SBA 7(a)

SBA 7(a) Loans

The SBA 7(a) Loan Program is the SBA's primary financing program for small businesses, offering loans of up to $5 million for working capital, business acquisitions, commercial real estate, equipment, debt refinancing, and expansion.

General approval guidelines include:

- Must be a for-profit, operating business located in the U.S.
- Must meet SBA size standards.
- Business must have an eligible purpose for the loan.
- Borrower must be creditworthy and demonstrate a reasonable ability to repay.
- Business generally must be unable to obtain comparable credit on reasonable terms elsewhere.
- Lenders evaluate business financials, cash flow, credit history, ownership, and repayment capacity.
- Collateral requirements vary by loan size and lender policy. legacy.sba.gov
