says Jesus certainly existed, and he says many of the claims about pagan gods like Horus are not found in any ancient source. See Exhibit A, Jesus in History, p.2120.

DYING AND RISING GODS. Scholars later took Frazer's idea apart. In 1987 Jonathan Z. Smith of the University of Chicago wrote that dying and rising gods are a modern category that does not really fit the ancient evidence. In 2001 Swedish scholar Tryggve Mettinger argued that a few gods, like Tammuz, Baal and Melqart, really were said to die and come back. But he also said there is no proof the story of Jesus was built on them.

THE BIG DIFFERENCE. Those gods die and return every year with the harvest, like spring after winter. Jesus died once, Hebrews 9:26, and rose once, at a real time, in a real place, and never died again, Romans 6:9.

Why Jesus Is Different

A REAL TIME AND PLACE. Myths happen once upon a time in a land far away. The Gospels name real rulers. Luke 3:1 dates John the Baptist's work to the fifteenth year of Emperor Tiberius, when Pontius Pilate governed Judea. Archaeologists have found a stone with Pilate's name on it, in 1961, and a bone box that may belong to the high priest Caiaphas, in 1990.

JEWISH FOLLOWERS. The first Christians were Jews who believed in one God and hated idols. They would sooner die than borrow from pagan gods, and some did. In Lystra, when people thought Paul and Barnabas were the gods Zeus and Hermes, the two of them tore their clothes in horror, Acts 14:11 to 15.

EARLY WITNESSES. Paul passed on a short creed that Jesus died, was buried, rose on the third day, and appeared to Peter, the twelve and more than 500 people at once, 1 Corinthians 15:3 to 8. Most scholars, even skeptics, date that creed to within a few years of the cross. That leaves very little time for a legend to grow.

NOT A MYTH. The letter of 2 Peter says, We did not follow cleverly devised myths, but we were eyewitnesses of His majesty, 2 Peter 1:16. Paul told a king that these things were not done in a corner, Acts 26:26.

Did the Early Christians Notice?

Yes, and they did not hide it. About AD 155, Justin Martyr wrote to the Roman emperor that when Christians say Jesus was born of a virgin, died and rose, they are saying nothing stranger than what Romans believe about the sons of Zeus. He thought the devil had tried to fake the coming of Christ ahead of time to confuse people. You do not have to agree with his answer. But it shows Christians were not secretly copying. They talked about both the likenesses and the differences in public.

The Verdict

Jesus is not a copy of Horus, Mithras, Krishna, Attis or Dionysus. Most of the matches on the internet lists were made up in the 1800s, and the few real ones are small, vague or come from after Christianity.

C.S. Lewis, who loved the old myths, came to Christ in 1931 after a long night talk with his friends J.R.R. Tolkien and Hugo Dyson. Tolkien showed him that the hunger in all those old stories, for a god who dies and brings life, was pointing at something real. In 1944 Lewis wrote that in Jesus, myth became fact. The old stories were people's dreams. Jesus is the day those dreams came true, in a real place, at a real time, with real witnesses.

God has put eternity into man's heart, Ecclesiastes 3:11. That is why people everywhere have longed for a Savior. The good news is that He really came.

Myths do not have eyewitnesses. Jesus did. So what happened to the men who said they saw Him alive again?

NEXT IN THE BONUS SECTION: HOW DID THE TWELVE APOSTLES DIE?

BONUS SECTION · NOBODY DIES FOR A LIE

How Did the Twelve Apostles Die?

What history says about the men who said they saw Jesus alive, and why it matters.

THE QUESTION	The apostles said they saw Jesus alive after He was crucified. What did that claim cost them?
THE SHORT ANSWER	Everything. The Bible and the early church say they were beaten, jailed, run out of town, and many were killed. Not one of them is ever recorded taking it back.
THE HONEST PART	For some apostles we have strong evidence. For others we only have legends written hundreds of years later, and they do not always agree. This page tells you which is which.
THE BIG IDEA	People die for lies they believe are true. Nobody dies for a lie they know is a lie. The apostles were in a position to know.

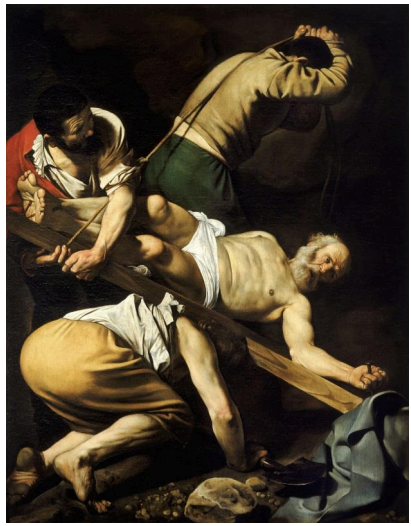
How Do We Know Anything About This?

The New Testament tells us how only two of the Twelve died. James, the brother of John, was killed for his faith. Judas Iscariot killed himself. For the rest, we depend on what Christians wrote after the Bible. Some of those writers were close to the events. Some were not. Here are the main kinds of sources, from best to worst.

THE BIBLE. Acts records the deaths of Stephen and James, and Jesus Himself predicted how Peter would die, John 21:18 to 19.

EARLY CHURCH WRITERS. Clement of Rome, about AD 96, wrote about Peter and Paul dying for their faith. He wrote from Rome, the city where later writers say they died. Later writers like Irenaeus, Tertullian, Origen and Clement of Alexandria added more, from about AD 180 to 250.

EUSEBIUS. About AD 325 the church historian Eusebius gathered many older reports in his Church History. He often quotes books that are now lost.



THE APOCRYPHAL ACTS. Books like the Acts of Peter, the Acts of Andrew and the Acts of Thomas were written from about AD 150 to 250 and later. They read like adventure novels, full of talking animals and wild miracles. They may keep some real memories, but you have to be careful with them.

MEDIEVAL LEGENDS. The Golden Legend, written in the 1260s, and Foxe's Book of Martyrs, from 1563, spread many of the stories you see online today. Most of their details cannot be traced back to early sources.

A Christian scholar named Sean McDowell spent years sorting all of this for his 2015 book The Fate of the Apostles. This page follows his kind of honest rating: HIGH when the evidence is strong, MEDIUM when it is likely, and LOW when it is only legend.

Peter

Peter was a fisherman, the loudest of the Twelve, and the one who denied Jesus three times on the night He was arrested. Fifty days later he was preaching in the streets of Jerusalem that Jesus had risen.

The Crucifixion of Saint Peter, by Caravaggio, 1601, Santa Maria del Popolo, Rome. Public domain.

HOW HE DIED	Crucified in Rome under Emperor Nero, about AD 64 to 67.
THE EVIDENCE	Jesus told Peter that when he was old, someone would stretch out his hands and take him where he did not want to go, to show by what kind of death he would glorify God, John 21:18 to 19. About AD 96, Clement of Rome wrote that Peter suffered many hardships and, having borne his witness, went to the place of glory. About AD 200, Tertullian said Peter was crucified in Rome like his Lord.
UPSIDE DOWN?	The Acts of Peter, about AD 180 to 190, says he asked to be crucified head down. Origen, about AD 250, says the same. Later, about AD 390, Jerome wrote that Peter felt he was not worthy to die the same way as Jesus. It is possible, but it comes from later sources.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that Peter died as a martyr in Rome. MEDIUM for upside down.

Andrew

Andrew was Peter's brother and one of the first two disciples to follow Jesus, John 1:35 to 42. He was the one who brought Peter to Jesus, and later brought the boy with the five loaves and two fish, John 6:8 to 9.

HOW HE DIED	Crucified at Patras, in Greece, according to the Acts of Andrew, written about AD 150 to 200. It says he was tied to the cross instead of nailed, so he suffered longer, and he preached to the crowd for days before he died.
CONFLICTING STORIES	Origen says Andrew preached in Scythia, near the Black Sea. The X shaped cross he is famous for, now on the flag of Scotland, comes from the Middle Ages. Early sources do not say what shape his cross was.
CONFIDENCE	MEDIUM that he was martyred. LOW for the X shaped cross.

James, Son of Zebedee

James and his brother John were fishermen whom Jesus nicknamed the Sons of Thunder, Mark 3:17. James was one of the three closest to Jesus, with Peter and John.

HOW HE DIED	Killed with the sword by King Herod Agrippa I in Jerusalem, about AD 44. He was the first of the Twelve to die for Jesus, Acts 12:1 to 2.
A STORY ABOUT HIS DEATH	Clement of Alexandria, about AD 200, as quoted by Eusebius, tells of the man who brought James to trial. When he saw James's courage, he became a believer on the spot, and the two were beheaded together.
ALSO TOLD	A medieval legend says James's body was carried to Spain. The famous pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostela grew from it.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH. It is in the Bible.

John

John was James's brother. Christians have long believed he was the beloved disciple Jesus spoke to from the cross, John 19:26 to 27. Jesus told James and John that they would drink the cup He would drink, Mark 10:39.

HOW HE DIED	Most early sources say John died of old age in Ephesus, in what is now Turkey, around AD 100, during the reign of Emperor Trajan. Irenaeus, about AD 180, says John lived in Ephesus until the time of Trajan. Irenaeus learned from Polycarp, who knew John. Polycrates of Ephesus, about AD 190, says John died there.
HE STILL SUFFERED	John was arrested and beaten with the other apostles, Acts 5:40, and later exiled to the island of Patmos for the word of God and the testimony of Jesus, Revelation 1:9. Tertullian, about AD 200, says John was dropped into boiling oil in Rome, came out unharmed, and was then sent to Patmos.

CONFLICTING STORIES	A fragment said to come from Papias, about AD 130, claims John was killed by the Jews. We only know it from writers who lived hundreds of years later, and most scholars doubt it.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that he suffered for his faith. MEDIUM to HIGH that he died of old age. LOW for the boiling oil.

Philip

Philip was from Bethsaida, the same town as Peter and Andrew. He brought Nathanael to Jesus, saying, Come and see, John 1:44 to 46.

HOW HE DIED	Philip died in Hierapolis, in what is now Turkey. About AD 190, Bishop Polycrates of Ephesus wrote that Philip, one of the Twelve, was buried there with two of his daughters. He does not say how Philip died.
CONFLICTING STORIES	The Acts of Philip, written in the 300s, says he was crucified upside down or hung by his ankles. Heracleon, about AD 170, lists Philip with apostles who did not die as martyrs. Some scholars also think Polycrates mixed him up with Philip the evangelist of Acts 6 and 21, who also had daughters.
HIS TOMB	In 2011 Italian archaeologists said they found a tomb in Hierapolis that early Christians honored as Philip's.
CONFIDENCE	MEDIUM to HIGH that he died in Hierapolis. LOW to MEDIUM that he was martyred.

Bartholomew

Bartholomew is probably the same man John calls Nathanael, the one Jesus called a true Israelite with nothing false in him, John 1:47. His name almost always appears next to Philip's.

HOW HE DIED	The most famous tradition says he preached in Armenia and was skinned alive and then beheaded or crucified there. The Armenian Apostolic Church honors him and Thaddeus as its founders. In Michelangelo's Last Judgment in the Sistine Chapel, Bartholomew holds his own skin.
CONFLICTING STORIES	Other legends say he was beheaded, crucified, or put in a sack and thrown into the sea. Eusebius says a teacher named Pantaenus visited India around AD 180 and found a Gospel of Matthew in Hebrew letters that Bartholomew had left there.
CONFIDENCE	LOW. The stories are late and do not agree, though Armenia is the strongest tradition.

Thomas

Thomas is remembered as Doubting Thomas, because he said he would not believe until he touched the wounds. When Jesus showed him, Thomas said, My Lord and my God, John 20:24 to 28. Before that, he was the one ready to die with Jesus, John 11:16.

HOW HE DIED	By tradition, speared to death in India. The Acts of Thomas, written in Syria in the early 200s, says soldiers of an Indian king killed him with spears.
THE INDIA EVIDENCE	The Acts of Thomas names a king called Gondophares. People once thought he was made up, but coins and an old stone inscription prove he was a real king who ruled part of what is now Pakistan and India in the first century. The Saint Thomas Christians of southern India say he came to them in AD 52 and was killed near what is now Chennai in AD 72. His traditional tomb is at the San Thome church there.
CONFLICTING STORIES	Origen says Thomas preached in Parthia, in Persia. Heracleon lists him with apostles who did not die as martyrs.
CONFIDENCE	MEDIUM. India is one of the strongest traditions we have for any apostle.

Matthew

Matthew, also called Levi, was a tax collector, a man most Jews hated as a traitor who worked for Rome. He left his tax booth to follow Jesus and threw a party for his friends, Luke 5:27 to 29.

HOW HE DIED	We do not know. Legends say he was killed in Ethiopia, in Persia or in Parthia, by sword, by spear, by fire or by stoning.
A SURPRISE	About AD 170 a teacher named Heracleon, quoted by Clement of Alexandria, said Matthew was not one of those who confessed Christ before judges and died for it. Heracleon was a Gnostic teacher the church rejected, but his list is one of the oldest we have.
CONFIDENCE	LOW for any one story.

James, Son of Alphaeus

We know almost nothing about this James except his name in the lists of the Twelve. He is often called James the Less, and in old writings he is easily mixed up with James the brother of Jesus.

HOW HE DIED	Legends say he was stoned in Jerusalem, crucified in Egypt, or sawn in pieces. Many of these stories really belong to James the brother of Jesus.
CONFIDENCE	LOW.

Thaddeus, Also Called Judas Son of James

Matthew and Mark call him Thaddeus. Luke and John call him Judas, not Iscariot, John 14:22. He asked Jesus at the Last Supper why He would show Himself to the disciples but not to the world.

HOW HE DIED	A popular tradition says he and Simon the Zealot preached together in Persia and were killed there, Thaddeus by a club or an axe, and Simon by being sawn in half.
CONFLICTING STORIES	Armenian tradition says he was martyred in Armenia. Other stories send him to Edessa, in what is now Turkey, but that may be a different Thaddeus, one of the seventy disciples Jesus sent out, Luke 10:1. Some Bibles say seventy two.
CONFIDENCE	LOW.

Simon the Zealot

The Zealots were Jews who wanted to drive the Romans out, by force if needed. Some scholars think Simon's name may just mean he was zealous for God's law. Jesus put Simon the Zealot on the same team as Matthew the tax collector, a man who had worked for Rome. Only Jesus could make that work.

HOW HE DIED	Legends disagree more for Simon than almost anyone. Sawn in half in Persia, crucified in Britain, crucified in Samaria, or died peacefully in Edessa.
A MIX UP	Hegesippus, about AD 170, says Simeon, a relative of Jesus who led the church in Jerusalem, was crucified at about 120 years old under Trajan. Some later writers mixed him up with Simon the Zealot.
CONFIDENCE	LOW.

Judas Iscariot

Judas was the treasurer of the Twelve, and he stole from the money bag, John 12:6. He sold Jesus for 30 pieces of silver.

HOW HE DIED	He killed himself. Matthew 27:5 says he hanged himself. Acts 1:18 says he fell headlong, his body burst open and his insides spilled out.
DO THEY CONFLICT?	Most Bible teachers see two views of the same death: he hanged himself, and his body later fell, maybe when the rope or the branch broke. Matthew tells how he died, and Luke, in Acts, tells what happened to the body.

CONFIDENCE	HIGH. It is in the Bible.

Notice the contrast. The apostle who betrayed Jesus died in guilt by his own hand. The others died, or suffered, for what they said they had seen.

Matthias, Who Took Judas's Place

After Jesus went up to heaven, the apostles needed a twelfth man who had been with them from John's baptism until Jesus was taken up, a witness of His resurrection, Acts 1:21 to 22. They cast lots and chose Matthias, Acts 1:26.

HOW HE DIED	Legends say he was stoned and then beheaded in Jerusalem, or that he preached and died in Ethiopia or in Colchis, in what is now Georgia.
CONFIDENCE	LOW.

Two More Witnesses: Paul and James

PAUL. Paul was not one of the Twelve, but he saw the risen Jesus on the road to Damascus, 1 Corinthians 15:8. He went from hunting Christians to being hunted. Five times the Jewish leaders gave him 39 lashes. He was beaten with rods three times, stoned once and shipwrecked three times, 2 Corinthians 11:24 to 25. Clement of Rome says he died for his faith. Tertullian and Eusebius say he was beheaded in Rome under Nero. Beheading was the death for a Roman citizen. CONFIDENCE: HIGH.

JAMES, THE BROTHER OF JESUS. During Jesus' ministry, His own brothers did not believe in Him, John 7:5. Then the risen Jesus appeared to James, 1 Corinthians 15:7, and James became the leader of the church in Jerusalem. The Jewish historian Josephus, who was not a Christian, says the high priest Ananus had James stoned in AD 62. Hegesippus says he was thrown from the temple, stoned and clubbed to death. CONFIDENCE: HIGH. What would it take for you to believe your brother was God?

STEPHEN. Not an apostle, but the first Christian martyr. He was stoned in Jerusalem while Saul, who later became Paul, watched over the coats of the men who stoned him, Acts 7:58 to 60 and 22:20.

What the Internet Lists Get Wrong

You have probably seen a meme that says all the apostles but John were martyred, with a gory death for each one. It is good preaching, but it overstates the case. For about half of the Twelve, all we have are legends from centuries later, and some early writers say a few of them died naturally.

Here is the good news. The argument does not depend on every apostle dying a martyr's death. It depends on something we know much more firmly: every one of them was willing to suffer for what he claimed to have seen. They were jailed and beaten, Acts 5:18 and 40. They were threatened and told to stop, and they answered, We cannot stop speaking about what we have seen and heard, Acts 4:20. And in all the records, friendly or hostile, there is not one story of an apostle taking it back.

Nobody Dies For a Lie

BUT PEOPLE DIE FOR LIES ALL THE TIME? True. The men who flew the planes on September 11, 2001 died for a lie. So did the followers of Jim Jones in 1978 and the Heaven's Gate group in 1997. But they died for something they believed. They did not make it up. They got it from someone else.

THE APOSTLES WERE DIFFERENT. They did not get the resurrection secondhand. They said they saw Jesus alive, talked with Him and ate with Him, Acts 10:39 to 41 and 1 John 1:1 to 3. If it was a lie, they knew it was a lie, because they were the ones who would have made it up. People will die for a lie they believe. Nobody dies for a lie they know is a lie.

THEY GOT NOTHING FOR IT. People lie to get money, power, fame or safety. The apostles got poverty, prison, beatings and death. Paul said if Christ has not been raised, we are of all people most to be pitied, 1 Corinthians 15:19.

THEY COULD HAVE WALKED AWAY. Around AD 112, Pliny, the Roman governor from Exhibit A, wrote that he let Christians go free if they would curse Christ and worship the emperor's statue, and he executed those who would not. These were ordinary Christians years after the apostles, but they faced the same choice. A few words and a pinch of incense would have saved them.

SOMETHING CHANGED THEM. On the night Jesus was arrested, they all ran away, Mark 14:50. Peter swore three times that he did not even know Him. A few weeks later the same men stood up in front of the same leaders who killed Jesus and would not stop talking. Cowards do not turn into heroes for a story they invented.

THE WATERGATE TEST. Chuck Colson was one of President Nixon's top men and went to prison for a crime tied to the Watergate scandal. He later wrote that the most powerful men in America could not keep a lie together for even three weeks once they faced prison. Yet the apostles kept their story for decades, under beatings, prison and death, and not one of them broke. Colson said that is how he knew the resurrection was true.

What This Means for You

The apostles were not asking anyone to believe a nice idea. They were telling people what they saw. They bet their lives on it, and most of them lost their lives for it.

Jesus told Thomas, Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed, John 20:29. You were not there. But the people who were there put their names, their freedom and their lives behind one message: He is risen.

The Twelve at a Glance

PETER	Crucified in Rome, about AD 64 to 67. Maybe upside down. HIGH.
ANDREW	Crucified at Patras, Greece. The X cross is a later legend. MEDIUM.
JAMES, SON OF ZEBEDEE	Killed with the sword by Herod Agrippa I, about AD 44, Acts 12:2. HIGH.
JOHN	Exiled to Patmos. Died of old age in Ephesus, about AD 100. HIGH that he suffered, MEDIUM to HIGH for natural death.
PHILIP	Died in Hierapolis. Martyrdom stories are late. LOW to MEDIUM.
BARTHOLOMEW	Skinned alive in Armenia, by tradition. Other stories differ. LOW.
THOMAS	Speared in India, about AD 72, by tradition. MEDIUM.
MATTHEW	Unknown. Legends disagree, and one early source says natural death. LOW.
JAMES, SON OF ALPHAEUS	Unknown. Often mixed up with James the brother of Jesus. LOW.
THADDEUS	Killed in Persia or Armenia, by tradition. LOW.
SIMON THE ZEALOT	Sawn in half in Persia, by one tradition. Many others. LOW.
JUDAS ISCARIOT	Hanged himself, Matthew 27:5 and Acts 1:18. HIGH.
MATTHIAS	Stoned in Jerusalem or died abroad, by tradition. LOW.

PAUL	Beheaded in Rome under Nero. HIGH.
JAMES, BROTHER OF JESUS	Stoned in Jerusalem in AD 62, Josephus. HIGH.
STEPHEN	Stoned in Jerusalem, Acts 7. HIGH.
WHAT IS STRONGEST	Every apostle suffered for saying Jesus rose from the dead. None of them ever took it back.

The Verdict

History cannot tell us exactly how every apostle died. Some died on crosses, some by the sword, some by spears and stones, and at least one, John, most likely died an old man in Ephesus. But it tells us something more important. Every one of them faced suffering, and not one of them changed his story.

Liars break under pressure. Witnesses do not. We did not follow cleverly devised myths, but we were eyewitnesses, 2 Peter 1:16.

The apostles told what they saw. But did a church council later pick which books made it into the Bible?

NEXT IN THE BONUS SECTION: DIDN'T THEY TAKE BOOKS OUT OF THE BIBLE AT NICAEA?

BONUS SECTION · MYTH OR HISTORY?

Didn't They Take Books Out of the Bible at the Council of Nicaea?

Short answer: no. Here is what really happened, and where the story came from.

THE CLAIM	At the Council of Nicaea, Emperor Constantine and the bishops picked which books went into the Bible and threw the rest out.
THE VERDICT	False. The council never voted on the books of the Bible. Not one of its records says a word about it.
WHEN	Late spring and summer of AD 325.
WHERE	Nicaea, a city in what is now Turkey. Today the town is called Iznik.
WHO CAME	About 250 to 300 bishops, mostly from the eastern half of the Roman Empire. Later tradition says 318.
WHAT IT DECIDED	That Jesus is fully God, the same as the Father. It also set how to find the date of Easter and made 20 rules for running churches.

The Story You Have Probably Heard

Maybe a friend told you. Maybe you saw it in a movie. The story goes like this: for 300 years Christians had dozens of gospels and nobody agreed on anything. Then in AD 325 Emperor Constantine called a big meeting at Nicaea. The bishops voted on which books to keep, tossed out the ones they did not like, and even voted that Jesus was God.

It is a great story. It is just not what happened.

What Really Happened at Nicaea

The fight at Nicaea was about one man's teaching. Arius was a popular priest in Alexandria, Egypt. He taught that the Son of God was created by the Father. His slogan was, there was a time when He was not. Arius said Jesus was the greatest of all created beings, but not God the way the Father is God.

His bishop, Alexander of Alexandria, said that was wrong. The argument spread across the empire. Constantine had just ended years of civil war, and he did not want the church splitting in two. So he called the bishops together and paid for their travel.

The bishops wrote a creed, a short statement of what Christians believe. It says Jesus is God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, of one being with the Father. The Greek word for of one being is homoousios.

Then they voted. It was not close. Almost every bishop signed. Only two refused, and they were sent away with Arius.

ON THE TABLE	Who Jesus is, the date of Easter, a split in the Egyptian church, and 20 church rules called canons.
NOT ON THE TABLE	Which books belong in the Bible. The creed, the 20 canons and the letters written by people who were there never mention it.

Did They Vote That Jesus Is God?

They voted on how to say it, not whether to believe it. Christians had worshiped Jesus as God for almost 300 years before Nicaea. John calls Him God, John 1:1. Thomas falls at His feet and says, My Lord and my God, John 20:28.

Even an enemy noticed. Remember Pliny, the Roman governor from Exhibit A? Around AD 112 he wrote to the emperor that Christians met before dawn and sang a hymn to Christ, as to a god. That was more than 200 years before Nicaea.

So When Was the Bible Put Together?

Nobody invented the Bible at a meeting. The church recognized books that were already being read as Scripture, and it happened slowly.

THE OLD TESTAMENT. Jesus already had a Bible. He called it the Law of Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms, Luke 24:44.

THE FOUR GOSPELS. By about AD 180, Irenaeus, a bishop in Gaul, wrote that there are four Gospels, no more and no fewer: Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. That is 145 years before Nicaea.

PAUL'S LETTERS. Peter already calls Paul's letters Scripture, 2 Peter 3:15 to 16.

A FEW BOOKS WERE DEBATED. Some churches were slow to accept Hebrews, James, 2 Peter, 2 and 3 John, Jude and Revelation. Some read extra books, like the Shepherd of Hermas. A few even treated it as Scripture for a while, but in the end the churches left it off the list.

THE FIRST EXACT LIST. In AD 367, 42 years after Nicaea, Bishop Athanasius wrote a letter listing the 27 books of our New Testament, the same 27 we have today. Church meetings at Hippo in AD 393 and Carthage in AD 397 agreed. For the whole story, see Why Do Some Bibles Have More Books?, p.2169.

What About the Lost Gospels?

The Gospel of Thomas, the Gospel of Judas and the Gospel of Mary are real ancient books. But they were written in the 100s and 200s, long after the apostles, and they were never in any church's list of Scripture. You cannot take a book out of the Bible that was never in it. They get their own pages next, What About the Gnostic Gospels?, p.2157.

Where the Myth Came From

A STRANGE LEGEND. About AD 887, more than 550 years after the council, an unknown Greek writer told a tale. He said the bishops set all the books by the altar and prayed, and the true books were found lying on the altar while the false ones lay underneath. Nothing like it is in the records of the council.

VOLTAIRE. In the 1760s the French writer Voltaire, who loved to poke fun at the church, retold that legend in his Philosophical Dictionary. Skeptics kept repeating it.

THE DA VINCI CODE. In 2003 Dan Brown published the novel The Da Vinci Code, and in 2006 it became a movie starring Tom Hanks. A character in the story says Constantine made a new Bible, left out the gospels that showed Jesus as human, and that Jesus became God by a close vote at Nicaea. The book sold more than 80 million copies, and suddenly everybody had heard it.

It is a novel. Novels are allowed to make things up. The trouble is that millions of people thought the history part was true.

THE CLAIM	Constantine chose the books of the Bible.
THE FACT	He did order 50 new copies of the Scriptures for the churches of his new city, Constantinople, around AD 331. The historian Eusebius tells the story. That was copying books, not choosing them.
THE CLAIM	Jesus became God by a close vote.
THE FACT	Almost every bishop signed. Christians had worshiped Jesus for 300 years.
THE CLAIM	The lost gospels were thrown out at Nicaea.
THE FACT	They were never in. No record from Nicaea mentions them.

ONE ODD LINE. About 75 years after the council, the scholar Jerome wrote that the Council of Nicaea is said to have counted the book of Judith as Scripture. No record from Nicaea says that, and Jerome only said it is reported, without saying where he got it. Even if it were true, it is the opposite of the myth: a book being kept, not books being thrown out.

The Day Santa Slapped a Heretic

Saint Nicholas slaps Arius, a wall painting at Sumela Monastery, near Trabzon, Turkey. Public domain.

Now for the best story from Nicaea. One of the bishops there, says tradition, was Nicholas, the bishop of Myra, a town on the southern coast of what is now Turkey. Yes, that Nicholas. Saint Nicholas. The one who became Santa Claus.

The story goes that Arius stood up and explained his teaching, on and on, that the Son of God was created. Nicholas listened as long as he could. Then he walked across the room and slapped Arius right across the face. Some versions say it was a punch.

The other bishops were shocked. Hitting someone in front of the emperor was a crime. They took away Nicholas's bishop's robe and his book of the Gospels and locked him in jail.

That night, the story says, Jesus and Mary appeared to Nicholas in his cell. Jesus handed him back his book of the Gospels, and Mary put his bishop's robe back on his shoulders. In the morning the guards found him dressed as a bishop again, and he was set free. Old icons in Greek and Russian churches still show this scene.

IS IT TRUE?	Probably not, at least not the way it is told. The earliest records of the council do not mention a slap, and Nicholas's name is missing from some of the oldest lists of the bishops who were there. The story first shows up in writing about 1,000 years later, in the late 1300s. The oldest version does not even name Arius. It just says Nicholas hit a follower of Arius.
CONFIDENCE	LOW for the slap. HIGH that Nicholas of Myra was a real bishop in the 300s. MEDIUM that he was at Nicaea.
THE LESSON	Even Santa ended up on the naughty list that day. Jesus said, If someone slaps you on your right cheek, turn to him the other also, Matthew 5:39. He did not say, slap the heretic first.

The Verdict

The Council of Nicaea was a real meeting about a real question: who is Jesus? The bishops answered that He is true God from true God. They did not pick the books of the Bible, they did not throw any books out, and they did not turn Jesus into God by a close vote.

The books of the Bible were recognized by Christians over time because they were already being read as the word of God. The church did not create the Bible. The Bible created the church.

Santa will be back later in this section. First, let us look at the books people say got thrown out at Nicaea.

NEXT IN THE BONUS SECTION: WHAT ABOUT THE GNOSTIC GOSPELS?

BONUS SECTION · MYTH OR HISTORY?

What About the Gnostic Gospels?

The so called lost books of the Bible, who really wrote them, and why they never made the cut.

THE CLAIM	The Gospel of Thomas, the Gospel of Mary, the Gospel of Judas and books like them were real gospels that got taken out of the Bible at the Council of Nicaea.
THE VERDICT	False. Nicaea never voted on the books of the Bible, and these books were never in it. You cannot take out a book that was never in.
WHEN THEY WERE WRITTEN	Mostly from about AD 140 to 300. That is about 100 to 270 years after Jesus, long after every apostle had died.
WHO WROTE THEM	Nobody knows. The writers borrowed famous names like Thomas, Philip, Mary and Judas to make their books sound important.
WHERE THEY WERE FOUND	Most in Egypt. The biggest find was a jar of old books dug up near Nag Hammadi in 1945.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that these books came long after the four Gospels.

The Books They Say Got Banned

You already know the myth from the Nicaea pages. The story says Emperor Constantine and the bishops threw out a pile of gospels they did not like. When people name those banned books, these are almost always the ones they mean.

Here is the twist. These books are real. They are old. Some of them are interesting. But they were never part of the Bible, and nobody at Nicaea voted on them. The church had already been warning people about them for 150 years.

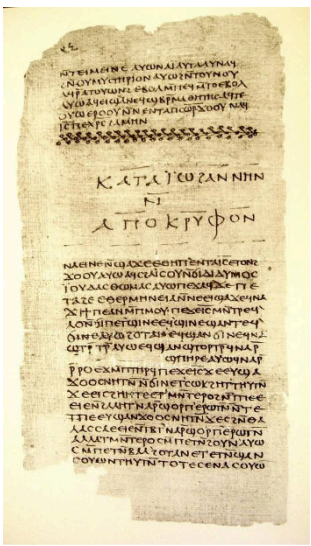
The best way to describe most of them is fan fiction. Fan fiction is when a fan takes famous characters from a story they love and writes brand new adventures for them. The characters are real. The new adventures are not. That is what happened here. Writers in the 100s and 200s took Jesus, Peter, Mary Magdalene and Judas and wrote new stories that put their own ideas in Jesus' mouth.

Who Were the Gnostics?

The word Gnostic comes from the Greek word gnosis, which means knowledge. The Gnostics were groups in the 100s and 200s who mixed bits of Christianity with Greek philosophy and their own myths. There were many kinds, and they did not all agree, but most of them shared a few big ideas.

THE BODY IS BAD	Most Gnostics taught that the physical world is evil or broken. Your body is a prison, and your spirit is trying to escape.

A LESSER GOD	Many taught that the God of the Old Testament was a lower, clumsy or even evil god who made the world by mistake. Some called him Yaldabaoth.
SECRET KNOWLEDGE	You are saved by learning secret knowledge, not by faith in Jesus' death and resurrection. Only a few special people can understand it.
A JESUS WITH NO REAL BODY	Many said Jesus only seemed to have a body, or that the real Christ left before the cross. So He did not really die and did not really rise in the flesh.



Now compare that with the Bible. Genesis says God made the world and called it very good, Genesis 1:31. John says the Word became flesh, John 1:14. Paul says if Christ was not raised, our faith is useless, 1 Corinthians 15:17. John even warns that any spirit who will not say Jesus Christ came in the flesh is not from God, 1 John 4:2 to 3.

Paul warned Timothy to turn away from what is falsely called knowledge, 1 Timothy 6:20. The Greek word Paul used there is gnosis. The fight had already started.

The Jar in the Desert

In December 1945, a farmer named Muhammad Ali al Samman was digging for soft soil to use as fertilizer near the town of Nag Hammadi in Egypt. He hit a large clay jar. He was afraid it might hold an evil spirit, but he also hoped it might hold gold, so he smashed it.

Inside were 12 old leather covered books, plus loose pages from a 13th, written in Coptic, the language of Egypt at the time. Today they are called the Nag Hammadi library. Together they hold 52 writings. The story goes that some pages were burned in the family's oven before anyone knew what they were.

A page from Nag Hammadi Codex II, made in the 300s. The top lines end the Secret Book of John. The bottom starts the Gospel of Thomas. Public domain.

The books themselves were made in the middle 300s. We know because scrap paper used to stiffen the covers includes old letters and receipts with dates in the AD 340s. Someone buried them in the desert, probably in the late 300s. Some scholars think monks from a nearby monastery hid them after church leaders warned against these books, but nobody knows for sure.

Here is a fun fact. One of the writings in the jar is a short piece of Plato's Republic, the famous Greek philosophy book written about 375 BC. That tells you something. This was not a lost Bible. It was a library of spiritual books that a group of people liked to read.

How We Know They Came Later

Scholars do not just guess at the dates. Several clues all point the same way.

CLUE 1, THE EARLY CHURCH SAID SO. About AD 180, a bishop named Irenaeus wrote a five part book called Against Heresies. He names the Gospel of Judas and the Gospel of Truth, and he describes Gnostic myths found in the Nag Hammadi books. He says the Gospel of Truth was written not long ago and agrees in nothing with the Gospels of the apostles. So these books were new in his day, about 150 years after Jesus.

CLUE 2, THEY BORROW FROM OUR GOSPELS. Many of these books quote or copy lines from Matthew, Mark, Luke, John and Paul's letters. A book that copies from another book has to be written after it. Our four Gospels were written in the first century, while people who knew Jesus were still alive.

CLUE 3, THE IDEAS CAME LATER. The big Gnostic myths, with their ranks of heavenly beings and a foolish creator god, match teachers who lived in the 100s, like Valentinus and Basilides. They do not match anything in the first century.

CLUE 4, THE SETTING IS MISSING. Matthew, Mark, Luke and John are packed with real places, real rulers, real Jewish customs and real Jewish names. Most Gnostic gospels have almost none. Jesus talks in an empty space, like a voice in a dream. That is what you expect from someone who never saw first century Israel.

CLUE 5, THE NAMES ARE WRONG. This one is so good it gets its own section.

CLUE 6, THE OLDEST COPIES ARE LATER. The oldest scraps of the four Gospels are often dated to the 100s. The oldest scraps of any Gnostic gospel come from the 200s, and most full copies come from the 300s and later.

The Names Test

Bible scholars Richard Bauckham and Peter J. Williams noticed something amazing. Another scholar, Tal Ilan, made a giant list of every Jewish name we know from Israel between about 330 BC and AD 200, from tombs, letters, coins and books. It has nearly 3,000 people in it. Then they compared it to the names in the Gospels. Bible teacher Wes Huff talked about this on The Joe Rogan Experience in 2025 and helped make it popular.

MOST COMMON MEN'S NAMES	Simon was number 1. Joseph was number 2. Then Eleazar, which is Lazarus, Judah, which is Judas, John and Joshua, which is Jesus.
IN THE GOSPELS	The same names come out on top. Simon and Joseph are the two most common names in the Gospels and Acts too. For women, Mary and Salome were the two most common names in Israel, and both show up in the Gospels.

Here is why that matters. If you wrote a fake story today about a town in another country 2,000 years ago, you would never get the popular names right. You would not know them. The Gospel writers got them exactly right, because they were writing about real people they knew.

They even have the problem real people have. There are so many Simons and Marys that the Gospels have to add nicknames to tell them apart. Simon Peter, Simon the Zealot and Simon of Cyrene. Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James and Mary the wife of Clopas. That is what happens in a town where so many guys are named Simon. Think of a classroom with four kids named Jacob.

Now look at the Gnostic gospels. They use only a handful of famous names, like Peter, Thomas, Mary and Judas, mostly copied from the Bible. Peter Williams points out that they do not show the local pattern the Gospels show. The Gospel of Judas fills the rest of its pages with made up names for heavenly beings, like Barbelo, Saklas, Nebro and Yaldabaoth. No mom in first century Galilee ever named her baby Yaldabaoth. Wes Huff has pointed out that the names in the Gospel of Judas almost never show up in Judea and Galilee in Jesus' day, but they fit Egypt in the 200s and 300s. That is exactly where and when our only copy was made.

The Gnostic Gospels, One by One

Here is every book people usually mean when they say the lost gospels, starting with the true Gnostic books. Dates are what most scholars think, and we tell you when they disagree.

The Gospel of Thomas

The most famous one. It is not a story at all. It is a list of 114 sayings that start with the words, Jesus said. About half sound a lot like sayings in Matthew, Mark and Luke. The rest sound strange. The last saying has Peter tell Mary to leave because women are not worthy of life, and Jesus answers that He will make her male so she can enter the kingdom. There is no birth, no miracles, no cross and no resurrection.

WRITTEN	Most scholars say the middle 100s. A smaller group, including the famous Jesus Seminar in 1993, argued for the first century and called it a fifth gospel. Others answer that it borrows from the four Gospels and even uses wording from later Syriac Christianity.

OLDEST COPIES	Three Greek scraps found at Oxyrhynchus, Egypt, from about AD 200 to 250. The full copy is in Coptic, from the Nag Hammadi jar, made in the 300s.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	The wider church never read it as Scripture, and early writers warned against it. Only fringe groups used it. Its Jesus saves by secret sayings, not by His death and resurrection. Some scholars call it only partly Gnostic, but it still fits the secret knowledge pattern.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that it is not from the apostle Thomas. MEDIUM on the exact date.

The Gospel of Philip

A rambling collection of thoughts about secret rituals, especially one called the bridal chamber. It is famous for one line that says Jesus loved Mary Magdalene more than the other disciples and used to kiss her on the. Then there is a hole in the page. The Da Vinci Code filled in the hole with the word mouth. Nobody knows what the missing word was. Other Gnostic books have Jesus kiss male disciples too, and kissing was a normal greeting among believers, Romans 16:16.

WRITTEN	Probably the 200s.
OLDEST COPY	One Coptic copy from the Nag Hammadi jar, 300s.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	It is full of Valentinian Gnostic teaching from the 100s and 200s. It was never read in any church. The Da Vinci Code also said its word for companion proves Jesus was married. The word is a Greek loan word that usually means partner or companion. It does not have to mean wife, and the book never says Jesus was married.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Gospel of Truth

Not really a gospel. It is a poetic sermon about how people forgot the Father and were saved when Jesus brought them knowledge. It is lovely in places, but it tells almost nothing about Jesus' life.

WRITTEN	About AD 140 to 180. Some scholars think the Gnostic teacher Valentinus wrote it himself.
OLDEST COPIES	Two Coptic copies from the Nag Hammadi jar, 300s.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	Irenaeus, about AD 180, says the followers of Valentinus wrote a Gospel of Truth not long ago, and that it agrees in nothing with the real Gospels. Most scholars think this is the same book.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Gospel of the Egyptians

Also called the Holy Book of the Great Invisible Spirit. It is a long, strange myth about heavenly beings with names like Barbelo and the great Seth, who comes down to save his chosen family. Jesus barely appears. It is not the same book as an older Greek Gospel of the Egyptians that the church writer Clement of Alexandria quoted, which is lost.

WRITTEN	Probably the 200s.
OLDEST COPIES	Two Coptic copies from the Nag Hammadi jar, 300s.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	It teaches a whole Gnostic universe that is found nowhere in the Old or New Testament. Its hero is Seth, not Jesus.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Gospel of Mary

After the resurrection, a woman named Mary, usually thought to be Mary Magdalene, tells the disciples about a secret vision Jesus gave her about how the soul climbs past evil powers to rest. Andrew says these sound like strange ideas. Peter asks if Jesus really talked to a woman in private and not to them. Levi defends her. About half the pages are missing, including the first six.

WRITTEN	The 100s, probably the second half.
OLDEST COPIES	Two Greek scraps from the 200s. The longest copy is in Coptic, in the Berlin Codex, a book bought in Cairo in 1896 and made in the 400s or 500s. It was not in the Nag Hammadi jar.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	Its message is the Gnostic climb of the soul past heavenly gatekeepers, not the gospel of the cross. No early list of Scripture ever names it. It is worth knowing that the real Gospels already honor Mary Magdalene as the first person to see the risen Jesus, John 20:11 to 18. She did not need a fake gospel.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Gospel of Judas

The book that made headlines when National Geographic published it in 2006. In it, Judas is the hero. Jesus laughs at the other disciples and tells Judas he will do something greater than all of them. He will sacrifice the man that clothes Jesus, meaning he will help Jesus escape His body. A big part of the book is a long myth about heavenly beings like Barbelo, Saklas and Nebro. It ends with Judas handing Jesus over and getting paid.

WRITTEN	Before about AD 180, because Irenaeus names a Gospel of Judas used by a Gnostic group. Most scholars say the middle 100s.

OLDEST COPY	One Coptic copy in a book called Codex Tchacos, found in Egypt in the 1970s. Carbon dating puts it at about AD 220 to 340. It sat in a bank box in New York for years and was badly damaged before scholars got it.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	Irenaeus already called it a made up story in AD 180. Its Jesus hates the body and mocks the God of the Bible. Some scholars who studied it later even argue Judas is not really a hero in it, just a tool of evil powers.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Secret Book of John

Also called the Apocryphon of John. The risen Jesus appears to John and explains the secret story of creation. A high spiritual being named Sophia, which means wisdom, makes a mistake and gives birth to Yaldabaoth, an ugly lion faced god who thinks he is the only God. That is the god who made our world. In this story, Jesus says it was He who got Adam and Eve to eat from the tree of knowledge, to help them escape the lesser god.

WRITTEN	The 100s. Irenaeus, about AD 180, describes a myth very close to it.
OLDEST COPIES	Four Coptic copies, three from Nag Hammadi and one in the Berlin Codex. So it was clearly popular with Gnostics.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	It turns the God of Genesis into a villain. That is the opposite of what Jesus taught, who called the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob His Father, Matthew 22:32, John 8:54.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Rest of the Gnostic Shelf

These get mentioned less, but people sometimes list them as lost gospels too.

SECRET BOOK OF JAMES	A letter where Jesus gives Peter and James secret teaching 550 days after the resurrection. Written in the 100s or 200s. Nag Hammadi.
DIALOGUE OF THE SAVIOR	Jesus answers questions from Judas, Matthew and Mary about the soul and the end. Written in the 100s or 200s. Nag Hammadi.
BOOK OF THOMAS THE CONTENDER	Jesus tells Thomas to escape the fire of bodily desire. Written in the 200s. Nag Hammadi.
WISDOM OF JESUS CHRIST	Also called the Sophia of Jesus Christ. A Gnostic letter called Eugnostos, rewritten so that Jesus says the words. Written in the 100s or 200s. Nag Hammadi and the Berlin Codex.
THE COPTIC APOCALYPSE OF PETER	Peter sees a vision of the cross, and the real Jesus stands nearby laughing while only His body is nailed up. Written in the 200s. Nag Hammadi. Not the same as an older Greek Apocalypse of Peter that some early churches read.

PISTIS SOPHIA	Jesus stays on earth 11 years after the resurrection and teaches long secret lessons. Written in the 200s. Found in the Askew Codex, which the British Museum bought in 1785.
THE BOOKS OF JEU	Secret passwords and seals for getting past the rulers of the heavens. Written in the 200s. Found in the Bruce Codex, bought in Egypt in 1769.
WHY NONE ARE SCRIPTURE	All of them are late, all of them teach the Gnostic myth, and none of them were ever read in the churches as the word of God.

Not Gnostic, But Often Lumped In

Some books get thrown in with the Gnostic gospels even though they are not Gnostic. They are more like Bible fan fiction from regular Christians, written to fill in the parts the Gospels skip, like Jesus' childhood.

The Infancy Gospel of Thomas

Stories about Jesus as a boy from age 5 to 12. He makes sparrows out of clay and they fly away. When a boy bumps into Him, Jesus curses him and the boy drops dead. When a teacher hits Him during an alphabet lesson, Jesus curses him and the teacher falls to the ground. Later He heals people and the stories get nicer. It is a little like a superhero origin story, written by someone who forgot that Jesus never sinned.

WRITTEN	The late 100s. Irenaeus mentions the alphabet story.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	John says turning water into wine was the first of Jesus' signs, John 2:11. So the Bible points to no childhood miracles. This Jesus is mean in a way the real Jesus never was. The clay birds story is also told in the Quran, Surah 3:49 and 5:110.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Gospel of Peter

Only part of it survives. It tells the trial, death and resurrection of Jesus. It blames Herod instead of Pilate. On the cross, Jesus is silent as if He felt no pain. At the tomb, two angels come out with heads that reach up to the sky, holding up a third whose head goes past the sky, and a cross floats out behind them and talks.

WRITTEN	About AD 150.
LONGEST COPY	A copy from the 700s to 900s, found in a monk's grave at Akhmim, Egypt, in 1886 to 1887. Two tiny older scraps from Oxyrhynchus may also be from this book.

WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	Around AD 200, Bishop Serapion of Antioch at first let a church read it. Then he read it himself, found false teaching about Jesus' body in it, and banned it. The historian Eusebius tells the story. Also, a talking cross.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Gospel of Nicodemus

Also called the Acts of Pilate. It retells Jesus' trial with extra witnesses, then tells how Jesus went down to the dead and set Adam and the Old Testament saints free. That part is called the harrowing of hell, and it became very popular in the Middle Ages.

WRITTEN	In its present form, the 300s or 400s. Justin Martyr, about AD 150, mentions Acts of Pilate, but he probably meant official Roman records, not this book.
WHY IT IS NOT SCRIPTURE	It is centuries too late and was written to build on the Gospels, not to report what eyewitnesses saw.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Jewish Christian Gospels

Early church writers mention a Gospel of the Hebrews, a Gospel of the Nazarenes and a Gospel of the Ebionites. We do not have any of them. We only have short quotes in books by Origen, Jerome and Epiphanius. The Ebionite one turned John the Baptist into a vegetarian. It changed his locusts into honey cakes.

WRITTEN	The 100s.
WHY THEY ARE NOT SCRIPTURE	They seem to be reworked versions of Matthew, used by small groups who mixed faith in Jesus with strict Jewish law, and some of them denied that Jesus was born of a virgin. The wider church never read them as Scripture.
CONFIDENCE	MEDIUM, because so little survives.

The Gospel of Barnabas

This one is often shared online by Muslims, because in it Jesus says He is not the Messiah, and He says Muhammad is coming. It also says Judas was made to look like Jesus and was crucified in His place.

WRITTEN	The 1300s to 1500s, more than 1,300 years after Jesus. The two old copies are in Italian and Spanish.
HOW WE KNOW	It mentions a Jubilee every 100 years. That was a rule made by Pope Boniface VIII in the year 1300 and changed in 1343. A first century writer could not know about it. It also contradicts the Quran itself, which calls Jesus the Messiah.

CONFIDENCE	HIGH that it is a medieval book.

What Do These Books Have to Do With the Quran?

Islam began around AD 610, when Muhammad said the angel Gabriel was bringing him messages from God in Arabia. Muslims believe the Quran is God's own word. It honors Jesus, calls Him the Messiah, and says it confirms the Torah and the Gospel that came before it, Surah 3:3 and 5:46.

Here is what surprises a lot of people. Several of the Quran's stories about Jesus and Mary are not in the Bible at all. But stories very much like them show up in the books on this page and in other Christian legends written long after the apostles.

CLAY BIRDS	The Quran says Jesus made birds out of clay, breathed on them, and they flew, Surah 3:49 and 5:110. That story is not in the Bible, but a very close version is in the Infancy Gospel of Thomas, from the late 100s.
THE TALKING BABY	The Quran says newborn Jesus spoke from the cradle to defend His mother, Surah 19:29 to 33. In the Arabic Infancy Gospel, baby Jesus also speaks from the cradle, but there He tells Mary that He is the Son of God. Its oldest copies are from long after the Quran, and scholars argue about how old the story really is, so this one is less certain.
THE PALM TREE	The Quran says Mary gave birth under a palm tree, which dropped fresh dates, and a stream flowed beneath her, Surah 19:23 to 26. In the Gospel of Pseudo Matthew, a palm tree bends down to give Mary dates and a spring bursts out of its roots, during the trip to Egypt. That book was written around the same time as the Quran or later, so neither one copied the other. Scholars think both came from an older Christian story told near Bethlehem.
SOMEONE ELSE ON THE CROSS	The Quran says Jesus was not killed or crucified, but it was made to look that way, Surah 4:157. That idea sounds a lot like what some Gnostic teachers said centuries earlier. About AD 180, Irenaeus wrote that the Gnostic teacher Basilides taught that Simon of Cyrene died in Jesus' place. A Nag Hammadi book called the Second Treatise of the Great Seth has Jesus laughing while another man suffers.

So how did these stories get to Arabia? In Muhammad's day there was no Arabic Bible that we know of. The oldest Arabic copies of the Gospels we have come from after Islam began. Most people could not read, and books were rare and very expensive. So Christian stories traveled by word of mouth, from Syriac speaking Christians, monks, traders and Christian tribes in Arabia. A Bible story and a popular legend sounded the same when someone told them around a fire. A listener had no way to look it up.

The Quran also retells some Jewish teachings that are not in the Old Testament. Surah 5:32 says that killing one person is like killing all people, and saving one is like saving all people. That saying is in the Mishnah, a Jewish book from about AD 200. Even the story of a raven showing Cain how to bury Abel, Surah 5:31, has a cousin in Jewish legends where a raven teaches Adam.

Muslims answer that God told Muhammad what really happened, and that some true events were also remembered in other books. Many historians see it another way. They say the Quran repeats stories that were going around at the time, including legends written hundreds of years after Jesus. Either way, one fact is clear. The Bible itself does not contain these stories. If a book says it confirms the Gospel, but some of its stories about Jesus match legends written centuries later instead, that is worth thinking about.

Two Modern Fakes

THE SECRET GOSPEL OF MARK. In 1958, a scholar named Morton Smith said he found a copy of an old letter at the Mar Saba monastery near Jerusalem. The letter quotes a secret, longer Gospel of Mark. Only photos exist now. The original page went missing. Many scholars think Smith faked it himself, while others still defend it. Confidence that it is real: LOW.

THE GOSPEL OF JESUS' WIFE. In 2012, a Harvard professor announced a tiny scrap of papyrus where Jesus says, my wife. It made the news all over the world. In 2016, a reporter tracked down the man who sold it and showed it was a modern forgery, and the professor agreed it was probably fake. Confidence that it is real: none.

So Who Really Took Books Out of the Bible?

Funny story. The first person we know of who cut books out of the Bible was not a bishop at Nicaea. It was a rich ship owner named Marcion, around AD 140. He decided the God of the Old Testament was a different, harsher god than the Father of Jesus. So he threw out the whole Old Testament, kept only an edited version of Luke and ten of Paul's letters, and cut out any verse he did not like.

The church in Rome rejected him in AD 144. One reason the church started making clear lists of the true books was to answer people like Marcion and the Gnostics. The church did not take books out of the Bible. It defended the Bible from people who were trying to.

Are They Worth Reading?

For historians, yes. These books show us what some groups believed in the 100s, 200s and 300s. A few of the sayings in the Gospel of Thomas might even go back to things Jesus really said, because they are so close to the four Gospels.

But reading them is a little like reading fan fiction after reading the real book. You quickly see the difference. The real Gospels sound like eyewitness reports from a real place. The Gnostic gospels sound like a dream. Peter said it best. We did not follow cleverly made up stories, he wrote. We were eyewitnesses of His majesty, 2 Peter 1:16.

The Lost Gospels at a Glance

BOOK	WRITTEN · WHERE THE OLDEST COPY CAME FROM
Matthew, Mark, Luke, John	First century, about AD 50 to 95 · Scraps from the 100s and 200s, from Egypt
Gospel of Thomas	Middle 100s, debated · Greek scraps about AD 200, Coptic copy 300s
Gospel of Truth	About AD 140 to 180 · Nag Hammadi, 300s
Gospel of Judas	Middle 100s · Codex Tchacos, about AD 220 to 340
Secret Book of John	The 100s · Nag Hammadi and Berlin Codex, 300s to 500s
Gospel of Mary	Late 100s · Greek scraps 200s, Berlin Codex 400s or 500s
Gospel of Philip	The 200s · Nag Hammadi, 300s
Gospel of the Egyptians	The 200s · Nag Hammadi, 300s
Infancy Gospel of Thomas	Late 100s · A papyrus scrap from the 300s or 400s
Gospel of Peter	About AD 150 · Akhmim, 700s to 900s, maybe older scraps
Gospel of Nicodemus	300s or 400s · Later copies
Gospel of Barnabas	1300s to 1500s · Italian and Spanish copies
Secret Mark	Claimed old, likely modern · Photos from 1958 only
Gospel of Jesus' Wife	Modern forgery · Shown fake in 2016

The Verdict

The so called lost gospels were not lost, and they were not stolen out of the Bible at Nicaea. They were written by unknown people, more than 100 years after Jesus, who borrowed famous names to sell new ideas. The early church knew about them, read them, and said no, long before Constantine was even born.

The four Gospels have the real places, the real customs and even the real popular names of first century Israel. The Gnostic gospels have a secret Jesus with no real body, a villain God and names like Yaldabaoth. One sounds like history. The other sounds like fan fiction. You can check them for yourself, just like the Bereans did, Acts 17:11.

The Gnostic gospels were never in the Bible. But some Bibles really do have more books than others. Why is that?

NEXT IN THE BONUS SECTION: WHY DO SOME BIBLES HAVE MORE BOOKS?

BONUS SECTION · HOW WE GOT THE BIBLE

Why Do Some Bibles Have More Books?

Protestant, Catholic, Orthodox and Ethiopian Bibles, and how each list came to be.

PROTESTANT	66 books: 39 in the Old Testament, 27 in the New.
JEWISH	24 books in the Hebrew Bible, the Tanakh. They are the same as the Protestant 39, just counted differently.
CATHOLIC	73 books: 46 in the Old Testament, 27 in the New.
EASTERN ORTHODOX	About 76 to 79 books, depending on the church. The Old Testament list was never fixed by one council.
ETHIOPIAN ORTHODOX	81 books, the biggest Bible in the world, including 1 Enoch and Jubilees. Not 88, see below.
THE GOOD NEWS	All of these Bibles have the same 27 New Testament books. The broader Ethiopian list adds some church books. The fight is almost all about the Old Testament.

First, a Word: Canon

The list of books a church accepts as Scripture is called the canon. The word comes from a Greek word for a measuring stick. A canon book is a book that measures up.

Here is the key thing to know. Nobody sat down one day and invented the Bible. God's people recognized books that were already being read and trusted as God's word. Then, sometimes hundreds of years later, councils wrote the list down to settle arguments.

The Jewish Bible Came Together in Stages

THE TORAH, ABOUT 400s BC. The five books of Moses, Genesis to Deuteronomy, were the first to be treated as Scripture. When Ezra read the Law to the whole nation after the exile, about 450 BC, everyone stood up to hear it, Nehemiah 8:1 to 8. The Samaritans, who slowly split off from the Jews over the next few centuries, still accept only these five books.

THE PROPHETS, BY ABOUT 200 BC. Joshua through Kings, and the prophets Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel and the Twelve, Hosea to Malachi, came next. A Jewish teacher named Ben Sira, writing about 180 BC, praises Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel and the Twelve Prophets as a group. His grandson, about 130 BC, speaks of the Law, the Prophets and the other books.

THE WRITINGS, BY ABOUT AD 100 TO 200. Psalms, Proverbs, Job, Daniel and the rest. Jesus speaks of the Law of Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms, Luke 24:44. Around AD 95 the Jewish historian Josephus says the Jews have 22 sacred books, and about AD 100 the book called 4 Ezra counts 24. The rabbis still argued over Song of Songs and Ecclesiastes for a while, but both stayed in.

A MYTH TO SKIP	You may hear that a Jewish Council of Jamnia closed the Hebrew Bible about AD 90. Most scholars now say there was no such council. There were rabbis at Jamnia, or Yavneh, but no official vote on the books.
THE BOTTOM LINE	By the time of Jesus the Jews already had a Bible, and by about AD 200 its list matched the 39 books of the Protestant Old Testament.

Then Came the Greek Bible

In the 200s and 100s BC, Jews in Alexandria, Egypt, translated their Bible into Greek, the language most people spoke. This Greek Bible is called the Septuagint. Over time, copies of it also carried other Jewish books written in the last few centuries before Jesus: Tobit, Judith, Wisdom of Solomon, Sirach, Baruch, 1 and 2 Maccabees, and extra chapters for Esther and Daniel.

The early church spoke Greek, so it used the Septuagint. The New Testament writers quote it often. They sometimes echo these books, and Jude quotes 1 Enoch, which is not one of them, but they never call the extra books Scripture, and the Jews did not count those books in their Hebrew Bible. That is the root of the whole disagreement.

The Early Church Disagreed Too

MELITO. About AD 170, Bishop Melito of Sardis traveled to the Holy Land to find out exactly which books were in the Old Testament. His list matches the Hebrew Bible, only missing Esther.

ATHANASIUS. In AD 367 Athanasius listed our 27 New Testament books. For the Old Testament he mostly followed the Hebrew list, but he added Baruch and left out Esther. He said books like Wisdom, Sirach, Esther, Tobit and Judith were good for new believers to read, but not part of the canon.

JEROME. About AD 390 to 405, Jerome translated the Bible into Latin. He went back to the Hebrew and called the extra books apocrypha, meaning hidden or set apart. His Latin Bible, the Vulgate, still ended up including most of them.

AUGUSTINE AND NORTH AFRICA. Augustine accepted the larger Greek list. Church meetings in North Africa, at Hippo in AD 393 and Carthage in AD 397 and 419, listed the extra books as Scripture. These were local meetings, not councils of the whole church.

So for more than 1,000 years the Western church read the extra books in its Bible, while some of its best scholars said they were not on the same level.

The Catholic Bible: 73 Books

Catholics call the extra books deuterocanonical, meaning second canon. The word was first used in 1566.

THE DECISION. During the Reformation, Protestants questioned these books. So at the Council of Trent, on April 8, 1546, the Catholic Church officially declared all of them Scripture. That made the Catholic canon final: 46 Old Testament books and 27 New Testament books. Trent also accepted the extra chapters of Esther and Daniel.

WHY. Catholics point out that the church had read these books for centuries, that the councils of Hippo and Carthage listed them, and that the Council of Florence had listed them in 1442. They also point to 2 Maccabees 12:43 to 46, which speaks of prayers for the dead, as part of the history of their teaching on purgatory. Catholics see Hippo and Carthage as the first time the church listed the 73 books, though their lists counted some books differently, and it took Trent to make it official for the whole church.

The Protestant Bible: 66 Books

MARTIN LUTHER. Luther went back to the Hebrew Bible, the books the Jews kept as Scripture and the Bible Jesus quoted. In his German Bible of 1534 he moved the extra books into their own section between the Testaments, under this heading: 'Apocrypha. These are books which are not held equal to the Holy Scriptures, and yet are useful and good to read.' That is still the fairest way to describe them.

WHICH BOOKS? The 1611 King James Bible set apart 14 of them: 1 and 2 Esdras, Tobit, Judith, the rest of Esther, Wisdom of Solomon, Sirach, Baruch with the Letter of Jeremiah, the Song of the Three Young Men, Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, the Prayer of Manasseh, and 1 and 2 Maccabees. Luther's list was a little shorter. He left out 1 and 2 Esdras.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND. Its Thirty Nine Articles, 1563 and 1571, say the church reads these books for example of life and instruction of manners, but does not use them to prove any doctrine.

THE KING JAMES BIBLE. The original 1611 KJV included the Apocrypha between the Testaments. Over time printers left it out, and after 1826 the British and Foreign Bible Society stopped paying for Bibles that contained it. That is why most Protestant Bibles today have 66 books.

THE REASONS. Protestants say the Old Testament should be the Bible Jesus had, the Hebrew Scriptures entrusted to the Jews, Romans 3:2. Jesus and the apostles quote the Law, the Prophets and the Psalms as Scripture again and again, but never quote the extra books that way. Even 1 Maccabees admits there were no prophets in its day, 1 Maccabees 9:27.

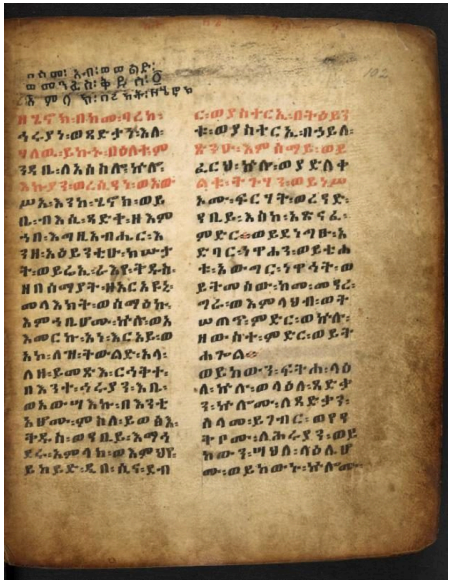
The Prophecy Test

Here is one of the strongest reasons this Bible keeps the 66 books. God said a true prophet's words come true, Deuteronomy 18:21 to 22. The editors of this Bible counted every prophecy and foreshadow: 1,051 in the 66 books, and only one in all the extra books, Wisdom of Solomon 2. And Jesus and the New Testament writers never quote the extra books as Scripture. For the full comparison, every place the extra books look ahead, and a page on each book, see About the Apocrypha, right after Malachi.

The Orthodox Bible: About 76 to 79 Books

The Eastern Orthodox churches of Greece, Russia, Serbia and others use the Greek Old Testament. Their Bibles include everything in the Catholic Bible, plus a few more books: 1 Esdras, 3 Maccabees, the Prayer of Manasseh and Psalm 151. Greek Bibles often put 4 Maccabees in an appendix.

WHEN. The Orthodox never had one council fix the Old Testament list for the whole church. The Council in Trullo in AD 692 approved several older lists that did not all agree. The Synod of Jerusalem in 1672 named Wisdom, Judith, Tobit, the Maccabees, Sirach and the extra parts of Daniel as Scripture.



HOW THEY SEE THEM. Many Orthodox teachers call the extra books readable books, honored and read in worship, but a step below the books of the Hebrew Bible. Russian Bibles also carry 3 Esdras, the book English Bibles call 2 Esdras.

The Ethiopian Bible: 81 Books

The Ethiopian Orthodox Tewahedo Church has the biggest Bible in the world. Ethiopia became Christian very early. King Ezana of Aksum turned to Christ about AD 330, and the Bible was translated into the old Ethiopian language, Ge'ez, between about the 400s and 600s.

Ethiopia was far from Rome and Constantinople, so its churches kept books that the rest of the church let fall away.

WHAT IS EXTRA. Besides most of the books in other Orthodox Bibles, the Ethiopian Old Testament includes 1 Enoch, Jubilees, and three books called Meqabyan. The Meqabyan take the place of 1 and 2 Maccabees, which Ethiopia does not count, and they are not the same books. Its larger New Testament list adds church books like the Sinodos and the Book of the Covenant.

The first page of 1 Enoch in Ge'ez, the old church language of Ethiopia, from a book copied about 1500, British Library Oriental MS 485. Public domain.

1 ENOCH. 1 Enoch is quoted in the Bible itself, in Jude 14 to 15. Pieces of it were found among the Dead Sea Scrolls, but the only complete copies that survive are in Ge'ez. Ethiopia kept it alive.

WHEN. The number 81 shows up in Ethiopian church writings of the Middle Ages, but which 81 books are counted still differs from list to list today. There is a narrower list and a broader one.

WHAT ABOUT 88 BOOKS? You may see English books online called The Ethiopian Bible, 88 Books. The Ethiopian church does not have an 88 book Bible. Its number is 81, and it reaches 81 in two ways. The narrower list, 54 Old Testament books and 27 New Testament books, is the one printed in the church's own Ge'ez and Amharic Bibles. The broader list counts the Old Testament as 46 books by joining some books together. It then adds church rule books to make a New Testament of 35 books: the Sinodos, the Book of the Covenant, Clement and the Didascalia. Those church books are kept in their own handwritten books. When the scholar Roger Cowley wrote about them in 1974, they had never been printed in the church's Bible.

SO WHERE DOES 88 COME FROM? It comes from publishers, not from Ethiopia. The church has two ways to count to 81. One way has 54 Old Testament books. The other way has 35 New Testament books. If you take the bigger Old Testament and the bigger New Testament and put them together, you get 89. The church never puts them together like that. Some English editions mix the lists in this kind of way, and that is how they land in the high 80s. Some fill in with English translations made from the Greek, not from the Ethiopian Ge'ez. A bigger number may help sell books, but there is no official list of 88.

ALSO WORTH KNOWING	The Assyrian Church of the East, one of the oldest churches in the world, still reads a New Testament of only 22 books, without 2 Peter, 2 and 3 John, Jude and Revelation.
WHAT EVERY CHURCH SHARES	The Law, the Prophets, the Psalms, the four Gospels, Acts and Paul's letters. The core of the Bible is the same everywhere.

So What Are the Extra Books Good For?

Luther said they are useful and good to read, and he was right. They tell the history of the quiet years, the story of Hanukkah and the faith of the Maccabean martyrs. About the Apocrypha, right after Malachi, walks through every one of them, book by book. Read them like a good history book. Just remember a helpful book is not the word of God.

Canonization Timeline

ABOUT 450 TO 400 BC	The Torah is read as Scripture in Ezra's day.
ABOUT 250 TO 100 BC	The Septuagint, the Greek Old Testament, is translated in Egypt.
BY ABOUT 200 BC	The Prophets are a fixed group.
ABOUT AD 30	Jesus speaks of the Law, the Prophets and the Psalms.
ABOUT AD 95 TO 200	The Hebrew Bible's list of books is settled in practice.
AD 367	Athanasius lists the 27 New Testament books.
AD 393 TO 419	Hippo and Carthage list the larger Old Testament.
AD 692	The Council in Trullo approves older lists for the Orthodox.
1442	The Council of Florence lists the larger Old Testament.
1534	Luther's Bible sets the Apocrypha apart.
APRIL 8, 1546	The Council of Trent fixes the Catholic canon at 73 books.
1563 TO 1571	The Thirty Nine Articles: read them, but not for doctrine.
1611	The King James Bible includes the Apocrypha between the Testaments.
1672	The Synod of Jerusalem lists the Orthodox extra books.
1826	The British and Foreign Bible Society stops funding Bibles with the Apocrypha.
MIDDLE AGES TO TODAY	The Ethiopian 81 book canon, still counted in more than one way.
TODAY	English editions sold online advertise an 88 book Ethiopian Bible, a publishers' count, not the church's.

The Verdict

Some Bibles have more books because some churches followed the Hebrew Bible of Jesus' day, and others followed the larger Greek Bible the early church read. Ethiopia, far away and on its own, kept even more.

This Bible has the 66 books. Like Luther, we think the extra books are good to read and helpful for knowing the history between the Testaments, but they are not on the same level as Scripture. Whatever Bible you pick up, the story is the same: God made us, we turned away, and He sent His Son to bring us home.

Now you know which books are in. But after thousands of years of copying and translating, can we still trust what they say?

BONUS SECTION · MYTH OR HISTORY?

But Hasn't the Bible Been Translated Over and Over Again?

Short answer: not the way you think. Your Bible goes straight back to the Hebrew and Greek.

THE CLAIM	The Bible went from Hebrew to Greek to Latin to English, getting changed a little each time, like the telephone game, until nobody knows what it first said.
THE VERDICT	Mostly false. Modern Bibles are not the end of a long chain. They are translated straight from Hebrew and Greek copies, and we have more and older copies today than ever.
THE GRAIN OF TRUTH	A few early English Bibles really were copies of copies. They were translated from Latin or German instead of the Hebrew and Greek. This page shows you exactly which ones.
WHY SO MANY TRANSLATIONS	Two reasons. English keeps changing, and older manuscripts keep turning up.
WHY THEY SOUND DIFFERENT	Some translate word for word. Some translate thought for thought. Same original, different style.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH.

The Telephone Game

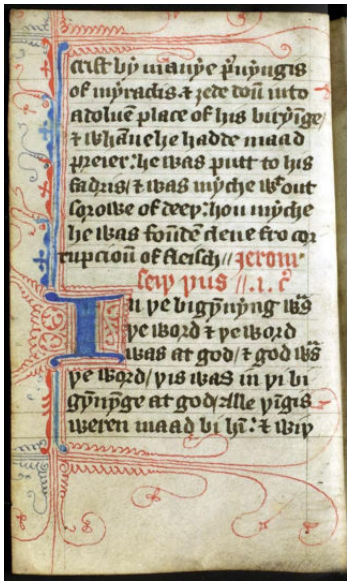
You probably played it as a kid. One person whispers a sentence to the next, down a line of ten people. Grandma likes pie turns into Grandpa bought a goat. Lots of people think the Bible works the same way. Moses wrote it in Hebrew, somebody turned that into Greek, somebody turned the Greek into Latin, somebody turned the Latin into English, and by now it is so garbled that nobody knows what it first said.

It is a fair question. But that is not how it happened. And for the few English Bibles where it partly did happen, there is a reason we stopped doing it that way.

Branches, Not a Chain

Think of a tree, not a line of people. The Hebrew and Greek manuscripts are the trunk. Every major translation is its own branch growing out of that trunk. Even when a new branch leans on an older one, it still draws from the same trunk.

THE GREEK OLD TESTAMENT. Around 250 BC, Jewish scholars in Egypt began translating the Hebrew Scriptures into Greek, starting with the five books of Moses. The rest took about another hundred years. This is called the Septuagint. It was translated from the Hebrew.



THE LATIN BIBLE. Around AD 382 to 405, a scholar named Jerome made the Latin Bible called the Vulgate. He had studied Hebrew in the desert of Syria, then moved to Bethlehem, where he translated most of the Old Testament straight from the Hebrew, not from the Greek.

YOUR ENGLISH BIBLE. Modern English Bibles are not translated from the Latin. Some start from an older English Bible, but the translators check every verse against the Hebrew and Greek. They work from printed editions of the Hebrew and Greek, built from thousands of handwritten copies, some of them older than Jerome.

Where the Myth Is Partly True

Here is the honest part. A few of the first English Bibles really were copies of copies.

A handwritten Wycliffe Bible, open to the start of John: In the bigynnyng was the word, and the word was at god, and god was the word. The black words above it end an old introduction to John. Public domain.

WYCLIFFE, 1380s. The first complete Bible in English came from John Wycliffe and his followers. They translated it from the Latin Vulgate, not from Hebrew and Greek. So it really was a copy of a copy, a translation of a translation. But the printing press had not been invented yet. Every Wycliffe Bible was copied by hand, and church leaders banned unapproved English Bibles in 1409. So there were never very many. About 250 handwritten copies survive today. It was not even printed until hundreds of years later.

TYNDALE, 1526. William Tyndale changed everything. He translated the New Testament straight from Erasmus's printed Greek, and later the first five books of the Old Testament straight from the Hebrew. And he printed it, so it spread by the thousands. He was tried as a heretic, then strangled and burned in 1536.

COVERDALE, 1535. The first complete printed English Bible. Myles Coverdale used Tyndale's work where he could, but Tyndale had only published the first five books of the Old Testament and Jonah. Coverdale was not a Hebrew scholar. So for the rest of the Old Testament, about three quarters of it, he worked mostly from German Bibles, like Luther's, and from Latin ones. That part really was secondhand.

THE MATTHEW BIBLE, 1537. Put together by John Rogers. It used Tyndale's translation from Genesis through 2 Chronicles, including books Tyndale never got to publish. But from Ezra to Malachi, about half the Old Testament, it mostly used Coverdale's secondhand translation.

THE GREAT BIBLE, 1539. The first English Bible approved for every church in England, chained in place in the church so anyone could come read it. Coverdale edited it from the Matthew Bible. For the Old Testament, he checked it against a new Latin translation made straight from the Hebrew by Sebastian Münster. Better, but still partly through Latin.

THE GENEVA BIBLE, 1560. English Protestants who had fled to Geneva, Switzerland, revised the whole Bible against the Hebrew and Greek. It was the Bible of Shakespeare and the Pilgrims. From here on, the Old Testament in Protestant English Bibles was checked against the Hebrew, not just the Latin.

THE BISHOPS' BIBLE, 1568. The Church of England's answer to the Geneva Bible. The bishops revised the Great Bible, checking it against the Hebrew and Greek, so it was no longer secondhand, though some readers found it uneven.

THE KING JAMES BIBLE, 1611. About 50 scholars revised the Bishops' Bible line by line against the Hebrew and Greek, and borrowed heavily from Tyndale and the Geneva Bible.

So yes, for about 30 years in the 1500s, from Coverdale in 1535 to the Bishops' Bible in 1568, parts of the Old Testament in the main Protestant English Bibles came through German and Latin. Catholic English Bibles, starting with the Douay Rheims Bible of 1582 and 1610, kept translating from the Latin until the 1900s. Today, Protestant and Catholic Bibles alike go back to the Hebrew and Greek.

Now Try Reading It

Here is John 3:16 as English Bibles printed it over the years, with the old spellings left in.

WYCLIFFE, ABOUT 1395	For God louede so the world, that he yaf his oon bigetun sone, that ech man that bileueth in him perische not, but haue euerlastynge lijf.
TYNDALE, 1534	For God so loveth the worlde, yt he hath geven his only sonne, that none that beleve in him shuld perisshe: but shuld have everlastinge lyfe.
KING JAMES, 1611	For God so loued þe world, that he gaue his only begotten Sonne: that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life.
THE OWNER'S MANUAL	For God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, that everyone who believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life.

Notice something. The meaning never changed. God loved the world, gave His Son, and whoever believes gets eternal life. Only the English changed. Old printers used u for v and v for u, þe is an old way to write the, and Wycliffe's yaf is just gave.

Old English Can Trip You Up

Wycliffe's English is over 600 years old, and the King James is over 400 years old. Words drift. Here are a few that would confuse almost anyone today.

WYCLIFFE, GENESIS 1:1	In the bigynnyng God made of nouyt heuene and erthe. It means, In the beginning God made heaven and earth out of nothing.
WYCLIFFE, MATTHEW 6:9	Oure fadir that art in heuenes, halewid be thi name. It means, Our Father in heaven, holy be Your name.
KJV, PHILIPPIANS 4:6	Be careful for nothing. It does not mean be careless. Careful meant full of worry. It means, Do not worry about anything.
KJV, ACTS 28:13	We fetched a compass. Paul did not go get a compass. It means, We sailed around.
KJV, PSALM 4:2	Seek after leasing. Not renting an apartment. Leasing meant lies.
KJV, 2 CORINTHIANS 6:12	Ye are straitened in your own bowels. It means, You are holding back your own affection. People used to say bowels the way we say heart.
KJV, ISAIAH 3:18	The round tires like the moon. Not car tires. These were crescent shaped ornaments women wore.

The King James translators would agree with fixing this. In their own preface, they said the Bible should be in the plain language of the people, so even the simplest person could understand it.

So Why Do New Translations Keep Coming Out?

Not because the old ones were wrong, and not because somebody keeps translating translations. There are two big reasons.

1, ENGLISH KEEPS CHANGING. A Bible is only useful if you can understand it. When words like leasing and careful change meaning, a new translation fixes that.

2, WE KEEP FINDING OLDER COPIES. The King James translators worked from printed Greek editions built on only a few late manuscripts. Since then, scholars have found thousands more. Codex Sinaiticus turned up in 1844 and 1859. Papyrus pieces from the 100s and 200s came out of the Egyptian sand starting in the 1890s. The Dead Sea Scrolls, found starting in 1947, gave us Old Testament copies about 1,000 years older than any we had before. Every find gives translators a clearer view of the original.

WE ALSO UNDERSTAND THE WORDS BETTER. Thousands of everyday letters, receipts and contracts from Bible times have been dug up. They show how regular people used Greek words, which helps translators pick the right English word.

Each new translation goes back to the Hebrew and Greek and starts there. The English Revised Version of 1881 and 1885 used the newly found older copies. The Revised Standard Version of 1952 used readings from the Great Isaiah Scroll, found just a few years before. Most newer Bibles, like the NASB, NIV, ESV, CSB and NLT, follow the oldest copies. The NKJV stays with the same Greek as the King James, but shows the differences in its notes.

Word for Word or Thought for Thought?

If they all come from the same Hebrew and Greek, why do they sound different? Because translators have to choose how to carry the words across.

WORD FOR WORD. Stays as close as possible to the exact words and word order of the original, as long as the English still makes sense. Great for study, because you can see what the writer actually said. Sometimes a little stiff. Examples: the KJV, NKJV, NASB and ESV, and The Owner's Manual, which stays close to word for word.

THOUGHT FOR THOUGHT. Asks what a sentence means and says that in natural English. Great for reading big chunks and for new readers. The translator has to make more choices for you. Example: the NLT.

IN THE MIDDLE. Tries to balance exact words and natural English. Examples: the NIV and CSB.

PARAPHRASE. Puts the Bible in the writer's own fresh words. Fun to read next to a real translation, but not a translation itself. Example: The Message.

Here is why thought for thought exists. In Exodus 4:14, the Hebrew literally says the nose of Yahweh burned against Moses. That was how Hebrew said someone was angry. A word for word Bible says the anger of the Lord burned. A thought for thought Bible might say the Lord became angry. All three are correct. Only one of them makes you think God had a nosebleed.

The Only True Word for Word Bible

Here is a secret. Even word for word Bibles move words around. The only Bible that is truly word for word is an interlinear Bible. It prints the Hebrew or Greek on one line, and puts an English word right under each original word, in the original order.

Here is John 3:16 in Greek, one word at a time, in the order John wrote it. The Greek is printed in capital letters, the way the oldest copies were written.

ΟΥΤΩΣ · houtos	in this way, so
ΓΑΡ · gar	for
ΗΓΑΠΗΣΕΝ · egapesen	loved
Ο · ho	the
ΘΕΟΣ · theos	God
ΤΟΝ · ton	the
ΚΟΣΜΟΝ · kosmon	world
ΩΣΤΕ · hoste	so that
ΤΟΝ · ton	the
ΥΙΟΝ · huion	Son

ΤΟΝ · ton	the
ΜΟΝΟΓΕΝΗ · mono-gene	one and only, only begotten
ΕΔΩΚΕΝ · edoken	He gave
ΙΝΑ · hina	in order that
ΠΑΣ · pas	everyone
Ο · ho	the
ΠΙΣΤΕΥΩΝ · pisteuon	believing
ΕΙΣ · eis	into
ΑΥΤΟΝ · auton	Him
ΜΗ · me	not
ΑΠΟΛΗΤΑΙ · apoletai	should perish
ΑΛΛ · all	but
ΕΧΗ · eche	should have
ΖΩΗΝ · zoen	life
ΑΙΩΝΙΟΝ · aionion	eternal

Now read the English straight down, in Greek order: In this way for loved the God the world, so that the Son the one and only He gave, in order that everyone the believing into Him not should perish but should have life eternal.

Every word is there. But nobody talks like that. Greek puts words in a different order than English, and Greek uses the word the in places English does not. So every translator has to move the words into English order. That is not changing the Bible. That is what translating is.

Hebrew does the same thing. Genesis 1:1 in Hebrew, word for word, reads: In beginning created God, et, the heavens and et the earth. The little word et has no English word at all. It just marks what was created. So we move the words around and leave et out: In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.

Bonus fact: many scholars think that little Greek word houtos at the start of John 3:16 means in this way. So God so loved the world may be about more than how much God loved the world. It is also how He loved it: by giving His Son. And if your King James says his only begotten Son, that is because the Greek text behind it adds the word his.

So Which Bible Should I Read?

The one you will actually read. For study, use a word for word Bible and check it against a second one. For reading big chunks, a thought for thought Bible is great. And if you ever want to see the actual words under the English, look up the verse in a free online interlinear Bible.

When two good translations say a verse a little differently, that is not a contradiction. It is two careful people showing you two sides of the same Greek or Hebrew words. Put them side by side, and you get a fuller picture.

The Verdict

The Bible has not been translated over and over until nobody knows what it said. A few early English Bibles really were secondhand, from Latin or German. But they were handwritten or short lived, and since 1560 Protestant English Bibles have gone back to the Hebrew and Greek, and Catholic ones have too since the 1900s. Today's Bibles are translated from more and older manuscripts than any generation before us ever had.

New translations keep coming because English keeps changing and the ground keeps giving up older copies. The words of God have not changed. The grass withers and the flowers fall, but the word of our God stands forever, Isaiah 40:8.

One Bible, carefully kept for thousands of years. So why are there so many different churches?

NEXT IN THE BONUS SECTION: WHERE DID ALL THE DENOMINATIONS COME FROM?

BONUS SECTION · HOW WE GOT HERE

Where Did All the Denominations Come From?

2,000 years of church history, from one church at Pentecost to thousands of church groups today.

THE START	One church, born at Pentecost in Jerusalem, about AD 30 to 33, Acts 2.
THE FIRST BIG SPLITS	AD 431 and 451, over how to describe Jesus as God and man. After 431 the Church of the East in Persia went its own way. After 451 the churches of Egypt, Ethiopia, Armenia and Syria went one way, Rome and Constantinople another.
THE GREAT SCHISM	1054. The Eastern Orthodox and the Roman Catholic churches split.
THE REFORMATION	1517. Martin Luther's 95 Theses, and the start of the Protestant churches.
TODAY	More than 2 billion Christians. About half are Catholic, about 4 in 10 are Protestant or other non Catholic churches, and about 1 in 10 are Orthodox.

One Church, Many Families

Every Christian family tree starts in the same place: Jesus, the apostles, and about 3,000 people baptized on the day of Pentecost. The disciples were first called Christians in Antioch, Acts 11:26. For about 400 years there was basically one church, spread across the Roman Empire and beyond, with bishops in big cities like Jerusalem, Antioch, Alexandria and Rome.

Think of the church like a family. Over 2,000 years the family had arguments, some kids moved out, and some started families of their own. But they all came from the same house.

The Early Church, AD 30 to 451

PERSECUTION. For almost 300 years, being a Christian could get you killed. Nero blamed Christians for the fire of Rome in AD 64. The worst persecution came under Diocletian, starting in AD 303.

THE WORD CATHOLIC. About AD 110, Ignatius of Antioch wrote, Wherever Jesus Christ is, there is the catholic church. Catholic means universal, the whole church everywhere, not one city's church. That is how the creeds use it too.

CONSTANTINE. In AD 311 the Edict of Toleration ended the great persecution, and in AD 313 the Edict of Milan gave Christians full freedom to worship and gave back their property. In AD 325 Constantine called the Council of Nicaea. See Didn't They Take Books Out of the Bible at the Council of Nicaea?, p.2152.

THE STATE RELIGION. In AD 380 Emperor Theodosius made Nicene Christianity the official religion of the Roman Empire. The church went from hunted to powerful in less than 80 years, and that power changed it.

THE FIRST SPLITS. Councils at Ephesus in AD 431 and Chalcedon in AD 451 argued over how Jesus can be fully God and fully man. The Church of the East, in Persia, parted ways after 431. After 451 the churches of Egypt, Ethiopia, Armenia and Syria, called the Oriental Orthodox today, would not accept Chalcedon's wording. Most scholars now say the two sides believed nearly the same thing in different words.

The Ethiopian Church: One of the Oldest in the World

ABOUT AD 34. An Ethiopian royal official, treasurer of the queen, was baptized by Philip on the road to Gaza, Acts 8:26 to 39. In the Bible, Ethiopia meant the kingdom of Kush, south of Egypt, but Ethiopian Christians count him as their first believer.

ABOUT AD 330. A young Christian from Tyre named Frumentius, captured when his ship stopped on the Red Sea coast and taken to the court of Aksum, helped bring King Ezana to Christ. Athanasius of Alexandria made Frumentius the first bishop of Ethiopia. Ezana's coins switched from pagan symbols to the cross, some of the first coins anywhere with a cross.

LATE 400s. Monks remembered as the Nine Saints came from the Roman world, spread the faith and helped translate the Bible into Ge'ez. Ethiopia sided with Alexandria after Chalcedon.

1959. For about 1,600 years the head bishop of Ethiopia was an Egyptian sent by the Coptic pope of Alexandria. In 1951 Basilios became the first Ethiopian to lead his own church, and in 1959 he became the first patriarch of the Ethiopian Orthodox Tewahedo Church, Abuna Basilios. Tewahedo means made one, for Christ's divine and human nature united. The Eritrean church became separate in the 1990s. See Why Do Some Bibles Have More Books?, p.2169.

How Rome Rose to the Top

This is where Protestants and Catholics tell the story differently, so here are both.

THE CATHOLIC VIEW. Jesus made Peter the rock, Matthew 16:18. Peter led the church in Rome and died there, and the bishops of Rome have carried on his job ever since, in an unbroken line. So the pope is Peter's successor and the head of the whole church on earth.

THE PROTESTANT VIEW. Peter likely died in Rome, but the New Testament never says he was its bishop or that he passed his authority to anyone. The early church in Rome seems to have been led by a group of elders. The power of the bishop of Rome grew over centuries, along with the power of the city, until it claimed authority over every church. See Peter and the Rock, Matthew, p.1574.

Here are the milestones. AD 96, Clement writes to Corinth on behalf of the church in Rome. About AD 180, Irenaeus lists the bishops of Rome back to the apostles and says every church should agree with Rome because of its greater authority, though scholars debate the exact meaning of his Latin. In the 440s and 450s, Leo the Great says he speaks with Peter's own authority. From AD 590 to 604, Gregory the Great runs the city of Rome and the church's large lands in Italy, though he himself rejected the title universal bishop. On Christmas Day of AD 800, Pope Leo III crowns Charlemagne emperor. In 1075 Gregory VII claims power to depose emperors. In 1302, Boniface VIII declares in Unam Sanctam that it is necessary for salvation for every human creature to be subject to the Roman pontiff.

When Did the Word Pope Start?

Pope comes from papas, a Greek word for father. In the early church it was a warm name for many bishops. One of the first bishops on record to be called pope was Heraclas of Alexandria, in the 200s, and the head of the Coptic church in Egypt is still called Pope today.

In the West, bishops like Cyprian of Carthage were called papa too. Siricius, in the late 300s, is often named as the first bishop of Rome to use the title for himself. By the 500s it was mostly used for Rome in the West. In 1075 Pope Gregory VII wrote in his Dictatus Papae that this is the only name in the world, which most historians take to mean the title pope belonged to Rome alone. From then on in the Western church, pope meant only the bishop of Rome.

Catholic Rules and Teachings That Came Later

Protestants point out that these were not in the church of the apostles. Catholics answer that the church has authority to set rules for its own life, and that its teachings grow from seeds already in Scripture and tradition, like an acorn growing into an oak. Here are the dates.

PRIESTS NOT MARRYING	Peter was married, Mark 1:30, and Paul says a church leader should be the husband of one wife, 1 Timothy 3:2. Around AD 305 the Spanish Council of Elvira told married clergy to stop sleeping with their wives. In 1123 the First Lateran Council forbade priests to marry, and in 1139 the Second Lateran Council declared such marriages invalid. Eastern churches, Orthodox and Eastern Catholic, still have married priests, though not married bishops. It is a rule of discipline, not a doctrine, and Rome allows some exceptions.
MONKS AND NUNS	Not a late invention. Anthony went into the Egyptian desert about AD 270, Pachomius started the first monastery communities in the 320s, and his sister Mary led a house of women. Macrina and others led women's communities in the 300s. Benedict's Rule, about AD 530, shaped Western monks and nuns. Orthodox churches have monks and nuns too.

CARDINALS	From the Latin cardo, hinge. At first it meant the main clergy of the churches of Rome. In 1059 Pope Nicholas II gave the cardinal bishops the job of electing the pope. Red hats came in 1245, and the locked room election, the conclave, began in 1274.

INDULGENCES	Pope Urban II promised full forgiveness of penance to crusaders in 1095. Selling them to raise money is what set off Luther in 1517.
TRANSUBSTANTIATION	The word was made official at the Fourth Lateran Council in 1215, which also required confession at least once a year.
SEVEN SACRAMENTS	Listed by Peter Lombard in the 1150s and declared by the Council of Florence in 1439, then by Trent.
PURGATORY	Taught at the Second Council of Lyon in 1274, defined at Florence in 1439 and again at Trent in 1563.

THE INQUISITION	Church courts against heresy began in 1184, the papal Inquisition in the 1230s, the Spanish Inquisition in 1478.
MARY CONCEIVED WITHOUT SIN	Declared in 1854.
PAPAL INFALLIBILITY	The pope cannot err when speaking officially on faith and morals, declared at the First Vatican Council in 1870.
MARY TAKEN UP TO HEAVEN	Declared in 1950.
MASS IN LOCAL LANGUAGES	Allowed after the Second Vatican Council, 1962 to 1965. Before that the Western Mass was almost always in Latin.

The Great Schism of 1054

By the year 1000 the church was really two worlds. The West spoke Latin and looked to the pope in Rome. The East spoke Greek and looked to the patriarch in Constantinople and the other ancient bishops as equals.

THE FIGHTS. Who is in charge: the pope over all, or the old patriarchs together? The Filioque: the West added and the Son to the Nicene Creed, saying the Holy Spirit proceeds from the Father and the Son. Spain added it in AD 589, Rome used it in the Mass by 1014, and the East said nobody had the right to change the creed. Even bread: leavened in the East, unleavened in the West.

JULY 16, 1054. Cardinal Humbert, sent by the pope, walked into the great church of Hagia Sophia in Constantinople and laid a paper excommunicating Patriarch Michael Cerularius on the altar. The patriarch excommunicated him back.

1204. What made the split stick was the Fourth Crusade. Western crusaders attacked Christian Constantinople, looted it and set up a Latin ruler. The East never forgot.

1965. Pope Paul VI and Patriarch Athenagoras lifted the excommunications of 1054. The churches are friendlier, but they are still separate today.

The Orthodox family today includes the Greek, Russian, Serbian, Romanian, Bulgarian and other churches, each with its own patriarch or head, united in faith.

Martin Luther and the Reformation

Martin Luther, painted by his friend Lucas Cranach the Elder in 1528, Veste Coburg. Public domain.

THE MONK. Luther was a German monk and Bible professor in Wittenberg, terrified that he could never be good enough for God. Reading Romans 1:17, The righteous will live by faith, he discovered that God's righteousness is a gift received by faith, not a reward earned by works.

OCTOBER 31, 1517. A friar named Johann Tetzel was selling indulgences to pay for St. Peter's Basilica in Rome. A popular saying of the day went, As soon as the coin in the coffer rings, the soul from purgatory springs. Luther sent his 95 Theses, points for debate, to the archbishop, and tradition says he nailed them to the church door in Wittenberg. The printing press spread them across Germany in weeks.

1521. Luther was excommunicated in January. In April, at the Diet of Worms, he was ordered to take back his books in front of the emperor. He refused unless proven wrong by Scripture and plain reason, saying his conscience was captive to the word of God. The famous line Here I stand, I can do no other, may have been added by later printers.

THE BIBLE FOR EVERYONE. Hiding at Wartburg Castle, Luther translated the New Testament into German in about 11 weeks. It came out in 1522, and the whole Bible in 1534.

WHAT HE TAUGHT. Later Protestants summed it up in five phrases: Scripture alone, grace alone, faith alone, Christ alone, and the glory of God alone. He also married a former nun, Katharina von Bora, in 1525, showing pastors could marry. He died in 1546.

John Calvin and the Burning of Michael Servetus

THE LAWYER. John Calvin was born in Noyon, France, in 1509 and trained to be a lawyer. Around 1533 he came to the Protestant faith, which he later called a sudden conversion. Protestants were being arrested in France, so he fled.

THE BOOK. In 1536, at just 26 years old, he published the first edition of the Institutes of the Christian Religion in Basel. He kept expanding it until the final edition of 1559. It became the most important book of Reformed teaching ever written.

GENEVA. Later in 1536 he passed through Geneva for one night. The preacher William Farel told him God would curse him if he left, so he stayed. The city threw him out in 1538, then begged him back in 1541, and he led the church there until he died on May 27, 1564. Refugees poured in from all over Europe. John Knox called Geneva the most perfect school of Christ since the days of the apostles.

Calvin taught that God is completely in charge of everything, including salvation, so no one can boast. That is the teaching of predestination. In 1618 to 1619 the Synod of Dort, in the Netherlands, defended it against the followers of Jacobus Arminius, who taught that people can freely accept or resist God's grace. The five points of Calvinism, often remembered as TULIP, come from Dort, not from Calvin himself. The Calvinist and Arminian argument still splits churches today. Presbyterians and many Baptists lean Calvinist. Methodists, Nazarenes and most Pentecostals lean Arminian.

The Man Who Was Burned

MICHAEL SERVETUS. Servetus was a brilliant Spanish doctor, one of the first in Europe to describe how blood moves through the lungs. He also denied the Trinity. He taught that Jesus was not the eternal Son of God, and he called the Trinity a three headed monster. He wrote books saying so in 1531 and 1553.

THE LETTERS. Servetus had written letters to Calvin for years, attacking his teaching. In 1546 Calvin wrote to Farel that if Servetus ever came to Geneva, he would not let him leave alive, if his authority counted for anything.

CAUGHT BY THE CATHOLICS FIRST. In 1553 a friend of Calvin's in Geneva, Guillaume de Trie, exposed Servetus to the Catholic Inquisition in France. To prove it, he passed along letters Servetus had written to Calvin, which Calvin had supplied. Servetus was arrested in Vienne, France, and escaped from prison. The Catholics burned him in effigy, a dummy in his place.

GENEVA. A few months later, for reasons nobody knows, Servetus showed up in Geneva. He was recognized at church on August 13, 1553, and arrested. Calvin wrote out the charges against him, and his secretary filed them. The city council, not Calvin, ran the trial and gave the sentence, after four other Protestant cities in Switzerland agreed he was guilty.

OCTOBER 27, 1553. Servetus was burned alive at Champel, just outside Geneva, with a copy of his book. Calvin had asked for a quicker death by the sword, and the council said no. Farel walked him to the stake. His last words were, Jesus, Son of the eternal God, have mercy on me. Even at the end he would not say eternal Son.

THE HONEST VIEW	In that age almost every church, Catholic, Lutheran and Reformed, believed heresy could be punished by death. Luther himself signed a 1531 paper by Melanchthon agreeing that Anabaptists who spread their teaching could be put to death. That does not make it right. Jesus told Peter to put away his sword, Matthew 26:52.
THE PROTEST	A former friend of Calvin, Sebastian Castellio, wrote, To kill a man is not to defend a doctrine, it is to kill a man.
THE APOLOGY	In 1903, on the 350th anniversary, Calvin's followers built a stone monument at Champel saying they condemned an error that was the error of his age.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH. The trial records and Calvin's own letters survive.

How the Reformation Forked

LUTHERAN, 1517 ON. Luther's followers. The Augsburg Confession of 1530 is their statement of faith. Today the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, 1988, and the more conservative Lutheran Church Missouri Synod, 1847, are the biggest in the United States.

REFORMED, 1519 ON. Ulrich Zwingli in Zurich, starting 1519, and John Calvin in Geneva. They stressed God's sovereignty and disagreed with Luther about the Lord's Supper. Reformed churches spread from Switzerland to France, the Netherlands, Hungary and Scotland.

PRESBYTERIAN, 1560. John Knox, a follower of Calvin who had worked with him in Geneva, led the Scottish Reformation in 1560. Presbyterian means run by elders, presbyteros in Greek. In America the main branches are the PCUSA, formed in 1983, the more conservative Presbyterian Church in America, which split from the southern Presbyterian church in 1973, and the Orthodox Presbyterian Church, which split from the northern church in 1936.

ANABAPTIST, 1525. On January 21, 1525, in Zurich, Conrad Grebel and his friends baptized each other as adults. Anabaptist means rebaptizer. They said only believers should be baptized, the church should be separate from the state, and Christians should not fight in wars. Thousands were killed for it, by Catholics and Protestants alike. Their children today are the Mennonites, named for Menno Simons, who joined them in 1536, the Amish, who split from the Mennonites in 1693, and the Hutterites.

ANGLICAN, 1534. King Henry VIII wanted his marriage annulled, the pope said no, and in 1534 Parliament made the king the head of the Church of England. Under Thomas Cranmer the church became Protestant in belief, with the Book of Common Prayer in 1549. In America it became the Episcopal Church in 1789. The Anglican Church in North America formed in 2009 when conservatives left the Episcopal Church and the Anglican Church of Canada.

CONGREGATIONAL, 1600s. Puritans wanted to purify the Church of England. Some, like the Pilgrims of 1620, left it entirely and ran each church by its own members. Puritan Congregationalists started Harvard in 1636 and Yale in 1701.

BAPTIST, 1609. John Smyth, an English Separatist, baptized believers in Amsterdam in 1609. Thomas Helwys started the first Baptist church in England in 1612, and Roger Williams the first in America in Providence, Rhode Island, in 1638 or 1639. Baptists hold to believers' baptism by immersion, the authority of the Bible, and the freedom of each local church. In 1845 the Southern Baptist Convention split from Northern Baptists over slavery. In 1995 it apologized for it. Today it is the largest Protestant denomination in America.

QUAKERS, 1650s. George Fox taught that God's inner light speaks to every person. Traditional Quakers have no clergy and no outward sacraments, and they led early fights against slavery.

The Methodists and Their Splits

1738. John Wesley, an Anglican priest, felt his heart strangely warmed at a meeting on Aldersgate Street in London on May 24, 1738, while someone read Luther's preface to Romans. He and his brother Charles, who wrote more than 6,000 hymns, preached in fields to coal miners and factory workers. At Oxford, other students mocked them as Methodists because they lived by strict method, and the name stuck.

1784. At the Christmas Conference in Baltimore, the Methodist Episcopal Church was formed in America, separate from the Church of England.

THE SPLITS. In 1816 Richard Allen founded the African Methodist Episcopal Church after Black Methodists were mistreated in a white church in Philadelphia. In 1844 the Methodists split North and South over slavery. They came back together in 1939, and in 1968 joined with another group to form the United Methodist Church. Then from 2019 to 2023 about 7,600 United Methodist churches left, most over same sex marriage and gay clergy, and many joined the new Global Methodist Church, started in 2022.

THE HOLINESS MOVEMENT. Methodist teaching about a second work of grace grew into the Holiness churches in the 1800s, like the Salvation Army in 1865 and the Church of the Nazarene in 1908.

Do the Gifts Still Work Today?

Christians disagree about whether the miracle gifts of the Holy Spirit, like tongues, prophecy and healing, are still given today. There are two main answers.

CESSATIONISM	From cease. The miracle gifts were for the apostles, to prove their message and lay the foundation of the church, Ephesians 2:20 and Hebrews 2:3 to 4. Once the New Testament was finished, they stopped. Paul said tongues will cease when the perfect comes, 1 Corinthians 13:8 to 10, and cessationists say the perfect is the finished Bible.

CONTINUISM	Also called continuationism. All the gifts of the Spirit continue until Jesus comes back. The perfect is His return, when we will see face to face, 1 Corinthians 13:12. Peter said the promise of the Spirit is for you and your children and for all who are far off, Acts 2:39.

DID CALVIN INVENT CESSATIONISM? Not quite. He was its most important early voice, but the idea is older. About AD 392, John Chrysostom wrote that the gifts in 1 Corinthians 12 were hard to understand because such things used to happen but no longer took place. Around AD 390 Augustine wrote that miracles had not been allowed to continue into his time.

WHAT CALVIN SAID. Catholics told the Reformers, if your teaching is true, show us miracles. Calvin answered that miracles were given to seal the gospel when it was new, and that the gift of healing, like the other miracles, had vanished away. Cessationism became the normal Protestant view for the next 300 years.

WARFIELD. The classic modern case is Counterfeit Miracles, written in 1918 by B.B. Warfield of Princeton Seminary. He said the miracle gifts were the credentials of the apostles and died out with them. In 2013 pastor John MacArthur's Strange Fire conference and book made the same case against the charismatic movement.

The History of Continuism

THE EARLY CHURCH. About AD 155 Justin Martyr told a Jewish debater that the prophetic gifts remain with us even to the present time. About AD 180 Irenaeus wrote that he heard many believers who prophesied and spoke in all kinds of languages through the Spirit, and that even the dead had been raised.

A WARNING SIGN. In the 170s a man named Montanus and two women prophets in Phrygia claimed new revelations that went beyond Scripture. The church rejected them, and that made many bishops nervous about prophecy for centuries.

AUGUSTINE CHANGES HIS MIND. Late in life Augustine took back what he wrote earlier. In The City of God, about AD 426, he listed healings he had seen himself, and said that in his own town of Hippo alone nearly 70 had been written down in about two years.

LUTHER PRAYS. Luther agreed the church did not need miracles to prove the gospel, but he still prayed for the sick. In 1540 his friend Philip Melanchthon lay dying at Weimar. Luther prayed over him, telling God he had better listen, and Melanchthon recovered. Melanchthon said Luther had called him back from death itself.

WESLEY. In 1787 John Wesley preached that the gifts did not fade because the church no longer needed them. He said they faded because the love of many grew cold, and Christians became worldly. Early Quakers and Methodists both reported healings.

THE 1800s. In the 1830s Edward Irving's church in London had tongues and prophecy. Later in the 1800s a divine healing movement spread through the Holiness churches. A.B. Simpson, who in 1887 started the groups that became the Christian and Missionary Alliance, taught that Jesus is still our Healer. The stage was set.

The Pentecostal Movement

JANUARY 1, 1901. At Charles Parham's Bible school in Topeka, Kansas, a student named Agnes Ozman spoke in tongues. Parham taught that tongues are the first sign of being baptized in the Holy Spirit, Acts 2:4.

REVIVAL AROUND THE WORLD. In 1904 and 1905 the Welsh Revival under Evan Roberts swept Wales, and in 1905 revival broke out at Pandita Ramabai's Mukti Mission in India. Christians everywhere were praying for a new Pentecost.

WILLIAM SEYMOUR. Seymour was a Black preacher, the son of former slaves. Around the start of 1906 he studied under Parham in Houston, where segregation laws made him listen from the hallway. A few weeks later he was invited to preach in Los Angeles.

AZUSA STREET, 1906. On April 9, 1906, at a house on Bonnie Brae Street, Seymour's prayer group began speaking in tongues. The crowds grew so big that they moved to an old run down church building at 312 Azusa Street. On April 18 the Los Angeles Times mocked it with the headline Weird Babel of Tongues. For about three years, Black, white, Latino and Asian believers prayed side by side, at a time when that was almost unheard of. One visitor, Frank Bartleman, wrote that the color line was washed away in the blood.

IT SPREADS. Visitors carried the fire home. Within two years Pentecostal missionaries had gone to dozens of countries. In 1911 two Swedish missionaries started the church in Brazil that became the Assemblies of God, now one of the biggest Protestant churches in the world.

THE CHURCHES. The Church of God in Christ, founded in 1897, became Pentecostal in 1907. The Church of God of Cleveland, Tennessee, joined the movement by 1908. The Assemblies of God formed in 1914 at Hot Springs, Arkansas. In 1916 the Oneness Pentecostals split off over the Trinity, baptizing in Jesus' name only, and in 1945 they formed the United Pentecostal Church. In 1923 Aimee Semple McPherson opened Angelus Temple in Los Angeles, the start of the Foursquare Church.

HEALING REVIVALS. After World War 2, healing evangelists like Oral Roberts held huge tent meetings, and Kathryn Kuhlman filled stadiums. In 1958 David Yonggi Cho started a tent church in Seoul, Korea, that grew into the Yoido Full Gospel Church, once called the largest church in the world.

THE CHARISMATIC MOVEMENT. In 1960 an Episcopal priest in California, Dennis Bennett, told his church he had spoken in tongues. Soon Lutherans, Presbyterians and others were too. In February 1967, Catholic students at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh began the Catholic Charismatic Renewal. In the 1980s John Wimber's Vineyard churches spread a third wave of signs and wonders.

TODAY. Pentecostals and charismatics together number more than 600 million, about a quarter of all Christians, and they are growing fastest in Africa, Latin America and Asia.

THIS BIBLE'S VIEW	Continuism. Paul says, Do not forbid speaking in tongues, 1 Corinthians 14:39, and, Do not quench the Spirit. Do not despise prophecies, but test everything, 1 Thessalonians 5:19 to 21. Nowhere does the Bible say the gifts would stop before Jesus returns. Joel said the Spirit would be poured out in the last days, and Peter said those days had begun, Acts 2:16 to 17.
WHERE CESSATIONISTS ARE RIGHT	There are fakes, and some preachers have used healing to get rich. Test every spirit, 1 John 4:1. No prophecy today is equal to Scripture. And the greatest gift is still love, 1 Corinthians 13:13.

Other Groups From the 1800s and 1900s

RESTORATION MOVEMENT. Barton Stone and Alexander Campbell wanted to drop denominations and just be Christians. Their movement, joined in 1832, became the Churches of Christ, the Christian Church, also called the Disciples of Christ, and independent Christian churches.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS, 1863. Grew from William Miller's prediction that Jesus would return in 1844. They worship on Saturday.

NONDENOMINATIONAL. Since the 1960s, many churches have no denomination at all. Calvary Chapel, which grew under Chuck Smith starting in 1965, and today's megachurches are part of this. Nondenominational churches are now one of the biggest groups in America.

THE BLACK CHURCH. Shut out or mistreated in white churches, Black Christians built their own. Besides the AME Church of 1816, the National Baptist Convention formed in 1895 and is still the largest Black denomination in America, and the Church of God in Christ is the largest Black Pentecostal one. These churches were the backbone of the civil rights movement. Martin Luther King Jr. was a Baptist pastor.

THE JESUS MOVEMENT. In the late 1960s and early 1970s, thousands of hippies in California came to Jesus. A long haired young preacher named Lonnie Frisbee helped bring them into Calvary Chapel in Costa Mesa, where they were baptized in the Pacific Ocean. In 1971 Time magazine put The Jesus Revolution on its cover. It helped give us the Vineyard and modern worship music. In 2023 it became a movie, Jesus Revolution.

THE HOUSE CHURCHES OF CHINA. When the missionaries were thrown out of China after 1949, there were fewer than 1 million Protestants. Under persecution, believers kept meeting in homes. Today estimates vary widely, from about 20 million to around 100 million Christians in China, most of them Protestant.

OUTSIDE HISTORIC CHRISTIANITY. The Latter day Saints, 1830, and the Jehovah's Witnesses, 1870s, also came out of 1800s America, but both reject the Trinity of the Nicene Creed, so most Christian churches do not count them as Christian denominations.

The Verdict

Christians have split many times, sometimes over the gospel itself and sometimes over things that did not need to divide them. Luther did not set out to start a new church. He wanted to call the church back to the Bible and to grace through faith in Christ.

Underneath the labels, the churches that hold to the Bible and the Nicene Creed still share the most important things: one God in three persons, Jesus fully God and fully man, who died for our sins and rose again. Jesus prayed that His people would be one, John 17:21. Know your church's story, but remember whose church it really is.

Remember the bishop who slapped a heretic at Nicaea? Somehow he became the most famous gift giver in the world.

BONUS SECTION · MYTH OR HISTORY?

Who Was the Real Santa Claus?

A rich young bishop who gave his money away, and the legends that grew around him.

HIS NAME	Nicholas of Myra. Nicholas means victory of the people in Greek.
BORN	About AD 270 in Patara, a port town in Lycia, on the southern coast of what is now Turkey.
JOB	Bishop of Myra, a town near Patara. Today it is called Demre.
DIED	December 6, around AD 343, by tradition. That is why his feast day is December 6.
BURIED	First at Myra. Since 1087 most of his bones have been in Bari, Italy.
KNOWN FOR	Giving gifts in secret, protecting children, sailors and the poor, and, according to legend, slapping a heretic.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that he was a real bishop of Myra in the 300s. LOW to MEDIUM for most of the stories told about him.

The Real Man

We know less about the real Nicholas than you might think. No letters or sermons of his survive, and the first stories about him were written down a long time after he died. But here is what the old traditions agree on.

Nicholas was born to a rich Christian family. His parents died while he was young, and he was left with a lot of money. Instead of keeping it, he gave it away to people in need, often in secret. He became the bishop of Myra while he was still young.

Those were hard years to be a Christian. Under Emperor Diocletian, starting in AD 303, churches were torn down and Christian leaders were arrested. Tradition says Nicholas was thrown in prison for his faith and set free when Constantine came to power.

Tradition also says he was at the Council of Nicaea in AD 325, where he is said to have slapped Arius. That story was first written down about 1,000 years later. See Didn't They Take Books Out of the Bible at the Council of Nicaea?, p.2152.

The Bags of Gold

This is the most famous story about him, and it is the root of Santa Claus. A man in Nicholas's town had lost all his money. He had three daughters. In those days a young woman needed a dowry, money her family gave when she married. With no dowry, nobody would marry them, and the father was about to sell them into prostitution to survive.

Nicholas heard about it. One night he walked to the man's house and tossed a bag of gold through the open window. Now the oldest daughter could marry. Later he did it again for the second daughter.

The third time, the father hid and waited to see who was doing it. He caught Nicholas and fell at his feet to thank him. Nicholas made him promise to keep it a secret, because he wanted the glory to go to God.

WHERE IT LEADS	Later tellers said the gold fell down the chimney, or landed in stockings hung by the fire to dry. Many people say that is where Christmas stockings and chocolate gold coins come from.
THE THREE GOLD BALLS	Paintings often show Nicholas holding three gold balls for the three bags. Pawn shops later used three gold balls as their sign.
THE BIBLE BEHIND IT	When you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your giving may be in secret, Matthew 6:3 to 4.
CONFIDENCE	MEDIUM. The story is told in the oldest Life of Nicholas, written in the 800s, about 500 years after him.

Did He Raise the Dead?

The legends say yes, more than once. Here are the big ones.

THE THREE BOYS IN THE BARREL. A wicked innkeeper killed three boys who were traveling to school, cut them up and salted them in a barrel. In later versions he is a butcher during a famine who planned to sell them as meat. Nicholas walked in, saw what had happened, prayed, and the three boys climbed out of the barrel alive. This is the main reason he became the patron saint of children. The story first shows up in Western Europe around the year 1100, more than 700 years after Nicholas.

THE SAILOR WHO FELL. Sailors caught in a storm prayed to Nicholas, and he appeared on the deck and calmed the sea. In some versions a sailor fell from the mast and died, and Nicholas brought him back to life. That is why sailors call him their patron saint.

THE THREE INNOCENT MEN. One of the oldest stories, written within about 100 to 200 years after his death, says three innocent men were about to be beheaded. Nicholas ran up, grabbed the executioner's sword, and set them free. Nobody died in that one, but it shows what people remembered about him: he stood up for the helpless.

THE HONEST ANSWER	The Bible tells of real people raised from the dead, like the widow's son, Luke 7:11 to 17, and Lazarus, John 11. God can do it any time He wants. But the stories about Nicholas raising the dead were written down hundreds of years after he lived, and nobody who was there wrote them.
CONFIDENCE	LOW for the miracle stories. They are best read as legends that tell what kind of man people believed he was.

More Stories People Told

THE BABY WHO STOOD UP. One legend says baby Nicholas stood up by himself in his first bath, and that he would only nurse once on Wednesdays and Fridays, the old fast days.

THE GRAIN SHIPS. During a famine in Myra, Nicholas asked sailors carrying grain for the emperor to give some to his city. When they reached the capital, their ships still held the full amount.

THE BOY CAPTURED BY RAIDERS. A boy named Basil was carried off and made a servant in a faraway palace. A year later, on Nicholas's feast day, the boy was suddenly back home holding the cup he had been serving from.

How He Became a Saint

In the early church nobody filled out paperwork to become a saint. Saint means holy one, and the New Testament calls all believers saints, Romans 1:7. Over time the churches began honoring people known for holy lives, especially martyrs and great leaders, and remembering them on the day they died.

Nicholas was honored by the people long before there were any official rules. By the 500s Constantinople had a church named for him and another saint, and Emperor Justinian rebuilt it. He became one of the most loved saints in both the Eastern and Western churches, with thousands of churches named for him.

In 1087 sailors from Bari, Italy, sailed to Myra, opened his tomb and carried most of his bones home. Bari still keeps them in the Basilica of San Nicola. Venice later took many of the small pieces that were left. In 2017 scientists at Oxford tested a piece of pelvis said to be his, and it dated to the 300s, the right time for Nicholas. That does not prove it is his, but it is not a fake from later times.

How Saint Nicholas Turned Into Santa Claus

DECEMBER 6. For hundreds of years, children in Europe got small gifts on Saint Nicholas Day, or the night before. In the Netherlands he was called Sinterklaas.

MARTIN LUTHER. During the Reformation, Luther taught people not to pray to saints. He spoke of the Holy Christ bringing gifts at Christmas, to point children to Jesus instead of a saint. Over the next years many Protestant families moved the gifts from December 6 to Christmas, and the Christ Child, the Christkind, became the gift bringer in much of Germany.

NEW YORK. The name Santa Claus most likely came from the Dutch Sinterklaas. In 1809 the writer Washington Irving made a jolly Saint Nicholas part of old New York stories. In 1821 a poem showed him on a sleigh pulled by a reindeer, bringing gifts on Christmas Eve.

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS. In 1823 the poem A Visit from St. Nicholas, which begins 'Twas the night before Christmas, made famous the chimney, the sleigh, eight reindeer with names, and a jolly old elf with a little round belly that shook when he laughed. It is usually credited to Clement Clarke Moore, though some argue Henry Livingston Jr. wrote it.

THE PICTURE. Cartoonist Thomas Nast drew Santa for Harper's Weekly from the 1860s to the 1880s and gave him a home at the North Pole and a workshop. In the 1930s Coca Cola ads by Haddon Sundblom made the big, red suited Santa famous all over the world. Coke did not invent the red suit, but it made it the one everybody pictures.

Merry Old Santa Claus, by Thomas Nast, first printed in Harper's Weekly in 1881. This color version was printed later. Public domain.

Where Did Christmas Come From?

The Bible never gives the date Jesus was born. The first Christians did not celebrate His birthday at all. They celebrated His resurrection every Sunday and at Easter.

THE FIRST RECORD. The oldest record of a December 25 Christmas comes from Rome. A calendar made in AD 354 lists December 25 as the day Christ was born in Bethlehem, and it shows the church in Rome keeping it by about AD 336.

WHY DECEMBER 25? There are two main answers. One says early Christians believed Jesus was conceived on the same day of the year that He died, March 25, so they counted nine months later and got December 25. The other says the church chose a day already full of Roman celebrations, like the feast of the Unconquered Sun on December 25 and the Saturnalia a week earlier, to give people a Christian reason to celebrate. Scholars still argue about which came first. See Was Jesus Born on December 25?, Luke, p.1649.

JANUARY 6. Many churches in the East first celebrated Jesus' birth on January 6. Armenian churches still do. Orthodox churches that use the old Julian calendar keep December 25 on what is January 7 on our calendar.

CHRISTMAS GETS BANNED. The Puritans thought Christmas had turned into a pagan party. In 1647 Parliament in England banned it, and from 1659 to 1681 Massachusetts fined anyone caught celebrating it five shillings.

CHRISTMAS COMES BACK. In the 1800s Christmas grew into a family holiday, helped along by Charles Dickens's A Christmas Carol in 1843. In 1870 the United States made Christmas a federal holiday.

The Verdict

Santa Claus is make believe, but Saint Nicholas was real. He was a bishop who loved Jesus, stood up for the truth about who Jesus is, and gave away his money in secret to rescue girls who had no one else to help them. Most of the miracle stories are legends, and the flying reindeer are pure American invention.

The best part of the real story is the part that matters most. Nicholas gave because God gave first. For God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, John 3:16. That is the gift Christmas is about.

Christmas is about the gift of Jesus. And that gift answers the biggest question of all. What happens when we die?

NEXT IN THE BONUS SECTION: IS HEAVEN OR HELL REAL?

BONUS SECTION · THE BIG QUESTION

Is Heaven or Hell Real?

What the Bible says, what Jesus said, and what people say they saw when they died and came back.

THE SHORT ANSWER	The Bible says yes to both. Heaven is real, hell is real, and every person will face one or the other.
WHO TALKED ABOUT HELL THE MOST	Jesus. The kindest person who ever lived gave the Bible's clearest warnings about hell.
NEAR DEATH EXPERIENCES	Doctors have studied them for 50 years. Many people who nearly die report the same kinds of things. What they mean is still debated.
HOW TO READ THIS PAGE	The Bible is the foundation. The stories from people who came back are human stories, not Scripture. Read them with an open mind and an open Bible.
CONFIDENCE	HIGH that the Bible teaches heaven and hell. LOW to MEDIUM for any one near death story.

The Biggest Question There Is

Sooner or later, everybody wonders what happens when we die. Maybe you wondered at a funeral. Maybe in a hospital waiting room. Maybe at 2 a.m. staring at the ceiling.

This page starts with what the Bible says, because the Bible has earned our trust. It is the same book that predicted hundreds of events before they happened, as you can see all through this Bible. A book with that track record does not suddenly become unreliable when it talks about what comes after this life.

Then we will look at something that fascinates almost everyone: the people who say they died, saw the other side, and came back to tell about it. Some say they saw heaven. Some say they saw hell. We will be honest about which stories hold up and which ones did not.

What the Bible Says About Heaven

Jesus described heaven Himself, and He was not vague about it. In My Father's house are many rooms, He said. If it were not so, would I have told you that I am going there to prepare a place for you? John 14:2.

When the apostle John was shown the end of the story, he heard this promise: He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and there will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain, Revelation 21:4. Read that one out loud at a hospital bed and watch what it does to a person's face.

Paul says no eye has seen, no ear has heard, and no heart has imagined what God has prepared for those who love Him, 1 Corinthians 2:9. In other words, the best day of your life here does not come close.

WHEN YOU DIE. The Bible teaches that believers go to be with Jesus right away. Jesus told the thief on the cross, Today you will be with Me in Paradise, Luke 23:43. Paul says to be away from the body is to be at home with the Lord, 2 Corinthians 5:8.

AT THE END. Heaven is not the final stop. The Bible ends with a new heaven and a new earth, Revelation 21:1, and with God living among His people, Revelation 21:3. Believers get new bodies that never get sick or die, 1 Corinthians 15:42 to 44.

NOT CLOUDS AND HARPS. The cartoon version of heaven, with people floating on clouds playing harps forever, is not in the Bible. The Bible's picture is a real place, a renewed creation, with real people, real joy and God Himself right there.

What the Bible Says About Hell

This is the part nobody wants on the refrigerator. But we cannot skip the parts of the Bible we do not like.

Here is the detail that should stop us cold. The person in the Bible who spoke most clearly about hell was not an angry prophet. It was Jesus. He brought it up again and again, and He never softened it.

Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul, Jesus said. Instead, fear the One who can destroy both soul and body in hell, Matthew 10:28. He warned of a place where their worm never dies, and the fire is never quenched, Mark 9:48, quoting Isaiah 66:24.

He told a story about a rich man and a poor beggar named Lazarus who both die. Lazarus is carried to Abraham's side. The rich man wakes up in torment and begs for a drop of water to cool his tongue. Abraham tells him a great gulf is fixed between them, and no one can cross it, Luke 16:19 to 31.

At the final judgment, Jesus says, And they will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life, Matthew 25:46. Look closely. The same Greek word, aionios, describes both. Whatever length one of them lasts, the other lasts the same.

But notice two more things. Jesus says hell was prepared for the devil and his angels, Matthew 25:41. It was not built for people. And God is not hoping to fill it. He is patient, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance, 2 Peter 3:9.

DID JESUS TALK ABOUT HELL MORE THAN HEAVEN? You will hear preachers say that a lot. Honestly, it depends on how you count, and by a simple count of verses, heaven comes up more often. But this much is not debated: the most loving person who ever lived talked about hell often and in plain words. He clearly expected us to take it seriously.

Four Words Your Bible Translates as Hell

English Bibles use the word hell for several different words in Hebrew and Greek. Knowing the difference clears up a lot of confusion.

SHEOL	Hebrew. The place of the dead in the Old Testament, good and bad alike. It can just mean the grave. Jacob says he will go down to Sheol mourning for Joseph, Genesis 37:35. Old Bibles often translate it hell.
HADES	Greek. The New Testament word for the place of the dead before the final judgment. It is where the rich man was in torment, Luke 16:23. In the end, Hades itself is thrown into the lake of fire, Revelation 20:14.
GEHENNA	Greek, from the Hebrew Valley of Hinnom, just outside Jerusalem. It was the place where the people of Judah burned their own children as sacrifices to false gods, Jeremiah 7:31, until King Josiah shut it down, 2 Kings 23:10. Jesus took that horrible place and used its name for final judgment. It shows up 12 times in the New Testament, and 11 of them are from Jesus.
TARTARUS	Greek. Used once, for the place where God holds certain angels who sinned, 2 Peter 2:4.
THE GARBAGE DUMP MYTH	You may have heard that Gehenna was a burning garbage dump where fires never went out. The first person known to say that was a rabbi named David Kimhi, around AD 1200. There is no ancient evidence for it. The real history of the valley is worse.

The Big Question: What Is Hell Like, and How Long Does It Last?

Christians agree that judgment is real and that Jesus is the only way to be saved. But they do not all agree on exactly what hell is. Here is every major view, with its best case.

ETERNAL PUNISHMENT	The traditional view. Hell is real, it is conscious, and it lasts forever. This has been the view of most Christians through history, including Augustine, Thomas Aquinas, Martin Luther and John Calvin, and most churches today. Key verses: Matthew 25:46, Mark 9:48, Revelation 14:11 and 20:10.
CONDITIONAL IMMORTALITY	Also called annihilationism. The lost are punished, then destroyed, and stop existing. The punishment is eternal because it can never be undone. Edward Fudge made the case in The Fire That Consumes in 1982, and the famous English pastor John Stott said he leaned this way. Key verses: Matthew 10:28 destroy, 2 Thessalonians 1:9 destruction, Romans 6:23 the wages of sin is death.
UNIVERSALISM	In the end, God saves everyone, maybe after a time of punishment. A few early writers, like Origen in the 200s, hoped for something like this. Rob Bell's 2011 book Love Wins raised this hope too, though Bell says he is not a universalist. Key verses: 1 Corinthians 15:22, Colossians 1:20. Almost every church rejects it, because Jesus spoke of eternal punishment, Matthew 25:46.

PURGATORY	Catholic teaching, not a second chance. Some people who die saved are cleansed before entering heaven. Catholics point to 2 Maccabees 12:46 and 1 Corinthians 3:15. The Council of Lyon in 1274, the Council of Florence in 1439 and the Council of Trent in the 1500s made it official. Protestants reject it, because Jesus already paid it all.
SOUL SLEEP	Seventh day Adventists teach that the dead are unconscious until the resurrection, and that the lost are then destroyed. Jehovah's Witnesses teach that hell simply means the grave. Key verse: Ecclesiastes 9:5.
WHAT ALL AGREE ON	Death is not the end. Everyone will face God, Hebrews 9:27. Jesus is the way, John 14:6. And God is completely fair, Genesis 18:25.
THIS BIBLE'S VIEW	The traditional view, because of Matthew 25:46. The same word eternal is used for both destinations in the same breath. We respect Christians who hold the second view. They love Jesus and take the Bible seriously too.

The People Who Say They Have Been There

Now we step away from Scripture. What follows are human stories. They are not the word of God, and nobody should build their faith on them. Test everything, 1 Thessalonians 5:21. But some of these stories are very hard to wave away.

In 1975, Raymond Moody, a philosophy teacher training to become a medical doctor, wrote a book called Life After Life and gave these stories a name: near death experiences, or NDEs. People who came close to death kept describing the same things. Leaving their body and seeing it from above. A tunnel. A bright light. A feeling of overwhelming love. Meeting family members who had died. Seeing their whole life replay. Coming to a border they could not cross.

These are not just stories from churches. In 2001, the medical journal The Lancet published a Dutch study of 344 people who survived cardiac arrest. About 18 percent of them reported a near death experience. A bigger study called AWARE, published in 2014, tried to test whether people could see things while their heart was stopped. One patient correctly described things that happened during about three minutes of his resuscitation.

They Say They Saw Heaven

These are some of the most famous heaven stories, and what we honestly know about each one.

Ascent of the Blessed, part of Visions of the Hereafter by Hieronymus Bosch, painted about 1505 to 1515. Almost 500 years before anyone said near death experience, he painted souls rising through a tunnel toward a light. Public domain.

Don Piper, 90 Minutes in Heaven

In January 1989, Don Piper, a Baptist minister, was driving home from a conference in Texas when a semi truck hit his car head on, on a bridge over Lake Livingston. Paramedics found no pulse and covered him with a tarp. A pastor named Dick Onerecker, stuck in the traffic jam, felt led to pray for him. He climbed into the wreck, prayed and sang a hymn, What a Friend We Have in Jesus. Piper says that about 90 minutes after the crash, he started singing along.

WHAT HE SAW	A beautiful gate, a light brighter than anything on earth, and friends and family who had died coming to welcome him. He says the music was the thing he missed most when he came back.
WHAT HAPPENED NEXT	He wrote 90 Minutes in Heaven in 2004. It sold millions of copies and became a movie in 2015.
WHAT WE KNOW	The crash and his injuries are well documented. Paramedics did pronounce him dead at the scene. What he saw, only he can say.

Mary Neal, To Heaven and Back

Dr. Mary Neal is an orthopedic spine surgeon. In January 1999, her kayak got pinned under a waterfall on a river in Chile. She says she was trapped under water for about 30 minutes before her friends pulled her out with no pulse.

WHAT SHE SAW	She says she felt her soul peel away from her body and was met by a group of beings who loved her, on a path toward a great hall of light. She says she was told she had more work to do, and was told her oldest son would die young. He was killed by a car in 2009, at 19.

WHAT WE KNOW	The accident is well documented, and she is a respected surgeon who put her reputation on the line to tell this story. She put out To Heaven and Back herself in 2011, and a big publisher released it in 2012.

Colton Burpo, Heaven Is for Real

In 2003, a little boy named Colton Burpo, almost 4 years old, had emergency surgery for a burst appendix in Nebraska. Months later he started telling his parents things about heaven. His dad, Todd, is a pastor.

WHAT HE SAID	He said he sat on Jesus' lap and met his great grandfather, called Pop, who died long before Colton was born. He later picked Pop out of a photo of him as a young man. He also said he met a sister in heaven. His mom had lost a baby before Colton was born, and they say they had never told him.
WHAT WE KNOW	Heaven Is for Real, written by his dad in 2010, sold about 10 million copies and became a movie in 2014. Colton was never declared dead, so this is not a near death experience in the usual sense. Some critics say a small child in a pastor's home could pick up these ideas from the adults around him.

Eben Alexander, Proof of Heaven

Dr. Eben Alexander was a neurosurgeon who taught at Harvard Medical School. In 2008, he got a rare brain infection and spent seven days in a coma. Doctors gave him little chance of surviving.

WHAT HE SAW	A beautiful world of color and music, a woman who guided him on the wing of a butterfly, and a loving presence he calls God. His book Proof of Heaven, in 2012, was a huge bestseller.
WHAT WE KNOW	A 2013 article in Esquire magazine questioned parts of his story. It reported that doctors kept him asleep with medicine, which raises questions about how deep his coma was. His book also never describes meeting Jesus. That matters. A heavenly experience that leaves out Jesus is not the heaven of the Bible.

They Say They Saw Hell

These stories get told less often, and you will understand why. Nobody wants to admit they went the wrong direction.

Howard Storm, My Descent Into Death

Howard Storm was an art professor at Northern Kentucky University and a proud atheist. By his own account, he was also not a very nice man. In June 1985, while on a trip to Paris, a hole tore in his gut, right where food leaves the stomach. He lay in a hospital for hours waiting for surgery and believed he was dying.

WHAT HE SAW	He says he stood up outside his body and was led into a darkness by beings who called to him. Then they turned on him. They mocked him, hit him and tore at him. Lying there, he remembered something from Sunday school and cried out, Jesus, save me. He says a light came, the beings fled, and Jesus lifted him out.
WHAT HAPPENED NEXT	He woke up after surgery and changed his whole life. He left his career, went to United Theological Seminary and became a United Church of Christ pastor. He wrote My Descent Into Death.
WHAT WE KNOW	People do not usually throw away their whole career and worldview because of a bad dream. That does not prove his story, but it is worth noticing.

Ian McCormack, The Jellyfish Man

Ian McCormack was a young surfer from New Zealand who did not believe in God. In 1982, while night diving off the island of Mauritius, he was stung several times by box jellyfish, one of the most poisonous creatures in the ocean. In the ambulance, he remembered the Lord's Prayer his mother had taught him and prayed it.

WHAT HE SAW	He says he died in the hospital and found himself in total darkness, surrounded by evil, where he heard others crying out. Then a light pulled him up into the presence of Jesus, and Jesus gave him a choice to go back.
WHAT WE KNOW	He says he was dead for about 15 minutes. He became a Christian and has spent his life as a pastor and speaker.

Dr. Maurice Rawlings, Beyond Death's Door

Dr. Maurice Rawlings was a heart doctor in Chattanooga, Tennessee. In 1977, a patient's heart stopped during a stress test, and Rawlings started CPR. Every time the man came to, he screamed that he was in hell and begged the doctor not to stop.

WHAT HAPPENED	The terrified man asked Rawlings to pray for him. Rawlings was not a believer, but he led the man in a prayer anyway. The man survived. Rawlings later became a Christian himself.

WHY IT MATTERS	In his 1978 book Beyond Death's Door, Rawlings said frightening experiences are often missed because people forget them or are too ashamed to tell. He said that some patients who described hell right after being revived could not remember it days later.

Bill Wiese, 23 Minutes in Hell

Bill Wiese is a real estate broker from California. He says that in the early morning of November 23, 1998, he was taken out of his body and spent 23 minutes in hell, then saw Jesus, who sent him back to warn people.

WHAT HE SAW	A tiny cell, horrible creatures, burning heat, thirst, and total separation from God. His 2006 book 23 Minutes in Hell became a New York Times bestseller.
WHAT WE KNOW	Bill Wiese does not claim he died. He was at home, and it happened in the middle of the night. So his story is a vision, not a near death experience. Many Christians find it powerful. Others say some of its details go beyond what the Bible teaches. Read it with your Bible open.

How Common Are the Scary Ones?

Most near death experiences people tell about are peaceful. But frightening ones are real, and researchers think they are under reported. Researcher Nancy Evans Bush, who has studied them for decades, says people often keep them secret for years because they are terrified of what it means. Estimates of how many NDEs are frightening range from a few percent to around 1 in 5, depending on the study.

The One That Turned Out to Be Fake

Not every story holds up, and Christians should be the first to say so.

In 2004, a 6 year old boy named Alex Malarkey was badly hurt in a car crash and spent two months in a coma. In 2010, a Christian publisher released The Boy Who Came Back from Heaven, written with his father. It became a bestseller. But in January 2015, Alex, now a teenager, wrote an open letter. I did not die, he wrote. I did not go to Heaven. He said he made it up because he thought it would get him attention. The publisher stopped selling the book. Alex and his mother had been saying for years that the book was not true.

That is actually good news. It means people check these stories. The fakes get caught, which makes the ones that survive the checking more interesting, not less.

What Skeptics Say

Doctors who doubt that these experiences are real visits to another world have explanations. A brain running out of oxygen can see a tunnel and light. Chemicals released in a dying brain can cause powerful feelings. Some people slip into a dreamlike state between sleeping and waking. Drugs used in hospitals can cause visions.

Those answers explain some things. They have a harder time with the cases where people describe real events they should not have been able to see. The most famous is Pam Reynolds, who had brain surgery in 1991. For part of it, doctors cooled her body and stopped her heart. Before that part began, while she was deeply asleep with her eyes taped shut and her ears plugged, she says she watched the surgeon use a special saw and heard what people in the room said. She described both correctly afterward. Skeptics argue she may have heard things while the anesthesia was wearing thin. The debate goes on.

Here is the honest bottom line. No near death story proves the Bible. And no brain scientist has proven they are all just brain chemistry. But when an atheist art professor, a spine surgeon, a Baptist minister, a cardiologist's patient and a surfer who did not believe in God all come back describing two destinations the Bible mapped out 2,000 years ago, it is worth sitting up a little straighter in your chair.

A Word of Caution From the Bible

The Bible itself gives us a few warnings about stories like these.

STORIES DO NOT REPLACE SCRIPTURE. In Jesus' story of the rich man, he begs Abraham to send Lazarus back from the dead to warn his brothers. Abraham says if they will not listen to Moses and the Prophets, they will not be persuaded even if someone rises from the dead, Luke 16:31.

NOT EVERY LIGHT IS GOD. Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light, 2 Corinthians 11:14. If anyone, even an angel, preaches a different gospel, do not believe it, Galatians 1:8. An experience that teaches everyone goes to heaven no matter what, or that Jesus does not matter, fails the test.

EVEN PAUL KEPT QUIET. Paul was caught up to the third heaven and heard things he was not allowed to tell, 2 Corinthians 12:2 to 4. He did not write a bestseller about it. Some pastors, like John MacArthur, warn that the flood of heaven tourism books says more than the Bible says. That is a fair warning.

WE ONLY DIE ONCE. It is appointed for people to die once, and after that to face judgment, Hebrews 9:27. Near death means near. These people came close and came back. The final trip is one way.

So Do You Need to Worry?

That depends on one question. Do you belong to Jesus?

The Bible does not say heaven is for good people. It says heaven is for forgiven people. The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord, Romans 6:23. If you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved, Romans 10:9.

John wrote his letter so that you may know that you have eternal life, 1 John 5:13. Not hope. Not guess. Know. If you have trusted Jesus, your name is written in the Lamb's book of life, Revelation 21:27, and Jesus does not carry an eraser.

But Jesus also gave one of the most sobering warnings in the Bible. Not everyone who says to Me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only he who does the will of My Father in heaven, Matthew 7:21. Words alone are not a ticket. God reads hearts, not transcripts.

So if you are scared that you are not good enough, that fear may be the sound of a heart already turning toward God. He is not looking for perfect people. He is looking for you. And if you have been trying to figure out the least amount of God you can get away with, put that down. He is offering forgiveness for free. It is the best deal you will ever be offered.

The Verdict

Is heaven real? Yes. Is hell real? Yes. Jesus said so, plainly and often, and He has the best track record of anyone who ever lived. He also walked out of His own tomb, which makes Him the one person qualified to tell us what is on the other side.

The near death stories are not Scripture, and a few have been exposed as fakes. But many of them echo what the Bible said long before any of these people were born. Heaven is more beautiful than we can imagine. Hell is worse than we want to admit. And the door between them has a name on it. Jesus said, I am the door. If anyone enters through Me, he will be saved, John 10:9.
