Carrie Tuttle speaks to leaders who know that how results are achieved matters as much as the results themselves. Her sessions blend storytelling, leadership insight, and practical exercises to help leaders reflect on their impact, communicate more clearly under pressure and build teams that take ownership, not orders.

Through Team Mojo, Carrie partners with organizations that want:

- High accountability without soul-crushing leadership tactics
- Strong performance without chronic burnout and turnover
- Growth that people are actually excited to be part of

Signature Themes

- Aligning sales and marketing teams around purpose, priorities, and performance
- Coaching as the most scalable leadership skill
- Feedback as a leadership advantage, not a fear point
- Creating an ownership culture for growing sales teams to thrive in
- Leadership legacy your team will remember long after the targets are met.

Testimonial

Susan Elford

Business Mentor and Coach

"I was fortunate to secure Carrie as a guest speaker and expert trainer for my community of small business CEOs inside the Aligned Business Collective.

Carrie was phenomenal! Carrie delivered an engaging and informative training that offered practical strategies we could implement right away on "How to have a Sales Conversation without being "salse-y." Her presentation was filled with practical strategies we could implement right away. We all learned some really valuable insights on how to connect with your potential customer in an authentic way, that makes both of you feel comfortable - no ick. :-) Thank you Carrie!"

With experience delivering both virtual and in-person talks, Carrie adapts each session to the energy, challenges, and maturity of the audience. Carrie's sessions are energizing, candid, and actionable.
