DREAM BIG.
DREAM BOLD.
DREAM ENDLESS.

Recognizing outstanding creatives, performers, nominees and the distinguished honorees at the 2025
InnaStar Trailblazer Awards.

A Message From the Founder

Jacinth Headlam

Dear Trailblazers,

When I created INNASTAR, I dreamed of building more than just a platform. I wanted to create a movement. A place where creativity, courage, and community could come together to celebrate every artist's journey, whether you're in front of the camera, behind the lens, on the stage, or in the studio.

The INNASTAR Trailblazer Awards were born from that same dream, to honor those who light the way for others through their passion, authenticity, and resilience. Each of you, whether you are a model, photographer, dancer, author, filmmaker, or performer, embodies the spirit of innovation and artistry that keeps this industry alive and evolving.

In this issue of INNASTAR Magazine, we celebrate not just success, but the stories behind it, the late nights, the big dreams, and the unshakable belief that your voice matters. You are the reason INNASTAR exists, and your light continues to inspire us all to reach higher, push further, and dream louder. Thank you for sharing your gifts with the world. Keep shining, keep creating, and keep blazing your own trail, because the world needs your light. With love and gratitude,

Jacinth Headlam

TONY IANNELLI

PRESIDENT & CEO, GREATER LEHIGH VALLEY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

For more than 26 years, Tony Iannelli has been the driving force behind one of the most powerful regional business organizations in the country: the Greater Lehigh Valley Chamber of Commerce. Under his bold and visionary leadership, the Chamber has grown from 700 members to over 4,000, making it the sixth-largest Chamber of Commerce in the United States.

But Tony's leadership extends far beyond business. A lifelong champion of community, he has served as a Trustee of Kutztown University, Chair of the Lehigh-Northampton Airport Authority, and Chair of the Salvation Army Regional Task Force. His dedication and impact have been recognized through numerous awards, including the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year Award, the Community Leader Award from KidsPeace, and the Distinguished Service Award from the Latino Leadership Alliance.

Tony has also become a regional media personality and voice of influence. For two decades, he has hosted the Emmy-nominated television show Business Matters, reaching more than 2.7 million households and amplifying conversations that matter to both business and community life. He is a regular commentator on iHeartRadio and a featured columnist for The Morning Call, further solidifying his role as one of the Valley's most recognized and trusted voices. Above all, Tony is a tireless advocate for the Greater Lehigh Valley—a place he has dedicated his life to strengthening through connection, collaboration, and relentless purpose. He continues to work to ensure that the Chamber, and the region it represents, remain relevant, thriving, and prosperous well into the 21st century.

Why He's Being Honored at the 4th Annual InnaStar Trailblazer Awards (2025):

Tony Iannelli is being honored for his unwavering commitment to economic growth, civic leadership, and community building in the Lehigh Valley. Through his leadership of the Chamber, his media presence, and his philanthropic service, Tony has amplified voices, bridged divides, and built a legacy of impact. He is a true trailblazer whose dedication has created lasting opportunities for both businesses and individuals across the region.

JANE HEFT

VP, DESIGN DIRECTOR / CREATIVE VISIONARY, CITY CENTER GROUP DEVELOPMENT

Since 2011, Jane Heft has served as City Center Investment Corp's vice president, director of project design and corporate branding, leading the company's branding, building design and integration.

She began her design career in the fashion and entertainment industries in Allentown PA. In the mid-90s, Jane joined the Donaldson Group, a Connecticut-based industrial and communications design firm. Jane's portfolio of clients includes 3M, Pitney Bowes, The EMCOR Group, Loctite, Kodak, Hasbro/Milton Bradley, The Hartford, Danskin, and Johnson & Johnson.

She has designed integrated solutions for organizations from nonprofits to Fortune 100s. Earning a CLIO and more than 100 design awards, Jane most recently designed the identities for Allentown's new PPL Center and Miller Symphony Hall, the Lehigh Valley Phantoms AHL team, Bethlehem's Steel Stacks complex, the ArtsQuest brand and the Civic Theatre of Allentown. Jane has led the CCG design team to numerous awards for Allentown's redevelopment projects, ABC Excellence & Eagle Awards, Lehigh Valley Planning Commission Awards for Best Land Development & Recreational Projects, MFE Grand Project of the Year for 520 Hamilton, and the Urban Land Institute (ULI) Global Excellence Award, Downtown West won 2025 Philadelphia ULI Award of Excellence. Archer Music Hall is this year's LV CIRE 2025 project of year, and the Moxy Allentown is a finalist for the BDNY top hotel design in the nation.

Jane founded and is the director of Allentown Mural Arts – gracing the city with more than 30 murals in the last 8 years. She is previous Chair of the Allentown Arts Commission, Board Member of the Allentown Symphony Association and Civic Theatre of Allentown, and a member of the Urban Land Institute. She is recipient of the Allentown Arts Commission Arts Ovation Award, and 3x recipient of LV Business Journal Women of Influence. She is proud to be an 8th-generation Lehigh Valley resident.

BART COOPER

Barthelomew (Bart) Cooper is a contemporary visual artist and author, born in Buchanan, Liberia, in 1978. From an early age, he was inspired by the vibrant colors and breathtaking landscapes of his homeland, recording the world around him through art. At the age of six, in the midst of Liberia’s civil war, he immigrated to the United States, where he later studied fine art, sculpture, and graphic design.

Bart’s work is deeply influenced by the masters—Leonardo da Vinci, Norman Rockwell, and Ernie Barnes—while also rooted in his African heritage. His signature mixed medium, acrylic style merges traditional African values with Western culture, creating a body of work that is both globally resonant and personally authentic. His art reflects the intersections of tradition and modernity, heritage and innovation, all while delivering bold narratives about identity, resilience, and love.

“I am a creator, put here to challenge physical, mental, and spiritual growth through my art. The foundation of my work is all about the message of love. Each piece engages in a conversation with the viewer’s soul, provokes thought, changes the narrative, and inspires evolution.”

Over his career, Bart has gained an impressive following of celebrity clients and international private collectors, while also expanding his voice through writing. As an author, he has captured his philosophy of art and life through words, further solidifying his role as a thought leader and creative visionary. His work has been featured in galleries nationwide and highlighted in publications such as Forbes, LA Weekly, and The Washington Post. Known for his ability to provoke thought and spark dialogue, Bart describes his mission simply:

Beyond the canvas, Bart is deeply committed to youth mentorship and arts accessibility, frequently partnering with schools, nonprofits, and community organizations to empower young people through creativity. His journey—from a childhood shaped by war to becoming an internationally recognized artist and author—is itself a testament to the transformative power of art.

Why He’s Being Honored at the 4th Annual InnaStar Trailblazer Awards (2025):

Bart Cooper is being honored for his extraordinary artistic vision and his commitment to using creativity as a force for cultural connection and social change. By blending African traditions with Western influences, mentoring the next generation, and sharing his message through both visual art and writing, he embodies the heart of a true trailblazer: one whose art inspires evolution and whose message of love resonates across boundaries.

Jamaal David Lewis

Actor | Former ASU Football Player | Entrepreneur

Jamaal David Lewis is a former Arizona State University football standout turned successful actor, model, and entrepreneur. Born in Colorado Springs, Colorado, Lewis excelled as a multi-sport athlete at Rampart High School before committing to ASU, where he became a versatile offensive weapon at wide receiver, tight end, and H-back. Over his career with the Sun Devils, he recorded 50 receptions for 787 yards and 11 touchdowns, earning recognition for his athleticism and big-play ability. After his football career, Lewis transitioned into the entertainment industry, quickly making a name for himself on screen. He has appeared in national campaigns for major brands such as Smirnoff, T-Mobile, IBM, Truist, and Microsoft. His film credits include appearances in Barbie (2023), 80 for Brady, Straight Outta Compton, and Dog, showcasing his range and adaptability as an actor. Beyond acting, Lewis is also the founder of the Stay Blessed Clothing Line, blending his entrepreneurial spirit with his passion for fashion and culture. His work ethic, rooted in years of athletic discipline, continues to drive his success in Hollywood and business alike. With 2026 already fully booked with multiple new film projects, Lewis is poised for his biggest year yet. Audiences can expect to see him in a string of upcoming movies that highlight his growth as an actor and his rising status in the industry. Grounded in faith, persistence, and authenticity, Jamaal Lewis embodies resilience and reinvention—evolving from the gridiron to the big screen, and now cementing his place as one of the most versatile and dynamic talents to watch in the coming years.

At the InnaStar Trailblazer Awards 2025, we are proud to honor Jamaal Lewis not only for his accomplishments as an athlete, actor, and entrepreneur, but for his powerful example of perseverance, reinvention, and authenticity. His journey reminds us that true trailblazers are those who embrace change, chase purpose with courage, and use their platform to inspire others to dream big and rise higher.

InnaStar Magazine

Juanita Renay

Actress, Creative Director & Arts Advocate

Juanita Renay, an Allentown, Pennsylvania native, discovered her passion for the arts and music at a young age through her church community. By high school, her talent was undeniable—she won multiple awards for her performances and soon began pursuing roles in regional theater.

Over the years, Juanita has captivated audiences with powerful portrayals in some of the most beloved stage productions. Her most notable performances include Rose in Fences, Lorelle Robinson in Dreamgirls, Deloris in Sister Act, Little Inez in Hairspray, and Dorothy in The Wiz. She has also had the rare honor of playing Celie in The Color Purple not once, but twice—a role that demands both extraordinary vocal talent and emotional depth.

Although she did not have access to formal training until college, Juanita's perseverance and dedication led her to earn a degree in Theatre Arts, a milestone she considers proof of her self-made journey. She has drawn inspiration from legendary musical artists and performers throughout her life, and in turn, uses her gifts to inspire others through her own performances and teaching.

Beyond the stage, Juanita is a visionary entrepreneur and community leader. She is the founder of J. Gray Productions, Inc., a creative company dedicated to producing impactful artistic works, and Lay The Foundation Inc., a nonprofit committed to providing arts education for children in economically disadvantaged communities. Her mission is to ensure that access to the transformative power of the arts is not limited by circumstance. Guided by her faith, she holds close the words of Philippians 4:13: "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

Why She's Being Honored at the 4th Annual InnaStar Trailblazer Awards (2025): Juanita Renay is being honored for her exceptional artistry, entrepreneurial vision, and dedication to empowering the next generation of creatives through arts education. Her journey from church stages in Allentown to commanding regional theater roles reflects resilience, faith, and unshakable passion. By creating opportunities for young people in underserved communities, she exemplifies the spirit of a trailblazer—using her platform not only to perform but to pave the way for others.

THE FUTURE IS “KING”!

KING MOORE

No limit on what greatness
our youth can do.

King Moore was born to perform. At just three years old, he discovered music videos on YouTube and instantly knew the stage was where he belonged. On his fifth birthday, he reminded his parents of that dream, declaring, “I’m ready to start performing!”—and he hasn’t stopped since. By age seven, King released his debut single, “Big Dreams,” followed quickly by “Pen Game,” showcasing lyrical talent, catchy hooks, and undeniable charisma. His music blends pop, R&B, and hip-hop, influenced by icons like Michael Jackson, Rihanna, Chris Brown, Bruno Mars, and Justin Bieber, while delivering a style that’s fearless and uniquely his own. King has already performed across the U.S., making his tour debut with Kenan Thompson’s Young Stars 360 Experience, and sharing stages with peers like Young Dylan and That Girl Lay Lay. He also wowed audiences nationwide during Lay Lay’s “Growing Pains Tour” and as guest ringmaster for the UniverSoul Circus, performing his hit single “ABC.” In addition to music, King is a rising force in film and television. He made his feature film debut as Langdon in the 2024 dark comedy Cora Bora, appeared in national commercials for AT&T and Toyota, and contributed his voice talent to the animated feature The Wild Robot. On YouTube, King’s music has surpassed 20 million views, with singles like “Big Dreams” and “ABC” breaking records and reaching millions of fans. He has earned a YouTube Creator Award for surpassing 100,000 subscribers and continues to grow an international digital fanbase. Beyond entertainment, King is also a youth activist. In 2024, he became the youngest invited participant at the White House Gun Violence Prevention event, delivering a passionate speech: “Kids make up twenty- five percent of the population, however, we also make up one hundred percent of the future.” His voice reflects both the urgency and promise of his generation. King is also an entrepreneur, running his own merchandise line at www.kingmooreworld.com, and is currently working on his first book, slated for release in 2025. He dreams of launching his own sitcom and musical production (KinGVERSE) to combine his artistry with philanthropy, raising funds for causes close to his heart.

With appearances in The Source, LA Weekly, Washington Times, Vents Magazine, Hype Magazine, and features on ABC and NBC, King Moore has become a sought-after figure not just for his music, but for his personality, activism, and ability to inspire.

Why He’s Being Honored at the 4th Annual InnaStar Trailblazer Awards (2025):

King Moore is being honored as a youth trailblazer who embodies talent, resilience, and leadership at an extraordinary age. From national tours and chart-topping singles to activism on gun violence prevention, King has already proven himself to be a performer and advocate with impact well beyond his years. He represents the spirit of dreaming big and using creativity to inspire change—making him a perfect honoree for InnaStar’s Youth Trailblazer recognition.

Fashion + Beauty = Art

BY: CYRIE MELODY & TIYANA L. COACHMAN

Every stitch, brushstroke, and hairstyle tells a story. Costumes for the stage aren't just clothes; they are visual extensions of the characters, helping the audience understand who they are before a single word is spoken. Makeup and hairstyling breathe life into performers, transforming them into living works of art.

Behind every curtain rise, there's a team of artists shaping color, texture, and movement into emotion. When fashion, beauty, and performance unite, they create more than a show—they create an unforgettable piece of theater that captivates the eyes, moves the heart, and celebrates the artistry of human expression.

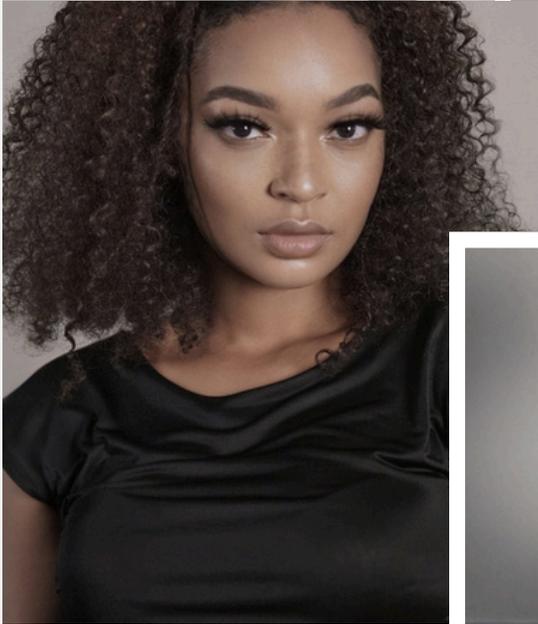

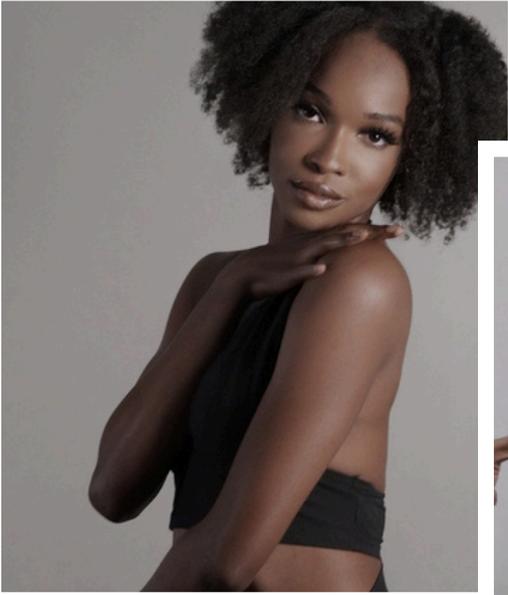

Visualize. Connect. Create. Share.

The Dancers Ever

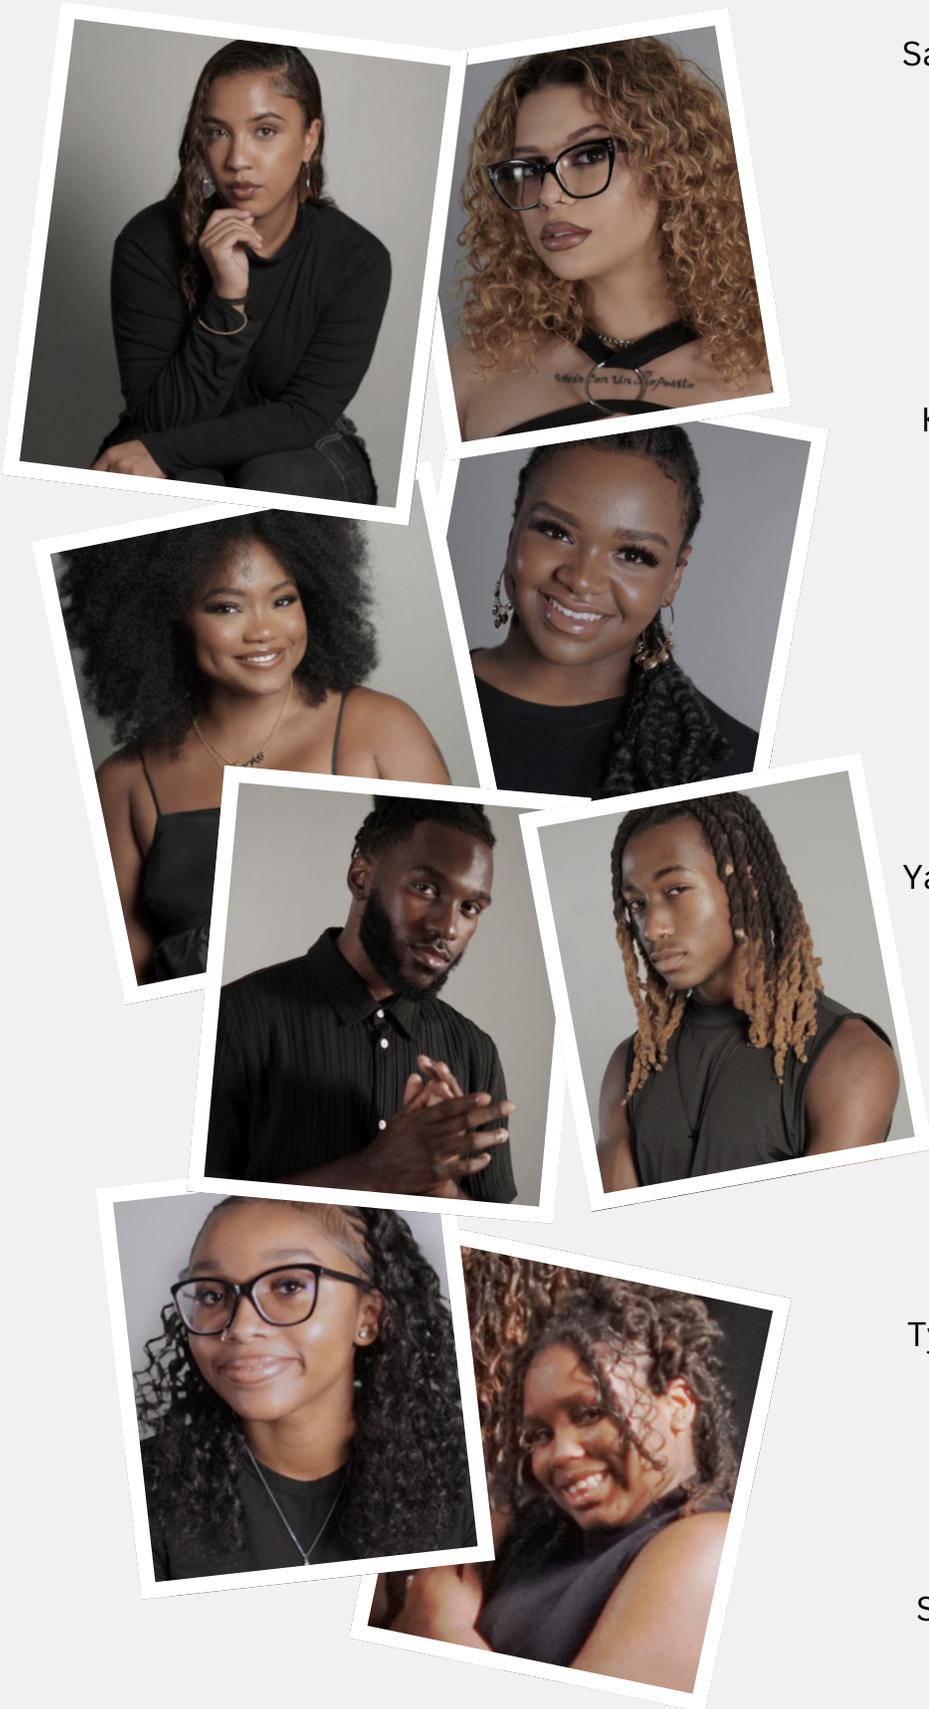

each costume, each brush of makeup, crafted to bring their performance to life. They move with rhythm and purpose, connecting body and soul to the music that guides them. Together, they transform the stage into a canvas, where energy, beauty, and artistry collide. Now, fully adorned and alive with passion, it's time to shine and let their movement speak louder than words.

ROCKET WEST

CULTIVATING BRILLIANCE: ROCKET WEST ON GROWTH AND LEGACY™

My name is Rocket West and at my core, I'm someone who approaches life with curiosity, intention, and a deep respect for growth not just the shiny, Instagram worthy kind, but the slow, meaningful kind that takes root in everyday moments. Whether I'm nurturing my two small children, writing my soon to be published book, tending to my garden, or riding horses (my lifelong love), I find joy in spaces where nature, learning, and strength intersect.

My personal brand reflects this harmony rooted in care, grounded in simplicity, and stylishly ready for whatever “weather” life may bring. From floral remedies to equestrian adventures, I believe beauty and resilience are best when they work hand in hand. It is this confluence of beauty and resilience that I see in the educational process at its earliest stages in my preschools in Washington, DC and Senegal.

It’s this same spirit that draws me to InnaStar. Just as a gardener provides the right soil and light for seeds to thrive, InnaStar creates the conditions where creativity can bloom. Her programs empower artists of all ages, nurturing confidence and giving voice to stories that might otherwise remain unheard. I love how InnaStar’s work mirrors my own values encouraging people, especially young minds, to explore, imagine, and grow on their own terms. There’s something deeply inspiring about watching individuals flourish when given the right tools and a welcoming space. Of course, my support for InnaStar runs even deeper because it’s family. My sister, Jacinth, is the powerhouse behind this organization. I’ve witnessed firsthand the relentless dedication she pours into every workshop, award show, and community initiative. If you’ve read her book Love After you know her journey hasn’t been easy

She has weathered storms with grace, sowed seeds through seasons of uncertainty, and tended to her vision with unwavering faith. As both her sister and her friend, I simply want the world to see what I see, a woman whose perseverance deserves to be celebrated. Supporting InnaStar isn’t just about backing a great cause. It’s about nurturing a living, growing movement. Remember adults need to be nurtured too. Much like the flowers in my garden, the work being done here is vibrant, layered, and purposeful. I believe in what Jacinth and InnaStar are building, and I want to help amplify that story so the world can become believers too. After all, when you plant seeds in good soil and tend them with love, the harvest is inevitable it’s only a matter of time before the world gets to see the full bloom.

Sara Viteri

Emmy award-winning Producer

Sara is an emmy-winning producer and an award winning filmmaker. She has been active in the entertainment industry since she was 16 years old. With experience in theater, commercials, films, fashion shows and more, Sara brings a high level of production expertise to the table.

In 2022 Sara was an Honoree at the 1st Trailblazer Awards. She describes it as one of her favorite core memories. Being seen and recognized by a room full of her peers gave her the reassurance that she was in the right career path. In that moment Sara fell in love with the InnaStar Trailblazer awards mission. In 2023 Sara gave her support to the founder, Headlam through consultations and connections. In 2024 she joined the InnaStar committee as a production coordinator and social media content creator.

Now in 2025 Sara committed to being a part of the InnaStar board. She will continue to expand her role as a production coordinator and social media content creator for the show, working closely with the Media Team. Sara is looking forward to helping create an unforgettable night where the arts will shine bright in the Lehigh Valley.

"Luxurious Seduction is a heartfelt tribute to the women who carry their scars with grace, who give love endlessly while yearning to feel it within themselves. Dedicated to the dreamers, fighters, and silent warriors, this book reminds you that you are seen, heard, and powerful beyond measure."

LUXURIOUS SEDUCTION.COM

U.S. CONGRESSMAN RYAN MACKENZIE

Congressman Mackenzie, now serving his first term in the United States House of Representatives, represents Pennsylvania's 7th Congressional District, which spans Lehigh, Northampton, and Carbon Counties, along with part of Monroe County. His leadership reaches far beyond the halls of Congress, it touches the lives of those he serves right here in the Lehigh Valley.

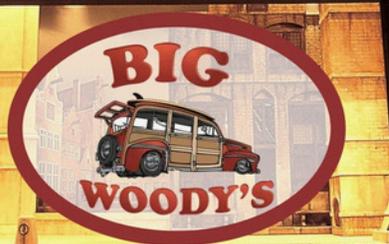

At this year's InnaStar Trailblazer Awards, Congressman Mackenzie's participation reflects his dedication to recognizing excellence and innovation across every sector of the community, from the arts to education, entrepreneurship, and youth empowerment. By presenting official congressional proclamations to the seven honorees, he celebrates not only their achievements but also the collective spirit of progress and purpose that defines the Lehigh Valley.

His presence underscores a powerful truth: leadership is not confined to politics, it thrives wherever people rise to serve, inspire, and ignite change.
