IG SAVES SORTER

Turn your Instagram saves into lists you'll actually use

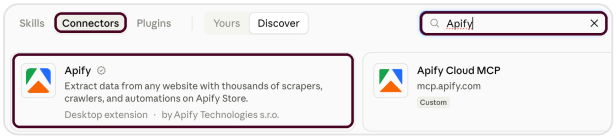

About 20 minutes to set up, once. After that it's one sentence each time.

0 Add the skill to Claude first. Download `fga-ig-saves-sorter.skill`, then follow the other guide, How to add a skill. It takes about five minutes.

SET UP ONCE the Claude website or desktop app

1 Make a free account at apify.com. It's the tool that reads each post and transcribes the reels. It comes with $5 of free credit every month, and my run of 30 posts cost about 15 cents.

2 In Claude, click Customize, then Connectors. Search Apify, click it and connect your account.

3 In the same place, connect where your lists will live: Notion or Google Drive (for a Doc or a Sheet).

4 Install the Claude in Chrome extension and log in to Instagram in that same browser. That's how Claude reads your saved folders.

No extension? You can paste the post links in yourself instead. See the tip below.

EACH TIME takes a few minutes

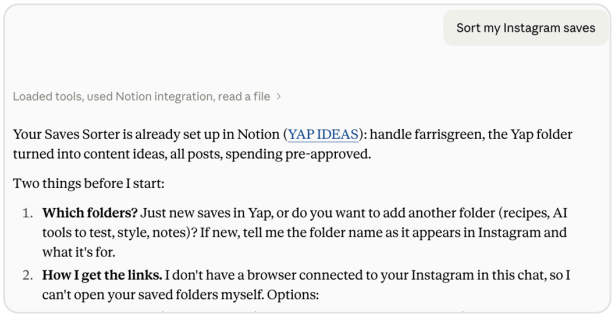

5 Pick the saved folder you keep meaning to go back to. Mine was AI.

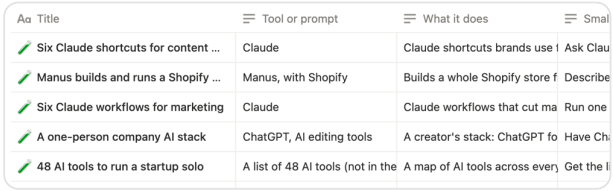

6 Start a new chat and type:

> "Sort my Instagram saves"

The first time, it asks four things: your handle, which folders, what each one is for, and where the results go.

7 It tells you what the run will cost and waits for your yes. Then open your list.

Is it safe?

It only reads your saved folders. It never likes, comments or unsaves anything, and it asks before it spends a cent.

No Chrome extension?

On each post, tap the three dots, then Copy link. Paste the links into the chat and it takes it from there.

Add a folder later

Type "Add my Recipes folder to IG Saves Sorter" and tell it what the folder is for. It remembers the rest.
