

Your Success Club

AI gives you the time. We give you the life.

Jane Slack-Smith — AI Pioneer & Wealth Creation Thought Leader — helps ambitious professionals create time and wealth with AI, then design a life that actually feels like freedom — without the burnout of working harder. AI creates the time. The real question is what you do with it: not filling it with more doing, but building a life of true abundance, by design.

JANE'S STORY

I went from farm girl to explosives engineer to building an eight-figure property portfolio and teaching 30,000 Australians to invest. Along the way I saw the real pattern: it was never the strategy holding people back — it was where they got in their own way. So my work evolved into mindset and business coaching, building financial security through both. Since December 2022 I've used AI to replace 25 hours of my working week — and taught others to reclaim their time and deepen their client connections the same way. Then my dad got sick. I stepped away — two months caring for him, then supporting my mother and family afterwards — and my AI-enabled team kept all three of my companies running without me. That's when I understood: AI doesn't just create efficiency. It creates the space to live what actually matters.

POSITIONING

Jane Slack-Smith is the rare voice who's mastered both sides of the AI revolution — the technology that creates time, and the human transformation that decides what it's for. Twenty years building wealth for 30,000+ Australians, an inaugural Australian AI Awards finalist, and a pioneer who replaced 25 hours of her own working week with AI.

BIO

Jane Slack-Smith is an AI pioneer, twice Australian Mortgage Broker of the Year, and author of Your Property Success — named by Qantas Magazine one of the four most influential people in wealth creation for everyday Australians. Through Your Success Club and her podcast Exit the Matrix: Stories of Success (picked up by the LA Tribune), she helps high performers use AI to reclaim their time and design lives of true abundance.

"It was such a unique, incredible, and soulful experience for me. In our session today I was able to realize what I really wanted in life."

WHAT MAKES JANE DIFFERENT

Everyone else teaches AI tools or transformation. Jane does both — in sequence. AI creates the time; her Recoding work guides who you become with it. She's the crash-test dummy of the AI age — testing everything on her own life and businesses first, with an explosives engineer's risk discipline and a wealth educator's 20-year track record. The result is a method that bridges the woo (intuition), the wow (neuroscience), and the how (AI and strategy). Her AI-enabled life held three companies together while she cared for her family — so her audiences don't just get faster. They get freer.
