KEYNOTE SPEAKER | LEADERSHIP READINESS EXPERT

Elaine Robinson Beattie partners with hospitality & retail organizations to develop leaders ready for promotion, resilient under pressure, and built to stay.

Before Elaine Robinson Beattie coached leaders, she was one.

As a former General Manager and HR Director under Sheraton, Hilton, Loews, and IHG, she spent more than two decades at the highest levels of one of the world's most demanding industries. She watched talented people get promoted without preparation and watched entire teams pay the price. She watched organizations lose their best people not because of pay, but because of poor leadership pipelines. That experience didn't just shape her it became her calling.

Today, Elaine is a Leadership Readiness Expert, Executive Coach, and Keynote Speaker with 30+ years of experience developing leaders across hospitality, retail, corporate, higher education, and ministry. She is the creator of the Lead Well, Lead Wise™ Leadership Development Program and the S.E.A.T.™ framework — a proven system for building leaders who are promotion-ready, resilient under pressure, and built to stay.

The results speak for themselves. 88% of the leaders she partners with earn promotions within six months.

Her audiences don't just leave inspired. They leave equipped.

"Coach," as I love to call Elaine, has helped me through many challenges and transitions. She helped me move through, grieving my mom's death, my move to Chattanooga, and mastering my career transitions. She helped me redefine my journey. She encouraged me not to settle and to reach high for my dreams. At the end of our calls, I feel excited, empowered, and fired up!
